

"Charity Begins At Home" Features Bid For Local Members In Needlework Guild

The Newark branch of the Needlework Guild of America announces that its annual clothing drive is being conducted until Oct. 29, and for the 44th consecutive year, members of the local group—believing that "charity begins at home"—are making and purchasing articles of new clothing and household linens to be distributed to the needy of the Newark area.

The Todd-Hill-Park branch of this garment-giving charity group joins 400 NGA groups in 35 states, with an invitation for membership.

Mrs. Devey, president of the Todd-Hill-Park Needlework Guild, and membership chairman are Mrs. James Rowan, and Mrs. Thomas Sikes, and Mrs. Charles Witt.

The Todd-Hill-Park group will have its incanting and display of garments on Nov. 4, at Kingswood, of Brookside Methodist Church at 8 p.m.

Branch officers and directors invite all local women to participate in this traditional work of charity. The contribution of two or more articles of new clothing are the only membership requirements.

This year, the greatest demand is for children's school clothing in sizes 6, 8, 10 and 12, and warm winter clothing for children and adults.

Anyone wishing to join the Guild is asked to contact any officer or director.

Mrs. John Sinclair is president; Mrs. Alex Cobb and Mrs. Thomas

Foster, vice-presidents; Mrs. Daniel Stoll, secretary; and Mrs. Taggart Evans is treasurer of the Newark branch.

Directors: Anna Frazer, Mrs. Etta Wilson, Mrs. Anna Coates, Mrs. Harvey Dickey, Mrs. Robert Price, Mrs. John H. Cronin, Mrs. Milton Draper, Mrs. Frances Leonard, Mrs. Edward Ginther, Mrs. William Holton, Mrs. Eugene Stultz, Mrs. R. J. Hawes, Mrs. Robert Yarny, Mrs. Richard Cooch, Mrs. Edward Richiell, Mrs. Walter Moore, and members of Omicron chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

"Know University" Program Planned For State Women

More than 200 Delaware women are expected at the University of Delaware on Tuesday, Oct. 26, for an all-day program to keep informed on developments in higher education and progress at the university.

The program "Know Your University," is sponsored by the American Association of University Women, Delaware division, the State Federation of Women's Clubs, and the advisory committee on education of women.

Two concurrent morning panels, both featuring university speakers, will be one of the day's highlights.

One panel is devoted to "Continuing Education for Myself." Moderators, and talking about job opportunities for women, will be Mrs. Geraldine Wyatt, director of placement, Other speakers will be John A. Murray, director of the extension division; Dr. C. Ernest Birchenall, dean of graduate studies; and Dr. Elizabeth Lloyd, director of teacher education and professional standards for Delaware.

Moderating the second panel will be Dean of Women Bessie B. Collins. Discussing various aspects of "Continuing Education for My Family" will be Assistant Dean Harold Kaufman on financial aid; Dr. Edward R. Ott, director of admissions; Margaret H. Black, university counselor; and Otis P. Jefferson, director of the community college.

After luncheon in the Student Center and a talk by Dr. John A. Perkins, university president, there will be a choice of three tours: language laboratories in Old College, the Student Center and Russell residence hall complex, and the Morris Library and home economics building. Students will be tour guides.

Committee members for "Know Your University Day" are Mrs. Earl B. Tull of Seaford, chairman; Mrs. John E. Burris of Milford, Dean Collins and Mrs. E. K. Ellingboe; Mrs. Mrs. A. Felix duPont Jr., Mrs. S. Marston Fox, and Mrs. Albert James of Wilmington.

Persons interested in attending may call Mrs. Tull, Mrs. Burris, or Mrs. Fox. Registration deadline is this Saturday.

Schools To Close Early On Tuesday For Teacher Study

Students To Be Dismissed From Afternoon Classes For Curriculum Workshop

School District will close early next Tuesday so that teachers may attend a special curriculum workshop under the direction of Dr. George V. Kirk, assistant superintendent for instruction. Elementary schools will be dismissed at 1:30, and secondary schools at 2:30, and school buses will be scheduled accordingly.

Meetings will be held in Christiana High and Ogletown Junior High schools.

Emphasis of the first curriculum workshop of the 1965-66 school year will be on social studies, led by Dr. J. D. McAulay, a professor from Penn State, and author of books on teaching social studies.

Gary L. Hout, state supervisor of English, will direct work in English grades 7 to 12; Grayson Wheatley, University of Delaware professor, and Albert Kingston, textbook author, will be in charge of the mathematics session; and Louise Little, assistant professor of foods and nutrition at the University of Delaware, will conduct the workshop for physical education, and home economics teachers and nurses. In art, Dr. Fred Schwartz, director of the Philadelphia College of Art, will conduct the session; Dr. Donald Maley, a University of Maryland professor, will be in charge of the industrial arts and vocational education section; and Ruth Harrison, professor at Trenton State College, will head the music workshop.

The program "Know Your University," is sponsored by the American Association of University Women, Delaware division, the State Federation of Women's Clubs, and the advisory committee on education of women.

18 Students At Newark High School Win Commendation In National Merit Tests

The office of Principal Frederick B. Kutz at Newark High School this week looked more like the U. S. Post Office with letters of commendation to students for their outstanding performance in National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Tests they took last spring.

Eighteen students from Newark High School were honored for their achievement on this test, and National Merit Scholarship Corporation President John N. Stalnaker noted that only the top 2 per cent of students in the United States are so honored.

The fact that Newark High School received 18 letters of commendation, means that better than 7 per cent of the senior class at Newark High School ranks in the top 2 per cent of senior high school students throughout the country.

Letters of commendation winners at Newark High School include Sigurd Andersen, Wayne Bonner, Gordon Christensen, Mark Courson, Robert Curran, Sheila Deeds, Dana Frazier, Linda Glisson, Linda Handloff, Marilyn Jay, Benjamin Kerner, Josephine McCloud, Perry Mitchell, Steven Roberts, Janet Rush, Larry Shankles, Emily Trapnell, and Matthew Zeisberg.

Christiana High School, which had one semi-finalist—Alan P. Mullen—was notified this week that two of its students are receiving letters of commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

These Christiana students are Susan M. Brackin and Robert J. Halstead.

The Newark special school district has five semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, and 22 students receiving letters of commendation.

The Academy report said, in part, "The university should move as rapidly as possible to establish a new community college facility in the Wilmington area. The two-year programs, including those now given on the main university campus in Newark, should be concentrated at this new facility, thereby avoiding duplication of programs in two relatively nearby locations and releasing space and resources on the main university campus to meet burgeoning requirements of full-time undergraduate and graduate work."

Most of the factors which have led to creation of two-year institutions in other states are prevalent in Delaware, Perkins said. He cited the state's rapidly growing population; the increasing number of Delaware high school students seeking some kind of post high school education; and a four-year university program and hence, a need for broader educational opportunity.

