"Beat Dickinson" Cry Pervades Colleges On Eve Of Big Contest

Student Enthusiasm Raised to High Pitch This Week—Freshman Parade Friday Night

"Beat Dickinson!"

The cry is on the college campus every day this week; it's in the classrooms, the dining halls, the fraternity houses—it's everywhere.

Delaware and Dickinson, old rivals of long standing, wage their annual duel on Harlan Field in Wilmington next Saturday afternoon. To both institutions, it shapes up as the biggest game of the year. From Carlisle, Pa., the home of Dickinson College, come reports of similar student battle cries.

Every day this week, leaders in the student bodies here are goading their fellows with visions of Dickinson scalps dangling from Delaware belts. Yesterday's chapel period was devoted to a mass meeting. On Friday night the largest smoker of the year will be held in Old College.

Prior to the meeting, the annual Freshman Parade will wind its way through Newark streets, headed by the student band. A score of cash prizes have been set aside for the best costumes and skits, the latter to be performed in the Commons after the parade.

Coach McAvoy, Dr. Owen Sypherd, president of the Athletic Council, members of the team, and several alumni will make speeches. Delegations from the Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions and Exchange Clubs of Wilmington, all loyal Delaware rooters, have arranged to attend the affair.

Game Looks Even

The entire student body will see the game, as will hundreds of Newark people. The parade to Harlan Field will start at Wilmington High School, and march down Market street to the field. The kickoff is scheduled for two o'clock sharp.

The two teams are in good shape for the game. From a casual observation of past records, it appears that the battle will be bitterly waged, with little advantage evident on either side.

Dickinson has for several years brought a powerful team to the final game; their schedule this year has been decidedly harder than Delaware's. They have lost and won. So has Delaware. Neither team can be considered a favorite to any pronounced degree.

In the opinion of the Delaware students, Delaware must win this game.

Thousands of Delawareans will be on hand to see if that determination shall be fulfilled, and to root for their home college.

MEN'S LEAGUE MEETING

Plan "Father and Son" Party For Next Month

The regular monthly meeting of the Methodist Men's League was held last night in the church here. About 50 members were present.

The fifth inning of the "ball game," played to raise funds for the church, was closed at this meeting. The score standing at 11-10 in favor of the "National" team.

The League is planning a Father and Son Night for the meeting in December.

Recovering From Fall

George, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Medill, of this town, is rapidly recovering at his home here following a bad fall from a swing at the Playground last Wednesday. While playing on the swing, he lost his balance and injured his head on a concrete base. For a time it was feared that his skull had been fractured.

Following a few days in a Wilmington Hospital, young George was brought back to his home here this week, and will soon be back in school.

COMMUNITY SERVICES THANKSGIVING EVE

Newark Churches Will Combine In Session Next Wednesday

The congregations of all Newark churches are cordially invited to attend the union Thanksgiving service to be held in the First Presbyterian Church on Wednesday evening next, November 26th, starting at 7.45 p. m.

The Thanksgiving union meeting has been a regular fixture of the town's church activities, and a large attendance is anticipated.

Rev. H. Everett Hallman, pastor of the church, will have charge of the services. Rev. Frank Herson, of the M. E. Church, will deliver the sermon; Rev. R. B. Mathews will also occupy the pulpit and assist in the service. It is expected that special music will be arranged for the evening.

TO PLAY AT GAME

Continental Band Will Attend Contest At Tome

Announcement has been made that the Continental Band of Newark will play at the big football game at Tome Institute, Port Deposit, Md., next Saturday afternoon. The band will likely make the trip by bus.

GREAT IMPROVEMENT

The resurfacing of New Street between Choate and Chapel Streets, in the east end of town, has greatly improved that section. Several hundred feet of attractive iron fence is being placed about the M. E. Cemetery, and the cemetery itself is being greatly enlarged and improved.

DELAWARE QUARTERBACK BREAKS ARM

"Sook" Jackson Out for Rest of Season Following Accident Saturday

William S. ("Sook") Jackson, varsity quarterback on the Delaware team, is out of the game for the balance of the season following a fracture of the right forearm sustained in Saturday's game with George Washington University here.

In a pileup early in the first period, Jackson's arm doubled under him and snapped when other players fell on him. He was removed from the game and ordered to the Homopathic Hospital, by Dr. Johnson. At the hospital the injured arm was placed in a cast. He will be laid up for five weeks at least.

Jackson is captain of the basketball team this year, and very likely will not get out for practice until after the Christmas holidays. He suffered a similar fracture of his left arm last year.

It is believed that "Whitey" Cherpak, second string quarterback, will play the position in the Dickinson game Saturday next. Cherpak played a star game against Washington last week.

Predict Turkey Prices Will Be Low This Year

Last Week's Price of 70-75 Cents Here Expected to Drop—Early Reports Wrong

Newark citizens may find solace in recent reports from large turkey markets, wherein it is set forth that the Thanksgiving birds may be lower than usual in price.

Last week, live birds were offered at 70 and 75 cents; reports this week show that the price is dropping off.

