The October meeting of the Newark Chamber of Commerce, regularly scheduled for Monday night, has been postponed until Thursday night, October 12, when a dinner-meeting will be held at the Deer Park Hotel. ## PLAYBILL PROGRAM

To Be Presented Thursday In Mitchell Hall

The eighth Playbill program of the University of Delaware will be presented in Mitchell Hall next Thursday evening with members of the University Drama Group scheduled to give the guest presentation, "A Husband For Breakfast." The cast, all members of the organization which last year presented George Kaufman and Edna Ferber's "First Lady," includes: Mrs. Richard Cooch, Miss Katherine Ort, Mrs. Walter Wilson, Parker Thomas, Dr. Walter Wilson, Dr. C. R. Kase, and Richard Ryan. Mr. Thomas was one of the Drama Group who joined with the student dramatic clubs in staging "Much Ado About Nothing" last winter. ### Puppets Presentation

The Puppets of the Women's College will present "Double Demon," a comedy by A. P. Herbert. Barkley Pierce is the one man in a cast of twelve. Anne O'Daniel, a sophomore transfer from Stephens College, will play the feminine lead. Other girls in the cast are Virginia Evans, Dorothy Cann, Evelyn Smith, Helen Kaiser, Betty Hearn, Mildred Hank, Marie Connolly, Jane Staving, Jane Lynam, and Marjorie Greenbaum. Blanche Lee is directing.

Members of the Footlights Club of Delaware College will present "The Shadow of the Glen," the first play written by this famous Irish playwright.

Full of Irish brogue, the four characters have studied their dialect carefully and are well-versed in their roles. Antoine Velleman, another newcomer, plays the one female part. Sol Markowitz is her husband and the other two Irishmen are Joe Dannenberg and Frank Annand. Direction has been placed in the hands of Jane Trent.

Miss Jane Hastings, of Newark, has been appointed publicity chairman. (Please Turn To Page 8)

Stockley Colony Plans For Autumn "Big Day"

Preparations for the annual "Big Day" as they call the autumn open house at Delaware Colony are going on apace among the children and staff members. This year "Big Day" is to be Saturday afternoon, October 21.

In preparation for the forthcoming open house, when children will entertain their visiting parents, and relatives, girls under Mrs. Susan T. Landes, director of occupational therapy and training, are finishing needlework, knitting and weaving for exhibit; units under Richard R. Landes, music supervisor, are rehearsing "Old Ironsides," an operetta, and boys under Howard E. Ling and Charles West, shop instructors, are completing samples of their work.

History In Collaboration As a plausible collaboration with the preparations, the academic classes, under W. C. Lewis, are studying the history of the ship, "Old Ironsides." The practice of holding an open

ORDINANCE TABLED ON COMPLAINT

Automobile Men State Objection To New Edict

Following an appeal by George M. Haney, president of the Chamber of Commerce and manager of the Wilmington Auto Sales Company of Newark, and John Mayer, manager of the Rittenhouse Motor Co., representing local automobile dealers and garage men, the Council of Newark deferred final action Monday night at the October meeting on the proposed ordinance to regulate the storage and display of "junked cars."

The measure, introduced at the September session, was tabled for final action in November. Bearing a fine of $10 against violators, the ordinance calls for a board fence seven feet in height to be erected around any yard or lot "where abandoned or junked automobiles are kept or stored within the limits of the Town of Newark." It also forbids the storage of cars on the public streets that do not bear proper license tags.

Mr. Haney agreed with the idea behind the ordinance, which was introduced to break up the unsightly and unsafe practice of storing abandoned cars on the streets, but he pointed out, the measure as drawn will work hardships on dealers who operate with respect for the community.

"You have a public nuisance law," he stated, "why not use that against violators?" It was further pointed out that it is practically impossible for dealers to receive a load of new cars without having some of them stand on the street for a short period without tags. Under the ordinance, police would be empowered to make arrests.

Concerning the erection of fences around storage lots, it was stated that used cars are often sold on open-air display. "Junk yards" should be hidden in some fashion, the delegation agreed.

Approve New Work

Members of the governing body present were: Mayor Frank Collins, Councilman George F. Ferguson, Charles C. Hubert, George E. Ramsey, C. Emerson Johnson, and John F. Richards. Engineer George C. Price, Secretary C. Vernon Steele, and Chief of Police William H. Cunningham were in attendance also.

Mayor Collins designated October 18 and 19 as "clean up" days for the collection of rubbish.

Bills amounting to $461.42 for curb and gutter work on Linden Street were ordered paid to Julian T. Jones, Wilmington contractor. New curbs and gutters were ordered laid on Townsend Road, between Winslow Road and W. Park Place, at an estimated outlay of $464.13. It was announced also that underground wiring for lights in

4-H CLUBS MARCH IN NEWARK

Horace Ginn Middletown Cops Sweepstakes

Horace Ginn, of Middletown, was awarded the cash show sweepstakes prize at the first annual New Castle County 4-H Club Achievement Fair staged Saturday at the University of Delaware experimental farm. Clarence Fraim, of the Wilmington Kiwanis Club, made the presentation.

