LOCAL MEN AT CAMP DIX

Assigned To 307th Machine Gun Battalion

Mr. Lee L. Lewis, one of the New Castle County contingent, who reported for service in the National Army at Camp Dix, last Wednesday, has written to relatives here of life in the camp. The cantonment, he states, is four miles square, covering over 2500 acres. There are barracks everywhere, one hundred twenty men in the one occupied by the writer.

All the Delaware men have been assigned to the 307th Machine Gun Battalion, and a number have already won "non-com" positions. Among these are corporals "Eph" Jolls, George Madden, and "Tom" Lyons. Joseph Goheen has been made mess sergeant, and Herman Little, supply sergeant.

The men were given the first typhoid inoculation on Saturday. On Sunday many of them amused themselves by a five-mile walk to Pemberton, on the way to Camden, looking for Delaware cars, every one of which, they declare, they saluted.

NEW STUDENT SECRETARY APPOINTED

Students To Have Care Of New Commons

Dr. R. K. Greenfield, of the department of History, Delaware College, has been appointed to the new position of student secretary, with headquarters in Old College Hall. Dr. Greenfield, in his new position, will stand in the relation to the student activities that center in Old College Hall, that the Coach holds to the athletic life of the College. Under his direction last Thursday a committee composed of one representative from each class assumed the care of the new "Commons." This responsibility will, in turn, be transferred to the Student Council upon its organization probably this week.

RED CROSS SHIPS FINISHED ARTICLES

More Work At Headquarters For Everyone

The Newark branch of the Red Cross shipped to Wilmington headquarters this week, sixty hospital shirts, twenty-nine sets of pajamas, twenty-one rolled bandages, and five fracture pillows, representing work done since August first. Mrs. C. B. Evans, local chairman, received on Friday several hundred yards of material which will be cut into garments and afford work for everyone who wishes it. Although wool for the knitting requested several weeks ago is expected daily, no definite word has been heard from it.

A rush order has come this week for 140 large and 140 small comfort bags for the soldiers. Material was distributed from the local headquarters on Tuesday. These bags are for the men drafted from Delaware, and every one willing to help is urged to call at headquarters for instructions.

MEN NEEDED IN AMBULANCE CORPS

Newark Boy Reports From Allentown

Arthur S. Homewood, a former Newark boy, now of Section 540, U. S. A. S., writes from Allentown, "The section of the American Ambulance Corps in which I am now training, needs ten more men to make the necessary quota of forty-five. I shall be glad to correspond with any local persons interested."

Ernest Emigh Sentenced To Month In Workhouse

Judge Conrad, in General Sessions Court, on Monday, disposed of the case of Ernest Emigh, of Newark, accused of shooting Hattie Wilmer, also of Newark, recently. Both said at the time that the shooting was an accident. Today Emigh pleaded guilty to carrying concealed a deadly weapon. His counsel, Daniel O. Hastings, made an eloquent plea for leniency, saying illness and trouble had made it hard for the family to get along. Under the circumstances the court imposed a fine of $25 and costs of prosecution, in default of which Emigh will serve a month in the workhouse.

OLD COLLEGE HALL OCCUPIED LAST THURSDAY

Student Activities Center In Historic Building

"Old College Hall," formerly the main building of Delaware College, transformed this year into a student "Commons," was formally delivered to the authorities of the College on Wednesday of last week. Dr. R. K. Greenfield, recently appointed to the office of student secretary, received the keys, and assumed temporary charge of the building.

Old College Hall, as the oldest building on the campus, is the one in which centers the affection of the alumni of the College and friends of the institution. Owing to its historic significance no change has been made in the exterior of the building; on the contrary, all its original features have been carefully preserved by the architect. From the street one catches a glimpse, through the arching lindens, of the same classic columns that have been familiar to generations; the same broad steps lead to the portico, and main entrance of the building. Only a closer observation reveals the hand of modern construction in the concrete steps that have replaced the old wooden ones, and the fluted Ionic columns, instead of the plain ones of old days. Behind the original brick wall has been placed a second, of reinforced concrete, leading one to prophecy that the remodeled building, solid and substantial, will withstand centuries.

Within, however, the entire building has been changed to meet the requirements of student life in a modern college. Here are to center the student activities of the College, and here, growing out of

DELAWARE REGIMENT AWAITS ORDERS FOR ENTRAINMENT

The Identity of the Delaware Regiment to be Saved

Since Governor Townsend received a telegram on Monday from General Simpson, commander of the Department of the East stating that he had issued orders for the Delaware Regiment to leave for Camp McClelland, Anniston, Ala., as soon as practicable after September 23, there has been much speculation among the officers and men as to just when they would get away. Although they are getting much practical experience at Camp Townsend the men are anxious to get to the southern camp. Colonel Reed, when interviewed early this afternoon, at Camp Townsend, stated that no orders for entrainment had yet been received. He believes the delay due to the difficulty in getting cars for the transportation of the National Army. Orders, however, are anticipated daily.

Col. Reed said that he did not think the First Division Regiment would visit Wilmington before leaving for the Southland. In his opinion, the entrainment will be made at New Castle, and the route will be over the Pennsylvania Railroad and Southern Railroad. When orders for departure do come, they will simply tell the Regiment to move as soon as possible, and it will be incumbent upon the officers then to get in touch with the railroad companies to ascertain when the entrainment can be best made.

According to Major William Marshall, the general health of the men in camp is excellent. The only trouble of any consequence has been in Company E, where twenty men suffered considerably Sunday night and Monday from attacks of stomach complaint. The malady was caused by eating some food that did not agree with the men and was aggravated by the cool, chilly nights.

As a result of their indisposition, the men were relieved of the usual camp routine duty Monday.

