Drive To Open Campus Chest

By ALAN GIBERSON

Solicitation of funds in the dormitories from Monday to Thursday and a Carnival next Friday evening will help raise funds for the Delaware Association of Crippled Children and Adults.

Heading the annual campus Chest drive are Marty Cassidy, AE4, and Marie Chelly, ED5. All money collected will be used for the support of crippled persons in Delaware. Among the association's many projects are such services as furnishing equipment, operating a rehabilitation center at Georgetown, and directing a summer camp for crippled children. The camp, specially operated for the enjoyment of crippled children, is across the Potomac from Baltimore, Md.

Students are called upon only once a year to aid in this endeavor. The association needs funds to continue helping 523 persons, and the funds raised through the sales of Easter Seals are not sufficient. Nearly $20,000 will be required to continue the activities of the association next year.

Pianist Replaced In Artists Series

Illness has forced the cancellation of an appearance by pianist William Masselos in the Artist Series Concert on Thursday evening at 8:15 p.m. in Mitchell Hall.

Dr. George G. Windell, chairman of the Artist Series committee, said that Mr. Masselos' mother is seriously ill, forcing the artist to alter his entire spring concert schedule.

Fortunately, Dr. Windell said, the committee has been able to secure as a substitute performer, the young British pianist, Moura Lympny.

Miss Lympny made her debut with the New York Philharmonic in 1960 and has appeared as soloist under Sir Thomas Beecham and other leading conductors in this country and abroad. She has received acclaim for her skill and virtuosity.

DORM CANVAS

From Monday until Thursday evenings, student volunteers will canvas the dorms asking for donations. The minimum goal is an average of $1 from each dormitory resident.

CARNIVAL EVENTS

Featuring egg and pie-throwing at pledges, games of skill and chance, and a miniature golf course, a carnival will be held in Carpenter Field House next Friday evening. Each dormitory and fraternity will sponsor a booth, which range from those selling cokes, snow cones, and hot dogs to those offering free packs of cigarettes. Booths will be judged on originality, eye appeal, and success. Trophies for the best men's, women's and fraternity fund-raising efforts will be awarded.

Platforms Defined

Election Rally To Host Rivals Newlon, Rapkin

Rally round your candidates Monday night on the South Campus tennis courts at 6 p.m.

The band will provide atmosphere for the speeches of SGA vice-presidential candidates, AWS aspirants, and Honor Court opponents.

SGA presidential candidates, Dan Newlon and Les Rapkin, will present their ideas and plans together in organized discussions.

Other candidates will be introduced.

GET OUT THE VOTE

Voting will be conducted in the student center Wednesday and Thursday and results will be announced the following Monday in a special election issue of The Review.

To enable students to judge candidates more objectively The Review has formulated four questions designed to organize the plans of candidates as concisely as possible.

FORM JUDGEMENTS

Opponents for the five SGA executive offices and class presidential candidates were presented with these questions and their answers from the statements on pages eight and nine.

The following questions were asked:

- 1) What do you feel the goals of your organization should be?
- 2) How do these differ from

DAN NEWLON

LES RAPKIN

the present goals?

3) What can you do to accomplish these?

4) What do you feel your organization could do to improve communications and cooperation among the student body, faculty, and administration?

100% ENTHUSIASM?

It is hoped that all students will carefully review all written and spoken material available to them by the candidates and will vote next week with judgement and optimism.

Fifty-four candidates are running for the twenty-nine offices available, but two offices still remain vacant (senior women's representative) and many important offices have students running unopposed.

Phi Beta Kappa Elects 19; DeArmond To Lead Group

In recent elections by the Alpha Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, the following seniors in the School of Arts and Science as Members-in-Course were elected: John E. Babiarz, Jr., political science; Phyllis A. Batten, english; Pauline S. Bowen, international relations; Terrell W. Bynum, chemistry and philosophy; Elizabeth P. Cassidy, english; Dana S. Downing, english; Eric J. Fauri, economics; Emily E. Fish, american studies; Jacqueline E. Harding, economics; Judith A. Hartmaier, chemistry; Penelope Hummer, history; Stephanie E. Kauffman, art; Patsy A. Lodge, chemistry; Robert S. Marianelli, mathematics; Carolyn L. McGee, mathematics; Barbara J. McKee, english; Sandra L. Salzenberg, modern languages; James A. Thomas, chemistry; and philosophy; and Susan L. Whipple, latin.

Dr. A. Janney DeArmond, associate professor of English, was elected president for 1963-64. Other officers are Dr. Max S. Kirch, associate professor of modern languages, vice president; Dr. John M. Dawson, director of libraries, secretary; Dr. Ralph V. Exline, associate research professor of psychology, treasurer; and Dr. E. McClung Fleming, Wintherthur lecturer, historian.

Phi Beta Kappa, established in 1776, is the oldest honorary society on the American campus. Senior students majoring in liberal arts and demonstrating superior scholarship are eligible for election.

Review Nominates Smith, Lutz For Major Positions

Barbara Smith and Ken Lutz were recently nominated by The Review for top positions in that organization.

Barbara has been named The Review's choice as editor-in-chief and Ken as business manager. Formal appointment of these nominations awaits review of their qualifications by the Faculty Sub Committee of Student Publications and confirmation by the Dean of Students.

If confirmed, Barbara will be replacing Bob Lovinger, AS3, present editor, while Ken will be taking the position presently held by Howard Simon, AS3.

A social science major, Barbara is also House Judicial Board Chairman and has been play-bill script director for her dorm. Ken, a junior in electrical engineering, is presently president of MRHA.

ODK Honorary Recognizes Five

Five new members were initiated into Omicron Delta Kappa yesterday evening. This honorary fraternity recognizes men of outstanding leadership ability.

Seniors Eric Brucker and Norman Pratt, and Juniors John Flynn, Daniel Newlon, and Robert Young were selected.

Eric Brucker, AS4, is an economics major who has served in many positions in SGA, such as dormitory representative, chairman of the Men's Executive Council, and of the MRHA. Eric is a member of AXE and is currently chairman of the SC Board of Directors.

A Distinguished Military Student, Norman Pratt, EG3, holds the posts of secretary and vice-president of the American Society of Chemical Engineers. He belongs to the Scabbard and Blade, plays in the band, and is an advisor in the men's residence halls.

Another member of ASCE, John Flynn, EG4, has just been elected president of the Interfraternity Council. John has also served as a junior counselor, and is vice-president of both Sigma Phi Epsilon and Tau Beta Pi.

A Review columnist and president of the Debate club, Dan Newlon, AS4, is a mathematics major. In addition to being a dormitory floor advisor, he is secretary of the MRHA, belongs to the Spanish and Cosmopolitan Clubs, and is active in the Christian Science Student Organization.

Robert Young, AS4, majors in Chemistry and is the co-captain of the wrestling team. Elected to the post of Lt. Commander of Sigma Nu, Robert was a junior counselor and participated in Playbill.

Top Sophs Given Dinner

A dinner honoring the top 25 students in the Sophomore Class was held Thursday, March 28 in the Student Center.

Featured speaker for the evening was Dr. William G. Fletcher, Professor and Chairman of the Department of Ancient Languages and Literatures.

Dr. Fletcher noted a new trend in the educational process. Until recently, he stated, intellectual thought was considered an oddity, the superior student on oddball, while the average was the accepted standard.

Today, however, educators realize that the superior student occupies an important and normal position on the college campus. He also noted that because it is currently realized that intellectually, not all men are created equal, the superior student can receive the special treatment indicative of his mental capacity.

President Perkins added a few thoughts to those of Dr. Fletcher. He first noted the large percentage of women students honored at the banquet, however, he expressed concern at the last percentage of these who continue with their professional endeavors and make the most of their education rather than settle down and raise a family.

The president congratulated the students on their superior achievement but indicated that they should not rest on their laurels but should use their facilities to make their life happy and meaningful.

Seniors, Sophs To Take Grad Record Exams

Graduate Record out Examinations are to be given to Seniors in all schools and to all Sophomore Engineering students on the dates below. If you have not made arrangements for these tests please see your department chairman at once:

Seniors whose last names begin with A to S please report to: Carpenter Field House. Seniors whose last names begin with T to Z please report to: Room 130 - Math-Physics Building.

Seniors whose last names begin with A to S please report to: Carpenter Field House.

Seniors whose last names begin with T to Z please report to Room 130 - Math-Physics Building.

All Sophomore Engineering Students please report to: Room 131 - Math-Physics Building.

In addition, all sophomore and senior students should sign up for one of the following times to complete questionnaires and inventories. Use the sign-up sheets at the main desk in the Student Center.

Thursday, April 18, 1963 - 1 p.m. or 3 p.m. - Wolf Hall Auditorium.

Friday, April 19, 1963 - 1 p.m. or 3 p.m. - Wolf Hall Auditorium.

Saturday, April 20, 1963 - 9 a.m., 11 a.m., 1 p.m., or 3 p.m. - Wolf Hall Auditorium.

The Tests of General Culture are scheduled for all sophomores on the date below:

Sophomores whose last names begin with the letters A through K should report to the Carpenter Field House.

Sophomores whose last names begin with the letters L through R should report to the Women's Gymnasium.

Sophomores whose last names begin with the letters S through V should report to the Math-Physics Building - Room 130.

Sophomores whose last names begin with the letters W through Z should report to the Math-Physics Building - Room 131.

Lincoln Center Co-Director Whitehead To Speak Today In 'New Directions' Series

Participating in the "New Directions in Theatre Series," Robert Whitehead, co-director of the Lincoln Center Repertory Company of New York, will visit the campus today.

Whitehead will be the fourth of five speakers in the series. Concluding his schedule of class visitations, coffee hour and luncheon meetings will be a public lecture at 8 p.m. in Wolf Hall auditorium.

Born in Montreal, educated in Canada at Argyle and Trinity Colleges, Mr. Whitehead's producing activities commenced in 1947. He is currently president of the League of New York

Theatres, trustee of the American Shakespeare Festival at Stratford, Conn., and director of the Neighborhood Playhouse and the Musical Theatre Academy.

Since his start as producer of "Medea," starring Judith Anderson, Whitehead has established himself in the American theatre. Of his many presentations, four were laurelled with the Drama Critics Circle prize and one with five "Tony" Awards, each play as the best of its year.

In 1958, he was appointed consultant to the Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts. He brought together the late Eero Saarinen, Jo Mielziner and Elia Kazan with whom he worked in planning the permanent home for the Lincoln Repertory Company. That same year, Whitehead visited the national and state theatres of France, Austria, Germany, and England, to observe their productions and to study their physical facilities.

Invited to visit the U.S.S.R., he exchanged views with prominent theatre artists in Moscow and Leningrad. In 1961, he did likewise with the Theatre National Populaire in France and acted as host-commentator for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation's documentary series, "Quest." Mr. Whitehead has also lectured throughout the United States and Canada, notably at Harvard and the University of Pennsylvania, and at the Canadian Conference of the Arts.

Writing Contest For Students

Students are invited to enter the English Department's Creative Writing Contest, open to both graduate and undergraduate students and including prose and poetry. Manuscripts are to be submitted to the English Department by Apr. 15.

Regulations for the Contest are as follows: all entries are to be submitted under a pseudonym; a contestant submitting more than one story or poem must submit the group as one entry; both title and author's pseudonym should be included on the title page; and a sealed envelope containing the title of the entry, the pseudonym, and the author's

Glass To Outline Problems Amid Genetics, Radiation

"Genetics and Radiation," a most pressing and contemporary problem, will be discussed by Dr. Bentley Glass this Thurs. at 12 p.m. in Wolf Hall Auditorium.

Dr. Glass, professor of biology at Johns Hopkins University, will be the tenth lecturer in the series "The State and Fate of Western Man."

One of Dr. Glass' principal interests is in the hazards of radiation. He has written and spoken widely on this subject.

Dr. Glass is also a noted authority in the field of genetics. He has written "Genes and the Man," edited and contributed to "Forerunners of Darwin" and was editor-in-chief of "Survey of Biological Progress."

Dr. Glass' activities and offices which he has held are too numerous to list here. However, as an example of the caliber of these, his more recent positions are: Chairman, Advisory Committee on Biology and Medicine, Atomic Energy Commission; Vice-president, Genetics Society of America.

The geneticist received his B.A., M.A. and LL.D. from Baylor University and his Ph.D. from the University of Texas. He has earned two Sc.D. degrees, one from Washington college and another from Western Reserve University.

DR. BENTLEY GLASS

This lecture and all subsequent lectures are free of charge to students and faculty.

Dormitory Area Called 'Off Limits'

Students are requested to refrain from entering the fenced off area for the new residence halls which are under construction. These halls are not ready for inspection and until the contractor completes his work and the buildings are accepted by the university, unauthorized persons are prohibited from this area under penalty of trespassing.

Princeton To Host All-Star Gathering

By DAN TYER

In cooperation with the Princeton Response Committee, the Review announces the third annual "Princeton Symposium on World Affairs," next weekend, April 19, 20, and 21.

The weekend event, planned and carried out exclusively by undergraduates, is designed to explore a major facet of American life. This year's topic is "The Pursuit of Excellence in the Creative Arts: A Problem of Industrial Society" and is expected to attract even more students than last year's record attendance.

An impressive list of speakers will be on hand to discuss the topic in both small, informal seminars, and larger panel discussions. Included on the agenda are writers Robert Penn Warren, Arthur Miller, and Edward Albee; journalist Alistair Cooke; F.C.C. Chairman Newton Minow; outstanding young Soviet poet Yevgeny Yevtushenko, and many others.

The symposium has received wide acclaim in its short two year history. In 1961, 1000 students attended "The Question of Creative Survival." The following year 2,800 participated in "The Changing Face of American Democracy," a noteworthy testimonial to the excellence of the program. The 2,800 included undergraduates from 15 eastern and southern colleges.

The Response Committee welcomes the participation of Delaware students in this year's symposium. Further information as well as registration forms are available by writing to: RESPONSE/201 Nassau Hall/Princeton University. Students are urged to take advantage of this outstanding cultural and intellectual opportunity.

Delts Install Officers; Agin To Head House

Joerg Agin was installed as Delta Tau Delta's new president Wednesday evening. He is a third year arts and science electrical engineering major. In past years he has held the offices of vice-president and recording secretary of the fraternity as well as house scholarship chairman.

JOERG AGIN

Agin is also an advanced ROTC cadet, and an avid skin diving enthusiast.

Bob Blomquist a Junior Psychology Major was elected vice-president. He has served as rush chairman, guard, and IFC delegate for his fraternity, and is in the advanced ROTC program.

Jay Rolfe, a sophomore mechanical engineering major, was installed as recording secretary, in addition to his position as alumni relations chairman. Rolfe is also the top mechanical engineering student in his class and will participate as a Junior Counselor next semester.

Walt Danielson, also a sophomore mechanical engineering major, and Roger Williams, a sophomore history major, have been installed as guard and guide, respectively. Danielson was MRHA recording secretary, and Williams was the high scorer in the intramural basketball league.

Lynn Lockhart - Mummery, a junior biology major, will continue as IFC delegate; with Brian Kelly, a sophomore geology major; and Marty Halvorson, a sophomore mechanical engineering major; serving as IFC alternates.

Bickert Answers MRHA On Dining Hall Problems

Responding to student complaints about food and its service in the dining halls, the Mens Residence Hall Association held a discussion on the topic on March 25 in Harrington A&B lounge.

In addition to representatives from each of the men's dormitories, Mr. Bickert, Director of Dormitories and Food Services, was present. Also viewing the exchange of ideas were Dean Hardy, Dean Collins, and Mr. Robinson.

Mr. Bickert, who is in charge of several hundred employees in the dining halls, commented on the complaints brought up by the MRHA president Ken Lutz. The Student Center can not be enlarged during lunch because of the space requirements of the Scrounge. Mr. Bickert promised to investigate the possibility of enlarging the Scrounge at night.

Due to "borrowing" of utensils by students, there is a shortage of silverware. Mr. Bickert appealed to students to return knives, forks, and spoons taken from the dining halls.

The food director may experiment with the idea of closing one line at Harrington and then re-opening it when the need warrants it.

Modifying or extending the breakfast period will be studied. Because of the mechanized cleaning of silverware, glasses, and cups, it is impossible to insure that every utensil will look clean, although they are actually sterilized.