Parade Staged The fair was opened in the morning by the first 4-H Club parade ever held in the state which was headed by the 70-piece Newark High School band, led by Miss Miriam Lewis, and directed by Frederick B. Kutz, director of music at the school. Nearly 300 club members and five floats illustrating various parts of the club pledge were included in the procession.

The first float represented the head and was prepared by Stronghold Club, McDonough, Stumps Corner, and Townsend. The second, representing the heart, was prepared by Stanton, Oak Grove, and Marshall-on clubs. In charge of the hand float were Bear, Kirkwood, and Christians, while the health float was constructed by Oak Hill and Blackbird, and the home float by members of Corner Ketch, the 3-In-One Club, and Newark.

Inspected Club members and their friends visited the exhibits and inspected the experimental farm where luncheon was served following the parade.

Class Work Started In Students' Air Course

Class work was started this week in the Vocational Flight Training Course to be conducted at the University of Delaware this year through the cooperation of the Civil Aeronautics Authority. The course calls for 72 hours of ground work and 35 to 50 hours of flight instruction. The flight instruction will be given at Bellanca and duPont airports by instructors who must be approved by the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

While only 20 students will be allowed to take the course, 38 have made application. Rigid physical examinations and other required qualifications will probably greatly reduce the number who are seeking to take the course. Upper classmen will be given preference, and only if the quota of 20 is not made up of upperclassmen, will freshmen be accepted.

Prof. M. M. Daugherty, of the Agricultural Research Department, who served as a pilot in the 27th Aerial Squadron during the World War, will be the classroom instructor.

Delaware Camera Club To Hear Distinguished Guest

Prof. Nicholas Haz, FR.P.S., an internationally-known photographer and lecturer, will talk on "The Mental Limits of Picture Making" at a meeting of the Delaware Camera Club at the Delaware Art Center, Park Drive and Woodlawn Avenue, Monday evening. The address will start at eight o'clock.

Arrangements have been concluded with Fred Peel, FR.P.S., who will present a course on photography during the winter months. The first lecture, "What Is A Picture?" will be given Oct. 30.

Lively Action Stamps Campaign For Credits

Subscription Campaign Entrants

Miss Maybell Aiken, Newark	526,000
Mrs. Geraldine B. Barnes, Newark	595,000
Mrs. H. M. Irwin, Newark	600,000
Vernon D. Lovett, Newark	358,000
Miss Lydia M. Mearns, Newark	524,000
James T. Moore, Christiana	202,000
Miss Susie Pruitt, Newark	466,000
Miss Margaret Ring, Newark	238,000
Willard Raleigh, Elkton, R. D. 3	214,000
Mrs. William Wideman, Newark	362,000
Mrs. Elizabeth W. Zebley, Newark, R. D. 2	595,000

There was some real action this last week which resulted in a little up-set in the standing according to the credits published. Mrs. H. M. Irwin jumps to the lead and we find an unusual situation in a tie between Mrs. Geraldine Barnes and Mrs. Elizabeth Zebley who are both close seconds to Mrs. Irwin. Miss Aiken who led the race last week has dropped a little in the standing but still close enough to regain her lost position before the end of the campaign. The race is exceptionally close, with no real runaway showing so far, which means that any of those still listed, have a chance for that big first prize.

The first period has been the proving ground of the campaign and the field is now left to the few who have the courage and ambition to fight to the end. The field has been cleared, and the race from now on will be between real determined competitors and will be worth watching.

They warrant your support; they deserve it. They have proven their ability, energy and enthusiasm. Support your favorite to the limit; extend your subscription for a longer term.

CANDIDATES NARROWED TO ACTIVE FIELD ONLY

Second Period To End In 12 Days; Prizes Are Attraction

The first period of the Post's big subscription campaign came to a close Wednesday night. The second period will close on Tuesday, October 17, and from that time on the candidates will go into the third and last period under a greatly reduced schedule of credits. The next twelve days will be the last chance for big credits. Active workers will not lose one minute in their quest of subscriptions and renewals.

The list of candidates has narrowed down to the real workers. It has been a case of the survival of the fittest and from now on some real action in the race is expected for the choice of a new 1940 Chevrolet or the $500 in cash which will be given if the winner prefers cash to the car. The second prize of $200, the third of $100, the fourth, fifth, and sixth prizes are all worth the consideration, time, and effort put forth by the various workers in the campaign.

Friendly Rivalry Important The friendly rivalry that is being shown between the different sections and communities in support of their favorite candidate, is going to be a big factor in the success of the winner and is going to be the means of enriching that particular one to the extent of several hundreds of dollars, or at the rate of about $100 a week for the duration of the campaign.

