NEWARK MAILING RECORDS BROKEN

Holiday Rush Exceeds 1943 With 270,341 Cancellations

Following the usual trend, all-time mailing records were again broken at the Newark Post Office as the number of Christmas cards, letters and packages skyrocketed to a new high. Figures on the holiday deluge, capably handled by the regular staff and several extras proved to be the biggest mailing season in postal history.

Postmaster Cyrus E. Rittenhouse, in releasing the figures, also pointed out that the annual increase in gross postal receipts had jumped from $48,298.32 last year to $54,915.64 for 1943 which is an increase of $6,617.32. An idea of the town's growth can also be gained by the fact that during Mr. Rittenhouse's first year in office, 1934, the annual receipts were listed at only $26,895.83. This year's gross is more than twice the gross nine years ago when Mr. Rittenhouse took over the local post office.

Mr. Rittenhouse stated yesterday that unlike previous years when the holiday rush would usually start about December 18, the rush this year started about December 8 and continued until December 23 which spread the usual rush over a much greater period and made the volume much easier to handle.

Unlike 1941 when the post office observed its greatest rush in local history with 36,501 cancellations, this year's top day was 23,626 cancellations on December 16. The local rush this year started on December 13 and continued until the 21st with business returning to normal on December 24.

The early mailing of Christmas packages to the soldiers in the Army with the deadline being October 15 and the Navy deadline November 15 was largely responsible for the easy handling of the Christmas rush.

Mr. Rittenhouse stated that hundreds of letters and Christmas cards had been received which were not delivered as many were addressed wrong or had insufficient postage. Many cards were turned in sealed with only one and a half cent postage and therefore could not be sent out and he also stated that many cards to servicemen overseas had been mailed with only one and a half cent stamps and no mail can be sent overseas with less than three cents postage.

The daily December mailing figures are as follows:
Dec. 1—5,173; Dec. 2—5,570; 3—4,918; 4—5,367; 5—5,457; 7—5,717; 8—6,368; 9—8,044; 10—7,174; 11—9,099; 13—18,963; 14—20,915; 15—21,800; 16—23,626; 17—20,180; 18—21,540; 20—22,779; 21—15,788; 22—9,540; 23—6,417; 24 and 25—3,652; 27—4,996; 28—3,231; 29—4,100; 30—4,077; 31—5,848.

LIVESTOCK SAVED AS FIRE RAZES FRAME BARN

Lack of Water Hampers Firemen; Valuable Farm Machinery Burns

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the large two story frame barn on the farm tenanted by Robert Reed on South Chapel Street extension about 7:30 o'clock Friday evening with a loss of well in excess of $10,000, including valuable farming machinery.

The fire was discovered by William Reed, a brother of Mr. Reed's who was driving toward Newark who quickly notified his brother and both men turned all livestock out of the barn but were unable to save the machinery on account of the flames which had gained considerable headway.

The blaze was seen by residents of Newark for minutes before the alarm was called into the firehouse which was besieged by calls asking where the fire was.

Upon their arrival Newark firemen directed by Fire Chief Elmer Ellison confined their efforts to saving adjoining buildings. The firemen were greatly hampered by lack of water as the only water available was from the small amount carried in the booster tank of the fire engine.

The Christiansa Fire Company was also called and the two companies played streams from their booster tanks on adjoining buildings and other firemen went into action to extinguish sparks which set fire to nearby fields. The blaze was fed by more than forty tons of hay stored in the barn and about four tons of baled straw. Large quantities of feed and farm supplies also were burned.

The farm property is owned by the Douglass estate.

MINIATURE OPERA HERE ON TUESDAY

Music Society Sponsors Its Third Concert

"Opera In Miniature", the third of a series of programs sponsored by the Newark Music Society, will be presented on the Mitchell Hall stage Tuesday evening, January 11. The curtain will rise promptly at 8:15 P. M.

With all the refinements of phrasing and acting that characterizes the best traditions of American opera singing, "Opera In Miniature" presents four highly talented and attractive American singers in the principal scenes from three of the world's most popular operas. Artists who will appear in this vehicle next Tuesday evening are Joan Ruth, soprano; Anne Judson, contralto; James Montgomery, tenor, and Charles Yearley, baritone, in scenes from "Faust" and "Martha".

In devising the newest and boldest idea to come out of the music world in years, the artists who form the Opera Quartet have assimilated the clever melodies of Flotow and the well rounded melodies of Bizet and give forth this music in all its beauty.

Wearing the same colorful and picturesque costumes that the parts call for in full scale production, the four stars bring the stirring, thrilling flavor of grand opera to audience who have never tasted it before.