The MRHA desired that a food survey be taken and Mr. Bickert agreed that such a survey would be a profitable idea. He believed that the complaints about Saturday lunch and Sunday dinner meals arise mostly from psychological factors, since the same foods are served during the week without student outcries.

Among the ideas to be tried next year will be to have students change dining halls for a few meals each week. As one student commented, if one ate at the Ritz three meals a day, seven days a week, he would soon tire of the atmosphere.

Mr. Bickert advocated the continuation of the current policy of students eating at assigned dining halls only. Resulting from economic considerations, it will be impossible to offer a meal plan that does not include breakfast. The food director brought to light the surprising fact that 75% of the students attend breakfast at Appearing at Carpenter Field house next Saturday afternoon from 2-4 will be The Limelitters. They are being sponsored by the Sophomore and Junior class as part of Spring Weekend.

Dr. Louis Gottlieb who heads the Limelitters explains that appearances of groups such as The Limelitters is becoming a big money competitor of TV and night clubs. Virtually unheard of a decade ago, the emergence of the in-person show business package is now making a big impact on the entertainment world.

Gottlieb, an accomplished musician and authority on folk music, is also a recognized specialist in the field of audience reactions.

"Neither TV, movies, hi-fi nor radio can furnish the good cold shiver that an exciting in-person performance can produce," maintains Gottlieb. "As for the night club, it is fast becoming a national anachronism -- even the 'avant garde' among them do not operate in the black. By the time the babysitter, parking lot attendant and check for a party of four in any night club have been paid, someone has to forego his double malted at lunch for a month."

"Groups like The Limelitters infinitely prefer the silent, attentive audiences of the concert to the gabby, bolsterous, glass-tinkling atmosphere of even the best night clubs, where the performers are competing with the expense account element entertaining the out of town 'buyer.' Their indifference to the artist borders on the monumental.

"And from the performers point of view, the concerts are certainly more lucrative; the hours are shorter and we don't have the drunken hecklers who invariably infest every night club."

Tickers for the concert may be purchased at the Student Center desk for $2 during the lunch and dinner hours.

Insurance Is Unauthorized

University officials would like to advise it's students that it in no way endorses the "Academic Insurance Program."

A promotional brochure has recently been sent to students by the American Health and Life Insurance Company which bears the name of the university. Authorization to use the university's name was not given by the university. Officials are investigating how the company obtained a mailing list of student names and addresses.

British Lecturer To Speak

Visiting the United States until August, a British lecturer, poetry reader and scholar, V.C. Clinton-Baddeley will speak Wednesday in Wolf Hall auditorium at 4:10 p.m.

Mr. Clinton-Baddeley was educated at Sherborne School and later served as director of studies at Jesus College, Cambridge. His talk is presented under the auspices of the bi-monthly English major program at the University.

"Working with W.B. Yeats" is the title of Mr. Clinton-Baddeley's lecture. He worked with Yeats, the Irish poet-dramatist in BBC broadcasts for a number of years, gaining knowledge of what the poet wanted in the reading of his poems. Mr. Clinton-Baddeley will read selections from Yeats' poetry.

The speaker is the author of numerous articles, several pantomimes, two light operas, a play and the books "Words of Music," "The Burlesque Tradition in the English Theatre after 1660," and a work in English pantomime. Mr. Clinton-Baddeley is a former Modern History editor of "Encyclopedia Britannica," and is pioneer in spoken recordings. He was once a member of the Ben Greet Company, acting for several years in repertory as well as on the London stage.

Profs To Discuss College Freedom

"How much Freedom should a college student have" will be the topic for discussion Tuesday evening in Brown Hall lounge at 9 p.m.

Sponsored by the men of Sharp Hall, the discussion will feature an exchange of views on this controversial subject by students and faculty. Dr. Dawson, Director of Libraries, and Dr. Henderhan, Instructor in Dramatic Arts and Speech, will represent the faculty at the discussion.

All are invited to attend this informal meeting. Come and make your opinions known, and learn what others think about the freedoms of a college student.

CANDIDATES

Voting

CONSTITUTION

With most of the primary offices being sought by more than one candidate this year, student interest in their qualifications should be higher than it has been in the past several "unopposed" years.

The present SGA, vice president Dick Feeny in particular, should be congratulated for their efforts in organizing Monday night's rally and requesting and attaining the improved campaigning rules. These things in themselves should help acquaint voters with the candidates and their platforms.

In addition, The Review has attempted to objectively present both the qualifications and the proposed plans of the SGA executive office and class presidential candidates. After careful consideration of these qualifications and platforms, The Review recommends to voters several of these candidates, who in spite of practical experience in their particular sought-after domains, seem to have better thought through their roles, responsibilities, and, equally important, possibilities of attaining such positions.

All voters are strongly urged to take advantage of all the opportunities of the coming week to thoroughly acquaint themselves with the candidates; perhaps this would lead to fewer complaints and additional action in the coming year.

Possible ratification of the proposed SGA Constitution will increase the impact of this week's elections on the campus body. This revised Constitution covers several areas which should be of real benefit to the functioning of the SGA operating under it.

Probably the most important change deals with student representation in the Senate. The revisions call for a more accurate representation by population: each major living group - women residents, men residents, and fraternity men - are to be elected at large by a proportional system.

With such a revision, SGA should be more representative of student feeling and, therefore, better equipped to be both responsive and effective in the recognition and solution of student needs. For these reasons alone ratification of the revised document would be supported.

But there are other potentially beneficial changes. The Cabinet has achieved constitutional status, Men's Executive Council has been dissolved, and men will be represented by MRHA and IFC presidents in contrast to the present situation. Voters are again strongly urged to be aware of the revisions so that they may be sure in their ratification or rejection of this document which is so crucial to the sound operation of the student government.

Constitution Revises Representation Basis

Our reporter interviewed Eric Brucker, Chairman of SGA's Constitution Committee in order to determine the basic changes in the revised proposed constitution and the reasons behind these changes.

Written to meet the expanding governmental needs of a growing university, the new student constitution is the result of two years of intensive work by the members of the Senate and the Constitution Committee.

Senate representation has a static basis under the present constitution, which was written in 1957, a feature that has rendered it inadequate to meet the "population explosion" here at Delaware in recent years.

The new proposed constitution has changed the representation base from social affiliation to living group association based on population. The Committee feels that a person can best represent the group he lives with rather than a poorly defined social or class organization.

Other changes occur in the mens' organization on campus. Men will be represented by the president of the Men's Residence Hall Association and the president of the Interfraternity Council and by representatives according to their campus residence. The Men's Executive Council has been dissolved.

The Cabinet has been given status as a standing constitutional organization and election and committee standards have been revised and condensed.

Students will be asked to vote on acceptance of this new constitution during the regular campus elections on Wednesday and Thursday. A two-thirds majority acceptance among the votes cast are needed to put this new constitution into effect.

It is hoped that the new constitution will make your SGA Senate a more effective representative body.

Two years of work by fellow students have gone into this new constitution. Surely each student can devote some time to a reading of this work. The constitution presents the basic organization structure of the student government while the by-laws contain the details for execution.

As chairman of the Constitution Committee Eric Brucker in 309 Sypherd Hall will accept any comments on the new constitution.

To The Editor:

Liberalism Dies Out

I am inclined to agree with Dr. William Ritchie in so far as he goes in saying that in our twentieth century socio-economic environment we perhaps now live in the twilight of liberalism and democracy. (Delaware Review, March 15) I will go farther than Dr. Ritchie; we do live in that twilight. And that twilight glooms to midnight alarmingly fast!

As to whether these traditions can even survive, much less progress, in our present socio-economic environment --- definitely not!

Witness the fact that minority political parties have to gather thousands of signatures to appear on the ballot which once was free.

Witness also the killing of Section 315 of the Federal Communications Code, i.e. the 'equal time' clause, which killing monopolizes the air waves which once belonged to no one and which should belong to all.

The traditions of liberalism and democracy arose in an era of generally prevailing economic competition when liberalism, and at least a modicum of democracy served a purpose for the members of the ruling class, none of whom were at that time strong enough to really dominate.

But competition inevitably leads to monopoly, i.e. economic dictatorship, which in turn demands the bulwarks of political dictatorship. Woefully does it dread dissent, for dissent tends toward revolution.

However, another form of society is now in sight in which true liberalism and complete democracy (industrial democracy) can do more than merely survive, they can really flourish. This is the co-operative society.

In the co-operative commonwealth of Socialism there will be no ruling class to fear the dissenter, as at present, hence none will need to fear being the dissenter.

Food For A Cocktail Party!

By BRIAN BARRETT

The exciting indoor sport of Kremlinology has produced the consensus that the placement of missiles in Cuba by the Soviet Union last fall was a calculated design to out-flank the defenses of the U.S. and destroy its nuclear "edge."

Another possibility exists which holds even greater promise for exciting cocktail-party repartee --- could indeed a secret conflict between the U.S.S.R. and China with Cuba as a pawn be the real reason

The missiles came hurriedly to Cuba in late September and early October. By this time Chinese plans for the invasion of India were well-advanced. While Soviet emplacement was fast, no attempt at concealment was made even though Russian experts must have been aware of American surveillance --- some planes photographed activity at tree-top level.

Two days before Kennedy's speech to the American people and the world, China invaded India on two fronts. While the U.S. was deeply embroiled with Russia over Cuba for the next week, China made great advances into Indian territory. Three weeks after Khrushchev made his "retreat," China suddenly agreed to a cease-fire, ending an advance which could have carried her forces to India's heartland.

Could it indeed be that Mao Tse-tung threatened Khrushchev that if no diversion were made in Cuba that Mao might increase military aid to Cuba which Cuba was very willing to accept --- though she denies it now? Could it be that this action was designed as a cover for Chinese aggression in India? Could it be that Khrushchev foiled the plan by first securing Cuban alliance with missiles and then making certain that his actions in Cuba would be spotted by American intelligence? He could then, after a reasonable show of resistance back down so as to re-focus U. S. attention on China and thus obtain a cease-fire to protect a potentially friendly neutral nation from the onslaught of an increasingly hostile ally.

True, it's pure speculation and right out of 11 Principe. But such plans have been used before and as long as despots rule backward nations and bureaucrats rule "civilized" ones such schemes remain plausible.

GRAND DESIGN

John F. Kennedy has revised a portion of our foreign policy, that of our political, economic, and military relationship with Europe. To this, political writers have attached the name of Kennedy's Grand Design.

This Grand Design may be divided into two sections, one is politico-economic and the second military-strategic. The former is fashioned after Jean Monnet's plan, that of a United Europe. Europe thus united would form a political and economic union with the United States. The latter section, developed by the Secretary of Defense, Robert McNamara would consist of the United States supplying atomic weaponry and Europe bringing NATO's strength up to 30 divisions; hence they would supply the conventional forces for the free world. The question posed in this debate is not would these plans work under the existing situation, but is this type of union desirable politically, economically, and strategically.

Conservative

By JIM EARLE

The Grand Design is an unsatisfactory solution to the problem of allied unification for several reasons.

1. It raises the specter of United States domination of the Western nations. Kennedy fails to realize that our allies are separate entities and therefore not subject to his personal whims. He, as have Presidents in the past, assumes too much of the leadership for the United States. French fear of losing a strong position on "the board of directors" is one of the principle reasons that the design has failed.

2. From a military position, the U.S. is not responsible for arming other nations with atomic weapons. The threat of an accidental war is greatly enlarged as more countries have the means to transport atomic payloads in a matter of minutes. The cost is prohibitive. Nations like England and Germany cannot afford to pay for U.S. armaments in the near future. The U.S. would have to bear the financial burden for years until the loan could be repayed. Granted, the defense of freedom can only be maintained through a united effort, but, because of laws which would require an act of Congress to change, the missiles cannot be fired by foreign countries. It requires an U.S. directive to fire them. What this amounts to is more overseas bases, with an added unnecessary cost.

3. United States inclusion, in an economic tie with a united Europe would result in severe inflation. The two economies, European and U.S., are incompatible. Europe depends on a large labor force, while we depend on technology and automation. Europe is fast catching up to us in this aspect, but it will be years before they do. Flooding the U.S. market with cheap European goods (tariff free, of course) would force factories to close, lay-off men, and add to our already enormous unemployment problem. On the other hand, a European desire for American goods could result in the same effect in Europe. It is not probable that both situations would occur simultaneously, off-setting each other.

Boxing: Spar Or Spare?

By BILL de VRY

It has been a little over a year now since Emile Griffith battered Benny "Kid" Paret senseless in a welterweight title fight. Who can forget the picture of Paret reeling on the ropes under a barrage of triphammer blows. Paret was to later die from brain damage incurred as a result of the beating.

Now there is another boxer dead, Davey Moore, and doctors attribute his death to cerebral injury from a fall against the rope supports in his title defense with Sugar Ramos.

We cannot lay blame for these deaths on cruel viciousness in either Griffith or Ramos. Boxing, like most sports where the public pays to be well entertained, has become an extremely competitive contest with lucrative rewards to the winner. Fighters are caught up in the circumstances. They train hard to win, to win decisively, especially for the title fights with the pot of gold awaiting the victor. And can we blame them? This is brutal survival of the fittest.

Liberal

By BRIAN BARRETT

The fact that there is reason for this column to be written, the fact that a debate exists, the fact that there is no real consensus on this issue makes it all but certain that we are not going to get out of this century alive.

The so-called Kennedy "Grand Design" is beautiful in its simplicity and in its logical practicality and no logical or rational attack can be made on it.

A concept of multi-national nuclear forces centrally-controlled (ergo controlled by us) with multi-national conventional forces whose basis lies in the human strength of our European "allies" and whose control lies in the NATO command makes literally perfect sense.

Of course, this military structure is only a part of the "Grand Design" -- the major part: political, economic and social unity of all Western Europe with the United States; is the "grand" part. Again, perfect common sense -- no dispute on logicity. Indeed, every word betrays its author, Mr. Bundy et al, whose sterile bureaucratic mind is uncluttered by such messy things like irrational circumstances or desires.

But this isn't a logical world --- it is based on narrow nationalism, self-desire, struggles for power, animalic destruction of the weaker by the stronger and firm tenacity of the weaker in his battle against the stronger. A weak France doesn't see any glory but only figurative death in the U.S. - dominated "Grand Design;" nor does China, nor Egypt nor anyone.

We must work for such plans, it is the nature of man to hope, for history is not a clear path of predetermined death and destruction and men are occasionally reasonable. But the time may well be upon us when we have only two choices: a war which will destroy our society more completely than any other war ever destroyed any other human society; or a combine of the biggest and richest national powers in a self-defensive destruction of all other national military forces.

Perhaps this should be the area to be stressed now: ever-increasing rapprochement among the United States, the Soviet Union, and England to make it easier, perhaps even possible, to tell France or Germany or China when the need arises that they cannot have nuclear weapons and that swift and sure punishment of them will occur unless they surrender them. This is a big heavily-populated world; hundreds of millions of lean and hungry people are looking at our fat civilization and it is no time for little men to be pushing us ever nearer to a thermonuclear cataclysm.

And if no rapprochement is possible? Then there will be war and we and perhaps all mankind will be destroyed; and perhaps like the frog whose wonderful community is run over by a tractor it won't make a heluva lot of difference to the universe.

News Of The Week

LAOS

The South-East Asia Treaty Organization backed a United States resolution condemning Communist aggression in Laos and promising that this and South Vietnam's rebellions would be ended. Though the U.S. has no power of intervention in Laos because of its neutralist status, it is putting heavy pressure on the government of Souvanna Phouma to act.

CANADA

The political future of Canada remained clouded as Prime Minister Diefenbaker declined to resign, even though his Conservative Party was defeated by Lester Pearson's Liberals, because no single party got a simple majority. Mr. Diefenbaker claims to be awaiting the tally of the armed services' vote, but since that normally is Liberal, the real reason seems to be delay until he finds if he can possibly maintain rule in a coalition. The basic issue of American-supplied nuclear weapons remains in doubt as it appears that if Pearson becomes Prime Minister it will be in a coalition with the pacifist New Democrats.

FRANCE

Though officially denied, it appeared that France's program for an independent nuclear deterrent is seriously behind schedule and the government is beginning to despair of ever achieving a force sufficient for France's "needs." It was also reliably reported that France had accepted the concept of multinational tactical armed forces under NATO with nuclear weapons supplied by the United States.