Among its initial offerings, the university's community college would include chemical technology, drafting, electronic data processing, merchandising, secretarial science and commercial art.

Emphasis would be placed on technical division courses and other curricula developed in accordance with needs of students and local industry.

The university already has leased two buildings in Wilmington and made plans to remodel them. Otis P. Jefferson was appointed director of the community college last year.

In response to continuing public demand, the university is prepared to offer another bill for the consideration of the General Assembly when it meets this fall.

This $346,282 supplementary appropriation act would authorize establishment of the community college under the administration of the university and would provide funds for building rental, renovations, purchase and installation of equipment, and administration of the pre-enrollment phase of the program.

Post High School Training Program Sought At Dover

Community College Funds Requested By University For Two-Year Curriculum

The University of Delaware is continuing its efforts to provide post high school training for the young people of the state.

Officials reveal that more than 300 inquiries have been received from parents, prospective students and high school guidance counselors regarding the status of the community college program.

In a letter this summer to Gov. Charles I. Terry and members of the General Assembly, President John A. Perkins reiterated willingness of the university to develop a number of two-year terminal programs if legislators grant necessary funds.

A bill which would have provided a supplemental appropriation to establish and equip a community college in northern Delaware was introduced in January, but was not acted upon before the General Assembly recessed.

President Perkins points out that Delaware, New Hampshire and Tennessee are the only states which do not have a branch campus of the major state university, a community college, or a public junior college.

Founding of a community college under auspices of the university was recommended last year by the Academy for Educational Development, Inc., nationally recognized consultants in the field of higher education, whose staff evaluated the university's long-range plans for serving Delaware's educational needs.

The Academy report said, in part, "The university should move as rapidly as possible to establish a new community college facility in the Wilmington area. The two-year programs, including those now given on the main university campus in Newark, should be concentrated at this new facility, thereby avoiding duplication of programs in two relatively nearby locations and releasing space and resources on the main university campus to meet burgeoning requirements of full-time undergraduate and graduate work."

Delaware Graduate In Class Of 1965 Gets AICHE Award

A June honoree graduate in chemical engineering from the University of Delaware is winner of one of six awards in a student contest conducted by the American Institute of Chemical Engineers in the United States and Canada.

Bruce M. Herzog of Seaford, N. Y., now a graduate student at the University of Minnesota, received one of three honorable mention awards in the contest.

The AICHE contest involved individual work on a long problem relating to industrial practice of chemical engineering. Herzog's report covered some 50 pages.

He will receive a certificate at a December meeting of AICHE in Philadelphia.

All Delaware chemical engineering seniors submitted entries as part of a course in process design taught by Dr. T. W. F. Russell.

Dr. Robert L. Pigford, chairman of the chemical engineering department, said, "We took on this course as an integrating factor of the senior student's entire curriculum. It's indicative of the equal emphasis we try to give to practical application of studies for students going into industry and a firm background in the field for those who plan to go on to graduate school."

Pigford said Herzog was the third Delaware winner, joining a second place recipient several years ago, and another honorable mention in 1963.

Maryland Highway Deaths Up 25 Per Cent In 1965

Of 20 persons killed in Maryland highway accidents last week, speed was a contributing factor in 13 of them; and in six of the speed fatalities, alcohol also was a contributing factor.

Eleven operators were among those killed, together with eight passengers and one pedestrian, a nine year old child alighting from a bus into the path of an approaching vehicle.

Superintendent of Maryland State Police, Col. Carey Jarman, pointed out that the total number of highway fatalities this year up to mid-month, Oct. 10, has reached 331, almost 25 per cent above last year's total for the same period.

"This is indeed a dismal picture," Col. Jarman said, "and if it continues for the rest of the year we will reach the staggering total of 760 as compared with 616 in 1964."

RHEUMATIC FEVER

Most cases of rheumatic fever can be prevented by forestalling or by treating adequately a strep throat, an infection caused by the streptococcal germ which precedes most attacks of rheumatic fever. Rheumatic fever usually will not follow when treatment of the strep infection is prompt and complete.

This is a serious disease because the heart can be affected during its acute stage.

Due to modern methods of treatment and prevention most children who get rheumatic fever now-a-days recover even when their hearts are involved.

Rheumatic fever can leave the valves of the heart scarred. If this scarring is severe, it may prevent the heart from pumping efficiently. This sometimes causes the child to have a shortness of breath and prevents activities of the normal child.

Rheumatic fever in its milder and less typical forms can be difficult to recognize. A child who is run down, has a poor appetite, is pale and listless—can't gain weight, and who has pains during the day in his wrists, knees and ankles—should be examined by his doctor. These symptoms may not necessarily mean that he has rheumatic fever, but he needs a good physical check-up to determine what is wrong.

Rheumatic fever is so-called because its most conspicuous form causes fever with pain and swelling in the joints. The child can be very sick and uncomfortable.

Rheumatic fever is not contagious, but the streptococcal infection which precedes it is.

A child who has a sudden high temperature should be put to bed and other children kept away until the doctor has had a chance to examine him and diagnose the cause of the fever.

This column is a weekly service of your doctor through the Medical Society of Delaware.

Plant Evergreens In Golden October Stevens Suggests

One of the best times of the year to plant evergreens is October, says Robert F. Stevens, University of Delaware extension horticulturist. Balled and burlapped plants, newly transplanted, make good root growth during the late fall and even during the winter months. This growth helps the plant to withstand hot summers.

Selecting the right evergreen for each location can be a real problem. There are dozens of different evergreens to choose from, each with its own characteristics. Which is best for a particular spot depends on exposure, amount of sunlight, soil and drainage. Pay attention to how well it will blend in with surrounding plants. Don't forget the ultimate height and width to which evergreen grow.

Yews are perhaps more widely used in this area than any other evergreen because they are so versatile. Stevens says. Yews will grow in almost any exposure, in full sunlight or in almost total shade. In addition, they have very few insect or disease troubles. However, they do require good drainage.

Yews are available in several varieties with similar foliage but different growth habits. The dwarf Japanese yew is one of the best. Slow growing but spreading, it seldom grows taller than 3 ft. during the first 15 years.

Many of the intermediate yews such as Hicks, Hatfield, and Brown's yews are excellent in locations where plants 6 to 8 ft. tall are needed.

The Japanese holly is widely used, and it is fairly free from attacks by insects and disease.

Azaleas and rhododendrons are among the most colorful of all the broadleaf evergreens. Be very careful to choose azaleas and rhododendrons that are a hardy type, Stevens suggests.

Protection from winter winds is important for many broadleaf evergreens.

Your local nurseryman can help you to select the right evergreen for your home. Now is the best time to replace old plants and fill in with new plantings, Stevens advises.

