Red Feather Drive Campaign Workers In Final Meeting

Chairman R. L. Hardy
Urges Full Attendance
At Meeting On Monday

With less than two weeks remaining until the 1954 Red Feather drive gets under way, R. L. Hardy, general chairman for Region 10, which includes Newark and vicinity, this week urged all campaign workers to attend the final organizational meeting on Monday, Oct. 4, at 8 p.m. in the elementary school gym.

"If our community is to contribute its full share of this year's $1,922,500 goal for northern Delaware," said Mr. Hardy, "it's very important that our workers be thoroughly acquainted with all our plans for city and suburban solicitation—both residential and business. The meeting will be brief, principally a review of progress to date, and a final ironing out of any problems encountered by the workers."

Residential area captains assisting in Newark's United Community Fund drive were announced yesterday by Bettina Sargeant, a vice-chairman of the local campaign. Captains recruited to date are:

For District I (Mrs. F. Jones, chairman): Mrs. John H. Cronin; Dr. Wendell F. Dunn; Mrs. Paul W. Hawthorne; Mrs. Ira F. Jones; Mrs. C. Robert Kase; Mrs. Barton H. Mackey; Mrs. Robert C. Squier; Mrs. H. Gibbons Young.

For District II (Mrs. Albert Pretko, chairman): Mrs. J. R. Downey; Mrs. Martin J. Gauger; Mrs. Betty Gillespie; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Herr; Mrs. Estelle Inden; Mrs. Helen McKeown; Mrs. Joseph P. Patovic; Mrs. J. A. Ryland.

For District III (Charles M. Cooper, chairman): Jacob Brown; Leon W. Case; Mrs. Ivan Parsons (who is associate district chairman in charge of organizing George Read Village).

For District IV (Joseph M. McVey, chairman): Mrs. Samuel Handloff; Mrs. Albert L. Lackman; Mrs. Charles N. Lanier; Mrs. Clara Truitt; Mrs. C. W. Woodmansee.

For District V (Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Jones, co-chairmen): Mrs. W. B. DeLong; Mrs. Paul Dolan; J. A. Gerster; Mrs. Stanley Gibbs; Mrs. Roy L. Hall; Mrs. D. Henry; Mrs. John A. Munroe; Mrs. Jack Murphy; Mrs. Thomas D. Mylrea; R. Justin Steel.

Agriculture Census Homemakers' Aid Cited By Director

Women To Play Important
Role In Delaware Farm
Census Beginning Nov. 8

The Bureau of the Census will "never underestimate the power of a woman"—especially during the 1954 Census of Agriculture, beginning Nov. 8 in Delaware.

"Farm homemakers can be a tremendous help in making this complete and accurate farm census," says Census Director Robert W. Burgess. "They can help cut costs and save time."

He suggests that homemakers can help their husbands fill questionnaires, look up records, and answer census takers' questions if their husbands are absent. Wives' answers to some of the questions usually will be just as accurate as their husbands'.

Sections of the questionnaire probably will be of special interest to some homemakers. The section on facilities and equipment asks whether the place has a telephone, piped running water, electricity, television, and home freezer.

Farm labor and off-farm work sections include questions about labor by members of the family other than the farm operators. Burgess also points out that home economists, clothing and household equipment manufacturers, and other individuals and organizations that serve homemakers often obtain information from farm census totals.

Any information released is in the form of totals for counties, states, or larger areas. Facts about individuals and farms are confidential.

4-H Groups Urged To Select Youths

Sam Gwinn Counsels Clubs
To Prepare For Delegates
At Nat. Safety Congress

"It is time to begin making plans to get youth representation from your organization to Chicago to participate in the 1954 National Safety Congress," urged Sam Gwinn, state 4-H club leader in Delaware.

The National Safety Congress, held annually in Chicago, attracts an attendance of over 12,000. The dates are October 18-22 inclusive. This year marks the second special program planned for rural youth. Youth groups from a number of states will be there as state winners for outstanding achievements in farm safety. Others will come also to receive the benefits and inspiration of these meetings.

