INSPECTION DATES FOR CAR OWNERS ANNOUNCED

Registration In Lots Of 10,000
Vehicles A Week
Till March 31st

Motor vehicle owners with Delaware registrations expiring on March 31st, are requested by the Motor Vehicle Department to visit the safety inspection lanes and have their motor vehicles inspected and licenses renewed during weeks allocated to a group of registration numbers containing theirs.

The department is again inaugurating the system of assigning the registrations to various weeks with a group of ten thousand being allocated each week during the period preceding the March 31st expiration date.

This method was used by the department for several previous expiration periods, including the March 31st period of last year, and those motor vehicle owners who followed the system had little difficulty in avoiding a possible last minute rush at the inspection lanes.

The following schedule has been set up by the department for inspection and renewal of registrations expiring on March 31st.

Registration numbers from 1 to 10,000 should visit the lanes during the week from January 5th to 10th. Number 10,000 to 20,000 from January 12th to 17th. Numbers from 20,000 to 30,000 from January 19th to 24th. Numbers from 30,000 to 40,000, from January 26th to 31st.

Numbers from 40,000 to 50,000 from February 2nd to 7th. Numbers from 50,000 to 60,000 from February 9th to 14th. Numbers from 60,000 to 70,000 from February 16th to 21st. Numbers 70,000 to 80,000 February 23rd to 28th. Numbers 80,000 to 90,000 March 1st to 6th. Above 90,000 March 8th to 13th.

Inspection lanes and branch offices of the Motor Vehicle Department are located at Eighth Street and Bancroft Parkway, Wilmington, on South State Street in Dover and opposite the railroad station in Georgetown. They are open week days, except Saturdays, from 8:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m., and on Saturday from 8:30 a. m. until noon.

ART EXHIBIT IN MEMORIAL LIBRARY

Leo Laskaris
Will Lecture
Sunday Evening

An exhibition of drawings and paintings by students of Amedee Ozenfant, one of the leading teachers of modern painting in America, now is being shown at the Art Gallery of the University of Delaware's Memorial Library, where Leo Laskaris, a Delaware alumnus and now a student of Ozenfant, will lecture on Sunday evening at 8 o'clock.

Mr. Laskaris, talking on "Expressive Form," will use the exhibition to emphasize and explain his points, and according to Miss Harriet Baily, chairman of the Art Department at the university, his lecture will stimulate an understanding of the exhibition.

Mr. Laskaris, a native of Newark who was graduated from the University of Delaware in 1939, when he was elected to membership in Phi Kappa Phi, honorary scholarship fraternity, has selected the work presented, from various students of Mr. Ozenfant. One complete wall in the Art Gallery is devoted to drawings and paintings by Mr. Laskaris. Some of the work represented, however, has been done under a different influence from that of Mr. Ozenfant, and the exhibition presents certain contrasts.

In announcing that the exhibition, which opened Jan. 5, would continue until Jan. 16, Miss Baily stressed that Mr. Ozenfant's teaching is based on an intellectual approach and a philosophy and aesthetic experience basic to all great art. His philosophy of teaching, and its affect on different students, will be discussed by Mr. Laskaris, who has been studying at the Ozenfant School of Fine Arts in New York City, since leaving the Army. Prior to that, he studied at the Chicago Art Institute after being graduated from Delaware.

1948 DRIVE FOR POLIO FUND OPENS NEXT WEEK

Sam Handloff
Heads Group
Appointed To Make Campaign

The local organization for the 1948 March of Dimes met at the New Castle County Health Unit office on Monday evening to discuss plans for the Newark campaign to be held January 15 to January 30.

Samuel Handloff, chairman of the Newark campaign and committee members, representing various town organizations planned the drive in some detail. In addition to the chairman, the committee includes: Morris T. Ewing, Dr. J. R. Downes, Silas Pettit, Rodney H. Dann, Mrs. Thomas D. Mylrea, William S. Martin, Nelson W. Clark, Michael A. Kubicek, and Mrs. Francis H. Squire.

An intensive coverage of the town is planned and it is hoped that Newark will make an outstanding record among the towns of Delaware. The committee feels assured that the citizens of the town are fully aware of the worth of the cause and with the memory of Delaware's infantile paralysis epidemic of last year, will want to support the campaign generously.

It was pointed out again that one of the most important results of the March of Dimes drives is the fact that financial assistance to all polio victims for medical treatment they cannot afford is assured through the annual March of Dimes.

FIREMEN MEET FRIDAY

Members Only
Call During Fires

The regular meeting of the Aetha Hose, Hook and Ladder Company scheduled for last Friday, January 2, was postponed due to the company responding to the Chambers Rock Farm and the meeting will be held this Friday evening, January 9.

During this fire 46 calls were received at the fire house wanting information as to the location of the fire and about 60 per cent of these calls were not members of the fire company. Some of these callers when they found out where the fire was located no doubt went to the scene therefore hampering traffic and delayed fire engines from reaching scene. Effective from the date of this publication, information will be given to members of the fire company only who when calling in must tell only.

