Tension High As Mule-Hen Game Nears

Two Undefeated Small College Giants Meet in Toughest Game of Season

Record-Breaking Crowd To Witness Onslaught

Set to snap the vaunted Delaware victory streak, the Muhlenberg College football team, undefeated and untied in its 1946 campaign, will invade Wilmington Park this Saturday to do battle with the fighting Blue Hens in what should prove to be the outstanding gridiron feature of the day in the Eastern United States.

All eyes will be focused upon the Wilmington, Del., stadium at 2:00 p. m. kickoff when the longest winning streak in the nation will be risked against one of the most powerful Class B gridiron aggregations in the country. The Muhlenberg eleven, victors over all comers this year, should prove the biggest obstacle in the four-year victory path of the Murray juggernaut. The contest will be the finale on both schools' schedules, and the game, which will be played before some 14,000 fans, the largest crowd ever to witness a sporting event in Wilmington, should be a fitting climax to either one or the other schedule. The Mules have been pointing toward their Hen engagement, and will be in top physical shape for the fray while the Blue and Gold, with the exception of Fred "Spiz" Spasato, are in their best form of the campaign. Spasato was injured in the Washington College tilt, but has recovered enough to see action Saturday. Boasting the leading scorer in Eastern collegiate circles in stellar halfback Jack Crider, the Mules will present the best aerial attack to face the Hens this year as well as a persistent overland threat.

House Party Will Climax Festivities

Brown Hall to Celebrate Expected Mule Victory

In anticipation of the Blue Hen's victory over Muhlenberg this weekend, the residents of Brown Hall have prepared to fling The Second Annual Brown Hall Blow-out. The affair will be held in the B. H. lounge Saturday night from 8:30 to 12.

The First Annual Brown Hall Blow-out, held during the past spring semester, has been cited as the best house party in the history of the dormitory. Social chairman "Bud" Tobin predicts, however, that this weekend's affair will exceed even the original in safety and general good fun.

The mood of the party will be in keeping with the expected victory celebration. "Bud" expects a carefree, spirited crowd to add an atmosphere of exuberant informality to the usually staid Brown Hall. In case of a surprise Delaware loss in the gridiron encounter, plans have been laid to turn the affair into a typical Irish wake.

Music for dancing will be provided by recordings and refreshments will be served.

The party is open to all students who have obtained RSSO membership cards. Non-members who wish to attend will be charged a fifty-cent admission fee.

Student Delegates To Attend Forum

Tondat, Ling, Seligman To Visit Vassar Conf.

Dolores Tondat, Stephen Ling, and Kurt L. Seligman, have been chosen to represent the University of Delaware's club on international relations. The Forum, at the annual sectional conference to be held at Vassar college, on November 30 and December 1. This meeting is sponsored by the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace which is also supporting various international relationship clubs in most of the colleges of the United States.

The conference is being held to give college students a chance to express their opinion on foreign relations, and also to inform them on some pertinent points of this country's foreign policies. Round table discussion will take place after the presentation of papers by the students, discussing a particular aspect of our foreign policy.

Stephen Ling will present a ten-minute paper on Chinese affairs, while Dolores Tondat and Kurt Seligman will take part in the discussion of America's attitude toward European politics.

Miss Berry to Play For Con. Delegates

As one of the features of the Delaware Dramatic Conference, Miss Grace E. Berry, of the Music Department, will present an organ recital in Mitchell Hall on Saturday, November 23rd, at 2 p. m. The announcement of this event was made by Dr. C. R. Kase, Director of Dramatics, who will act as host to the conference delegates.

Miss Berry will play three groups. The first will include two Bach selections, "By The Waters of Babylon", and the Fantasia and Fugue in G minor. Next will be heard the "Andante" from the Cello Sonata by Saint-Saens, arranged by Busser, and the "Choral Improvisation on Beatitude" by Verrees. The final group will consist of a choral prelude—"Could I But Know the Number of My Days," by Karg-Elert, the "Pastorale" of Cesar Franck, and the Allegro from the First Symphony of Vienne.

The Blue Hens will lose four good players this June, when Bob Papy (left), Art Millman (center), Tony Stalloni (right), and Danny Wood (no picture) will receive degrees from the U. of D. All four were active on the Delaware gridiron before their war service.

Ken Keely's Band To Play for Formal

House Parties Will Follow Bonfire Friday Evening

This coming Friday marks the opening of the traditional Inter-Fraternity week-end on the University of Delaware campus. Accommodations have been made for Alumni and members of other fraternities which do not have chapters on campus.

House parties are in order for Friday night, and the members of the different frats are expected to circulate among the various houses. On Saturday fraternity men and dates en masse will attend the Muhlenberg game—which will be Delaware's ninth and final game of the season. Victory over Muhlenberg will more than add to the spirit of the evening. The agenda for Saturday evening will include a formal dance from 8-12 with music by Ken Keely and his orchestra.

