Group Planning
Enlarged Program;
To Go On Air

Parts in the one-act farce, "Refund," were read at a meeting of the University Drama Group Tuesday night, launching an extended program of activities for the 1941-42 season. The session was held in the Faculty Club room at the Women's College, University of Delaware.

A varied program has been outlined by Richard E. Ryan, president, for the coming season. In addition to the full-length play and the Beaux Arts Ball, the board of directors has set up a tentative schedule calling for the public presentation of two one-act plays, several radio plays, and four other one-act plays to be presented at group meetings. As an experiment, two other community theatre groups have been invited to join the local organization in presenting a playbill in late October.

In order to make the best possible showing in the play competition next spring, the play choosing committee will consider all the one-act plays given during the year, and will select the one which they feel has the best chance of winning.

Those who read parts Tuesday night were: Dr. C. Robert Kase, Dr. Edward M. Schoenborn, Dr. Kermit W. Oberlin, Dr. Allan P. Colburn, Dr. Joseph S. Gould, Dr. Almer A. Reiff, and Dr. Cyrus L. Day.

ACCOUNTS IMPORTANT

Books For Check On Business Now Available

A favorite question of H. L. Richardson when he's talking with poultry farmers is, "Does poultry keep you, or do you keep poultry?" And when a poultryman ponders the rather blunt question, then replies, "Well, I just don't know for sure." Richardson is quick to explain the advantages of maintaining the handy, easy-to-use poultry account books issued by the University of Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

Account keeping on farm flocks should get underway around October 1. George Worrlow, county agricultural agent, has supplies of the poultry account books and will be glad to furnish copies to interested farmers. Worrlow will help with getting the account books started.

Poultry account keepers send monthly reports to the county agent. The reports are then sent to Richardson at the University where he makes a summary which is distributed to all flock owners keeping cost accounts. All information in the reports is kept strictly confidential.

The farmer who maintains an account book on his poultry flock is able to determine at all times just what the flock is doing to increase farm income and to make needed flock adjustments. The well-kept account book includes records on the total number of birds, average number of layers per flock, feed and labor costs, value of eggs per dozen, sales of eggs and birds, and other receipts and expenses connected with the farm's poultry enterprise.

FARMERS GET THINGS DONE

FOR INSTANCE: Twenty years ago it was rare for a farmer in these parts to get a good stand of legume hay. The seed sold in those days was imported and unadapted to our land and climate. In 1923 about 150 farmers met in Richmond to take steps to change things in their favor. They formed a cooperative. That first year they pooled seed cars and did $100,000 worth of business together.

Eighteen years later the 150 farmers have become 116,515. The shoestring of a business they started has become the third largest farmers' cooperative in the world, and through the years these farmers working together have purchased, manufactured, and distributed to themselves over 94 million dollars worth of supplies necessary to carry on the business of farming.

American farmers working together in the American Way can get things done! Agriculture can save Democracy... Cooperation provides the way.

Following the announcement that works of four American composers will be introduced to New York by Leopold Stokowski during the opening fortnight of the Philharmonic Symphony Centennial comes news that the first American "premiere" of the season will be offered by John Barbirolli on his return to Carnegie Hall, Thursday evening, October 23. The "premiere" will be that a new score by the Negro composer, William Grant Still, especially written for the Centennial. Called "Plain Chant for America," it is inspired by the poem of the same name by Katherine Garrison Chapin, who in private life is Mrs. Francis Biddle, wife of the Attorney General of the United States. Mr. Still and Mrs. Chapin have collaborated in the past on "And They Lynched Him on a Tree."

More symphonic highlights: The first of the twenty-eight concerts to be broadcast on Sunday afternoons by the New York Philharmonic Orchestra will be given October 12, with Deems Taylor intermission commentator. . . World premiere for the new First Piano Concerto composed by Carlos Chavez, conductor of the Symphony Orchestra of Mexico, will take place in New York under the baton of Dimitri Mitropoulos with the New York Philharmonic and Eugene List, pianist. . . Leopold Stokowski will conduct the NBC Orchestra in several concerts for the coming season.

Ernest McChesney, handsome tenor, will never have an excuse for a sore throat in the future. He was recently given the prescription for throat spray used by Enrico Caruso. It was written in the handwriting of the famous tenor and had been given to a hotel clerk to be filled. The clerk kept it all the years until he heard and admired McChesney's singing. Wishing to express his keen enjoyment, he made a present of the memento to the American tenor.

The brilliant French violinist, Zino Francescatti, considers one of his best American "souvenirs" the discovery of tomato juice. Last season he tasted it for the first time, ordered it after that for breakfast, lunch and dinner. Between meals he sips it at home, as he would rare wine!