CHARTER COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN APPOINTED

Mayor Names
Wheelless To Head Nameless
Charter Group

F. A. Wheelless was appointed by Mayor Hubert to be chairman of the Charter Committee at the regular monthly meeting this week. Members of the committee will be announced later.

The water and milk committees' report was accepted by the Council. A building permit was issued to Dr. Donoho on South College Avenue. Chairman Herman Wollaston, of the new developments areas committee, made a brief report on light and water systems, developments of new streets, and storm sewers for these areas. The council made a few changes and referred other action to be taken at the February meeting.

Town Engineer reported the following:

One street light transformer was re-located. New primary lines were erected on Orchard Road from Cannery Lane to Manns Avenue and a transformer re-located in order to increase voltage. Installation of street lights on Sunset and Winslow Roads has been started with one new light installed on each street to South College Avenue.

Three new water taps and three connections to the sanitary sewer were made. Eight leaks were repaired during the month.

Work has been started on the contract for the construction of the North Side Sewer. Approximately 8 per cent of the work has been completed.

19,714,900 gallons of water were pumped or a daily average of 635,964 gallons. This is a daily increase of 6,021 gallons over the rest of month, and an increase of 1,000,000 gallons over December 1946.

DELAWARE CANAL MAY BE WIDENED

Construction
Of Canal
Started In 1804

Enlargement of the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal may follow a final report by Army engineers on extensive surveys which have been made. This was disclosed at the office of Col. Frederic F. Frech, U. S. Army district engineer, Philadelphia. Tonnage of freight carried by vessels using the canal is now double that of pre-war years, it was said.

The surveys and final report will include recommendations as to whether or not the canal should be deepened and widened and some of the curves removed. At present the canal has an authorized depth of 27 feet, but the actual depth is only 24 feet, due to shoaling at the shallowest point. The width is 250 feet.

Construction of the canal as a lock canal was first undertaken in 1804. In 1926 it was converted into a sea-level canal. At that time it had a depth of only 18 feet and a width of 90 feet.

BOYS WIN GARDENING AWARDS

Vaughn Fox
Winner From
New Castle County

Four Delaware youths were named winners of state awards in the 1947 production-marketing contest among members of the National Junior Vegetable Growers Association as the organization gathered in Jackson, Miss., for its 13th annual three-day convention. Donald Mullard, 16, Louis Brown, 16, Bobby Fry, 15, all from Harrington, and Vaughn Fox, 15, of Newark, received incentive awards from a $6,000 fund provided each year by A. & P. food stores to encourage study by farm youth of better production and marketing of vegetables.

The New Castle County youth's winning project covered three-quarters of an acre of his family's 144-acre farm. He produced crops valued at $464 with costs of only $43. Fox pointed out in his report to the judges that he was able to market his produce profitably by selling it on a direct retail wagon route in Wilmington.

Kent County youths took the other three Delaware awards. Sixteen-year-old Louis Brown, operating only one-half acre of land, managed to realize a profit of $271.65 by raising a diversified crop. At the state fair samples of his corn captured state honors, and in seven other exhibits he took two firsts, three seconds and two thirds. In the state F. F. A. egg production contest he won a $25 prize.

FARM LABOR PLACEMENT PROGRAM COMPLETED

Harvey Ogden
Of Glasgow
Will Head
Employment

The Delaware Agricultural Extension Service discontinued its farm labor placement program on December 31, 1947, after carrying on this added wartime emergency function for five years, according to G. M. Worrlow, associate director.

During this period, the Extension Service assisted Delaware farmers in meeting serious farm labor shortages through the recruitment of intra-state workers such as school children who comprised the movement known as the Victory Farm Volunteers, housewives, business men in overalls and industrial workers off shift, and placed not only these workers where the needs appeared to be most urgent, but also placed workers who were imported from the British West Indies and German prisoners of war while they were available.

More recently the largest single source of harvest farm hands has been the migratory negro workers from the South. In the case of the migratory workers, the Extension Service aided with the recruitment and housing of the migratory families. Pertinent information concerning crop conditions and harvest peak dates was furnished Extension workers of neighboring Southern States to assist workers in following an orderly pattern up the Atlantic Coastal area as crop maturity dates progressed.

Future responsibility for farm worker placement, Worrlow says, reverts back to the Employment Service on January 1st. This agency carried on farm placement activity prior to the setting up of the Emergency Farm Labor Program by Congressional action early in 1943.

Harvey Ogden, Glasgow, who will head the program for the Employment Service, will be located in Wilmington at the Employment Service and Unemployment Compensation offices.

During the five-year period of the program, Extension workers aided more than 1,600 different farmers annually and made a total of 88,851 placements, the highest number for any one year being 33,635 for the calendar year 1944.

Approximately $23,000,000 worth of food was harvested by the various types of emergency workers during the entire program with 1945 being the peak year so far as crop value harvested was concerned—the amount being $7,369,200.

The Extension farm labor activities here in Delaware have been under the supervision of J. Frank Gordy, state supervisor of the program since its inception. County agricultural agents have been in direct charge of the program within their counties and have worked closely with the county farm Labor Advisory Committees.

