"Footlighters" In Uproarious Comedy Tomorrow Night

"Family Upstairs" Cast Includes Prominent Actors On Campus; Lawrence Played His Part In Stock Company Last Summer

Tomorrow night the Footlights Club will present its annual production for 1935, "The Family Upstairs." The play which they will perform is an uproarious comedy by Harry Delf.

It has scored success upon success on Broadway and has been a popular vehicle with stock companies.

The Footlights presentation of this play is expected to be an exceptionally effective one. Under the capable direction of Bill Lawrence the cast has worked itself into tip-top condition for the dress rehearsal tonight.

Lawrence, in addition to directing the production, plays the leading male role, the part which he played with a stock company in New Hampshire last summer.

Caroline Cobb who made her first success in "Three Corners Moon" and who did excellent work in playing the part of Abby in "The Late Christopher Bean" has a major role in "The Family Upstairs." Miss Cobb has been in the cast of every major dramatic presentation on this campus during the current scholastic year.

Another of the most prominent participants in dramatics at this University is in the cast. Vera McCall is noted for her acting in "Autumn Crocus," "The Royal Family" and "The Late Christopher Bean." Miss McCall is at the present time director of the Apprentice Players, the newest campus dramatic group.

Marjorie Breuer and Curtis Potts are two of the most active figures in dramatics in the college. Miss Breuer is president of the Puppets Club at the Women's College. Potts is president of the Footlights Club.

Betty Manchester, who has consistently been in charge of make-up for productions plays a splendid first role in this production.

Blair Ely and Kay Spencer are newcomers to the Mitchell Hall stage who are expected to make a name for themselves in this play. They have juvenile parts and produce much of the comic effect in the domestic scenes in the production.

Has Record Season

Ed Bardo

Bardo's Mermen End Best Season

Eight Wins And Two Losses Surpasses Last Year's Result; Break Several Records

Monday evening Coach Bardo's mermen sent West Chester team to a timely defeat to close the best year of swimming that Delaware has ever had. By earning every first and second place the Delaware team defeated the visiting squad by 56-10. West Chester's team was greatly outclassed and the local tank squad staged a walkover. The outstanding event was the 100 yd. free style in which "Bull" Carey set a new Delaware record of 56.7 seconds.

The performances of this year's team had been the best since swimming made its advent here a few years ago. Last year a record of nine wins and six defeats was considered remarkable, but the eight wins and the two losses of this year sets a new record. It is very likely that the Blue and Gold showing would have been much better if the Freshmen had been able to compete. Mid-year examinations likewise had their effect, what he had and brought forth a but Coach Bardo made good use of winning aggregation.

Delaware was defeated by only two teams this year namely the University of Pittsburgh, reputed to be strongest team in the East, and Franklin and Marshall College and other strong teams. The season's results were:

Delaware	47	Osteopathy	21
Delaware	18	Pittsburgh	30

K. W. Oberlin Awarded Ph. D. By Harvard

Professor K. W. Oberlin, psychology instructor at the University of Delaware, received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Psychology, Tuesday, February 26, at the mid-year award of degrees at Harvard University. Graduating from Wittenburg College in 1927 and receiving his M.A. likewise at Harvard in 1930, Dr. Oberlin has been a member of the University faculty for five years.

Dr. and Mrs. Oberlin were entertained at dinner last Wednesday night by Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Crooks in celebration of Professor Oberlin's receiving the degree.

Students To Survey Academic Conditions

Student Council Appoints Committee To List Problems And Bring Out Possible Changes

A committee to make a thorough survey of the entire Men's College from the students' point of view and to consider suggestions as to possible changes which the students honestly think would be helpful, was appointed at a Student Council meeting Monday night.

The aim of the committee is to gather data which will present an adequate view of the academic picture here at Delaware College, bringing out the problems which students feel exist and can be solved. After the committee has gotten its work under way, several discussion meetings of different student groups will be held to bring out as many ideas and suggestions as possible.

After the committee has its material fully organized and drawn up, some of the faculty members will be invited to meet with the committee and thresh out the new proposals, testing their merits and practicability.

The student committee is composed of James W. Nichols, chairman; Alvin Handloff, George Records, John Munroe, and Jack Hartman.

Hullihen To Talk On Chicago Plan Before A. A. U. P. Tues.