Ken is one of the elite fraternity of dance band leaders emanating from the coal regions of upstate Pennsylvania. No one has attempted to explain this musical phenomenon, but from this region came such musicians as Jimmy and Tommy Dorsey, Frankie Carle, Fred Waring, Russ Morgan and others to make their fame in the orchestra world. Keely and his crew consist of fifteen artists including lovely June Kaye and Ken himself as vocalists. Their combined and able effort makes the vocal department of the orchestra a delightful one. Recently the orchestra has been featured at the Steel Pier and Strand Hotel in Atlantic City. In fact, during the past two years, Ken and his orchestra have played some of the

K. A. Castle To Be Done for Weekend

After several weeks of hard work, the KA's are almost ready to open their new fraternity house for public inspection. The new house, which is located on 19 Amstel Ave., is being ardently put into shape for the coming Interfraternity Week-end.

The furniture for the formal living room and the sport room was moved in yesterday afternoon. Jack Wilson, chairman of the House Furnishings Committee, says that the entire house should be in good shape before the advent of the coming Rush Week.

The purchasing of more commodious living quarters for the KA's culminates an Alumni organization drive which was started as early as last February, just after the fraternity was reactivated. The Alumni went through a process of reorganization and reactivation, and within a month after that time had purchased an option on the present house.

The house can be easily identified by the two solid grey concrete towers at its front. As the KA's put it—"It really makes a perfect K. A. Castle".

Colossal Pep Rally To Be Held Friday

Band to Start March At Women's Campus at 6:30

A gigantic pep rally and bonfire—"the biggest thing ever to hit this campus" according to Len Dougherty, S.G.A. president—will be held Friday night at Frazer Field to climax "Beat Muhlenberg" week. By this time the signs, banners, posters, and dummies will have been out all week in preparation for this rally.

The pep fest will start promptly at 6:30 at the Women's College. The band will leave from there and march up to Frazer Field where the bonfire will be lighted at 7:00. One of the features of the rally will be the singing of our new Alma Mater. Copies of this will be distributed through the mailboxes this week so that everyone can learn the words.

This should be the best pep fest Delaware has had since it's the most important game played this season. That means not only 100% attendance but a really king-sized bonfire as well. Anyone who can get wood for the fire is asked to get in touch with Bill Piper or Len Dougherty. Everyone is expected to be at the pep rally the night before the Hens beat Muhlenberg.

D.L. Arm Speaks At 1st ASME Meeting

Last Tuesday night saw the A. S. M. E. off to a bang-up start on its announced program of interesting activities for the mechanical engineers this year. In its first social meeting of this term, the Society presented Dean David L. Arm, who delivered a very enlightening speech on "The Future of the Mechanical Engineer."

After the talk, social and field trip committees were appointed. Chairman George Singley has stated that many events, such as movies, talks, and field trips to local industrial plants, are scheduled for the coming year and once more urges all mechanical engineers who have not done so to make application for membership at once. The deadline is November 30.

Our fighting Blue Hens are still rolling; their phenomenal streak is still intact. We think that we have the finest small college team in the country, and their record certainly proves it. We also feel confident that this great record will still be intact after this Saturday's game with the Muhlenberg Mules.

This year has been a spirited one at Delaware. The team has played hard and the students have supported the players enthusiastically. The students have done so without any wild demonstrations resulting in personal or property damage, as has been the occasion at other colleges this year. We feel that it shows they would be perfectly able to conduct themselves discreetly, should they be awarded a Victory Holiday in case of a win this Saturday. And we feel that they should be so rewarded.

Weather Angle

By Bill Bergman

November 20-23rd will be fair and cold. November 24th will increase in cloudiness, followed by light snow late in the evening or early in the morning of the 25th. The light snow will change to sleet, and later to rain as the temperature rises on the 25th. Fog will prevail in the evening of the 25th. The 26th will be rainy, followed by clearing in the afternoon with windy conditions. The 27th to the 1st of December will be fair and very cold. Thanksgiving will be clear and cold.

I'm Telling You

The decision of the powers-that-be not to hold this Saturday's football classic at Shibe Park have caused a slight lifting of the eyebrows on the heads of some of our more sophisticated brethren.

The main reason given for not transferring the game to Philadelphia was that keeping it in Wilmington would better satisfy the wishes of loyal fans in the latter city and vicinity. At first glance, this decision might seem just a bit selfish. It might also be thought that a golden opportunity for wide publicity for the team was thrown away. But after further analysis, the decision seems reasonable, especially in view of the fact that ample publicity will be had if our heroes should participate in a post-season "bowl" game, which at this stage seems very likely.

The fact that the shift was even under consideration points unmistakably to the glaring need of this university for a stadium befitting its reputation and size. At the same time, it lends added emphasis to the brilliance of the star to which all our wagons are temporarily hitched, this brilliance being the direct result of the footballers' success this season in downing some formidable opponents. In this connection, one is reminded of the saga of Notre Dame's rise to fame through the medium of its gridiron prowess, a story that will thrill the heart of every American boy for generations to come. And, although Mr. Murray and Company have not quite attained such great renown as the Ramblers from South Bend, it is nevertheless true that our school has benefited immeasurably from the team's recent record of achievement. Certainly the situation is most gratifying to those who remember the lean years of the last decade.

