

Next Year's Operating Budget Considered By Newark Council

Proposed Budget For 1968 Of $2,784,460 With 27-Cent Tax Increase For Operations Totals $4,884,310, Tax Rise Of 49-Cents; Electric Division Weighed Monday

A proposed operating budget of $2,784,460, with capital improvements of $1,795,450, and $104,000 for debt retirement, with a total budget of $4,884,310 for the year 1968, was presented at a special meeting of Newark City Council last Monday night, and council tentatively approved the $1,171,147 budgeted for the electric division—an increase of $167,030 over the current year.

The proposed operating budget for 1968 involves a 27-cent per $100 tax increase from the current 65-cent rate—and the entire budget, a 49-cent tax increase.

"I don't think we can sell this 49-cent increase to the taxpayers," Councilman Arthur P. Mayor said, asking "Is there any place that we can cut this?"

Sinking Fund
"I think there is," City Manager Edward R. Stiff replied, suggesting "a hard look" at the equipment sinking fund for which $230,728 has been allocated and from which $175,000 was paid for the sinking fund for the next tax year.

Councilman Olan R. Thomas said that persons protesting the last property assessment increase had been told that the 10-cent reduction in the tax rate had been effected as compensation.

"What about next year?" Thomas reported protesters asking of an increase in the tax rate, and Thomas said they had been reassured by council that "the answer is no" concerning any increase in the real estate tax.

One Left
As council considered the electric division of the operating budget, but one person remained in the audience along with Public Works Director Benjamin J. Campana, and Electrical Engineer A. M. Musgrove—and the latter was there for a final consultation.

The electric division budget of $1,171,147 was increased by $15,500 at Musgrove's request to provide a modern hot stick truck for more efficient and safe operation.

This additional sum is to be derived from the equipment sinking fund. The electric division budget includes $136,800 in personal services; $867,000 for utilities purchased; $34,600 for materials and supplies; $4,775 for contractual services; a credit of $20,628 with inter-departmental charges; $10,300 in other charges; and $138,300 in capital outlay.

Monday's meeting was adjourned at 10:43 p.m. after extension from the 10:30 deadline to complete consideration of the electric division.

Former yellow lights at the crossing used to blink at all times, even when no train was near, Knight said.

The yellow lights were removed several months ago.

After a motorist was injured on Sept. 25, when struck by a freight train, State Rep. Joseph R. Murphy (R-Brookside) received railroad assurance that a crew member of each train would stop traffic. That system was followed until the new lights were installed.

'Compassion And Love' As New Weapons In Poverty War Cited By Brown For LWV

Dr. C. Harold Brown of the University of Delaware division of urban affairs called for two new weapons in the War on Poverty—compassion and love—in addressing the League of Women Voters of Greater Wilmington last Thursday night.

"We haven't solved the social problems which beset man. We have brought about a change in the population—compassion and love," Brown said.

He told his audience that laws are insufficient to solve the basic racial problems.

The population shift through urban renewal, he said, not only has brought about a change in functions of a city, but has created problems for schools.

Using hypothetical situations, he stressed trials of teachers and students from different social worlds, neither having any love for or trust in the other.

"We know how to blunt people, but how to motivate them is another problem. Our basic value orientation is wrong," Brown said.

As a result, he added, "We are less successful in schools today than we have been."

Contending "the whole legal structure is wrong," the sociologist cited the established "25 pupils per teacher" ratio as a classic example of inequity.

"Do you know how old that is?" he asked. "Third century. That was the number of students each Jewish rabbi had in the 3d century."

"No woman . . . no human being, I don't care who . . . can motivate a class of 30 kids. Five, maybe, but not 25 or 30," he declared.

Brown interlarded urban renewal and racial strife.

He traced the history of the Negro from the plantations of the South through today's urban society.

"Black Power doesn't worry me too much," he said. "The great problem of the Negro is not feeling superior but feeling inferior. They don't know how to use their power."

He cited the "great restraint of civil rights," and said, "You're not going to grow up loving a democracy" that says you can't live somewhere or work somewhere because of color.

Brown characterized the United States as "a bigoted nation" and "still a very color-conscious nation."

"We speak of the Negro community," he said, "but we don't speak of anyone representing the Negro."