CHRONOLOGY REVIEWS WEEKLY EVENTS

Death of Mayor, Several Fires— Center of Stage In 1943 News

The year just past was saddened for Newarkeers by the death of Mayor Frank Collins who had so ably served the town and done much to reduce the town debt. The death of Joseph Talucci, high school senior and captain of the 1943 football team along with Mike Holton while on a gunning trip was another cause for sadness by everyone who thought a lot of both boys.

Several disastrous fires also ran Newark's fire loss to the highest figure in several years. The fire that gutted the A & P store; the fire that destroyed the Sheaffer warehouse and the serious fire at the National Vulcanized Fibre Co. plant the same night as the Sheaffer fire all contributed to the yearly fire loss.

The resignation of Rev. Bartley as pastor of the Newark Methodist Church, the resignation of William K. Gillespie as principal of the Newark High School and the large number of inductions into the armed services are also on the dark side of the ledger for 1943.

On the brighter side we can consider the closing of the Airplane Warning Service and the closing of the Warning Center which has released a lot of man and woman-power for other much-needed activities.

During the past year W. Floyd Jackson, a past commander of the local American Legion Post was made State Commander.

During the last part of the year Magistrate Clarence Foster resigned and Newark is left without an alderman.

During the past year the Newark Police Car was stolen. That proved one of the greatest pieces of news unless you want to remember that Newark High School football team upset Brown Vocational in their season opener by the score of 19 to 0.

During the past year Oakwood Patsy Ann, a very fine beagle owned by Raymond V. Buckingham was made a field champion and shortly after that Connell's Dixie, owned by Robert Connell had the same honor conferred on it.

During the past year the Newark Red Cross has set an enviable record. The various campaigns to collect money such as selling war bonds, War Chest Fund and the many others went over the top.

The Newark Music Society during the past year has presented several fine concerts in Mitchell Hall for the music loving public.

Numbered Ration Coupons Predicted

Numbered gasoline ration coupons, similar to strips of motion picture tickets, will be issued to B and C card holders about April 1, it was learned this week.

The Office of Price Administration announced that the new T coupons for commercial vehicles and taxis would be of this type, effective Jan. 1.

The agency had no official statement to make concerning new B and C books, but it was learned they are now being printed for issuance in the early spring. Like the new T books, the B and C coupons will be numbered serially.

Revamping of T gasoline coupons was viewed as a sharp blow at black market operators which allegedly have flourished under the highly-criticized loose coupon system.

Cleaning Adds Life To Pressure Canners

Steam pressure canners, new and old, are important factors in the wartime food production program and should be taken care of accordingly, says Miss Louise R. Whitcomb, home management specialist for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

Canners must be clean when they are stored. A new one may need only a good washing. One that has been on duty all summer should have a thorough cleaning—remove stains with whitening and water, take the pet cock and safety valve off and soak them in vinegar, clean the ball and socket valve with silver polish, and scrub the rubber gasket free of grease. Be sure there are no food or salt deposits which may pit the aluminum, injure the glaze on porcelain enamel, or rust tinned steel. Crumple newspapers inside the kettle to absorb moisture and odors. Wrap the cover in paper to keep dust out on the gauge and valve openings. Invert the cover on the kettle and store the canner where it will not be exposed to injury.

OPA Imposes Ceilings On New Domestic Spirits

The Office of Price Administration is reaching out to restrict prices of the new whiskeys which have appeared on the market since ceilings were fixed in March, 1942.

Under its newest liquor price rule, effective Jan. 6, the OPA is imposing ceilings at the processor level on all domestic distilled spirits. Since percentage mark-ups for wholesalers and retailers are fixed, the action is calculated to roll back consumer prices of some brands.

The original regulation applied only to brands then in stock.

The OPA gave this sample of new flat prices for one-fifth gallon bottles: 100 proof bottled in bond, 4 years old, $3.30; 84 proof straight whiskey, 2 years old, $2.65; 90 proof blend of straight whiskeys, average age 3 1-2 years, $2.95; 85 proof blended whiskey, (27 1-2 per cent whiskey, 72 1-2 per cent neutral spirits) average age of whiskey 3 years, $2.80.

CLEAN-UP DAYS

Tin Can collections will be made on Monday, January 17 with Clean-Up Days designated as Wednesday and Thursday, January 19 and 20. All tin cans and rubbish should be placed in front of homes early on the mornings mentioned to insure collection.

A resolution made—and kept—to improve one's living habits may well be one of the most important resolutions of 1944 from the point of view of the person's health and happiness.