All hail then to the lads in blue and gold! May they climb to new and greater heights. The burning question yet remains: Are there any more Stallion stalwarts in Chester? We must look to the future, you know.

To Each His Own

By J. BEACH

WHAT THEY ARE SAYING ON CAMPUS THIS WEEK:

"Maul the Mules."

"Say, buddy, are you going to use your student ticket?"

"Some party, eh?"

"Let's get the goal posts."

"Do you think Spiz's leg will be O.K. by game time?"

"Who's your date this week end?"

"Why can't the girls stay out till 12 Friday night?"

"Cold honey? ... 'bout to freeze ... Coat, honey? ... just the sleeves ... Full or empty? ... full please ... Warm, honey? ... uh-huh." Buck Thompson to a certain lass: "I'll be good, honest ... you can wear your suit of armor and I'll leave my can opener at home."

A local stretched on the steps of the D.P.: "Come on fellows ... close the windows ... I'm cold." Student half an hour late for class Tuesday morning: "But, Prof. I had to stop at every tree on my way up campus." The rest of the pack just howled.

There were some on the campus who disapproved of the signs on the trees. Reason ... that it distracted from the beauty of the campus. After Dr. Carlson and Dr. Dougherty expressed their approval no more was heard about the signs coming down. Let's give them a cheer at our Friday night pep rally.

The blonde twins (and if you could make a typewriter whistle we certainly would here) did a poster and with the help of a few of their many admirers hung it between Harter and Brown hall.

The K. A. boys ask, "Have you been over to our new house yet?" Sigma Nu between asking, "Where's the cup," are asking, "Buddy can you spare a bunk this week-end."

Each Theta Chi between declaring, "We were robbed," is telling every one about his (pending) Hollywood contract. After Paramount had taken pictures of the football squad they paid the boys a visit and took pictures of the "Beat the Mules" signs in front of the house. While the camera was grinding away and everyone was busy putting signs up and trying to steal the scene, Van Croll stood on the bottom step with folded arms grinning into the camera. Frankie Schied, Gary Price and, in fact, all the fellows, promise to be in front of the local theater to sign autographs.

The Sig Eps did a good job of getting "Beat the Mules Week" started. Most of the signs that greeted you Tuesday morning were put up by the boys.

Sigma Tau Phi say, "You should see the place now."

We say, "Poor excuse for not moving the game to Shibe Park." "A plastic stadium at the U. of D. would be good advertising for the DuPont company."

"Don't forget the pep rally." And keep listening for a new song "I'll Make an Angel Out of You, You Little Devil." It's ideal to coo in your dove's ear.

They say even the moon is going to be full.

Shadow & Substance

By BOB SIMON

The E 52 Players presented at Mitchell Hall on November 14 and 15 the play "Shadow and Substance," by the great contemporary Irish dramatist, Paul Vincent Carroll. The choice of this play showed the E 52's to be an ambitious group indeed. "Shadow and Substance" with its drama burden resting mostly on the shoulders of two characters, plus the fact that all but two players must speak with Irish brogues, is a most difficult play to do well, and has taxed the talents of the finest of dramatic actors and actresses. The group as a whole responded to this challenge extremely well. The performance was a mature and an effective one.

The highest praise is in order for Margaret Guenveur who played Brigid, and James Quinn, who portrayed the Canon. Miss Guenveur acted with sensitive and sympathetic understanding, recreating most effectively the beautiful character of this simple, lovable servant girl. She fully captured her air of saintly simplicity, grace, and childlike faith in a well-poised and believable manner. Mr. Quinn breathed life into the austere and kindly character of domineering Canon Skerritt. With his excellent poise, diction and showmanship, he made the Canon a real person, in a highly polished and well-sustained performance.

Miss Guenveur and Mr. Quinn were aided by a fine supporting cast. Andrew Bolton played with much sincerity the role of O'Flingsley, the alert, intelligent and stormy schoolmaster. He was stiff and ill at ease at times, which made his portrayal somewhat uneven. His tempestuous Third Act scene with the Canon was excellent, however. Dorothy Catts played the role of Thomasina Concannon, the Canon's giddy, feather-brained step-niece. Although she had much of the proper spirit for the part, her brogue was not very convincing, and this detracted from her performance. The roles of the two down-to-earth priests, senti-

Dear Editor:

Recent editions of the newspaper have mentioned the possibility of the Blue Hens venturing southward come New Year's Day to participate in a bowl game. It is a perfunctory to add that we do have one of the greatest football teams in the country. It is a team that would be a credit to any college. Certainly, we all want to see our team in a bowl game. It would give national gridiron significance to our school. But a problem has recently arisen that has country-wide ramifications.