Widening Of Cleveland Avenue Slated Instead Of No Parking

Councilman Olan R. Thomas Opposes Traffic Committee Parking Prohibition Proposal With Plan For Widening Street; Three Proposed Ordinances Get First Reading

"Residents should not be penalized—plans should be made to have the street widened by the city or State Highway Department," Councilman Olan R. Thomas said last Monday night, opposing the traffic committee recommendation to prohibit all parking on both sides of Cleveland Avenue from Capitol Trail to West Main Street. And Thomas' proposal was approved in a 6-0 vote of Newark City Council at its special meeting, with Councilman William E. Frame absent.

City Manager Edward R. Stiff said that a staff meeting had been arranged for Dec. 1, with the highway department to discuss the beltway program, at which time the widening of Cleveland Avenue would be proposed.

"Remind him of the Barkeley Road Bridge, too," Councilman Arthur P. Mayor said of the meeting with Davidson, the state highway engineer.

New Ordinances
Three proposed ordinances were approved unanimously at preliminary readings—prohibiting parking on the south side of Church Road, 400-ft. west from the Casho Mill Road intersection, installing a stop sign on Short Lane at Lehigh Road, extending parking prohibitions on the west side of South College Avenue between Delaware and Amstel avenues, and on the west side of Hillsdale Avenue between Main and Spherdy Drive; and extending required time for snow removal from six to 24 hours.

An ordinance to restrict parking of trailers, boats, and campers was withdrawn after being scheduled for first reading at the request of Councilman Thomas with his comment "I don't believe this will do the job." The wording is to be reviewed.

And an ordinance to regulate truck routes was tabled prior to its first reading at the proposal of Councilman Frank J. Osborne, Jr., for correction. A map of proposed truck routes was requested by Thomas for clarification.

City solicitor Clyde M. England, Jr., summarized recommended revisions to the planning commission guidelines at Mayor Norma B. Handloff's request for an official first reading of the ordinance. He said the ordinance was designed to remedy conflict with charter provisions, and to provide "certain improvements."

Correction
"I don't think we have an ordinance here," Councilman William M. Coverdale once again said. He said the ordinance simply consisted of the city manager's recommendations.

"I think you are right," Solicitor England concurred, and was instructed to prepare an ordinance including Stiff's recommendations.

"The planning commission should be granted the courtesy of reviewing this," Coverdale suggested, and council agreed.

Coverdale urged that executive sessions of the commission be limited, and that it "should not be a rubber stamp for the planner—otherwise it would serve no useful purpose—like goldfish in a bowl—look at them and that's it." He also advised continued recording of commission meeting minutes.

The Newark council approved municipal staff participation in Tuesday's meeting with New Castle County Council for consideration of Senate Bill 256 amending county budget procedure to provide the City of Newark a more equitable distribution of county taxes.

"It hasn't got a prayer of passing the way it is," Councilman David H. Doehrlert declared, "SB-256, advocating certain changes."

Rebuttal
Coverdale presented a rebuttal to what he termed "effort made to distort facts" with recent opposition to council approval of the Tinko property for street widening relief.

He said that the section of Woodland Avenue was "identical with the situation on Willa Road" which was exempt from assessment in March, 1966, as an existing street with the controversial map of 1955, and presented evidence of a building permit issued to Paul Tinko on Feb. 1, 1954, and the installation of an electric meter on Dec. 21, of that same year.

"Mr. Coverdale has tonight presented the material that I felt was needed at the time we voted on the Tinko assessment," Councilman Doehrlert declared. He and the mayor had opposed the vote waiving assessments against the property as an existing street in 1955.

Council agreed to sponsor the annual Memorial Day program next May, and reappointed C. Vernon Steele as program chairman.

Fashion Aids Remodeling Of Children's Clothing

High fashion makes it easy to buy or remodel children's clothes so they will fit. Children's fashions are miniature copies of adult fashions, and the unfitted styles of today are well suited to children.

The unfitted look has several advantages, according to Janet Reed, extension clothing and textiles specialist at the University of Delaware.

Besides being ideal for comfort and ease of movement, tent dresses and shifts are much easier to fit to a child's changing figure since there is no waistline to worry about.

A program on fire prevention was given by Mrs. Ernest Lomax, president. She also stressed home safety, enumerating accidents which have ended in fatality. She gave a list of "Don'ts for Safety" and conducted two quizzes on fire prevention.

BOOKS IN REVIEW

By Percy Maddux

TO THE PACIFIC WITH LEWIS AND CLARK. By Ralph K. Andrist and the Editors of American Heritage. American Heritage Junior Library. American Heritage Publishing Co., Inc., New York. 158 pp. $4.95.

