ALUMNI OFFERS ATHLETIC AID TO UNIVERSITY

Will Provide Funds To Supplement Coaching Staff; Athletic Council May Retain "Gus" Ziegler As Line Coach

DR. EVANS RESIGNES

It is likely that the Athletic Council, and the Athletic Governing Board of the University of Delaware will meet today to consider suggestions from the Alumni Association for supplementing the coaching staff of the University. The Alumni Association has long felt that the staff was inadequate to handle the many sports in the University schedule, and has offered financial aid for securing additional coaches.

It is understood that at the meetings of the Council and the Board that the name of "Gus" Ziegler, former All-American lineman at Pennsylvania, will be offered to assist in coaching the football squad this season. It is likely that this suggestion will be accepted, as Ziegler was retained for part time work last year. He also assisted with the line at the University of Pennsylvania last year. He will probably be retained to give full time service.

Announcement was made today that Dr. David O. Evans, for the past three years head of the Modern Language Department of the University of Delaware, had resigned to accept a professorship at the University of British Columbia, Vancouver. This is considered a serious loss by the University and no attempt will be made at present to fill Dr. Evans' position as head of the department. Someone will, however, be appointed to take up the vacancy on the staff of the Modern Language Department. Dr. Evans is a scholar of unusual attainments and is well known through his books and papers in the field of modern French literature. During the past year he read papers at several meetings of the Modern Language Association of North America. Dr. (Continued on Page 4.)

Last Saturday Senator Daniel O. Hastings introduced the press of Delaware to the United States Senate press representatives, at a week-end party given at the Washington newspapermen at Senator Hastings' home, Mapleshade, near Dover.

The Washington guests and the Delaware editors who arrived early in the afternoon, were entertained by the Senator at golf at the Mapleshade Country Club. At 6:30 a bountiful buffet supper was given at the Senator's home.

On Sunday, Senator Hastings took his guests to Rehoboth, and that evening they left for the return trip to Washington.

The guests from Washington included Frank Smith, Jerry O'Leary, James Ring, Edward Folliard, Warren Wheaton, Charles M. Stevenson, William K. Hutchison, Nathan Robertson, Francis Robertson and George W. Combs.

Among prominent official guests at the supper and entertainment Saturday were Chief Justice Pennell, Governor Buck, Chancellor Wolcott, former Governor Pennell, Senator Townsend, Congressman Houston, D. M. Wilson, Hayes Wilson, both of Dover, and Robert P. Fletcher, Jr., were also guests of honor.

TRAFFIC CASES

Jacques Gesell, of Atlantic City, was fined $50 and costs, on Monday, by Magistrate Thompson, when arraigned on a charge of reckless driving. The officer testified that he had trailed Gesell a distance of some miles at a speed varying from 65 to 68 miles per hour. Gesell paid his fine without comment and was released.

On Monday, Robert Clark, colored, of Baltimore, was arrested by Officer Cunningham, and arraigned before Magistrate Thompson on charges of driving without an operator's license and driving with improper registration. His fines totaled $45 plus costs. His car was held until he returned for it with proper registration. He paid his fines and was released.

AMBULANCE CALLS

The Newark ambulance was called Tuesday to take Francis Crow to the Homeopathic Hospital, after he had had both legs severely bruised in an accident at the Continental-Diamond Fibre Company. Crow was helping unload a truck of fibre, when a large piece of fibre slipped and pinned him against the wall.

The Newark ambulance answered two calls during the week in Elkton, as the Elkton ambulance was undergoing repairs.

QUARANTINE ON DOGS LIFTED

NEWARK DAHLIA SHOW PLANNED

Plans have been completed to hold the fourth annual exhibit of the Newark Dahlia Association in the New Century Club on Wednesday and Thursday, September 25 and 26.

As in the past the show will be strictly an amateur affair for residents of Newark and vicinity and there will be no professional exhibitors. No entry fee will be charged and the exhibition will also be free to the public from 6 p. m. to 10 p. m., Wednesday, September 25, and all day until 10 p. m., Thursday, September 26.

Tables and bottles will be ready to receive exhibits from 6 p. m. to 10 p. m. Tuesday, September 24, and until noon on Wednesday, September 25. Positively no entries will be received after that hour. A committee of professional judges will place the awards and will be guided by the standards approved by the American Dahlia Association. Single blooms should be shown with stems at least 15 inches long to show growth habit. Other foliage for decoration. (Continued on Page 8.)

NEWARK DOWNS ATLAS GOLFERS

Win 29-13 In Team Match, Sunday; Chas. Pie's 73 Takes Club Championship Qualifying Round Medal; Ginther Scores Well At Riverton

On Sunday, the Newark Country Club golf team of fifteen players fell on a like number of Atlas Powder Company divot scoopers and beat them 29 to 13, in a point score, handicap team match, played on the Newark course. Righteous indignation straightened the hooks and corrected the slices of the Country Club linksmen, for in the ranks of the powdermen appeared two rank "ringers," and to rub salt in this wound, these ringers were none other than Charles and "Buddy" Pie, thinly disguised as powder monkeys. "Ike" Turner, of Newark, won the medal in the match with a 76.

On Saturday, the qualifying round for the club championship matches was played at the Newark Country Club. Charles Pie easily won the medal with a 73 gross score. H. G. Lawson won the silver spoon for the handicap medal play event, held in conjunction with the qualifying round. His gross was 87, and a handicap of 19 gave him a 68, net.

1098 ENROLL IN LOCAL SCHOOLS

Exceeds First Day Enrollment Last Year By 78, Expect Increase To 1125 By End Of Week. Junior High School Given Home Economics

The Newark Schools opened, Monday, with a total enrollment of 1098, the largest in the history of the local school system, and this is expected to go to about 1125 by the end of the week. The total enrollment on the first day last year was 1020.

There were 984 registered in the white schools, and 114 in the colored school. There were 184 enrolled in senior high school, and 296 in junior high school. Grades 7, 8 and 9 (junior high school) are crowded to about their capacity.

This year for the first time a full home economics course will be given to eighth grade girls. A full hour period has been allotted to this subject, each day. This will allow the lower classes the facilities in this department and will also reduce the amount of time necessary to the subject when these girls enter senior high school.

The Newark Schools will again require one-half year of arithmetic review for high school seniors. This custom has been in force in the Newark Schools, exclusively, for the past three years and its results were evident in last year's tests. The Newark average in arithmetic was 84 per cent, while the state average was 72 per cent. The grade 8 average for the state was 70 per cent.

TAKES APPEAL

Laurence Lofland, a farmer who lives near St. Georges, was fined $25 and costs, Tuesday night by Magistrate Thompson, after hearing evidence in an accident case, which occurred on Labor Day. Lofland appealed the decision.

Lofland was arrested by State Highway Officer Davidson on a warrant signed by William Schwartz, following an accident in which Lofland drove a car into a car driven and owned by Schwartz. The accident took place at the intersection of the Kirkwood and Glasgow-Summit Bridge roads, when Lofland attempted a left turn across Schwartz's right of way. The evidence established that Lofland's car struck that of Schwartz in the rear, and that Lofland then continued down the road, and turning up a lane turned out his lights, apparently in an attempt to evade recognition. Schwartz followed Lofland, and obtained his license number and name. Lofland refused to wait until a Highway Police officer could be summoned to the scene of the accident. A number of witnesses corroborated Schwartz's testimony.

