Support Of Public Housing Plans For Newark Announced By League Of Women Voters; Verbatim Minutes Provide Basis For LWV Answers To Questions With Referendum
The League of Women Voters of Newark has prepared a fact sheet from a transcript of Newark City Council minutes concerning the proposed referendum on local public housing next April.

"The draft of the verbatim minutes of the council meeting on Dec. 14, 1964, is the source of material quoted or paraphrased in this fact sheet . . ." the League reports, and "the accuracy of the fact sheet may be checked by any reader by obtaining a copy of these minutes at the city

"Copies of verbatim minutes for all meetings during which this problem (of public housing) was discussed, are available to the public," the League of Women Voters states.

BREAKS AND SPRAINS

X-ray is the only sure method for determining whether a bone is broken. Many people think that if you can move your fingers or toes, the arm or leg is not broken. However, since the fingers and toes are operated by tendons and muscles, the ability to move them does not mean an unbroken bone.

There are, however, certain indications that might mean a broken bone. They are a deformity of the limb, such as an angle or bend; a swelling of the part; and punctured or torn skin near a crushing type injury.

When there has been some type of injury which has caused pain and swelling, use cold packs. Cold will lessen the circulation, thereby keeping the swelling at a minimum.

Heat is the wrong thing to use, since it will bring more blood into the area. This increases the swelling and causes more pain, because the circulation has been damaged by the injury.

When you think there might be a compound fracture, which is a combination of a broken bone and broken skin, it is even more important to see your doctor as soon as possible.

With an open wound there is the possibility that dirt and infection can reach the bone and cause osteomyelitis or infection of the bone.

The longer the time interval before having such an injury treated by your doctor, the greater are your chances of getting osteomyelitis, which is very difficult to cure.

When you are in doubt about a broken bone, be sure to see your doctor who will have the part x-rayed. It may be a chip has been broken off a large bone, or a torn ligament, or a bad sprain—all of which should have professional treatment to promote the best possible healing in order to get a strong joint again.

The column is a weekly service of your doctor through the Medical Society of Delaware.

Twenty-five members and guests of the Wilmington Home Economics Club attended the annual Christmas luncheon and party last Wednesday at the Newark Country Club. Mrs. Alan Lindsay had charge of the games and gift exchange.

The club remembered two guests at Delaware State Hospital with Christmas gifts.

A covered dish luncheon was planned for the Jan. 20, meeting at the home of Mrs. Carl Hauser, Church Hill. Mrs. Dale Seymour will give the program on "A World of Cheese."

Local youth returning from college for the holidays include: Pamela Kangas, Dickinson; Charlotte Harris, Baldwin-Wallace; Priscilla Harmon, Oberlin; Cynthia Plummer, St. Lukes Hospital school of nursing; Margaret Harmon, Yale; James Alexander, Wooster; Nina Dawson, West Virginia; Lynn Teitsworth, University of Illinois; Judith Woodward, Carol Hitchens, Judith McVaugh, and David Hammon, University of Delaware; and Dilworth Pierson, Guilford.

At its recent meeting in New Castle County, Mrs. Frank Dianich of Christiana was elected president of the Leaders' Association. Mrs. Dianich replaces Lawrence Ulmer of Newport. The citizenship team of Margaret King, Cecil Holland, Roberta Hopkins and Tom Sandbach conducted an intensive officers training program at the university this past week. This was one of the goals set by the team after returning from the national conference in Washington.

At the recent Sew It With Wool Contest, one of our 4-H'ers came out on top. Marie Proud from the White Oak 4-H Club won in the 14-18-year-old division. Marie just returned from Philadelphia where she spent a weekend as a result of the contest.

Extend Christmas Spirit In Driving

Extend the spirit of Christmas through your driving, a safety official suggested yesterday.

Richard H. McMullen, president of the Delaware Safety Council, said that individuals do have it within their power to contribute actively to "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men."

"In some ways people are more distant from each other in modern society than they used to be years ago, but in another way—in sharing the hazards of highway driving—we are all closer and more dependent on each other," McMullen said.

"We can all show 'good will toward men' in our driving in two ways—by exercising courtesy to other drivers, and by refraining from driving after drinking."