During the past three years, five cooperative farm labor associations have been formed in Delaware, to assist with the program and carry on in years ahead many of the duties performed largely through governmental assistance during the emergency program. These farm labor associations and their presidents are:

New Castle County Cooperative Farm Labor Association—Victor Kohl, Middletown; Kent County Cooperative Farm Labor Association—William H. Richter, Dover; Staytonville Cooperative Farm Labor Association—John Annette, Farmington; Wessex Cooperative Farm Labor Association—Warren C. Newton, Bridgeville; and Essex Cooperative Farm Labor Association—William Ayers, Millsboro.

MODERN DAIRY BARN DESTROYED BY FIRE

51 Head Of Cattle Saved; Six Cows Lost

A loss of $100,000 was estimated from fire which destroyed a large, modern dairy barn on the Chambers Rock Farm near Newark, plus part of a prize herd of cattle, feed and dairy equipment.

The blaze, which started about 7 o'clock Friday night, was kept from the nearby main farmhouse by a bucket-brigade of men, women and children. Volunteer firemen of four companies fought the fire of undetermined origin for more than five hours, handicapped by cold winds and a limited water supply.

Six Jersey cows and a calf were destroyed in the flames, but 51 head of the prize herd were brought out to safety by employees of the farm directed by Chief Herdsman Clarence E. Fair.

The loss, in addition to the modern barn and cows, included 100 tons of hay, the same amount of straw, 10 tons of feed, a small truck, and valuable dairy equipment.

The farm, three miles northwest of Newark, is owned by Mrs. Mary C. Folwell, who has a winter home in Merion, Pa., and a summer residence in Newark.

Hundreds of motorists were attracted to the scene by the bright reflection of flames in the night sky, and early jamming of roads leading to the farm by these spectators caused a 20-minute delay in the arrival of West Grove, Pa., and Newark firemen. The Hockessin and Christiana fire companies also were called.

George Fair, 17, son of the chief herdsman, first discovered the fire when he was placing a jeep in the three-story stone and frame building.

Fair spread the alarm, and then started to lead cattle out of the barn assisted by Charles Wilson, 18, and Edward Pulley, 18, farm employees, and others working there.

Two of the workers suffered minor injuries as they herded the frightened cattle out of the smoke and fire-filled building. Wilson was cut over one eye while groping through the smoke and Grimes Drummond suffered cuts on the hands and head.

When the spread of flames made it impossible to rescue more of the dairy herd, the group formed a bucket brigade to protect the farmhouse 100 feet away until volunteer fire companies arrived.

NEW FIELDS OPEN IN CHEMISTRY

A number of fellowships in the various fields of chemistry related to biological problems have been announced by Dr. Ellice McDonald, Director, Biochemical Research Foundation, and Dr. William A. Mosher, chairman of the Department of Chemistry, University of Delaware. Holders of the new fellowships will conduct independent research on the regular problems of the Foundation under the direction of senior staff members of the two institutions and will carry courses at the university, which will award the Ph. D. degree on satisfactory completion of requirements.

The Biochemical Research Foundation, located adjacent to the university campus at Newark, Del., is continuing its program of many years directed at the basic problems of normal and abnormal cellular growth. The Foundation, which recently completed an extensive investigation on the biological effects of irradiation for the Manhattan District project, is one of the best-equipped laboratories in the nation for the application of the physical sciences to biological problems. Its heavy equipment includes a cyclotron, Tiselius electrophoresis apparatus, ultra-centrifuge, quartz microscope, X-ray irradiation equipment and the usual items and services standard to well supplied organizations.

Present fields of research activity include biochemistry of nucleic acids and sulfur compounds, synthesis of biologically active compounds containing tracer elements, enzymology, metabolic studies, effect of irradiation on cellular and systemic chemistry, molecular size and shape studies of tissue proteins under various conditions, and chemical and physical problems related to cancer.

Stipends for 12 months under the fellowships are $1,500 with vacation privileges. Applicants should hold the M. S. degree or its equivalent in any field of chemistry. Further details and application blanks, which should be returned prior to March 1, may be obtained from Dr. Mosher at the Department of Chemistry, University of Delaware.

4-H'ERS WIN AWARDS

Nancy Smith
Wins $10 Award

Five Delaware 4-H members have been selected to receive awards of $10.00 each, for work carried on this past year in the better methods project, announces Miss Jean Lee, state 4-H specialist.

Grace Scott, Cheswold, worked out a more efficient method of doing dishes; Eleanor Brown, Elkton, Md., rearranged the kitchen to take care of new dishwashing equipment; Harvey Shockley, Lincoln, wired a poultry house and set up a watering system; Nancy Smith, Newark, analyzed and improved the method and arrangement for laundering in her home; and Alice Jarrell, Middletown, stressed kitchen rearrangement to include a home freezer.

The better methods project which encourages 4-H members to find new and better ways to do household and farm jobs, is open to all club members, according to Miss Lee. The awards for this contest are made possible through the Delaware Power and Light Co.

Oil Products Due To Go Up Soon

Delaware, as well as every other state in the country, can expect what local authorities in the oil industry term an "inevitable increase in the price of petroleum products."