Will Consider Possibility Of Adapting Some Of The Features Of The Methods Here

During a meeting next Tuesday evening of the Delaware Chapter of the American Association of University Professors, Dr. Walter Hullihen will address the faculty on the Chicago Plan and give his interpretation of how it might be adapted for the University of Delaware.

An open forum discussion of the Chicago plan in relation to Delaware will follow the address. The members of the chapter, which consists of most of the faculty, will be given an opportunity to express their views upon the problem of improving the educational system now employed by the Delaware College administration.

Dr. Hullihen will lead the discussion, to be based on the interpretation of the Chicago Plan, and will endeavor to ascertain the opinions of the faculty on how the Chicago method could be altered to fit the facilities of the University of Delaware.

The meeting on the discussion will be held, not as a convention actually to plan changes, but as a conference to analyze informally the merits of the Chicago Plan in conjunction with an observation of the flaws in the present Delaware system. No adoption of the Chicago Plan at this time is imminent.

Home Economics Club Dinner

Last night the Home Economics Club held a dinner and initiation of its new members in Kent Dining Hall. All of the Freshman girls taking Home Economics were taken into the organization.

Goes To Harvard

Neil Stahley

Stahley New Harvard Coach Of Freshman

Will Also Act As Head Scout For Harlow; No Information As To Successor

Neil Stahley, head coach of football here, has accepted the position of freshman coach and head scout at Harvard next year.

It was expected that Stahley would go to Harvard along with Dick Harlow, whom he was under while at Western Maryland. Harlow was appointed head football coach at Harvard much earlier in the year and everybody has been waiting to see if Harlow would name Stahley one of his assistants, but Delawareans do not like to see Stahley leave Delaware because of the fine showing he made with the Mud Hens last season.

Stahley was, of course, pleased with the opportunity to work again with Dick Harlow, but said that he had enjoyed his past football season at Delaware.

While at Western Maryland Stahley was assistant to Harlow and also acted as a scout for the team. Stahley went to Western Maryland after his graduation from Penn State where he had played on the football and basketball teams for three years.

Upon coming to Delaware last fall Stahley produced one of the best gridiron squads that Delaware has had in many seasons. Stahley had very little material to work with and he deserves much credit for being able to produce a good squad.

It has been rumored that Lyl Clark, assistant to Stahley last season, will be appointed head coach, but because of the fact that the one who will succeed Stahley must be able to teach physical education, Clark is not so apt to get the position.

Roy Crowthers, of Drexel, has also been named one of Harlow's aides.

March 19 Set For "Phi Kappa Phi Day"

Tuesday, March 19, is the date set for the annual "Phi Kappa Phi Day" at the University of Delaware. Phi Kappa Phi will hold a special program in Mitchell Hall at noon on that day. In the evening the initiation ceremonies and banquet will be held at Old College.

Ten Door Prizes To Be Awarded At Junior Prom

Many Alumni And Students To Attend Biggest Dance Of The Year In The Gold Ballroom On Friday Night

Ten door prizes are to be awarded to patrons of the Junior Prom at the Hotel DuPont this Friday night. Each dance program will be numbered and the lucky ten whose figures correspond with those drawn will receive the prizes.

All indications point to a highly successful affair. Many alumni within memory of present Delaware undergraduates have reserved tickets for the Prom. Several faculty members also plan to be in attendance at the season's traditional social function.

As for the students themselves, the windows of the majority of the rooms at Delaware will be dark Friday night. Pop Harrington will have to remain awake all night to let in the W. C. D. girls.

As promised before by the committee, a limited number of tickets will be sold so as to insure comfortable dancing. Delaware students, however, will be given consideration.

Tickets are on sale by any member of the committee for $2.65 per couple, the lowest price in the history of the school for the annual Prom. Music will be furnished by Teddy Baer and his Cubs.

To Announce Faculty Play Cast Next Week

"Mrs. Bumpstead Leigh" Gives Much Room For Faculty's Dramatic Skill

Robert Barab

To date, the faculty Thespians remain silent in regard to the cast of "Mrs. Bumpstead Leigh," the play they are to present for the benefit of the town library on March 28. Their vehicle does, however, leave room for much amusing speculation as to who will be given the various parts, all of which give opportunities for display of real dramatic ability.

