

RECREATION CENTER TO OPEN HERE NEXT WEEK

Opens As Soon As Academy Bldg. Site Is Cleaned And Furnished

The Newark Community Service Center, headquarters for the recreational program being planned for women defense workers living here, will open sometime next week in the Old Academy building at the corner of Academy and Chestnut Streets. Final details for the opening were agreed on at a meeting of the sponsoring committee Monday afternoon in the New Century Club building.

Originally planned for the vacant site at 73 East Main Street, the center was finally located at the present site when committee heads were offered the opportunity for more advantageous quarters.

While the opening date is not definite, the center will begin operations as soon as the committee on furnishing in charge of Mrs. George Hyde has renovated and prepared the quarters. Principal obstacle to the program was overcome this week with the announcement that sufficient funds were assured to maintain the headquarters.

Additional finances are assured by the E. 32 Players, who have agreed to contribute the proceeds of their first play this season, "The Eve of St. Mark," scheduled for the last week in October.

Plans for staffing the center with volunteers drawn from the representatives of the 16 or more church and civic groups backing the project, are underway, with a schedule of hostesses being drawn up by Mrs. F. Allyn Cooch and Mrs. A. D. Cobb. House rules for the center are being arranged by a committee appointed by Mrs. F. Daugherty, chairman of the executive council.

Enthusiastic response from the workers is already being noted by committee members who report them eager to join the activities and anxious to aid the sponsoring committee.

REDUCTION IN MAIL DELIVERIES

Cut To One Delivery Daily In Some Sections

Announcement was made by postmaster C. E. Rittenhouse this week of a reduction in mail service beginning October 16 made necessary by war conditions.

The notice is as follows: "It is announced by the Post Office Department that service of letter mail carried by mounted carrier will be reduced to one delivery a day effective October 16th. This reduction is necessary to conserve tires and gasoline."

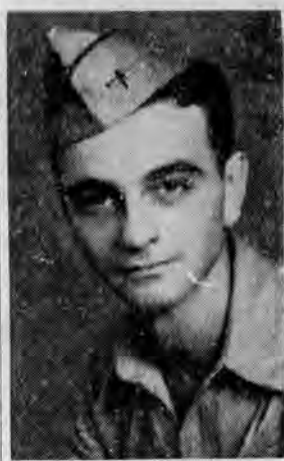

The sections of Newark effected by this order are Elkton Road below Amstel Ave., Old Oak Road, Dallow Road, Nottingham Manor, Ray Street, Wilson Street, Corbet Street, Rose Street, North Street and all the section of Capitol Trail and Lumbrook east of Leaks Garage.

"This reduction in mail service is a war measure and the purpose is to move motor equipment that cannot be replaced when worn out. It is planned to restore this service as soon as possible after the present emergency is passed."

"In many cases foot carrier service is being reduced to one delivery a day and this may become necessary in Newark in the future, but is not considered necessary at present."

RECORD RETURNS ON THEATRE BOND SALE

Over $8000 Is Raised In Bond And Stamp Sale For September

Monthly returns on the stamp and bond sale being conducted in the State Theatre lobby reached a new high for September, more than doubling amounts raised in previous months.

The sum of $8909.70 was raised by the 17 local women organizations participating in the drive. The increased returns mark Newark's response to "Salute the Hero" month, slogan for the intensive drive conducted throughout the nation's movie houses.

The final figure includes the funds raised in the Bond Rally opening the drive in which a total of $3550 dollars was raised in a single evening.

The new record in sales is a continuance of the steady increase in returns which have marked the theatre campaign since it opened this summer.

A breakdown of the September total show Bond sales netted $8300, while stamp sales amounted to $607.70. Organization selling the most bonds was the Pythian Sisters, who raised a total of $3200, while the Eastern Star group took second honors raising $2925. The Business Women were third with $1900 in bond sales.

Star saleswomen in the stamp drive were members of the Catholic Women's group who accounted for $91.65, with the Business Women second selling $81.00 in stamps.

MAYOR'S COMMITTEE FAR SHORT OF GOAL

Drive For Service Men's Xmas Gift Fund Passes The Half Way Mark

With time growing shorter, the Mayor's Committee drive for funds to provide Christmas gifts to Newark men in the armed services reached the half way mark this week. Returns thus far total about $648, said Alfred Deck, financial chairman.

The figure does not include amounts dropped by residents in the containers placed in the principal stores about town, returns from which are expected to swell the total somewhat.

The Committee estimates that approximately $1150 will be required to assure a Christmas remembrance to every Newark man serving Uncle Sam. Since gifts must be mailed this month, the urgent need for immediate contributions was stressed by those in charge.