Informed sources in Wilmington say that the increase is only a matter of receiving word from the oil refineries themselves. The cause of the imminent hike in consumer prices, these sources reveal, is the rise of the price of crude oil in the Texas-Oklahoma region.

Both gasoline and fuel oil will be affected in the higher schedules. The price of crude oil at the source advanced one cent and a quarter a gallon, but no indication was given what the increase would mean in changing retail prices of the various petroleum products.

Guernsey Cow Sets State Champion Record

Peter Zeidler, Glasgow, Delaware, has made a state champion record on his registered Guernsey cow, Sun Set Lady of Shalott. Her production of 12231 pounds of milk and 681 pounds of butterfat is the highest record in the state made by a senior three-year-old milked three times daily for a ten-month period. She was milked 898 times during test.

The sire of this cow, C. F.'s Prime Minister, owned by Est. E. B. Cassatt, Berwyn, Pennsylvania, and Mr. Zeidler, has six daughters in the Performance Register of The American Guernsey Cattle Club.

$5,000,000,000 Market Seen For Television

A prediction the television industry will provide a $5,000,000,000 market in the next few years was made recently by Larry E. Gubb, chairman of the Philco Corporation.

In an address to a civic club, Gubb estimated that much would be spent in building and equipping television stations and in the purchase of television receivers.

He said production of television receivers should total 175,000 by the end of this year and estimated retail sales in 1948 would be three times that many.

WANTED—One collie puppy.

We intimately know a man who had the misfortune to accidentally run over a collie dog belonging to a small girl in Wilmington, one day early this week.

The accident occurred when the collie, playing along the roadside, ran under the man's car which passed over the dog, killing it instantly. The little girl owner was heartbroken and the man, feeling sympathetic, is desirous of providing the lass with another collie to take the place of the one she has lost.

So, if this touches a sympathetic chord in you and you know where a nice collie puppy may be had (not necessarily pedigreed) the writer of this column will be grateful for your aid in this respect . . . and, though you never hear anything from it, you will bring joy to the heart and a smile to the face of a child who has lost her best friend.

If this country has come to the point where the thousands of artists engaged in American recording of music are completely dominated and governed by one man's (Petrillo) whim, we think it a sorry state of affairs. And, in this connection, we'll be greatly surprised if Mr. Petrillo's edict, effective January 1, is not soon given a rude jolt.

No where in the American way of life are such dictatorial powers tolerated except in union organizations which permit self-centered egotists like Petrillo, John L. Lewis, et al, to assert opinionated one-man rule over the destinies of thousands. (Yea, Pegler!)

Not even the duly elected President of these United States has the power and authority to exert his mandates over the heads of the people, through their duly elected representatives in Congress. Why, then, should thousands and even millions of union members submit to such degradation by arrogant officials who have ridden to power through the monthly dues fleeced from their flock of gullible members?

The principals and fundamentals of unions are fine. But they have, in the past few years, been abused to a point detrimental not only to their members but to the American public en masse. If the present regime of leaders such as Petrillo and Lewis are indicative of events to come, and if they are permitted to stand unchallenged, then we don't remember or incorrectly interpret the significance of a Constitution that guaranteed that "all men are free and equal . . . and Guaranteed the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

If an edict denying a person the right to make a recording is not a denial of a part of their "liberty" and "pursuit of happiness," we don't know what you would call it. But, we bet those babies who live off the sweat of your brow, Mr. Union Member, would have a fancy name for it . . . and a fancy battery of lawyers to defend their action—at a fancy price, which you are helping to pay for the privilege of being denied your constitutional rights, in a "free" country.

Well, you pay your money and you take your choice. And, 'twould seem that some people are never happier than when they're being "taken." Suckers!

If that doesn't stir up enough stink, maybe you'd like to be reminded that now is the time to begin thinking about the annual Town Election which will be held in April—three months hence—when the terms of Councilmen Wheelless, Hopkins and Wollaston expire.

Heard again today that the Hershey Chocolate people had obtained the Phillips Packing Company plant but don't know whether or not there's any truth to it, do you?

Highly commendable is the example set by the group of high school students conducting the Saturday night dances at the New Century Club which raised and contributed $32 to the CARE fund from receipts of their New Year's dance.

'Funny but of all sports fans, we believe that a golf "bug" is the most enthusiastic. They play it all summer and talk it all winter.

Glad to see the State Theatre erecting its new marquee which may even be completed by the time you read this. Incidentally, operators of the State have plans and blue prints all prepared for an entirely new and modern theatre which will be erected on Main Street, next to the Postoffice, when, as and if building conditions become more favorable.

We timidly venture the opinion that Frances Parkinson Keyes' novel "Come a Cavalier" begins in an interesting manner. James Hilton's "Nothing So Strange," we considered fair with Howard Breslin's "The Tamarack Tree" rating just a little above the average of our standards while Taylor Caldwell's "There Was a Time" failed completely to stir our interest.

Lion Feuchtwanger's best-seller, "Proud Destiny," is undoubtedly well written and full of historical significance but was insufficiently romantic and adventurous theme to intrigue us. However, it would make a wonderful vehicle for a student to use for background for a book report.