The workers who are now listed in the campaign have shown their determination to stick to the finish and fully realize what a wonderful opportunity has been presented to them by this newspaper.

Race Is Close As close as the race now stands, your subscription or renewal may be the one that will bring a small fortune to your favorite.

Here is the opportunity to do a real kindness for a friend and without costing you one cent more than you would otherwise pay. In fact, on a three or five year subscription you save money.

The long-term subscription will help the most. In fact, a very few long-termers separate the leaders from those further down in the list. One or two such subscriptions may be the deciding factor.

There has been more real action during the last week than at any previous time. It is predicted that from now on to the finish, subscriptions will be coming into this office in ever-increasing volume. It takes time to arouse the public, but once aroused, the friends of the different entrants start to support their favorite in every possible way, and as the campaign draws near the end, both candidates and friends are putting forth every effort and neglecting no opportunity to finish in the big money.

Winners On Credits The winners in this contest will be determined by the number of credits earned rather than the number of subscriptions. One of the big secrets of winning that first prize, is to get some of the long-term subscriptions before going into the third period where the credits are so much smaller. One five year gives as many credits in this period as twenty-five of the one year. Ten of the five year would run the credits up into big figures.

It is worth some real time, thought and energy. Only three weeks more to go; after that it will be too late. NOW IS THE TIME.

Lesson for October 8

THE FORERUNNER OF THE KING

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 23:17.
GOLDEN TEXT—Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.—Matthew 2:3.

When an earthly king visits his dominions or makes a journey to another land, great preparations are made for his coming. Everything is done to expedite his journey and to assure him of safety and comfort. The United States and Canada have recently had that interesting experience. The King of kings and Lord of Lords who in loving kindness and gracious condescension had come to earth to be our Redeemer had now grown to manhood and was prepared to enter on His public ministry. God sent John to be His forerunner to prepare the way and to herald His coming.

I. A Herald Prophetically Foretold (vv. 1, 3, 4).
The coming of John (usually called the Baptist) was of such vital concern to God that He had revealed it to His prophets hundreds of years before (see Isa. 40:3).

We should study and believe the message of the prophets. The same prophecies that pointed to John the Baptist and Christ's first coming also point to the second coming (Mal. 3:1-6; 4:1-6). We know the former took place, why should we doubt the fulfillment of the latter? We do well to take heed to the word of prophecy (II Pet. 1:19).

Let us also prepare the way of the Lord, not as John did, for his was a special ministry, but by making ways for the gospel to reach the hearts of men. We can remove hindrances and obstructions, preparing their hearts to receive Him as Saviour and Lord.

II. An Unusual Man with a Burning Message (vv. 2, 6-12).
What an arresting appearance John must have made as he emerged to the edge of the wilderness to present his startling message! God had kept him (like Moses and others) in the quiet of the desert where He could talk with him, away from the distractions of so-called civilization. This simple living had made John a striking personality, quiet, unusual and unconventional. The man who strives for such an appearance to attract attention is but a fool, but on the other hand unconventionality will not destroy one's usefulness if he has a message from God.

The preaching of John was a burning message of repentance. There had been no prophetic message since the time of Malachi, and in the intervening 400 years the religious life of the Jews had settled down into a barren legalistic formalism. John came with a simple, practical, and plain-spoken indictment of sin, which led to repentance and which made religion vital and real again.

We know that the gospel of the grace of God in Christ goes far beyond the preaching of John. But we also know that the Church needs to get back to the proclamation of a vital heart-searching message, and some genuine old-fashioned repentance. Then we like John will bring men to Christ for salvation, for sanctification, for service.

III. A Humble but Privileged Servant of Christ (vv. 13-17).
The crowning event in the ministry of John was the recognition of Jesus as He came to be baptized. He was deeply conscious of his own unworthiness for this great work and pointed to the coming Saviour as the One in whom they should put their trust (vv. 11 and 14). See also John 1:29. John was not jealous of his own position, nor seeking his own advancement (see v. 3 and John 3:30).

To this faithful and humble servant came the inestimable privilege of baptizing the Saviour. The baptism of Jesus presents a mystery which we cannot fully solve. It is certain that He did not come to be baptized for the remission of sin, for He knew no sin. The best explanation seems to be that in His obedience to His Father He was willing to subject Himself to every ordinance of God—a spirit which is not too common, by the way, among His professed followers. He was not a sinner, but He took the sinner's place, and thus He both entered upon His ministry and pointed forward to that day when God made Him "who knew no sin" to be "made sin for us" so that "we might be made the righteousness of God in him" (II Cor. 5:21).

Gracious Amid Gloom
Yet for all my Lord's gloom, I find Him sweet, gracious, loving, kind; and I want both pen and words to set forth the fairness, beauty and sweetness of Christ's love, and the honor of this cross of Christ, which is glorious to me, though the world thinks it shame thereof.—Samuel Rutherford.