Many civic and industrial groups should be interested in sponsoring a 4-H youth to the meeting for safety winners in various youth groups. Gwinn points out. Now is the time to begin making such arrangements. There is no better recognition for safety work well done, than a trip to the largest safety conference in the world, he adds.

The special youth section, "For Young Farm People Only," will be the highlight of the week's activities. Attendance at other selected meetings, exhibits, educational tours, group recreation and the all-Congress party will round out the program. Some participation in nationwide radio and TV programs will be on the agenda.

Delaware Civil Defense Facts

Fourth In A Civil Defense Series By D. Preston Lee
State Director of Civil Defense

Men who have lived through the terror of an air raid will tell you: the big dangers from a bomb drop are the initial blast and then fire. Even the radioactive perils of an A-bomb, the experts say, are secondary to those from the blast and fire.

Vital, then, to any Civil Defense is a fast-moving, well-coordinated fire fighting corps.

Under Delaware's CD plan, the state's 39 volunteer fire companies with their 8,000 trained men, plus the Wilmington Fire Department, are united together into a state-wide team.

Each community's first responsibility, of course, will be to itself. But when its own fire-fighting facilities are overtaxed in an emergency, it may call on the County CD fire director, who will dispatch all available aid. If the emergency is grave enough, the state CD fire chief may be notified to draw on all other resources.

Every company, therefore, can expect calls for outside assistance. But no matter how great the demand for aid, each volunteer company will keep at least one piece of equipment on hand for local protection.

To work with sureness and flexibility, the state fire defenses must be linked by instantaneous communications. This, in large part, has been accomplished. Through CD state and federal matching funds, every volunteer fire company in the state has been equipped with at least one mobile radio-transmitter. Sixty-watt base stations have been set up in the three counties.

Trained personnel are ready to man this "state fire radio net." In this way, the state CD fire chief, stationed in the control center at Delaware City, can draw instantly on men and equipment in any part of Delaware.

Wilmington's fire companies, however, are not yet tied in with CD's fire radio net, although matching funds for radio equipment have been available. Despite the best laid plans, a sudden attack may wipe out much valuable fire equipment even before it can be moved from the engine houses. To prevent this, a pre-attack dispersal plan has been worked out. If there is sufficient advance warning, certain Wilmington companies will leave the city and gather in two rendezvous areas: Delaware Park and the Brandywine Harness track. A third group of companies will remain on duty in the city. Off-duty firemen will be expected to make their way to their companies immediately by the best available means.

Dispersal plans also are being worked out by the state volunteer companies. Each will send its equipment to a pre-arranged assembly area outside its community. All dispersal plans, of course, depend for their effectiveness on getting adequate warning of an attack.

To keep the state fire defenses in top working order, CD has provided much equipment through state-federal matching funds. Closely allied with the work of the firemen in a disaster will be police control. Under CD's state plan, this will be the responsibility of the 144 men of the state police under Col. Harry S. Shew. They also will be charged with traffic and panic control. Obviously, the state police cannot do a complete job in an emergency. Again, it will be up to local communities to provide their own police protection and to insure traffic flow. In addition, Colonel Shew has supervised the training of some 1500 auxiliary civil police. These were trained as far back as 1951. Some of these auxiliaries have been assigned to various town police forces, others to state mobile support units. The remainder will work directly with the state police. They will be called out in an emergency to direct the flow of traffic on major arteries and especially to insure the movement of military vehicles.

Human Relations Group Named In State By Boggs

Gov. J. Caleb Boggs has named four persons to work with him in the development of a human relations program for the state. Committee members are:

James M. Rosnow, secretary of the state Unemployment Compensation Commission, co-author of the book, "The Delaware Citizen," and a member of the New Castle Board of Education.

Mrs. Dorothy Banton, superintendent of the Kruse School for delinquent Negro girls.

Dr. Raymond W. Heim, state director of vocational education.

Caleb M. Wright, Georgetown attorney.

Presbyterian Men To Hear Speaker In M. duPont Lee

The Newark chapter of Presbyterian Men will hold its first meeting of the Fall at the First Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening, October 6, beginning with a supper to be served at 6:15.