Miami University, who will undoubtedly play host in the Orange Bowl, has been blacklisted because of their manifested racial discrimination by Penn State, California Tech, and Syracuse University. The eyes of most of the other colleges in the country will be upon the next opponent of the Florida Gators. And the question arises which do we of the University of Delaware hold higher, national gridiron prominence or the basic principles of human decency? I leave it to the integrity of our fellow students to decide upon the pertinent issue.

I, for one, will be sorely disappointed if our school accepts an invitation from any schools which follow those practices contrary to democratic ideals.

Swarthmore, Franklin and Marshall, Lehigh, Gettysburg and Moravian eleven. They defeated the three common foes, Bucknell, Lehigh and Gettysburg by 6-0, 17-7, and 13-7 counts respectively. While the Blue and Gold downed the same clubs 27-14, 28-0, and 27-6. A rough comparison of scores indicates the evenness of the two teams meeting on Saturday.

A strong following of Mule supporters will accompany their progress to Wilmington since the University of Delaware has rejected a suggestion to move the site of the contest to Shibe Park, in Philadelphia, where all Allentown fans might be accommodated.

Muhlenberg College finds herself in a similar situation to Delaware that this is her first year of reorganization of varsity football after the lean war years. The contest will be the first meeting between the two schools on a football field, and feeling is running high already between the two student bodies. "Beat Muhlenberg" week has been proclaimed on the Newark campus, and student demonstrations are the order of the day in the Mule fold.

Coach William D. Murray is expected to unveil several new strategies in order to cope with the heavy scouting done by the Pennsylvanians. Muhlenberg observers have been on hand at virtually every appearance of the team double wing.

Three Seniors To Leave

The November 23 fray will mark the last appearance in Delaware of three seniors. They are Captain Tony Stalloni, 225-pound Chester (Pa.) tackle who has sparked the Hen forward wall this season; Bob Papy, Yeadon, Pa., high school product who has spelled the starters at tackle in superb fashion during the campaign as well as accounting for a great percentage of Delaware extra point conversions with his educated toe; and halfback Art Millman, reserve running back whose brilliant ball-carrying has been a source of many thrills throughout the fall. Stalloni, twice-wounded Marine veteran and eldest of three brothers performing with the Murray combination, has been prominently mentioned as a candidate for little All-American selection and as a participant in the annual All-Star North-South contest.

The Muhlenberg attack is paced by Jack Crider, 165-pound halfback, who is only a freshman; Bill Bell, ace aerialist, who has been completing passes with an accuracy of about 60 per cent, which is good tossing in any league; and hard-driving fullback Eddie Sikorski, who has been one of the most consistent ground-gainers in the backfield. The Mule line, while lighter than some the Blue and Gold have faced, is fast and hard-hitting, and the Brunansky huskies will have more than their hands full.

The probable starting lineups:

Delaware	Muhlenberg
Supple	L. E. Meyer
Stalloni	L. T. Averno
Arrell	L. G. Reimer
Reisick	C. Sweetlock
Arusa	R. G. Sbordone
Campbell	R. T. Bodgiewicz

Harriers to Attend Mason-Dixon Meet

The Fifth Annual Mason-Dixon Conference Cross Country Championship meet, will be held at Gallatin College in Washington, D. C., at 4:30 on Tuesday, November 26.

The course consists of macadam, grass, and dirt, and is approximately four miles long. Each team will be limited to 7 starters.

There will be a trophy for the winning team and individual medals for the first 15 men to finish.

Entries in this meet for Delaware will be: W. Bergman, Peter De Shan, J. Galley, H. Harding, D. Lynam, R. Scheffer, and Stabler.

The Delaware harriers played their last encounter before the championship meet.

In the Hen House

Even though the J. V. football team and the Del. booters failed to conquer their opponents last Friday, the Blue and Gold girls' hockey team came through with flying colors to smother an outclassed Wesley team 9-0. From the opening whistle, the Hen hockeyists had little difficulty in descending on the Wesley cage nine times, while holding the Doverites scoreless. The game, though fast, was hazardous due to the slickness of the field, and every member of both teams had their succession of spills. The Blue Hens' goal scoring on their home field, wet as it was, was in considerable contrast to the results of their game at Wesley where the field, deep in leaves and uneven, made the going rough. The score of the previous game at Dover was 2-0 in favor of the Delaware eleven.

With the score 5-0 at halftime, the Delaware hockeyists streaked successively four more times down the field in the second half, pushing the defending Wesleyites back up against their own goal, blasting their vain attempts to sneak the ball past an alert Delaware forward line. The Delaware lineup had been scrambled in a pre-game session by Coach Betty Huston and Capt. Scotty Murdock, and their decisions proved to be commendable. The shift of several players gave the forward line an aggressive drive which had been lacking in the previous game with Wesley. Marty Yerkes and Judy Koehler, new additions on the forward line, plus their stellar running mates, Jean Cameron, Joan Tatnall, and Janet Hearn, balanced the hard-working defense players in the Delaware backfield. Judy, a fullback with versatile abilities, played on the forward line for the first time and drove in five goals for part of the U. of D. tally.