Wearing of the Green

On Friday at 4:10 p.m., the W.C.D. freshmen received their insignia and rules—the price they pay for being undergraduates. Doris Gibney, sophomore president, and her committee laid down the following rules for the freshmen to obey: 1. Freshmen must always open doors for upperclassmen and faculty. 2. Freshmen may not cut campus. 3. In the evening freshmen must wait on the porch of Science Hall until the upperclassmen have gotten their mail. 4. Freshmen must always speak to upperclassmen. 5. Freshmen may not remain seated while upperclassmen are standing. 6. Freshmen may not sit in wicker chairs. 7. Freshmen must step aside for faculty members and upperclassmen. 8. No make-up or nail polish is to be worn by freshmen except on Sundays and at dances. 9. Freshmen must always smile at the cry of "Air Raid." 10. Freshmen must wear socks or stockings. 11. Freshmen must know their class songs before they can receive their class colors on October 14. 12. Freshmen must always wear their insignia except on Sundays or at dances. 13. Any freshman violating one of these rules must recite, with motions, the following: "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star," "Little Miss Muffet," "Jack Be Nimble," "There was a Little Girl," and "Humpty Dumpty."

And the insignia? Well, they have to wear green headbands in Indian fashion with large green bows attached, and plus that a large green name-card.

So if you happen to be riding down Main Street and see a group of girls on their knees in the middle of the street, don't be worried and start looking for a cop—some upperclassman undoubtedly just shouted "Air Raid" at the top of her lungs! ! !

Dramatic Season

FOOD for THOUGHT

By CHARLOTTE SPENCER
Nutritionist, State Board of Health

In a recent State Board of Health survey, prices of cereals ranged from three to forty-five cents per pound! This price range does not correspond to any similar range in food value of the different cereals.

Cornmeal, oatmeal, and rolled wheat are the cheapest cereals in Delaware at the present time. Bulk cereals are cheaper than small packages. Five pound quantities of cornmeal, rolled oats, and rolled wheat can be purchased from your grocer or feed dealer, and are usually the cheapest cereals available.

Some home cooked cereals are more expensive than some ready prepared cereals. In the list which was included in the Board of Health survey there were six home cooked and two ready prepared cereals which cost fifteen cents a pound or less; four home cooked and seventeen ready prepared cereals which cost from fifteen to thirty cents and one home cooked and five ready prepared which cost more than thirty cents per pound.

Figure out what price you are paying per pound for the cereal you buy. The weight is always included on the package label. If you are paying less than fifteen cents per pound, you are buying economically. If you are paying from fifteen to thirty cents a pound, you are not economizing. If you are paying over thirty cents you are not getting your money's worth.

Dark cereals have more iron and more vitamins than refined cereals. The less refining that is, the cheaper is the manufacturing process. For these two reasons dark cereals are usually more economical than light cereals. They contain more food value per pound and usually cost less.

Since cereals are used most extensively by low income families, it is essential that these families study their cost carefully.

Robert Kirkwood Chapter To Hold Meeting Monday
The Robert Kirkwood Chapter, C.A.R., will meet Monday at 8:30 p.m., at the home of Wanda Gilmore, 136 E. Delaware Avenue.

Seeds From Local Trees Produce Better Results

Seeds from trees in the back yard or along a neighbor's fence are likely to produce better trees than those from far places, says Professor L. R. Detjen of the Horticulture Department of the College of Agriculture, University of Delaware.

Professor Detjen points out that the U. S. Department of Agriculture now plants only trees from local seeds for its work in erosion control and reforestation. Local seeds are considered to be those obtained within a hundred miles of the planting site and with a difference in elevation of not more than 1,000 feet.

He quotes the U. S. Forest Service, which plants about 100 million trees a year: "Trees must be thoroughly adapted to the climate of the planting site. Seeds of even the same species gathered at great distances from the planting location cannot compete with the home-grown products. Sooner or later a variation occurs in the size of the seedling trees and in their survival, usually in favor of the home-area seedlings."

Deep Planting Of Roses Essential

The above view is a scene of a rose field near Jennersville, Pa., on U. S. route 1, where rose problems are solved. The picture shows part of the 200,000 flowers now in bloom. Experts, studying rose culture, claim greater success is experienced by the average home owners, when roses are planted deeply, with the roots carefully spread out.

This fact has been proven in these rose fields, which present a practical demonstration of what can be done outdoors without special petting, as it is impossible to pet 12 acres of roses. They have to take what Nature affords in sun and shade, rain and drought, heat and cold.

Numerous parents and friends of the schools in the district attended the session, which was conducted by Robert Weimer, principal of the institution.

Temporary committees were named as follows: Membership—Robert L. McCauley, Mrs. Streaper Mackey, and Mrs. Ira Scott; nominating—Edw. P. Mackenzie, Mrs. Charles Reynolds, and Harry Strahorn. The objects of the P.T.A. were outlined by C. Otis McCauley, former president of the county council, and Edwin Fochler, the new president. The next meeting will be held on Oct. 13.