The play traces the adventures of one "Della Sale," daughter of a prosperous, but notorious, patent medicine manufacturer. On her father's death, Miss Sale changes her name to De Salle in hope of hiding the humble source of her wealth. Then, along with her mother and sister, she goes over to England, mixes in "high society" and marries an English minister by the name of Bumpstead Leigh.

Among the other characters are several members of the above mentioned high society. Announcement of who is to take these parts must wait until Mr. Kase announces the cast.

The members of the production staff have been revealed and are approximately as follows: Cyrus Lawrence Day, Ph.D., Stage manager; Miss Lillian Rhodes of the W. C. D. Art Dept., in charge of scenery; Miss Elizabeth Kelly who had charge of costumes in the pageant, in charge of costumes; Mrs. R. O. Bausman, in charge of properties; Mrs. C. R. Kase, in charge of makeup. Mr. Kase is general director of the production.

STUDENTS' SURVEY COMMITTEE

The Student Council of Delaware College at a meeting on Monday evening appointed a committee of five men to make a complete survey of academic conditions at this College and to report the results of their findings, making recommendations for improvements. We feel that this is a definite step toward doing some really constructive work in our current agitation for imperative changes in the College.

The committee selected is composed of able and serious-minded young men who are vitally interested in securing an institution which efficiently performs its function in educating the students who come here. The report of their survey is expected to be a source of enlightenment for those who have any doubt as to the existence of the imminent danger which confronts this College if the present policy is permitted to continue.

Dr. Walter A. Jessup in his first report as President of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching sounded a note of warning which should make us extremely conscious of our situation here. Dr. Jessup stated that a struggle for survival exists among American colleges. There are, he said, some American institutions which are so far from fulfilling their function that they might as well abandon the struggle. There would be others, he predicted, which would lose ground, and some which would disappear.

The issue of the struggle, said Dr. Jessup, will not depend on money. "Survival will be conditioned by intelligent leadership, high morale, and the courage to be sincere with students by selecting and educating them only in the field of institutional competency and in that field doing a genuine and significant job."

Are we one of those institutions which is so far from fulfilling its function that we are

"losing ground"? Apparently we are. However, we depend upon the survey of the Students' Survey Committee to present us with the concrete facts which will bring to light exactly what our difficulties are and what might be done to relieve them.

In the past all of such surveys have been left to the faculty groups. These men have made many valuable recommendations we strongly advocate, but which the administration has not seen fit to recognize. However, we think that this new committee of students will bring up additional ideas which will be distinctive in that they will present the students' point of view, an aspect which we acknowledge is difficult for the faculty to assume.

LAURELS FOR STAHLEY AND BARDO

This in an appropriate time to pay tribute to two athletic coaches who may well be proud of their achievements—Neil Stahley and Ed Bardo.

We were hoping for the good of Delaware's football team that Stahley would remain here next season to continue his excellent work in developing a hard-working cooperative squad. During last fall's season he was successful in maintaining a devoted spirit and high morale among the men on the team. Never before had the men on the football team so conscientiously lived up to their training rules. Stahley was such an understanding and inspiring leader and teacher of his men that he succeeded, despite many handicaps, in producing a comparatively strong team which came through the season with a good record. Although we are sorry to see him leave Delaware, we hope he has continued success in his new position at Harvard.

Ed. Bardo deserves similar praise. He has worked hard year after year in trying to build up the sport of swimming at Delaware. Last year he produced a team which ended the season with an enviable record. It seemed that he had finally realized a reward for his efforts. This year, however, in spite of the loss of one of his most valuable men and the ineligibility of much excellent freshman material he coached his men through the most successful swimming season ever to be attained here. His team won eight of the ten meets in its schedule, a record which surpasses all others. We congratulate Bardo for his achievement and look forward to a maintenance of his good work next year.

In The Forty Days of Musa Dagh by Franz Werfel, one finds one of the best of recently published historical novels. It is the story of the oppression of the Armenians by the Turks. Gabriel Bagradian, the hero of this story, lived in Paris for about 23 years, and although an Armenian by birth, he had married a French woman. Bagradian suddenly decided to pay a visit to his native country, and thus he happened to be caught in the midst of a raid by the Turks in Syria. The Central Episode of the story is the siege of Musa Dagh when the Armenian inhabitants of seven villages united under the leadership of Gabriel Bagradian, and resisted the Turkish Army until help came from France. The book is made much more interesting by the manner in which Franz Werfel expresses the motives behind the mass movement. The history is given in the fullest detail, and the incidents in complete reality. Perhaps part credit should be given to Geoffrey Dunlop for his unusual translation from the German. The book was published by the Viking Press.