Sam Gwinn Cites Ag Extension Service For Past, Future Farming Relationship

The typical Delaware farm of the future will be larger, more highly mechanized, concentrated on production of high valued products; and operated with large amounts of capital and management know-how.

In making these predictions, Dr. Sam Gwinn, director of the Agricultural Extension Service at the University of Delaware, said there will be an even closer relationship among farmers, food technologists, nutritionists and marketing experts.

"We will see a continued increase in production per acre and per animal unit. With this, there will be a continued shrinkage in the number of persons who actually own and operate commercial farms—the type that produces the bulk of our food supply," Gwinn stated.

Gwinn said that with these changes, the challenge to the Agricultural Extension Service is to provide the best possible educational service to all people. He said agricultural problems are no longer confined to the farm and the farm home.

"The modern Agricultural Extension Service must be alert to the fact that times and conditions are changing, and educational needs of people are expanding," Gwinn added.

From its start as a teaching arm of the land-grant college, to demonstrate to farm people how to do things, the Extension Service has grown to be the largest out-of-school educational system in the world, and its demonstration technique, according to Gwinn, is considered by educators to be one of Extension's greatest contributions in the field of adult education.

Booby Traps Cited In Holiday Season By Safety Council

Holiday booby traps should be cleared away before they hurt somebody.

Wrapping paper, boxes, excelsior, ribbons, and dried out trees—all likely to be around the house during the holidays—are fire hazards, warns Mrs. William N. Cann, vice-president of the Delaware Safety Council.

Wrapping paper, boxes, excelsior and ribbons should all be removed promptly to a safe place outside the house—preferably the rubbish can. They are all likely to be highly flammable, and can easily ruin a happy holiday season when combined with only a little carelessness in the use of matches and cigarettes.

A dried-out tree compounds fire hazards in the house, the safety official said. It is wise to use a tree stand with a receptacle filled with water, she said.

Kissin' Mistletoe Traditional Green At Christmastime

No Christmas holiday would be complete without a sprig of mistletoe. Although this traditional green is a familiar sight to millions of people, few are aware of the reasons for its strange distinction, says Dave Tattall, assistant agent in ornamental horticulture.

Since earliest times the mistletoe has held the awe and interest of various peoples.

Many special powers have been attributed to this plant. It has been used in religious rites, including those of the ancient Druids, and in medicinal preparations.

The best known custom associated with mistletoe is that of kissing beneath a suspended sprig. This popular practice reputedly has its origin in Scandinavian mythology.

Numerous species of mistletoe are found in the United States, but the only one commonly used for decoration is the American mistletoe, phoradendron flavescens. It is a small, shrubby plant, and like all members of the family is parasitic. It has yellowish-green evergreen foliage, and bears clusters of white, pearl-like berries.

State Hospital To Extend Treatment For Patients

More treatment for patients, and less administrative paper work will be the result of an organizational change at Delaware State Hospital, according to Dr. Daniel Lieberman, commissioner of the Department of Mental Health.

Trustees have approved the commissioner's recommendation that hospital treatment services be divided into two psychiatric treatment areas of approximately 750 beds each, with a qualified clinical director in charge of each.

This organization will free physicians and other professional people for more patient treatment.

$36-MILLION
More than $36,000,000 a year in Social Security benefits is being paid in Delaware, according to Myron Milbourn, manager of the Wilmington office of the Social Security Administration, with 43,453 persons in the state receiving $3,017,994 a month.

The mistletoe grows on various deciduous trees, usually in the branches of maples, sycamores, gums and oaks. It is most common in the southeastern part of the United States, but is found as far north as Delaware.

Why do more people save at a Full Service Commercial Bank than anywhere else?

Because it helps them build their financial future. Read how.

Most people choose one of three places for their savings: A savings and loan association, a mutual savings bank, or a Full Service commercial bank. The first two may pay a little higher return on savings but they are engaged mostly in making home loans. A Full Service commercial bank (which sometimes pays a little less on savings) can offer loans and other services no other institution can duplicate. Despite the difference in interest on savings, Full Service commercial banks are America's most popular place to save. Remember too, there is no safer place for your money than Farmers Bank.

People with plans prefer a Full Service commercial bank.