M. duPont Lee, Wilmington, will be the speaker for the occasion. "They Retired and Got Busy," which was the subject of an article in a national magazine, concerning a consulting group formed by Mr. Lee and other retired executives to offer advisory counsel to business firms.

Retiring after 25 years of engineering experience with the duPont Company, Mr. Lee has been active in civic and church work. At present he is head of the Wilmington Park Board, and is also engaged in slum clearance and rehabilitation, city government improvement, and church affairs.

Every man in the congregation is urged to be present, and if unable to attend the supper, to attend the meeting scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m.

THINGS TO COME

Tourist in Washington, D.C., sight-seeing by taxi, spotted the inscription "What Is Past Is Prologue" on a huge public building and asked the cabbie if he knew government talk for 'you ain't seen anything yet'?"

Each passing week school activities and efforts in Christiana, Delaware, are being reported in this column. The first PTA meeting of the year as President of the school for the first time, Mrs. T. B. Bledsoe, with Mrs. T. B. Bledsoe as secretary.

C. S. Kleinbach announced that the PTA will sponsor a community dance on Friday evening, Oct. 2, in the school. Music will be provided by the school band. The affair will be held at the school, with no charge for the adult group, with no charge for the children. The dance will be held at the school, with no charge for the adult group, with no charge for the children.

The program offers an opportunity for everyone over 15 years of age to have an annual x-ray free of charge. This is the best known method of determining certain lung and heart conditions, and since the x-ray takes only a moment and no appointment is necessary everyone is urged to take advantage of the service. Interested persons in this area who were unable to visit the unit on Friday are reminded that it will be in Newark on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of this week and at the Brookside school on Saturday, Oct. 2.

Mrs. Howard Greene, chairman for this area, made arrangements for the unit's visit, assisted by Mrs. A. B. Currinder. Hostesses present during working hours included Mrs. Charlotte Stapleton, Mrs. Ada Cleaves, and Miss Shelia Laws. Those who were x-rayed will receive the results in about three weeks' time.

Q: Why are there no sidewalks in some parts of town? I thought this was supposed to be a city!

A: Where there are curbs and gutters, the sidewalk is the responsibility of the individual property-owner. If he fails to install a sidewalk, the city may then do so and bill the property owner for the work.

Q: I plan to build a garage behind my house. Are there any formalities involved?

A: Under the building code adopted by the Council of Newark in 1951, you must apply to the building inspector (at the office of City Council) for a permit for the erection of any structure costing over $200. At the same time, you will be able to check the zoning requirements governing such structures in your area.

Hens Meet Lehigh Saturday After 40-6 West Chester Win

Delaware Departs For Bethlehem Test With Engineers; Flynn's Fleetness Features Opener; Zaiser, Redfield, Ford, Wagner, Cella Add Touchdowns To Romp On Rams

With the West Chester ramskin flapping from the Hens' nest mast, Admiral Dave Nelson's Middle Six Conference champions meet Lehigh in Bethlehem, Pa., on Saturday after their happy home opener and 40-6 victory over the lone team to shoot a hole in a near-perfect 1953 campaign.

Delaware's Fightin' Blue Hens will face a 34-man team coached by Bill Leckonby—a powerful squad of Engineers that lost a near thing to Virginia last week by a score of 27-21.

Delaware, with three straight wins over Lehigh, may boost the streak to four with some of the deft running and brilliant passing exhibited against West Chester. The Blue Hens are expected to face the Lehigh duel with nearly the same starting lineup as last Saturday, including an impressive backfield of quarterback Don Miller, right halfback Jim Flynn, left halfback Jim Zaiser, and fullback Dan Ford. Ends Tom Redfield and Marty Apostolich; tackles Steve Butcher and Nick Merjo; guards Bob Trivette and Jerry Weiss; and center Frank Geytvan will probably be front line starters.

Flynn Flynn provided the Delaware highlight of the West Chester game, will attempt to maintain his status as the leading Delaware scorer and ground gainer, while runner-up Zaiser will be seeking some Lehigh territory to add to his 55-yards of West Chester real estate. Delaware will have 16 lettermen to send against the Lehigh engineers. The group of Blue Hen veterans plus the capable reserve corps headed by field general Bob Hooper will pose a major threat to the less experienced and smaller Lehigh squad.