The Hen team deserves considerable merit for their hard work during the season, climaxed by their wins over Wesley.

Laurels go to Judy Koehler, freshman fullback, who, previous to Friday's game, had never played a forward line position in her hockey career. Judy's excellent stick work resulted in five goals for the Delaware team, after her advancement to the position of left inner and later center. Judy, who learned her hockey at Friends School, in Wilmington, is one of the best hockey players to be seen in these parts.

The work of Jean Cameron, all-round sports star, who, since her entrance at the U. of D. last year, has amazed women's sports followers with her speed and natural ability, was also outstanding. Jean, who comes to us from Dover, Del., where she rounded out three years of varsity hockey and basketball, has played, since her arrival here, two years of each sport offered. "Cammy" was a big factor in the two victories over Wesley this year, her speedy traveling carrying the ball down in the opponent's territory many times. Confessing to an interest in horses, dogs, and Canada, Jean is an all-round sports enthusiast.

Soccer practice has taken the place of hockey, now that the stick enthusiasts are finished for the season. Tuesday and Thursday at 4:00 is the time and last Thursday, a goodly number of prospects turned out, including members of the hockey team who also play soccer, and "Shortie" Short, Margaret Vaklyes, Ruth Staszkesy, "M'liz" Pettit, who, after sustaining an injury, was out of hockey practice, Jinny Johnson, Eleanor Wilson, and numerous others. Any other girls interested are urged to come out.

The Wesley game lineups:

Position	Delaware	Wesley
Center forward	Hearn	Dickman
Right inner	Yerkes	Woolen
Right wing	Cameron	Kirk
Center halfback	Fouracre	O'Day
Right halfback	Phillips	Fell
Right fullback	Taylor	Kelly
Goalie	Lange	Mabb

Scoring: Koehler, 5; Tatnall, 2; Cameron, Hearn.
Delaware substitutions: McNulty, Webster, Tierney, Wooleyhan, Thompson.
Wesley substitutions: Bailey, Todd.
Referee: Reed, Shipherd.

Blue Hen Booters To Meet Bucknell On Frazer Field

Kurman's Soccermen To Close Season Tomorrow

The University of Delaware soccer team will close a rather disappointing season tomorrow when they tangle with the Bucknell University booters on Frazer Field at 3:00 p.m. In two games played last week, the Hens were tripped by West Chester State Teachers' College on the Maroon and Gold home field, 3-0, and by the Johns Hopkins Blue Jays by a 4-0 count.

The Johns Hopkins tilt was a heartbreaker, since the locals outplayed the Baltimoreans throughout the fray, but lacked sufficient scoring punch to give them an edge. Each of the Jays' goals might be considered flukes, and the victory cannot be considered too great a one by the Hopkins' soccermen. The contest was played on the Delaware home field last Friday during the Jay Vee football tilt.

In tomorrow's encounter, the Blue and Gold booters, under the tutelage of Coach Max Kurman, will be seeking their second triumph against six defeats, and stand a good chance of coming through with the win.

Doherty Tallies 42 Points for Del.

Gerald "Doc" Doherty continues to pace Delaware grid scorers, having tallied seven times for a total of 42 points. He is followed by Buck Thompson, who has six touchdowns.

The Blue Hens have now scored a total of 317 points, an average of 39.6 per game, as against a total of 26 for the opposition. This record is the best in the nation.

Blue Hens Crush Washington College by Highest Score Yet

Aquatic Schedule Nearly Completed

The schedule for the 1946-47 edition of the Blue Hen swimming team has been virtually completed, with three dates still remaining open. One will be filled by the Eastern Collegiate Swimming Association Championships, while two schools from a list comprising Manhattan College, University of Maryland, City College of New York, and Brooklyn Poly will occupy the other unfilled spots. The Mason-Dixon Conference Championships will be held in Taylor Gym, home nest of the aquatic Blue Hen, on March 15th. Other teams planning to lay claim to the conference crown are hereby warned to beware the Ides of March.

The squad was further strengthened by the return of Bauduy Grier, who has been out with a shoulder injury suffered during a touch football session. Grier, diver par excellence, is being given stiff competition by Bill Thistlewaite, Murray Campbell, and Hal Burt. Jim Baird and Henry Lewis, both confined to dry land because of illness, also returned to duty this week.

Coach Rawstrom has also been heartened by the sparkling performances turned in during the daily drills by Bob Bush and Bob Cofer. Bush, backstroke artist, has been consistently shaving his time for the 150-yard distance, while Cofer's constant improvement in the 100-yard freestyle stamps him as one to be watched as the season gets under way.

Murray Uses Entire Squad Before Audience of 5000

Piling up the largest score during the fifty-five year series with the Sho'men, the University of Delaware powerhouse drubbed the Washington College footballers last Saturday on the Wilmington Park gridiron, 61-0. The Murray onslaught scored virtually at will after Gerald "Doc" Doherty broke the ice with a 24-yard sprint, early in the first period for the first touchdown.