Hilda Burke, Metropolitan Opera soprano, will open her 1941-42 season on September 27 when she sings the role of Mimi in "La Boheme" at the Windsor Opera Festival in Montreal, Canada. On September 29 she will be heard in the title role of "Madame Butterfly."

THIS IS AMERICA

In these days, with war and defense dominant in all our minds, we are thinking more and more in terms of government. Government maintains armies and navies and air forces. Government spends the billions of tax dollars that make the creation of a gigantic military machine possible. Government makes the rules and regulations.

Important as government is, we must not forget that there is private enterprise.

Industry is producing the long list of metals that go into tanks, planes, and the other weapons of war and defense.

Industry is producing the vast quantities of coal that are needed to fuel the factories of America.

Industry is producing the gigantic, ever-increasing amounts of electric power that keeps the factory wheels turning.

Industry is producing the vast flood of oil that runs our airplanes and ships and motor vehicles, and that goes across the seas to the countries which are fighting against the forces of dictatorship.

You see this all over America—in the great cities, in the little towns, in the open country. The factory smokestacks are belching night and day now, working to keep this thing we call the American way of life alive—working to defeat the greatest menace to freedom the modern age has known—working to protect and defend and make impregnable the democracies of the world. It was private enterprise which made us great. It is private enterprise which, in the long run, will bring to crashing ruin the ghastly slave empire which dictatorship has created through fire and sword. What we are witnessing today is a war between free men and serfs, between nations nurtured in the doctrine of liberty and nations chained by a pitiless conqueror. Who can doubt the ultimate outcome?

AUTOMOBILES NEVER CHASE PEOPLE

The results of careful studies of taxation, safety, and the necessities of automobiles established the fact that "the major purpose of driving is making a living." R. Don Laws, editor of the Yellow Jacket, published at Moravian Falls, North Carolina, is the author of an article: "Tip to Auto Drivers", in which he declares, "an automobile isn't a machine gun, a submarine, nor fighting plane," and adds the following: "The automobile wasn't invented to slap people. It was designed to help humanity get around."

"The automobile doesn't chase people and slaughter them. We've never known an automobile that was by nature vicious, wild or dangerous."

"We bought one of the first automobiles sold in the South, and we've owned cars since of many makes. We never knew one of them, of itself, to jump out of the road, leap at a tree or telephone post, or turn over and roll on its driver. We never knew a road or highway that deliberately jumped up and out from under an automobile. We never knew a lake or river to run out of its course, grab a passing automobile and toss it and its occupants into the water."

"Automobiles don't even hate each other. We've seen thousands of them peacefully parked in a single yard, standing side by side without any disagreement."

"So this damnable death record of the automobile can't be blamed on the car itself. Well, somebody or something is to blame."

"Mr. Mrs. or Miss Driver, has it never occurred to you that the automobile's murderous conduct is ALL your fault? Has it occurred to you that your automobile is faithful and obedient to YOUR will? That when it bucks up, tries to climb a tree, jumps off of the highway, or runs madly into another car, it is doing so SOLELY because your hand at the wheel tells it to do just that?"

"Well then drive more carefully. You are the one to blame."

C. C. Bates, grocer of Charloe, N. C., recently received $25 in payment of a debt contracted in 1900 and written off his books in 1901 as uncollectible.

Park Director F. H. Marvin reported to police that a thief had stolen the roof from a park bath house in Schenectady, N. Y.

DEFENSE BOND Quiz

Q. How do I get the highest return on my investment in Defense Savings Bonds?

A. By holding each Bond for its full term of years you will secure the full maturity value. A Defense Savings Bond of Series E increases in value 33 1/3 percent if held for 10 years.

Q. Is the Government concerned over whether I buy my Defense Savings Bonds at post offices, bank, savings and loan institutions, retail stores, or elsewhere?

A. No. The Government is interested in having as many persons as possible take a hand in the National Defense Program. Toward that end the Treasury is making Bonds and Stamps available for purchase in the largest number of places possible.

Note.—To purchase Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest of the United States, Washington, D. C. post office or bank, or write for information to the Treasurer

EMERGENCY TRUCK, BUS INVENTORY IN MOTION

Questionnaire To Tabulate 1,300 Vehicles

Delaware truck and bus owners were urged today by Commissioner of Motor Vehicles George S. Williams to make complete returns this week in the national defense truck and bus inventory launched a week ago by Governor Walter W. Bacon. Prompt returns will save the expense of further inquiry.

The inventory is being conducted by mail in Delaware, and all other States, for the Highway Traffic Advisory Committee to the War Department. The purpose of the inventory, according to the Commissioner, is to set up detailed central and regional records of all trucks, busses, and freight trailers in the country.