On Edge In their close contest with the Cavaliers, Lehigh was quick to take advantage of Virginia mishaps, and the team is expected to edge for Delaware in an effort to offset defeats of 26-13, 7-6, and 7-0 in 1952, 1952 and 1951.

The current Delaware-Lehigh series standing lists three wins for Delaware with four victories for the Engineers.

Last Saturday, at home, the Fightin' Blue Hens cheered Nelson and a goodly portion of a record Delaware Stadium crowd, by taking a first quarter touchdown with 61 yards and a touchdown in four plays.

Piston-pinned Flynn featured this touchdown march with a 46-yard surge and racked up the first Delaware score with a jet-assisted take-off through the middle for five yards and a face-full of end zone. Jimmy then kicked the first of three extra points, executing successfully all he attempted.

Bob Hooper Hailed As "Man To Watch" In Hens' Campaign

Nelson Praises Junior Quarterback's Playing As Miller's Understudy

The name of Bob Hooper was added to the "men to watch this year" list by Delaware football coach David M. Nelson. Hooper, overshadowed last fall by Little America Don Miller, has exhibited form in fall drills and against West Chester which marks him as a serious contender for a varsity berth.

In Nelson's opinion, Hooper knows the Delaware offense well and does an effective job of running it. And what is more the 21-year-old quarterback can kick! Hooper's passing also has shown a decided improvement. Freshman Miller, who has been a consistent performer in the past, had alternating passing tasks in Hen scrimmages with Don Miller.

Statistics of the 1953 gridiron season, Hooper's first year of varsity football, rate Bob as number two for the Blue Hens in passing and eighth in rushing. In addition, he shared a portion of the punting burden with '33 captain John Borenson and halfback Tom Fannon. Hooper broke into the scoring column last fall when he completed Delaware's sole field goal of the year in the Hens' 30-7 victory over Connecticut.

As a freshman, Hooper was the starting quarterback for the Blue Hens. The Delaware freshman team that completed a victorious 3-1-1 season. The 5-11, 170 pound quarter-back threw several touchdowns afield for the freshmen. Hooper's punting ability has been further exploited by Coach Nelson this year.

In 1951-52 Hooper was also a member of Delaware's basketball and baseball teams. He progressed to a third base berth on the Delaware varsity team of the Blue Hens in his sophomore year.

Diamond Dust From The Sporting News

For the fourth straight year, Robin Roberts of the Phillies has led National League pitchers in the number of innings pitched. That was a record set by Grover Cleveland Alexander in the National and Walter Johnson in the American. According to The Sporting News, Roberts won another distinction this year. When he pitched against the Braves on Sept. 12, he ran his total of innings pitched to 304. That marked the fifth straight year he had gone over the 300-mark in that department.

If Cincinnati Manager Birdie Tebbets talks Chinese when he goes back to his New Hampshire home after the season is over, it won't be much of a surprise. He has suffered mightily this season from Chinese homers in the Polo Grounds. The Redlegs won only one game in New York while losing ten; and five of the ten losses were the result of cheap home runs—known to the trade as Chinese homers.

Boudreau's Fake One thing Vic Wertz probably won't forget about the 1954 season is Lou Boudreau's "fake pass." It caught Vic napping. It was on September 10, in Cleveland, Larry Doby was on second, and the count was three and two on Wertz. Boston Catcher Sammy White stepped out of the box as if he had been decided to give Wertz an intentional pass. With Wertz off guard, White jumped back behind the plate and Pletcher, Skinny Brown whizzed a strike through.

The Adecek of the Braves broke a National League record Sept. 10 when he hit a homer at Ebbets Field. That made nine for him this year in the Dodger park, and that broke the old record of eight homers in one season in a foreign park held by Jim Bottomley, Mel Ott and Stan Musial. His nine in one park tied the major league mark set by Lou Gehrig of the Yankees in St. Louis in 1931 and equaled by Jimmy Fox of the Athletics at Detroit in 1932.