Lofland was represented at the hearing by Magistrate Vinton, of St. Georges, who signed his bond of $500 for appearance when the case is called in a higher court. Vinton accused the Highway Police with persecuting Lofland, while Officer Davidson contended that great leniency had been exercised.

TO HOLD LOCAL RADIO AUDITION

Entries For Local Contest Must Be Filed With Miss Neil Wilson By Sept. 18; State Audition Oct. 1; $25,000 In Cash Awards, This Year

Local vocal talent, both male and female, will have its annual opportunity, this month, to compete in the third annual Atwater Kent National Radio Audition. The cash awards have been increased this year to $25,000 for the winners of the National Contest. Last year the prizes were $17,000. Each winner is also given a scholarship.

Miss Neil Wilson is chairman of the local committee, and will announce, next week, the date of the local audition. The state audition will be on October 1, so the local audition must be held this month. All entries for the Newark contest must be filed with Miss Wilson by September 18.

Entrants for the auditions must be between the ages of 18 and 25, and must be amateurs inasmuch as they have not been paid performers in extended engagements outside of their respective states. They must declare an intention to follow a musical career, and must be free of theatrical or concert contracts.

The National Radio Audition is sponsored by the Atwater-Kent Foundation to bring to light worthwhile talent each year, and to give talent the means and opportunity to be developed.

To Offer Public Season Tickets To U. D. Games

Lieutenant E. P. Jolls, U. S. A., assistant professor of military science at the University of Delaware and a member of the University Athletic Council, has announced that the new season athletic tickets will be here this week and ready for distribution. The tickets, which have been reduced in price, will be offered to the general public in order to stimulate greater interest in University athletic contests. Lieutenant Jolls and Joe Rothrock, director of athletics, will direct the sale of the tickets, and a committee of students will assist in the distribution.

The tickets, which were formerly $7.50, have been reduced to $5.50, and will be good for about 40 athletic contests during the school year. These contests include all home events in football, basketball, swimming, soccer, baseball, fencing and track. As the admission to any of these contests varies from 50 cents to $1.00, the tickets represent a real bargain.

PLAN 4-H WORK AT CAMP VAIL

A. D. Cobb Will Take 12 Delaware Club Members To Massachusetts

Delaware 4-H Club work will again be represented at Camp Vail, at the Eastern States Exposition, Springfield, Mass., with a group of six boys and six girls, accompanied by three representatives of the Extension Department of the University of Delaware.

The fortunate 4-H boys and girls who will leave Wilmington Saturday morning on a special car over the Penna. R. R., are: Mary McGinness, Wyoming; Ethel Austin, Milford; Elma Short, Seaford; Helen Prettyman, Bridgeville; Margaretta Holton, Marshallton; Helen Robinson, Porter; John Keller, Milford; Leonard Sapp, Magnolia; Clarence Huston, Seaford; Edmund McCaully, Bridgeville; Medford Golt, Middletown, and John Montgomery, Wilmington.

In charge of the party will be A. D. Cobb, Assistant Director of Extension, assisted by Miss Helen L. Comstock, County Club Agent of Kent County, and C. R. Snyder, County Agent of Sussex County.

These boys and girls have been selected by their leaders for outstanding achievement and leadership ability in their 4-H Club activities. At Camp Vail they will join with 4-H boys and girls from the 12 other North and Middle Atlantic States to take part in a week's program of demonstrations, judging contests, recreation and leadership instruction, and countless educational features.

Specific duties are assigned to each state group by the Camp Vail management, and this year Delaware has been assigned to the 4-H forestry exhibit. Each day four members of the group will work in the 4-H Lunch Counter demonstration booth, and every member of the group will take part in judging contests.

During the last ten years over one hundred Delaware 4-H Club members have enjoyed this privilege of attending Camp Vail, and it is a source of much satisfaction to the Extension Leaders, that most of them have retained their interest in Club Work and have given valuable assistance in their home communities as local leaders of younger club groups.

LIGHTNING STRIKES THRICE

During the severe electrical storm Sunday, lightning struck the chimney on the house of Anthony Talucci Kells avenue, the roof of Wolf Hall, and a large tree on the grounds of the colored school.

Someone called the fire company when the Talucci house was struck, but no fire resulted. The bolt which struck Wolf Hall tore a large hole in the roof.

DEPLORES LACK OF INTEREST IN STATE HISTORY

Edward W. Cooch Infolds Little Known Historical Facts To Order Of De Molay; Wreath Placed On Cooch's Monument

INTERESTING POINTS

The lack of historians in Delaware to make known to the world the interesting spots of the State and the disinterest on the part of the public in those spots, were deplored last Saturday afternoon by Edward W. Cooch, attorney, at the first annual pilgrimage to Cooch's Bridge of the Delaware State Conclave of De Molay.

In his address to the group of members of the organization, who had gathered from all parts of the State to take part in the exercises, at his home beside the historic bridge that has been named after his family, Mr. Cooch told of the richness of Delaware in historic lore, and explained how a Delawarean nearly took the part Washington had in the Revolutionary War and how close Wilmington came to being the nation's capital. In appreciation of Mr. Cooch's work in the De Molay when he resided in Wilmington, a gavel made from wood that had grown at the side of Delaware's only battlefield, was presented to him by Walter Sherwin, president of the organization. A similar gavel will be forwarded to the National Council, Order of De Molay, at Kansas City, to be placed among their collection of historic objects, after it has been engraved to commemorate the Battle of Cooch's Bridge.

Historical Points

Many historic points but little known to the average Delawarean were brought to light by Mr. Cooch as a result of his research work.

Among some of the points brought out by him were that Delaware once had a tea party equally as daring as the Boston Tea Party; that Samuel Davies, one of the founders of Princeton University was born in Pencader (Continued on Page 4.)

HOLSTEIN HERD LEADS IN TEST

Brookwood Farm High In County Testing Association; Jersey Herd Second

Brookwood Farm, owned by Henry B. Thompson and located near Greenville, Delaware, is again leading in New Castle County Cow Testing Association, according to the August report of Alois Leinen, tester for the organization. Its 13 pure bred Holstein cows average for the month of August 939 lbs. milk and 31.4 lbs. butterfat. This is more than 30 lbs. of milk and more than 1 lb. of butterfat per cow per day.

Next to this herd ranks the pure bred Jersey herd of J. H. Mitchell and Sons, of Hockessin, with 26.7 lbs. butterfat. Mitchell's herd has also been leading our association for several times. George Burge's Guernseys, of Middletown, take the third place in butterfat production with 26.2 monthly average. Very close to this follow George Pierson's Jerseys with 26.17, Wilson Price's with 25.3 and Fred Martens' Holsteins with 24.6.

Street Work Progressing

Work on the street improvement program of the Town of Newark is progressing at a rapid rate, and it is expected that the schedule for this fall will be completed ahead of time. Laying curb and gutter has been completed on Park Place, Academy and Manuel streets, and is nearly completed on Kells avenue and Center street. The grading is being finished on those streets at present. Center street will probably be paved early next week, and then full attention will be given the drainage and paving problems on South Chapel street.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORING TOWNS

AS TOLD BY OUR CORRESPONDENTS

Seeking to Restrain Removal of Trees By Officials of Elkton

The fight between Elkton City Council and Standley Evans, representing the State Forest Warden, over the removal of trees along the sidewalks of Elkton, which has been progressing at intervals for the past year or more, neared a climax last week, when Mayor Taylor W. McKenney was served with injunction papers restraining the city fathers in their tree-cutting activities.