MATZOHS

The Soviet Government unofficially relaxed its ban on the usage of matzoh balls in the Jewish observance of Passover after arresting several Jews for "profiteering" in the sale of the unleavened bread needed in the festival. The Soviet measures are part of a broad campaign against organized religious groups.

CUBA

In an evidently pacific gesture Cuba released nine skin-divers after holding them prisoner for over six weeks. The engineer of the release was again the indomitable James Donovan who secured the ransom release of the Bay of Pigs prisoners.

YEVGENY

Socialist Realism may have claimed another casualty as it became increasingly uncertain during the week if Yevgeny Yevtushenko would be allowed to come to the U. S. this spring as planned to deliver lectures at several American universities. The noted Russian poet composed the controversial "Babi Yar."

WINNY

For the first time the United States honored an individual with an honorary citizenship as Winston Churchill was proclaimed an American citizen by President Kennedy. Churchill stated that he was "deeply moved" by the action.

BARRY

Senator Barry Goldwater has been drafted again for President in 1964 but has declined comment on the "honor." His new supporters, which include the Republican State Chairman for Texas, claim he can win by capturing the conservative vote of the Deep South and elsewhere.

OSCARS

For the sixth time in eight years the Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences saw fit to label a cinematic spectacular with limited talent Best Picture of the Year as "Lawrence of Arabia" walked off with that and six other Oscars. Anne Bancroft and Gregory Peck were chosen Best Actress and Actor respectively.

WHIPS

One of the world's few remaining whipping posts was turned over to the Maryland Historical Society by the Baltimore City Jail as a museum piece. Harry D. Kaufman, president of the jail board, said that "it should go to the society because it shows an era of punishment that dates from colonial times."

Seymour Glass Appears Again; Salinger Tells Fragmented Story; Uncoordinated, Irritating Book

By MARK ULLMAN

Raise High the Roof Beam Carpenter, and Seymour an Introduction (248 pp) - J.D. Salinger-Little, Brown, and Company, $4.

These are two more long short stories or short novelettes (depending on one's taste) which the great man has wrung and set out to dry next to "Franny and Zooey." It is still about the same remarkable family, the Glasses; however, this time both stories are about the oldest son, Seymour Glass.

Seymour makes his first appearance in Mr. Salinger's short story "A Perfect Day for a Bananafish" in 1948 when Seymour gaily puts a bullet through his head. Salinger uses an alter ego, Buddy Glass, Seymour's brother, to write "Franny and Zooey," "Raise High..." and "Seymour an Introduction."

"Raise High..." is the story of Seymour's wedding day. Buddy tells the story and Seymour never makes an appearance. It is an excellent example of Salinger's superb mastery of dialogue and is typical of the Salinger characterization (which is next to impossible to describe.)

"An Introduction" is a nearly maniacal effort by Buddy to introduce and fully describe the person of Seymour Glass. By the third page of this history, Buddy suggests that the bored reader should quit. This is where I made my mistake; I didn't.

This story is fragmented, uncoordinated, and Buddy's thoughts wonder at random. He is constantly breaking into the narrative to explain the problems of writing and adding detail that is unrelated. Such phrases as "My two sisters use ball point pens to write postcards," were inserted in the middle of a discussion of Zen.

There is a definite explanation behind this fragmentation besides Mr. Salinger's casually losing his literary marbles. Buddy's search for an understanding of his emotional relationship with his brother, this shattered story "runs wild like the wind" as Buddy finally reaches atonement with himself.

Even keeping this thought under consideration, "An Introduction" quickly becomes extremely boring and highly irritating to the reader.

Both stories have the Salinger touch which carried him to greatness in "The Catcher in the Eye." "Raise High" is good although it does not reach "The Eye;" "An Introduction" is the first faux pas Salinger has made.

IT'S GREEK TO ME

Two Delaware fraternities, Alpha Tau Omega and Pi Kappa Alpha, have taken top awards in the recent Viceroy Save-A-Pack Contest.

First prize, an RCA television set, was awarded to ATO. It has been almost traditional for a fraternity to carry off the first prize honors in any of the many cigarette pack-savings contests annually held on our campus. Pi Kappa Alpha placed third in the contest winning a portable radio for their efforts.

TEAM CAPTAINS

The following fraternity men have been elected captains of their respective varsity sports for the 1963-64 season: Marty Cassidy, AE4, swimming; Hayler Osborn, AS4, soccer; Dave Sysko, EG4, basketball; and Bob Young, AS4, wrestling. All are members of Sigma Phi Epsilon.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Courtney Street will be the scene of the fraternity social activities this week as Alpha Tau Omega and Pi Kappa Alpha will hold "theme" parties tomorrow night.

Pi Kappa Alpha will introduce "date nights" to the Delaware campus. This is the term given to an informal affair where the members and their guests (dates) gather to enjoy each other's company with informal singing parlor games, and dancing to records and the brotherhood's own combo, the dischords.

Alpha Tau Omega's theme will be "Hawaii at Easter." Music will be provided by the "Crescent Quintet".

The Delaware Pikes have recently acquired a genuine juke box fresh from the bee-bop era. The machine is the gift of a local merchant and comes complete with neon lights and 78 rpm records. It has been installed in the chapter basement following repairs by Dick Bliss and Fred Petze.

REPRETORY COMPANIES

Norris Houghton Depicts Dramatics In Soviet Union

By GEORGE SPELVIN

Although the Soviet government owns all of the theatres in the USSR, only a few are supported by the State. In Moscow, for example, only four of the twenty-five theatres receive government subsidies.

This fact startled many participants in the third discussion of the "New Directions in Theatre" series, which featured Norris Houghton, founder and co-producer of the off-broadway Phoenix Theatre and author of "Moscow Rehearsals" and "Return Engagement." In the past year and a half he has travelled extensively in Europe, especially in the Soviet Union, gleaned information on the theatre there.

So few Russian theatres receiving financial support is due to the ever-filled audiences which make an operating budget quite easy to prepare and follow. Why the theatre-houses are always filled is another question. Mr. Houghton presented three answers. First, the Russian people are excited about and intensely interested in the theatre, as well as the other performing arts. This is no doubt due to the second reason: they are raised with a large, active children's theatre in which they enroll at the age of six. Third, the theatre is someplace to go in the evenings - at less than $2.50 a seat-to escape a crowded apartment.

tory of perhaps thirty plays, which may be run through perhaps once a month, a new play each evening. Thus, unlike Broadway, the same play may be on many stages at once and the fare is constantly changing. In Mr. Houghton's sixteen days in Moscow, 158 dramas were staged, 21 at the Moscow Arts Theatre (which has a residence company of 140).

The Russian theatre draws heavily from the classics, except for Brecht, whom they distrust as an Unorthodox Communist. Of the American playwrights, Arthur Miller and Tennessee Williams are the most popular in Russia. Bekcett, Ionesco, and others of the "theatre of the Absurd", are not produced in Russia because, from the Marxist viewpoint, life is not absurd, but has definite social purposes.

INTELLIGENTSIA

The theatre people in the USSR are members of the intelligentsia among the valued few with brains and talent. As such they are granted special material privileges, such as a private car and better housing. Some receive dachas on the Black Sea. Perhaps most appreciated though is their proud position in the upper crust of their classless society.

Asked whether repertory theatres will gain in importance in the United States, Mr. Houghton replied that they may, but that we are often too individualistic and headstrong to work in a cohesive resident company, that too often our goal is self-

Student Thinks O'Neill Movie Could Be Better

"LONG DAY'S JOURNEY INTO NIGHT"

A good movie which could have been made into a superb film if casting and cutting had been executed more properly.

The first two hours are long, full of turgid tenseness that begins to bog down about 15 minutes after starting. This could have been corrected with careful cutting and a little less of the O'Neill repetition. The play is charged with an electricity which is marked by sharp rises and falls of the moods and spirits of O'Neill's characters.

The Mother, Mary Tyrone, is a convent-bred Irish Catholic who has just come back from a long stay in a sanatorium, after a futile attempt to cure her addiction to morphine. The role is played by Katharine Hepburn who does not look like the mother of a thirty year old son; her personality and temperament do not encompass this Irish-American woman whose drugged religious dreams have ruined her life. The entire Hepburn being is just not suited for this "lace-curtain" part.

Ralph Richardson plays the part of John Tyrone, the father, an aging matinee idol whose fear of poverty has made him into a miser. Mr. Richardson does a good job although it does not measure up to the superb performance given by Frederick March in the stage production.

The older brother played by Jason Robards makes a good drunken louse and gives a magnificent portrait in the thundering scene where he verbally tears himself apart in front of his younger brother.

Dean Stockwell gave a poor showing as Edmond Tyrone the younger brother, who was consumption ridden and restless, ready to break with his family. Mr. Stockwell's acting rose only to mediocrity once, during a scene where both Edmond and his father are drunk and Edmond relates an experience with nature.

Perhaps this is Eugene O'Neill's greatest play. It was at least the one he was most closely associated with because the Tyrone family was in reality the O'Neill family and Edmond was Eugene. O'Neill wrote the play nearly forty years after the actions had occurred. It was the first time he had been able to look back without bitterness and understand his relationship to his family.

The play itself was genius but it was unlikely material for an American movie because, as Herb Gold said, "an American movie must have happy people with happy problems." This was definitely not the case. The film does not knock you over the head, grab you by the horns and carry you through happy problems to a happy ending. Instead it is simply there for the taking. EASTMAN JOHNSON (1824-1906)--"Old Kentucky Home, Life in the South" (1859) one of Eastman Johnson's early and none too successful attempts at genre painting, reflecting general trend in American painting toward the romantic and somewhat sentimental depiction of everyday life.

It has the solidity of Dutch genre painting but is a rather aimless work and specially weak. Stylistically it shows a sure sense of tone, but his mastery of local color leaves much to be desired. Johnson was at his best in black and white drawings like "The Boy Lincoln" or in simpler works in oil. — L.J. & J.H.

Tong Is Awarded Engineering Grant

Cumulative average of 3.78 and 9 straight "A" record in all engineering, and field courses are but a few of Peter S. Tong's qualifying assets that have won for him the Philadelphia Section Student Award of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers.

Born and raised in China, Tong came to America with his parents in 1959 and graduated the same year A. I. du Pont High School in Wilmington. He is presently vice president of the Delaware Student Branch of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers, a member of Tau Beta Pi, and holds an RCA engineering scholarship.

Tong is participating in the degree with distinction program.

His humanities program of concentration in German language and literature as well as all his subjects for three years have merited him straight "A's".

The engineering award was presented to Tong at a Student's Night dinner in Philadelphia on April 3 and is made annually to the outstanding senior electrical engineering student selected from among seniors at eleven engineering schools in Philadelphia and vicinity.

58 Compete For 29 Offices

In an attempt to outline the qualifications and platforms of the candidates for the five executive officers of SGA and for the class presidencies, The Review asked each candidate to answer four questions: 1.) What should be the goals of your organization? 2.) How do these differ from the present ones? 3.) What can you do to accomplish these? 4.) What can your organization do to improve communications and cooperation among the student body, faculty, and administration?

Preceding these answers are qualifications as taken from the candidates' petitions. Starting on page 10 are the remainder of the class office and representative candidates with a statement by each.

DAN NEWLON SGA Pres.

President and vice president of Delaware Debate Society, Secretary of MRHA, Treasurer of CSSO, Wrestling, Omicron Delta Kappa (leadership honorary), Phi Kappa Phi (academic honorary), People-to-People.

1. FUTURE GOALS

1. Promote greater student interest in order to become a student government and cease being an extracurricular activity for a few students.

2. Co-ordinate all campus organizations so they are aware of what each other is doing and what the major issues of student interest are.

3. Act as a sounding board for all administrative actions which affect the students.

2. DIFFERENCE

Ever since I have been here the SGA seems to have been exclusively interested in gaining more powers from the administration, but never the full use of the powers they already have.

So far the SGA has consistently failed to arouse student interest; completely ignored the REVIEW, making no attempts at communicating their activities with the students; concentrated on a few emotional issues and ignored the overall problems of the students; and, only recently through the committee on surveys and complaints, laid even the slightest basis for student-administration rapport.

3. ACCOMPLISHMENT

Sponsor a list of activities and investigations which would attract student interest (FM radio station, better food service, effective representation and dormitory government, controversial speakers and topics), full use of the executive council to give meaningful leadership to the entire student body, involve student publications, and expand the activities of the committee on surveys and suggestions.

4. COMMUNICATION

1) At the top, create some form of organization where students, faculty and the administration can get together and find out what each other wants.

2) At the base reorganize our own student government so there is a direct channel of expression for all complaints

LES RAPKIN SGA Pres.

Member of SGA Senate, SGA Finance Committee, 3 years on Class Council, 3 years in MRHA, Past president of Brown Hall, 2 years in minor fraternity positions, activity in service and religious groups.

1. FUTURE GOALS

The SGA should be the effective voice of the student body and be responsible for both coordination of campus organizations and enactment of popular and necessary campus legislation.

2. DIFFERENCE

I think the SGA has not been fully representative of student feelings and has not gained the desired student respect because of failure to apply itself to all possible phases of student concern.

3. ACCOMPLISHMENT

My SGA experience has indicated many needs for improvement and has suggested efficient methods of attacking problems. I would stress closer affiliation in dormitory and fraternity programs and seek better representation of IFC and IHC (MRHA) in the Senate. National student government affiliation would be beneficial. Cabinet revisions would aid the programs of this body and support SGA projects. Representation to the Board of Trustees and organization of effective class councils will be encouraged issues. Effective concern for student needs will be my goal.

4. COOPERATION

I propose to throw open SGA activities to student examination, through use of front-page articles and bulletin board displays. I also want to move the meetings to a more conducive spot for outside attendance (e.g. the Student Center lounge). Support and representation in Senate of IFC and IHC (as now with the President of AWS) would keep SGA abreast of other student activities and enable us to more effectively represent the campus in dealings with faculty and administration.

from the students to the faculty or administration.

CAROLYN LANE V.P. SGA

Jr. Women's Representative to SGA Senate, SGA Constitution Committee, Co-chairman of Standards Committee, Kappa Delta Pi, Phi Kappa Phi, DS-NEA, Class council, Junior Counselor, Teacher's Assistant in the School of Education.

1. Future Goals

I feel that the Senate should act as the true voice of the students a voice that is heard and heeded. Through the Senate and the SGA, the students should become united, coordinated, and enthused. The Senate should gain respect in the eyes of the students as an important organization which can instigate some action in a proper direction.

2. DIFFERENCE

Basically, these goals are held at present but they are not being carried out. I would, if elected, attempt to fulfill them to the greatest possible extent.

3. and 4. ACCOMPLISHMENT, COOPERATION

Participation in the various aspects of student government should be encouraged. Many people are interested and capable if given an opportunity. Some of this would be accomplished by personal contact, particularly with freshmen. More discussions with students, faculty, and administration could be carried on with much publicity, and particularly of results. Both students and administration should be encouraged to consult each other and to present valid explanations for any policy or event they wish carried out.

FRED SMITH V.P. SGA

President of the International Relations Club, Treasurer of Brown Hall, Junior Counselor, Chairman of the Delaware delegation to the 1963 Mid-Atlantic Model General Assembly, Representative to numerous national foreign affairs conferences, Freshman wrestling team.

1. FUTURE GOALS

The Student Government Ass'n should be an effective representative of the student body. It should stand firm in its attempt to secure for the student body the best academic, cultural and social environment.

2. DIFFERENCE

The goals do not differ in substance from the present ones, but what is different is the means to achieve the goals.

3. ACCOMPLISHMENT

My views on how the goals can be achieved are stated in an open letter to the students which is to be published in the April 12 Review.

4. COOPERATION

The Review open letter also contains my views on how better communication between Faculty, Administration, and the students can be secured.

PATTY BEDWELL SGA Sec. Secretary

Class council, Freshman Orientation Committee, SGA College Bowl Committee, Tri-Beta, Sophomore Guide Service, Student Center committee, Treasurer of dormitory.

KENNETH COLE SGA Treas. Sec.

Treasurer of various high school organizations, Accounting major, summer employment in the area of financial management.