Hitting 443 If Jackie Robinson could hit only against the Cardinals, says The Sporting News, he would be in the league until he tripped over his whiskers. Robinson has hit 443 against Cardinal pitching this year, and his lifetime mark against the Redbirds is better than 440.

Baltimore fans, disillusioned by the showing of the Orioles this year, criticized the management particularly for some of the trades it made. They point out that three men traded off, Roy Sievers, Sam Mele and Vic Wertz had hit a total of 44 home runs at a point where the whole Baltimore team had hit only 45.

NAVY PLUG Recruiting plug for the U.S. Navy: Chick Donaldson, now center for West Virginia's grid team, couldn't play high school football because he weighed only 118 pounds. Now, after a Navy hitch he weighs 215.

Blaney Scores In First Game With Duke Varsity

Herman Hickman, writing in the Sept. 13 issue of the new Sports Illustrated magazine, had this to say about Coach Bill Murray's Duke University grid powerhouse as one of the eleven top elevens in the nation.

"Ace in the hole is a slick running sophomore halfback, Bunny Blaney, who is capable of breaking up any ball game." Blaney, making his first appearance with the Duke varsity last Saturday against Penn, came into the game in the third quarter when the Quakers were still alive on a 13-0 count, and romped 25 yards in the latter part of a Penn punt as his first effort.

In the final period, he set up one Duke touchdown with a 19-yard dash, and later scored standing up from the Penn 20. In five running plays, the former Newark High School athlete collected 54 yards of Penn territory for a better than 10-yard average.

Soccer Candidates Report For Drills With 8 Lettermen

Eight Veterans Included In Squad of 20 Reporting To Coach Whitey Burnham

Twenty varsity soccer candidates, one of Delaware's smallest soccer squads in several years, have reported for practice. Eight returning lettermen were in the group.

Coach Whitey Burnham, admitting that he was faced with a potential player shortage, stated that this season's squad contained a number of high quality players and that the limited size, allowing greater concentration on the individual, will facilitate training sessions.

Steel, Whittington, Walton, Regester, Thomas Brown, and Nick Paxon, as well as co-captains McLaughlin and Thompson are the returning soccer lettermen. Burnham now is preparing the team for the opening game against Mohlenberg at Allentown, Pa., Oct. 13.

The first snapper drove the bait far up on the hook shank, while its companion ran afoul of the exposed barb in an effort to take the morsel away from the first fish.

On the way home, Sunday, a stop at the Old Inlet Road, to fish in the deep water close to the beach under seemingly perfect conditions, produced exactly one small bluefish and one equally small spot in an all-afternoon stand.

At least we didn't have to drive a 200-mile round trip for that one. Down along the St. Jones River last Friday afternoon with Paul Gainer and Dick Ware, some belated attention was given to last season's duck blinds.

Brandy Davis Back After Hitting .303 In Carolina League

Pirates' Local Prospect Ends Season With Second Place Burlington Team

Newark's Brandy Davis is back home after bolting a healthy .303 and piling some 27 bases for Burlington of the Class B Carolina League.

In a recent interview with the fleet outfielder, who has been up with the Pirates at different times, sportswriter O'Leary Katzman reports that Brandy was not recalled by the parent club and has an inkling he may be sold to Hollywood, in the Triple-A Pacific Coast League.

Unless the Pirates sell Davis to one of their higher-class affiliates, they'll seriously risk losing him in the draft.

Brandy disclosed that unless he has an outstanding season next year, he hopes to turn to managing or running one of the Pirates' farm club from the front office in 1956. The one-time Duke athlete previously indicated that Branch Rickey has promised him a job with the Pittsburgh organization after his "prospect" days are over.

Davis helped the Burlington club to a second-place finish. Brandy's only regret about the season is that he pulled a muscle in his right arm in the latter part of June, while sliding, and was sidelined for about a month.

Brandy was satisfied with his .303 mark. Hitting has been his biggest drawback, possibly keeping him out of the major leagues.

"Experience—knowing what to look for—helped my average at Burlington," Davis disclosed. "I hit a lot to right field, too, trying to perfect the hit-and-run."