Lectures on first aid were delivered to the men yesterday by Major Marshall and his assistants. Major Marshall spoke to the Supply and Machine Gun Companies, and to Companies H, E, M and L. Lieutenant Southland was assigned to Companies A and C. Lieutenant Duffy to Companies F and K. Lieutenant Holzman to Companies G, D and I, and the Sanitary Detachment.

Some of the points on which the men were instructed were in regard to the treatment of poisoned wounds. They were told what to do in cases of bites from tarantulas, scorpions, centipedes, snakes and rabid animals. They were told what to do if wounded with poisoned bullets, how to control nasal hemorrhages, how to alleviate the pain and smart of burns and scalds, and what to do if attacked by frostbite and chilblains.

Lieutenants Duffy and Southard are engaged busily in doing work on the teeth of the men. They have no army dental equipment so far, and are obliged to use their own chairs and instruments. They will be furnished equipment once they are in camp in Alabama. Lieutenant Yerger, of the medical corps, is convalescing following a severe attack of quinsy.

MANY OUT OF DISTRICT PUPILS IN HIGH SCHOOL

All Those Who Qualified In State Board Exam Accepted

In response to several inquiries at this office relative to the admittance of pupils residing in adjacent school districts it was learned from Mr. Koehler, principal of the Newark schools, today, that all pupils who have presented certificates signed by E. L. Cross, superintendent of schools in New Castle County, have been admitted to the school. According to the State law, and in order to standardize the schools, pupils must qualify for admittance to the higher grades at the annual State Board examination held in June. All whose work was shown to be satisfactory at that time have received from Mr. Cross the aforementioned certificates.

In order to preclude the possibility of any child being unfairly barred from school, however, Mr. Koehler has admitted, conditionally, those pupils who had taken the State Board examination, but have not yet received their graded report. Only those who had never presented themselves for the examination were refused admission.

Notice To Wheat Growers In Delaware

The Department of Agronomy would like to secure a small sample of seed wheat from various parts of the State. Farmers in every section are invited to send by parcel post to the Station not less than one pound of the seed wheat they are now sowing. Enclose the name of the variety, if any.

Our object is to make a comparative variety test of these wheats and also to secure information as to their identity. The varieties will be grown side by side this year in a report made to the individual grower next fall.

Please send all samples to A. E. Grantham, Agronomist, Delaware Experiment Station, Newark, Delaware.

It is part of a general survey of educational and social needs in Delaware, in which the Bureau of Education and the Public Health service have also engaged. The field work upon which the report is based was done by Dr. E. H. Mullan, Miss Cyrena V. Martin, and assistants.

Exciting Times In Spain

An Intimate Glimpse from a Letter Written To Relative In Newark

A letter, giving an interesting glimpse of exciting times in Spain, has recently been received by Mrs. J. Wilkins Cooch of Newark, from her sister, Miss Anna F. Webb, Directora of Colegio Internacional, Sarria Barcelona, Spain. The letter was written August 23rd, and gives Miss Webb's personal experience during the recent strike in Spain. She says in part:

"You will have read many things about Spain in the papers lately—and I suspect many of them are correct. We cannot make out just what has happened, and I think that pretty nearly everybody—big and little—is in the same quandary. There is trouble plotting among the Republicans, and there is also quite a different party, the 'autonomists,' who are determined to get what they want, even if a civil war should be the outcome—but as far as I can find out neither of these parties started the recent disturbances. Nor was it a labor trouble, for the strikers really did not want the strike, and are honestly puzzled to know why they have been pushed into it. I think—from what I have read in the papers, and from what several gentlemen have told me—that it was probably the Anarchists—perhaps stirred up by foreigners—whether Germans or others can not be ascertained. Whatever was the cause, the uprising was a premature one, and is now about quelled. I am convinced, however, that there is being prepared a really formidable affair that may break out in the Autumn or, now that this trouble has made the Government open its eyes and be more watchful, it may be postponed indefinitely—but sooner or later it is bound to come. The only hope and salvation for the Government is that the two strongest parties—the Republicans and the Autonomists are so at loggerheads that they fight each other more than the Government. The difference is that the first wants a United Republic like France, with one President, and the Autonomists want a Federal Government like the United States, each Region like Cataluña, the Basque Provinces, Andalusia, etc., to be like our own States, each with its own Governor. All I can say is, 'We shall see what we shall see.' I do not know now whether this trouble in Spain politics interests you but it is of such vital interest to us here just now, that it is the chief topic of our conversation.

The strike—or rather attempt at a revolution, was really a serious one. In Camprodon when we saw that trouble was imminent I tried to send a telegram to Doda Benigna here, to ask if it was safe for us to come, but was told that we could not use the wires—so we determined to come anyway. Doda Benigna herself, fearing for us, telegraphed from Barcelona not to come, but, of course, we did not receive the telegram—and boldly started out. The first twenty miles we went in auto—so all went well, and when we reached the station, we were told we could go—but it was not until later—when we were in the car and ready to start that we realized that the train was being run by soldiers. And during the whole fifty or sixty miles of our trip soldiers were stationed on both sides of the track a quarter of a mile, or less, apart, and at the stations there were whole companies of them. As we neared Barcelona we went very slowly, and could see that there was serious trouble. Soldiers stood with guns pointed towards the roofs of the houses. Cannons were in the church towers, and every person was searched by the guards for weapons. However, we reached the station all right—and found our man Claudio awaiting us—but with the news that there were no coaches, omnibuses nor street cars! The big Terminus was one great barracks. There was nothing to be done but leave our baggage and walk! Now the North Station is at one extreme of this city of magnificent distances, and the Colegio Internacional at the other, and we had reached Barcelona at seven in the evening—and the distance is fully five miles and more! We tried to laugh—and I must say the ladies were good sports. The whole six of us were there with our little maid Enriqueta whom we had taken with us to Camprodon—and Claudio. So off started our little cavalcade.