Roamin' Rutledge

These Dog Men

Being closer to baseball umpires, we have known for a long time that they are all blind, incapable, and crooked - - If the opinions expressed by players in every class, from the rankst sand-lotters to the best in the majors, mean anything. Umpires are simply too stupid to live, according to the average player - - And the more average or under on the player's part, the more abuse is heaped on the ump.

It has been only in recent weeks, however, that we learned of those malicious individuals who serve as judges at dog shows and field trials. They're shades below any baseball umpire in ability and the abuse they take is like Big Bertha blowing off next to a cap pistol, when compared to the routine stuff handed out by a batsman when a third strike is called - - low and on the outside. Only the man owning a winning dog is certain his animal has ability. No canine ever lost a test on its merits, according to disappointed owners. Crooked judges always have a hand in the outcome.

How They Moan

Despite the fact that the Eastern Beagle Club picked out two specialists in the persons of Otis Vogel, Leechburg, Pa., and Robert Sternloff, Jr., New Bedford, Conn., to judge the current American Kennel Club trials being run over the course at the S. Hallock duPont estate, Milford Cross Roads, the judges are incapable, according to losing owners.

We gave ear to a couple of disappointed (appropriately pronounced) "beggers" this week and their tales of woe, anent dog judges, were enough to bring forth tears to match the steady rain that fell outside.

The complainants were kind comparatively in their judgement of the two experts handling the Eastern trials when they summed them up as being simply "too damned young to know a good dog when they see one."

Dog judges as a whole, however, are villainous, treacherous, creatures, we learned from the voluble "beggers," who expressed themselves as "merely average" owners.

The Name Slennek
Dealing with dogs brings us to an original gentleman, one Walter H. Clark, of the local canine fraternity, who created somewhat of a stir at the recent Newark show. In addition to being the leading exhibitor with five entries, three of which copied ribbons in the hunter group, Clark handled Connell's Tipster, a 15-inch beagle owned by Robert Roy Connell, Elliott Heights, judged the best dog in the show - Tipster, not Connell, y'a dope!

Clark's unusual title, Slennek Kennels, for his pointers and English setters was the thing that attracted comment from the gallery.

Flashes

By Bill Fletcher

THERE WILL BE A BIG QUESTION ANSWERED AT Collegeville this Saturday when the University of Delaware eleven ushers in its 1939 campaign with Ursinus. Lady Misfortune didn't wait until the season got underway to start her dirty work but began her evil doin's shortly after the first cleated shoe had touched Frazer Field in pre-season practice.

THE LOSS OF THREE OUT-standing freshmen was not enough to satisfy her evil heart so she began sprinkling a few injuries around here and there in places they would hurt the most.

Jim Houser, a stoutout sophomore ball carrier, bowed out, probably for the entire season, with a bad case of water on the knee and Melvin Brooks, the most improved back on the squad, is now a doubtful starter because of a leg injury.

The ugly lady, not contented with molesting the ball carriers, turned to the line and temporarily incapacitated one of the freshmen, Hugh Bogovich, who is being groomed for one of the key positions in the Blue and Gold offense - a guard berth. He's a doubtful starter although Wilmer (Lunk) Apeley will do an excellent job of carrying on, but at this point, one of Delaware's chief problems in recent years crops up again - the shortage of capable substitutes.

DESPITE THE NUMEROUS SET-backs which the Hens have encountered, their spirit is good, all of which should go a long way in chalking the first game up in black. In Ursinus, they meet a peppy ball club that'll fight to the last ditch - a characteristic that has been typical of the Bears in the last two games with the Hens.

The Blue and Gold gridgers will have had exactly 26 days of practice when they meet their first opponent and Coach Steve Granda has lost little time in grooming his squad, composed mostly of inexperienced material, for battle.

No detail has been overlooked and an important factor, conditioning, has been stressed by the Hens' mentor in an effort to turn out a winning team.

Invaluable to Coach Granda has been the work of Assistant Coaches

Jackets In Home Opener Saturday

WEST NOTTINGHAM TEAM TO INVADE LOCAL GRID

Newark Eleven Holds Big Edge In Series; Colors Combine Triumphed For First Time Last Year, 6-0; Game To Start At 2 O'Clock

Coach William K. Gillespie's Newark High School gridgers, turned back by Millville last week, 32-6, will inaugurate the home football season on Saturday when they play host to a strong West Nottingham Academy eleven. The game will get underway at two o'clock.

Wind Aids Hosts
The defeat at the hands of the New Jersey team was the worst suffered in the history of the school as five tallies were forced through the local defense. Three touchdowns were chalked up in the second period when Bill Bellman, Newark punter, was forced to kick against a strong wind. After traveling little or no distance at all, the ball would come to rest deep in the Jackets' territory from where the hosts took to the air and accounted for three scores.

It was Harold Beeson, hard running local ball carrier, who saved the Newark team from a shutout when he broke into the clear after slanting off tackle, and raced 30 yards for the Jackets' lone tally of the afternoon.