1. FUTURE GOALS

The SGA organization should exist to transform student desires and wishes for reform into effective reality. SGA, to an extent, should resemble the U. S. political machinery in the respect that the officers and members of SGA are elected representatives of the student body and are responsible to the students (constituents) for enacting measures beneficial to the student body and university as a whole.

2. DIFFERENCE

Presently it seems much of SGA activity seems confined to current topics that the administration deems fitting and proper for discussion, debate, and legislation. I do not propose that the administration influence be completely removed from SGA; but instead I feel that the organization should be given a freer hand in the running of student affairs.

3. ACCOMPLISHMENT

If elected as treasurer, I will be in a position as an officer to introduce potential bills and measures to the floor of SGA. I hope through my office to lend voice to the popular wishes and sentiment current in the student body. Due to my accounting experience, I feel that I'm adequately prepared to discharge my duties as treasurer. Not only am I majoring in accounting, but I have worked several summers in various accounting positions.

4. COOPERATION

The main problem facing the student body is a laconic and apathetic acceptance of existing rules, ideas, and institutions. If the student body exhibited a more mature attitude and proved to the faculty and administration that we are in reality adults; then by natural consequence relations between students, faculty, and administration would improve. SGA then could be completely entrusted with the government of the student body. Preliminary steps to acquiring a more mature student body rests upon educating and informing the student as to what occurs in SGA and the significance of SGA actions upon every student. Perhaps newsletters in The Review or a printed report of the secretary's notes would accomplish this end. Also SGA should arrange for some new cultural forums or conduct new affairs that would interest many of the students that retreat to their family castles on the weekend. That noted irrigation speaks well of the Delaware campus weekend, as well as reflecting on the student attitude mentioned above.

RICHARD CROSSLAND

Corres. Sec. of SGA

Major in history and minor in English composition, 3 years as a member of the Review Staff, Publicity chairman for IFC, 3 terms as recording secretary of the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity and terms as corresponding secretary and national correspondent, 2 summers as a camp secretary.

1. FUTURE GOALS

I believe that the SGA should act as a representative body responsible to the students of the university. The SGA should be willing to take a stand on issues of interest to the students even if this stand is contrary to the opinions of the faculty and administration.

2. DIFFERENCES

I do not believe that the SGA has ever had its objectives clear in either words or deeds.

3. ACCOMPLISHMENT

I have always believed in calling a spade a spade. If a question concerning student or administrative action comes to my attention, I will not hesitate to bring it before the SGA and student body even if it may be contrary to the wishes of some. I believe in the values of publicity and public relations and will do all in my power to promote SGA publicity - an area in which I believe SGA to be weak.

I will work for cooperation between the IFC and SGA. This does not mean that I will side exclusively with the fraternities, but rather I will do all in my power to unite the two organizations when it is to their common good.

4. COOPERATION

The SGA should either support or come against the various issues on campus. For example, the SGA should either favor or not favor the proposed expansion of the fraternity system and likewise with the possibilities of sororities if that issue should come up.

Our SGA should cooperate with the Student Center Council and attempt to pool their efforts. An example is the SCC's investigation into our transportation problems.

In essence I believe that the SGA can be a coordinating body for the various campus student governments: IFC, SCC, MRHA, AWS, etc. Thus the energies, ideas, and initiative of all of the students can be directed towards common problems to the benefit of all.

Cooperation and communication with the administration and faculty can be improved once the students are united on issues and can thus, through their SGA, present a concrete stand. Once positions are clear all sides will have a place from which to discuss their differences.

The SGA should encourage the faculty and administration to clearly express their stands on student problems. These people should be asked for advice and counsel.

Finally, SGA should publicize its actions and decisions. Thereby we will be informed of the work of our SGA. A common question on campus is "What does SGA do?"

Class Presidents

DAVID DUPREE Senior Class President

Committee chairman on the Student Center Council, Class Council, Kappa Alpha Fraternity positions.

A united effort of the entire Class of '64 should be the primary goal of our class. Committee action pointed toward active and beneficial endeavors would be my main aim as president. I would have the time and would give the time to direct and organize appropriate committees capable of accomplishing the various activities that are necessary to make our class the best this campus has seen.

To accomplish what is necessary for the class I plan to work through SGA and other student, faculty and administrative channels and I promise to attend all SGA and other necessary meetings. My attendance record will not be filled by absences.

Communication and cooperation among various student faculty and administrative groups will be improved by appointment of an active committee to coordinate our goals and ideas with those of others. I will use all appropriate channels to accomplish what needs to be and create those necessary that do not already exist.

JACK ROGERS Pres. Soph. Class

HAYLER OSBORN

Sr. Class President

Class council for 3 years, Class officer for 2 years.

The main purpose of the class will be to prepare for Senior Week-end and to decide upon and to purchase a class gift. I plan to make some changes in the class council and to set up committees of the more "devoted" people in the class to take care of things such as class dances, spring playday, class gift, and Senior Week-end.

Faculty relationships are becoming better each year. Our class is contributing to this by having a night in which members of the faculty compete in athletic contests against members of the class. Relationships will be further improved by the success and worthwhileness of class policies such as our recognition tea for Dean List's students.

LEE WALLS - Candidate for President of the Class of 1966

1. FUTURE GOALS

I feel the main goal of the Class of 1966 should be that of uniting its members. With a class of its size, unity is often difficult to achieve. However, unity is the foundation of a successful class. Other less significant, but still important goals would be: more participation in class activities by the individual class members and secondly, closer ties with the junior, senior and incoming freshman classes. These goals are the problems which are presently before our class.

2. DIFFERENCE

I do not think these are significantly different than the previous goals, for they are based on problems which every class faces. Many classes place much emphasis on Delaware's social life and the little power the sophomore class has, but the primary goal is still that of uniting the class so that the other problems may be solved more readily.

3. ACCOMPLISHMENT

If I am elected as Sophomore Class President, I feel I can fulfill these goals by means of dedicated and conscientious work. I realize the job will not be an easy one, and I am prepared, therefore, to do my utmost to bring about a successful year for our class. By attempting to instill this same feeling of dedication and sincerity into each individual of my class, I may also be more able to accomplish the designated goals.

4. COOPERATION

The Class of 1966 as a whole will have a limited and yet a definite effect on the student body, faculty, and administration. By attempting to comply with the rules and serve as a good example, we, as a class, can aid in the bringing together of the student body with the faculty and administration, by airing our problems and asking for help, we may also obtain the needed cooperation of our superiors. I feel personal contact by the class with the members of the faculty and administration will improve the communication system and insure the cooperation necessary for the completion of our goals.

In conclusion, I feel an overall effort on the part of each member of the Class of 1966 will result in a successful and prosperous sophomore year.

NEIL DAVIS

1. FUTURE GOALS

Our class should be recognized as a class and not a mass of individuals. We should be willing to take our place in the running of campus affairs. The class should be organized to the point where we can operate an effective class government.

2. DIFFERENCE

These goals are different from the present class goals by the fact that our class is not united. We have no class organization at all; the class council does nothing in governing our class. The class should gain some recognition on campus; as of now we have none.

3. ACCOMPLISHMENT

I plan to accomplish these goals by having the government of the class more organized. I feel the class council could be one hundred percent more effective. With the preceding, our class will be able to take a more active part in campus activities.

4. COOPERATION

The Soph Class can improve communication and cooperation among the student body by working more closely with the SGA and by having more class meetings. This will give these governing bodies more knowledge as to what the student body wants and how the student body feels about different campus affairs.

SKIP NOONAN -

Soph. Class President

The main goal of the Sophomore Class is to become unified, and thus by mutual cooperation and support secure the money which our class will need in the future. At the present time, we are very disorganized, not to mention our slim bankroll.

As a remedy, first of all, we need a fast, successful fund raising activity. Then, we can begin to get our class together by mass meetings of all sophomores (about once a month) so that all would be informed of what was going on. Also, this would provide a chance for the non-officer individual to have his personal say on matters affecting him. Then, through these meetings, the Review, and small group discussions with the faculty and administration, I feel that we could develop a more cooperative spirit among ourselves and with the university as a whole!

GARY MYERS Jr. Class Pres

1. FUTURE GOALS

The goal of the class of '65 has been and will continue to be the development of as many cosmopolitan and collegiate attitudes that the student body can absorb. Briefly these would include professional entertainment, recognition of our honor students, the resolution of contemporary problems as will be attempted through our nearly completed student evaluation of the university, class dances, teas, and a business attitude in regard to maintaining a substantial treasury without class dues.

2. DIFFERENCE

These attitudes do not differ from previous ones.

3. ACCOMPLISHMENT

To accomplish these goals a nucleus of students will serve as the class council along with as many students who wish to participate serving in various capacities.

4. COOPERATION

Communication between the student body and faculty can be improved by existing channels, not by instituting new ones. Basically a more intimate relationship between faculty and student body would solve many problems. To be more exacting the faculty should be brought to know the student's problems and vice versa. It seems as neither currently do. Finally communication will need individual students talking to individual faculty members about his problems. Only then can actual progress be made.

SENIOR OFFICES

HARVEY HOROWITZ

Sr. IFC Rep. to SGA

I am a pre-law student and a member of Alpha Epsilon Pi fraternity where I hold the executive position of Social Chairman. For the past three years, I have been active in fraternity life. I know the needs and duties of fraternities, and I believe I can competently represent them in the S.G.A. Senate. I am interested in the unfication of the growing student population as a primary step to increase the student's voice in university affairs.

SKIP LOESSNER

Sr. IFC Rep. To SGA

I firmly believe that the fraternities on this campus are in need of strong, conscientious representation in the S.G.A. which I feel I am capable of providing. My past experience includes presidency of my high school senior class, junior counselor, and advanced R.O.T.C. as well as rushing chairman of Kappa Alpha for two years.

Through my work in the fraternity system, I have come to feel a great deal of respect for its ideas and capabilities in developing men of high calibre, capable of providing leadership and exemplary scholarship and athletic potential.

If elected, I will earnestly strive to maintain the position we have held in the past and will represent all fraternities equally in S.G.A. With both interest and experience, I stand ready to serve fraternity men at the University of Delaware.

CAROLE KISS-Jr. Women's Rep. to SGA

Student Council work in high school plus two years on our Class Council and three years on the Review of which I am news editor, have given me experience, as well as keeping me informed of current university activities. These activities will help me to be an effective and informed SGA representative.

AWS CHAIRMAN

BETH WARD-Chairman AWS

I believe that my experience in AWS - Executive Council this year as Delaware's contact to the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students, as advisor of the Freshman Women Dorm Representative group, and as a dorm member would help me in effectively holding the position of AWS - Executive Council Chairman.

ROBERT QUINN-Senior Men Rep. to SGA

Here at Delaware I am affiliated with the American Chemical Society, The American Institute of Chemical Engineers, and Alpha Chi Sigma, the professional chemistry and chemical engineering fraternity. Last semester I served as secretary of Alpha Chi Sigma and am currently president of that organization. I feel that the SGA has a lot of potential, as yet unrealized. I sincerely would like the chance to help it on its way.

JOHN WALLACE

Sr. Men Rep. to SGA

I have lived in the dorms for three years. With fraternity and student government experiences, I feel capable of representing the seniors in men's dorms in S.G.A.

JUDI WILLIAMS-Chairman AWS

As chairman of W. S. C. S. (Women's Coordinating Social Committee) this year, I have gained a wealth of experience in leading a campus group in planning and executing many projects such as Women's Weekend and Sadie Hawkins Weekend.

This experience together with my background as a Junior Counselor, past chairman of Guide Service, and E52 member, has well prepared me to both represent and lead the women students in a program of combating apathy and promoting better and more spirited government by making AWS (Association of Women Students) a truly campus wide organization.

BOB PARSONS

V.P. Sr. Class

If I am elected your vice president, I will support the measures of the elected president which I feel are in the best interest of our class. How do I propose to determine the interests of the class? By asking you for your opinions on current issues and best issues when and where I see you-- on the paths, in the library, uptown-- and by then examining logically a proposed measure in terms of the essence of your opinion.

Whether or not I am elected, I am determined that our class leave here in style. I want our class to have a elaborate and well organized Senior Weekend. If for Senior Weekend, we need costs more than the proposed budget allows for, then we should increase our income, perhaps by sponsoring more popular entertainment here on campus.

What are my qualifications? In the past, as a freshman and sophomore, I served on various class committees; this year, I represented our class in serving the class of 1966 as a junior counselor. At present, Class of 1964, I want to be your vice president.

AL STEPHENSON

treas. Sr. Class

If elected treasurer of the senior class I will do my best to keep the class finances in good condition so that there will be sufficient funds for the senior gift and the senior weekend. I am a Junior Counselor, treasurer of Alpha Zeta, honorary agriculture fraternity, and an advanced ROTC cadet.

Honor Court

CAROL ANN BRACKIN-Honor Court Chairmann

As a candidate for the office of Chairman of the Honor Court, I feel I am well qualified for the position for I have been an active member of Honor Court for the past two years as Kent dormitory's representative. During these two years, I have seen our Honor System grow and develop and would like to see it continue to do so, and help it become more what I feel the women on the University of Delaware campus would like it to be--a system of living truly based on Honor.

Some of the experiences which I feel are indicative of my ability and would be an attribute to my holding office as Chairman of Honor Court are: High School - received Danforth Leadership Award; member of the National Honor Society; Business Manager of yearbook; and captain of the cheerleaders. College - active member of University of Delaware Home Economics Association receiving their Sophomore Award for 1961-62; member of Kent House and Chairman of their Honor Committee and dormitory Judicial Board for those years. Should I be elected to office, I will endeavor to fulfill the position with the utmost of my ability and with the interest of the university women students in mind.

TERRY A. GIRDON

Treas. Sen. Class

The office of treasure of the senior class requires the keeping of accurate records and the raising of sufficient funds to enable the class of 1964 to have a successful senior weekend and give an appropriate senior gift. If elected I will do my best to make this a reality. I was active on the Freshman Class Council, was a Junior Counselor, and past Activities Chairman at Kappa Alpha. At present I am in advanced ROTC, an officer of Kappa Alpha and am on the varsity track team.

MARCIA LEEK-Honor Court Chairmann

We, the women students of the university, are privileged to be a part of a social honor system. We are given freedom to suggest and establish rules to guide our conduct, responsibility to abide by these rules, and respect granted to mature students. Our honor system has only been in existence for six years, and during this time, many changes have taken place. This year's Honor Court is conducting an extensive evaluation of the social honor system. As a member of the Honor Court, I am enthusiastically participating in the present evaluation.

As Chairman of the Honor Court for 1963-64, I would aim to maintain the standards established by this year's group. I would like to better acquaint the students with the reasons behind the rules that we have and with the privileges afforded by our social honor system.

The experience I have gained as Chairman of Sussex Hall's House Judicial Board and Representative to Honor court serve as my best qualifications for the position of Honor Court Chairmann. During 1961-62, I was Assistant Head of House at Smyth Hall. For the last three years, I have served as chairman and member of various dormitory activities and participated in W. A. A. activities. Active participation in dormitory affairs is a necessary quality for a person who will be working closely with the women students and who is interested in the ideas and suggestions these students have concerning the social honor system.

DIANE MAGNESS-Senior Class Sec.

Our senior year is the most important one of our college career. I feel that it is necessary to have capable officers who are willing to follow up and to improve the plans that our class has been making for the last three years.

Junior Class Candidates

DENNY KING - Junior IFC Rep. to SGA

If elected I would do my best to see that fraternity men, especially Juniors, would be represented in all policies initiated by SGA. I have a sincere interest in the fraternity system and believe it deserves a fair and active representation in student government. I have been active in Kappa Alpha where I was outstanding pledge, served on the Rushing Committee, and am presently Athletic Chairman.

FREDRIC W. PETZE Junior IFC Rep. to SGA

As a member of Pi Kappa Alpha and the Interfraternity Council, I feel that I am fully qualified for the job. I believe in a stronger SGA, one that would be truly representative of the students and one in which the fraternities would carry more weight with the administration. There are more and more students on this campus each year, many of them joining fraternities. These men need a route through which to express their ideas - a stronger SGA would provide this route, and the junior representative is one of the fraternity man's avenues to the SGA. Elect me, and I will try to provide a more usable avenue. 'Nuff said.