The streets usually thronged just at this hour were absolutely deserted, and the silence was like a dead city. When we rounded a corner of a large hotel, the proprietor rushed out, saying, 'Stop, listen, you must not go further, the cannons are coming!' And sure enough, in a moment a troop of artillery passed by—then we went on—but we heard—as we walked, shots in many different directions. The papers said afterwards that just at that hour the matters were at the crisis. The few people whom we met were carrying handkerchiefs in the right hand, so we all waved ours to show we were on peace bent. But it was creepy walking in the dark—the lights were not lit, because the wires had been cut—until we reached the dwelling sections. So up hill we toiled until at last the gates of our grounds were seen in the distance, and then the servant force that had been on the lookout for us, scared out of their wits, came rushing down to greet us, and almost wept over us in their joy. But 'All's well that ends well,' and we are none the worse for our adventure."

WONDERFUL OUT-DOOR PICTURE

Scenes Staged In Sierras And Yosemite Valley

"The Fighting Trail," the Greatest Vitagraph serial which will begin its run at the Opera House on Thursday, September 27th, is said to be the most remarkable thing of the kind ever produced. It is a story of mystery, intrigue, love and adventure—with accent on the latter—set in the vast reaches of the American mountains. Of the 32,000 feet of film which make up the fifteen episodes of the play, only a few feet, it is declared, show interiors. All the rest of it is outdoor photography and for this reason it has been labelled "the first all-outdoor serial ever made."

Most of the scenes were taken in the Yosemite Valley and other sections of the Sierra Nevada and the picture is said to contain some of the finest mountain photography ever registered by the camera.

William Duncan, remembered for his splendid work in "Through the Wall," shown at the Opera House Saturday, September 8th, and other big Vitagraph features, directed the picture and played the leading role. The heroine is Carol Holloway. Others in the cast are George Holt, Joe Ryan, one of the greatest riders in the world, and Walter Rodgers.

An unique feature of the big serial is that Miss Holloway is the only woman character in the picture, and with the exception of a few crowd scenes, the only one who appears in it.

The picture was eight months in the making and more than 1,000 persons were used in one scene—the burning of a town. For this a modern town with more than 200 buildings was built just to have the torch applied to it. —Adv.

Books As Memorials

N BOOKS WE FIND THE DEAD as it were living; in books we foresee things to come; in books warlike affairs are methodized; the rights of peace proceed from books. ¶ All things are corrupted and decayed with time. ¶ Saturn never ceases to devour those whom he generates; inasmuch that the glory of the world would be lost in oblivion if God had not provided mortals with a remedy in books. ¶ Alexander, the ruler of the world; Julius, the invader of the world and of the city, the just who in unity of the person assumed the empire in arms and arts; the faithful Fabricius, the rigid Cato, would at this day have been without a memorial if the aid of books had failed them. ¶ Towers are razed to the earth, cities overthrown, triumphal arches molded to dust; nor can the King or Pope be found upon whom the privilege of a lasting name can be conferred more easily than by books. ¶ A book made, renders succession to the author; for as long as the book exists, the author remaining immortal, cannot perish.—De Bury.

THE BOOK OF KELLS, which was printed in the Seventh Century, is a memorial to the Good Monk Columba, and will live for a long time to come—perhaps never die. ¶ The Craftsmen of Kells have just finished a beautiful book—"Creed and Deed"—which they hope will be a memorial to this Institution.

sunshine by great deep-ledge windows on either side. The walls of the room are beautifully paneled. In the center, opposite the doorway there has been built a large fire-place, and over this in a wide panel, is to hang the painting being prepared by Stanley Arthurs—"The First Landing in Delaware, 1631"—the gift of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Sharp. A balcony runs across the rear of the room. The furnishings of the room, designed by the architect, are characterized by strength and simplicity. Meals have been served regularly in the dining hall since last Thursday when Dr. Mitchell and Mr. H. R. Sharp were present as the guests of the students. The kitchen, between the main and a smaller dining room in the west wing, is equipped with all the appliances known to modern efficiency. This department, a story in itself, was described in the Newark Post last July.

East of the dining room, are located the offices and sleeping apartments of Miss Caldwell and her assistant; the office of Dr. Greenfield, the student secretary; and the large lounging room for the use of the students. Here the paneling again is exceptionally beautiful. A colonial fire place is conspicuous at one end of the room, and across the front are large windows, from floor to ceiling, which lead to a balcony overlooking the campus and Main Street. From here one, when the plans of the architect are complete, may catch a wonderful perspective of the wide roadway to be made by the addition of thirty feet to the width of the present South College Avenue. Although the room has been fitted up temporarily with the furnishings from Purcell House, furniture in accord with the plan of the building, purchased by Mr. Sharp from a fund of $3500 raised for the purpose by the alumni of the College, it is expected, will arrive within a week.

In order to better develop a "Commons" to fit the peculiar needs of Delaware College, the interior of the building was blocked out by two Delaware men, Mr. H. R. Sharp and Dr. W. O. Sypherd. The entire third floor, has accordingly, been "made to order" for the student organizations of the College. Here are editorial rooms for the various student publications; rooms for the societies and clubs. On this floor there is a room for the orchestra, built with double doors, and sound-proof walls, that practice hours may disturb no one. There is also a second room for the safe keeping of musical instruments.

On the first or ground floor is an auditorium built to accommodate about two hundred. Here will be held the meetings of the student body, and chapel exercises as well, for the present.