For those readers interested in the situation between Japan and the United States, Orient and Occident by Hans Kohn should be excellent reading material. The author tells of the situation between the East and West as he sees it. He even goes so far as to express his ideas on the outcome. According to Kohn, future developments will tend toward the union of these two regions. The book is made rich by the vivid picture of the East which it brings to the reader's mind. It seems that Kohn is more a philosophical than a recording historian. The book was printed by Day.

Blue And Gold Swimmers Take Three Straight

Delaware Mermen Swamp Johns Hopkins, George Washington, And Washington College

All Three Victories Easy For Home Team; John Carey And Bill Croes Star

The Delaware swimmers team has marked up three successive victories during the past week. On last Thursday night they defeated George Washington University, 43-32, at Washington. The Blue and Gold Mermen won five of the eight events. Carey and Croes won two first places each in this event.

On Friday night they scored another win against Johns Hopkins at Baltimore, taking first place in seven of the eight events. The final score of this contest was also 43-32. Croes triumphed in the 50 yard free style and in the 150 yard back stroke. Carey won the 100 yard and 220 yard free style events. Both of these men swam in the victorious relay team.

On Monday the team came through with still another victory when they drowned West Chester Teachers' College squad, 56-10. In this meet Carey set a new Delaware record of 56.7 seconds for the 100 yd. free style event.

Mountaineers In Lead From Opening; Thompson And O'Connell High For U. Of D.

Mt. St. Mary's College, leaders of the Maryland Collegiate League, easily defeated Coach Doc Doherty's Blue and Gold cagers by the one-sided score of 55-28 on the Maryland team's home court, last Wednesday night.

The Mountaineers were never in danger throughout the game and held the safe lead of 29-14 at half time mark and continued to score during the second half with ease.

Lynch, of Mt. St. Mary's, took the scoring honors by making a total of 22 points, while Reilly, his mate guard, scored 10 points. Ed Thompson and "Irish" O'Connell took the scoring honors for Delaware, with seven points each.

It was the line passing attack of the Maryland college quintet which helped them down the Hens. This team was probably the second best court squad that the Delaware cagers have met all season, Army being the best.

WITH THE BLUE AND GOLD

BALDY ADAMS

All rumors and gossip have finally a definite proof. Coach Neil Stahley will not return. He is to be Head Freshman Football Coach and Chief Scout at Harvard. I am sure the whole college will join me in wishing him success. He did a good job here in the one year of his stay. He won the admiration of the fellows and still got plenty of work from them. He developed a winning team and he entered into his duties whole heartedly. Best wishes, Coach.

The fencing team minus a captain came through last week-end with 9-8 victories over both Lehigh and Temple. The squad deserves a great deal of credit for practicing without the facilities of the other college teams. They have no coach, they practice themselves, yet they turn in victories, which many other of our teams do not. More power to you, fencers.

My congratulations to Coach Ed Bardo and to the swimming team for the best season in Delaware tank history. Out of a schedule of ten meets they dropped only two—Pitt and F. & M. Both of these have a great quantity of material to choose from and are expected to have good teams. Bardo has done splendid work each year with the Delaware swimming teams, but this one tops them all. The members deserve equal credit. They trained conscientiously and, as always, a well-trained team generally comes through. The score of the meets show more than anything else the calibre of the team. Delaware out-scored their opponents 426 to 288.

The team went through George Washington and Johns Hopkins last week and then returned to give West Chester the soundest trimming I have ever seen a Delaware team give them. The Pennsylvania team did not win a single first or second place as the Blue Hens swept to a 56-10 victory.

While the tank team had such a highly successful season, the cage squad fared very badly. Getting off to a poor start, the team lost its first four straight. It did finally manage to down a weak Hampden-Sidney outfit but after that it went from bad to worse. I defeated a better team when Baltimore U. came to Newark in one of the poorest exhibitions of basketball I have ever seen. Army and Washington swept through without any trouble, but with the return game with West Chester a new spirit hit the team which held up fairly well the rest of the season. Fouls lost the W. C. game, but Dickinson and P. M. C. fell. In Mt. St. Mary's, the Hens found a team which was too good and Washington had a little too much for them in the final game. The only bright spot in the season was the revival of pep that occurred too late in the season to do much good. The best thing is to forget the season and hope for better luck next year.