The Christmas package, planned by the committee, will contain a carton of cigarettes, plus an additional gift. Any cash remaining will be divided equally and included in check form in the packages.

The Committee is also still endeavoring to complete its mailing list. Parents or relatives of Newark men in service are asked to give the name and address of the men to Mrs. Paul D. Lovett.

CHAMBER TO REVIVE COMMUNITY CHEST PLAN

Representatives Of All Local Organizations To Meet On Nov. 1

Directors of the Newark Chamber of Commerce met in Town Council offices Monday evening and set Sunday afternoon, November 1, at two o'clock, as the date for a meeting of representatives of all local civic, fraternal and industrial organizations to discuss further plans for launching a Community Chest drive in Newark this fall.

The meeting will be held in Town Council offices. Every organization in town is requested to delegate a representative of their group to be present and voice their sentiment of his group at the discussion. It is hoped to revive plans to establish a Community Chest here to become effective January 1.

Continued appeals for financial assistance and the numerous demands made on merchants and firms are thought to make such a plan feasible at this time. Merits and demerits and full plans for the proposed campaign will be considered at the meeting which will undoubtedly determine what further action will be taken along this line.

An appropriation of $25 was authorized contributed to the Mayor's Committee in their drive for funds for soldiers Christmas gifts and the $100.00 previously pledged to the siren fund was confirmed by the directors present.

President D. A. McClintock conducted the session. Other directors in attendance were Wm. S. Hamilton, R. T. Ware, George F. Jackson, C. E. Rittenhouse and Alfred Deck.

XMAS SEAL SALE OPENS ON NOV. 23

Workers Busy Preparing Seals For Mailing

Christmas Seals, which the citizens of Delaware will get on November 23, have been received at the offices of the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Society in the Buckner Building, Wilmington. Volunteer workers started immediately in preparation for the mailing date.

The annual Christmas Seal Sale, the main support of the anti-tuberculosis society, is the only appeal for funds made during the year. The seal sale was originated in 1907 in Wilmington by Miss Emily P. Bissell, the President of the anti-tuberculosis society.

According to F. S. Johnson, Treasurer of the society, approximately thirty-five thousand dollars must be realized from the seal sale this year if the expanded program for the coming year is to be carried out.

This year's Christmas Seal was designed by Dale Nichols, one of America's outstanding artists, whose paintings of red barns have long been famous. The Seal pictures a snowy country scene, with the typical Nichols' red barn and white farmhouse in the background. The foreground shows a horse-drawn sleigh on a curved, drift-lined road.

SUGAR FORMS SHOULD BE CASHED IN ON TIME

No Renewals On Lapsed Certificates

Retailers, wholesalers, industrial and institutional users of sugar were warned today by James L. Luke, Jr., State Director of the Office of Price Administration to cash in their stamps and certificates on time.

"Since no replacement can be given by local boards for stamps and certificates upon which the validity date has lapsed," Mr. Luke explained, "hardship results for those sugar users holding expired stamps and certificates, in that the amount of sugar available to them is reduced."

In urging sugar users to cash in their certificates before they lapse, Mr. Luke pointed out that the Office of Price Administration, recognizing the difficulties confronting such users when deliveries cannot be made within the validity period of the certificates, has made provision for an exchange of such certificates. Sugar users holding certificates which are about to lapse and against which deliveries cannot be made within the valid period, can protect such certificates by exchanging them before they lapse, at the Local War Price and Rationing Board for new certificates which will be good for sixty days from the dates of issuance.

Mr. Luke called attention to another problem facing some sugar users who turn over all their certificates for a given allotment period to their suppliers without first having their purchases confirmed. As a result, some certificates have expired, while the balance of the sugar for which they called was undelivered. As pointed out heretofore, expired certificates cannot be retained after by the original holder or the supplier.

To alleviate this situation, sugar users can have their certificates subdivided by the local boards, thus enabling them to surrender to their suppliers certificates closely approximating the weight of actual deliveries. Retailers, wholesalers, industrial and institutional users were advised by Mr. Luke, therefore, for their own protection, to surrender to their suppliers only certificates closely approximating in weight value the amount of each requested delivery, and to secure confirmation of the order before doing so.

LOSSES IN FARM FIRES CANNOT BE REPLACED

WPB Limit Prevents Most Reconstruction

War-time conditions make losses from fires on farms irreplaceable, according to Nathaniel W. Taylor, Sr., secretary-treasurer of the Delaware Group of National Farm Loan Associations. With present shortages of materials and labor, farm structures destroyed by fire cannot be rebuilt in most cases, he added.