The human body is not a perpetual motion machine. It needs daily care to insure its running smoothly and if one denies it the needed fresh air and exercise, the eight hours of sleep a night required, pampers it by eating palate-teasing rather than body-building foods, and neglects the simple rules of health the results will not be a high degree of physical efficiency.

Perhaps you have been having colds, suffer from over-fatigue, or just do not feel up to par. It is wise, says the State Board of Health, to check up and do something before nasty weather, a germ, and your own run-down condition conspire to put you in bed with an illness.

With the strain and hurry of war time living and working, people are more apt to become ill, unless they guard their health closely. Health check-ups and strong "health resolutions" on the weak points—faithfully carried out—may help to prevent a winter illness.

The winter months last year in Delaware yielded reports of 90 deaths from pneumonia, and 17 deaths from influenza in the state. This winter has already produced a great number of cases of respiratory infection.

A Health Check-up

The State Board of Health suggests that your health check-up might include:

1. Am I having 8 hours sleep every night?
2. Do I get some fresh air and exercise every day? (This does not, necessarily, mean playing games. Walking to and from work or on errands will do the trick and also will make you feel that you are accomplishing two things at once.)
3. Do I eat enough breakfast to give me strength for the morning's work?
4. Is my lunch well-balanced and made up of nourishing foods, or do I grab a soft drink and a sandwich or a sweet, and expect that to carry me through the afternoon's work? (Maybe that is the reason for the 4 o'clock slump.)
5. Do I include fruits, vegetables and milk in my meals every day?
6. In bad weather do I protect myself against wet feet and damp clothes?
7. How long since I have had a physical check-up by my doctor? (Once a year is advisable in order that he can discover any condition that might be developing and yet be unsuspected by the patient.)
8. Have I been to see my dentist lately? (The Board suggests every 6 months.)
9. Finally, in matters of health, AM I DOING AS WELL AS I KNOW HOW?

Too many adults are satisfied with fair health and, if they are not definitely ill, think that they are well. The State Board of Health points out that development and maintenance of maximum well-being is the best insurance for a long life and for the prevention of disease.

KEEP FAITH

One of the most powerful safeguards of individual liberty can be found in the thousands of community banks scattered over the three million square miles of the United States. The question of size either of the banks or of the communities in which they operate, is irrelevant. They are all community banks and they all safeguard our most vital freedom—economic freedom.

There exists hardly a citizen who at some time has not found it necessary to go to his local banker for financial advice and aid. He may be seeking money for a new business venture. His family may have suffered illness requiring immediate emergency funds. Or he may be a farmer in need of seasonal stock or crop loans. In every case, the reason is economic. In plainer language, bread and butter necessities drive us to our local banker for help. It is his business to lend that help, where the facts justify, as painlessly and as efficiently as possible. It is a difficult task. He must have a broad knowledge of agriculture, business and industry, together with an intimate understanding of the men and women in his community. No amount of regulation can relieve him of his responsibility as an individual, to the thousands of other individuals who rely utterly on his integrity and competence. If he fails, the community may fail, and vice versa.

Thus, it should not be hard to see why the community bank is the key to our "fifth" freedom. It would be tragic indeed if the day ever arrives when the private citizen finds in his local banker, not another free American citizen, but a controlled puppet of a dominant political party in a vast bureaucracy. Such a tragedy can befall us if we ever lose faith in our ideals of free private enterprise.

POST-WAR AUTOMOBILES

The American automobile industry will encounter a "pause" of several months in industrial activity immediately after the end of the war, and then there will follow three to five years of "intense" activity according to statements of the best qualified men in America to speak for the motor industry. The period of reconversion may be made, with close cooperation between the government and industries, in a few months—perhaps in half a year.

PYTHIANS TO INSTALL

State Officers To Be Guests

Oseola Lodge No. 5, Knights of Pythias held their regular weekly meeting in their lodge rooms in Fraternal Hall on Monday night with Chancellor Commander Samuel L. Diehl, presiding.

Plans were made for the installation of officers which will take place in the lodge rooms on Monday night, January 10 at which time Grand Chancellor Daniel Ziegler and his staff of Grand officers from Wilmington will be present and conduct the ceremonies.

Willie Gray and Ray Jacobs were named on a committee to prepare entertainment and refreshments for the evening.