If you're established with a Full Service commercial bank (like Farmers), you can borrow money at low bank rates to buy or remodel a home, buy a car, take a trip, or for just about any other good reason. And you get our professional advice as a "financial partner."

How to get Farmers Bank in your corner.

1. Do all your banking business with us—checking, savings, safe deposit boxes.

2. Get to know one or more of our officers so that you know where you stand financially right now. He may suggest that you fill out a Personal Financial Statement for our file. (It's easy to do and confidential.)

3. Use one of our low cost loans when you need extra money. Pay it back as promised—and you're earning a good credit reputation.

If you haven't already chosen a Full Service Commercial Bank as your "financial partner" it isn't too early to start right now. Stop in today.

Better living begins at your full service Bank

Delaware Faces New Major League foe With Boston University On '65 Schedule

One new opponent—Boston University—appears on the 1965 Delaware football schedule released this week by the university athletic department.

Boston University replaces Rutgers on the Hens' nine-game card. The Blue Hens will play host to the Terriers in Delaware Stadium on Nov. 13, and Delaware will play in Boston in 1966.

To Hens will resume their traditional rivalry with Rutgers in 1967. In addition to Boston University, the Hens will meet major-league foes in Villanova and Buffalo.

The remainder of the schedule is made up of Middle Atlantic Conference rivals Hofstra, Gettysburg, Lafayette, Lehigh, Temple and Bucknell.

Delaware will meet the same nine teams in 1966, but will meet Rutgers instead of Gettysburg in 1967.

There will be four home games at Delaware Stadium in both 1965 and 1966.

Delaware just suffered its first losing season since 1960, winding up with a 4-5 record.

Dave Nelson has a collegiate career coaching record of 100-44-6, including

One of the six ducks collected while hunting recently with Robert A. Beck from his blind in the Thousand-Acre Marsh between Port Penn and Delaware City, was a big drake mallard sporting in addition to the conventional but still unbelievably beautiful satin-silk green head, white collar, blue and white epaulets, and dress suit of chestnut vest, pearl gray turtleneck, and blue-black tails—a metal anklet.

The aluminum band removed from an orange leg and sent to the U. S. Dept. of the Interior Fish and Wildlife Service in Washington, resulted in the following letter from Earl B. Baysinger, biologist-in-charge of the Migratory Bird Populations Station in Laurel, Md.

"The bird you recovered was banded as an adult, male mallard at Blackwater National Wildlife Refuge, Dorchester County, Md. It was banded by Refuge personnel on Jan. 15, 1964.

"Your report will be processed and you will, in the future, receive our standard report."

"Reading the clipping describing the hunt makes me wish I had been doing the collecting rather than the processing of this bird. Your cooperation and interest are appreciated."

Dedicated conservation workers such as Earl Baysinger are responsible for our perpetuated participation in the wonderful world of wildfowling, and thanks to these men who devote their willing work to the preservation of the American outdoors heritage, ducks and geese continue to grace the skyways in thrilling, picturesque panorama with their mystic migrations—medieval magic for the marsh man.

Thank you Earl Baysinger. And Bob Beck, too, another of the conscientious conservation corps. And as we wrote Earl Baysinger, this mallard drake did not die in vain. Bob Beck called him out of the heavens for us to shoot; the U. S. Fish & Wildlife Service got the aluminum band; we ate roast duck; and the stuffed skin with all the beautiful plumage of this Dapper Dan demands of the aerial expressway, is hanging on the wall of a house on Academy Street in Newark.

George G. Del Santo, U. S. Air Force recruiting service representative for the Newark area, joins John Jackson as one of the few local sportsmen whose wishful wishes wander north instead of south at this time of year.

Jackson, who happily found his way home to Newark after surviving a night while lost in the snow of the Maine woods amid a quartet of circling black bears, volunteers will likely each year for the man-killing auto trip and wilderness work to bag a big buck in the north country. And Sgt. Del Santo joins Jackson with the nostalgic notion that the State of Maine measures up to the status of a veritable Eden.

Stationed with the U. S. Air Force in Maine before he transferred to Delaware, George Del Santo experienced some fabulous fishing offshore from the rockbound coast in the North Atlantic, and some delightful outdoor swimming in the public Fundy Park—close to the famed Bay of Fundy with its torrential tide.