Letters To Editor

A Song In The Air

'Twas the night before Christmas and to many of the passengers who were flying from New Orleans to Newark on Eastern Air Line's great DC-4 it was just another flight—a flight that would take them quickly to their firesides and loved ones.

As flight stewardess, I was determined to make this the merriest and happiest of all trips, and had come aboard laden down with a tiny artificial tree, tinsel, and red ribbon. It was a heart warming task greeting my passengers at the door and welcoming them aboard our Silverliner. The Christmas spirit was quite obvious—it was wreathed in the smiles of the happy faces—it was caught in the gaily adorned packages that nearly everyone boasted—and, yes, as my purser, Bud Place, and I hung up the coats, the extra heavy weight in the shape of a bottle of Christmas cheer proved there was no Christmas spirit lacking on our flight that evening!

Among the passengers were fifteen young soldiers—so very young—who excitedly told us of their best present from Santa—discharge papers. It was hard for them to sit still, and they roamed throughout the ship to the amusement of the others aboard.

As I served dinner I thought of a year ago when I had been based in Boston and how we had gone caroling on Beacon Hill. It just didn't seem like Christmas unless we could go caroling, and suddenly I could see no reason why the entire ship shouldn't go caroling.

My suggestion was met with much enthusiasm, and that is how it happened that as the great Silverliner zoomed through starry winter skies the air was filled with song. Those seated in front led us into "Silent Night," most beautiful of all carols, and as I walked back and forth down the long aisle, I was thrilled with the harmony and perfection of fifty-six voices. Many of the carols were sung over and over again.

Suddenly in a silent interval a beautiful tenor voice began to sing Schubert's "Ave Maria." It was one of the soldiers. Moonlight flooded the darkened ship outlining clearly the faces of those listening in appreciation. As he sang, it seemed that the engines were steadily humming in accompaniment, and there was a strange feeling of unreality in the atmosphere. Tears streamed unashamedly down our faces. When the last true note of "Ave Maria" had died, he paused only a moment before he sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Caroling was over, and the warmth of close association pervaded the ship. Sensing that we were mighty close to my little old home town, I went forward to the cockpit for good view. It was only coincidence, I know, but what a nice coincidence. There, 11,000 feet below, just at midnight, was Newark, Delaware—lights shimmering and sparkling in breathtaking loveliness. Flying creates new fairylands. It was Christmas morning.

The soldiers were shaking hands all around when I returned to the cabin, and at my appearance uniforms immediately swarmed about me as the soldiers in their merriest leaned over me to wish me a Merry Christmas!

Our Christmas Eve flight was nearing its end—we were approaching Newark, New Jersey, and as the plane settled down on the runway, I felt an inner glow of satisfaction and thankfulness that comes from the pure love of flight and the realization that there is nothing more gratifying than working among people and bringing them together in unforgettable relationship.

LAWSON-LEWIS WEDDING JANUARY 1

A New Year's Day wedding of much interest took place in West Presbyterian Church at 4:30 p. m., when Miss Ruth Ellen Laws, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Pierce Laws, 17 Winston Avenue, Elmhurst, became the bride of Mr. Conrad K. D. Lewis, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad K. D. Lewis, of Newark. The Rev. Dr. A. H. Kleffman, pastor, performed the ceremony.

Mr. Laws gave his daughter in marriage and she had as her maid of honor, Miss Marian Phillips, of Newark. Bridesmaids were Miss Betty Frazier, of Tuxedo Park, Mrs. Edmund Lewis, of Newport, and Miss Nancy Lewis, a sister of the bridegroom, junior bridesmaid.

The best man was Mr. Edmund Lewis of Newport, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Mr. Samuel Talucci, of Newark; Mr. William Balling, of Glasgow, and Mr. James Lewis, of Newark, a brother of the bridegroom.

The bride's gown was of white faille tulle, made with long full skirt and train. The long tight fitting sleeves were finished with points at the hands. The gown was made with illusion neckline, and trimmed with small buttons down the back from the neckline to the waist. The skirt was made with triple pleum.

She wore a Juliet cap with pearl trim and finished with a fingertip veil. She carried small white prayer book, with white orchid and shower of sweet peas.

Miss Phillips, maid of honor, wore a gown of hunter green crepe with brown accessories, and corsage of Talisman roses.

Mr. Lewis, mother of the bridegroom, wore fuchsia crepe with matching hat and gloves, with corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. H. D. Reynolds of North East Md., grandmother of the bride, and the only living grandparent, was present. She wore a purple gown with black accessories, and a corsage of gardenias.

The wedding music was played by Mr. Norman Lind of Lancaster Village. Miss Beverly Bowser of Philadelphia, sang.

A reception was held following the ceremony, at the home of the bride's parents.

In our book the 46-43 victory over University of Buffalo registered last Saturday night the Blue Hens was one of the most important games in the University of Delaware's long basketball history. We'll concede that from time to time Hen hardwood exponents may have defeated better court teams than that which represented Buffalo—but that isn't point.