"I expected the defeat," Coach Gillespie said this week as he discussed the setback, "and although our team is not as strong as in former years, we won't be beaten that badly again this season."

Plenty Of Action
Plenty of action can be expected when the Maroons invade Newark on Saturday with the academy team given a slight edge.

This game marks the continuation of the longest series in West Nottingham's football history. The Colors, Md. team crashed through for its first victory over the Jackets last year in a one-touchdown conquest.

Starting in 1926, the Jackets have met the Maroon combine on the gridiron eight times. Most of these tilts were close and hard-fought, but the local forces have proven their superiority by taking five of the eight decisions. The 1933 game at Colors ended in a tie, 0-0, as did the 1937 game at Newark, 7-7.

Gillespie's charges also have a decisive edge in points scored, rolling up a count of 112 to Nottingham's 19 in the eight games.

Probable Starters
A forward wall, flanked by two big ends, Alexander, who scales 175 pounds, and Wallenhorst, who tips the beams at 180, will give the Maryland team an edge in weight.

Other probable starters are: Marcangella, (192) and Reese (179), tackle; Julian (154) and Henderson (170), guards; DeBlasis (162), center; and Murray (160), Gibe (165), Mooney (165), and Brenner (175), backs.

Ackie Stultz may move into the quarterback post for the Jackets for the only change in last week's starting lineup. Probable starters are: W. Smith and A. Smith, ends; Ewing and Hill, tackles; McCall and Gregg, guards; Wiggins, center; and Bellman, Beeson, and Cataldi in the backfield.

In the four games he has lost to New York, Howard Mills, St. Louis Brown southpaw, has had only seven runs scored behind him.

A LOT OF LOCAL EYES WILL be focused on young Bill Hancock, a Newark High School product, who is waging a ding-dong battle with Ed Carullo, another freshman, for the center position. Although his rival appears to have a slight defensive edge, Bill is still in the running for the starting assignment and even if he doesn't get the call, he'll see plenty of action against the Bears.

We picked Delaware to down the Grizzlies last year and failed to back up our choice with a wager - net result was we couldn't sit down for a week after kicking ourself around the block. This time, we'll stick to the Hens again and we've got a silver dime to back up the selection. - any takers?

THE NEWARK HIGH SCHOOL Yellowjackets bowed to Millville on Saturday in the worst defeat ever suffered by the local team, but Coach William K. Gillespie has assured the football-loving town that they "won't be beaten that badly again this year. - not even by P. S."

Graduation of a forward wall from end to end has left the Jackets' mentor with a problem that may take another year or two to solve. The supply of green material is plentiful, but you can't expect inexperienced boys to win ball games.

The West Nottingham game on Saturday should provide local fans with enough thrills to make things interesting although the Colors, Md. outfit appears to have an edge over the Jackets.

DOGS DRAW BIG FIELDS FOR TRIALS

Weather Fails To Stop Beaglers At Eastern Contest

By "Ben Beagle"
Heavy rain and generally poor weather conditions failed to stop the Eastern Beagle Club's annual fall field trials which opened Sunday over the club course on the estate of S. Hallock duPont, Milford Cross Roads.

With an entry list that tops all previous marks, the trials, which are the regular fall American Kennel Club member-licensed contests, are to be concluded with the running of the 15-inch all-age dog class today.

More than 200 dogs are competing, according to Raymond Vansant Buckingham, secretary of the host club and master of the famous Oakwood Kennels. Entrants have been received from New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Ohio, Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, and Delaware.

Competent Judges Retained
Otis Vogel, Leechburg, Pa., and Robert Sternloff, Jr., New Bedford, Conn., are judging the events.

A gallery of nearly 300 watched the running of the 13-inch all-age bitch class and the 13-inch all-age dog class which opened the trials. Game was plentiful due to the fact that 150 rabbits had been released on the preserve prior to the tests.

In addition to the usual ribbons for winners, cash awards are being made in each class as follows: $25 for first, $15 for second, and $10 for third.

Beach Hill Cleo, an eight-year-old, owned by Clarence Humphries of Marshallton, topped the 13-inch all-age bitch class Monday. Newarkers were given a chance to cheer when Ryan's Queen II, owned and handled by Charles (Big Biff) Hopkins, a local breeder with less than a year's experience, took down second money.

Campbell Places Pair
Harry Campbell, Robisona, Pa., nabbed third and fourth places with Dry Creek Primrose and Shady Lawn Fanny finishing in that order.

Smith's Beauty III, owned by Marvin Bounds, Salisbury, Md., and handled by Mr. Buckingham, was reserve bitch.

First place in the 13-inch all-age dog class went to Gorjo Chip, owned by Walter Jones, Alden, Pa. The event was run on Tuesday.