Out of Eastport, Me., George boated as high as 600-lbs. of pollock a day, jigging with a piece of orange-colored rubber resembling the skimmer clams used by codfishermen plying out of the Indian River Inlet, Del., Ocean City, Md., and New Jersey ports.

"That rubber is easier than shucking clams," Sgt. Del Santo says, "and it works, too."

A 30-lb. silver hake is among the 40-fathom fish George Del Santo remembers catching off the coast of Maine.

"A hake is sluggish, but try lifting 30-lbs. of anything some 200-ft. straight up," Sgt. Del Santo said.

And speaking of hake, Bob Beck of the Delaware Game and Fish Commission, has been taking small hake in a netting survey of Delaware's tidal estuaries—hake a heck of a hike from home.

Like most of the several million Americans who spent more time in camp tents and ate more C rations during service in World War II than they care to recall, he swore once the war was over he would never again go camping. Like most who were outdoorsmen and hunters before the war, he didn't really mean it. The National Rifle Association, scribes report.

Hicks, Mitchell Hackney Selected All-BHC Gridders

Two Newark High School stars, and one from Christiana, have been named on the 1964 All-Blue Hen Conference football team.

Yellowjacket Steve Mitchell, high-scoring end in the state, was a unanimous choice for All-Conference honors, and Newark Co-Capt. Ricky Hicks—second team All-State tackle—also won All-Blue Hen Conference team honors.

From Christiana, Viking Co-Capt. Jim Hackney was named All-Blue Hen Conference guard.

On the team selected by BHC coaches, the undefeated Bulldogs of Brandywine—conference champions—won four positions.

Ted Jackson, along with Newark's Mitchell, was a unanimous choice at end; John Buonassisi was named as center; Pete Lips, halfback; and Johnny Lipscomb, fullback.

William H. High's Ken Swift and Joe Rybicki were named All-Conference tackle and halfback.

Conrad's Bill Gardner was chosen at guard; and DeLaWarr Quarterback Chuck McCallion—leading scorer in the conference—was selected as the All-BHC field general.

Ex-Yellowjackets McGlinchey, Jones Win For Delaware

Two former Newark High School Yellowjacket wrestlers of Coach Andy Marcantonio, were among the University of Delaware's victorious matmen who defeated Johns Hopkins 27-3 on Wednesday night of last week at Carpenter Field House.

In the season opener for Coach Paul Billy's Blue Hen grapplers, Newark's Southern Jones, 157, and Mike McGlinchey, 137, scored decisions for the Blue Hen varsity.

Two other Delaware high school stars—Jack Morning and Chuck Walz of Mt. Pleasant—won by forfeit and decision at 123 and in the heavyweight divisions.

Coach Billy's Hens won seven of the eight matches.

Pins were registered by Capt. Bob Ruth, 147, of Timonium, and Dave Nichol, 177, of Bozeman, Md.

Bill Ashley, 130, of Freeport, N.Y., won a decision.

The Hens will resume competition Jan. 9, when they meet Ursinus at Carpenter Field House.

In Burma had ended, that Franklin L. Orth of Washington, D. C., and Milwaukee, Wis., was back tracking game in the United States.

Several months ago, he went to Africa for the kind of big game hunting many shooters dream of, but few experience. This was no short-term, commercially-arranged safari. The hunt was planned for Orth by an old friend from Burma days, Col. Jimmy Allison, senior British official in Bechuanaland in Southwest Africa.

Allison arranged for two of Africa's most experienced hunters to accompany the American on his three weeks in the bush.

After arriving in Johannesburg, South Africa—in a snow storm—Orth and his hosts traveled by British lorry and a landrover 1,100 miles north to the hunting area in Bechuanaland, Southwest Africa. The area, Orth reports, is probably the richest game land remaining on the Dark Continent. Even for Africa, a land of vast unpopulated areas, the hunting preserve was unusually isolated.

At one point the party was 400 miles from the nearest road. Travel was by compass direction, and by the sixth sense of the Afrikaners and natives.

Name what game is available to hunters in Africa and cheetahs are Orth shot it. He brought home many trophies of the hunt that are now being mounted.