The purchase of the Louisiana Territory by the United States in 1803 added to the republic an immense domain, for the most part unknown, stretching from south to northwest. President Jefferson commissioned Meriwether Lewis and William Clark to head an exploring expedition across this area.

Their journey over plains and mountains, along rivers, and through forests all the way to the Pacific Ocean and back, consuming more than two years, is one of the great epochs of American history.

In "To the Pacific with Lewis and Clark" Ralph K. Andrist has recounted their adventures, and the whole majestic story is brought before us not only in his words but with pictures in color of the actual scenes of the journey.

This is rather advanced for elementary school children, but older readers, including adults, will find it of great interest, for this volume is much easier to get through than the journals of Lewis, although many readers will want to read them as well.

The volume contains full-page portraits in color of both Lewis and Clark and there is an end-paper map of the Louisiana Territory indicating the route of the expedition. No matter what else you may have read on this same theme, the volume before us is a worthwhile addition to the subject.

NEW JERSEY: AMERICA'S MAIN ROAD. By John T. Cunningham. Maps by Homer Hill. Doubleday & Company, Inc., Garden City, N.Y. 336 pp. $5.95.

New Jersey has played an important part in the history of the American colonies and of the United States. The relation of New Jersey to colonial and United States history is amply demonstrated in John T. Cunningham's one-volume history "New Jersey: America's Main Road."

This is not a political history, with lists and dates of governors, but a book that gives an over-all coverage of life, conditions, and deeds in New Jersey from prehistoric days to the present. There is nothing narrow or provincial about this work. It does not treat New Jersey as an isolated corner of the United States but rather as an integral part of the nation. Many of the great inventions of the past century have been intimately connected with the state.

Indeed, we can go back to the days of the first steamboats and the first automobiles and find the state's role in the early 1830s we find Sam Colt, a New Jerseyman, inventing a repeating revolver. Later on we find Thomas Alva Edison inventing what at Menlo Park.

John T. Cunningham's book represents good historical writing, and the old-time photographs throughout the work make it an elegant volume. It is pleasant, delightful, and exciting reading.

As the story approaches the present, however, it has so many ramifications that the author is forced to condense considerably, and this he does in a masterful way.

E. N. Scarborough To Address Annual Horticulture Event

The 81st annual meeting of the Peninsula Horticultural Society will feature reports on latest research in the production and marketing of fruits and vegetables. The meeting will be held Dec. 12-13 at Elks Hall, Salisbury, Md., according to Robert F. Stevens, extension horticulturist at the University of Delaware, and secretary of the society.

A marketing tour to Washington will follow the Dec. 12, afternoon meetings, and continue through Dec. 14. Members taking the tour will also meet U.S. Department of Agriculture marketing officials and congressmen from Delaware, Maryland, and Virginia.

The Tuesday morning general session will include a discussion of the asphalt barrier technique by E.N. Scarborough, associate professor of agricultural engineering at the University of Delaware.

Farm labor experts from U.S. Department of Labor and Glassboro Service Association will describe new regulations and labor prospects. The use of helicopters or other aircraft for spraying will be included in the morning session.

Sessions on general vegetables and on tomatoes and peppers are scheduled for Tuesday afternoon. Wednesday meetings will include programs on marketing vegetables and on fruits in the morning; afternoon sessions will concentrate on sweet potatoes and again on fruits.

Society members, including farmers, processors, commercial company representatives and staff members of the universities of Delaware and Maryland, and Virginia Truck Experiment Station participate in these annual meetings. They discuss recent research, current problems and suggest possible solutions, according to Elvin Custis of Cradockville, Va., president of the society.

Programs will be mailed to members and are available from Robert F. Stevens, Agricultural Hall, University of Delaware, Newark.

The famous novelist Pearl Buck has drawn on the wealth of her knowledge of Japan and the Japanese to report what the Japanese are really like.

"The People of Japan" by Pearl S. Buck includes anecdotes of the first author's own experiences in Japan and a vast amount of description and explanation of Japanese customs, and there are numerous photographs in black and white and in color.

Nobody but Pearl Buck could capture the spirit of Japan so vividly and realistically. It goes without saying that she writes well, but in this book the reader will find more than good writing. He will find an absorbing story, easy to read, and find himself mentally swept into the Japanese scene: dress, family, religion, gambling, geishas, and a host of other facets of Japanese life.

Pearl Buck's "The People of Japan" can do much to foster a better understanding of the Japanese people.