Second place was taken by Hocking Lon, owned by Harry Campbell; Dumbarton Little Ducky, owned by James Brown, Pikesville, Md., was third; Sankana Tipster, owned by Dr. and Mrs. Thomas B. Snyder, Kimberton, Pa., was fourth, and Fisher's Rattler, owned by the Eastern club's president, William P. Fisher, Wilmington, topped the reserve place.

Elkton Dog Wins
Charnel Rebel, owned by Nolan Hutchison, Elkton, took first prize in the 15-inch derby class, with Concord Chick, owned by William W. Piant, Wilmington, second; Ford's Lady, owned by Ford's Beagles, Pittston, N. J., third; Forrest Range Pete, owned by Russell Brannock, Cambridge, Md., fourth, and Sked's Margo, owned by LeRoy Sked, Pittston, reserve.

Phil Bill Patsy, owned by William Burke, Clinton, N. J., topped the first ribbon in the 15-inch all-age bitch event Wednesday. Southern Fancy, owned by Joseph Southern, Baltimore, Md., was second; Sankana Nightmare, owned by Dr. and Mrs. Snyder, third; Whitely's Patsy, owned by Ross Robison, Wilmington, fourth, and Shady Creek Smarty, owned by Shady Creek Beagles, Walkkill, N. Y., reserve.

The 15-inch all-age dog class to be run today will conclude the trials. Mr. Buckingham announced last night.

McCarthy Concentrating On Winning Own Pennant
"It makes no difference to me who wins the National League pennant," says Joe McCarthy. "I am not worrying whether it will be the Reds or Cardinals as I am concentrating on winning the American League pennant, trying to win each game as it is played. If we are lucky enough to win another pennant, it then will be time to think about the team we will tackle in the world series."

Two Delaware Grid Candidates Have Had Outstanding Careers

Both Pitchers, Honor Students; One An Actor

Included in the squad of freshmen which turned up at the University of Delaware when the 1939 season got underway early last month were two prospects, one a Delaware boy, the other a native of Pennsylvania, who have wasted little time in moulding outstanding careers.

Selby-Bogovich
They are: Lewis Sylvester Selby, of Delmar, pictured in the upper photo, and Hugh (Bogey) Bogovich, of Turtle Creek, shown in the lower picture, and their activities have ranged from singing and stamp collecting to breaking necks on the gridiron.

A son of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Selby, Lew, standing a mere 6 feet, 5 inches, is being groomed for an end berth, a spot on the line which is comparatively new to him since most of his high school grid career was devoted to the center post.

His list of high school activities is as impressive as his height, for not only did Lew include three sports on his program for four years, but he found time to play the bass horn in the orchestra, sing in the same pitch as a member of the mixed choir, and what's more important, chalk up an average better than 85 which made him eligible for the Boys' Honor Society.

Basketball Leader
Four years of hard work on three athletic teams netted its reward and he was elected captain of the basketball squad his senior year and game leader for football.

Dividing his time between right field and first base for his first three years on the diamond, Lew proved his versatility when he took over the mound assignment for his last season and turned in six victories for the twelve-game schedule.

Twenty years of age, Lew, as a member of the junior varsity team, handed Vocational ball carriers plenty of trouble in his first official appearance at the end of Saturday, and judging from reports, he'll be a hard man to keep off the varsity once he gets into full stride.

His brother, Jack, is an outstanding athlete at Washington College.

Bogovich is another new-comer who has kept busy and he does Selby one better in that he has even dived a little into dramatics and appeared before the footlights.

His first love is sports, however, and stamp collecting after nine years, of labor, was pushed aside once basketball, baseball, and football stepped into his life.

Outstanding Moundsman
A son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bogovich, Hugh seems to be more proud of his pitching than anything else and proof of his ability lies in the fact that he was in the last 40 chosen from over 200 candidates in the Atlantic baseball school. As a high school moundsman, he chalked up three wins against no defeats during his senior year.

You can believe it or not, but he was fifth in scholastic standing in a class of 300 with an average of 93 and during his last year, served as president of the Hi-Y Club.

That he is not slouch as an athlete is brought out by the fact that he was a member of the basketball team that topped the championship of western Pennsylvania in 1938, and three letters in football at Turtle Creek speak for themselves.

Scaling 170 pounds and standing an even 6 feet, Hugh is a promising bidder for one of the Hens' guard posts and until he injured his wrist in scrimmage over a week ago, was included on the "A" team's forward wall.

You'll be seeing a lot of these two boys in the future - maybe not tomorrow, but soon.

BLUE HENS SLATED TO FACE URSINUS

Coach Granda Impressed By Bears; Hens Fight For Job

With inter-quadrant skirmishing on for three forward up to the Blue and Gold, the University of Delaware team, starting lineup for the first game with Ursinus at Collegeville on Saturday is still doubtful.

Bears Are Tough
Coach Steve Granda on Monday after scouting the team with Lafayette reported that the Pennsylvania team, defeated by the Blue and Gold in the 1938 opening clash, was a tough assignment for the Hens.