One trophy, a 22-ft. python skin now stretched across the wall of his National Rifle Association office, Orth treated himself.

Orth killed the python with three shots when the monster dropped out of a tree 50 yards in front of the party. The first two shots were through the body and not effective, failing to break the reptile's spine. With the third shot, Orth blew off the head.

During his time in the bush, Orth shot two lion, a cape buffalo and a tremendous elephant, one of the largest in that part of Africa in many years. The elephant was in a drunken rage and had already destroyed one native village when Orth and his party arrived on the scene, hav-

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day Blood Will Tell

A few years ago some veterinary doctors at Cornell University looked up from their microscopes and wrote a paper on their findings which, if readily applicable, would revolutionize the somewhat inexact science of handicapping, or trying to pick a winner.

In brief, the learned doctors proclaimed that the term Thoroughbred blood is more than a figure of speech; that the blood of the race horse does indeed differ chemically from that of the cold-blooded saddle horse or work horse. They attributed the Thoroughbred's speed to a higher hemoglobin count.

The racing fan will not have to add consideration of a horse's erythrocytes and hemoglobin per unit volume to the many and varied factors he weighs in making his selection. However, the trainer does a blood analysis in keeping tabs on the condition of his charges, for horses too can come up with a "dried blood" calling for medication and, perhaps, a diet supplement.

Yellowjackets Face Holiday Wrestling In YMCA Tourney

Members of Coach Andrew Marcantonio's Newark High School wrestling squad plan to compete in the 8th annual Delaware State Wrestling Development Tournament next Monday and Tuesday at the Central YMCA, 11th and Washington Streets, Wilmington.

William Laurelli and John May are co-directors of the tournament limited to high school wrestlers who live in the State of Delaware.

The tourney is intended to develop and encourage wrestling among state novices, the directors report, and those who have won first or second in any state wrestling tournament are ineligible for this meet.

The tourney is divided into 11 weight classes, from the 97-lb. division through the unlimited class.

been called by a native runner. Elephants, according to Orth, get drunk on Marullah berries.

When Orth arrived, the big fellow—he was estimated at seven tons and his tusks measured 6-ft.—was uprooting trees, using his tusks to burrow under the roots, then bowling the trees over with his head.

Back home, Orth had some advice for hunters who might be planning to hunt in Africa.

It is important that you know your gun. They are higher powered than guns normally used for hunting in the United States. Orth suggests frequent practice with the weapon one might be using in Africa—and remember that the big game in Africa is dangerous!

Physical condition is important. There is much walking and running in the brutally hot African sun, and only hunters in top physical condition can stand it for any period of time. He recommends a regular program of physical conditioning to get in shape.

When you have got a thing where you want it, it is a good thing to leave it where it is.

Delaware Stopped By Lehigh For 1st Time In 4 Years

Delaware, which hadn't lost a basketball game to Lehigh in four years, was stopped 73-62 by the visiting Engineers last Friday night in Carpenter Field House. A slim turnout of 506 attended the Middle Atlantic Conference university division contest.

The victory was the third in six games for the Engineers and their first in two MAC starts. The setback sank the Hens for the fifth straight time, including three conference contests.

Delaware had won seven straight games from the Bethlehem (Pa.) team before last Friday.

Sophomore Guard Pat Howlett scored eight of Lehigh's first 15 points and was the big reason the Engineers opened a 15-6 early lead.

Delaware rallied to close the gap to 19-16, but again with Howlett leading the way, the Engineers scored six straight points and left the court leading 36-24 at halftime.

With less than 10 minutes remaining in the game, Delaware lost Capt. John Himes with a sprained ankle. The 6-2 junior had scored 11 points and grabbed 11 rebounds when he was forced to the sidelines.

His absence, however, seemed to fire the Hens and with Dick Dunning and Frank Szczerba leading the way, Delaware closed the gap to 10 points after the Engineers had a 20-point margin.

Howlett led Lehigh with 22 points, while teammate Phil Bullinger tallied 16 and pulled down 11 rebounds.

Former Delaware Capt. Dave Szczerba, now coach of the Blue Hen freshmen, won his first game. The Hen frosh rallied in the second half to defeat Lehigh, 77-76. They had lost three straight games.