With the aid of these records, plans will be developed for more effective use of highway transportation in the assembly of defense-industry materials, delivery of military and civilian supplies, relief of dock and terminal congestion, and movement of passenger traffic in emergencies.

Delaware has approximately 13,000 trucks, truck-trailers, freight trailers, and semitrailers, and about 500 busses. The owner of each vehicle has been asked to report its make, capacity, kind of body (such as tank, platform, panel, etc.), time of year the vehicle is most urgently needed by the owner, whether in an emergency he would be willing to hire or lease it to a Government agency, and so on. Each owner has received a questionnaire card on which to fill out this information.

Two branches of the Federal Works Agency have national control over the inventory. The Public Roads Administration has planned the undertaking and is directing the work. The questionnaire was prepared for mailing by W. P. A., who will also analyze and list the return.

Appropriate education may be substituted for a part of the experience. Applications must be filed not later than October 23, 1941.

Assistant Observer in Meteorology, $1,620 a year, for employment in the Weather Bureau, Department of Commerce. Completion of 2 years of college study including mathematics or physics, or 2 years of full-time paid experience as a meteorological observer is required. Applications must be filed not later than October 23, 1941.

Assistant and Junior Agricultural Statistician, $2,000 and $2,000 a year, respectively, for employment in the Agricultural Marketing Service, Department of Agriculture. For the junior grade completion of an appropriate 4-year college course is necessary; for the assistant, college study plus experience in statistical work relating to agriculture. Experience on a farm is also desirable. Applications must be filed not later than October 23, 1941.

All applications must be sent to the Washington office of the Civil Service Commission not later than the closing dates specified. Delaware Defeats P. M. C.

Delaware College opened its football season last Saturday with a decisive victory over Pennsylvania Military College at Chester. The score was 21-0. About 100 students accompanied the team to Chester, and marched in military formation to the football field preceded by the college band. The game proved that, in spite of the absence of several veteran players who are on the Mexican border, Delaware has a team that will be a credit to the College. On both offensive and defensive, the best game for Delaware was played by Weldon, Selby, Loose, and Fidance. Clancy, a new man who comes to Delaware from Colby College, Maine, played a remarkably good game at end. Now that the team has shown its mettle, the students are looking forward with confidence to the games with Haverford, Western Maryland, Dickinson, etc.

FANS WILL SEE A KNOCK DOWN, drag 'em out affair on Saturday night when Bill Murray's Hens tangle with the rugged Pennsylvania Military College gridders at Wilmington Park so if your heart is weak, give it a rest and content yourself with letting Herm Reitzes' mellow voice waft it over the ozone to your bedside.

For although Delaware followers have a just complaint about the infrequency of victories in the Cadet series, they could never complain about the intensity of the battles which have been, in truth, miniature wars. Although the Soldiers usually emerged from the tussle with a few bruises and sprains, the Hens, unfortunately, have been in the habit of coming out of the fray with more than their supply of wounds and without even a victory to save the aching hearts—that is until last year.

AND IF DELAWARE NEVER WINS another ball game, witnesses to the conflict can always point with pride to "that day in 1940" when the Hens not only grabbed the verdict but gave the Pennsylvania a terrific physical beating as well to atop in some small measure for those lincings they have received in Convention Hall.

But you can't make a real fighter quit with one punch—you've got to knock him down again and if he still keeps coming on, pound him again and again, and if we know our Delaware fans, the hope of seeing the Blue and Gold repeat the 1940 performance will draw them to Wilmington Park in full force.

If anything, the Cadets are stronger this year than they were and because they're the kind of guys they are, they'll go far for revenge and willing to really put out to get it. An excellent showing against a strong New York University eleven hasn't hurt their morale or their strength any, so they should be loaded for bear for the Wilmington invasion.

WITH A GAME UNDER THEIR belts, Coach Murray's charges should also be ready to hit on all cylinders and as far as condition is concerned, the Hens are right at the peak. They're prepared to match skill and slugs with their rivals and a ding-dong battle should be the result.

P. M. C. Mentor Stresses Speed For Blue And Gold Tiff

Coach Si Pautus, Pennsylvania Military College grid mentor, is shown here pacing his charges through a workout with the emphasis placed on speed. Handed a 14-7 setback by the Hens last year, the Cadets are priming for a Wilmington Park invasion Saturday night.

Blue And Gold Gridders Set For Night Clash With Cadets

WILMINGTON PARK SCENE OF ANNUAL STRUGGLE

A rivalry that dates back to 1896 will be renewed Saturday night when Coach Bill Murray's University of Delaware gridders tangle with Pennsylvania Military College in Wilmington Park. The battle will get underway at 8:30 o'clock.