PERU IN PICTURES. By Robert V. Masters. Sterling Publishing Co., Inc., New York. 64 pp. 108 pictures. Paper $1.00.

More than five million Indians dwell in Peru. They are Quechuas and Aymaras, descendants of those people whose lords were known as Incas in the days before the Spanish conquest. Most of them still speak the Quechua language, although Spanish is the official language of the republic of Peru, the fifth largest Latin American country.

"The days of Inca glory are gone, but Robert V. Masters tells about them in his book "Peru in Pictures," which shows many photographs of the hidden city of Machu Picchu which was not discovered by the outside world until 1911, when the Yale University professor Hiram Bingham, having heard of it, set out to find it and did.

The book also tells of the Spanish conquest of Peru and the country's history to date. Then it describes Peru as it is today and its people. The pictures are black and white, and there is one map of the country, though it is a poor one.

This picture book of Peru is fascinating, and the scenes of Lima, the capital; Lake Titicaca, elevation 12,500 ft.; the southern city of Arequipa; Callao, the port of Lima; the Marañon River, which is the Upper Amazon; and others should prove of great interest. There are even reproductions of some Peruvian postage stamps.

"Peru in Pictures" by Robert V. Masters is a well organized book and a useful compendium on Peru.

The ruffed grouse begins to grow a pair of snowshoes in its feet in the fall to enable it to walk on the snow.

Fruitcake As Gift At Christmastime Hailed By Expert

What Christmas gift would be more welcome than a delicious moist fruitcake decorated with fruits and nuts? Christmas season still seems a long time away, but fruitcake season is already here, according to Marguerite Krackhardt, extension foods and nutrition specialist at the University of Delaware.

Of all cakes created for the festival of Christmas, fruitcakes are the most popular. And, they are best when made early, before the real rush of the winter holiday season. So, if it sounds like good gift-giving to you, put on your apron and preheat the oven.

Bake your fruitcakes now, advises Miss Krackhardt. Closely wrapped and allowed to mellow, they become more elegantly delicious each day they are stored. A really good fruitcake should mellow a month before serving.

There are shortcuts to simplify modern fruitcake baking. Today, most candied fruits are available already chopped, eliminating that tiresome job. For fruits that still require cutting—such as dates—have a cup of warm water handy. Use kitchen shears to cut the dates, dipping blades in the water occasionally to prevent sticking.

If you're baking a number of cakes, try combining fruit, spices and liquid a day ahead and then refrigerating. This takes the pressure off on baking day—and it helps fruit flavors mingle and mellow.

For gift-giving, experiment with different shapes and sizes of containers for individual fruitcakes. Use muffin pans, metal juice cans or petite loaf pans, Miss Krackhardt suggests.

Grease the baking pans well and then line with heavy paper such as brown wrapping paper. Grease and flour the paper well, also. The paper should extend up along the pan sides to protect the cake edges from over-baking.

You can prevent burning and cracking your fruitcake by using a long baking time at a low temperature (300-degrees F.). A one-pound cake should take between two and two and a half hours; a two-pound cake should need three and a half hours; and three pounds, about four hours.

Place a shallow pan of water on the lowest rack of your oven and the steam will moisten your cake while it's baking, Miss Krackhardt points out.

After the cake is done, let it cool 24 hours before storing. Wrap in waxed paper or aluminum foil and store in an airtight container in a cool place. Aluminum foil serves the double purpose of protecting

Beef Casserole A Company Dish

The casserole is a hearty, tasty combination of ground beef, canned stewed tomatoes and rice, flavored with onion, bouillon, and spicy Tabasco sauce—the liquid red pepper seasoning that adds zest to so many meat dishes. Shape the beef into balls, put all the ingredients in your prettiest casserole for table, serving, pop it in the oven, and relax for the next hour.

Bob Tucker Fires Two Touchdown Passes As Newark Ends Cavalier 53-Game Skein

Middletown's 53-game winning streak snapped last Friday night as Coach Bob Hoffman's Blue Hen Conference Champion Yellowjackets invaded the Cavalier stadium where Quarterback Bob Tucker threw touchdown passes to End Gary Hayman and Halfback Pedro Swann, kicked the extra point, and Swann ran for a TD while rolling up a total of 114 yards via the rushing route. And Newark High School won the unofficial but nonetheless real state championship by a 19-0 score.

Coach Bill Billings' Cavaliers demonstrated class and courage throughout, and after a scoreless first quarter, the Yellowjackets broke the deadlock at halftime with a slim 6-0 edge.