Complete planting instructions are included in two publications — "Hedges" and "Planting Trees and

Stock Show For Juniors Scheduled For Oct. 29

Thirty-five Delaware Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club members will enter 74 animals in the second annual Delaware Junior Market Stock Show at Carroll's sales barn, Felton, on Oct. 29.

Sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service at the University of Delaware, the program is open to 4-H Club and FFA members with livestock projects.

The aim of the show is to encourage young people to learn how to select, feed, manage and market livestock, according to Donald Burton, associate dairy and livestock specialist at the University of Delaware.

Shrubs, available from the Mailing Room at the University of Delaware Agricultural Hall.

Classes Underway At Downes School With First Year

Newark's newest school, the John R. Downes elementary building on Casho Mill Road in Newark, is "off and running" for its first year of service to students of the area, with an enrollment of more than 700.

While all instructional areas at the Downes School were ready on opening day, Sept. 9, there were some problems.

Cafeteria tables were not delivered on time, and Dr. John X. Auletto, principal, had to request children to bring their lunches or to go home for lunch during the first week of school.

Temporary tables have been placed in the cafeteria, and students are able to use their cafeteria as originally planned.

The John R. Downes School is the first two-story elementary building constructed in the Newark District since the Central School in 1951.

The new school serves an area which is bounded on the west and north by the Maryland and Pennsylvania state lines.

The library is located on the second floor, and visitors entering the school this week would have been surprised to see how few books were on the shelves.

Mrs. Audrey Kurman, librarian, would have been delighted to explain that all books arrived and were catalogued in advance, but that children are using the books.

On the first day, children were able to use the library, and more than 300 books were circulated.

OUT-OF-POCKET MONEY!

THE ROAD TO CENTRALISM

Since the new Department of Housing and Urban Affairs will be headed by a secretary with cabinet status, it might be well to speculate on the long-range effect on federal-state-local relations.

Will this action, along with the mandatory reapportionment of state and national legislative districts, help silence the voices of the small towns and rural areas in state and national legislatures? Will this move increasingly solidify federal intervention into problems once considered the sole province of city and state?

Only time will tell. However, it does seem that the quickest way to solve local problems, to create homes of dignity and neighborhoods of pride, would be to give the cities tax sources now pre-empted by the federal government and let them solve their own problems.

It is ludicrous to assume that a Washington bureaucrat is in a better position to judge what is good for the local community—today and tomorrow—than astute leading citizens of the community.

WEEK FOR PATRIOTIC EDUCATION

Patriotic Education Week is observed throughout the nation by members of the Children of the American Revolution during this week of Oct. 10.

The theme this year is "Defending Your American Liberties" with emphasis on the influence of the Magna Carta in this, its 750th year, on American freedom documents.

The Bill of Rights—amendments to the United States Constitution—granted all citizens of the United States of America certain liberties. Thereby, the citizenry by law is entitled to these liberties, and they cannot rightfully be taken away. The Magna Carta was an influence eventually on the formation of a democracy in this great nation—a government of the people, by the people, and for the people.

It is important that elder citizens in partnership with young citizens throughout the nation review the American liberties they are guaranteed through study of American freedom documents and discover the significance of the principle established in the Magna Carta that the leader is "under law" and not "above law." This was the first written philosophy suggesting a democracy, and it influenced the philosophy written in American documents of freedom.

Delawareans are proud to live in the first state to ratify the supreme law of the land—the United States Constitution—which by law governs all national, state and local government.

"I urge all Delawareans to join members of the Children of the American Revolution in a week of patriotic education," Gov. Charles L. Terry, Jr., said.

LBJ Presents Pen To Roberta Leak After Signing Bill

Roberta Leak, a nurse with the New Castle County health unit, has a personal gift from President Lyndon B. Johnson—a pen he used to sign the heart disease, cancer and stroke bill.

Miss Leak, of 233 East Park Place, Newark, was vacationing and was outside the White House on Pennsylvania Avenue when the President walked out on Wednesday of last week after signing the bill.

After he shook her hand, Miss Leak told him she was a public health nurse.

"Marvin, give me a pen," President Johnson said to Marvin Watson, an aide.

Handing it to Miss Leak, the President said, "This ought to have a great deal of meaning to you. We just signed the heart, cancer and stroke bill."

"Union Challenge" Conference Topic At Student Center

The University of Delaware's Student Center will be host next week to representatives from its counterparts at some 50 colleges and universities, with a regional conference of the International Association of College Unions meeting for two days at the modern facility on the Newark campus.

Some 150 students representing Delaware, New Jersey, Philadelphia, New York City, and Puerto Rico colleges will attend the Oct. 22-23 regional conference with the theme "Challenge of the Union."

Participating in discussions on various aspects of student center operations will be pupils from Hofstra and New York universities, LaSalle College, Fairleigh Dickinson, and the University of Delaware.

Officers of the University of Delaware Student Center Council include Joseph Gilmour, Jr., president; Olivia Rispoli, secretary; and Richard M. Quinn, treasurer.

State Tractor Champion Takes 11th In Regionals

Charles Ebling, 16, of Townsend, placed 11th in the recent eastern regional 4-H tractor operators' contest conducted at the Virginia State Fair in Richmond. He competed with contestants representing 22 states.

Norman Collins, agricultural engineer at the University of Delaware, served as his coach.

Charles is a member of the Stump Corner 4-H Club, and a junior at Middletown High School.

STUDENT PRR TICKETS

A new cut-rate ticket is being added to low fares available to riders of the Pennsylvania Railroad's Blue Diamond between Delmar and Wilmington. The 46-trip monthly school ticket will be sold to students attending public or private schools in the area served by the train.

Olds Toronado Sets Record In Climbing Pike's Peak

The United States Auto Club reports that Oldsmobile's new front-wheel-drive Toronado has soared up the twisting dirt road to the top of mighty Pike's Peak, climbing the 14,110-ft. mountain in just over 14 minutes—the best time recorded by any stock powered automobile this year.

An official timer clocked the Toronado at 14:09.9 during its start-to-finish scramble, and the results were certified by the records division of the United States Auto Club.

State Land-Judging Contest Offered FFA, 4-H Youths

The third annual Delaware State Land Judging Contest will be held Saturday, Oct. 30, at the University of Delaware Georgetown Substation on Route 28. Delaware Future Farmers of America and 4-H Club members are eligible to compete.

The event is planned to provide learning experience for young people interested in soil and water conservation. Contestants are required to decide whether the land used in the contest is best suited for continuous row crop, rotation pasture, occasional plowing, permanent pasture, trees or wildlife and recreational use.

Eligible contestants are still being accepted. Additional information is available from 4-H agents in Newark, Dover and Georgetown.

County Agents To Attend Convention In Pittsburgh

Four county agricultural agents from Delaware are to attend the annual meeting of the National Association of County Agents in Pittsburgh, Oct. 31 to Nov. 4.