Only a few minutes later, with the Ekaltis-led gridders making a valiant attempt at utilizing their aerial game, Jack Messick, stellar Hen pivotman, snared a Washington pass and another Blue and Gold drive was underway. After gains by Bill Cole and Tony Storti, two of "Shack" Martin's most promising ball-carriers, "Jumplin' Joe" Coady lugged the leather for the second score from the two-yard marker.

With the outset of the second quarter, it became evident to the 5,000-odd onlookers that the contest was destined to become a rout. Mariano "Nine" Stalloni, after finding all pass receivers well covered, elected carry and ball and raced fifteen yards early in the period to give the Hens a 19-0 margin. Another sustained drive climaxed by a three-yard Hart plunge, accounted for the fourth and final score of the first half.

An attempt at deception on the part of the Sho'men backfired on the second half kickoff, and a Chestertown ball-carrier was smothered behind his goal line to account for a safety and two points for the Delaware cause.

Angie Cataldi, ex-Newark High ace, led another local drive after the Ekaltismen kicked off from their safety and climaxed it with a plunge from the six-inch line. With a view to next Saturday's clash, the Blue and Gold went under wraps and took to the air for their sixth tally, with a Paul Hart-Buck Thompson aerial paying off from the 35-yard stripe.

On the ensuing kickoff, Ernie Mettenet, the hard-fighting second string flankman, recovered the oval in the end zone for a fluke score, giving the Hens a 48-0 edge as the third stanza ended.

A Glisson interception of a vain Washington aerial, paved the way for Tony Storti to tally in the final quarter, and Bill "Knacker" Nash (Continued on Page 4)

mental, introspective Father Corr and football-playing Father Kirwan were portrayed very skillfully by Joseph M. Woods and Charles Parks, respectively. Both seemed very well cast for these parts. Sybil Levinson as the local spinster Miss Cooney, applied her wide talents very effectively to a role for which she was physically miscast. Only by a stretch of imagination can one picture Miss Levinson as "a thin, gaunt spinster, secretly vicious. . . ." Miss Cooney's timid obsequious nephew, Francis Ignatius O'Connor was most believably played by Joseph McVey. He made Francis a most amusing "Sad Sack." Mr. McVey's biggest trouble was to keep himself from laughing with the audience who enjoyed his portrayal.

Layton Mabrey proved himself a very able and effective scene stealer from the moment he stepped on the stage during the second act in the minor role of Martin Mullahone, the local publican. His wife, Rosey Violet, was nicely played by Elizabeth Hutchinson. Mr. Mabrey can be congratulated as well for the fine stage set which he skillfully designed. Much praise is also due for those behind the scenes who helped the whole performance to move along like clockwork. Miss Grace Berry of the Music Department played a group of Irish melodies on the organ between the acts.

The E-52 Players have made an excellent start this year. I believe "Shadow and Substance" had definitely outshone all their recent productions. The University was treated to some very fine theater. With this fine start we can be most optimistic about their future productions.

accounted for the final score, grabbing another Sho'men forward and racing 41 yards, giving the Murray-men their 61-0 margin of victory.

The win gave the Blue Hens their twenty-third consecutive win and twenty-ninth straight contest without a defeat. Only a 1941 tie with West Chester State Teachers' College mars the Blue and Gold streak.

Using a total of forty-eight players, Coach William D. Murray's reserve strength once more proved the deciding factor with the outmanned Washington College club. Fred "Spiz" Spasato suffered an injured leg, and was out of action after the first period, but is expected to be in top shape by Saturday.

Shortly after his return to the states, Bolte heard of the new American Veterans Committee, then a loosely organized correspondence group of men still in the service. The Committee found in him a chairman who fully accepted the serious responsibility of laying the foundations for the organization.

Since January, 1944, the AVC has developed into a forceful organization which is seeking to help in shaping liberal postwar policy.

Working for the American Veterans Committee has become Charles Bolte's full time job. His articles have appeared in "The Nation", "The New York Times Magazine", "Harpers", "Tomorrow", and "The American Legion Magazine".

Chem Engineers Visit Worth Steel

Atlantic City to Be Site Of Convention on Dec. 4

Members of the American Association of Chemical Engineers took an interesting trip to the Worth Steel Company in Claymont, Del.

The trip took place last November 13, and it proved extremely absorbing to all concerned. Those involved watched the complete production of steel as well as the methods of making steel plate, ends to tank cars, and boiler tops. The purpose for the trip was to familiarize the Chemical Engineers with industrial methods and techniques. Six cars were used to transport the future engineers to the Worth Steel plant.

The trip is the first of a series of educational trips this year, and a revival of trips by engineering groups. Before the war, both mechanical and chemical engineers took similar trips.

The next trip will be to the National Convention of American Society of Chemical Engineers in Atlantic City on December 4. A tentative trip is planned to the Sun Oil Co. to observe fluid flow operations.