Captain O'Connell, Pié, and Prettyman have played their last game for the Blue and Gold team. All three went out with a bang. O'Connell played his usual fine game against Washington. I don't believe I've seen Pié play a harder or better game, and Prettyman guarded well, as usual. The three will be missed sorely. Lou Carey will probably be eligible next year. Wilson and Lawrence have aided a Delaware tank team for the last time. Baseball and track will be swinging into view soon. Stahley expects to start track next week.

While the Varsity basketball was steadily losing, the J. V.'s were as steadily winning. They dropped only a very few games during the season, and headed by Lou Carey, they furnished an opposition that time after time sent the Varsity down in practice.

The interfraternity basketball race is drawing to a close. As I predicted the Sig Eps have practically clinched the cup. Last week's 23-16 victory over Sigma Nu and the 37-35 setback of Theta Chi left them with only four games and two defeats necessary for them even to be tied. Second place will fall between Theta Chi and Sigma Nu, who will meet some time this week in the deciding game.

Blue Hen Fencers Enjoy Victorious Week-End Against Temple And Lehigh

Delaware Weak In Sabre Events, But Come Through In Foil And Epee

Under the leadership of Acting-Captain MacSorley the University of Delaware fencing team journeyed to Temple and Lehigh and added two more victories to their record, making a total of three victories and one defeat for the season thus far.

The Delaware team won both meets in practically the same manner, capturing a major portion of the foil bouts and seven out of eight of the epee matches. Slovin displayed the best form by winning all seven of his bouts.

Although Delaware was weak in the sabre events, the points were not needed, and substitutions were made to give other men experience with this weapon.

In the first meet, which was with Temple, the Delaware swordsmen started off in good form by taking five out of the nine foil bouts. Of these, Slovin contributed three, Murray one, and Vapaa one.

Next came the epee, in which Delaware took all four bouts; Vapaa and MacSorley taking two each. This made the score, Delaware 9, Temple 4, and assured Delaware of victory.

Because of the lateness of the hour and the fact that the sabre (Continued on Page 4.)

Cagers End Bad Season In Defeat By Washington College

Home Team Leads By One Point At Halftime; Opponents Step Out With Final Score 32-26

Last Saturday night Doc Doherty's Blue Hen five brought to a close their present basketball season with a set down, 32-26. They were defeated by the Washington College quintet before the largest crowd of the season for a home game.

The game was a very close contest until the closing minutes when Prettyman and Pié both were sent out because of personal fouls. Ed Thompson had been sent out of the game previously by fouls, because of a personal battle he and Horowitz carried on under the Blue and Gold basket.

Delaware was out in front by a 17-16 score at the half time mark, and the second half also was a very close scoring contest, until Pié and Prettyman left the game. It was soon after this that the visitors went out in front and stayed in the lead until the end. DuVall played a fine guarding game and held his man scoreless during his stay in the game. Delaware was unable to score during the closing minutes and thus they brought to a close a rather unsuccessful season.

Tom Pennock and Skipp, the visitors' center, were tied for scoring honors, each making a total of 10 points. Delaware was out scored from not only the field but also the foul shooting.

After a close first half, the Delaware Jays got going in the second half of their game with the Washington College Reserves and walked away with the game by the one-sided score of 44-21. Lou Carey once again took the scoring honors with a total of 12 points.

S. P. E. Wins Against Theta Chi

Sigma Phi Epsilon increased a lead in the Interfraternity circuit last night by a scanty one-goal victory over Theta Chi. The win practically gave the victors the title to the cup as with 6 wins to 0 defeats a team can hardly overtake them at this late date.

DiSabatino, of the winning five, with five goals and two fouls for a total of fourteen points was high scorer of the game. Bishop and Ratledge, with eleven and ten points, respectively, were best for the losers. The lineup:

bouts could not affect the outcome of the meet, they were fenced for five epees instead of the usual best out of nine. Temple took these matches, thus making the final score, Delaware 9, Temple 8.

After defeating Temple, Delaware continued on to Lehigh, where they found a team confident of an easy victory, for the preceding week Lehigh had defeated Temple by a score of 12-5. However, the Delaware swordsmen again rose to the occasion and earned another victory by taking five foil bouts, three epee bouts, and one sabre bout.