Edward Schabinger, New Castle county agent; George Vapaa, Kent; Bill Henderson, and Ed Ralph, Sussex county agents, are expected among some 2,000 extension agents at the meeting.

In Delaware, the extension service is part of the college of agricultural sciences at the University of Delaware.

COOLER WEATHER IS GOING TO BE COMING ALONG any day now, and wouldn't it be fun to have an exciting new present on hand for a little girl in your family? As Alice in Wonderland would say — it's an "un-birthday" present, which sometimes makes it even more treasured because it doesn't come on your birthday, and so it's a complete surprise.

The tremendous choice of colors will enable you to coordinate this set with your child's coat, and will perhaps be a beginning lesson for her in fashion ideas. Crocheted in the simplest of stitches, the glamorous rick rack trim gives a very special dressy effect. Detailed instructions for both the bag and the hat are available by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet PG 1602.

FASHION SHOW

The Todd Estates Civic Association will have a dessert-card party-fashion show next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Ogletown Junior High School cafeteria.

Fashions will be shown by Lucille's and hair styles will be by White Mink. Tickets will be sold at the door.

Fitness Field Day To Be Conducted In Scout District

How fit are American youth? The Capital Trail District Boy Scouts of America will find out this Saturday with a Fitness Field Day program at Brandywine Springs Park between 9 a. m. and 12:30 p. m.

The Boy Scouts Fit For Tomorrow program is in its second year, and some 200 Scouts from 20 troops in the Newark to Price's Corner to Hockessin area will compete in nine individual events.

Included are a 50-yd. dash, 600-yd. run-walk, obstacle course, rope climb, push-ups, baseball accuracy throw, life line throw, log-rolling, and broad jump, according to Chairman Richard Brindley.

District health and safety chairman Joseph Murphy points out that "Scouting already includes a vigorous outdoor experience as part of its year 'round activity."

"But more than this, a daily fitness plan is needed in our modern society to replace exercise now given over to modern gadgets."

"Fitness is an individual need. Our program stresses this to the boy and helps him recognize just how fit he is," Murphy concluded.

Dental Conference Slated Wednesday For Local Campus

Thirteen dentists from the New Jersey dental research group will present talks and lead discussions at a dental practice management conference at the University of Delaware next Wednesday, sponsored by the Delaware Academy of Dental Practice Management, which is headed by Dr. David A. Slade.

Some 200 dentists and auxiliary personnel from a four-state area are expected at the all-day workshop in the Student Center.

Dentists, along with their wives, assistants, and hygienists from Delaware, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, and the District of Columbia will attend.

Free Bulletin On Pickles Cited By Janet Coblenz

Tangy, crisp pickles stimulate appetites and add zest to meals all year around. Take advantage of the plentiful supply of vegetables and fruits at harvesttime to make your own pickles and relishes, says Janet Coblenz, foods specialist at the University of Delaware.

"To be sure your pickles turn out well, use only the best ingredients, modern, tested recipes and proper equipment," she says. Be careful to follow directions exactly and to store pickles properly.

A U. S. Dept. of Agriculture publication, "Making Pickles and Relishes at Home," is available free from the Agricultural Hall Mailing Room, University of Delaware, Newark.

SPRING PLANNING

Spring garden planning begins now in garden shops and nurseries. They are stocked with an excellent supply

What's the Limit?

The most sensible way to handle a heavy burden is to carry it on your head. This conclusion emerged from a United Nations International Labor Organization (ILO) panel which drafted human-load recommendations based on scientific studies dating back to 1951. The panel noted that millions of laborers in all countries spend their working days carrying boxes, bales, sacks and other containers filled with an endless variety of items.

The studies showed that head-carrying is best, as it spreads the load evenly over the body and helps reduce postural effort. One panelist listed sprains, circulatory damage, hernia, skeletal deformities, back pains and feet and joint injuries among the hazards of improper carrying or overloading. The experts recommended that a load for an adult male be limited to 88 pounds. For boys from 16 to 18 years old and for women, the recommended maximum is 33 to 44 pounds; and for girls from 16 to 18 years, 26½ to 33 pounds. Below that age, regular load-carrying should normally be prohibited, the panel said.

Load size as well as weight is a factor. One expert cited the fatigue experienced by French carriers who, under a 110-pound bale of bottle corks, "look like an 18-month-old baby playing with a large balloon."

High School Pupils To Have Briefing By Leaders At UD

Delaware high school students will be briefed next month on the University of Delaware and its programs at three information nights — one in each county.

High schoolers and their parents will have opportunities to meet with college deans and heads of several departments.

Format for each of the three meetings will be the same—a general discussion of the university's admission policies by Dr. Edward R. Ott, director of admissions, followed by three 30-min. sessions of specific information about various programs.

Deans of the colleges of agricultural sciences; arts and science; business and economics; education, engineering, and home economics will be on hand, along with representatives from the military science, nursing, and community college divisions.

The New Castle County meeting will be on Thursday, Nov. 18, at Salesianum High School, 18th and Broom Streets, Wilmington, at 7:30 p. m.

Bulls To Discuss Russia For Suburban Clubwomen

The Suburban Newark Women's Club will have its first dinner meeting of the season next Monday at 6:45 p. m. in the Iron Hill Room of Howard Johnson's on South College Avenue when Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bull, who recently traveled in Russia, will speak on "The Russian Woman."

Bull is a member of the University of Delaware faculty and director of its Food Business Institute. Mrs. Donald Thomas is chairman for this meeting.

Adjustment To Conditions Advised For Safe Driving

"Unless drivers learn to adjust to conditions, accidents and fatalities will rise rapidly in coming months," President James T. Ferri of the Delaware Safety Council said today.

"There are many conditions which affect driving and when they change from normal, speed must be adjusted or the chances of accidents are much greater," Ferri pointed out.

"The important thing to remember," Ferri said, "is that we seldom meet these conditions one at a time. Usually they gang up on us and make it difficult to drive safely."

"Always adjust speed to prevailing conditions to allow yourself time to see and react to any problem that may develop when you drive."

Aberdeen Proving Ground Offers Civilian Positions

He is a graduate of Newark High School and attended the University of Delaware.

NO FALL SIGN-UP

No fall sign-up is expected for any 1966 wheat program which may be made available, Chairman Paul Hastings, of the agricultural stabilization and conservation state committee, said today. Legislation is under consideration by Congress which would authorize continuation of a voluntary wheat certificate and a feed grain program, and if these are enacted into law, the intention is to hold concurrent sign-ups for both wheat and feed grains next spring.

University Offers Non-Credit Course On Stock Market

"Understanding the Stock Market," a non-credit course offered by the University of Delaware's extension division, will open Nov. 2 for 10 weekly sessions at P. S. du Pont High School in Wilmington.

A similar course, meeting Thursday nights at the same location, started Sept. 23.

The first section was oversubscribed, so the Tuesday night course was arranged, according to Art McDaniel, supervisor of continuing education.