Services Held In Sigma Nu Nov. 10

Frat Men Hear ex-Guard Chaplain at Ceremony

On Sunday, November 10, memorial services were held in the lounge of the Sigma Nu House for the eight brothers of Sigma Nu who lost their lives during the war. Reverend Vernon M. Goodhand of the Newport Methodist Church was the speaker. His address was centered around the idea "that the world is generally in a confused state, and it is the responsibility of the individual and each individual—to make a better world to live in." Rev. Goodhand is a graduate of the University of Kentucky where he was a member of the varsity football team and the S. A. E. Fraternity. After the completion of his Seminary training Rev. Goodhand joined the National Guard and with the outbreak of the war he went into the services immediately. He was overseas with the 37th Division for three years and only recently was discharged.

The eight brothers who gave their lives are:

- Lt. Henry Stevenson Brady, Jr., '34, USA
- Lt. Charles Robinson Jeffries III, '35, USMC
- Lt. Robert Melvin Vernon, '35, USNR
- Lt. Robert Stapler Lippincott, '38, USA
- Capt. Edwin Reynolds Manchester, '39, USA
- Lt. Robert Wirt Eckman, '41, USA
- Capt. Warren William Grier, Jr., '42, USA
- Lt. Wallace Lippincott, Jr., '43, USA

The Sigma Nu's also got themselves into the high spirit of the football atmosphere which is hovering over the campus. The brothers chartered a bus to go to the F & M game. Twenty-one members and their members arrived at Lancaster giving out with a maze of cheers and songs and displaying a sign which said, "F & M No. 27".

Since many members could not attend the Bucknell game, they proceeded to decorate the lounge like a miniature football stadium and then settled back in the easy chairs to enjoy the game. That night a victory celebration was held in the house in order to make the day complete.

Bridge Tourney To Begin Here Soon

Duplicate Contest To Be Conducted by Dougherty

J. Fenton Dougherty, Dean of the University, announced this week that the duplicate bridge tournament sponsored by the Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament Committee, will soon be underway on campus. The contest will be conducted by Dean Dougherty, with Harry Smith, Jr., Graduate Assistant in Mathematics, acting as game captain.

Any pair on campus interested in entering the tournament should submit their names to Dean Dougherty's office, in Brown Hall, as soon as possible.

There will be contests between entered contestants to determine the top eight players on the campus, after which there will be a tournament among these eight people. The scores of all eight contestants will be sent into the Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament Committee, which will decide if their scores are high enough to merit entry into the finals, which will be held April 18 and 19 in Chicago.

Out of the Middle Atlantic Zone, which includes Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, and Pennsylvania two pairs will be selected to participate in the finals. The two teams will be selected from the thirty-eight colleges competing in this zone.

Notice of the date of the first tournament will appear in the Review at a later date.

Dec. 5 Deadline Set For Cauldron Work

The deadline for articles to be published in the Cauldron, the school literary magazine, has been set for December 5. The editors have cordially invited any member of the student body to exercise his or her literary talents in the form of poetry, short stories, or essays and submit the results to "The Cauldron", in the basement of the library. Pieces for publication will be selected for their literary merit and interest to the student body.

"The Cauldron", published twice a year by the Augustan Society, is the only student publication on campus which appears semestrially. It was revived last term for the first time since prewar days when so many campus poetry and prose writers went with the draft.

Now that they are all back again, the editors of "The Cauldron" have suggested that they write of their experiences while in the four corners of the globe. They believe that most of the student body will be interested in such material.

Veterans' Affairs

The purpose of this column is to bring the Veteran up to date on a few pertinent facts about which he might be interested, and to provide him certain necessary information from the VA Office.

Most important this week is the announcement that each Veteran must submit to the VA Office in the basement of the Library, or to the VA, Phila., Pa., a complete record of his total earnings, regardless of the source, for the months of August, September, and October. This information must be received by the VA Finance Office before the Subsistence Check for the month of November will be mailed. If you have not submitted this report, or are uncertain about it, stop in at the VA office immediately and get "checked out" on the details.

All Navy, Coast Guard, and Marine Veterans are cordially invited to attend a meeting in Wolf Hall on Tuesday, Nov. 26, at 11:10. An officer from the U. S. Navy will be there at that time to discuss the Naval Reserve.

If you have changed schools or courses of training, or are contemplating such a change in the near future here are a few facts that are worth while bearing in mind: your subsistence checks might be affected. It is necessary to have approval in writing from the Dean of the school in which you wish to transfer, the approval of the Dean of the School in which you are now in; and approval of the VA. This holds true even for changes within the school, such as a transfer from Engineering to Arts and Sciences. If this change is made for reasons of poor or failing grades, it will be necessary to apply to the VA for an interview with an advisor of the Vocational Guidance Center, located at the C. B. Lore School in Wilmington.

However, if the change is made for reasons other than failing grades, the transfer can be accomplished through the local VA Office without processing through the Guidance center. To those who have made such a change, and have not secured the above mentioned papers, a suggestion: It might be a good idea to check with Mr. Adams and get them in, if the change involves a difference in costs to be paid by the Gov't, there is a possibility that your subsistence may possibly be delayed later, while the accounts are being rectified.