GEORGE GOVATOS Jr. Men Rep. to SGA

It is the duty of anyone in any organization to do his best for what he thinks is right, this being doubly true for a member of the S. G. A. A member in SGA is chosen by the people he represents because they feel that he will do his best for what he thinks is right for the body that has elected him. Realizing this, if I am chosen as junior dorm representative to S. G. A., I will take an active part in the senate in an effort to continue fair and just treatment of the junior dormitory men. I have had enough experience both in other school governments and responsible positions, so that I feel that I could handle this job very successfully.

KENNETH McCULLOUGH Jr. Men Rep. to SGA

Activities - High School - Captain of both Varsity football and baseball teams, President of Student Government. College - Varsity baseball, Jr. Counselor, Representative to the Intercollegiate Conference on Democracy and Development in Latin America, member of E-52.

My major concern is running for the office of Men's Dormitory Representative is alleviating the present state of apathy in which the Student Body is to be found. We are all aware that our University is floundering in the doldrums of stagnancy and we all voice our complaints, yet very few of us do anything constructive to remedy the situation. The S. G. A. is set up as the organ thru which we the students voice our opinions. I believe that the effectiveness of the S. G. A. would be greatly increased by closer communication between the S. G. A. and the Student Body. If elected to the office of Men's Dormitory Representative I pledge that I will do my utmost to relieve this apathetic status quo and to make the S. G. A. an organization which students will want to contribute to actively.

WILSON YOUNG

Jr. IFC Rep. to SGA
I have served as the Sophomore Fraternity Representative in the present senate. Throughout the year I have gained valuable knowledge in the makeup of the student body and its organization. As member of the Constitution Committee I have been directly involved in the writing of the new proposed Constitution and if it is ratified I will be able to accurately represent the interest of the fraternity men under the new system. I feel that the main duty of the office of fraternity representative is to inject the fraternity viewpoint into all issues that come to the floor and to raise those issues which we feel necessary to insure the valid representation of fraternity interests.

KATHRYN SEWELL

Jr. Women's Dorm Rep.
Proposed: that student apathy on this campus should be overcome; that student interest and initiative in self-government and university functions should be encouraged.

I feel the issues introduced in the Open Letter to All Students of the consideration of all students.

At the University of Delaware I have participated in W. A. A. activities and hold the office of Quiet Hours Chairman in my dormitory.

In high school I was President of Girls' Leader Corps and a member of National Honor Society as well as other activities.

I will work for the best interests of the student body and put forth my best efforts in upholding the office of Women's Representative in SGA, Class of '65.

TOM LEIGHTY V.P. Jr. Class

The importance and responsibilities of each of the class officers cannot be over emphasized. I feel that I am not make any great or high sounding campaign promises. I can say only that I have had experience, as President of my senior class in high school, I am now a member of Kappa Alpha Order and serve as I. F. C. representative. I make only one promise to the junior class of the U. of D. and that is, if I am elected I will do my very best to work for the best interests of the Class of '65.

SAM YOHAI V.P. Jr. Class

I am an Exchange Student from Colombia (South America) under a Cultural Exchange Program sponsored by the Institute of International Education and the Interfraternity Council of the University of Delaware.

I am a Pre-Med major and can proudly say that in my two years as a Student of the University I have taken an active part in several campus organizations and University affairs.

I think that the activities in which I have been involved as a University student, such as, Class Council member, Fraternity Officer, Junior Counselor, People-to-People Program, writer for the DELAWARE REVIEW, have given me enough experience to represent my classmates as their Vice-President. I am aware of the different problems and situations facing the student body and as Vice President of my class, I will have the opportunity to defend students' interests in the SGA Senate.

I shall concentrate a great part of my efforts in the "Formal Organization" of our Class Council in such a way that there shall be an even distribution of leadership opportunities and responsibilities among the different members of the Class.

The students will in this way be given the chance to develop leadership ability and potential, receiving a remuneration the pride of the work well done.

ROBERT RAUN - Jr. Class

Treas.
I am eager to serve as treasurer of the class of '65. I am a pre-med student and an ATO pledge. By participating on the Soph. Class Council and with People-to-People I feel that I have the necessary background to fill this office.

JERRY SMALLBERG - Treas. Jr. Class

I feel I am technically qualified for the office of treasurer of the Junior Class because of my experience as treasurer of Alpha Epsilon Pi Fraternity. I have taken a great interest in the activities and workings of our class as well as the student government. Moreover as a Dean's List student, a Junior Counselor, and in my capacity as a member of the executive committee of my fraternity, I feel I am qualified for a position of leadership in my class. I feel that a strong and well organized class would be a great asset to our university and as an officer I would strive to accomplish these goals.

JEAN FREAS Jr. Class Sec.

The office of secretary of the Sophomore Class has been a valuable as well as enjoyable experience for me. During the past year, I have become well acquainted with our class activities and projects. I would like to continue to work as secretary of the Junior Class on these projects as well as any other projects in which you, the members of our class, express an interest.

Commuter Women

MARIANNE WILLIAMS
I stand for re-evaluation of attitudes prevalent in the university community and would vigorously promote greater student participation in and awareness of cogent academic, cultural, and social issues. It is my hope that the promotion of the programs expressed in the "Open Letter to Students" in this issue of the Review will give a more mature posture to the student body.
As women's commuter representative I will strive to fulfill my obligations to better the commuter's position in the University.

Sophomore Candidates

BOB BURRIS-Soph. IFC Rep.

I feel that I am qualified for the mob of sophomore fraternity representative for several reasons. As President of my high school's student council, President of my junior class, Boys' State Representative, and as co-captain of my high school's basketball team, I have learned the value of leadership and have matured in my ability to offer class service. Here at Delaware I have come to know the problems of the fraternity man as a pledge of Kappa Alpha and in my activities with various freshman men, both fraternities and non-fraternity.

JACK GIBBS-Soph. IFC Rep.

If elected I shall try to bring the ties of cooperation and in- and the fraternities closer together. This is one of the most important factors regarding the future of social fraternities on this campus. I feel that the values and benefits of the fraternity system should be brought into the public eye. A strong link between the S. G. A. and the fraternities is needed and I shall do my best to fill this link.

In H.S., I was salutatorian of my graduating class and was a varsity letter winner in basketball. During my senior year I was President of the student body. At other times during my high school careers, Freshman President, sophomore V. Pres. and a member of the Honor Society. Here at the University I am the Drum Major of the University of Delaware Marching Band and a tympani player in the concert band. I urge you to consider my qualifications when you cast your vote for Sophomore Fraternity Representative to the S. G. A.

BILL HURD-Soph. IFC Rep. to SGA

One of the most important functions of a fraternity is to do everything possible to improve its campus and, in doing so, to make life easier for the Brothers and everyone else on campus. I would like to see a closer relationship between the fraternities and the college. I would do everything possible to minimize the existing frictions and to unite the two.

BOB REITZES-Soph. IFC Rep. to SGA

As a candidate for S. G. A. Fraternity representative of the sophomore class, I have two goals in mind of equal importance. First I would like to represent my class and second

I would like to represent the fraternity system in the S. G. A. My main ideal in the S. G. A. would be to bring the fraternities ideas of spirit into the campus as a whole. Also I would like to represent my class when the time arises. In conclusion, I would try to bring the ideas and thoughts of both the fraternity structure and my class into close harmony in away beneficial to the fraternities, my class, and the campus as a whole.

BOB SPEIGAL-Soph. IFC Rep. to SGA

If elected, I will not merely perform the minimum duties of the office, to represent all fraternity men in the SGA, but will try my best to bring new ideas, spirit and imagination to the student government. Past experiences as a representative to similar organizations have shown me the need to serve the general as well as special interest of both the fraternities and the student body as a whole. Finally, realizing the important of this position, I plan to put out that "little extra effort" that often makes the difference between just holding an office, and really filling it well. I hope that you, the freshman class, will have the confidence to vote for me.

KEN SANDLER-Soph. Men Rep. to SGA

What has the position of men's dormitory representative of the Class of 1966 meant to you? It has probably meant the same thing to you that it has meant to me. Nothing! The holder of this office became a powerless member of the S. G. A. If I am elected, this situation will be changed. As a pre-medical student in good academic standing, I have the time and motivation to insure that every sophomore male dormitory member will be capably represented in the S. G. A. and will have a definite voice in student affairs.

On campus I am a member of Alpha Phi Omega national service Fraternity and an SGA committee, and played Freshman Soccer. As Sophomore Men's Dormitory representative I will work with and through SGA and MRHA to improve conditions for intellectual pursuit, social activities, recreation and study. The dormitories need effective leadership to realize their fullest potential. I can and will provide this leadership.

LESLIE ANDERSON-SGA Sophomore Rep.

Student government and the coordination of student activities is of prime importance on any campus. As a candidate for the office of SGA sophomore representative, I realize the responsibility attached to this position and believe that my background of general leadership in high school will enable me to work as an efficient and interested SGA official.

MARION J. GALAINI-Soph. Women's Dorm Rep

The backbone of any effective student government association must be competent and willing workers. As a present member of the S. G. A. Senate, I know this to be true and in aspiring for re-election believe that I have derived experience and insight from this past year which would enable me to do a more adequate job in the future. While on Senate I have served as an active member of the Constitution Committee which has completed the revision of the S. G. A. Constitution for approval this year.

I would like very much to be re-elected to the position of Women's Dorm representative and hope that the confidence which you have placed in me previously will be renewed. If elected, I promise to serve the Sophomore women to the best of my ability.

HOW TO GET EDUCATED ALTHOUGH ATTENDING COLLEGE

In your quest for a college degree, are you becoming a narrow specialist, or are you being educated in the broad, classical sense of the word?

This question is being asked today by many serious observers—including my barber, my roofer, and my little dog Spot—and it would be well to seek an answer.

Are we becoming experts only in the confined area of our majors, or does our knowledge range far and wide? Do we, for example, know who fought in the Battle of Jenkins' Ear, or Kant's epistemology, or Planck's constant, or Valsalva's maneuver, or what Wordsworth was doing ten miles above Tintern Abbey?

If we do not, we are turning, alas, into specialists. How then can we broaden our vistas, lengthen our horizons—become, in short, educated?

Well sir, the first thing we must do is throw away our curricula. Tomorrow, instead of going to the same old classes, let us try something new. Let us not think of college as a rigid discipline, but as a kind of vast academic smorgasbord, with all kinds of tempting intellectual tidbits to savor. Let's start sampling tomorrow.

He was so moved he wrote Joyce Kilmer's immortal Trees

We will begin the day with a stimulating seminar in Hittite artifacts. Then we will go over to marine biology and spend a happy hour with the sea slugs. Then we will open our pores by drilling a spell with the ROTC. Then we'll go over to journalism and tear out the front page. Then we'll go to the medical school and autograph some casts. Then we'll go to home economics and have lunch.

And between classes we'll smoke Marlboro Cigarettes. This, let me emphasize, is not an added filip to the broadening of our education. This is an essential. To learn to live fully and well is an important part of education, and Marlboros are an important part of living fully and well. What a sense of completeness you will get from Marlboro's fine tobaccos, from Marlboro's pure filter! What flavor Marlboro delivers! Through that immaculate filter comes flavor in full measure, flavor without stint or compromise, flavor that wrinkled care derides, flavor holding both its sides. This triumph of the tobaccoist's art comes to you in soft pack or Flip-Top box and can be lighted with match, lighter, candle, Welsbach mantle, or by rubbing two small Indians together.

When we have embarked on this new regimen—or, more accurately, lack of regimen—we will soon be cultured as all get out. When strangers accost us on the street and say, "What was Wordsworth doing ten miles above Tintern Abbey, hey?" we will no longer sink away in silent abashment. We will reply loud and clear:

"As any truly educated person knows, Wordsworth, Shelley, and Keats used to go to the Widdicombe Fair every year for the poetry-writing contests and three-legged races, both of which they enjoyed lyrically. Well sir, imagine their chagrin when they arrived at the Fair in 1776 and learned that Oliver Cromwell, uneasy because Guy Fawkes had just invented the spinning jenny, had cancelled all public gatherings, including the Widdicombe Fair and Liverpool. Shelley was so upset that he drowned himself in a butt of malmsey. Keats went to London and became Charlotte Bronte. Wordsworth ran blindly into the forest until he collapsed in a heap ten miles above Tintern Abbey. There he lay for several years, sobbing and kicking his little fat legs. At length, peace returned to him. He looked around, noted the beauty of the forest, and was so moved that he wrote Joyce Kilmer's immortal Trees... And that, smart-apple, is what Wordsworth was doing ten miles above Tintern Abbey."

CRAIG JESTER- VP Soph Class

The position of vice president is more than a supporting role in our Class Government. It is a position which demands originality, purpose and willingness to sacrifice personal goals in order to serve. A diverse background is an essential qualification for a vice president. He must be able to draw on past experience to meet the challenges of his office.

An examination of my background reveals leadership experience in a wide field of interests. As a representative to New Jersey Boy's State from my school in Moorestown, N.J., I was selected as an Assemblyman for the Youth Government Program. My civic experience was broadened by serving local Rotary Club. Other high school offices held include Monitor Club, President, A'Capella Choir, President, and Co-Captain of the Varsity Football Team.

Here at the university, in addition to my studies in the pre-dental curriculum, I was a member of the freshman wrestling team and am now competing in freshman Lacrosse. At present I am pledging Sigma Nu.

Qualifications alone, however are not sound enough basis on which to elect anyone. Desire is the critical element.

CREG HAM-VP Soph. Class.

The vice president is most important because he must assume all responsibilities as head of committees and as coordinator of all activities. In the past, I have held numerous leadership positions. However, it is not the past that I am concerned with, it is the future and what is holds. As Vice President I will assist the president of the class. I will carry out the duties normally assigned to this office and attempt to exert that extra effort necessary to do a superior job. I will work with the other class officers, the student body and the Administration to bring harmony and cooperation. I will assist in directing the activities of the class to a point where it will be recognized as a unique group in character, goals, and achievement.

DANIEL F. MARPLE, JR. VP Soph. Class.

It is both an honor and a privilege to be considered as a candidate for the Vice-Presidency of the Sophomore Class. I feel that my six years experience on high school student council, one as president, have adequately prepared me for this most responsible position. However, one's ability and previous experience do not necessarily make him the best candidate. He must also be willing to spend the necessary time that is required to completely fulfill the obligation of this important office. If elected, I intend to not only work diligently, but to also support those ideas which you, the Class of 1966, would like to see enacted.

ALLAN VAN BLERKOM - Treas. Soph. Class.

A good class treasury is very important and a good class treasurer is needed by the Class of '66 to maintain this treasury. Dues must be collected from all members of the class. No member should be allowed to shirk this responsibility. To collect these dues, an aggressive policy should be adopted. I plan to make sure that the class of '66 has the treasury that is needs.

I am a physics major from Swarthmore High School in Pennsylvania. While in high school I was active in the school newspaper, varsity club, dramatics, National Honor Society, and Student Council. Here at the university, I was basketball manager during the winter, and am now assuming the position of Local Ads Manager for the Review.

In closing, let me say that I feel that the office of class treasurer calls for a man to do the job right. I feel that I am that man.

An Open Letter To Students:

We the undersigned, as candidates for SGA office commit ourselves to energetically promote the following program:

1. Persuasion of the University Board of Trustees to invite student spokesmen to be heard in their meetings when issues of student interest are considered.
2. Reaffirmation of the unqualified right of all recognized student organizations to invite to speak at their meetings on campus such persons as they choose to hear.
3. Extension of campus recognition, or the right to meet on campus, to any group of students whose purposes are not forbidden by the Constitution of the State of Delaware or the Constitution of the United States of America.
4. Reconsideration of the recent action to reduce the student voting representation on the Publications Subcommittee of the Student Life Committee from 10 to 3 because of its effect in reducing opportunity for development of student maturity through responsibility.
5. Removal of vagueness from present phrasing of the regulations concerning the expulsion of students from the University.
6. Study of the greater use of all-student judiciary committees for handling most student disciplinary problems.
7. Development of the SGA as the primary forum of student opinion and the practical channel of student grievances and suggestions to the faculty and administration.
8. Energetic implementation of the Class Council Plan recently adopted by the SGA to form effective administrative and information-gathering agents involving more students in governmental, cultural and social activities.
9. Study the possibility and advantages of establishing a campus radio station.
10. Encouragement of a system to promote and facilitate undergraduate study at other accredited colleges and universities for a year or a semester with full credit.
11. Sponsorship of an ambitious program of seminars and conferences, as World-in-Crisis Day, designed to broaden student awareness of academic, local, national, and international affairs; provision for follow-up on delegates sent to intercollegiate conferences.
-  12. Affiliation of the SGA with the United States National Student Association (an organization representing hundreds of private and state colleges and universities including Delaware State College and Wesley Junior College) so as to make available here its nationwide resources.