NEWS IN THE WORLD OF RELIGION

For the first time in the history of Protestantism in New York State, ranking denominational executives of Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist, Congregational and other churches met recently, under the auspices of the New York State Council of Churches, to "map out a state-wide united program of common objectives." Plans were laid which will help eliminate over-churching of communities and competition of denominations with communities. "Denominational isolationism is today archaic," says Dr. Wilbur T. Clemens, executive of the Council. "How can the church expect the nations of the world to follow her lead when we are so divided? The world is looking to the church for a 'lead' in the direction of that united action which is the imperative of this hour."

The French Catholic Political review "Renouveau," published in London, Eng., in a recent portrayal of religious conditions within France, denounced the state monopoly on schools which removes children from parental care at an early age into the control of state organizations; took issue with the exclusion of persons from military and civil posts of the country because of membership in "Catholic Action" groups or other religious grounds; and attacked the new procedure by which people can be accused and found guilty without proof being produced in court. "The Christian conscience and French thought are in agreement over these abuses of justice," says "Renouveau."

The ancient Chinese greeting, "Have you eaten well?", corresponding to the American's "How do you do?", is again taking on its earliest importance for almost everyone is almost hungry in China these days, says the Rev. Charles E. Winter, Methodist missionary in Hingwa. "Pawnshops are doing a big business as people in the towns are trying to turn everything into food," he says. "Thieving is prevalent. Suicides are common. Gambling is more noticeable as peacetime restraints lose their force. Inflation has proceeded so far that saving money is not a sign of virtue or good sense... The same American dollar which bought fifty or sixty pounds of rice when the war started, will now buy less than four pounds. ... The Red Cross is giving us a grant of $10,000 (Chinese) (about $500 U. S. currency) for work in this area."

Somewhat more than one-half the people in the United States are members of churches or synagogues, according to a recent compilation made by Dr. Benson Y. Landis, of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, and issued by that body as the "Yearbook of American Churches, 1943." It shows a total membership of 67,327,719 persons in some 256 churches and sects—only 52 of which had 50,000 or more members. The total is an increase of 2,826,125 over the membership reported two years ago. Among the larger churches are: Roman Catholic with 22,945,247 members in 18,976 local churches; Methodist Church, 6,840,424 members in 42,206 churches; Southern Baptist Convention, 5,367,129 members in 25,737 churches; Jewish congregations, 4,641,184 members in 3,728 temples and synagogues; National Baptist Convention, U. S. A., 3,911,612 members in 24,575 churches; Protestant Episcopal Church 2,074,178 members in 7,685 churches; Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., 1,986,257 members in 8,511 churches; United Lutheran Church 1,769,290 members in 4,046 churches; Disciples of Christ, 1,655,580 members in 7,919 churches; Northern Baptist Convention, 1,538,871 members in 7,365 churches; Evangelical Lutheran Synod 1,320,510 members in 4,325 churches; Congregational - Christian Church, 1,052,701 members in 5,827 churches.

"Can we mitigate the causes of war in human hearts?" asks Dr. Leslie Bates Moss, director of the Church Committee on Overseas Relief and Reconstruction. And he thus answers the question: "The churches believe so. They believe that dependence upon religious truth will be more characteristic of the postwar world; and that one way to assure it is for religion to be more adequate in its ministry to human need. Therefore, we look forward to a ministry of reconstruction that in a real sense will be linked to the relief work already done, and yet shall reach beyond it in helping to provide the sinews for a stronger and more humane society. Human beings at the center; men and women and children of chief importance; this we believe is the teaching of our God. This is the period in human history when the reconciling ministry of religion can be most potent."

New Pork Bonus With Spare Stamp

The Office of Price Administration Monday validated spare stamp two in War Ration Book Four for the purchase of five points-worth of fresh pork between Monday and Saturday, January 15.

Smoked and cured pork, such as ham and bacon, cannot be purchased with the bonus ration points.

It is the second pork bonus the OPA has granted because the pork supply became so plentiful that spoilage was threatened. Spare stamp one, which has been worth five points for the retail purchase of fresh and cured pork since December 21, expires at 12:01 Sunday.

The OPA said that all sausages will be included in the fresh pork category for the period during which the new bonus stamp will be good.

How About That!

By Ruth Safran

It's just a week after New Year's Eve was whistled, sung in and otherwise launched. And lots of people around are still finding it tough to write 1944. And there are many references to the parties held here and elsewhere—with the general consensus that while New Year's trimmings were available, the usual spirit was missing. There is no secret as to why it was missing. G. I. Joe was away from home—fighting somewhere or sitting out the New Year in an army camp. The biggest crowds in New York were not on the street but in Pennsylvania Station making telephone calls. There were lines in front of every booth and they melted slowly.