Review Will Report Interviews for Jobs

Seniors Requested to Visit Business Guidance Bureau

A large part of the student body does not take advantage of many of the facilities offered to them by the University. The Business Guidance Bureau, located in Purnell Hall, which was established for the purpose of aiding our students to find suitable jobs, is one of these aids. The Bureau can save you seniors a lot of time and trouble finding a prospective employer if you will only go to it for help. It has many contacts with various companies, and arranges for company representatives to come and interview seniors here on campus every year.

If seniors do not visit the Business Guidance Bureau, it doesn't know what you can do, or where your interests lie, and thus cannot ask suitable company representatives to come here. Your visits should not be put off until the last minute, as the Bureau will not be able to put forth its best effort if you give it only a short time in which to act. If you are going to graduate in January this last statement applies to you because of the short amount of time remaining.

Each week the Review will be listing interviews which will be coming up within the next week or two. These interviews are run on a regular schedule, and if you wish to take advantage of them, you should visit the Business Guidance Bureau in advance. The following are the next two scheduled interviews:

Friday, Nov. 22, 9:30 a.m.—Socony-Vacuum Oil Co. Chemists and Chemical Engineers (senior and graduate students), Mechanical Engineers, Business Administration or Economics Majors.

Tuesday, Nov. 26, 10:00 a.m.—American Viscose Corp. Chemists and Chemical Engineers (senior and graduate students), Mechanical Engineers.

Theta Chi's Initiate Col. Robert Pepper

Plans for Building of New House on Campus Made

The Theta Chi House was the scene of a bit of nostalgic ceremony last Saturday night, when Col. Robert Pepper, formerly a brigadier general in the Marines and a graduate of the University in 1917, was initiated into the fraternity. Col. Pepper was eligible for initiation by virtue of his having been a member of the old Omega Alpha Chapter.

After the ceremony, alumni and student members of the fraternity adjourned to the Deer Park Hotel for a dinner meeting, where, according to Vice-President Frank Thomas, plans were drawn up for the building of a new house on the campus.

Rev. Walsh Talks At College Hour

Reverend Dr. George A. Walsh, S. J., Dean of Foreign Service, Georgetown University, addressed the Thursday morning College Hour speaking on the New European Geo-Politics.

In the opening portion of his talk, Dr. Walsh presented a recapitulation of the essentials of German Geo-Politics, citing the MacKinder Heartland concept, i. e., Central Asia represents an impregnable Heartland, protected from both land and sea invasions; and whoever controls Eastern Europe can control the Heartland, and thus control the world. Dr. Walsh was entrusted with the task of interviewing Dr. Haushofer, the German Geo-Politicalist who so readily adopted the MacKinder theory as a means to further the ambitions of the German military group. Dr. Haushofer, as Dr. Walsh validly pointed out, was a man of great intelligence and used his knowledge for purely political ends.

Dr. Walsh demonstrated his unusual command of rhetoric in the presentation of his hypothesis concerning a new European Geo-Politics. In his opinion Soviet Russia has become the successor of the German Geo-Politicalists, and geo-political fact must lead one to believe that no legitimate argument or defense motivates the Russian desire for geographical expansion. Russia is making geo-political moves to secure the Heartland and to obtain coastal areas and land areas at its periphery in order to embody the concept of air power in the original MacKinder theory. Cited as objectives for further expansion were Trieste, Franco Spain, Britain's Greece, the Kuriles, southern Sakhalin (which had been taken from Russia by the Treaty of Portsmouth); and trusteeships of some of the colonies of the defeated Axis powers. Russia's transpolar air activities received honorable mention.

At the beginning of the College Hour, the University Chorus under the direction of Professor A. Loudis gave a rendition of the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Varsity Cagers Commence Drills

Sixteen Games Planned For Brunansky's Squad

Varsity basketball practice has been underway in the Field House for two weeks now, and the large turnout has given Hen followers promise of one of the best seasons on the court over a period of a decade.

Drills led by Bob Sieman, graduate manager of athletics, have been stressing fundamentals and conditioning, but with the end of football season, Coach Joe Brunansky will send his squad into heavy duty.

With lettermen Dick Reed, Gerry Bowlus, Scotty Duncan, Bob Kirkland, Dick Kiddoo, Newell Duncan, and Jack Levis, plus numerous promising newcomers, stiff competition is promised all candidates for starting berths. Jim McFadden, ex-Sallies ace; Jim Gillson, former A. I. duPont cager; George Hitchens and Walt Ellis of Conrad High fame; and Joe Miller, one-time P. S. duPont court captain are among the outstanding prospects already in action. However, a sizeable number of prospective basketballers will be converted from gridders after Saturday's season finale. Bill Nash, Bill Cole, Carroll Hauptle, and Ted Zink are among the monogram winners now performing with the Murraymen, and several other footballers with high school and service court experience are expected to report Monday.