The refrigerators and bakery are also on this floor, and in the rear of the building is a drill room. Here one sees some of the finest cabinet work in the entire building. The wall is lined with enclosed cabinets fitted with gun racks, etc. What was formerly the old chemical laboratories has been converted into a fine locker room.

At the northern end of the east wing, adjoining the gymnasium is a suite of rooms for visiting athletic teams. The suite includes a large parlor, which adjoins showers, lockers, and is entirely separate from the rest of the building. The College Store, run by the Athletic Association of the College, under the management of Messrs. Long, Olcott, and Davis, occupies the remainder of the East wing.

DELAWARE REGIMENT AWAITS ORDERS

Townsend, Senators Saulsbury and Wolcott and Congressman Polk the Delaware Regiment, it is announced, will be allowed to retain its identity and will not be split up and merged with other troops as intimated by the War Department several days ago. The following dispatch to a Wilmington newspaper yesterday was welcome news to not only the troops but all Delawareans:

Delaware's regiment of National Guard will preserve its State identity. Such was the substance of the message communicated by Secretary of War Baker today to Senators Saulsbury and Wolcott and Representative Polk at a meeting in Senator Saulsbury's office at the Capitol.

The Secretary of War informed them that he had just wired to the commanding general at Annapolis, Ala., to save, if possible, the identity and integrity of the First Delaware Regiment by adding to it troops from the Maryland and Virginia contingents at that camp in sufficient number to make it meet the new standard of the re-organized army.

"One reason why the Secretary has taken this action in behalf of Delaware," said Senator Saulsbury, bury, "is that he considers it only reasonable and just that Delaware, as one of the 13 original States which founded this union should be individually represented in the new army. Maryland and Virginia will have their own distinct regiments and odd units of their men will be used to fill up the regiment from Delaware."

The Delaware delegation was in high spirits today at the favorable action by the Secretary of War, since it came when they had virtually given up hopes of changing a general order covering all the former national guard regiments.

At a conference on Monday Senator Saulsbury told the war secretary that Delaware had contributed more than its share in worldly goods and men to America's cause, and that a protest from those who had sent their sons, husbands and fathers to fight and perhaps die for their country should not be treated lightly. He cited the fact that Delaware leads the country in its contributions to the American Red Cross and more than its share to the first Liberty Loan, and that preparations were now being made to make a success of the second Liberty Loan next month. He stated that the women of the State had their whole hearts in this war, and that they were knitting sweaters and other wearing apparel for the men at the front, and that the Delaware children were doing their bit for their country.

Following the conference, Senator Saulsbury wired Governor Townsend at Dover:

"Believe from my talk with Secretary of War Baker, this morning, there is more than a possibility of preserving the integrity and identity of the First Delaware Regiment. Do everything you can to this end."

NEWARK FIRE-MEN PARADE

Visit Dover Carnival Last Wednesday

"Handsome as a handsome does" applies most certainly to the Aetna Fire Company. Last Wednesday afternoon, the Newark Band and most of the good looking members of the local company went to Dover to participate in the Firemen's Parade and Carnival in the Capitol town. And well they did. The Dover Boys have responded cordially to our affairs and the absence of Aetna would have been interpreted as a slight. Mutterings were heard on Dover streets early Wednesday morning that Newark had fallen down. But—when the parade passed around the Green, there they were—the good lookers—band, red shirts and all. Straight in line they were easily the stars. At the Carnival, they were heroes. Lavish in fun, spending like an Irish veteran, they made good for Newark.

PLAN FOR POULTRY SHOW

To Be Held In Wilmington Thanksgiving Week

Realizing that poultry industry is destined to play an important part on the war for democracy, in that eggs and poultry will be needed for food by both the fighters abroad and those who stay at home, members of the Diamond State Poultry and Pigeon Association have decided to hold their eleventh annual exhibition in Wilmington during the week of November 26, Thanksgiving week. At a meeting of the executive committee of the association Tuesday, it was decided that this year's show would serve a two-fold purpose in that it would be an education for those who are unacquainted with the egg producers as live stock and also serve the general purpose of displaying what thoroughbred fowls should be in color, type, etc.

It was stated at the meeting that the local association would have the assistance of Professor R. V. Mitchell, poultry husbandryman at Delaware College, during show week and interesting lectures will be given during the show week.

This year's exhibition will be in charge of an executive committee with C. Barker McCulloch, chairman. At Tuesday's meeting, reports were received from exhibitors at last year's show, stating that they were planning to enter their birds here this year.

ROAD BUILDING PLANS PROGRESS

Traffic Census Throughout The State

The State Highway Commission met in Dover last Wednesday. All the members were present except Josiah Marvel, who was detained at home, because of an accident to his daughter, who had suffered a broken collar bone.

Several subjects pertaining to the improvement of the State highways were discussed, among which was the surveying of all roads in the State within the next four months, after which tentative plans for a comprehensive system of road building will be submitted. It is hoped by the next meeting of the board, within the next two or three weeks, to have the plans for the road building ready for construction work early in the spring. It is more than likely that $1,500,000 work of road building will be laid out for next year.

From the reports received from the traffic census takers appointed by the board some weeks ago, and who started work last Monday, for the observance of traffic on the roads throughout the State at central points, some very peculiar conditions are shown. Roads which were thought to be heavily used by automobiles and lightly by horse-drawn vehicles reflected a reverse condition. Points which were thought to be heavily used were found to be the reverse.

It is the intention of the department to take this census one day each week for the next six weeks and cover the succeeding day in each week as the census taking progresses.