Yet New Year's Day got a pleasant lift when strangers thoughtfully wished you a Happy New Year.

There was the old man in Horn and Hardarts (where the fascination of dropping nickles in the slot is still strong). I sat at an adjoining table. As he got up, he bowed and said "Young lady, I don't know you and you don't know me. But I wish you a Happy New Year—and that means that the war will be over soon." And out he trotted.

A different kind of spirit prompted two men to don sandwich signs and walk back and forth in front of theatres, cafes. Their signs read, "And your sins shall be found out." As they passed, they intoned in very deep voices: "Do not enter those places of amusement where the entertainers are clad in nothing but a smile."

It was early afternoon then and the concern with souls was somewhat lacking. But the men continued down the Avenue and repeated the same unwieldy sentence over and over.

Then there was the boy we spoke to who had been in the Aleutians and thrilled at being home. After a 17 month absence, his father kept prodding him proudly to show off his three souvenirs—a Jap grenade, a shell and a scrap of American propaganda leaflet addressed to the Japs. The boy spoke only of the barren, unadorned country in which they were stationed. When they found one lone tree on an island, they immediately dubbed it "National Forest." One island had four trees, so they called it "National Park."

A Tough Job

Lest we forget just how tough is the job of maintaining and supplying an army meant to win this war, the War Department has made available to war plants its very graphic movie "This War Department Report." We saw it this week. Memorable scenes include the German captured films showing the rescue of Mussolini from prison and his reunion with Hitler, an effective analysis of German and Japanese strength and finally the steps taken to organize our army, feed its supplies, cause it to win battles. It was a sobering film but not discouraging.

Though restricted to war plants, this excellent film might well be shown wherever our citizenry entertains the thought that the Germans and Japs are invincible so there's no use trying—or the equally dangerous one—that the Japs and Nazis are pushovers.

ACCOUNT BOOKS

"Must I keep this stuffy old account book up to date, Mother? It's such a bother!"

My twelve-year-old niece, Freda, asked in the kitchen doorway, holding a small notebook at arm's length. I was spending a week at the home of my sister Doris in the country. She and I were preparing sweet corn for dinner.

Doris looked up at her daughter with a smile. Busy as she was that morning, she took time to talk to the little girl about her problem.

"Keeping account books does take time, Freda," she agreed, "but it is the best way to keep from spending too much money and going into debt. Did you ever hear my Daddy say, 'I don't know where all my money has gone'?"

"No, Mother, but I've heard him say that we couldn't afford things," Freda replied.

"That is because he keeps a record in his account book of all the money he takes in and all that he pays out. He knows just how much money we have spent and how much we have left. It is a sad thing to come to the end of one's money and not know where it has gone. Do you remember how sorry we move. After her money had been spent, and there was no way to get it back, she told me all about it. That is one reason why your Daddy and I have had all of you children keep account books. We don't want you ever to make such a mistake as Mrs. Brewster made. We want you to have a record of what you have done with the money we have given you for an allowance and any money that you earn."

"Does Daddy's account book tell him when we can't afford things, Mother?" Freda inquired.

"Yes, Daughter, he finds out from the account book how much we have been spending for food, clothes, school-books, light, water and heat—even how much we have spent for fun and good times—and he can tell about how much we shall need to spend in the future. Often he finds out that we can afford things—like our new refrigerator this summer."

"I am glad Daddy could buy the new refrigerator," Freda replied. "It keeps watermelon so nice and cold and frozen fruit good 150 days!"

"I'd like to have some ice cream for Aunt Lucia today," Doris suggested. "How would you like to make it, Freda? It will be ready by evening if you fix it now."

"Oh, Mother, I'd like to do that!" Freda exclaimed. "I'll make the kind we had for Daddy's birthday. Then I'm going to work on my account book. I want to keep it up to date, just like Daddy's!"

by J. H. (Sureshot) Rumer

It has been stated by members of the Junior Mechanics that no matter who is Charley's partner, C. W. Colmery just can't win at cards played at the lodge room following the regular meetings. Last week Bill Carier and Francis H. Richards both took a hand as his partners, but no luck.

A certain young lady, member of the freshman class at the Newark High School is reported to have tried to borrow her Aunt Edna's silver evening slippers so that she could wear them to the dance at the Country Club.

Roland McCloskey, Theodore S. Jones, Frank Butterworth and Len Walbridge went ducking near Bettertown, Md., last week but for some reason they failed to have their pictures taken with the ducks that they shot. It is reported that they did not shoot ANY ducks. Len Walbridge is a mighty fine painter and paper hanger but there are those who doubt his ability as a duck hunter.