As far as we're concerned the point of primary importance is this. At long last a Delaware basketball team has participated in a big college double-header in a big municipal auditorium before a big crowd (in this particular case estimated to have been 8,000 fans.) For several years now college court double-headers have been a symbol of the vastly greater significance which has been acquired by collegiate basketball—but not until last week was Delaware ever a part of that picture.

The fact that Coach Joe Brunansky's basketballers displayed no stage fright and in the last five minutes overcame a six point deficit to achieve a three point margin of victory before what must have been a Buffalo-partisan audience, is in itself a great tribute to the game Blue Hen squad. We've expressed before our hope that basketball will receive more and more attention and support at the local institution. Perhaps last Saturday's fine showing will add impetus to a movement in that direction.

In losing 66-49 to Lawrence Tech on New Year's Eve in Detroit, Jerry Bowls and his cage mates must really have been up against a top-flight team if we can accept as any criterion Tech's 81-52 win over Carnegie Tech three nights later. And did you notice that Lawrence Tech's Norm Hankins, who set a new individual scoring record of 35 points against the Hens, set a new mark of 38 points against the Tartans?

Incidentally, Delaware's basketball engagement with Drexel Tech at Philadelphia on Wednesday night (played too late for recording the outcome here) will have launched the Hen quintet on its third quest for its first title in the Southern Division of the Middle Atlantic States Athletic Conference. Ten of the Hen's thirteen remaining encounters (including Wednesday's game) are MASAC tussles. Two games are to be played with each of the other Southern Division members—Swarthmore, Drexel, Haverford, Ursinus and P. M. C.

In the previous two years in which the MASAC basketball circuit has been in operation on its present basis, the Blue Hens, first under the tutelage of Ken Steers and then with Joe Brunansky as mentor, finished the conference play with identical records—five wins and five set-backs in each season. So there's a mark for the current court combine from Carpenter Field House to seek to improve.

Now the argument is wide open again—and since it's a certainty Michigan and Notre Dame authorities will not accept that Chicago business man's offer to contribute $50,000 to charity if the Wolverines and the Irish meet on the gridiron within thirty days, the sports world will forever have another unanswerable question. Notre Dame or Michigan? Lujack, Brennan & Co. or Chappuis, Elliott, Weisenburger, Yerger et al?

What will be the basis of argument as we all order another round? Well, it's almost sure to come down to comparative scores—which nearly everyone agrees are meaningless but nearly everybody uses when they seem best to serve his purpose. We don't mean to take sides but we'll probably be accused of it anyway for here are the scores of the games in which the charges of Fritz Crisler and Frank Leahy had common opponents.

Notre Dame beat pitiful Pittsburgh 40-6 and Michigan mauled the Panthers 69-0. The Irish licked Northwestern 26-19 and the Wolverines turned the trick 49-21. The Southenders went to the West Coast and romped over Southern California by an amazing 38-7 count. Then in the Rose Bowl the Trojans were annihilated 49-0 by the men from Ann Arbor, as Michigan broke almost all existing records for the annual Pasadena football classic.

Which team did you say was better? Oh, yeah! Well just look here! And consider this! But the records show that (and ad infinitum.)

A few weeks ago we opined that this year's New Year's bowl array was the best ever to be offered to a football-loving populace. As we recovered by our radio, and later as we read the reports and recapitulations, we saw no reason to reverse ourselves.

As some substantiation of our position we record a few of the 1948 bowl items. An undefeated Penn State team, much out-played in the first 28 minutes, overcame a 13-0 deficit, gained a 13-13 tie, came within a dropped pass on the final play of the game of snatch-victory—and showed that an Eastern team can safely venture into the highly-touted Southwest Conference.... Lu Gambino (who has another date with Delaware on Oct. 2 in Wilmington Park) personally racked up three T. D.'s and provided Maryland with a 20-7 edge on Georgia, only to have two Pennsylvania lads score fourth period touchdowns which enabled the Bulldogs to gain a 20-20 stalemate.... After being all even (7-7) at the half, Bobby Layne and his cohorts from Austin, Texas, broke loose in the final

Red-hot forward Norm Hankins of Lawrence Tech broke his school's all-time basketball scoring record with 35 points to hoist Tech into a 66-49 win over University of Delaware. This is the third successive time Hankins has set a new point-making mark at Tech. Both teams fought a neck-and-neck battle during the first half, Delaware was leading 25-22 at the midway point. In the final half Tech turned on the steam and rolled to an easy victory, with Hankins racking up 14 points in one 10-minute stretch.

A fighting University of Delaware quintet roared from behind with a last ditch drive to defeat the University of Buffalo 46 to 43, in the opening game of a basketball double-header at Memorial Auditorium.

The small but fast Delaware team had to go all out to register their second victory of the year. With sharp-shooting Lou Corriere and tall Bill Needham hitting from the field consistently, Buffalo had moved into a commanding first half lead and held a 26 to 20 half time advantage.

Buffalo's scoring cooled in the second half, however, and Delaware peeked away until they drew even at 32-all with eight minutes to go. At this point Buffalo rallied under the impetus of two quick goals by lanky Paul Brady and Walt Givens and two free tosses by Corriere.