"Because the War Production Board has placed a $1,000 limit on new farm buildings and because there might not be a sufficient supply of materials and labor available, it may be impossible for you to construct new farm buildings or to repair old ones as you have done in the past. That's why we're asking our members and other farmers in this section to use every precaution they know of to prevent fires on their farms," Mr. Taylor continued.

"The loss in human lives and buildings from destructive farm fires is bad enough," he concluded, "but today farm fires also result in wiping out farm products and livestock needed in the food-for-freedom campaign and lowering of the farm's capacity for continued wartime production of foods and fibers. Sometimes it might halt production entirely. All farm families can well afford to adopt throughout the year the latest fire prevention method explained during 1942 Fire Prevention Week."

A Democratic rally, featuring state and county candidates as speakers, is scheduled for the Pencader Hundred in the Grange Hall at Glasgow on Friday, October 23rd at 8:30 o'clock.

E. Ennals Best, candidate for senator, and Rep. Philip A. Traynor, seeking reelection as congressman, will head the speakers, along with William S. Potter, chairman of the Democratic State Committee.

What's the Answer?

How old is the art of hairdressing?

ANSWER: The earliest civilized people paid close attention to the care of the hair. The Assyrians, Babylonians, Egyptians, and Persians curled their hair and beards and, in some cases, wore false beards and wigs.

The Greeks had an elaborate headdress, and although the men began to cut their hair short about 400 B. C., the women continued to pile their locks on top of their heads in fantastic designs.

What's the easiest way to find the beauty shops and hairdressers in your vicinity?

ANSWER: You'll find a handy list of the beauty shops and hairdressers in your vicinity—as well as the Automobile Repairers, Movers, Nurses, Bus Lines, and many other services—in the Yellow Pages of your Bell Telephone Directory.

You can save time and many steps these busy days if you look in the Yellow Pages when you want to know who sells it or who will do the job.

You'll find it in the YELLOW PAGES!

Barnard College Dean Says Women Face Draft

Virginia C. Gilderleeve, dean of Barnard College, predicted recently that within the next year or two American women probably will be subjected to some form of conscription.

Dean Gilderleeve made the forecast in her annual report to Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, in which she emphasized the need of college students to give their services where the country needs them most as a duty without being drafted.

Shift in Schedule Of Beagle Field Trial

Due to a change in running order, the regular monthly A.K.C. sanctioned field trials, scheduled for November 1, have been shifted to October 25.

The announcement was made this week by Raymond V. Buckingham, secretary of the Eastern Beagle Club.

No change has been made in other scheduled trials, slated for the first Sunday in December, January, February, and March, with the grand finals in April.

The April trials will be known as the Eastern Beagle Club Memorial Stake. Only those hounds placing in the regular monthly trials will be permitted in this stake.

Prizes for all trials will be War Savings Stamps.

WEEK-END GRID MENU PROMISES SURPRISES

Upsets Expected To Be The Rule

A tasty grid menu, with old man "Upset" promising to serve up a full quota of surprises, is in store for the nation's football fans this week-end.

Blue ribbon event on the card will be Lieut.-Col. Bernie Bierman's Iowa Naval Cadets clash with Notre Dame. Victorious already over Northwestern, Minnesota, and Michigan, the cadets by besting the Irish, can all but cinch top national honors.

The Michigan-Northwestern tussle is another sure-fire offering, while the rising Wisconsin eleven's tilt with the Great Lakes Naval Training team is guaranteed to provide fireworks.

Other mid-west games find Iowa and Illinois squaring off, Nebraska meeting Minnesota, and Ohio State facing Purdue.

In the east it's the Ivy League holding attention, with Penn taking on Princeton, Yale playing Navy, and Harvard felling Dartmouth.

Other important Eastern conflicts find red-hot Boston College playing Jimmy Crowley's North Carolina Pre-Flight eleven, Brown against Lafayette, Colgate vs. Duke and Pitt and Indiana at Pittsburgh.

The Alabama-Tennessee tussle at Birmingham tops the program in the South and Southwest. Alabama is undefeated in three games while Tennessee has clicked off triumphs over Fordham and Dayton after playing a scoreless tie with South Carolina in its opening game.

Georgia Tech, hopped up by three straight wins including a triumph over Notre Dame, has a breather in Little Davidson at Atlanta and twice-defeated Arkansas takes on a Texas club which just squeezed through over Oklahoma last week. Frankie Sinkwich leads a Georgia eleven, undefeated in four starts, against Tulane's in-and-out in the Hen's debut on Fraser field last Saturday by a decisive 4 to 2 margin.

Three Hen booters accounted for the four goals, with Gee Fernandez, veteran center forward from Chile leading the offensive and whipping across two tallies.