Speeding Auto Kills Child

Marion, the 6-year-old daughter of John Billingsley, of Bellefonte, was run down last Tuesday on the Philadelphia pike, above Shellpot Park, by an automobile owned by Albert N. Lewis, of Norfolk, Va. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis took the child in their car to Delaware Hospital where she died early on Wednesday morning. She was on her way home from school with other children when she was struck. Her body was hurled 40 feet. Her skull was fractured, an arm and a leg were broken and she was otherwise injured. Norman McDuffy, colored, aged 24, the Lewis' chauffeur was held for a hearing in the City Court on Saturday when he was held in $5,000 bail for Court on a charge of manslaughter. He claimed his speedometer showed a rate of 25 miles an hour when the accident happened but several witnesses testified that he was running at 40 miles or more.

Friends Entertained At Farewell Party

Friends of George Mitchell were entertained on last Saturday evening at a farewell party previous to their host's departure for Tome School, where he resumed his studies this week. All the young folks pronounce the evening a merry one. The guests upon arriving were greeted, not in the usual formal fashion, but by welcoming hands, appearing through slits in a sheet, much fun being occasioned by guesses as to the personality they represented.

Early in the evening each guest had the name of some such notable as Woodrow Wilson, Mary Pickford, or Thomas Edison, pinned on his back. The guest was addressed as this individual until he guessed his identity. Such games as "Characteristics," in which the prize was won by Miss Alma Dunlevy, who guessed fifteen personalities out of a possible twenty-one, "Consequences," and "I Funnish My Kitchen," were played during the evening. Violin solos were rendered by Terry Mitchell.

A Tome pennant was in evidence over the door of the dining room. The table was decorated with birch bark brought from the summer camping trip and made into flower-holders, cake baskets, and lamp shades. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. Among those present were Alma Dunlevy, Ruth Brown, Anna Frazier, Mary Hayward, Margery Rose, Emma Davett, and Ruth Richards; Richard Cooch, Warren Kennedy, Johnson Rowan, Arunah Armstrong, William Miller, Paul Steel, John Hoffecker, John Doyle, Harry Sanborn, Royal Sanborn.

CASES CANNOT BE REOPENED

Certify Five More Men As Soldiers

According to members of the Local Exemption Board they have been caused much trouble and unnecessary work by the action of the District Board in sending out notices for those already exempted by the Local Board on dependency grounds to furnish additional proof of their claims and for witnesses in support of such claims to appear before the State Board. While the District Board claims that such appeals are made in the name of the Provost Marshal General, J. Polling Wright, chairman of the Local Board, claims that there are no grounds whatever for many of the appeals and that it only has the effect of causing the local board unnecessary trouble. His contention is that the District Board has no authority whatever to make such appeals unless the attorney for the Provost Marshal General files the appeal on a belief that the facts as stated in the original case were incorrect. No intimation that the original affidavits were not correct is made in some of the cases which the District Board is recalling, according to Mr. Wright.

The Local Board has certified the following to the District Board for military service:

William Waters, Smyrna.
Walter Guseman, Townsend.
W. P. Wier, Christiana.
J. R. Mills, Marshallton.
A. C. Higgs, Marshallton.

The following have been exempted by the Local Board, most of them on the grounds of dependency:

George W. Harrington, New Castle.

W. C. Faulkner, Rockland.

Harry E. Pierce, Richardson Park.

Caleb S. Wilson, Hockessin.

Estel Farlow, Marcus Hook, Pa.

James A. Blackburn, New Castle.

G. H. Andrews, Henry Clay.

Elwood Simon, New Castle.

John W. Brown, Summit Bridge.

C. Devencento, New Castle.

J. E. Lutz, Marshallton.

C. W. Hill, Jr., Wilmington.

M. F. Ball, Newport.

Wharton Klair, Marshallton.

C. W. Jones, Smyrna.

C. Roy Eaton, Bellfonte.

Harvey Kehl, Mt. Pleasant.

J. C. Toulson, Marshallton.

N. Roberts, Brandywine Springs.

Harry DeWolf, Eden Park.

State W. C. T. U. Convention

The Delaware Women's Christian temperance Union will hold its thirty-eighth annual convention in St. John's M. E. Church, Seaford, October 10th, 11th and 12, opening at 10 a.m. on the first day. At 1.30 p.m. greetings will be extended by the pastors, the Mayor, the President of the Women's Club and the local union. Mrs. Victor duPont and Mrs. T. Coleman duPont and Frances Willard Anderson will address the Young People's Branch. Crabbe, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League for Delaware and Maryland, will give an address on the second day and Mrs. Charles R. Miller and Commissioner of Education Spaid will speak. Mrs. Walter Powell, President of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, will greet the delegates in the evening, and Daniel A. Polling, general secretary of the Christian Endeavor Society, will give an address.

Sold Liquor To Soldiers

Charged with selling liquor to a soldier, Samuel Ploff, proprietor of a restaurant at 502-504 Church Street, Wilmington, was held in $1,000 bail by Commissioner Mahaffy for the September term of the United States Court, after a hearing on Wednesday Harry Manderback, a waiter at Ploff's, was held in $500 bail. Manderback was arrested by Deputy Marshal Cole and implicated his employer. The liquor was furnished to members of the Forty-seventh New York Infantry. Ploff pleaded not guilty and denied all knowledge of the alleged sale of liquor. Manderback denied selling the liquor but admitted delivering it and taking money for it, claiming that he was acting under Ploff's instructions. Several soldiers testified to getting liquor at their meals at Ploff's and paying for the same. The Commissioner told the accused that conviction of the offense charged involved a fine of not more than $1,000 or a year's term in jail.

Smothered In Blazing Stable

William N. Lank's boarding and livery stable at Fifth and Madison streets, Wilmington, were completely destroyed by fire about 4 o'clock on Sunday morning of last week. The buildings on two sides faced rows of two story frame houses, the occupants of which were rendered frantic with terror. All the fire companies in the city were called to the scene and fought the flames fanned by a strong wind for two hours, saving the dwellings. John Cummins, colored, a brother of one of the stable hands, who had gone to sleep in the hay-loft, was suffocated. His body was found when the fire was over. Seventy-five horses were rescued from the stables, among them a valuable stallion, owned by George Bacon, and another horse with a record of 2.14.