With five and a half minutes left, Buffalo was ahead by six points and appeared certain of its fifth win in eight starts. But Delaware poured on the speed and an all-court defense to crack the Buffalo defense.

Little Bill Cole tossed a bucket from close in, Jim McFadden dropped a quarter court effort and the score was deadlocked 43-all. Bob Gregory put Delaware ahead with a free throw and the Delaware five froze the ball successfully until big Vic Wood put away an easy layup to seal the victory.

It was Delaware's second win in four games while Buffalo dropped to the .500 mark with four and four. Approximately 8,000 fans attended. Box score: Delaware (46) F. F. F. P. With the full commission, consisting of John K. Johnston, chairman, Joseph W. Chinn, secretary, and W. W. Richardson, concurring the application to conduct racing at the Stanton oval from May 29 to July 5, 1948, was approved.

NEW CODE EXPLAINED

An explanation of administrative policy with regard to Section 102 of the U. S. Internal Revenue Code has been received from Commissioner of Internal Revenue George J. Schoeneman, Washington, D. C., by Collector Norman Collison of the District of Delaware.

Because of many requests from corporations which determine their dividend policies at this time of the year, including a large number of Delaware corporations, Mr. Collison released the text of the explanation recently for the benefit of such Federal taxpayers in this state.

The explanatory statement follows, in part:

"It never has been and is not now the policy of the Bureau of Internal Revenue to apply this provision to any corporation unless it withholds from its stockholders surplus earnings clearly in excess of the reasonable needs of the business and for the purpose of enabling stockholders to avoid personal income taxes. In determining whether surplus is retained for business purposes, it is our unvarying policy to give due consideration to the judgment of the corporation's own management as to what sums are needed for working capital, expansion of facilities, making funds for debt retirement, contingency funds to cover employee benefits, and similar bona fide business and legal needs. In all questionable cases, it is our policy to give the corporation's management an opportunity to explain the purpose of its surplus retention before applying Section 102.

STATE NETS $966,536.97 ON 30-DAYS RACE MEET

Revenue For Summer Meet
24 Percent
Under 1946

Horse racing at Delaware Park netted the state treasury $966,536.97 this year, it was revealed by the Delaware Racing Commission in its annual report.

The amount is about 24 per cent less than the peak of $1,275,049 in state revenue from racing turned in last year.

This year's figure not only fell below the 1946 record, but was also under the 1945 net of $1,050,187.35. It exceeded, however, the 1944 net income from racing. The present year is the first in which the season at Delaware Park has failed to establish a new record in state revenue.

Racing was legalized here in 1937, and has been conducted each year since except 1943.

Commenting on the 1947 season the commission said: "Both wagering and the attendance were considered satisfactory by the commission; although not as large in either case as 1946, but in excess of the ten-year average. The first two weeks of the meeting were adversely affected in the opinion of the commission due to the operation of the Atlantic City track. In the last two weeks of our meeting there was a very noticeable improvement in both wagering and attendance."

The state's gross revenue from racing this year was $969,305.18, while the expenses of the commission were $2,768.21, leaving the net income of $966,536.97.

The major portion of the revenue—$894,417.58—came from the three and a half per cent tax on pari-mutuel sales (betting) of $25,554,788. This volume of betting was sharply under the $33,933,656 peak registered last year.

The 20-cent tax on admissions brought the state $81,887.60, while this year's total of 349,428 admissions was less than last year's figure, it exceeded the 1945 attendance. However, the 313,582 admissions in 1945 accounted for a greater volume of betting than this year's 349,438.

The other revenue from racing was as usual derived from the $3,000 application fee and $2,000 racing license fee.

The commission reported that the total distributed in purses this year was $943,800, continuing the upward trend which extends throughout the history of Delaware Park. Last year's purse total was $819,000, while the year before the distribution was $674,350.

Statistics presented by the commission showed that the proportion of winning favorites at the track this year was 30.71, which is close to the three-year average of 31.21.

"The Delaware Steeplechase and Race Association for the 1947 meeting made large increases in the parking space available for motorists, and in the dispersal area available for patrons. The pari-mutuel facilities also were increased and the number and size of entrances improved," the report states.

"The transportation situation was very satisfactory and the traffic was promptly disposed of even on Saturdays. This was due to the improvement in the bus terminals in 1946 and the expanded individual car parking space provided in 1947.

"The new tote board with the figures shown in three places from different angles was favorably commented on by many of the patrons."

Farm Income Tax Aids Available

Delaware farmers have available for their guidance in filing income taxes a publication entitled "Farmers and 1947 Income Taxes." This publication is intended to help farmers make Federal income tax returns and may be secured from any of the Delaware county agricultural extension offices.

The material was prepared by the Extension Service and the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

Included in the circular are sample sheets showing the correct use of income tax forms, and a section of questions and answers dealing with most problems of concern to the farmer. Also available to farmers upon request are 1948 Farm Record Sheets to aid in the calculation of future returns.

Television Sets In '48 Likely To Hit 750,000

A report on a survey conducted for the General Foods Corporations said that by the end of 1948 there will be approximately 750,000 television sets and 46 stations in the country.