"In these times when opposing forces are fighting for the minds of our young people, it is encouraging to see an organization, such as yours (USNSA), representing 400 college and university student governments, meeting for the purpose of establishing and expanding the creative role of students in our society and providing an effective and constructive voice for American student leaders.

"As a founding member of the International Student Conference, you have taken the lead in bringing together the various national student organizations of the non-communist world. Your student exchange programs have promoted greater interest and international understanding. Your concern with the problems of your fellow students, your continuing campaign for improvement of educational facilities, and your efforts to increase the financial resources available to worthy prospective college students have all been in keeping with the high goals set forth in the preamble to your constitution adopted at the time of your founding in 1947." *

ELOISE FLYNN—Soph Class Sec.

I would like to be secretary of our class, and I feel certain that I could fulfill this office competently. I received my background for such an administrative position from Brandywine High School, where I held various school offices, including presidencies of the German and the Public Relations Clubs. I was also a member of the yearbook staff and worked actively on Senior Council.

My first responsibility as secretary of the Class of 1966 would be to fulfill my secretarial duties to the best of my ability. But, as a class officer, I would also strive to unify our class and coordinate its activities with all other University functions. I would like to see an active, coherent, enthusiastic class; and if elected, I will work toward this end.

English Contest -

real name and address must be attached to each entry.

The prizes to be awarded are: The Academy of American Poets Prize $100 (open to all students); The Alice du Pont Ortiz Poetry Award $100 (for undergraduate women); The Mary Healy Ford Prose Award $50 (open to graduate and undergraduate women); The National League of American Penwomen Silver Award (for undergraduate women); and The Ida Conlyn Sedgwick Prose Award $50 (open to graduate and undergraduate men).

The final decisions in the contests will be made by 1945 Pulitzer Prize winner, Karl Shapiro in poetry and Richard Yates, author of "Revolution Road" in the prose division.

Campus Chest -

Also participating in this fund-raising event will be the faculty. The will operate a booth and will play in a faculty-student basketball game.

GOAL SET

The minimum goal has been set at $2000. All funds will be donated to the Delaware Association for Crippled Children and Adults.

Aiding Marty Cassidy are the following: Lois Ward, HE5, treasurer; Sue Grebe, AS4, corresponding secretary; Edith Grotzinger, AS4; recording secretary, and Steve Niece, EG3, student advisor.

RUTH KARRAKER—Sec. Soph. Class

I was graduated from Princeton High School in Princeton, New Jersey. While there I was a member of the Dean's Committee for two years and a delegate to the Student Council Nominating Convention for one year. In my senior year I received one of Princeton High's Gold Key Awards for Meritorious Service. Since I have come to the University, I have participated in several dorm activities and have been a member of a committee under WEC which has set up a faculty sponsorship program. If elected to the office of Sophomore Class Secretary I will do my best to serve the Class of '66 and help make it a unified part of the University of Delaware.

Hi! I'm Joan Johnson, enrolled in the School of Home Economics here at Delaware, and would like to be your new class secretary. As a student at Brandywine High School, I held the office of Vice-President of our Senior Class, President of the Tri-Hi-Y, and was a representative to the Student Council for three years.

I enjoyed working in the yearbook club, Public Relations Club, and Senior Council.

My interest in the class has increased even more since I have served as Treasurer of the Freshmen Class. If I am elected to the office of Secretary of the Sophomore Class, I promise to devote my time with enthusiasm, working for you, the Class of '66!

Men Commuter

IMAD TWAL—Commuter Representative.

As a representative of my senior class in high school, I had the opportunity to discuss with the administration the problems and requests of the class with effective results. Once again, at college, I feel that I can represent a group of students. As a commuter, I chose to run for the office of Commuter Representative.

The programs I would like to promote are enumerated in the open letter to the students before you in this issue of The Review.

Doug Francisco - Commuter Rep.

He is a junior political science major. He was a 1960 graduate of Conrad High. While at Conrad he was a member of Hi-Y, he was band manager, and he played football. While at Delaware, although a commuter, Doug has participated in numerous campus activities. During summer school 1962 Doug was able to gain practical political experience when he worked for Francis X. (Pat) Splane during the Delaware primaries. Doug feels that he can do more for commuters because of his extensive commuter and campus contacts in addition to his practical political experience.

President of the Student Center Council
Faculty Advisor

Section 2 The President of the Student Government Association shall be the chairman of the Executive Council.

Section 3 The Executive Council shall:

- prepare agenda for the Senate meetings.
- call special meetings of the Senate.
- be empowered to act for the Senate when a quorum is not present at a regular or special meeting, provided:
 - the matter concerned is of an urgent nature.
 - the Senate Advisor has been contacted and agrees that the matter should be acted upon immediately.

3. the Constitution and/or the By-Laws are not being amended.

4. allocation of funds does not exceed fifty dollars.

Article VII Cabinet

Section 1 The Cabinet shall be a permanent standing committee of the Senate. Its purpose shall be to develop a serious and mature effort toward the realization of a full educational experience for each student.

Section 2 The Vice-President of the Student Government Association shall be the chairman of the Cabinet.

Section 3 A non-Senate member shall be appointed Secretary General. The Secretary General shall coordinate the activities of various Cabinet Departments and prepare progress reports to be given at each regular Senate meeting by the Vice-President.

Article VIII Amendments

Amendments to this Constitution may be made by a two-thirds vote of the total membership of the Senate after a resolution for amendment, having been approved by the Senate, is published in an issue of the Review appearing at least five days prior to the Senate meeting when the amendment is to be voted upon. Such amendments shall become effective when formally approved by the President of the University.

Article IX
Ratification

This Constitution and the By-Laws thereto shall go into effect upon ratification by two-thirds of the votes cast by the undergraduate Student Body in a special election called for this purpose by the President of the Student Government Association, and upon its formal approval by the President of the University.

Article X
Other
Constitutions

Any Constitution and By-Laws thereto of the Student Government Association extant at the time of ratification of this Constitution are rendered null and void.

Article XI Initial Elections

The first elections of the officers of the Student Government Association and members of the Senate as provided for in this Constitution shall be conducted by the officers of the Student Government Association who are presently in office.

BY-LAWSARTICLE I - SENATE ORGANIZATION

ings in the absence of the President.

Section 2 Robert's Rules of Order, Revised shall be followed, except when in conflict with the Constitution and/or the By-Laws.

Section 3 Voting shall be by a show of hands unless a majority calls for a secret ballot. A majority vote shall suffice to pass all business before the Senate, except as otherwise specified in the Constitution and By-Laws.

Section 4 A Senate meeting may be closed to all except Senate members by a two-thirds vote of the Senate members present.

ARTICLE IV - ATTENDANCE AT SENATE MEETINGS

Section 1 A record of attendance at regular meetings shall be kept and shall be posted on a public bulletin board for inspection by the members of the Student Government Association.

Section 2 (a) A Senate member who is directly elected to the Senate and who is absent from three regular meetings during his term of office without having been excused in advance by the President of the Student Government Association, shall be subject to removal from office by a two-thirds vote of the Senate.

(b) In the event that the President of the Association of Women Students, the President of the Interfraternity Council, the President of the Men's Residence Hall Association, and the Presidents and Vice-Presidents of the Classes should be absent from three regular meetings during their term of office without having been excused in advance by the President of the Student Government Association, the Senate, by a two-thirds vote, shall have the power to recommend impeachment to the group they represent.

ARTICLE V - RESPONSIBILITY OF RETIRING OFFICERS

Section 1 Every officer upon vacating his office shall turn over to his successor all papers, documents, books, and money belonging to the Association.

Section 2 All said papers, documents, and books shall become a part of the permanent record.

ARTICLE VI - STANDING AND SPECIAL COMMITTEES OF THE SENATE

Section 1 Appointments to standing and special committees shall be made by the Executive Council upon the recommendation of the President of the Student Government Association. These appointments normally shall be made no later than October 1. Appointments to fill vacancies shall be made promptly as they may occur during the school year.

Section 2 The Executive Council shall have the authority to create from time to time such special committees as may be deemed necessary for the conduct of Student Government Association business.

Section 3 The President of the Student Government Association shall be an ex-officio member of all standing and special committees.

Section 4 There shall be a standing Committee on Finance composed of members of the Senate. One of these members shall be the Treasurer of the Association who shall act as Chairman. The duties of this committee shall be:

(a) To review all request from organizations and student activities for financial support from the Association in accordance with Article XVIII of these By-Laws.

(b) To prepare the annual budget of the Association for approval by the Senate no later than the first meeting in October.

(c) To prepare a progress report reflecting the status of expenditures by organizations and student groups under the approved Association budget as of March 1 for review by the Senate following this date.

(d) During the spring semester, prior to May 15, to give instructions to organizations and student groups regarding the preparation and submission of budget requests by May 22 for the coming school year. The Finance Committee shall have the power to set an appropriate penalty for those organizations and groups submitting budgets after May 22.

Section 5 There shall be a standing Committee on Elections composed of six Seniors who shall be members of the Student Government Association. The Vice-President of the Student Government Association shall act as Chairman. The duties of this Committee shall be:

(a) To set the time, place, and procedures for holding regular and special elections, provided that such regular elections shall be held between March 20 and April 20 and, for Freshman Class elections, between October 15 and November 15.

(b) To announce the date of each election and the hours and the location for voting at least four weeks in advance of the election.

(c) To see that the A.W.S., the I.F.C., and M.R.H.A. are responsible for nominating at least 1 1/2 times the number of representative positions allocated to their respective living groups, in accordance with Article IV, Section 3 of this Constitution.

(d) To establish rules regarding the submission of nominees' petitions, campaigning, and voting, and to promulgate these rules when the date of an election is announced.

(e) To devise an official petition form to be used in nominating candidates for office. These forms shall be obtainable from the office of the Dean of Students. Candidates shall be responsible for seeing that their petitions are submitted on the proper form and that signers of the petition are qualified to endorse their petitions.

(f) To announce in the Review the official call for petitions of nominees for Student Government Association Senate and Class offices at least three weeks in advance of the election.

(g) To determine, with the assistance of the Dean of Students the eligibility of all candidates to run for the offices for which they are nominees according to qualifications set forth in these By-Laws.

(h) To post on a designated public bulletin board the names of candidates for office whose nominations have been certified and to notify these candidates at least one week prior to the election that their nominations have been approved. Further, the Committee shall notify promptly those candidates who have been declared ineligible. These actions shall be taken no later than two days following the deadline for the submission of petitions. The names of all the candidates and their qualifications shall be published in the Review at least one week prior to the election.

(i) To nominate candidates with their consent and subsequent endorsement by proper petition when there are less than two candidates nominated for each office by general petition. There shall be a period of at least one week during which students may file petitions indicating their candidacy for office. If at the end of this period there are not at least two candidates for each office the Committee shall extend by three days the period for filing petitions for those offices for which there are less than two qualified candidates. If at the conclusion of this extension there are not at least two qualified candidates for each office, then the Committee on Elections shall proceed to fill the ballot by nomination as set forth in the first sentence of this paragraph.

(j) To conduct regular and special elections by secret ballot making arrangements for clerks and tellers. The President of the Student Government Association, a representative of the Office of the Dean of Students, and an Elections committee representative shall supervise the counting of ballots. No candidate for office shall participate in the conducting of an election or in the counting of the ballots.

(k) To see that voting shall be held on "neutral ground", that is, not in dormitories nor in fraternity houses.

(l) To see that the counting of ballots shall begin promptly following the close of an election, and that the counting shall be completed within two days after the election. The Chairman shall record the total ballots cast for all nominees on a tally sheet. When authenticated by the Chairman and by the President of the Student Government Association, it shall be delivered to the Dean of Students' office no later than two days after an election is official record.

(m) To deposit, no later than two days following an election, all ballots in the Office of the Dean of Students where they shall be kept for a period of one week and after which a challenge of the election shall not be allowed. Under no circumstances shall any ballots be taken from the University campus before the time when it is permissible to destroy them.

(n) To refer to the Senate for review any campaigning or voting irregularities noted by the Committee. The Senate shall have the power by a two-thirds vote of the total membership to disqualify a candidate or to declare an election null and void in the event of violation of established rules for campaigning and/or voting.

Section 6 There shall be a standing Constitution Committee composed of Senate members. The chairman of this committee shall be appointed upon the recommendation of the President of the Student Government Association and shall also serve as parliamentarian of the Senate. The duties of this Committee shall be:

(a) To review the proposed constitutions and By-laws of all new clubs and organizations and to recommend appropriate Senate action.

(b) To review proposed amendments to any existent clubs' or organizations' constitutions and/or By-laws.

(c) To review any proposed amendments to this Constitution or the By-Laws thereto.

Section 7 There shall be a standing Committee on Standards composed of a man and a woman from each class and a man and a woman commuter, all of whom shall be members of the SGA, and a Chairman who shall be a member of the Senate. The duties of this Committee shall be:

(a) To review and revise as necessary, with the approval of the Senate, the dress regulations affecting students on this campus.

(b) To review other problems involving the standards of University students.

ARTICLE VII - QUALIFICATIONS FOR OFFICES

Section 1 A student nominated for any office to be filled by a Senior, Junior, or Sophomore shall have completed by the end of the first semester of the junior, sophomore, or freshman years, respectively, the number of credit hours required for classification as a Junior, Sophomore, or Freshman, respectively. A student elected to an office must attain by the September following election the classification (Senior, Junior, or Sophomore) specified for that office. Otherwise, the elected officer must resign from the office.

Section 2 A student nominated for any office to be filled by a Freshman must not have been admitted to the University on a limited program, and must be classified as a Freshman in the School in which the student is registered.

Section 3 Candidates for the offices of President, Vice-President, Recording Secretary, Corresponding Secretary, Treasurer, President of the Association of Women Students, President of the Men's Residence Hall Association, President of the Interfraternity Council, and President of the Student Center shall have earned a cumulative index of at least 2.2 to be declared qualified to run for office.

Section 4 Candidates for offices, except those named in Section 3 of this article and except candidates for Freshman Class offices, shall have earned a cumulative index of at least 2.00 to be declared qualified to run for office.

Section 5 A candidate for office who is on disciplinary and/or academic probation shall be declared ineligible to run for office.

Section 6 After election to an office, a student whose qualifications drop below those stated in Sections 1 through 5, inclusive, will be required to vacate the office held.

Section 7 Official University records shall be the only records used for checking the eligibility of candidates to run for office and/or to continue in office.

Section 8 A student may be a candidate for only one office at any given election.

Section 9 The officers listed below shall be elected by the Student Government Association at large. At the time of election, these officers shall be members in good standing of the next lower class below that indicated under "Class Membership" for each particular officer:

Officer - Class Membership

President - Senior
Vice-President - Senior
Recording Secretary - Junior or Sophomore
Corresponding Secretary - Junior or Sophomore
Treasurer - Senior or Junior

Section 10 The President of the Association of Women Students shall be a Senior woman (a Junior when elected), and shall be elected by all women.

Section 11 The President of the Men's Residence Hall Association shall be a Junior or Senior man (a Junior or Sophomore when elected), and shall be elected by all men living in the dormitories.

Section 12 The President of the Interfraternity Council shall be a Senior man (a Junior when elected), and shall be elected by the Interfraternity Council. His term of Senatorial office shall coincide with that of all other Senators.

Section 13 The President of the Student Center Council shall be a Senior (a Junior when elected), and shall be elected by the Student Center Council and shall be confirmed by the Student Center Board of Directors.

Section 14 The officers of each of the four classes (Senior, Junior, Sophomore and Freshman) shall be a President, Vice-President, Secretary, and Treasurer. They shall be elected by the members of their respective classes.

Section 15 (a) All women living in dormitories shall elect their own representatives at large, the number to be based on the proportion of one (1) Senator for every 200 S.G.A. members (or a major fraction thereof) within the living group.