Town officer Samuel Howard Tibbitt had much better luck. WE ARE TOLD. It has been reported that Samuel bagged the legal limit while at Smith's Island last week. If his memory is correct, Samuel was arrested for parking on one of his trips down there a few years ago.

The Wilmington paper yesterday stated that Fire Chief Elmer Ellison had again been called for Jury Duty. We heard that he had been called some time ago just as the gunning season was ready to get underway but Chief Ellison pulled some strings and was excused until after he had shot all the bunnies.

A funny thing happened at the fire last Friday night. The bull wanted to go back into the barn at the height of the fire and someone said Sureshot scare that Bull away. Now we want to understand that anyone who writes a column like this just don't scare the bull. They do other things with the BULL.

Folks in this issue of the paper you will find another yearly chronology of outstanding events that happened in 1943. Last year I was censored for having put certain articles in that story about certain people and not mentioning other items concerning other organizations. Well in this newspaper racket you are fussed with if you do, and you are fussed with if you don't. But Sureshot is sure that with the government restriction on newsprint he has left some things out of the story and he will stay near the phone to receive all complaints. In this game we never get any credit for the good that we do. When a reporter keeps a story out of the paper there are those who think they have put something over or have gotten away with something.

The Newark High basketball team dropped (?) their first game to the much-favored P. S. duPont team on Tuesday. If you noticed the question mark after the word dropped—you can just look at the score—58 to 16. That score looks as if someone dropped something and made a terrible splash. There is one great trouble with the Newark boys. There is a great lack of teamwork. There is too much of the individual trying to make a big score. Now, you fellows on the team must wake up to the fact that if you can't hit the basket, just pass the ball to those fellows that can put the ball in the loop. I watched the practice game with the Alumni and it was very noticeable that some of the boys are afraid that they will not get their names in the paper. Well fellows, just remember that the final score is the only thing that counts.

Then there is something else in the basketball racket, get down the floor into scoring position and don't play with the ball too long unless you are well in the lead. When the ref hands you the ball get it started before the other team gets set, don't wait until he has a chance to cover up.

Those old veterans of Newark High who are serving in the armed forces should write to the boys and tell them how they need to do it. There is Admiral Joe Moore, General Ace Aiken, Egnon, Flying Daddy, John Grandy, and the many other Newark stars of years past. Those boys are in the service and would like to get hold of a copy of the Newark Post which leads off with "NEWARK WINS AGAIN". It can be done fellows—but not with the kind of playing that you are putting out right now.

Well there won't be as many whiskies around here. We have received word that the War Production Board has lifted the ban on the manufacture of razors and razor blades. Now, that was nice of them.

We have heard a lot of hot air the last few days about some high official who said that STRIKES retard the War Effort. Some of those union rascals have taken offense. Well that is just too bad. It would be nice to send those folks overseas in a uniform. They might change their minds. When some of the soldiers come back there may be something done about the unions. Let us hope so. Another thing.

YELLOWJACKETS DEFEATED BY P. S. DUPONT IN SEASON OPENER BY SCORE OF 58 TO 16

Newark High School Basketball Team Swamped by Dynamiters in First Game Of Season; Lack of Height Responsible For Defeat; J. V.'s Fight Hard

The Newark High School basketball team dropped their season opener to a much larger P. S. duPont team Tuesday afternoon when they journeyed to Wilmington and were on the losing end of the score 58 to 16.

The Dynamiters opened up in the first period and outscored the Jackets 16 to 5 with Big Ed Koffenberg setting the pace for the Dynamiters. The second period found both teams fighting hard and in this period the Jackets were again outscored 7 to 3, giving the home team a 23 to 8 lead at half time.

Koffenberg, Bob Riley and Dave Essick tallied frequently from action in the first half with Koffenberg leading. However, in the closing half, Essick was the main offensive threat. The Dynamiter guard had three field goals in the first half and doubled that figure in the second half to carry off game scoring honors with 19 points.

Koffenberg did most of his scoring in the first two periods when he accounted for seven baskets for a total of 14 points while Riley had five baskets for the game with 10 points.

The Dynamiters outscored the Jackets 27 to 4 from action but were outscored 8 to 4 from the foul stripe.

Buddy Cataldi and Eugene Schean divided scoring honors for the Jackets with one shot from action and two foul goals each. Len George scored one action shot and a foul for 3 points. Bill Pie came through for a two-pointer. Brandon Davis accounted for two foul shots and Harvey Gregg accounted for one foul shot.