The report, by Benton & Bowles and Young & Rubicam, said television now reaches a select higher-than-average income group. In the future, it said, television will broaden in coverage to reach a more representative cross-section of the public because of greater availability of sets, lower retail prices, and time payment financing.

COMMODITY PRICES HIT A NEW HIGH

Prices Soar
To 4 Percent
Of 1946 Peak

Wholesale prices as measured by the Bureau of Labor Statistics hit a new post-war high of 159.8 per cent of the 1926 averages during the late days of 1947.

This was an advance of 0.4 per cent above the preceding week and left the bureau's index only about 4 per cent below the all-time peak of May, 1920.

At 159.8, the index stood 14.8 per cent above a year earlier and 41.8 per cent above the last week of June, 1946, when OPA controls were virtually scrapped.

Meanwhile today, prices of major commodities recorded only slight fluctuations in the nation's principal markets.

The Associated Press weighted wholesale price index of 35 commodities fell slightly to 205.04, compared with 205.59 Wednesday and the all-time high of 205.67 reached Tuesday.

In Chicago, wheat closed 3½ to 6 cents lower. The December future closed at $3.04-$3.03½. Corn was ½-1½ cents higher, December $2.60½-$2.60, and oats were ¼-1¼ lower, December $1.25½-¼.

In New York cotton futures were 5 to 7 cents a bale lower. Chicago livestock prices were virtually unchanged and eggs and butter declined slightly.

In New York the price of Maxwell House coffee was advanced 2 cents a pound. The rise was attributed to continued increases in green coffee prices which have gone up ¼ cent a pound in the past week.

Other price and food developments: 1. Dropping prices put the government back into the potato market in some states. The Agriculture Department withdrew from the market several weeks ago when prices moved above levels at which it is required by law to support growers prices. Officials said lower prices in some producing areas are requiring resumption of government buying.

Purchases will be limited to New York, Vermont, Maine, Massachusetts, Connecticut, North Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, Wisconsin, New Hampshire, Rhode Island, Minnesota, South Dakota and Michigan.

2. Egg prices have reached a 13-year peak in New York City and butter and poultry prices also are up sharply. City Markets Commissioner Eugene Schultz said at New York. Schultz reported top grade eggs are selling at 93 cents a dozen, highest since 1934. Butter is selling at 83 cents a pound, the highest price of the year and only two and one-half cents under the record set in October 1946.

3. The Commerce Department reported the United States exported $1,771,007,000 and imported $1,200,842,000 worth of food during the first nine months of this year. Exports were $51,680,000 above the corresponding period of 1946, while imports were up by $246,419,000.

Cecil Democrat Sold To Barnes

The Cecil Democrat, a weekly paper established in Elkton during February, 1840, and published every week during the past 107 years, has been purchased from Harry H. Cleaves by Harry Davis Barnes and William Scott Reed, who will publish under the name of Barnes and Reed, Inc.

The policy of the paper, purchased several weeks ago, will remain independent Democratic.

NEW COURSE OFFERED TO STUDENTS

Herbert H. Finch
To Be Instructor;

A course in the history of science, with emphasis on its developing principles and social relations, will be offered for the first time at the University of Delaware, in the second term of the present academic year, beginning February 5. The course, known as "The History of the Methodology and Sociology of Science," will be taught by Herbert H. Finch of the Department of History.

To be offered through the Academic Extension Division as well as to regularly-enrolled students, the course will be open to graduate students and advanced undergraduates. The class will meet once a week for three hours, with three credits given toward baccalaureate or advanced degrees.

Mr. Finch said that special attention will be given to how science affects society, and how society affects the scientist, in such matters as general interest and financial support. Such questions as "Why does science develop in a certain way at a certain time—what determines its areas and directions of interest?" will be taken up. An effort will be made to emphasize the dependence of the scientist upon the general interests of the learning and social outlook of his own time, particularly as reflected in financial support. There will be an historical study of the effect of government and private institutions upon science.

The new course will be a companion offering to work already given by Dr. Lewis W. Beck, of the Department of Philosophy.

Information about the time of the class will be available to Academic Extension students through Paul M. Hodgson, director of extension.

9,024 LBS. OF CLOTHING AND FOOD COLLECTED

Residents of New Castle County last year contributed 9,024 pounds of clothing and food for stricken areas of Europe and Asia in a campaign sponsored by the Wilmington Council of Churches.

Of this amount, collected with the cooperation of the churches, 1,194 pounds were gathered in the New Castle area, and 948 through the churches at Newark. The other 6,882 pounds were collected in Wilmington.

Mrs. Clarence Fraim heads the overseas relief council of northern Delaware for the church council. She said the drive has closed but an opportunity to contribute will be given all those who wish to do so.

All churches have been asked by Mrs. Fraim to obtain special bags from the Church World Service Center at New Windsor, Md., so that members may continue their donations of clothing, shoes, bedding, money for medicine and food—which must not be in glass containers because of possible breakage in shipping. These will be placed in the bags and sent to the service center to be shipped where needed.

Food already donated has been sent to New Windsor and relayed abroad under the supervision of Church World Service.

During the first 11 months of last year, 3,892,662 pounds of donations passed through the New Windsor Center.