Hayman took Tucker's pass for a 10-yard touchdown score in the second period.

With Swann leading the runners, Newark drove to the one-yard line in the third quarter, and Pedro carried over the second Yellowjacket TD. Tucker kicked the extra point, and Hoffman's champions were breathing a bit more freely.

It was Swann again, in the fourth quarter, scoring on a 16-yard pass play with Tucker pitching—and the Yellowjackets had established themselves as the No. 1 team in Delaware high school football.

Middletown refused to play dead, however, and with time running out John Branner intercepted a Tucker pass at the Cavaliers' 20, and Billings' boys drove to the Newark one-yard line.

On a third down against a determined goal line stand by the Yellowjacket defense, Quarterback Gregg Simendinger fired to Dave Webster all alone in the left flat. Webster hauled in the pass, and Middletown had six points on the scoreboard for the final 19-6 count.

by GIBBY YOUNG

BEST IN THE STATE!

We believed it before the game, but Coach Bob Hoffman's Yellowjackets conclusively proved that they are the best in the state by defeating a fine team of Middletown High School Cavaliers coached by Bill Billings last Friday.

The game between Billings' 53-straight game winners and Hoffman's three-time conference champions, should have attracted national recognition as a real classic in the American sporting scene. It attracted plenty of attention at Middletown, with many would-be spectators unable to see what was going on. Congratulations to all concerned in this dream game!

Delaware Stopped 35-6 By Bucknell In Season Finale

Stopped twice from scoring drives on the Bucknell one-yard line, and again from five-yard out, Delaware lost a 35-6 season finale to the Bison at Lewisburg, Pa., last Saturday to conclude a 27 campaign that could well have been the other way around.

Linebacker Lee Hackney, a senior and former Newark Yellowjacket captain and fullback, played his last game for Delaware in the Bucknell win.

Junior Quarterback Sam Havrilak scored three touchdowns for the Bisons.

Havrilak, who rolled up 144 yards on 16 carries, scored on a 40-yard keeper early in the second quarter, then four minutes later swept over from the one to clinch a 31-yard march which started after a bad Delaware punt. He also scored in the last quarter on a three-yard keeper.

Bucknell's first score came in the opening quarter on a three-yard run by tailback Dave Vasser at the end of a 91-yard drive.

Wingback Bruce Smith went 53 yards for the final tally in the last quarter on a pass from Steve Rohrer.

Halfback Tom Dimuzio's second-quarter pass to End Jim Crabbs for 23 yards gave Delaware its only score.

Delaware Quarterback Frank Linzenbold was 16 for 32, passing for 230 yards.

Ex-Yale Grid Star Elected President Of Delaware Park

Baird C. Brittingham has been elected president of the Delaware Racing Association, operator of Delaware Park.

Brittingham, a Delaware Park vice-president since 1965, succeeded Donald P. Ross in the presidency. Ross, a founder of the thoroughbred track in Stanton and its president since 1946, was elected chairman of the board—the first officer to occupy that position.

The new Delaware Park president has been a string of thoroughbreds for several years and, currently, has horses campaigning in New York, Maryland and West Virginia. He was an outstanding athlete during his college career at Yale and starred as a football center for strong Yale teams of the early 1950s.

Ross races in the name of Brandywine Stable, and his outstanding thoroughbreds include Open Fire, 1966 national champion handicap mare; Greek Money, 1962 Preakness winner, and such successful stakes performers as Masked General, Everget, Greek Song, Cochise, Place Card and Countermarch.

The Delaware Racing Association directorate reelected Edward T. McLean vice-president and general manager; Bryan Field, vice-president; and Austin A. Brown, assistant general manager.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day She Beat the Best

Firenze, or Florence, "jewel of the Italian Renaissance," was also a jewel of a race mare, said by some to have been the best of the many great horses that carried the blue-sleeved orange jacket of James Ben Ali Haggin during the latter part of the last century.

Whether or not Aqueduct's Firenze Handicap was named for her or is a revival of the Firenze Handicap that was once run at Jerome Park and, incidentally, once won by the mare Firenze, is beside the point. It brings her to mind and she is well worth remembering.

Described by historians of the period as a beautiful bay mare, a bit on the small side, Firenze raced in an uncheerful period that lacked the many races restricted to fillies and mares that we have today; a period that included such top colts as Kingston and Hanover, both of whom she beat on occasion, under handicap conditions. In all, she raced through the age of seven, starting 82 times and being unplaced only 5 times. She won 47 races, was second 21 times and third in 9 races, to earn $112,586.