Bob Ketchum and Jim Wingate were the other two offensive standouts, providing one goal apiece.

Maryland's two pointers were put across by McWilliams and Cook, but further threats by the invaders were effectively throttled by powerful Blue Hen defensive play, in which Ed Legates and Captain Bob Siemen were the major factors.

Coach "Bill" Laurence's booters will be seeking to keep the slate clean when they invade Franklin and Marshall today.

UNDEFEATED HENS TAKE ON STRONG GETTYSBURG CLUB SATURDAY AT WILMINGTON

Delaware Survives Biggest Test Of Season By Downing Lakehurst 20-7 Friday; Gettysburg Bullets Regarded As Strong As The Blimps

Another major hurdle looms before the Delaware University gridders this week in their clash with the Gettysburg Bullets Saturday at Wilmington Park.

BULLETS PREP FOR BLUE HEN ENCOUNTER

Squad In Good Physical Shape

Pulling through the Muhlenberg struggle with few injuries, Gettysburg College is undergoing intensive drills for the game Saturday when they tangle with the undefeated Blue Hens.

After a look at the official statistics of the Muhlenberg game, Coach Hen Bream is satisfied that there is nothing wrong with the offensive power of the Bullets, and consequently is drilling his charges in tackling and pass defense in preparation for the coming game.

Senior Guard Nelson Arigo, who started against the Mules and played until a recurrence of an old knee injury forced him to the sidelines, will definitely be out of the Delaware game. But this loss is more than made up for by the news that Fred Schumacher, Bullet captain and three-year letterman, will be able to play this week.

Chuck Beaver, stellar wingman, suffered several bruises and is laid up with a severe cold, but is expected to be in shape to oppose the Hens. Coach Bream intimated that sophomore Joe Cervino has improved to the extent that he will be rewarded with a position in the starting lineup from now on. Joe holds the distinction that he has gained every time he has carried the ball this year. His plunges through the line have made an average of four yards per try, and if this continues, he will play the fullback spot regularly.

With the rescinding of the freshman ruling which had hitherto prevented freshmen from competing in varsity sports, the Battlefields are expected to use this to advantage. Con Glock, blocking back from Camp Hill, will be used in practice sessions this week as will Honey Wileman, left-handed passer from Harrisburg. If these two players show up well in practice they will see some service in the coming game.

A blocked kick by Marty Piersen the same period gave Delaware its first break. Taking over on Lakehurst 27, the Hens capitalized fully as Baer and Baer bulled the ball over on successive line plunges. Al Newcomb, however, failed to convert and the Blimps led 7-6.

Lakehurst was well on its way to another touchdown, with Banta plucking off yardage alarmingly, when the Hens ended.

A rejuvenated Blue Hen eleven returned the second half, stopped the Sailor offensive cold and earned another break early in the third quarter when Buck Thompson recovered fumble on the Blimp's 30 yard line. Paul Hart stepped to the line and heading a meat-grinder offensive finally taking the ball over from two. Delaware converted on a two kick that wound up as a pass.

Lakehurst spent the rest of the evening trying to score, until a pass was intercepted and Coulter intercepted the ball 70 yards to score.

POULTRYMEN URGED TO AID MEAT PROBLEM

Advised To Use
Their Facilities
To Capacity In Backing Program

Delaware poultrymen who are planning to help meet the call of Secretary of Agriculture Wickard for 200,000,000 chickens during the fall and winter months can play a real part in helping to supplement the supplies of meat needed for civilian use.

W. C. Skoglund, extension poultryman for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, cautions poultrymen, however, to utilize existing brooder house and other poultry equipment not normally used to capacity this season of the year. There must be no relaxation in the usual sanitary measures necessary to control disease. Brooder houses must be kept clean, disinfected and provided with deep, absorbent litter to keep the house dry. This is especially important in winter brooding.

During this season the birds will have to be raised largely in confinement. So crowding should be avoided and special attention should be given to feeding practices.

Poultrymen are urged to use pullets from free stock. For unless pullets are controlled it can be a real problem. It lowers the livability of chicks and injures the productivity of hens. Pullets are controlled by blood-testing each hen and practicing rigid sanitation control in the incubator. Farmers should insist on purchasing chicks free from this disease.

For the past 20 years pullet testing has been done in the State to stamp out this disease. Back in 1921-22, only one flock of 200 birds was tested for pulletism; while last year, 20 years later, 701 flocks numbering 357,496 birds were tested.

Of the flocks tested 77.6 per cent were found free from the disease. To forward progress which has been made, farmers of Delaware should be sure to only house chicks this fall free of this disease.