The injunction was obtained by Attorney-General Thomas H. Robinson, acting for the State Board of Forestry, and is returnable on or before October 7. It was issued Saturday.

For the past several days the town has had a force of men at work making preparations for laying a concrete sidewalk along the entire east side of Church street. In order to make a good job of the work the town commissioners deemed it necessary to remove several large trees.

Deputy Forest Warden Evans served notice on Mayor McKenney that the trees must not be disturbed and a verbal battle resulted.

Mayor McKenney alleged that the trees were dangerous and stated that he would remove them regardless of what Evans might say.

Later a special representative of the State Forest Warden came to Elkton and looked the situation over and the injunction papers were served on Mayor McKenney.

In speaking about the affair Mayor McKenney said: "This is just what we have been waiting for. We shall now see whether or not the town has jurisdiction over its own streets or whether they are controlled by the State Forest Warden and his deputies."

"We will also learn who will be responsible for damage and accidents that may occur from time to time from trees falling or being blown down. A large number of the trees along our streets are in a dangerous condition."

Mayor McKenney said that he would urge Attorney Joshua Clayton, counsel for the town, to prepare for an early hearing on the case.

Elkton

During an electrical storm that passed over this section Sunday, lightning struck the large barn on the farm of John H. Rehll, near North East, and it burned to the ground, together with several small outbuildings. The loss is believed to be about $5,000. The farm contained several automobile trucks and machinery.

Fire Sunday in the restaurant of the Elkton Hotel called the fire company to that place. The flames were quickly extinguished with a trifling loss.

Charles R. Foard, of Elkton, has been granted a patent for a device used for measuring the foot, to determine the exact size of a shoe needed. The simplicity of the apparatus is one of its assets. Clarence A. O'Brien, of Washington, patent attorney secured the patent for Mr. Foard.

The Ladies of the Methodist Social have decided on Wednesday, October 23, as the date of their annual poultry and oyster supper. These ladies have made an enviable reputation for themselves in regard to these suppers—so please mark this date on your calendar and let nothing interfere with your being present!

The village library has had comparatively little patronage during the summer months. But a number of new books are being brought here this week, ready for the cooler weather and the longer evenings. Enough can hardly be said in favor of a free library in a small community like this, and all who are wise will surely take advantage of the benefits to be obtained from it.

The public school is in full swing now, with an unusually large enrollment—somewhere in the neighborhood of seventy pupils in the two rooms. Thirteen small children are in the first grade this year, the largest number to enter at one time, for many years. The school orchestra also has resumed its weekly practices, under the instruction of Messrs. Chalmers, Barker and Mayer—all of Newark.

The Newark school-bus is once again disturbing the early morning quiet of this peaceful little burg, as it rushes and roars up the road, stopping at the Four Corners to take the High School boys and girls aboard. This year there are four freshmen to go from here—Elsie Ware, Bayard Bush, James Elliott and Frank Thorpe; seven sophomores—Ellen and Esther Cunane, Helen Elliott, Elizabeth and Sara Moore, Rachel Phelps and Edward Bidwell; no juniors; and two seniors—Lois Phelps and Margaretta Thorpe.

Delaware's History

Edward W. Cooch has labored long and ably to bring historical recognition to Delaware and to Delaware's historic shrines, and his delving into the glorious past of this state has brought to light many surprising and significant historic facts. Last Saturday, the members of the Order of De Molay made a pilgrimage to Cooch's Bridge to visit the monument marking the spot where the historians have every reason to believe the American flag was first unfurled in battle. While they were there, they were treated to a recital by Mr. Cooch of facts in Delaware history, which should be common and proud knowledge of every native of this state, but, unfortunately, are known to but very few.

Mr. Cooch, whose homestead is but a few steps from the monument, and was used during the Revolution by ranking officers on both sides, including Washington, Lafayette and Green, told the visiting fraternity of a tea party in Delaware which was as daring and bold as that for which Boston is famous. He also related how Broom Street Hill came within a few votes of being the capital of this nation. Mr. Cooch spoke of John Dagsworthy, Delawarean, of whom but few have heard, but who claimed precedence over George Washington for the command of the Continental Army. Both Washington and Dagsworthy went to Boston, and the command was finally given to Washington.

Mr. Cooch traced religious history in Delaware to prove that this state did more to encourage religious growth and make religious history than any other state in our early nation. Delaware was tolerant and fostered and protected all creeds.

Mr. Cooch deplored the lack of historical records and interest in Delaware. He said that an unfortunate lack of writers had kept Delaware's rich historical lore a secret, even within its own borders, and that indifference had allowed many of its shrines to fall into decay.

What Mr. Cooch has said is deplorably true. Delaware's shrines are not marked, and are unknown to many right here in the state. What has been done to bring Delaware the honorable recognition due it, has been done by private citizens like Mr. Cooch. It is time that Delaware's wealth of history be put on record for the world to see, and it is time that our historic buildings and spots be cared for and marked.

Here Is A Real Bargain

Within the next week or so, the Athletic Council of the University of Delaware will offer the public season athletic tickets good for all University Athletic events which take place at home during the school year. The tickets will cost $5.50 and will admit the holder to forty contests which include football, basketball, swimming, baseball, track and fencing. The single admissions to these contests range from fifty cents to one dollar. Last year similar tickets were sold for $7.50.

The idea of reducing the price of these tickets and offering them to the public came from Joe Rothrock, director of athletics at the University, as a plan to stimulate the people of Delaware to a greater interest in Delaware athletics. Should the plan work out as indications point that it should, the University will be able to provide much better facilities for sports than it ever has before. It is thought by Mr. Rothrock that within the next several years there will be enough surplus in the athletic fund to construct concrete stands along at least one side of Frazer Field.

The distribution of the tickets will be directed by Mr. Rothrock and Lieutenant E. P. Jolls, assistant professor of military science and a member of the Athletic Council. Student committees will assist in the sale of the tickets.

This seems to be an unusual bargain in amusement for the people of Newark, and the Town should be eager to grasp this opportunity to see these contests at such a small cost for each game. The Town of Newark should prove a fertile field for the sale of these tickets.

BABSON VS. FISHER

Both Roger Babson and Irving Fisher are skilled statisticians, well versed in economic lore, and command a wide hearing whenever they discuss the stock market. This week Mr. Babson said, "Sooner or later a crash is coming, and it may be terrific." A few hours later Professor Fisher said, "Stock prices are not too high, and Wall Street will not experience anything in the nature of a crash." Meantime the market itself, with striking impartiality, acted at first as if it believed that there might be something in what Mr. Babson said and then suddenly reversed itself and acted as if it had implicit confidence in the optimistic forecast of Professor Fisher. So there we are.

Mr. Babson urges investors to shift from high-priced stocks into bonds. Professor Fisher, on the other hand, sees the degree of safety as between high-grade bonds and common stocks becoming rapidly equalized. So there we are again. Mr. Babson sees an element of danger to the individual holder of stocks in the rapid development of investment trusts. These institutions, he believes, have accumulated huge paper profits and will eventually decide to cash in on them, thereby precipitating a wave of selling all along the line. Professor Fisher, however, regards investment trusts, with their diversified holdings, as a great stabilizing influence and an important agency for reducing the investor's risk. So there we are once more.