Firebugs Burn Big Cannery

The large plant of The Atlantic Canning Company at Rehoboth, owned principally by Governor John G. Townsend, was totally destroyed by fire of supposed incendiary origin on Wednesday night with a stock of about $100,000 worth of canned tomatoes and other vegetables. A previous attempt to fire the plant was frustrated by a watchman's timely discovery of the incipient blaze. Another cannery nearby was destroyed several weeks ago, the supposed incendiaries, five Germans escaping. Four plants within a radius of six miles have been burned within a month, and it is thought the same firebugs are responsible for the several blazes. The total loss at the Atlantic plant is put at $125,000. Nicholas Samoni, an Italian, formerly employed at the plant, was arrested in Middletown and brought to Georgetown as a suspect owing to some supposed threats he had made as to hiring colored help but was discharged after officials had questioned him. Guards have been stationed and will be maintained at many of the canneries in lower Delaware.

In Memoriam

In loving remembrance of our dear mother, Grace A. Rose, who died September 1, 1911. She suffered hours of pain. Yet not a murmur nor complaint. But patiently bore it all. Until she heard the Saviour's call. Dear is the grave where my mother is laid; Sweet is the memory that never shall fade. Roses may wither, leaves fade and die. If others forget her, never shall we.

NOW FOR ADVENTURE!

You are starting now along "THE FIGHTING TRAIL," a road fraught with perils and adventures such as no screen drama has ever shown.

This Greater Vitagraph Serial, the first episode of which was shown last Thursday night, is the most marvelous melodramatic romance of the Great Outdoors ever produced.

It is the story of a terrific struggle for a mineral deposit of fabulous value wherein a fearless man and an heroic girl stake their lives against dual odds—the terrors and perils of nature and the fiendishness of a band of outlaws who shatter the law and destroy men's lives in their mad pursuit of fortune.

Every kind of thrill and danger—of the air, the land and water—is met with as the story unfolds.

Hard-riding, quick-shooting fighting men, afraid of nothing on earth, meet in battle time after time and struggle for supremacy with primeval ferocity.

This wonderful photoplay has for its stage the vast outdoors, with the mountains or the desert always in the background.

William Duncan, the greatest fighting man on the screen, and Carol Holloway, whom you will call the most fearless girl in the world, play the leading roles in this marvelous drama and you will follow their adventures breathlessly. You will learn to love them and admire them and their experiences will be so realistic that you will feel as if you know them.

Never in the history of the present generation has the securing of merchandise been as difficult as now. Supply and demand, the only true reasons, have brought about unusual conditions regarding prices in first hands. This business, now covering three-quarters of a century of fair dealing with its customers, will not "profiteer" on any of our merchandise.

On many lines old contracts at year-ago prices are now being filled. In every instance advances will not be made where it can be avoided. Included in our fortunate holdings are the following desirable lines:

Silk Taffetas, $1.50 and $2.25 yard.
Satin, $1.65, $2.00, $2.25, $2.50 yard.

French Kid Gloves and domestic Wash Kid, Mocha and Buckskin Gloves will be found at prices comparing favorably with the lowest quotation of years ago.

The same applies to Handkerchiefs, Silk Gloves and Hosiery.

Knitted Underwear and Muslin Underwear are not noticeably higher than a year ago.

Whatever household Linens we own in the way of Damasks, Napkins, Towels and fancy linens are all kept within the lines of fairness.

Blankets, Comfortables and Spreads are lines we would suggest that you choose liberally now.

As indicative of our efforts to give values far beyond market conditions you should see the qualities we are offering in plain white Turkish Towels at 18c, 25c, 35c and 37½c.

BUYERS OF LIBERTY BONDS

Pennsylvania Company Announces Some Interesting Figures

To ascertain the extent to which railroad employees of foreign birth subscribed to the first Liberty Loan, a special investigation has been completed on the directly operated lines of the Pennsylvania Railroad East of Pittsburgh and Erie. The result of this inquiry shows that out of a total of 160,127 employees, in all Departments, 25,827 were born in foreign countries. There were, among all the employees—both native and foreign born—52,782 subscriptions, totaling more than $3,400,000.

Nearly one in three of the foreign-born employees was found to have been a Liberty Bond purchaser. The number of subscribers of alien birth was 8,146, or almost 32 percent of the total foreign-born. This was within two percent of the proportion of employees of American birth who subscribed.

The inquiry also brought out the interesting fact that there are, in the service of the Pennsylvania Railroad, men of 42 different nationalities, besides native-born Americans; and members of 30 alien races were included among the buyers of Liberty Bonds.

The Italian race furnished the largest number of foreign-born employees on the Pennsylvania Railroad, the number being 8,365, or practically one-third of all the alien born. Thirty-two percent of the Italians, or a total of 2,725 employees, bought Liberty Bonds.

Employees of Irish birth were found to number 3,139, of whom 1,299, or 43 percent, subscribed to the Liberty Loan. English born employees numbered 1,875, and 663 of them, or 36 percent, were subscribers. Out of 2,466 men of Russian and Polish birth, 790, or 36 percent, invested in the Liberty Loan.

Of the nationalities representing the Central Powers, employees of Austro-Hungarian birth were shown to be the most numerous. They aggregated 3,977 men, and of these 1,097, or 27 percent, subscribed to the Liberty Bonds. The Austro-Hungarians rank next to Italians in respect to the total number employed.