Impressed by the heavy strong defense shown by the Hens' mentor told Delaware men that they will have to charge their opponents to size up heavier, man for man, the Blue and Gold if they expect to succeed.

"The Ursinus offense is similar to our own and their plays worked to perfection," he said, "but we must be alert, for they have a back who does not lack the strength of the club as a game with Delaware is a matter of who will wear the fashy little."

Apparently, Earl Shunk, flank, has secured a first one of the wings, while Lee Boer, both freshmen, are concerned, with Wendell, a member of last year's team, are fighting it out.

John Grundy and Al Viden, both veterans of the 1938 team, are "in" as far as the Hens are concerned, with Lee Boer, both freshmen, are concerned, with Wendell, a member of last year's team, are fighting it out.

Bill Laurelli, former varsity star, is expected to be a member of the team while the other job is up between Wilmer (Lunk) Apeley, a letterman, and Hugh Bogovich, a freshman from Turtle Creek who has been sidelined first due to an injured wrist.

The pivot position is also a question mark, with a line-up between Wilmer (Lunk) Apeley, a letterman, and Hugh Bogovich, a freshman from Turtle Creek who has been sidelined first due to an injured wrist.

Uncle Jim Says

"When we grow too much it's hard to get a fair price, keep up the fertility of our farms, and stop soil losses."

Fight Fire

anna Fire Company's telephone is listed under the Newark exchange, Chief Ellison pointed out that on numerous occasions, the neighboring organization has been called by mistake.

Persons desiring the services of the local company should look in the emergency section of the telephone directory. The local organization is listed under the name of the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Co., and the number, 2917, should be posted in a prominent place.

Farm fires take an annual toll of 3,500 lives and $90,000,000 worth of property and according to the National Fire Waste Council, one farm family in every ten has suffered from accidental fires in the last five years, at an average cost of more than $900.

In addition to these direct losses, there are indirect losses, known to be large even though no aggregate figures are available. When fire wipes out a farmer's home and barn, his insurance may aid him in rebuilding the structures but the expense and inconvenience involved in finding quarters for his family, livestock, and equipment may mean a staggering loss.

A few things that may be done by farmers to prevent fires are:

Avoid placing wet crops in barns. Hay and other crops may ignite spontaneously when moist. Watch for signs of heating and provide adequate ventilation.

Provide necessary fire breaks to protect exposed property and fields from brush or grain field fires.

Use a spray at the base of the blower during threshing to lay the dust, prevent weed spread and prevent fires.

Always Remove Rubbish Always remove rubbish from house or barn and burn it in a proper incinerator at a safe location.

Keep kerosene and gasoline safely stored and in properly labeled receptacles and use oil and gasoline stoves with due care.

The use of kerosene in kindling stove fires kills hundreds of persons each year and the use of inflammable liquids as a cleaner costs many lives. Safe cleaning fluids are available at moderate cost.

Keep chimney flues clean and protect wall and floor from stove by metal or asbestos plate.

Keep matches away from children.

Be sure to have electrical equipment properly installed and use appliances with due care. Avoid the use of badly-worn electrical cords.

Dispose of Old Rags Get rid of old rags as they ignite spontaneously. Keep waste, rags, and rags in metal containers.

In addition to correcting fire hazards on their premises, farmers should also be prepared to control such fires as may occur. Extinguishers and small hose and ladder equipment should be kept ready to use before a fire can spread. If there is a rural fire department with a pumping engine in the section, the farmer should provide a water supply by damming a stream or building a cistern.

During Fire Prevention Week, farmers should cooperate with the agricultural committee of the National Fire Waste Council which is sponsoring a campaign to have complete inspection of all homes and other buildings in rural and agricultural areas. A self inspection blank may be obtained free from the council's headquarters, 1615 H Street, N. W., Washington, D. C.

main floor of the administration building. There will be assembled weaving, needlecraft, and wood-working exhibits, brooms, brushes, and samples of shoes repaired. The opera, "Old Ironsides," will be presented by the glee club and the band in the assembly room in the basement of administration building, as will be vocal and instrumental selections by the children.

Rehearsals commenced September 12, and by now all the speaking parts and most of the songs have been memorized. Practice at present is devoted mainly to training in voice inflection and general exten- sion will participate, including some from the kindergarten class.

All Buildings Open Those who are directing the children in their rehearsals consider that their spirit of enthusiastic cooperation is responsible for great progress made in the last two weeks.

The opera, "Old Ironsides," by Grant and Scheffer, is considered one of the best for junior and senior high schools. The story centers around the launching of the U.S.S. Constitution in Boston Harbor, October 20, 1797. The plot concerns the stealing and regaining of valuable charts marking the difficult navigation of that harbor.

The band, too, has been rehearsing for "Big Day," showing increasing progress in the study of new marches.

All of the cottages, the administration building, farm structures, maintenance shop, and laundry will be open to visitors on "Big Day," Saturday, October 21.