In the face of such clashing opinions, what can we believe? The reason for this sharp divergence of expert opinion is to be found in the fact that the stock market's present behavior is entirely without precedent. Those experts who have based their forecasts on past experience have scored a poor batting average. They have been wrong more often than they have been right. Economic law may be immutable, but in Wall Street it is now working under wholly novel conditions. We do not feel disposed, therefore, to render a decision on the debate between Mr. Babson and Professor Fisher, but are fully content to leave this to be determined by the course of human events.—N. Y. World.

DAMAGES BY LIGHTNING TO ELECTRIC COMPANIES

The results of a survey of the damage done by lightning to the properties of electric light and power companies in the region west of the Alleghenies was recently analyzed by the engineers of the Bureau of Standards, who found that Arkansas firms suffered the greatest losses per mile of primary lines per lightning season. Kentucky was second and Illinois third, with the Far Western States of Idaho, California and Arizona receiving comparatively little damage.

The total value of the properties exposed to damage by the 248 companies reporting from this region amounted to about $818,756,000.

A CAPABLE CLOCK

A clock that tells, simultaneously, the time all over the world was recently installed in the new subway station at Piccadilly Circus, London. Originally it had been planned to install separate clock for each country using different time. This new timepiece is in the form of a map of the world with a band moving from east to west along the equator. On the band are marked the various hours.

DEPLORES LACK OF INTEREST

Hundred and was pastor of the Welsh Presbyterian Church at Glasgow; that Abel Morgan, who wrote the first concordance of the Bible, was pastor of the Welsh Tract Baptist Church; that David Jones, the chaplain of Mad Anthony Wayne's army, whose stirring sermons drove the men into victory, was also a pastor of the latter church.

The reason these things are little known, he said, is because Delaware has not cared for its national shrines like other states, and has had a lack of writers to extol them.

Delaware is richer in historic lore than any other state, he said, and it is time the world knew it. One of the most prominent men of the Revolution was little known, he continued. He then told of John Dagsworthy, of Sussex County, who claimed precedence over George Washington as the head of the Colonial Army. The two men, he said, had to go to Boston, where the decision was in favor of Washington. Several years later, he said, Broom Street Hill came within a few votes of being the national capital.

Religious Freedom

One of the greatest things Delaware offered to the world, he said, was religious freedom, which was the boast of all the other states. Many states, he continued, offered freedom only to its own religion, but Delaware fostered all religions. Barratt's Chapel, in Kent County, is called the "Cradle of Methodism." On the Delmarva Peninsula from Philadelphia to Pocomoke were established the earliest Presbyterian Churches in the new world. With these also grew up the Quakers, Episcopalians, Lutherans, Baptists and Catholics. Rivalries they had but no persecutions. Ancient churches and meeting houses of various faiths stand all over the state, he said, as evidence of the great heart of Delaware which shut out none but opened its arms to all.

What Valley Forge is to Pennsylvania, Lexington and Concord are to New England and Yorktown is to Virginia, so should Cooch's Bridge be to Delaware, he said. All the patriotism that was displayed at other places, was made doubly so at Delaware's only battlefield, he continued. He then pointed out that when Washington moved his army south from Philadelphia to meet General Howe's army, which was moving northward from the Chesapeake Bay, only picked men, consisting of 1100 "expert marksmen" and 700 cavalry men known as "Philadelphia Light Horse," were placed at the bridge to check the advance of an army which outnumbered them ten to one. This required all the patriotism of the men and at the same time made the Delaware battle more intense.

In concluding his address, he urged them all to boost Delaware's historic lore, and advocated that signs be erected along roads informing tourists of historic spots.

He also placed on exhibition an iron chest that was buried by Colonel Thomas Cooch, who lived at the bridge during the time of the battle, in which had been placed the family silver. A number of other relics, including a cannon ball, which had been found near the house where Washington, Lafayette and Green had sought shelter from a storm.

At the conclusion of his address, the members of the organization marched to the monument at the end of the bridge, where Mr. Sherwin placed a floral offering.

A brief address was made at the monument by Rev. A. H. Kleffman, pastor of West Presbyterian Church, in which he told of the red stripe in the American flag standing for courage, the white for faith and the blue for loyalty. He explained how one could make a code of this for every day life, and urged the members to do so.

Harlan L. Cloud, a member of the Grand Council of Delaware, who acted as spokesman for the members, and who explained the interest of the De Molay in holding sacred all the Delaware's historic shrines, said that another pilgrimage to Cooch's Bridge would be made next year.

herds are leading. Brookwood Farm with 939 lbs., Harold Little with 774, Fred Martenis with 716, Fred Stafford with 700, B. V. Armstrong with 695 and Karl Feucht with 668 lbs.

In the production of individual animals, Brookwood Farm again takes first place with a cow producing 63.75 lbs. of butterfat in August. The second highest cow is a pure bred Holstein of T. Harold Little's herd, making 61.86 lbs. butterfat for August. The next two highest butterfat producers are also pure bred Holsteins owned by John Govatos and purchased recently from Winterthur Farms. They produced 60.70 and 58.70 lbs. butterfat. An animal of Karl Feucht's Black and White herd made 55.05 lbs. and the list with the sixth highest butterfat producer ends with one of George Pierson's Jerseys with 54.07 lbs. butterfat.

In August we had 59 cows producing over 1,000 lbs. milk and 10 over 50 lbs. of butterfat. Those having cows over 1,000 lbs. of milk follow: R. V. Armstrong, 3; Edward Bishop, 2; Wilson Price, 2; R. M. Fontaine, 3;

The average cow in our association produced 572.54 lbs. milk and 22.78 lbs. of butterfat. Her product had a value of $23.78, and she returned for each $1.00 expended for feed, $3.58. Feed cost for 1 lb. of butterfat was 29 cents and $1.15 for 100 lbs. of milk. The amount of grain fed to one cow averaged 187 lbs. (including dry cows) and the cost of feed $6.57.

HISTORY IN STAMPS
The newest two-cent postage stamp adds one more illustration to the history of America as set forth in the albums of stamp collectors. Honoring Thomas A. Edison, it marks the fiftieth anniversary of the first incandescent electric lamp.

The custom of issuing commemorative postage stamps has become so popular that a new stamp appears every year or so—sometimes several appear in one year. The United States postage stamp, however, was almost half a century old before the idea was conceived of giving it historical value.

The first stamps were put on sale in 1847; the first special series appeared in 1893 to commemorate Columbus's discovery of America. There were sixteen of these stamps, ranging in denomination from one cent to 15 cents, each one telling a little of the story of Columbus in Sight of Land, the Landing of Columbus, the Flagship of Columbus, the Fleet of Columbus, Columbus Soliciting the Aid of Isabella, Columbus Welcomed at Barcelona, Columbus Restored to Favor, Columbus Presenting Natives, Columbus Announcing His Discovery, Columbus at La Rabida, Recall of Columbus, Isabella Pledging Her Jewels, Columbus in Chains, Columbus Describing His Third Voyage, Isabella and Columbus, and Columbus alone.