Dr. Irving C. Kogon will teach the second section too.

Registration materials can be obtained by writing the extension division at the University of Delaware, 79 Amstel Avenue, Newark.

Deadline for registering is Oct. 29.

Catalina, who learned to operate and maintain electronic communications and computer equipment associated with the nation's air defense system, is being assigned to Finley Air Force Station, N. D.

The airman is a graduate of Christiana High School.

Chrysler Chief Predicts 10-Million Car Sales Year

A 10-million-car sales year could be reached in one of the next three years, "given the right combination of favorable conditions," according to Chrysler Corporation President Lynn A. Townsend.

Speaking at the recent annual convention of the American Bankers Association, Townsend said that in view of growth possibilities "it seems entirely reasonable to expect at least another nine-million car year in 1966."

Looking further ahead, the Chrysler president added "by 1975, the automobile industry should be ready to build and sell in the neighborhood of 13-million new cars a year."

Home Economics Session

Members of the Delaware home economics extension staff are to be among the 200 people attending a regional conference on "Working with Low-Income Families" this Friday in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Alice King, Delaware state leader of home economics extension, will preside at the afternoon session, and Mrs. Mary Sudler, Kent-Sussex extension agent, will take part in a "Programs in Action" symposium.

Janet Coblenz, foods nutrition specialist; Dr. Mary Jane Stratner, associate professor of home economics at the university; and Mrs. King represented Delaware on the conference planning committee.

Listen To Your Tires Talk Says Safety Council Chief

Do you realize that tires on your car or truck can talk to you? Well, they do, according to James T. Ferri, president of the Delaware Safety Council.

Tires can whisper quietly that all's right in their world; that they are properly inflated, properly aligned and properly balanced. Tires also can clamor loudly that they are in dangerous condition, ready to blow out, possibly hurling you and your vehicle into the path of oncoming traffic or off the road and into a tree.

Ferri said, "All drivers should listen to the warnings of their tires because it's an absolute must for highway safety."

Halfbacks Fulton, Kelley Score For NHS In 20-6 Triumph Over P. S. du Pont High

Halfbacks Dick Fulton and Dick Kelley—playing the entire game at the halfback posts for Coach Bob Hoffman's Yellowjackets—accounted for all of the Newark scoring last Saturday morning as the Jackets defeated P. S. du Pont 20-6 on the Newark field.

The 3-0 Yellowjackets face 2-1 William Penn at New Castle this Saturday afternoon at 1:30, with Fulton the leading scorer in the state, and Newark sharing first place with 3-0 Wilmington High School in the race for the Blue Hen Conference championship.

Vacationing in Canada's wild bush country, with a cabin on Lake Weslemkoon in a more remote portion of the Province of Ontario, Newark City Manager J. Francis Neide was disappointed with the Canadian fishing that fell far short of the kind he had read about.

Mr. Neide was told that there were no Northern nor walleyed pike in the lake, and his experience certainly confirmed this report.

The lake trout were few and deep down in the cold water, and the few natives in the area advised against any effort expended in quest of these high pressure piscatorial prowlers.

"I haven't caught one in two years," a Canadian sportsman of the area said sadly.

But there were small-mouthed black bass, rock bass, and yellow perch in Lake Weslemkoon in abundance, and during the first week of his three-week stay in the wilderness, Francis Neide had some stirring sport with these substitutes for pike and lakereels.

"The first cast I made from the cabin shore resulted in a strike—a good one," Mr. Neide recalled. "Something knocked a yellow jitterslug about 2-ft. in the air—and I missed the fish," he frowned in retrospect.

Tom Van Grofski Paces Delaware In Total Offense

Quarterback Tom Van Grofski leads the Delaware football team in passing, punting, total offense and scoring after three games, and the 185-pound senior from Bloomfield, N. J., had his best day of the season in leading the Blue Hens to a 40-7 win over Lafayette last Saturday. He completed 10 of 19 passes for 138 yards and one touchdown; and scored another touchdown himself, and made three of four conversion attempts.

Van has completed 26 of 55 passes for 310 yards; punting 11 times for an average of 42.3 yards; and rushed for 70 yards in 24 carries. He leads the team in scoring with 15 points. "He called a fine game," Backfield Coach Harold Raymond said, "and our overall offensive performance was much better."

Sophomore Halfback Brian Wright of Rockville, Md., continues to lead the Hens in rushing with 231 yards in 45 attempts, an average of 5.1 yards.

Another sophomore halfback—Ed Mason of Springfield, Pa.—picked up 73 yards against Lafayette, and has 145 yards in three games.

Van Grofski is third in rushing with 70 yards.

Mike Purzycki, junior end from Mason, N. J., is the Hens leading receiver with 11 catches for 104 yards.

Wright is second with five receptions for 50 yards.

Flynn's Freshmen To Face Lafayette Here This Friday

Delaware's freshman 1-0 football team hosts the 0-1 Lafayette frosh at Frazer Field this Friday at 4 p.m. Coach Jimmy Flynn's Blue Chicks defeated the Lehigh freshmen 12-0 in their opener last week, and the Lafayette freshmen lost 14-7 to the Penn. frosh.

Delaware will be without the services of Halfback Jack Holland of Netcong, N. J., Holland, who paced the win over Lehigh with 68 yards rushing, suffered a broken leg in practice early this week.

"Jack was our top running back against Lehigh," Flynn said. "We don't have much depth at halfback and his loss really hurts."

Holland will be replaced by Jim Lazarski of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.

The rest of the backfield will be the same with John Baumann of Royal Oak, Mich., the other halfback; Mike Kwiatkowski of Clifton Heights, Pa., at fullback; and George Karabinos of Pittsburgh and Stan Graber of East Greenville, Pa., alternating at quarterback.

Flynn was particularly impressed with the Hens' defensive performance against Lehigh, and had special praise for Linebacker Bill Laughlin of Pittsburgh; Tackle Henry Volendoff of Maple Glen, Pa.; and Safety Chuck McCallion of New Castle.

Conant, Tobin Win In Tennis Doubles As ECAC Champs

Delaware's Roger Conant and Bill Tobin, won the doubles championship in the Eastern College Athletic Conference's third annual Fall Tennis Tournament at Rider College last Saturday.

They defeated Swarthmore's Roger North and Joe Downie 6-1, 7-5 after downing teams from New York University, Lehigh and Moravian.

In singles, Delaware's John Hauge was eliminated 6-2, 6-4, in the second round by Swarthmore's Jim Predmore, defending Middle Atlantic Conference champion.

Delaware tied for seventh in the overall competition as Swarthmore won the two-day event.

"Ass't Dick Case" Hailed By Flynn In Frosh Football

"For further information, see Assistant Coach Dick Case," Delaware Freshman Football Coach Jimmy Flynn said at last Monday's noon luncheon meeting of the Newark Touchdown Club, in which the former Delaware star halfback and sprinter gave the club a rundown on the current crop of Blue Chicks.