With the foils Slovin again contributed three victories, and Murray and MacSorley one each. Of the three epee victories, two were supplied by Vapaa and one by MacSorley. The single sabre victory was due to the efforts of Slovin. This made the final score 9-8 in favor of Delaware.

Sex Appeal Defended By Show

London (IP)—Sex appeal has a perfectly legitimate place in the fine arts dealing directly with humanity, George Bernard Shaw said last week.

"If a new public inquiry into the films is inaugurated," he said, "people who consider sex sinful of itself must be excluded, like other lunatics . . . The treatment of sex appeal under a censorship often itself is vulgar, yet I believe the good being done by films associating sex appeal with beauty and cleanliness in poetry and music is incalculable."

Spirit of Unrest In Colleges

New York (IP)—Modern schools and colleges are breeding a spirit of revolt and should be restrained, Former Gov. John M. Slaton of Georgia said in a speech before the New York State Bar Association here last week.

He also accused magazines and newspapers of fostering the "spirit of unrest."

"Propaganda for every conceivable vagary finds its way into print and receives a favorable, or at least a tolerant, reception," he said. "Novelty has a value greater than worth, and he who challenges it must meet the withering title of 'reactionary.' Any theory is acceptable, though it antagonizes every principle that is justified by experience and resistance to the assaults of time, provided the theory is entitled 'progressive.'"

This spirit of revolt, he said, is bred within college walls, and he cited as an example the case of a woman professor in a woman's college who advocated the abolition of religion and its repressions. He said things had gone so far that people taught companionate marriage, and spending instead of thrift.

Bell System engineers long ago began to work out a way to clear city streets of overhead wires. The first telephone cables were crude affairs—a few wires drawn through a pipe. Continuous research brought forth improved designs, better manufacturing methods, cables of smaller size yet far greater capacity. The cable with the greatest number of wires today—3636—is 2 1/2" in diameter.

More than 94% of the Bell System's wire mileage is now in storm resisting cable—one of many developments to improve service.

State Legislators Make Tour Of Inspection Here

Appropriate $182,950 A Year
To University For Next Two Years

The University of Delaware was host last Thursday to the members of the State Legislature and other State officials. They were met on their arrival by President Hulihan and other members of the faculty.

The visitors had dinner in the Commons as guests of the University. Following this, they were taken by a group of faculty members on a tour of the University. They first went out to Frazer Field to which an addition is soon to be made. They then visited Wolf Hall, Mitchell Hall, Evans Hall, the Memorial Library, and several of the buildings at Women's College, concluding the trip at the women's new gymnasium.

The visit to Delaware was part of a three day inspection tour of State institutions included in State appropriations. In the budget for State institutions $182,- 950 a year appropriated for the University the next two years.

Second Vehicle Chosen For Apprentice Players

The production of "Not Quite Such A Goose," the first endeavor of the Apprentice Players which was to have been performed before the other campus dramatic organizations on Tuesday, has been postponed because of the illness of one of the leading characters.

Miss Vera McCall, director of the novice thespians, has selected for her second production "Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil," a play that will be featured by a unique stage interpretation of a butterfly.

W. C. D. Plans Fog May Day

The plans for May Day are now going ahead at full speed. The play "Cinderella" has been chosen, and Miss Hartshorn and Miss Blegan are beginning to plan the music and dances. Adelaide Mahoney has been chosen as the Senior Duchess.

Henry White Talks On Chinese Culture; Colored Slides Of For- bidden City Interest Students

At College Hour yesterday, Mr. J. Henry White, who spent eight years with his brother exploring and studying China, presented an interesting illustrated lecture, emphasizing the cultural aspect of Chinese civilization.

The first of Mr. White's slides was of the Great Wall. Then he showed beautiful technicolor slides of the Forbidden City of the Chinese emperors in Peking. A 99 foot gateway to admit the good spirits; a beautiful observatory with the eternal Chinese dragon, the symbol of greatness and goodness, supporting a terrestrial globe; the Hill of Gald, where the emperor's home is located; the numerous bridges, each designated to various palace functionaries; the throne of the 99 dragons—all of these unique features of the Forbidden City of the Emperors were depicted in slides and explained by Mr. White.

Of particular interest to the students were the symbolic statues of the stork and the tortoise. The stork in the symbol of longevity and purity. Next to the dragon, the tortoise is held highest in esteem. However, this animal must not be confused with the turtle, the Chinese symbol of vileness. To curse one's enemies in China, one calls them "turtle."