Delaware doesn't return to action until Jan. 6 when the Hens host Temple.

Mike Lude To Represent Football Coaches Ass'n

PORT COLLINS, Colo. — Mike Lude, Colorado State University head football coach, has been appointed representative of District 6 in the American Football Coaches Association.

The former Delaware line coach will represent college coaches from 10 states.

The states are Colorado, Missouri, North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Montana, Wyoming, Kansas, Nebraska and Iowa.

Capt. John Himes Paces Delaware Cagers With 13.4 Scoring Average For 1-5 Log

Captain John Himes continues to lead the hapless Blue Hen basketball team in scoring through six games, averaging 13.4 points per contest.

A glance at the Hens' team statistics indicates why they have been on the losing end in five straight games.

Delaware is scoring only 53.2 points per game, while allowing 84 opponents to average 33.4 per contest.

The Hens are hitting on only 32 per cent of their shots compared with 45 per cent for their opponents and have committed 126 personal fouls to their opponents' 79.

And the Delawareans are on the short end of a 334-280 rebounding count.

Newark, Delaware, Thursday, December 24, 1964

Another Christmas and a new year are just ahead of us, with many changes for many of us. But the greatest story ever told remains unchanged—and we at the Newark Post are privileged to reprint it with reverence and with thanksgiving.

THE CHRISTMAS STORY

AND it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

(And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.)

And all went to be taxed, everyone into his own city. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David.)

To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

And she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped Him in swaddling clothes, and laid Him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone around about them; and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the Babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the Babe lying in a manger.

And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this Child.

And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

GOVERNOR CARVEL'S CHRISTMAS MESSAGE TO THE PEOPLE OF DELAWARE

To: The Citizens of The First State—

For the last time as your Governor—I send warm greetings of the season to the people of our beloved state.

As we approach this Christmas season our hearts are grateful for the many blessings which have been showered upon us.

Forces for good are obviously at work and the spirit of brotherhood is strong as we continue our concern for others, especially our less fortunate brethren.

Charles Dickens eloquently described the Yuletide as "a good time; a kind, forgiving, charitable, pleasant time; the only time I know of, in the long calendar of the year, when men and women seem by one consent to open their hearts . . . freely." And so it should be!

Christmas should be a joyous occasion for its commemorates a miraculous event, serves to bring back pleasant memories of childhood and of by-gone Christmases and reunions with loved ones and unfolds an outpouring of generosity and kindness by all mankind.

In our homes and places of worship—let us give thanks for our many blessings, and let us pray for the day when all the world will live by the angels carol "Peace on Earth, Good Will Toward Men."

—Elbert N. Carvel

LETTERS TO Santa Claus

Postmaster: F. Allyn Cooh and his associates at the U. S. Post Office in Newark, are among the foremost of Santa's assistants, and each year process many letters addressed to Santa Claus at the North Pole. After reading his mail, Santa returns some of the letters from his legion of little friends, with the request that Mr. Cooh forward a few to the Newark Post for publication to assure the little people that their letters are not neglected.

Postmaster Cooh and his friends join Santa in wishing all of these little letter-writers a very, very Merry Christmas!

Dear Santa Claus, I have been a good boy. Please bring me some toys for Christmas. We will leave some candy and milk for you on our fireplace.

I want a telephone, an Etch-A-Sketch, clown-house-slippers, a tiny piano, and some Christmas candies and a camera—a tiny one for our new baby—only this big . . . (Ed. note: The author draws a rough rectangle about an inch long.)

—Love, Brad

Ed. note: Judy sends a beautiful Christmas card to Santa, a card on which she has pasted Christmas picture stickers. And the card carries that grand message "Peace on Earth, Good Will toward Men. May the Peace and Happiness of Christmas be with you today and every day throughout the New Year."

Dear Santa: I would like some colorful or bright material to make Barbie and Midge clothing. I also would like the game "Hands Off." I think it would be fun to play. I'm a little old for many toys so I would like some clothes for myself. One thing I want is a dress but haven't decided on a color for it, yet. Maybe yellow or blue most of all. Also I would like a sweater that goes over a blouse, maybe in a blue or red. Well, I guess that's all.