After five years another commemorative series followed, known as Transmississippi-America stamps, issued during the Transmississippi and International Exposition. The nine denominations, ranging from one cent to $2, were titled Marquette on the Mississippi, Farming in the West, Indian Hunting Buffalo, Prominent on Rocky Mountains, Troops Guarding Train, Hardships of Relegation, Western Mining Prospector, Western Cattle in Storm and Mississippi River Bridge.

The Pan-American Exposition in Buffalo in 1901 was marked by another series, depicting means of transportation. A lake steamer was shown on the one-cent stamp, a railway train on the two-cent, an automobile on the five-cent, ship canal locks on the eight-cent and an ocean steamship on the ten-cent stamp.

The next special series celebrated the purchase of Louisiana from France. The stamps bore several of the portraits of the men most responsible for accomplishing it—Robert R. Livingston, Minister to France at the time; Thomas Jefferson, President, and James Monroe, special Ambassador to France.

The Jamestown series of 1907 followed, depicting the landing of the colonists 300 years before and bearing the likeness of Captain John Smith and Pocahontas. The first single commemorative stamp—that is to say one that belonged to no series—was that of 1909 to mark the development of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Territory, having for its design the portrait of William H. Seward, who as Secretary of State negotiated the purchase of Alaska from Russia.

Special stamp issues for the most part have been concerned with the territorial development of the country, but the occasion of the electric light's golden jubilee is not the first time on which the progress of science has been marked on a stamp. In 1909 a two-cent stamp, showing Henry Hudson's Half Moon sailing past the Palisades and Robert Fulton's Clermont in full steam, commemorated not only the discovery of the Hudson River but also the centennial of its first navigation by steam.

Nearly all the special issues mark anniversaries, but an exception was the Lindbergh air mail stamp.

EDUCATION FOR U. S. EMPLOYEES
The Department of the Interior has announced plans to furnish education for children of lighthouse keepers and of army and navy officers in isolated spots by means of correspondence. Secretary Wilbur said the correspondence courses will provide instruction in all primary and secondary school grades and will be supplied through the Bureau of Education, the service being an attempt to overcome some of the disadvantages which have long confronted government employees sent to remote places.

RESCUE SOCIETY ON AIR

The Rescue Society, New York City, which has been a regular radio feature for the past three years, will return to the air on Sunday, September 22, at 3.30 p. m., daylight saving time, over WDEL, Wilmington, and a wide radio network. Thomas J. Noonan, better known as the "Bishop of Chinatown," will preside at the microphone. The program will be broadcast from the old Chinese Theatre, 5-7 Doyers street, New York City. During the coming season Mr. Noonan will present many men, now prominent in all walks of life, who owe their present positions to work done by the society in the notorious underworld section.

The same breezy witticisms, pathos and tales of regeneration will again be heard with the setting in the background of old Chinatown, which has caused the programs to stand out as classics in radio broadcasting.

In the inaugural presentation on September 22, William A. Blackley will be the guest speaker, portraying a human interest story based on his own career. The musical part of the program will include the Criterion Male Quartette comprising Don Chalmers, John Maxwell, Andres Sorto, and Watt Webber; the Hackel-Berge Trio numbering Aleck Hackel, William E. Berge and Jacques De Pool. The Harmony Trumpeters, Hendricks, Clark and Hendricks, will also be featured.

SAFETY MOVEMENT

That there is a human side to business as well as a purely commercial side is illustrated by the action of an oil company on the Pacific coast which has been erecting air beacons every 50 miles from Canada to Mexico. This company has been a leader in aviation development.

Aviation has caused mothers (and fathers) of the present generation great anxiety and worry because of the interest their sons (and daughters) take in this newest branch of sport and industry. Boys (and even girls) take to the air like ducks to water.

A mother said to the president of the oil company mentioned: "You are doing everything in your power to encourage aviation, which naturally increases the sale of your product. Do you not think you owe it as a duty to the mothers of the boys who fly the ships and the girls who ride in them, to help make aviation more practical and safe by erecting suitable markers for guidance of flyers at night?"

Here was a problem to which real human interest attached. The head of the company accepted the challenge. He said:

"We are pioneering in the field of air transportation and we will pioneer in the field of airway illumination." The result has been the greatest system of air beacons up and down the Pacific coast that exists in the United States and probably in the world. Just as the Pacific coast led the country with paved automobile roads, it is now leading the country with properly illuminated air beacons.

This enterprise represents the progressive or human side of industry which cannot be figured in cold dollars and cents.

MUST BURY DEAD ANIMALS

It has been reported to the State Board of Agriculture that some of the stock owners of the State, when losing cattle and horses, are not burying the dead animals. The laws of Delaware provide that all dead animals must be buried, under penalty of the law. It is necessary that this regulation be strictly enforced, in order to prevent the spread of disease. Stock owners are hereby notified that all dead animals must be buried immediately after death.

HAIR IN OUR EARLY ARMY

That long whiskers and unkempt hair were not in favor with the commanding officers of the early United States Army is shown by a recently found letter signed by Anthony Wayne. The letter states that, as a barber has been supplied for members of the company, none would be excused for appearing "with a long beard or slovenly hair."

XMAS SEAL COLLECTING

Within the last few years stamp collectors, not content with the increasing number of new postage stamp issues, have added another item, Christmas seals, to their lists. As time goes on the Christmas seals are said to be increasing rapidly in value, although age does not always determine their worth.

BLUE AND GOLD FOOTBALL SQUAD OPENS PRACTICE

12 Men Report Yesterday For First Workout; 35 Expected By End Of Week; Freshmen Strong In Heavy Material

PLAY RUTGERS OCT. 5

About a dozen men answered the first call for football practice at the University of Delaware, yesterday, among them Dave Loveland, former backfield flash, who was out of school last year. Summer jobs prevented a number of candidates from arriving here in time for the first practice, but Coach Rothrock expects to have a squad of 35 at work before the end of the week.

With nine of last year's letter men and a number of heavy and experienced freshmen reporting, Delaware's prospects look excellent for a team which should show an excellent balance of weight, power and speed. Among the letter men, who will all probably be here by this afternoon, are: Captain "Ace" Taylor, Shelladay, Barton, Hill, Benson, Reitzes, Kane, Staats and Hopkins. "Doggy" Draper, who was expected to report, will probably not be able to play football this year due to a recent operation for hernia.

This year's freshman candidates are particularly promising. Two, who were out yesterday, were Aubrey Walker, a 185-pound tackle from Wilmington High School, and Francis Haggerty, last year's Salesianum quarterback. Two more good men are expected from those schools; Hartman, 175-pound halfback from W. H. S., and Dillon, a Salesianum linesman, who weighs 186. Hartman is also a champion swimmer and fancy diver. H. S. Walker, another Wilmington High School letter man will probably report this week. Coach Rothrock is also pinning some hopes on Sanford Ross, who is coming to Delaware from Washington, D. C., and a man by the name of Mudron from South Orange, N. J. Ross weighs in at 175, and Mudron at 178. Both are said to be season's players.

With "Ace" Taylor and Dave Loveland teamed in the backfield, Delaware should be able to match speed and shiftness with any team on its schedule, and there seems to be material available to bulwark this speed with weight for line smashing. The Blue and Gold should also have more weight and power in the line than it has had for a number of seasons.