The preliminary game was much more closely contested with the P. S. duPont Junior Varsity coming through with a 28 to 71 victory over the Newark team. Held to a 13 to 10 score during the first half the Dynamiters pulled away somewhat during the final half to win the game. Bob McNeal and Harvey Gregg divided scoring honors with 3 points each.

NEWARK FIREMEN TO ELECT

The Aetna Hose, Hook & Ladder Company will hold their regular monthly meeting in the fire house on Friday evening, January 7 at eight-thirty o'clock at which time the annual election of officers will be held.

what goes with all the dues that are collected. Some racket, yes.

Last week Art Bowlsby, one of Newark's greatest bowlers organized a bowling team and issued a challenge to Stanley Gibb's All-Stars. Folks, the Newark Post will now let you in on a secret: Art was low man. He positively rolled the lowest score of the entire ten bowlers. But the rest of the stars on Art's team carried him to victory when the Bowlsby Flashers rolled 252 to 248 to win the match. Jim Beers was high individual scorer for the Bowlsby team with 563 pins and Clifford Lomax was high for the Gibbs team with 540 pins.

What did Art do? Well, he rolled a measly 464. Well, Art, it is all in fun so give the Gibbs team another try. It is reported that Lucid, Leroy C. Hill, Jr., spent his Christmas in the 3th General Hospital, Leroy, we all want to hear that you are well and out of the hospital unless there are a bunch of pretty nurses and then, naturally, we can only envy you.

Admiral Naval Robinson, that former member of the Newark Police Department was just in the office. Naval looks real nice in his uniform.

The girls basketball team representing Triumphant Baltimore on Monday, January 3 and played with the girls team representing the American Hammered Piston Ring Division of the Koppers Company at the Southern High School gymnasium, bringing home the bacon by the score of 27-12.

The Trix girls started slowly and were behind at the end of the first quarter 6-3. Coming Events Scheduled

New Year's Eve was loudly welcomed by Trix employees at parties held in several places. The largest gathering was at Singery Hall where Dick Messner's Orchestra supplemented by floor show attracted over 1000 people.

The party at the Wellwood Club was well attended and Eddie Dwyer's Orchestra furnished music for dancing until 1:30 P. M. when a delicious breakfast was served.

The Trix jitterbug contest held at the Armory Wednesday, December 29 in connection with the regular U.S.O. dance attracted about one dozen couples. Virginia Murson of Building 109 and her partner, Bill Fellow of the Naval Training School at Bainbridge were the winning couple. Betty Steele of Industrial Relations Department and her partner Joe Platanio also of Bainbridge won the second award. Margaret Montgomery and her partner Bill Waller of the Aberdeen Proving Grounds received honorable mention.

The men's basketball team journeyed to Newark Thursday and practiced on the University of Delaware court. This week they will play the rubber game with Oxford at Elkton High School and visit Fort Miles to play the soldiers the latter part of the week. On Thursday the 13th the Kennett Square Team, led by former Trix player, Joe Crossan, will visit Elkton to play the Trix team in the high school.

Navy Course Available To 17-18-Year Olds

Naval aviation training that leads to commissions in either the Navy or the Marine Corps is offered 17 and 18-year-olds who recently graduated from high school or will graduate in 1944.

Successful applicants for flight training designated by the Navy as the V-5 program — who graduate prior to March 1 will receive two semesters of instruction in the V-12 (A) college program.

That means they will attend regular college classes for approximately eight months before being assigned to a Flight Preparatory School to begin the initial phase of the Navy's carefully planned and well-rounded V-5 program.

Upon successful completion of the prescribed training cadets have the option of taking a commission as an ensign in the U. S. Naval Reserve or second lieutenant in the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve.

Detailed information may be obtained from the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board, Widener Bldg., Philadelphia, or at U. S. Navy recruiting offices throughout the Fourth Naval District.

DELAWARE FARM FRONT THIS WEEK

Committee To Allocate Oil Feeds

Pressure cookers have been released from rationing and no longer require purchase certificates, according to C. E. Ocheltree, chairman of the Delaware AAA Committee.

OPA has established ceiling prices on corn, mixed feed, animal product feed stuff, fertilizer, wheat, and corn products which they would be glad to furnish to anyone interested. Just drop a card with your name and address to the OPA, Pennsylvania Building, Wilmington, Delaware.

An allocation of 6,500 pounds of copper wire, for release during January, February, and March to farmers in war production which requires its use, has been made for Delaware. Maximum to which any farmer is eligible is 75 pounds where no current is available, and 50 pounds to an old user. No farmer is eligible for more than his minimum essential needs for the duration. Further information is available through county AAA offices.