(b) All men living in dormitories shall elect at large their own representatives, the number to be based on the proportion of one (1) Senator for every 200 S.G.A. members (or a major fraction thereof) within the living group.

(c) All men living in fraternity houses shall elect at large their own representatives, the number to be based on the proportion of one (1) Senator for every 200 S.G.A. members (or a major fraction thereof) within the living group.

(d) A men's commuter and a women's commuter representative shall be elected by the commuter men and women respectively.

Section 16 At such time as a student who has been elected to an office may change his resident/commuter status or his fraternity/dormitory living status so that he is no longer a member of the living group which he was elected to represent, this student must resign forthwith from the office to which elected.

ARTICLE VIII - FILLING VACANCIES IN ASSOCIATION AND CLASS OFFICES

Section 1 Should the office of President of the Student Government Association become vacant prior to the regular election held each spring, the Vice-President shall succeed to this office. In this event, a Vice-President pro-tem shall be elected from among the Senior members of the Senate by that body.

Section 2 Should a vacancy occur in the Presidency of any class, the Vice-President of that class shall succeed to the Office of President. In this event, a Vice-President shall be selected in a special general class election conducted by the Senate Committee on Elections.

Section 3 A special election shall be conducted by the Elections Committee to fill any vacancies which may occur in the offices of Recording Secretary, Corresponding Secretary, and Treasurer of the Student Government Association.

Section 4 Vacancies which may occur among the Senators at large shall be filled by vote of the Senate. The Senators at large of the group having a vacancy among its Senators at large shall constitute a Nominating Committee which after consultation with its constituency will make nominations to be voted upon by the Senate.

ARTICLE IX - DUTIES AND RESPONSIBILITIES OF OFFICERS

Section 1 The President of the Student Government Association shall serve as the official representative of the Student Body, shall preside at meetings of the Senate, shall see that all provisions of the Constitution and By-Laws are executed faithfully, and shall give leadership and direction to the Executive Council in the planning and implementation of a program for the Association for the year.

Section 2 The Vice-President of the Student Government Association shall serve for the President on all occasions when this officer is not present, shall be chairman of the Cabinet and Elections Committee, and shall perform such other administrative duties as the President may direct.

Section 3 The Recording Secretary of the Student Government Association shall keep minutes of all Senate and Executive Council meetings, shall reproduce these minutes and distribute copies to Senate members before the next meeting, and shall perform such other administrative duties as the President may direct.

Section 4 The Corresponding Secretary of the Student Government Association shall be responsible for the Association's correspondence and files including the sending out of Senate meeting agendas to all Senate members at least four days before meeting time, and shall perform such other administrative duties as the President may direct.

Section 5 The Treasurer of the Student Government Association shall be the chief fiscal officer of the Association, shall supervise the receipt and expenditures of all Association funds maintaining appropriate records of all transactions, shall be responsible for seeing that a yearly audit is made of the accounts of all student organizations and activities which receive Association funds, and shall serve as Chairman of the Finance Committee.

Section 6 The President of the Student Center Council shall preside at all Student Center Council meetings.

Section 7 The President of the Men's Residence Hall Association shall be concerned with those matters which are closely associated with men living in the residence halls; He shall serve as a consultant to the Dean of Students in the formulation and administration of rules of conduct. He shall serve as a member of any group or committee appointed to enforce Freshman rules.

Section 8 The President of the Association of Women Students shall be concerned with those matters which are closely associated with women students. She shall serve as a consultant to the Dean of Women in the formulation and administration of rules of conduct. She shall serve as a member of any group or committee appointed to enforce Freshman rules.

Section 9 The President of the Interfraternity Council shall be concerned with those matters which are closely associated with fraternity men. He shall serve as a consultant to the Dean of Students in the formulation and administration of rules of conduct. He shall be a member of any group or committee concerned with the activities of fraternities at the University of Delaware and shall also serve as a member of any group or committee appointed to enforce Freshman rules.

Section 10 The officers of the Senior, Junior, Sophomore, and Freshman classes shall be responsible for organizing these classes, developing programs of interest to the members, and collecting and accounting for class funds. The President and Vice-President of each class, who shall be members of the Senate, shall be responsible for the presentation to the Senate of business concerning their respective classes.

Section 11 The Senators-at-Large to the Senate shall be responsible for the presentation to the Senate of business concerning the groups they represent.

ARTICLE X - VOTING RULES

Section 1 A student shall be eligible to vote in a special or regular election only as a member of the class or representative group in which he is classified by official University records.

Section 2 Seniors who are candidates for graduation at the June commencement immediately following any regular or special election shall be permitted to participate in the nomination of and may vote for candidates for the offices of President, Vice-President, Recording Secretary, Corresponding Secretary, Treasurer, President of the Men's Residence Hall Association, and President of the Association of Women Students.

ARTICLE XI - CLASS COUNCILS

Section 1 In addition to the elected class officers there shall be a Class Council for each of the four classes. The purpose of these Class Councils shall be to stimulate student interest in university affairs through the planning and coordination of activities which are representative of the students' interests.

Section 2 The members of the Class Councils shall be selected by the officers of each class who shall constitute the Executive Committee. Any member of a class shall be eligible to be a member of his respective Class Council. The Executive Committee shall make the selection of the Class Council. The Executive Committee shall make the selection of the Class Council members on the basis of leadership ability and interest of the applicants.

Section 3 Once the Executive Committee has selected the members of the Class Council, it shall call a meeting for the purpose of establishing such committees as it deems necessary. The Executive Committee shall have the power to appoint the Chairman of these committees. Each Committee shall be responsible for the formulation of plans concerning the area under their jurisdiction and each Chairman shall submit a report of activities at each Class Council meeting.

Section 4 The President of the Class shall act as Chairman of the Class Council and shall be responsible for calling a meeting of the Class Council at least once every four weeks while school is in session. The President shall have the authority to call special meetings when he deems it necessary.

Section 5 The Class Council and the Executive Committee shall be the official voice of their respective classes.

ARTICLE XII - THE FRESHMAN CLASS

Section 1 The President of the Association shall be responsible for the initial organization of the Freshman Class. The President shall see that the Elections Committee schedules the election of class officers between October 15 and November 15, and the President shall arrange for the installation of elected officers promptly following their election.

Section 2 The officers of the Sophomore Class shall be responsible for the formulation and promulgation of "Freshman Rules." Such rules as are established for each entering class must be approved by the Senate and by the Dean of Students before they are issued. "Freshman Rules" must prohibit any form of hazing. The Senate shall constitute a committee to supervise the enforcement of "Freshman Rules" by the Sophomore Class.

ARTICLE XIII - THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL OF THE ASSOCIATION OF WOMEN STUDENTS

Section 1 The Executive Council of the Association of Women Students is concerned with those activities affecting both resident and commuter women. It is involved with the social aspects of campus life, rules and regulations, and educational and cultural programs of interest to women. Its purpose is to establish and to conduct a democratic representative form of government whereby the best interests of all women shall be protected and served.

Section 2 The Honor Court, a subcommittee of the Executive Council, shall have authority to try cases and impose corrective measures in instances of serious infractions of the Women's Social Honor System and to review and suggest changes in the social rules and regulations established by the Council with the approval of the University.

ARTICLE XIV - THE INTERFRATERNITY COUNCIL

Section 1 The Interfraternity Council shall constitute the student governing body for fraternity men. It shall be concerned with self-government in the fraternity system, rules and regulations of fraternity activities, and shall provide for a judicial council.

ARTICLE XV - THE INTERHALL COUNCIL

Section 1 The Interhall Council shall constitute the student governing body for all men living in University residence halls. It shall assist the University to make Men's Residence Halls ideal living units for study and for cultural, social, athletic, and other worthwhile leisure-time activities. It shall encourage students to participate in self-government and shall foster a climate of learning to assist each resident's efforts toward intellectual maturity. It shall also represent the official viewpoint of all men residents.

Section 2 The Judicial Committee of the Interhall Council shall have the authority to try cases and impose punishment, with the approval of the Dean of Students, upon men who, in the residence halls, have violated University or Hall Council Rules, abused property, or in any way have conducted themselves in a manner unbecoming of a University of Delaware student.

ARTICLE XVI - THE STUDENT CENTER

Section 1 Until otherwise ordered by the President of the University, authority is hereby delegated to the Student Center Board of Directors to formulate and administer policies affecting the operation of the Student Center in accordance with the Student Center Constitution and By-Laws.

Section 2 The Student Center Constitution and By-Laws and modifications to them must be approved by the Senate before they become effective.

ARTICLE XVII PUBLICATIONS

Section 1 The Student Government Association recognizes the following student publications:

(a) THE REVIEW, a weekly newspaper.

(b) VENTURE, a literary magazine.

(c) THE BLUE HEN, a year-book.

(d) THE STUDENT HANDBOOK, published each fall.

(e) SLIPSTICK, a publication by the students in Engineering.

(f) NEEDLE AND HAYSTACK, a publication by the students in Agriculture and Home Economics.

(g) CONCEPT, a publication by the Philosophy Club.

Section 2 Each editor, of each student publication shall have the ultimate responsibility for the quality and the form of all materials published therein and for the sound business management of the publication.

ARTICLE XVII - CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS

Section 1 The Senate shall have the authority to establish criteria for student clubs and organizations, exclusive of the national honor societies and the social fraternities.

Section 2 The following criteria for recognition of student clubs and organizations are established:

(a) The conduct of all such groups must be becoming that of a group of University students and member of the S.G.A.

(b) All groups must submit upon request an annual financial statement to the Senate showing the sources and amounts of all funds received and all disbursements made by the group.

Section 3 Any student club or organization, in order to use University facilities as a student group, must be recognized by the S.G.A. Senate.

Section 4 New student clubs and organizations must petition the Senate for recognition. Such a group must submit a copy of its constitution and by-laws to the Senate for review before action may be taken to recognize such a group. Action taken by the Senate to recognize a new group will become final after approval of the group's constitution and by-laws by the Office of the Dean of Students.

Section 5 In addition to the preceding criteria for recognition, a club or organization in order to be eligible to submit requests for S.G.A. funds must meet the following criteria:

(a) It must be recognized by the S.G.A. Senate.

(b) The group's actions must be consistent with its purposes as stated in its constitution, and these purposes must serve the educational, social, and/or governmental needs of the S.G.A. on the University campus.

(c) The group must comply with the Dean of Students and the Senate's financial regulations.

(d) The following groups are not eligible to submit requests for S.G.A. funds:

1. Social fraternities and national honor societies.

2. Religious organizations.

3. Groups that are associated with a political party - either local, state, or national.

4. Any student club or organization whose primary purpose is to influence the formation and administration of public and/or governmental policy on any level.

5. Campus political parties whose main objective is to place officers in the S.G.A.

Section 6 Each student club or organization shall appoint or elect a member of the faculty or administration or serve as advisor to the group.

Section 7 The Senate may withdraw recognition of any student club or organization which fails to meet the criteria established by the Senate.

(a) The following procedure shall be used to withdraw recognition of a group:

1. Charges of alleged violations of the preceding criteria shall be submitted to the S.G.A. Executive Council by any member of the S.G.A.

2. The Executive Council shall consider such charges and advise action by the Senate.

3. Upon a two-thirds vote of the total membership of the Senate, the student club's or organization's recognition shall be withdrawn.

(b) Any group shall submit a full report of its actions upon the request of a majority of Senate members present and voting within two weeks of notification by the Senate President.

ARTICLE XIX - RECORDS AND REPORTS

Section 1 A permanent minute book shall be maintained in which the official approved minutes of all regular and special Senate meetings shall be recorded by the Recording Secretary. To insure safekeeping, this minute book shall be retained in the Office of the Student Government Association between Senate meetings.

Section 2 Officers and committee chairman when reporting at regular and special Senate meetings shall submit written copies of their reports which shall be made a part of the minutes of the Senate.

Section 3 Each officer and each chairman of a standing committee shall present a comprehensive written report at the end of the school year covering his activities as an officer or the activities of his committee, respectively. These reports shall be made a part of the records of the Senate.

Section 4 Beginning in 1960 and every four years thereafter, the permanent Senate minute book and Senate files shall be transferred to the Library for cataloging and incorporation in the University Archives.

ARTICLE XX - ADVISOR

At the first meeting of the incoming Senate, the Senate shall select with prior consent a member of the faculty to serve as advisor to the Senate, and shall extend an invitation to the Office of the Dean of Students to send a representative to attend all Senate meetings.

Does a man really take unfair advantage of women when he uses Mennen Skin Bracer?

All depends on why he uses it.

Most men simply think Menthol-Iced Skin Bracer is the best after-shave lotion around. Because it cools rather than burns. Because it helps heal shaving nicks and scrapes. Because it helps prevent blemishes.

So who can blame them if Bracer's crisp, long-lasting aroma just happens to affect women so remarkably?

Of course, some men may use Mennen Skin Bracer because of this effect.

How intelligent!

FACE SWARTHMORE TOMORROW

Tough Schedule Ahead For Hen Lacrossemen

Delaware's lacrosse team, defending Middle Atlantic "B" champion, opens the 1963 stick schedule tomorrow at Swarthmore.

Game time is 2:30 p.m. The Hens topped the Garnet in last year's opener, 9-6, on the way to an 8-1 record. Delaware's only loss was a 10-9 decision in overtime to a strong Lehigh club.

TOUGH ROAD AHEAD

Coach Mickey Heineken, beginning his second year at the lacrosse helm, emphasize that it will be difficult to repeat last year's successes. "Our league is definitely much tougher than it was last season," says the former Delaware football, lacrosse and baseball star, "with Drexel probably the team to beat.

Outside the conference, we have the toughest schedule in our lacrosse history. Loyola of Baltimore, Penn, Washington College, Adelphi and Towson Teachers should all have fine teams. Looking over the schedule, I can see only one or two games that could be breath-ers, in any sense of the term."

Heineken's team showed plenty of weaknesses in compiling a 1-3 scrimmage record. A close win over Bowdoin and losses to Dartmouth, Kenyon and Brown revealed problems of attack, ball-handling and general overall finesse.

EXPERIENCE GAINED

"Although our showing in the scrimmages was rather poor," comments Heineken, "we did pick up invaluable experience. We have a long way to go. The team scored a total of only two goals in the last two scrimmages, and the unavailability of Hayler Osborn let us know how tough it would be without him."

Osborn, a junior, is considered the most gifted lacrosse player ever to attend the university. "Oz" was the fourth leading scorer in the nation last year with 53 points and was selected for a number of all-star teams. He made eight goals and was credited with two assists against Lafayette last year for the nation's fifth-best single game performance. Osborn was an all-district choice.

Against Dartmouth, he received a hard blow to the head, forcing him to miss the rest of the contest and the following two games. The Delaware attack, already weakened by the graduation of Bill Wagamon, also one of the nation's leading scorers, fell apart.

The Sports Scene

By DAN TWER

Delaware students returned to campus this week to find that their highly touted baseball team didn't have a particularly enjoyable spring vacation---one win and five losses. Just how bad was the team's annual southern trip? To get a few of the answers we went to John Garvick, Director of Sports Information for the university's department of Public Relations who accompanied the team on the tour. Some of his observations which follow may shed new light on a seemingly bleak topic:

"When you look at the statistics, you see that five teams scored 56 runs off our pitching in six games. Delaware scored 33 off the opposition. The team committed 26 errors, many of them costly. In fact, three games--North Carolina, Virginia, and Georgetown--were lost as a direct and unconditional result of Delaware miscues."

Would you say then that the entire southern tour was a bust and that Delaware is in store for an off-year despite early optimism?

"I'd have to say 'no' to both questions. First, I think it should be remembered that these southern teams are ahead of Delaware. They were working outdoors weeks before us. Secondly, East Carolina and North Carolina are both excellent ball clubs, among the strongest east of the Mississippi. You know, the '61 Hens lost to East Carolina 21-0 and yet went on to the Middle Atlantic Conference title and the NCAA District 2 Playoffs, losing to Syracuse 2-0 in the finals. It's also my impression that both Carolina teams and Virginia are stronger than any MAC team I saw last season. The Georgetown game, then? It was the sixth game in six days. Even professional ballplayers would be dragging after a workout like that.

Why make the tour then?