The first game will be with Rutgers, at New Brunswick, on October 5. The second game will be at Newark, on October 12, against Ursinus.

STUDYING THE BREAD BASKET

Plans to reduce the cost of living are easy to discuss but as Mark Twain said regarding talk about the weather, "We do nothing about it."

The Associated Grocery Manufacturers of America, comprising 230 leading manufacturers of grocery products, intend to do more than talk. They have embarked upon a worldwide investigation looking toward the reduction of distribution costs in their industry for the direct purpose of benefiting the consumer. Both President Hoover and Secretary of Commerce Lamont have voiced the unqualified opinion that reduced distribution costs were essential to continued expansion of American business.

H. R. Drackett, President of the Associated Grocery Manufacturers, points out that other nations are striving to attain a standard of living equal to that in America. A low price creates a larger volume of sales. If unnecessary distribution costs cause high prices in foreign as well as local markets, a reduction in these costs would result in lower prices to consumers and mean more consumers of American products.

The grocers are embarking upon a worthwhile movement which is in line with the modern tendency of mass production with a maximum turn-over at a minimum profit.

GOVERNMENT CUTS COSTS

At the end of the last fiscal year on June 30, the Federal government had a surplus of $185,000,000 in the treasury, five times the estimated surplus. During the year the national debt was reduced $673,000,000 and is now less than $17,000,000,000.

The policy of retrenchment in Federal expenditures, established a few years ago, has resulted in the conversion of savings into tax reduction for the people. Within eight years nearly two million people have been relieved entirely of Federal taxation.

President Hoover has announced that a careful study is being made to determine the possibilities for reducing Federal taxes in the future. This will probably be done, but it will be of little direct benefit to the public if the orgy of spending by local units of government, that has multiplied their cost time and again in recent years, is continued.

NEWARK TRAILS THE LEAGUE RACE

Tri-County Season Ends With Newark In Second Place As Aberdeen Cops Flag; Rucker Pitches, No Hit, No Run Games In Double Header Which Closes Season

By splitting a double-header with Aberdeen, on Fraser Field, last Saturday, the Newark baseball team finished the season in second place in the Tri-County League. It was thought at first that Newark and Aberdeen were tied for the pennant, but at a meeting last night, the flag was awarded to the Maryland team. Newark and Aberdeen had been tied for several weeks, but Newark dropped a sloppy game to Chesapeake City on Labor Day.

In the first game, Saturday, Aberdeen got to Rose for sixteen hits and walked away to an 8 to 3 victory.

However the feature of the afternoon was a no hit, no run game, turned in by Rucker for Newark in the second contest. Rucker held the southern nine in the hollow of his hand in every frame. Wilkinson, on the hill for Aberdeen, however, gave Rucker a great battle, and allowed but 3 hits. These were enough to stretch into a one run win for the local nine.

OUR JAZZ SONGS

RULE IN VENICE

Romance, which has long meant one thing for some people and something quite different for others, was to be found not long ago in the songs of the gondoliers on the Grand Canal in Venice. To ride in a gondola to the tune of "O Sole Mio" or "Santa Lucia" was, for Americans in particular, the height of romance. But the gondoliers themselves have a different idea, and now they grin and think they are giving their American passengers a rare treat when they sing "Romona."

In the evenings when the gondolas are clustered around the serenade boats opposite the Doges' Palace, no amount of persuasion can convince the serenaders that the old songs are best after all. Americans, they have heard, invented jazz; therefore they must like it. So the songs that drift out across the water are syncopated tunes that mean dancing and bright lights.

The vogue for American music in Europe, however, has been dealt a severe blow by the popularity of the German song, "I Kiss Your Hand, Madam," which has been translated into every language and is played several times in an evening by every dance orchestra in Europe. While the words to American tunes have been translated in French, German and Italian, singing orchestras take a greater delight in showing off their English by using the English words.

American corporations will earn a total of more than $10,000,000,000 this year and nearly $7,000,000,000 will have been distributed to stockholders—little investors as well as big—Los Angeles Times.

HIGH GRIDDERS START PRACTICE

Coach Gillespie Has 7 Regulars Around Which To Build Team; Over 30 Candidates Out; First League Game October 11

Newark High School started football practice with the opening of school on Monday, over 30 candidates reporting. The first three sessions have been devoted to fundamentals, but Coach Gillespie will probably start to form his squads the first of next week.

Newark will have tried and seasoned players in seven positions, but there are serious gaps on both ends, at center, and in the backfield. Captain Frank Mayer will direct his team from fullback position, and will have "Rip" Smith and Ned McCully as helpmates in the backfield. "Rip" will take his accustomed position at quarter, and Ned will call signals. The other backfield job is uncertain, but Barrow and Johnson are the strongest bidders for the birth.

Surratt and Schwartz, sealing over 175 pounds each, seem likely to hold both the jobs at guard, and Gallagher and McDowell, both burly and seasoned players, solve the tackle problem. Center is a weak spot. Barrow has played the position, but he may be needed in the backfield. Rittenhouse and Widoes are vying for births at end. Both have qualifications, but are inexperienced.

However, with the starting of scrimmage, Coach Gillespie hopes to unearth material to fill the soft spots, and with the weight and experience of the seven regulars as a nucleus, Newark is looking forward to a successful season. The first league game will be played at Newark against Middletown, on October 11, but it is expected that a game with some outside team will be scheduled before that date. There will be six league games, the first and the last two to be played at home.

The soccer team will also open its season, October 11, with Claymont, here.

Here's a good September menu: Corn soup, made from fresh corn cut from one cob; omelet with Spanish sauce, which contains tomatoes and peppers; rice; new yellow or white turnips; apple sauce from some of the first windfalls, with cup cake.

GEORGE W. RHODES
DRUGGIST

TO AVERT ACCIDENTS

Motor Commissioner R. B. Stosckel, of Connecticut, believes that constant education of drivers in safe practices will be the greatest factor in reducing the appalling casualty list from automobile accidents.

He holds that no person can be a good driver unless "he thinks about his driving every moment while he is out." He must regard every one he meets on the road as a "potential trouble maker." Calmness in driving he holds to be more important than "perfect ability to handle the wheel."

Automobile accidents show a 10 per cent increase this year over 1928. Attributable causes are many and varied but it cannot be disputed that carefulness on the part of all concerned would avert at least 90 per cent of them.

PIONEERS IN AIRWAY MARKING

Only a few years ago a tire company, at its own expense, put markers along the Pacific highway, giving travelers at that time the only authentic information as to the distance along the route.

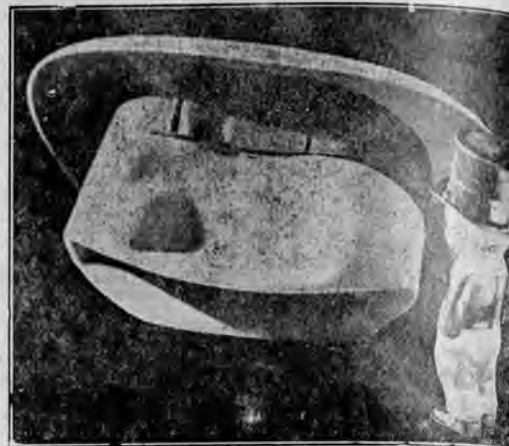

Today, less than 15 years later, the airplane has brought a new method of travel. Few flyers know anything about navigation or the art of following a course without land marks to guide them. As a result airway beacons are essential for safety in flying, particularly at night.