Retired to Mr. Haggin's 40-thousand-acre Rancho Del Paso in California, Firenze joined a band of broodmares who was to number 562 by 1903. Unfortunately she failed to produce anything near her equal.

Pratt's Blue Hens 6th In MAC Meet After 10-0 Season

Larry Pratt, Delaware cross country coach, reasoned that pressure accounted for his Blue Hens' poor showing in the Middle Atlantic Conference championships in Philadelphia Fairmont Park last Friday.

"The boys knew they were favored to win. They were so keyed up that they never got loose," Pratt said.

The Blue Hens, who finished their regular season undefeated in 10 meets, could do no better than sixth in the MAC. They finished with 153 points and their first runner to finish was Bob Clunie, who came in 21st with a 28.5 time over the five-mile course.

Temple, with 62 points won the university division title, and the Owls' Bill Mahoney was the individual winner for the third straight year. His time of 26:40.2 broke his own record.

"What hurts most," Pratt continued, "is that in the regular season dual meets we destroyed the kids who finished ahead of us in this one. We beat some of them by two and three minutes."

After the first mile, all seven of our boys were in the first 10. At the two-mile mark we started to break up and fade. To say I'm disappointed is putting it mildly."

PMC, with 86 points, took the college division crown.

Bucknell Defeats Delaware In Snow For Soccer Finale

LEWISBURG, Pa. — Bucknell defeated Delaware 3-2 in Middle Atlantic Conference soccer here last Friday in a match played in a heavy snowstorm.

The snow had to be plowed up at the sidelines so that players and officials could see out-of-bounds lines. Bucknell took a 2-0 halftime lead, but Delaware came back to tie in the second half on goals by Roger Morley, his 10th of the year, and Dave Meadows.

Bucknell pulled it out with a final-period score.

Coach Loren Kline's Blue Hens ended their season with a 6-4-2 record, while Bucknell upped its mark to 6-2.

Ex-Viking Ken Eggleston Stars At Unitas' School

Ken Eggleston, former quarterback for Christiansburg High School starred for John Unitas' alma mater, the University of Louisville, as the Kentuckians lost 28-21 to Kent State in the Ohio snow.

Playing at quarterback for Louisville, Eggleston completed 11 of 26 passes for 136 yards and a touchdown.

With 51 seconds left, the former Viking star hit two receivers who dropped passes in the clear.

Sam Dixon's Vikings Win 12-0 To Upset Previously Undefeated Gunning Bedford

After a scoreless first half, Quarterback Cliff Houston passed to End Randy Spinks for a five-yard touchdown in the third period to give Coach Sam Dixon's Christiansburg Vikings a 6-0 lead over the undefeated Gunning Bedford visitors last Saturday. And Houston scored on a quarterback sneak in the fourth quarter as Christiansburg upset previously undefeated B-Flight Conference-leading Gunning Bedford 12-0.

The Gunning Bedford Panthers were riding an eight-game winning streak when they faced Dixon's 1-6-1 A-Flight Vikings, but Christiansburg improved down the stretch with sophomore season. The Vikings defeated Mt. Pleasant, and held Delaware to a tie in their last two previous outings.

Houston connected with Spinks for the touchdown pass after Christiansburg had moved 55-yards with a fourth down pass interference penalty.

And in the final period, the Vikings marched 46 yards in seven plays, with Houston driving in for a one-yard touchdown.

Fullback Neal Fairchild intercepted a Gunning Bedford pass in the second quarter with the visitors threatening to score from the five-yard line. And a classic Christiansburg defense bottled up the Panthers for the remainder of the game.

The Vikings entertain the undefeated Yellowjackets this Thursday at 10:30 a.m. to conclude the 1967 football season.

Playing for Dixon's Vikings against Gunning Bedford last Saturday were Quarterbacks Houston and Dan Shanor; Halfbacks Glen Thompson, Shan Haddaway, Fred Neal, and Bruce Ryser; Fullbacks Neal Fairchild and Harold Resinger; Ends Spinks, Jerry McCarns, and George Cavanaugh; Tackles Dave Webster, Lee Moore, Jerry Thorpe, and Duane Deal; Guards Bob Stefanisko, Verno Orndorf, John White, Don Dean, Tom Meccariello, and Jesse Moore; and Centers George Rawson, Chuck Gruver, and Bill Sutton.