"The purpose of the southern trip is not to pile up victories that are meaningless as far as the NCAA tournament is concerned. If we win the MAC, we automatically go to the tournament. The trip is for individual and collective player development. Newcomers like Terry Arnold, Jim Gregg, John Wallace, Paul Chadick, and Dick Stein (He batted only 19 times last year) had some fine moments on the trip, and they'll inspire the veterans to stay on their toes--or ride the bench.

So it wasn't a total loss as statistics might seem to indicate.

"Not by a longshot. You've got to look at the positive aspects. Take the Georgetown affair for example. Two hits in 13 innings--bad. Seven errors--bad. But a pitching job by Chadick, a heretofore unknown; who gives up one earned run in 12-2/3, fans 14, and walks only 3---this is very good and should not be overshadowed by the loss itself."

How do you think the rest of the season looks?

"I think a good indicator was the Castleton game. You know, a major league scout remarked before the game that Castleton had a fairly good ball team. But Delaware was hungry for a big win, and it ended 19-0 in only six innings. I think the team is well on its way now, and I'll even go out on a limb and predict a baseball championship for the Hens this season."

As coach Tubby Raymond remarked the other day, "Don't worry, we haven't panicked yet." Despite recent setbacks, neither have we. For our money Delaware's still the team to beat in the MAC.

Lacrosse-

him at attack are Bill MacArthur, junior, and sophomore Marty Cassidy. The midfield will consist of co-captain Paul Chesmore better known as a Little All-American tackle and captain-elect of the '63 Hens gridders; Tom Harrison, a two-time letterwinner in football as an end; and Rex Mears, senior letterman.

Two football players are represented on the defensive crew, Jim Quirk, and Norm Wilkinson. Quirk lettered as a guard last year, Wilkinson as a center. Quirk, an extremely aggressive player, may become one of the Hens' all-time best defense-men.

COLLINS AT GOALIE

The goalie, a letterman and two-year vet, is 135-pound Tom Collins. Collins has been rounding into form slowly, but is expected to play again like the honorable mention All-America goalie he was last season.

Heineken's second midfield consists of three lettermen, seniors Bruce Moore, Jack Murray, and junior Mike Donovan.

The Hens' coach believes that lacrosse interest in Delaware is growing every year, and feels that his '63 team will make a commendable showing against the strongest opposition faced during the season. There are four games on the home card: Lehigh on April 17, Washington College on April 30, Towson on May 4 and Drexel on May 14.

Baseball Team Rebounds; Hosts Bucknell Tomorrow In Conference Double Bill

GREGG CONNECTS--Sophomore infielder-outfielder Jim Gregg unloads a double in the first inning of the Swarthmore contest. The Hens wrapped the game up in the opening frame, scoring 6 runs on route to a 15-0 win.

By JOHN SHERIDAN

Delaware's baseball team takes a 5-5 record into its MAC opener tomorrow in a double-header with Bucknell at home.

Having faced probably its toughest competition of the season on the southern tour, the Hens should be ready for their MAC debut. Pitching aces Steve Sundra and Terry Arnold are slated to take the hill in these two important games.

Wednesday, Delaware had its final tune-up for Bucknell and clobbered an out-classed Swarthmore team 15-0, Arnold,

HENS SCORE 15

Paul Chadick, and John Shew shared the pitching chores and held them to 2 hits in a game called after 6 1/2 innings because of cold weather.

Arnold breezed through the first 5 innings striking out nine and allowing only one hit. The chunky southpaw struck out the side in the second and third innings.

Pepper-pot 2nd baseman Johnny Wallace led the attack with a single, a double, a stolen base, and 4 r.b.i.'s. Jim Gregg also stood-out with a double and 3 r.b.i.'s.

TALLY 6 IN FIRST

Delaware bombarded Swarthmore pitcher Dave McLanahan for 6 runs in the first inning. A booming triple by Arnold and Gregg's double highlighted an inning filled with walks, stolen bases, and a two-run error on a smash by catcher Fred Rullo.

The Hens added 3 runs in the 5th, two of which came home on Wallace's single. Another six-run explosion in the 6th, capped by Wallace's booming double to deep right-center, completed the scoring.

The Hens opened their season by beating Trinity 7-4 on March 27. In a come-from-behind effort, Arnold was the winner with 4 sparkling innings of relief pitching and a tremendous 370 ft. home run over the track in right-center.

SUNDRA STOPS YALE

Steve Sundra then hurled Delaware to win over Ass't Coach Ruly Carpenter's Alma Mater, Yale, by a score of 3-1. Sundra allowed only 5 hits and struck out 13 in a well-played game.

Yale's Chris Clark held the Hens to 5 hits, but Wallace's triple in the third and a passed ball broke the ice. Captain Bob Grenda's single and double, and outfielder Tom Aldridge's triple were the other key hits.

With only two games behind them, the Hens embarked on their annual southern tour. With a late-inning rally Frederick College handed the Hens their 1st loss, 11-6.

HENS SPLIT SERIES

Travelling to East Carolina, Delaware faced a perennial power and split a two-game series losing 19-3, then coming back to win 12-7. Arnold took the loss in a game highlighted by 4 hits and 6 r.b.i.'s by Carolina's Carlton Barnes.

Steve Sundra won the second game aided by centerfielder Arnold's two hits and 4 r.b.i.'s. Catcher Dick Stein gave the Hens a lead they never relinquished with a two-run homer in the 6th.

Facing a strong North Carolina team, the Hens then dropped in 11-7 decision. In this best-forgotten contest, Delaware committed eight errors as Rusty Hood took the loss. Wes Frith's opposite-field home run and Bob Grenda's two hits led the Hens.

EXTRA INNING LOSS

On Saturday, Delaware wound up the tour with an unfortunate 13 inning 3-2 loss to Georgetown. Southpaw Paul Chadick went the route in an excellent performance before yielding the winning run.

Back home on Monday the Hens defeated Castleton Teachers (Vt.) 19-0 in an abbreviated 7 inning contest. Sundra, picking up his 3rd win of the season, was brilliant.

Hens Travel To Swarthmore After 24th Straight Track Win

Nate Cloud throwing the discus? Just one of the surprises that may be in store for fans Delaware's track team this season.

The Blue Hen thinclads, winners of 23 straight dual meets outdoors, 5-0 in indoor meets over the winter and three-deep in a number of events, open their 1963 schedule tomorrow against Swarthmore on the Garnets' track. The meet will begin at 2:30 p.m.

FLYNN UNDEFEATED

Coach Jimmy Flynn will begin his third year as leader of the Hens. He has directed Delaware to a 15-0 record during his tenure, developing such athletes as IC4A broad jump champion Bob Tatnall and Hen record holders Larry Pratt, Mike Brown and Wes Stack.

Fourteen lettermen and four sophomores up from last year's fine freshman team will be members of the 21-man squad that Flynn will take to Swarthmore. Of the lettermen, sprinter Brown, weight man Pratt, distance runner Lee McMaster, pole vaulter Bob Kidwell and Tatnall went undefeated in dual meets last season.

MERCURIAL MIKE

The 100-yard dash field will again be led by "mercurial" Mike Brown, whose .09.9 time last year in the Bucknell meet tied the Delaware and Frazer Field record for the distance. The 6-0, 198-pound football star is considered capable of bettering that time this season, as well as his record-setting 0:21.5 220 dash time and 0:48.9 440 time.

Brown's 220 record was also set in the dual meet with Bucknell. He'll be joined at that distance by Merle Taylor, junior letterman, sophomores Don Della Porta and John Charney and Messina. In the 440, it'll be Brown, promising sophomore Bart Clark, Taylor, Della Porta and Charney.

Delaware will again be particularly strong in the distance events. Junior Lee Mc-

Master is the No. 1 man in the 880, and will be hard to beat. Ironically, his toughest competition may come from teammates Clark, sophomore Jim Stafford and senior letterman Dave Herron. McMaster's best 880 time last year was 1:55.2, not far away from Bill Raybold's Delaware record of 1:53.9 in the event.

(MC) MASTER MILER

McMaster, who ran a 4:18.7 mile last year, is given an excellent chance of topping Stack's school record of 4:17.4. He'll also go after the Frazer Field standard, set by the great John Reilly of Georgetown last year at 4:16.3. Other milers include Stafford, Herron, sophomore Don Ladd and senior letterman Roy Jernigan.

Jernigan, an athlete deeply devoted to his specialty, will be a virtual shoo-in to go undefeated in the two-mile again this year. He did 9:50.4 last season, will devote much of his attention to Carl-Olaf Homen's Delaware record of 9:28.4, set in the 1960 Middle Atlantic's.

John Anderson, junior letterman, will compete in both the high and low hurdles field as the Hens seek to improve two weak points on the team.

IC4A CHAMP

Tatnall leaped 23'7 3/4" at Villanova last year to win IC4A honors and should go undefeated in the broad jump again. Senior letterman Bob Kidwell pole vaulted 12'9" last year and is avowedly after Cliff Browning's record of 13'2-1/2", established in 1958.

Kidwell, however, has been seriously challenged by sophomore Don Fisher, and either one could turn up as the Hens' top vaulter this season. Depth problems exist in the high jump, through Miller has done 6'1", the Delaware outdoor record, indoors.

Pratt, captain of the '63 team, holds both the Delaware and Frazer Field shotput and discus records. His official marks are 48'7-1/2" in the shot and 151'-10-1/2" in the discus, although he hurled the discus 153 feet this week in an informal practice meet with the University of Connecticut.

Sigma Nu Downs Sig Ep In Fraternity Volleyball

Sigma Nu strengthened its hold on second place in the Fraternity Volleyball League by topping arch-rival Sigma Phi Epsilon Wednesday night. Sigma Nu's only loss has been at the hands of the faculty team which clings doggedly to the league lead with a 6-0 mark.

In other games the faculty romped to victory over last place PiKA, KA evened its record by downing Phi Tau, and the Deltas came nearer the .500 mark by whipping AEPI. In the Independent League, Sigma Nu's "B" team leads the pack.

In bowling action, Sig Ep and PiKA dominate the league with identical 11-1 records. Tom single game high (243) and high series (626).

The standings:

FRATERNITY VOLLEYBALL

Faculty	6-0
Sigma Nu	6-1
ATO	4-2
Sig Ep	3-3
KA	3-3

INDEPENDENT VOLLEYBALL

Sigma Nu "B"	6-0
Harter Hustlers	4-1
Sig Ep Castoffs	4-2
KA Hell Raisers	3-2
Sypherd	3-3

BOWLING LEAGUE

Sig Ep	11-1
PiKA	11-1
Fat City "5"	8-4
Sigma Nu	7-5
Theta Chi	6-6
AEPI	5-7

New Stadium, Track In Sight For '64

The Delaware football team may play its 1964 home games in an improved and enlarged Delaware Stadium.

President John A. Perkins announced during vacation that the pledge of several large gifts has considerably brightened prospects for improvement of football and track facilities by 1964.

THREE PROJECTS

Estimates by Howell Lewis Shay Associates, the university's architects, call for an expenditure of approximately $532,000 to effect three major improvements:

1) Increase the capacity of Delaware Stadium from 9,200 to 13,282.

2) Add a new track and field area immediately behind the east stands of Delaware Stadium.

3) Provide increased space and facilities for students, alumni and fans and for press, radio and TV broadcasters and reporters.

Discussing the proposed expansion, Athletic Director David M. Nelson said, "The rapid growth of the University of Delaware is being felt in all phases of our physical education, intramural and intercollegiate athletic program.

Removing the present track from Frazer Field will provide greater space for classes and intra mural activities. Additional stands at the Stadium will meet the needs of our students, alumni and fans."

Need for greater seating ca-capacity at Delaware Stadium became increasingly evident last season when Delaware's Middle Atlantic champions drew a record attendance, averaging more than 8,200 per contest.

The permanent seating capacity of the Stadium is little more than 7,000 and only through temporary seating arrangements could the larger crowds be accommodated. Seats have been so limited during the last several seasons that high school band day, a colorful annual event, had to be cancelled, and the university band had to be seated in chairs adjacent to the playing field.

Opponents for Homecoming Day have been chosen from the greatest distances so that fans from these schools would be less likely to vie with Delaware alumni for seats. Limitations also have been recognized in accommodations for radio stations and members of the press.

CONCRETE STANDS

The proposed new stadium facility is an 8,000-seat stand of steel-supported, pre-cast concrete faced with brick to conform with other campus structures. It will be erected on the west, or home, side of the field and will contain rest rooms, concession stands, and locker and shower rooms for the home team.

Visiting squads will continue to use the present locker room area at the north end of the stadium. In addition to the 8,000 new seats, there will be the present 3,500 reserved seats in the east stand, the 1,100 seats in the north end zone, 500 general admission seats in the south end zone and 182 box seats in the east stand.

Delaware's new track outlay will be constructed simultaneously with the football stadium. The track oval itself is expected to cost about $30,000 and will be composed of a resilient all-weather surface.

Part of the wooded area behind the east stands of the stadium will be cleared for the track, but a substantial stand of trees will be retained to preserve the picturesque surroundings.

OLD TRACK REMOVED

The old track on Frazer Field will be removed, leaving only the drainage system and allowing the outfield section of the baseball diamond to be completely covered with grass. By 1965, baseball will be the only intercollegiate sport played on Frazer Field.

Like most of the building programs being undertaken by the university, the long-range stadium plan provides for greater expansion, if required. An 8,000-seat east stand, duplicating the west stand which might eventually be needed could increase the capacity by another 2,800 as enrollments grow. Such plans will be developed in accordance with the needs of the institution.

The project is the first major plant improvement, by the university's athletic department since 1952, when the present Delaware Stadium was completed.

Posts Available For Reporters

The Review's sports department announces that several positions are now open, covering and writing spring sports. No previous journalism experience is required, though this is desirable. All interested students may inquire at the Review during posted office hours, preferably from 3-4 on Tuesday.

Tennis Team Opens Season With Win Over St. Joseph's

Coach Roy Rylander's tennis team, off to a fast start with a 6-3 win over St. Joseph's Wednesday goes after victory number two tomorrow, entertaining Drexel. Starting time is 2:00 p.m.

The winless Hawks dropped their fourth in a row as the Hens picked up their opening day win. Delaware's top seeded duo of Ed Paul and Terry Graham dropped their matches; Paul to Tom Hanlon, 6-3, 6-3; and Graham to Jon Weir, 9-7, 6-8, 7-5.

Eric Annett, Winston Cleland, Captain Pete Hartman, and Carl Price garnered singles wins to pace the Delaware attack. All swept their matches in two sets.

In the doubles Paul and Graham lost to Hanlon and Herb Ruprecht, 3-6, 6-4, 6-3. Winning doubles combinations for the Hens were Annett-Hartman (6-3, 7-5) and Price-Cleland (7-5, 10-8).

Hartman, Paul, and Cleland are returning lettermen from last year's squad which turned in a 4-5 record. Price and Annett are up from the freshman squad. Graham, a transfer from Dickinson promises to give the Hens a boost.

NUMBER ONE--Top seeded Delaware tennis player, Ed Paul, is shown in action against St. Joe's on Wednesday. The Hens won the match, but Paul dropped his set, 6-3, 6-3.

Golfers Tee Off Wednesday Against Haverford, St. Joe

Enthusiasm reigns high as Blue Hen golfers prepare for next Wednesday's opening match, a triangular affair with Haverford and St. Joseph's.

When asked if he was optimistic about this year's golf prospects, Coach Irvin C. (Whiz) Wisniewski answered, "I'm always optimistic. But with six of seven lettermen back from our 10-2 season last year, and the same teams on the schedule, it looks like we'll be as good as we were in '62."

The only loss from last season is captain Mike Turnbull, Delaware's number one man and former Middle Atlantic Conference individual champion. Senior Randy Barker, however, tied Turnbull with a 79 average card in '62, and will probably take over the first spot.

Captain for '63 is Dick Mayfield, who amassed 28-1/2 points last year and a 10-2 record, best on the team. Other returning lettermen include John Fletcher, Gary Watson, Lee Stetson and Tom Hahn. A promising newcomer in Ray Grehawick, transfer student from the Naval Academy, Nelson Murray and Stan Pauls are sophomore contenders.

Delaware finished fourth in the 1962 Middle Atlantic Championships at Scranton, Pa. Watson, a soph then, finished in a tie for 12th place.