Dick Case, a local businessman, is a veteran frosh football fan.

"Defensively, we are fine," Flynn said, but reported a dearth of offensive backs.

Concerning the Blue Hen varsity, Jim Flynn said that players at the first level were a match for those of major conference schools, but that Delaware lacked depth to successfully engage the larger teams.

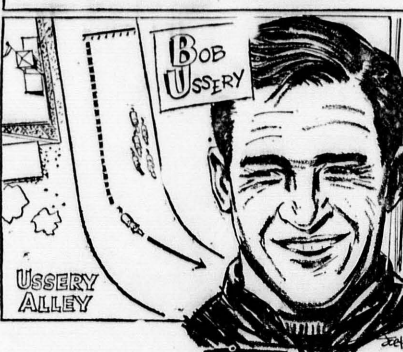

The Newark Touchdown Club is seeking new members, and all interested men are invited to attend the next meeting at noon on Monday at the Horseshoe Carriage.

Albert S. Priestley is president of the club; J. Earl Lynch is vice-president; Dick Prettyman, secretary; and Bob Pilnick, treasurer.

Christiana Harriers Lose To Undeclared Wm. Penn

The Vikings of Christiana High School lost a 19-46 cross country meet to undeclared William Penn over the Rockford route yesterday in Wilmington.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day "Ussery's Alley"

As a youngster near his home at Vian, Oklahoma, Robert Ussery (rhymes with Fuss-ery) picked spinach at 10¢ per 20-pound hamper and wished he was big enough to hoist cotton at $3 a day. He later learned that riding quarter horses at $5 a mount, except when the mount was his grandfather's mare Kate, was better still. When he was sixteen he moved on to Thoroughbreds and earned a reputation as a hustling whip rider. Today he is one of the country's leading jockeys, owns two homes, has a blue chip stock portfolio, and is responsible for the only new technique in racing—riding since Eddie Arcaro was credited with changing Tod Sloan's "monkey crouch" to the "acey-deucey" seat (an extremely short, outside stirrup).

Riding the rail was always considered to be the shortest way to the winner's circle, but Bob Ussery discovered a route which may be a bit longer, but has proved quicker. In an outside post position, on a speed horse, Ussery does not head for the rail but stays on the outside 'til he reaches the well-banked turn where he takes advantage of a downhill run to the rail. It has paid off so well that other jockeys are now steering their mounts "Ussery's Alley."

Vikings Beat NHS In Cross Country At Rockford Park

The Christiana High School Vikings defeated Newark High School's Yellowjackets 22-33 on Wednesday last week in a cross country meet at Rockford Park.

John Curtis of Christiana won the overland race in 11:41, followed by teammates Joe Outlaw, Monte Baldwin, and Tim Herman, with Newark's Steve Arimoto, Bruce Jones, and George Kearney next in line.

Coach Ray Ciesinski's Yellowjackets face Wilmington High this Friday, and Brandywine next Wednesday.

Presiding Judge At Harrington

John E. Ducharme, presiding judge at Harrington and Brandywine raceways, has purchased a 90-acre farm at Christiana, Pa., 20 miles north of Wilmington on Route 41.

Ducharme recently sold his farm in Iowa, and moved to nearby Pennsylvania so he could devote his entire time to breeding horses and officiating at harness tracks in the Delaware area.

Lloyd James of Cambridge, Md., who celebrated his 75th birthday Sept. 26, is photographed taking care of his favorite harness horse—Mable Hialeah—at the Kent-Sussex Raceway in Harrington, as Mrs. James assists him.

Horney's Vikings Face Brandywine Saturday Morning

Coach Bill Horney's Christiana Vikings face the defending champion Bulldogs of Brandywine at 10:30 a.m. this Saturday on the Newark High School football field in an effort to avert a 21-game losing streak tie with downstate Georgetown.

The Vikings are 0-3 for the season, and share last place with DeLaWarr in the Blue Hen Conference.

Last Saturday afternoon at Newark, the Vikings lost 20-0 to William Penn, but held the Colonials to six points in the final three periods.

In action for Horney's Vikings last Saturday were Co-Capt. Roger Barnes, Bob Hall, Joe Thomas, Jeff Heath, and Jim Unatowski, halfbacks; Dave Clauss, quarterback; and Jerry Perry, fullback.

VFW, Crusaders Continue Unbeaten In Junior Football

In Capitol Trail Junior Football League games last Sunday, the undefeated senior division VFW and Crusaders defeated Central and the Green Raiders 27-0 and 12-0. The defending champion Vets are 3-0 for the season, and the Crusaders have two wins.

In the senior division, Ronnie Jackson of the VFW ran for a 30-yard touchdown and rambled 80 yards to set up a TD scored by Richard Arimoto from the five-yard line. Arimoto scored another touchdown on a 25-yard run.

Ricky Matthews plunged three yards for a touchdown and ran for two extra points.

Steve Ferguson ran 20 yards for a touchdown for the Crusaders, and Gary Brown scored the second TD in a 58-yard sprint.

In the junior division, the Vets beat Central 28-0, and the Raiders stopped the Crusaders 7-0.

Webster tackled a Central ball-carrier in his end zone for a safety in the first period, and Jim Ford scored a touchdown for the VFW with a 14-yard run in the second quarter.

McElwee ran 20-yards for a third period touchdown, and Bill Coolidge ran for the extra point, while in the final frame, Bill Coolidge rang up a pair of TD's—on a 25-yard run, and catching Scott Coolidge's touchdown pass. And Bill ran for the extra point.

C. Ottolwili returned the Crusader kick-off for 60-yards and a TD in the second half, with B. Fischer running for the Raiders' extra point.

This Sunday, the VFW and Crusaders meet at the Kells Avenue field, and the Green Raiders play at Stanton. Games begin at 1:30 p.m.

Co-Capt. Mark Hill, Second For NHS In Cross Country

Co-Capt. Mark Hill finished second, but the Yellowjackets suffered their sixth straight setback yesterday in a cross country race against Brandywine at Rockford Park.

The Bulldogs topped Newark High School's harriers 18-42.

Bruce Jones and Bill Babb took 9th and 10th places for Coach Ray Ciesinski's cross country runners in yesterday's dual meet in Wilmington.

Soph Fullback John Spangler To Start As Nelson's Hens Face Villanova Here

Sophomore Fullback John Spangler has earned a starting job in Delaware's offensive backfield for the 2-1 Blue Hen battle with 0-3 Villanova at Delaware Stadium this Saturday at 2 p.m.

Spangler, a 5-10 and 188-pounder from Baltimore, took over from starting fullback Mike McCann early in last week's game with Lafayette, and was instrumental in the Hens 40-7 romp. The former Poly star picked up 37 yards in eight carries; caught three passes for another 48 yards; and scored Delaware's second touchdown.