Of men of German birth, the Railroad payrolls carried the names of 2,060, and of these 680, or 32 percent, were subscribers to the Liberty Loan. There were found to be in the service 97 men of Turkish nativity, and 43 of these, or 44 percent, of the total, bought Liberty Bonds.

The smaller countries allied with the Central Powers were not very well represented among employees of the Pennsylvania Railroad. On all divisions put together, the Bulgarians employed numbered only 37, and no record can be found that any of these purchased Liberty Bonds.

Some interesting facts are shown in connection with other nationalities. The Scotch stand high on the scale of thrift. Out of 247 Scotchmen 155, or 65 percent, invested savings in the Liberty Bonds.

The Canadians followed closely. Out of 83 men of Canadian birth 49, or 59 percent of the total, bought Liberty Bonds. There are only 49 Frenchmen in the service, and of these 24, or very nearly one-half, were subscribers. Of men of Belgian birth, 12 were found to be in the service, five of whom, or 41 percent, subscribed to the Liberty Loan Bonds.

Other buyers of the bonds included such diverse nationalities as Swedes, Slavs, Spaniards, Bohemians, Swiss, Roumanians, Norwegians, Hollanders, Danes, Cubans, Finns, Greeks, Australians, Portuguese, Serbs, Syrians, South Americans, West Indians, Arabs, Armenians, Persians, Africans, Ukrainians, Costa Ricans and Croats.

Two Japanese and two Chinamen were found to be in the service, but none was recorded as a Liberty Bond buyer.

The inquiry brought out the important fact that since the Fall of 1914, the Pennsylvania Lines East of Pittsburgh have sustained a net loss of 7,977 employees of foreign birth, as a result of men returning to their native countries for military service, or obtaining employment elsewhere in America, attracted by the higher wages offered by industries which have been able to take advantage of economic conditions.

To Build 500 Dwellings

Mayor Wilson, on Thursday, broke ground for the first 25 of 500 houses on the Simpson Craft plan to be built in the Eden Park Gardens in South Wilmington by the New York-Delaware Realty Company. The first 25 are to be finished by Thanksgiving Day and the rest within the coming year. It is likely that the pressing need of workmen's dwellings will lead to the erection of many such on vacant lots in many sections of the city.

Condemned Slayers Must Die

After hearing the promised new evidence upon which it was sought to have the State Board of Pardons recommend commutation of the death sentence passed upon Webster Purnell, Adam Hargis, and William Prettyman, colored, all of Lewes, the Board, at a special session held on Wednesday, by a vote of 3 to 2 decided adversely as nothing was adduced to raise any doubt as to the guilt of the condemned trio, whose execution is set for Friday, September 28.

Mrs. Rhoda Roudabush, daughter of the late Governor William Burton, died at her home in Milford on Wednesday evening, aged 75 years. She was the widow of Attorney General Alfred P. R. Wooten and later was married to Clinton Roudabush. A daughter, Miss Mary Robinson Wooten, and a grand-daughter, Mrs. Frank L. de Armond, of Wilmington, survive her. Her funeral was held on Saturday, with services in Christ Church, Milford.

Fire Scare At Blades

Seaford firemen were called about 8.30 p. m. on Thursday to fight a threatening blaze in the home of Matthew Holt in the nearby town of Blades, which has no fire service nor water supply. They took their hook and ladder truck and with water passed by a bucket bridge soon controlled the flames which, it is thought, were caused by a lamp left burning during the family's absence. The damage is put at about $700. Furniture on two floors was damaged by fire and water. Absence of wind kept the flames from spreading to other dwellings.

 business, are puzzled over his unaccountable disappearance. He drove in his automobile down town, one day last week to buy meat for dinner and disappeared with his car. Inquiry in nearby sections gave no trace of him or met with foul play. He had no financial trouble and no reason is known for an unannounced departure.

Indicted For Crossing Horror

Among the indictments found by the Cecil County Grand Jury for the September term of Court were three for manslaughter against Supervisor G. H. B. English, of the
 P. B. & W. R. R. at Wilmington, Malachi Rafferty, section foreman at Elkton and John Lotman, gate-man at the Bridge Street crossing,

Elkton, where Samuel Simmons, his wife, their 8-year-old son Ward, and George Foster, a farm-hand who worked for the former, were killed about 8 p. m. on June 21 last, when crossing the tracks in an automobile. Lotman raised the gates just after a southbound train had passed not noticing the approach of a fast northbound express which smashed the automobile and killed its occupants. The State claims that Lotman was incompetent and that Rafferty and English knew he was and continued him in his responsible post.

Where Thousands See It Daily

The Bell directory is the most used book in town —it's the book to which you turn when there's a telephone call to make or an address to look up or a name or initials to verify. The Index of Advertisers is a means for locating the man who offers for sale what you want to buy when you want to buy it—perhaps a man you've never heard of.

And how about YOUR goods or services? Are they advertised in the telephone directory pages and listed in the Index? Are you "displaying your wares" in the show-window that is at every telephone user's elbow, every day in the year?

Now's just the time!

Iron Hill Next Saturday

The much talked of game between Continental and Iron Hill is scheduled to be played on the local grounds next Saturday afternoon. This game was originally scheduled three weeks ago but was postponed owing to rain. It will probably be the last game of the season for Continental.

Bass Plentiful
Dean E. Laurence Smith and Professor George E. Dutton had a fine afternoon of sport fishing in Shallicks pond last Saturday. In a couple of hours they caught seven bass, but as three of them were small they were put back in the pond. Three other fishermen are said to have caught more than twenty bass in the same pond on Saturday.

Continental and Park A. C. split a double header Saturday afternoon on the local grounds, Continental winning the first game 11 to 3, and Park A. C. the second, 6 to 3. While the visitors played under the name of Park A. C., the players were from the Church and other league teams of Wilmington.