Davis, just turned 26, apparently has lost none of his speed. In a field day at Durham, three men from each club were selected to circle the bases. Davis was last to run, and had to better a 14.5 second effort to win. He clipped a full second off that mark.

Marsh Mud

Traveling through the marsh mud and heavy reeds along the tidal river bank, we crossed over a number of long, heavy 4x8 timbers bridging a number of deep ditches draining the marshland, and marveled at the construction efforts of Gainer and "Horse" Robinson who had hoisted those timbers through the long mud haul and into place.

Mosquitoes droned hungrily up from their disturbed rest in the reeds and settled down again after some invigorating transfusions.

Gainer's duck blinds were stranded staunchly despite the passage of time in winter, spring and summer, and a litter of empty, weathered shotgun shells, lunch bag papers, and a few drifting feathers were reminiscent of last season's activity.

A pair of black ducks flickered over the marsh toward the bay—big, fast-moving, heavy-bodied birds that really looked black in contrast with their silver-white flashing underwings.

The going was tough, but the smell of the marshlands was good—there were ducks in the air again after a long time away—and we'll be anxious if not ready for the season's opener on Nov. 1.

Newark Wallops Elkton In Saturday Season's Opener

Yellowjackets Score First Touchdown With 44-14 From Initial Offensive Play; Bob Money Scores Hall, Schaffer, One, As Newark Outgains Elkton

On the first play from their offensive line of scrimmage the Newark High School Yellowjackets drove into Elkton on the first play of the season and through the Elkton defenders for a 44-14 win. And when the last of the 60 minutes of play had ticked away on Saturday, each member of the jacket varsity squad had gained some first-hand scholastic game experience and Newark was established on the long end of a 33-0 score.

With game-time moved up to 10:30 Saturday morning, the Yellowjackets kicked off to the Golden Elks on the local high school field, stopped three Elkton efforts to advance the ball, and Jarrin John Miller, Newark guard broke through the Elks' defenses to partially block a punt which the Yellowjackets recovered on the visitors' 44-yard line.

Key Block On first down, Bill Hiddleston threw the key block on the Elkton right halfback; Co-captain Kenny Hall roared through the hole ahead of the ball-carrier to handoff the tackling intentions of five defending Elks, and Bob Money galloped unopposed for 44-yards and the first touchdown of the brand new campaign.

Ron Hayman missed the kick for the extra point and Newark kicked off again to Elkton.

This second offensive effort by the visitors met with an unexpected reverse when Newark's Lee Schaffer intercepted a pass on the Elkton 44-yard line.

Country Club Golfers End Wright Quarter-Final Play

In the E. B. Wright Memorial Golf Tournament quarter finals played at the Newark Country Club on Sunday, Jim Tyler defeated Tom Stanton 5 and 4 and Tom Jacquette blanked Bill Hamilton, 8 and 7.

Hugh Gallagher turned back Tony Paccello, 1 up, and Doug McMinn eliminated Ray Ott, 1 up. The team of Wes Barrows and Margaret Ware won the mixed Scotch foursome event on Sunday with a score of 73.

"Hard Luck Driver" Wins At Mason-Dixon Speedway

Junie Gough, for a long time regarded as the "hard luck driver" at the Mason-Dixon Speedway, crashed the winner's circle by taking the first race of the fall season on Sunday—a 35-lap double trophy feature, sanctioned by the Penn-Mar Stock Car Racing Association.

Sportsman stock car racing will continue at the one-half mile Mason-Dixon dirt oval each Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. As a special feature this Sunday, a 25-lap novice race will be run along with the regular card of three heats, two consolation and a 25-lap feature.

Farm Fire Losses
Top $139 Million
During Past YearFarmers Urged To Take
Safety Measures During
Fire Prevention Week

More than $139,000,000 in property on American farms was lost to fire in the last 12 months according to the National Fire Protection Association and the United States Department of Agriculture.

Farming is big business and farm property is worth protecting against fire. Despite the size of the fire loss, fully 90 percent of it could have been prevented if farmers had eliminated the common fire hazards that they now tolerate.

For that reason, the NFPA urges all farmers to take fire safety precautions during Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 3-9 and throughout the year.