—Marian Santo

P. S. I would also like a ring with my birthstone, "Diamond."

Dear Santa, I would like Newark jacket, Newark football outfit, Newark football shoes, kick tee, Newark football game, Newark helmet, race car set, that is all.

—William Santo

Dear Santa, I would like a Newark gasket, Newark football outfit, football shoes, kick tee, Newark football helmet, football game, tool set or chest, Mr. Kelley Car wash. That is all. Your friend,

—Bradley Cook

Dear Santa Claus, I would like some Christmas gifts, so please lean your ear this way. May I have a Skipper doll? Shes Barbie's little sister! Now let me see what else would I want? I would like a pet, a mouse will do fine! That all I want, I would like no more. But if you want to give me something just put it in the door! Love,

—Gale Organist

Visitors are welcome. A nursery and Sunday school also are held at 429 Willa Road at 11 o'clock.

Dear Santa Claus, I've been trying very hard to be a good girl. I help my mother by cleaning my room and helping to clean the house. Many times I run upstairs or downstairs to get things for her. This keeps her feet from getting too tired.

I would love to have a Raggedy Ann doll to cuddle with. I like Penny Brite. Please bring me some play food for when I play house. I like a vacuum cleaner (a play one). If you have a copper refrigerator left after the other children have their gifts, I'd love one.

Please don't forget the little orphans who have no mommy and daddy to love them. Love,

—Doris

WOMEN SHOULD PAMPER THEMSELVES from time to time with something fashionable, elegant and flattering. I have a wonderful suggestion for a way to do it... make this knitted 2 piece dress which is truly a masterpiece of handwork. You will need time, skill and patience for this design, but the result will be a priceless original fashion.

CUSTOM MADE ELEGANCE
The detail in this knit is unusually lovely. The skirt, perfectly fitted at the hip line, is slightly flared at the hem for walking ease and a patterned effect has been achieved by alternating rows of cable stitches with stockinette panels. As you can see, the jacket is equally as fashionable and tailored to perfection. It has comfortable kimono sleeves, a beautifully shaped collar and double turned back cuffs. This is a fashion that will take you through the chill days of Spring and Autumn and is also comfortable under your winter coats and fur stoles.

CHOOSE FROM A RAINBOW OF COLORS
Today's dress is knitted of Super Fingering yarn which is available in so many exquisite shades, you'll have no problem at all in selecting one that's most flattering to you and your wardrobe. Free instructions are available by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Needlework Editor of this newspaper along with your request for Leaflet B 197.

Farmers' Tax-Planning In Next Few Days Offers Year-End Income Producing Aid

One of the biggest income-producing jobs that a farmer can do during the next few days is tax planning.

W. T. McAllister, farm management specialist at the University of Delaware, says many farmers can save tax dollars if they sit down now and do some planning. But he warns this must be done before the first of January if it is going to help on this year's taxes.

He says that the more evenly a farmer can distribute his taxable income from year to year, the less tax he will pay. McAllister suggests using farm records to get an idea of likely taxable income for 1963.

A farmer who has a lower than normal income this year may delay cash purchases until 1964, thereby reducing next year's tax obligation.

With an abnormally high income this year, it may be desirable to buy some of next year's needs this year. Planning on such things as repairs, new equipment, selling livestock and the like can determine how these receipts and expenditures affect taxable income, McAllister says.

Eligible property under this deduction includes machinery and equipment (including freight charges), purchased now for use next year. Major overhauling of machinery that will extend the life for four or more years qualifies for the investment credit.

Silos, grain bins and storage facilities also qualify, but livestock and buildings do not.

Wages paid to children when they work around the farm, also can be counted as an expense against the farm business. The money must have been actually paid for work performed. If the payment is less than $600 for the year, the child will not need to pay taxes on his earnings. If he earns more than $600 and the father provides more than 50 per cent of the child's support, the child must file a tax report and pay any tax due, but the parent can continue to claim the child as a dependent.

The Farmers' Tax Guide has an illustrated example of using investment credit in tax computations, and it also explains other aspects of taxes for farmers.

Copies are available from the county agricultural agents in Newark, Dover and Georgetown, or may be obtained from W. T. McAllister at the University of Delaware school of agriculture in Newark.