Briscoe was batted all over the field in the first game for 16 hits, but came back strong in the second and held Continental to 6 hits in seven innings. Several weeks ago the same pitcher shut Elkton out without a hit or run.

Gray pitched a steady game and was given good support by the home players in the first contest. In the second game Crowe started but was batted out of the box in the third inning. Gray pitched the next three innings and Willis the last one.

GOOD MATERIAL FOR BLUE AND GOLD ELEVEN

Practice Several Days Without Coach

The question of a football coach from Delaware College to succeed Lieutenant William J. McAvoy will be settled soon. The members of the Athletic Council are wrestling with the proposition and promise to announce the name of a new coach in a few days or at least by the end of the week. The delay has not been due to the lack of interest or activity on the part of the council but to the fact that two proposed new members of the faculty who were to coach football did not come to Delaware. Both men that the College officials had in mind in this line resigned before ever reaching Delaware, to enter branches of the service, thereby leaving the old Gold and Blue in a hole as far as a coach is concerned.

The Athletic Council is after a competent coach. Three men are being considered, namely, Graves Williams, who for the past three years played the backfield on U. of P.; Baugartner, formerly a pitcher for the Philadelphia Nationals and who also played football on the University of Chicago team from which college he graduated, and Speigle, who played on the W. and J. team under Folwell. It is understood that Folwell recommended Williams for the position. Members of the Athletic Council have located Williams in Ohio and are awaiting word from him.

Despite the absence of a coach no time is being lost in practice work. Captain Ernie Wilson had the candidates out yesterday afternoon when they were put through light work. Some of the men out were Stewart, Carter, Lauritsen, Marconite, Wilson, Clancy, Marsden and Loose of last years team; L. Plam and Roach of the scrubs, and Vito, Young, Tonkin, Rous and McCaugh, of the freshmen.

Mix Baseball With Work At Camp Dix

LOCAL CONTINGENT AS SIGNED TO COMPANY B MACHINE GUN BATTALION

Jolls Elected to Manage Sports

Most of the members of the rural New Castle County contingent who went to Camp Dix, Wrightstown, N. J. last Wednesday to join the National Army, have been assigned to Company B, 307th Machine Gun Battalion.

E. P. Jolls, a Delaware College graduate, who was leader of the Rural New Castle contingent, writing to a friend in Newark, stated that all arrived at camp without mishap and are getting along fine. While the work of making soldiers out of the conscripts most of whom never had any military experience, is hard now, the men are gradually becoming used to it. Jolls and others in the quota who had some military experience in Delaware College and the National Guard find that knowledge a great benefit to them.

Private Jolls, whose home is in Middletown and who is a son of former Clerk of the Orphans Court Joseph C. Jolls, has been elected manager of the baseball, football and basketball teams of his Company.

Company B baseball team played its first baseball game at camp last Saturday defeating Company D, 311th Infantry, 4 to 0. James Madero of Brandywine Springs, pitched for Company B and allowed his opponents but two hits. George Madden of New Castle, who played the outfield for Delaware College last season, caught Madero, and one of the features of the game was his batting. He got two home runs and a three-bagger out of four times at bat. The score by innings follows:

R. H.
Company B	0 0 1 0 0 2 1—4 12
Company D	0 0 0 0 0 0 0—0 2

Batteries, Company B—Madero and Madden; Company D—Salmon and Ellins.

Company B is to play 123rd New York colored company team for the championship of camp. In addition to Madden other well-known players on Company B team are, Gallagher, Stony August, Joe Sullivan, McQuade Weist and "Zip" Hanley. In the championship game Gallagher will pitch and August or Sullivan will catch.

Company E Soldiers Win Baseball Game

The Company E baseball team of the Delaware Regiment defeated Company A in a baseball game at Camp Townsend on Sunday, 6 to 0. The game was played before a large crowd of visitors and was a fine contest. Price pitched a clever game for Company E and was caught by Tinsman. The other Company E players were, Heller, first base; Ableman, second base; Gregg, third base; O'Daniel, short stop; Buckingham, left field; Sammons, centre field, and Pierson, right field. Company E men played in the new uniforms recently presented to the company by the citizens of Newark.

Wear Success Clothing

TO THE COLLEGE MAN,

At the beginning of another College year, may I say a word to the new students. As a Citizen of Newark, I welcome you to this Community. As a citizen of Delaware I congratulate you. To be accepted as a student at Delaware College is an honor that will require your best efforts. The men under whose instruction you will sit are leaders in their fields of learning. You will have the best training the country affords. You have only to apply yourself to win the title and recognition of an educated American Citizen. Trained in mind and body, you can claim the world's attention

I F

That's the word—IF—upon that your future depends. Careers of Men, history of Nations depend in many instances on the IFS of Life. One of the important IFS is in the matter of dress. Clothing does not make the man, but it certainly presents him. The style presents the character of the mind. Success is uphill work at best. Anything that aids in attracting attention is worthy of consideration. Clothes do that. The best student of Philosophy at College dressed in stripes would have a hard task in securing a professorship. An engineer dressed as a Broadway fop would receive scant attention from a Government Engineer. No longer does the poet or historian wander about unkempt in his appearance. Genius no longer travels in rags. Dress, while only a detail in comparison, is an essential in American life.

In keeping with the College and its policy, I am attempting to care for the Clothing needs of this community. My aim and study for clothes is for the success type of the American Citizen. I do not dress the snob or fop but the gentleman. I study the essentials of the business man and the successful man. I am catering to that kind of trade.

This is, too, a day of economy but dress in proper form is not an expensive proposition as I have interpreted it.

The students of Delaware College are welcome to the Class Room of Success as found at