Other beautiful slides were of the Dowager Empress' summer palace, ten miles from Peking. Exquisite summer gardens, jade fountains, artificial hills, porcelain, tile and marble pagodas, pylons, covered walks and camel backed bridges proved the architectural genius of the old Chinese.

Mr. White related an amusing story of the Marble Boat, a tea pavilion of the Dowager Empress. The Empress appropriated sixty million dollars that was supposed to build a battleship for a war against Japan to erect her pavilion. Building it in the shape of a boat, she invited her war minister to its dedicatory reception and ironically presented them their ship.

Dr. Gould Speaker At Athenaeum Society

Meeting In Old College Next
Monday Afternoon; "World
Economic Problems" Is Topic

The Athenaeum Society, formerly the Economics Club, will hold an important meeting Monday afternoon, March 11, 4:15 p. m. in the Student Society room of Old College. Dr. Gould will speak on the topic, "World Economic Problems." All of the members of their organization and students interested in joining it are urged to attend.

The Athenaeum Society, of which Dr. Gould is the faculty adviser, Edlon Vosseller, the president, and Edward Davidson, secretary-treasurer, has scheduled meetings to be held on the following dates: March 25, April 15, April 29, and May 23. Tentative speakers for these occasions are Professors Squire, Journey, and Tyler.

At the final meeting on May 13, officers for the coming year will be elected. An outside speaker will be procured and a dinner will probably be served.

Spanish Department To Sponsor Program

The Hilarium at the Women's College will be the scene of a Spanish entertainment to be given on March 13 for the pleasure of all students of both colleges who are interested in attending.

Professor George Wright, of Lincoln University, will be the principal artist on the program. He will sing Spanish songs, accompanying himself with a guitar. Native dances of Spain will also be included.

The program will be preceded by the serving of tea at 4:15 p. m. The entertainment will commence at 4:30. Professor J. Kenneth Leslie, is in charge of the affair.

"U. S. S. R." Not Popular

Washington, D. C., (I.P.)—Some of the conservative Senators got the shock of their lives the other day. They went into the Senate dining room in the capitol building and found all the waiters wearing jackets with bright red letters on them. The letters were "U. S. S. R."

Although they were soon told that this stood for United States Senate Restaurant, it was decided by the senator that the letters might be misunderstood, so a change was made.

Prof. Kase Hears Of Inaudible Sound

Recently Mr. C. R. Kase represented the University of Delaware at the National Theatre Conference held under the auspices of the Yale School of the Drama in New Haven.

Several hundred people attended the session of the conference, one of the largest of its kind ever held.

The meeting was conducted in the main theatre of the building housing what is probably the finest equipped theatrical plant in the country.

Although there were many interesting aspects of the conference, which was devoted to a consideration of The New World of the Drama, probably the most startling and the one fraught with the greatest possible consequences to the development of the theatre was the announcement of the discovery that inaudible sounds might be used to get stage effects.

According to Professor Harold Burris-Meyer of Stevens Institute of Technology it is possible to reach the emotions of the audience through the use of sounds which are either above or below those which are audible to the human ear. With these sounds warm or cold moods can be effected in an audience, and the actual physical reactions which might be produced by any emotion shown. For instance, a series of grating noises, totally unheard, can make one feel as though his teeth were chattering, or can even make one break out into a perspiration for no obvious cause. All the symptoms of fear or joy can be attained by the use of different pitches of sound.

Professor Burris-Meyer said that in the presentation of Verdi's "Strange Woman" last summer at the Ridgewood Summer Theatre he had succeeded by the use of an inaudible noise, in producing among the spectators the same delusion of a knocking on the inside of the skull from which the principal character on the stage was suffering at the time.

To Announce

Contest Winner

Mr. Kase will announce the winner of the contest, "The Stage is Set," next week. The last entry, a scene from "Mrs. Bumpstead Leigh," the play to be given by the faculty, was on display at the library this Monday and Tuesday.

Take a cigarette like CHESTERFIELD

You know I like that cigarette...

I like the way it tastes... there's plenty of taste there.

Chesterfield is mild, not strong... and that's another thing I like in a cigarette.

What's more, They Satisfy... and that's what I like a cigarette to do.

I get a lot of pleasure out of Chesterfield... you know I like that cigarette.