The Richfield Oil Company has adopted a progressive program of building 8,000,000-candlepower steel tower beacons in conjunction with its modern gas stations, approximately every 50 miles along the Pacific highway from Canada to Mexico. It is said that these beacons are visible in clear weather for 50 miles and the light which illuminates them will penetrate fog and mist for a great distance.

Thus has a private company again stepped into the breach and marked our newest transportation routes, namely, the airways, and made them more safe and practical for amateur flying as well as mail and transport planes.

These beacons would cost local communities thousands of dollars which could never be raised for a uniform system through several states. Erected as they are they illustrate the duty which private industry feels it owes as a public service in conjunction with the operation of its business which is of such a widespread public character.

I pride myself in recognizing and upholding ability in every party and wherever I meet it.—Beaconsfield.

LAWARE STANDS THIRD IN NEW CARS BOUGHT

Wilmington, Aug. 24—A total of 2,000 new passenger cars were purchased by the motorists of the Delaware State during the calendar year 1928, according to revised figures of the American Motorists' Association. A. M. A., National Body of Delaware Automobile Association, Wilmington. Comparing the number of new cars purchased with the number of cars in the state during the year 1928, the figures show that during 1928, 1,007,000 more cars were purchased than were junked. The total junked aggregated 2,213,000.

Computed on a percentage basis, Delaware and Connecticut, motorists ranked the highest number of new passenger cars. Registration of passenger cars as of January 1, 1929, totaled 1,084,615 in Michigan and 261,600 in Connecticut, of which 261,600, respectively, or 19 per cent of each state, were purchased in Delaware.

On the same basis New Jersey, Massachusetts and Montana ranked with 18 per cent each; New York, South Dakota, District of Columbia and Rhode Island and Delaware ranked third with 17 per cent each; and Pennsylvania, Oklahoma, Nebraska, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Utah and Wyoming tying for fourth place with a 16 percentage of new cars purchased during the year.

CANNING CONTEST

Mrs. K. H. Daugherty, New Castle County Club Agent, is in receipt of a folder outlining the conditions governing the National Canning Contest now under way in Chicago and in which many housewives in this locality are expected to have entries. The contest closes October 1.

The basic idea of the contest, which is open to every woman and girl in the United States, is to stimulate interest in the home preservation of foods. For the best jars in the contest the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation will award 222 cash prizes, totalling $5,825, including a grand sweepstakes prize of $1,250 for the best jar of canned food entered in the contest. The contest classifications cover fruits, vegetables and meats, and every contestant is free to enter one or all three of the classes. The method of canning used is left to the contestant, though the government and state home demonstration departments recommended the use of a pressure cooker for best results and the saving of time, labor and fuel.

The contest comes at an opportune time, for the flush of harvest brings to hand no end of edibles for canning. Some familiar food packed in some familiar way stands as good a chance of winning as some article of fancy combination with an unusual idea in back of it and the major prize may be won as easily by some girl on the threshold of a college career eager to earn money for her education as by her mother who is a veteran canner. That the judges may render a fair opinion on the entries it is required that all fruits, vegetables and meats submitted be placed in standard ball-mason jars of the quart size. A sample jar and shipping carton may be had free by every woman who writes for it to the National Canning Contest, 925 S. Homan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

TREAT SEED WHEAT

"Treat your seed wheat again this fall to control smut," cautions County Agent Ed Willim, Jr., in a recent letter sent to all farmers in New Castle county. "Although, continues the Agent's statement, 'the amount of smut in the wheat harvest of this season was much below the average that has occurred for the past four years, the small amount of smut generally found in seed wheat is sufficient with favorable temperature and moisture at seeding time this fall to favor another heavy outbreak.'"

The small amount of smut in wheat this season was due in part to (1) the general practice of seed treatment the past four years, and (2) the weather conditions that were unfavorable for heavy disease infection at seeding time last fall. Why take chances on a reduced yield and dockage in next year's crop when seed treatment at a small expense this fall will eliminate the chances. Commercial treating machines are conveniently located in different parts of New Castle county and are giving a thorough treatment at a reasonable cost. Home treating of the seed can be done with a small barrel or churn outfit. The practice of treating the seed by applying the dust and sowing over on the barn floor is not recommended.

The extension agents continue to recommend copper carbonate, "Copper Carb," and Ceresan since these materials have proven their efficiency in experiments and demonstrations conducted throughout the county. Two ounces of either of these seed disinfectants to each bushel of seed wheat is recommended this fall.

HEALTH CRUSADE OPENS

"Every school in Delaware in the Modern Health Crusade," is the slogan of the Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Society for the school year 1929-1930. Under the direction of Miss Helen H. Thomson, executive secretary of the Society, and her able assistant, Mrs. Whitehead, as many as possible of the nearly 400 schools in the state will be visited, to try and stimulate action on the part of the teachers.

Two schools have already enrolled and as has been the custom for many years, Hanby School No. 4, of New Castle county, is the first in the state to register for this year. While the county schools did not open until Tuesday, September 3, the entry from Hanby school came the next day. Miss Lida P. Hanby is the teacher and the children are most enthusiastic over the work. The second school to enroll was Eldora, No. 19, of Sussex county.

This week Miss Thomson is sending to all schools data concerning the health project contests to be held this year. This educational fight against tuberculosis provides three sets of health scales which will be awarded at the expiration of each contest, one each to the winners in Class A, which comprises the graded elementary schools, (white), Class B, one and two room rural schools (white) and Class C, rural and elementary schools, (colored).

The contest ending November 15 embraces posture and diet suggestions, such as school lunches, balanced meals, selection and care of food, milk, fresh vegetables, etc.

The second contest ending January 15, embraces health habits for winter months. Such suggestions as fresh air, indoors and out, exercise and play, and proper clothing are embraced in this one.

Health habits in eating or care of the eyes, embraces the third contest ending March 15.

The last contest on sanitation, safety and first aid, will close May 15.

NEW WAY TO FILL SILO

"Farmer-dairymen in New Castle county who have silos to fill this fall need not have the silage tramped or distributed during the filling process if results at the United States Dairy Experiment Farm at Beltsville, Maryland, can be used as examples of this practice," states County Agent Ed Willim, Jr., in a recent article on this phase of dairy feeding.

Four silos at the United States dairy experiment farm at Beltsville, have been filled the last three seasons without tramping or distributing. The silage has kept perfectly in every instance, and as much has been put in the silos as in previous years when a small amount of tramping was done.

The practice at Beltsville is to use the regular farm teams and help without hiring more than a few extra men. Filling, therefore, is done rather slowly, an average day's run being 40 or 50 tons. The corn is planted so it will not all mature at once, thus making possible its harvesting at about the right stage of maturity. Under such conditions tramping silage is an unnecessary expense, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. If filling is done much faster than was done in these experiments, or if the corn has passed the proper stage of maturity, there may be some question about the advisability of not tramping, the department says.

Christian Science Churches

"Man" was the subject of the lesson-sermon on Sunday, September 8, in all churches of Christ, Scientist.

Golden Text: "God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness; and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth." (Genesis 1:26).