Blue Hens Prepared

Held to a 7-7 deadlock by West Chester State Teachers' College last week, the Hens have been paced through a series of intensive corrective drills in an effort to overcome the faults detected in the Frazer Field opener. Emphasis has been placed on improving the aerial defense which was penetrated for the Teachers' lone touchdown and particular stress has been placed on rushing the passer and effecting blocking to protect the Blue and Gold projectors.

Realizing that the Cadets will be shooting for revenge for the 14-7 defeat handed them last year, the Hens are set for their toughest battle of the 1941 campaign and are set for not only a powerful aerial bombardment but a vicious ground offensive as well.

Coach Bill Murray, who has been guiding his charges through corrective drills all week, is expected to start the regular varsity lineup which has remained unchanged since the West Chester clash. Melvin (Ripper) Brooks, who was injured in the opener, is expected to be in shape for the invading soldiers.

First Battle In 1896

P. M. C. first squared off with the Hens in 1896 and a five-year gap from 1906 to 1911 and a seven-year span from 1922 to 1929 were the only serious breaks in the long and interesting relationship. Since 1929, the series has continued each year without mishap. The Chester outfit holds a 17-12 edge in the recapitulation while deadlocks were recorded in 1913, 1918, and 1920. All three stalemates were scoreless.

When beaten down at Wilmington Park last November, the Cadets were seeking their fourth straight win over Delaware only to be denied. This enabled the record to stand that no team has ever won more than three games in a row in the history of their rivalry. Although night games have been an important feature of the P. M. C.-Delaware rivalry, Saturday's nocturnal clash will be the first time they have ever met under the outdoor floodlights. For eight straight years, the Cadets and Hens played their annual game in Atlantic City's Convention Hall under the sponsorship of the Morris Guards, but with the erection of Wilmington Park, it was decided to bring the classic to the local site.

At Top Strength
The Cadets will be at top strength for their engagement and no casualties were suffered from the fray with New York University. Bucky Hartnett, the squad's outstanding backs, was badly used up after playing a sensational all-around game, but was in fine fettle following the week-end rest.

Two veteran backs will go back in harness for Delaware, making the squad stronger than it was against the Triple eleven. Larry Miller, junior triplet threat ace, will most likely start against the Blue Hens, while senior Joe Glenn, blocking back, will also be arm was in a cast. This was removed last week, but it is doubtful if he will be ready for another two weeks. Clayton Bond is the only experienced reserve end.

Delaware will meet the Chester team's challenge with a veteran lineup including Howard (Jabbo) Jarvis and Fred (Rebel) Sloan, ends; Bob Furman and Jack Castevens, tackles; Hugh Bogovich and Tony Stalloni, guards, and Co-Capt. Jim Mullen, center. The backfield, headed by Bill (Red) and Co-Capt. Brooks will be rounded out with Al Newcomb at quarterback, and Walt Paul at left half.

ANOTHER MARATHON

Darkness Halts Third Game In Title Series

Milford Cross Roads and Andrew's Bridge tangled again on Sunday in one of their marathon battles for the Southern Chester County League baseball championship, and at the end of 11 innings, the game was called because of darkness with the score tied 2-2. The Bridgers forged a two-run lead in the sixth frame, but Milford came back in the eighth when Moore, first sacker, poked a home run, then deadlocked the count in the ninth. Thorpe held Andrew's Bridge to six hits, while the Milford team was touching Chase for seven.

The game will be replayed on Sunday afternoon on the New London diamond at two o'clock.

JACKETS TO MEET BROWN VOCATIONAL SATURDAY

Both Elevens Seeking First Victory; To Start At 2:15

Forced to absorb a 25-4 defeat at the hands of a powerful Milville team last week, Coach Gillespie's Newark High School gridders will go down to their own class on Saturday when they tangle with Brown Vocational. The game will be played on Alfred I. duPont gridiron at 2:15 o'clock.

Seeking to strengthen the flanks, Jacket mentor has shifted Dick Roston, pile-driving fullback, to a term spot formerly held by Albert Aiken, while the latter, who turned several brilliant ball-carrying performances as a back last year, takes the vacated fullback berth.

Satisfied with the team's showing against a stronger New Jersey opponent, Coach Gillespie was especially pleased with the work done by center of Newark's forward wall, a couple of third-stringers, Dick Ingham, guard, and Joe Hearn, end, now pushing varsity men into line positions. Clyde Baylis and Dunsmore, reserve backs, also in fine performances against Milville. Outmanned by their first opponent the Newark eleven, however, in excellent physical condition with the usual cuts and bruises, the squad will be at top strength in first engagement with a Delaware school.

Rough workouts were scheduled this week and Coach Gillespie has the drills to coordination of blocking attack and the polishing fundamentals.