A State Feed Advisory Committee of feed dealers, farmer, and representatives of the College of Agriculture and AAA has been set up to distribute oil feeds allocated to the State. Members are C. E. Ocheltree, chairman of the State AAA Committee; W. K. Woolman, of Red Comb Mills; A. E. Tomhave of the College of Agriculture; M. L. Doordan of O. A. Newton & Son Company; Richard Case of New Castle County; Douglas Fry of Kent County; and Lester C. Newton of Sussex County.

Each county has set up its own advisory committee and will accept orders from farmers, feeders and dealers. These orders will be forwarded to the State AAA office before the end of each month so that the State Advisory Committee can allocate quantities in proportion to the orders submitted. Anyone who wishes to obtain oil feeds should apply through his county AAA feed committee.

C. E. Ocheltree, has announced that the Dairy Feed Payments for Delaware totaled $38,510.60 in October.

The War Food Administration has announced Government action to conserve livestock feed and make best utilization of available supplies in producing maximum volume of livestock products. This action is in conjunction with the OPA change in ceiling price of corn and freezing of prices of oats, barley, and grain sorghums pending placing of ceiling prices on these grains.

Steps taken include (1) Elimination of subsidy CCC has been paying on corn moving from surplus to eastern and southern deficit areas. Elimination of this payment was taken into account in the program whereby WFA is making payments to dairymen to offset the increase in prices of feed since September 1942. (2) Increase of 20 cents per bushel in the price of feed wheat on and after December 6. This change will help conserve transportation, since relatively low prices of feed wheat made it difficult to prevent unnecessary hauling of feed wheat into some areas and other feed grains out of the same areas. (3) Offer to buy corn during the remainder of this month at the old ceiling price in 150 counties on the fringe of the corn belt where the new ceiling on corn represents a reduction in prices.

The total program is designed to bring prices of various feed grains more nearly in line with one another to use and conserve various grains in the most efficient way possible and make more feed available for deficit areas.

ADDRESSES ON RATION BOOKS URGED

300 Lost Books Forwarded To Dead Letter Office

Hundreds of lost ration books dropped in the mails by the finders are being sent to the dead letter office every month because the owners failed to fill in their addresses on the covers. The Office of Price Administration said today.

Because of lack of addresses or incorrect addresses, more than 300 lost books could not be forwarded to their owners by the Post Office Department in the last two months. Instead, these books had to be sent to the dead letter office, with the result that applications for new books had to be made at local War Price and Rationing Boards.

Through the cooperation of the Post Office authorities, lost ration books deposited in the mails are forwarded directly to the owners whenever they can be located. When no address or an incorrect one is on a book, however, it has to be sent to the dead letter office.

O.P.A. Organizes Forces To Prevent Profiteering

It is thought that the War Food Administration's order freezing storage stocks of dressed poultry for use of the armed forces may give rise to the revival of profiteering practices by some producers and sellers of poultry, according to Col. John LeFevre, District Enforcement Attorney.

The Enforcement Department of the OPA has organized the manpower already allocated to this commodity and is intent on scotching this practice before it gets started. Producers and dealers are warned to comply with the law, as the Regional Office has advised that it will back the Enforcement Department to the limit.

BLOODLINES RESPONSIBLE FOR HIGH EGG YIELD

Well Kept Flocks Give Good Average Production

More than 55,000 hens that lay, on the average, more than 200 eggs a year are setting the pace for high egg production in poultry flocks in the United States, according to Garry A. Miles, extension poultryman for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

Most of these hens are of six principal varieties — the White Leghorn, New Hampshire, Barred and White Plymouth Rocks, Rhode Island Red, and White Wyandotte.

However, Mr. Miles points out that their records, compiled by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, shows no material superiority by any breed, but rather that good bloodlines are responsible for yields that average as high as 210 eggs a year for the leading group and 208 for the runner-up. These and other production records appear in the latest report of the co-ordinators of the National Poultry Improvement Plan, sponsored by the United States Department of Agriculture and cooperating states.

This progress has been made possible by daily tramping of the laying flocks and pedigreeing of the chicks. Family bloodlines have been studied. Those families that have some hens laying poorly, whose eggs do not hatch so well as the average, or whose chicks do not live and grow well, are sold. In this way it has been possible over a period of years to increase egg production and improve the livability, growth, and feathering of the offspring.

Delaware owners of laying flocks can thank these Record of Performance breeders for the superior birds of today as compared to the quality of birds ten years ago.