Fire Prevention Week has been officially proclaimed by President Eisenhower. The NFPA, the USDA, and the New Castle County Extension Service join in these recommendations to farmers:

1. Get rid of all trash. Trash provides fuel for unwanted fires.

2. Replace all badly worn electrical wiring. Protect electric circuits against overheating by fuses of proper amperage.

3. Don't smoke in the barn or in bed, or in any other place where a fire may quickly start.

4. Keep stoves and heaters in good repair and keep combustible material a safe distance from heaters and smoke pipes.

5. When re-roofing use fire-resistant material such as asbestos, metal or spark-resistant asphalt shingles.

6. Shut off tractors and other equipment and let them cool before refueling.

7. Check fire lightning protection on your property. Install only approved lightning rods on all main buildings.

8. Use only approved equipment for grain drying.

"If you want to stay young, associate with young people. If you want to get old in a hurry, try to keep up with them!"

—Ima Washout.

"It's A Great Life"

By
The Rev. Milton H. Keene
Kingswood-of-Brookside

The quickly lettered sign, thumb-tacked to the office wall read:

"In case of fire, don't call the Fire Department — just call our friend Joe. He'll put a wet blanket on it."

"Joe" had gained the unenviable reputation of being able to dampen the spirits of even the most ardent.

Of course, the sign wasn't kind—and not altogether necessary; but it did an excellent job of reminding one man that he might use his talents for nobler purposes.

Sometimes quite unconsciously, a person may find himself on the side of the wet blanket bearers, smothering the little flames of enthusiasm kindled by more idealistic souls.

Your own particular wet blanket may go by various names—high-sounding, of course.

"Realism" you may dub it, when you're attacking some scheme that you don't particularly like. Actually, the whole thing may have some good points to it—and might work, if given a chance.

But you're not feeling good—and you don't think anybody else should be feeling so good either. You don't have any glowing ideas and you inwardly resent anybody who has.

So you say, "Let's be realistic now." And then you toss your wet blanket over the incipient fire. You're glad when it's out and everybody's feeling as dull as yourself.

PTA Favors Right Of Teacher Appeal To Superior Court

Central School Parent Teacher Group Differs With Brookside Opinion

Differing with the majority opinion recently polled by the Brookside PTA, the Parent-Teacher Association of the Central schools voted 198 to 25 in favor of a proposed teacher tenure bill for presentation at the 1955 General Assembly, permitting a dismissed teacher to appeal to Superior Court.

The rejected proposal would require local board hearings for dismissed teachers, with the right to appeal to the State Board of Education but without right to court appeal.

Mrs. Samuel Handloff, legislative chairman, explained the Delaware law which protects a teacher against arbitrary dismissal during the school year, and then explained the two proposed tenure bills.

The teacher's right to appeal, Mrs. Handloff explained, works both ways—as a protection for both teacher and school board.

Program chairman Alan Duff allotted time for requests to the parents for registration and voting turnout; the solicitation of volunteers to man the Ground Observer Corps post on Kells Avenue; and a request for chaperones for the Saturday night teen-age dances.

Earlier, the PTA endorsed a League of Women Voters report of last spring, urging city council to take three steps to meet Newark's need for more playground sites. The proposed steps, none of which have reached a vote in city council yet, are: Require all new developments to set aside land for playground purposes; make available for recreational purposes any suitable land seized for delinquent taxes; and cooperate with the Newark Recreation Association in obtaining playground land in the East Cleveland Avenue area.

The Air Force and Civil Defense work jointly in the GOC. Mr. Lee explained. The Air Force is responsible for selecting the location of spotter posts, their operation and the training of personnel. Civil Defense is charged with recruiting and administering the GOC.

A native of Missouri, Major Blagg joined the Army Air Corps as an enlisted man in 1940, served in Newfoundland, then returned to the U.S. to earn his commission and wings in 1942.

After that came 14 months overseas in the Middle East and Africa, then with the Air Transport Command. He returned to the U.S. in 1944 and was discharged in 1945.

Recalled in 1951 by the Air National Guard, Major Blagg went to Korea in 1952, serving as wing provost marshal and commander of the 315th Air Police Squadron. He was returned to this country last August.