The rest of the offensive backfield will be the same as last week. Tom Van Grofski, who had his best day of the season against the Leopards, will be the quarterback, with Sophomores Ed Mason of Springfield, Pa., and Brian Wright of Rockville, Md., at halfbacks.

Freebrey and Stewart, regular defensive tackles, are expected to go both ways against the Wildcats. They will be relieved occasionally by Jay Gibbons (202) and Jim Laser (210) on offense.

Besides Freebrey and Stewart, the defensive line has Bill Neiger (195) at middle guard and Bill Drueiding (200) and End Sand (205) at end. Herb Slattery (234) and Bill Castari (188) are the linebackers.

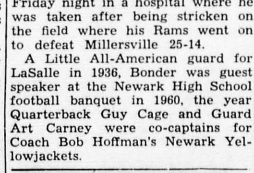

Jack Hoopes, Bruce Carlyle, Ken Bills and Don Keister make up the defensive backfield.

The Hens have allowed three opponents an average of only 34.3 yards per game on the ground, but have surrendered 204 yards per game through the air.

On the plus side of the pass defense, the Hens' three opponents have completed only 43 per cent of their passes and have had eight interceptions.

Hoopes is the top pass thief with four interceptions in three games. Villanova was hit with injuries to several key players in its loss to Washington State, and may not be at full strength against the Hens. Team captain and Fullback Tom Brown suffered a rib injury and will probably miss the game.

Rams' Coach Dies

Head Football Coach at West Chester State College since 1959 when he succeeded Glenn Killinger, Dr. James B. Bonder died suddenly last Friday night in a hospital where he was taken after being stricken on the field where his Rams went on to defeat Millersville 25-14.

A Little All-American guard for LaSalle in 1936, Bonder was guest speaker at the Newark High School football banquet in 1960, the year Quarterback Guy Cage and Guard Art Carney were co-captains for Coach Bob Hoffman's Newark Yellowjackets.

School Tax Vote To Be Explained Sunday Over Radio

The local referendum scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 11 of American Education Week, will be explained this Sunday on "Newark Schools on Parade," over Radio Station WNRK at 12:30 p.m.

Dr. George V. Kirk, assistant superintendent; Thomas Calhoun, assistant to the superintendent for personnel; and H. Nelson Freidly, program host and principal of Central Junior High School, will discuss needs which led the Newark Board of Education to call for this referendum.

The three educators will discuss "erosion" in the Newark school district's position over the past five years.

"At one time, the Newark school district had a very low pupil-teacher ratio and was able to maintain a fine program of enrichment subjects," a local school official said. "Growth which caused this erosion will be analyzed, as will steps the board of education is taking in its proposed three-year program to put an end to this erosion."

Program Producer Philip A. Toman, has announced a program scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 31, to go into more detail about the referendum—how the requested money is to be used, and how the program is to be implemented over a three-year period.

"The program this Sunday is simply to fill in residents of the Newark community on how these needs have developed over the past several years," Toman said.

Edward H. Lake Succumbs At 42

Edward H. Lake of 237 Cheltenham Road, Newark, died Tuesday in Memorial Hospital at the age of 42 after a brief illness.

Born in Newark, N.J., Mr. Lake came to Delaware in 1937 from East Orange. He was employed by National Vulcanized Fibre of Wilmington as manager of salary administration.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church of Newark, the Newark Lions, the Newark Country Club, the National Office Management Association, the Delaware State Chamber of Commerce, the Industrial Relations Association of Philadelphia, the Junior Achievement of Delaware, Inc., the Industrial Management Club of Delaware, and had served on committees for the United Community Fund and the Delaware chapter, American Red Cross.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Marie J. Lake, two daughters, Deborah and Cynthia, a son, Edward Johnston Lake—all at home; his mother, Mrs. Helen M. Lake, North Belgrade, Maine, and a sister, Mrs. Cynthia Attix of Cinnaminson, N.J.

Funeral services will be conducted this Friday at 11 a. m. in the First Presbyterian Church of Newark, 17 West Main Street.

Interment will be at the convenience of the family, and there will be no viewing.

In lieu of flowers, the family suggests contributions to the building fund of the First Presbyterian Church of Newark, or the Delaware Heart Association, Wilmington.

Brig. Gen. Lack To Speak To Unitarians On "Water"

Speaking this Sunday at the Unitarian Fellowship on Willa Road will be Brig. Gen. Norman N. Lack with his topic "Water is Our Responsibility."

Gen. Lack was appointed by Gov. J. Caleb Boggs to the Delaware River Basin advisory committee which drafted the Delaware compact signed into law by the President of the United States in 1961.

Lack is vice-president of the Water Research Foundation, a non-profit corporation dedicated to the study of water resources.

Guests are welcome to the 11 a. m. service when Sunday school classes and a nursery for pre-schoolers are available.

Seaman David Gale Attends Bainbridge Base School

U. S. Navy Seaman David W. Gale, son of Mrs. Shirley E. Gale of 33 Carole Road, Chestnut Hill Estates, Newark, is attending the 14-week machine accounting school at the U. S. Naval Training Center at Bainbridge, Md.

The school offers instruction in basic electric accounting machine principles.

Upon completing the school, Gale will be assigned duty with various Navy personnel accounting machine installations throughout the world.

Preparing For Sunday Broadcasting

Planning their radio broadcast for this Sunday on "Newark Schools on Parade," at 12:30 p.m. on Station WNRK are (l. to r.) Dr. George V. Kirk, assistant superintendent; Thomas Calhoun, assistant to the superintendent for personnel; and Host H. Nelson Freidly.

Average U. S. Family Worth $250,000 But Coral Morris Cautions On Money Use

The average American family is worth a quarter million dollars—if you spread an income of $6000 per year over 40 working years. How much all that money is really worth depends on the use you make of it, says Coral K. Morris, extension home management specialist at the University of Delaware.

"There is no trick to spending money, but there is an art to spending it wisely," Miss Morris muses. Getting your money's worth means getting more, not less, of the good things of life.

Financial security is one result of wise spending. The homemaker who makes sure she receives full value for every dollar she spends, keeps her family out of debt while enabling them to have more of the things they really want. She has the peace of mind and personal satisfaction that comes from mastering the art of buymanship.

The ability to buy wisely is not a mysterious talent; it is a skill involving definite principles that can be learned and practiced.

Be sure you know why you are buying, says Miss Morris. Are you buying mainly for added prestige, or is usefulness more important? Are beauty and comfort more important to you than novelty?

Check on what you already have and decide whether you can—or want to—do without the new purchase. Use your ingenuity; many times you can find a new use for something you already have.

Consider possible drawbacks of any purchase. Think about storage problems you might have, or features that might be dangerous to someone in the family. Resale value and length of time a purchase will last often determine budgets. Be sure to consider the affect your purchase will have on what you already own, Miss Morris advises.