Among the citations which comprised the lesson-sermon was the following from the Bible: "But now thus saith the Lord that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel, Fear not; for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine." (Isaiah 43:1).

The lesson-sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Man is more than a material form with a mind inside, which must escape from its environments in order to be immortal. Man reflects infinity, and this reflection is the true idea of God. . . . Through spiritual sense you can discern the heart of divinity, and thus begin to comprehend in Science the generic term man."

REVIVING OLD DANCES

Contemporary observers of manners and customs generally agree that one of the most agreeable and picturesque features of American country life before the Motor Age was square dancing. Now the radio and the graphophone have brought jazz into every farmhouse and under the rafters where the corn is husked, so that the old dances of the pioneers are not often seen. But lately, led by Henry Ford, many trying to induce the present generation to take interest in the diversions of its ancestors, have staged stately revels where square dancing, led by old country fiddlers, has been the joy of the evening.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving but sad memory of our darling baby and brother, Charles Lloyd, who died September 14, 1925. Our heart's still sad,
What would we give to clasp
His little hand; his patient face
To see,
To hear his voice, to see him smile
As in the days that used to be?
But some sweet day we hope to meet again
In Heaven, that happy life,
No one can fill your vacant place.
Sadly missed by Mother, Father and Brothers.

Automatic Water Systems for Farms

ROPER PUMP EFFECTIVE FARM WATER SYSTEM

For the suburban or rural home which is not connected to a community water system, the Roper Automatic Pump is recommended by the Wilmington Plumbing Supply Company, 219 West Fourth street, Wilmington. There are three main factors in the selection of such a system:

First—Ease of installation.
Second—Low operating cost.
Third—Efficiency of operation.

Not a machine on the market may be installed with as little expense and trouble as this one—any handy person can do the job by following the complete directions furnished with each pump.

The cost of operation is trivial, lower than water rent in most localities.

Once installed there are no service troubles, and it is a lifetime system. Every part is guaranteed against defects and any part found defective will be replaced without charge. The Roper is automatic and needs no attention except the filling of the oil reservoir about once every six months.

The Roper Pump is on display at the showrooms of the company and anyone interested is invited to call and look over it, or further information will be gladly furnished on request.

The selection of a water supply for your pumping system calls for the exercise of common sense rather than science or skill. A brook, lake or a well may be the source of supply, but the characteristics of the water of the surrounding district must be known before the selection is made. Care is necessary to insure against contamination from polluted water which may flow from farm buildings, cattle-grazing land, or impurities from the cesspool.

CHRIS-CRAFT PATROL BOAT AT REGATTA

Through the courtesy of the Marine Construction Company at the foot of Commerce street, yacht builders and local agents for Chris-Craft, a 26-foot model of the latter was placed at the disposal of the Diamond State Yacht Club, as official patrol boat for the regatta, held at Delaware beach, over Labor Day. This boat was capable of a speed of 42 miles per hour.

The Senator David trophy, for the winner of the Chris-Craft race, was won by a No. 5 model Chris-Craft, which was driven by Clifford L. Young, sales manager of the Marine Construction Company. The event was for a distance of ten miles, and the course covered by the boat, which was equipped with a 200 horsepower Scripps motor, in twenty minutes and twenty seconds. Second place in this event, which was a handicap affair, was taken by Charles M. Oberly's craft, piloted by Mr. Oberly. It was a 22-foot length model, capable of a speed of 35 miles per hour.

While at the regatta, Mr. Young received numerous inquiries regarding storage rates at the yard for the fall and winter, and closed a number of contracts. Similar inquiries are received at the office of the company daily, and indications point to a splendid storage season.

CANN BROS. PRINTERS, HAVE RECORD GROWTH

From an investment of $1,400 to one of $250,000; from 1,400 square feet of floor space to approximately 20,000 square feet; from a ruling machine to a plant equipped with the latest modern presses, type-making and other machines of the printing trade; from three employees to over 100—that is the phenomenal record made by Cann Brothers and Kindig, printers and stationers, of Twelfth and Washington streets, who will observe their ninth anniversary on Tuesday. The plant has come to be recognized as one of the largest and most complete in the State of Delaware, with its reputation extending far beyond the boundary lines of the commonwealth.

The company does everything from the writing and laying out of copy to printing and mailing it. All sorts of ruling and bookbinding, illustrating, catalogue printing, multigraphing, direct mailing, in fact every phase of the printers' art is carried on in this establishment.

In September, 1920, William N. Cann, president of the company, his brother, Winfield L. Cann, now secretary of the concern, and another printer established themselves on the third floor of 420 Shipley street, where they installed a ruling machine. Quality work and progressive methods soon necessitated larger quarters, and the plant was moved to 305 Torbert street. Rapid expansion followed, and today the company occupies nearly all the buildings on that thoroughfare. The office, at the corner of Twelfth and Washington streets, is light, airy and very cheerful. Choice furniture, tastefully arranged, provides an ideal atmosphere in which to discuss printing problems.

The company has a day and night force, which enables greater speed in completion of jobs, at no sacrifice in quality and no increase in price. The winter schedule is now in effect, and the firm has a number of large orders on hand. Other officers, besides the two brothers mentioned, are Roger Cann, first vice-president; J. Harvey Cann, second vice-president; Joseph A. Haley, assistant secretary.

BAKING DEMONSTRATIONS RESUMED AT GAS CO.

Mrs. Mary V. Gambeau resumed her baking demonstrations at the Gas Company office yesterday morning. Because school starts tomorrow, Mrs. Gambeau's demonstration revolved about the making of peanut butter pinwheels and cookies, both of which are suitable to pack with school lunches.

The Gas Company is meeting with much success in the sale of gas refrigerators. This latest idea in modern refrigeration, operates without any machinery or parts to wear out, no noise of any sort, just a tiny jet,

VIKING UNAFFECTED BY FRAME DISTORTION

Frequently automobiles have been referred to as the second home of the American family, and a glance at the roads of the country would seem to bear out this remark. This condition is in no small measure due to the strength and durability of the modern automobile.

In one feature a good automobile shows a type of construction superior to that of a fine house. If one or more of the supporting pillars of a house are raised or lowered, the entire structure immediately distorts and windows and doors refuse to perform their regular functions. With the better constructed automobile, however, one or more wheels can be raised or lowered without interfering with the action of the doors and windows.

When Oldsmobile engineers were designing the new Viking, the V-type eight-cylinder companion car to the Oldsmobile Six, which is sold by Hammond Motors, at 37th and Market streets, Wilmington, this question of frame distortion was given considerable attention and a special device was used at the General Motors proving ground to test the ability of the Viking to withstand unusual stresses without the frame distorting.

The frame distortion test apparatus consists of a single metal track raised at a sharp angle. One front wheel of the Viking under test was driven on this track until the center of the wheel hub was 38 1/2 inches above the ground while the other three wheels rested on the pavement. With the car in this position each door opened and closed without difficulty.

The engineers explain that, due to the design of the car, the greater part of this distortion caused by raising one wheel high above the ground was taken up by the springs. This, they explain, eliminates the frame warping, which would result if the springs were not so designed as to take up this unusual twisting strain.

The ability of an automobile to pass this unusual test to which the Viking was subjected results in better road action and riding comfort—factors which have made the American family just as much at home while on the road with their automobile as when seated around their fireside.