It is seldom wise to buy what you cannot afford, she says. However, you must have records of past spending to know what you can really afford. Keeping records can be boring and meaningless if you use them only to keep track of every penny. Records are only valuable when you use them to reveal satisfaction and dissatisfaction received from money spent.

Evaluate your records every month, Miss Morris recommends. Know where your money has gone, and then decide where you want it to go. Your financial plan should be practical; do not try to live by a plan designed for anyone else. Your values, goals, and standards may be similar, but your family is unique and must develop its own workable financial plan. When you have decided what is right for your family, stick with the plan. At least, be sure you have a very good reason before you change it.

Decide whether usefulness of an intended purchase is worth the money you have to pay. For instance, it would be difficult to justify buying the highest priced stereo equipment if you could not tell the difference in tone quality.

Buy features your family needs, not features a manufacturer has decided will sell best this year. Decide whether—for you—it is worth paying extra for special cycles on your automatic washer or dryer, or for a built-in rotisserie in your range or for an ice cube ejector in your refrigerator.

Naturally, you should check the prices and services offered in several stores before you decide to buy, Miss Morris says. The wisest purchase will not necessarily be from the store with the lowest price. Consider reliability also, she advises.

75-Yr. Grange Vet Mary B. Eastburn Succumbs At 90

Mrs. Mary B. Eastburn of Corner Ketch, widow of J. Leslie Eastburn, died Friday in Memorial Hospital at the age of 90 after a short illness.

Mrs. Eastburn was born and lived her entire life on a farm near Corner Ketch.

A charter member of Union Grange, which she served for 75 years, she was a member of the Waverly Club and of Mill Creek Friends Meeting.

Her only survivors are nieces and nephews.

Services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the Robert T. Jones & Son Funeral Home.

Interment was in Mill Creek Friends Burying Ground, Corner Ketch.

ROTC Scholarship Awarded To Four U. of D. Students

Three freshmen and a junior at the University of Delaware have received ROTC scholarships which pay all university expenses except room and board.

Awarded four-year scholarships are Freshmen Richard G. Work, John M. Collins, and Steven B. Rash. A two-year scholarship has been awarded to Junior David L. Wheeler.

The scholarships also provide subsistence allowances of $50 per month. Some 3,500 high school seniors compete for the 400 four-year scholarships authorized by the Army.

Col. Edward G. Allen, professor of military science at the university said similar competition will be held before the end of this school year.

Marine John Watson, Jr. Training In Caribbean

Marine Pfc John H. Watson, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Watson of New Churchmans Road, Newark, departed Camp Lejeune, N. C. on Sept. 13, for training in the Caribbean area aboard ships of Amphibious Squadron Eight.

He is serving with one of the Second Marine Division's eight infantry supporting battalions, and will participate in training and landing exercises designed to increase the division's combat capabilities.

Ships are scheduled to visit San Juan, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Island ports of St. Thomas and St. Croix.

Outs Chapel Sunday School Plans Rally Day Services

Ottis Chapel Sunday School will have Rally Day services this Sunday at 2:30 p.m., with the Rev. Jack Rule of Landenberg Methodist Church, the guest speaker.

All members and other friends are invited to attend.

NO REHOBOTH HIBERNATION

The Rehoboth Beach Chamber of Commerce does not intend to hibernate this winter, according to President Preston E. Godfrey.

The office will be open on a year-round basis, where both mail and personal information requests will be filled and plans for next season will be studied.

PTA Renews Invitation: Join Now!

As 50,000,000 American children move forward in the current school year, their parents and teachers will receive an invitation, issued to the nation, to join the PTA.

The National Congress of Parents and Teachers now has under way its annual membership enrollment, aiming to add new members as it tackles 11 "critical issues" that affect children today—issues such as financing public education, educating for a changing society, helping disadvantaged children, waging the peace and coping with the responsibility of parenthood, including sex education.

This undertaking, to be carried out in a three-year action program, "will tax PTA resources to the utmost," says National PTA President Mrs. Jennelle Moorhead. "It is not too much to say that the outcomes of these issues will have far-reaching, fateful consequences for our nation and its children."

A sample of the PTA's effectiveness in action—specifically, action to help disadvantaged children—was its Books for Ap-palachia program of early 1965, when, in five months, PTA's throughout the country collected more than 1,100,000 children's books and sent them, in bookcase boxes, to the hundreds of barren, one- and two-room schools in the Appalachian mountains.

"This was a special project," Mrs. Moorhead recalls, "and our routine programs can be equally effective in advancing children's welfare—in home, school, church and community."

While children in school are the focus of all PTA activity, the National Congress of Parents and Teachers works equally hard to keep parents and teachers learning, too, about children.

Children's complaints about school will get an airing in a forthcoming issue of The PTA

Magazine, used as a basic text by PTA-sponsored study-discussion groups in many communities. In other scheduled articles, parents will be given suggestions on how to prepare for a conference with the teacher, as well as challenging views on IQ tests, ability grouping and student cheating.

The PTA's official magazine also provides regular services to thoughtful parents: previews of motion pictures—graded for children, adolescents and adults; reviews of television programs along with names of their sponsors; regular reports on "what's happening in education" and news of medical developments that affect children's health.

All is information that will be used by PTA's as they program their current attack on critical issues. Other matters on that action calendar are equalizing educational opportunity; clarifying the responsibilities for educational decision-making; extending and strengthening community services;

Combating moral, spiritual, and civic apathy; eliminating certain health and safety hazards and safeguarding individual rights and liberties.

Introducing the tuned car. 1966 Buick.

What makes a car a car is styling, performance, ride and handling. Only when they're all tuned together is the car a Buick. Like this 1966 Riviera Gran Sport.

You know how well your car's engine runs after a tuneup? Buick tuning has the same effect on the whole car. Not just the engine. The whole Buick. Everything blends with everything else. Styling. Performance. Ride. Handling. All tuned to work together in harmony. That's what the tuned car is. A Buick. Only Buick is the tuned car. (And every Buick is the tuned car.) What the tuned car is is a masterful blending of all the things that make a great car greater. The Riviera for 1966 is the tuned car. It features six-passenger seating, disappearing headlights, a silently efficient new ventilating system and the kind of roadworthiness you'd expect in a car that costs twice as much. (You can get a Riviera for your desk as well as your garage. Send $1 in check or money order to Riviera, P.O. Box 68, Troy, Mich., for an accurate 1/25 scale model '66 Riviera.) But Riviera's not the only tuned car. LeSabre is, too. And Wildcat. Electra 225. Special. Skylark. Sportwagon. See them all at your Buick dealer's. The tuned car may not mean much to you now. But then you haven't had a chance to drive one yet.

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

There's an authorized Buick dealer near you. See his Double-Checked used cars, too.