Reports from the large turkey growing districts throughout the United States lead observers to believe that the prices will be lower this year than at any time since the price of the birds took record jumps during the war. The city markets at this early date are being swamped with turkeys from South America and from the producing districts in the Middle West. Early reports indicated that the Texas and other western crop of turkeys would be much smaller this year than last, and that as a result the prices would be higher. The fact that the birds are finding their way to the city markets in unusually large quantities, shows that early predictions were wrong. The price being paid for them at the producing centers is much lower and assures the householder that the fowl will not sell for fancy prices.

CONTINENTAL PLANT IS SHUT DOWN TODAY

Electric Trouble Forces Closing; New Water Tower Going Up

Trouble with the large turbine and other electrical equipment caused a temporary shut down at the Continental Fibre Co.'s plant here yesterday. The delay is extending through today also, with only a part of the plant running. It is understood that the mill will return to full time operation within a day or two. In the interim, general repair work and small jobs about the plant are keeping the men busy.

A new 50,000 gallon water tank is being erected by the Austin Company for the Continental plant near the new set of buildings.

The tower will augment the Estey sprinkling system in use, and together with the older 30,000 gallon tower, will be sufficient to take care of fire risk in every building of the plant. The new tank towers nearly one hundred feet in the air, and can be seen for miles around.

ROADS MAINTENANCE TANGLES LEVY COURT

Proposed $100 Per Mile Per Year Agreement Tabled Yesterday

The Levy Court yesterday morning voted to receive and file communications of Engineer Charles E. Grubb, State Highway Engineer Buck and Attorney Frank L. Speakman relating to the agreement proposed for paying $100 per mile per year by the Levy Court toward maintenance of the Lincoln Highway between Wilmington and the Maryland line through Newark, in case this highway be put upon the program to be taken over as a State road.

Mr. Buck was agreeable to reporting favorably, in case this arrangement could be made, but Attorney Speakman doubted the authority of the court to take the action. The matter was therefore referred to the Committee of the whole.

On motion of Com. Stewart, credit was allowed to Collectors Frank G. Dennison, J. R. Colmery, Robert A. Groves and George S. Edmundson, for county taxes laid in 1921, 1922, 1923, and 1924, amounting to $4,350.06.

HEALTH BOARD ELECTS

Dr. Raymond Downes was elected Thursday last to succeed the late Dr. Charles H. Blake as president of the Newark Board of Health. Roland Herdman continues as secretary. The other members of the Board are Robert T. Jones, Orlando Strahorn and Dr. Charles L. Penny.

FREAK SNOW SATURDAY EARLIEST SINCE 1910

Newark Hunters and Football Fans See Plenty of "Weather"

While dawn Saturday found the sun trying manfully to emerge from a bank of clouds in the east, it never could quite get free, and before darkness set in, Newark and community was visited by every imaginable sort of weather, with the exception of "95 in the shade."

The mighty hunters of the vicinity only got in a half day's work. Football fans and fannettes braved the icy winds and driving storm during the game on Frazer Field the best they could, and week-end auto trips were either unceremoniously cancelled or were carried through under general protest.

It was the worst early November day in the memory of many old residents.

Sleet, hail, snow and rain fell here between noon and dark.

Huge snow flakes, striking the wet ground, melted and made more slush. The temperature rose perceptibly late in the morning, but before night fall, the mercury again dropped to piercing levels.

That it was the earliest snow in several years is attested by a bulletin from the Weather Bureau issued Sunday:

"In 1910 there was a four-inch fall on the first of November. Since then no heavy snowfall this early in the year has been recorded, the weather bureau announced."

Prohibit "Pilot Lights" On Maryland Roads

Owners Using Same Liable To Fine of From $50 to $500

Green and red lights on the front fenders of automobiles must be removed from cars traveling in Maryland, according to announcement by the State motor vehicle commissioner, or the owners of the cars will be fined.

He explained that these colored lights, which only recently have been made part of the equipment of some cars, are confusing and dangerous to motorists, as it is apt to lead them to believe a car is going the same direction they are instead of coming toward them.

The law requires that only white lights be visible from the front of an automobile and that fine of $5 to $50 is provided for the owners of a car having colored lights there.

THIEVES CARRY OFF MONEY AND WATCH

East Main Street Pool Room and Tobacco Shop Robbed Saturday

The pool room and cigar store of Leslie Jones, at Main and Choate Streets, was entered and robbed last Saturday night. A small amount of money and a valuable gold watch was taken.

As far as is known, no trace of the marauders has been found to date.

Entrance was gained to the store late at night by forcing a ground floor window.

COUNTY GRAND JURY FINISHES ITS WORK

Report Submitted In Court Yesterday

Conditions of county institutions, excepting in a few details, were found to be generally good by the 1924 Grand Jury of New Castle County, which has completed its one-year term.

The jury submitted its report to Judges Rice and Harrington in Court of General Sessions yesterday afternoon. The report states that the jury visited and inspected the Industrial School for Girls, the Ferris Industrial School, the Brandywine Sanitarium, Edgewood Sanitarium, the Workhouse, the Juvenile Court, Detention Home, the County Hospital and the County Building.

SERVING ON JURY

Several Newark Men In Wilmington Court This Week

The following Newark people have been drawn on the Petit Jury of the Court of General Sessions, now being held in Wilmington:

John E. Frazier, Lester Hill, James Crow and Frank E. Mote.

Edward Walton, of Pencader Hundred, is also drawn on the jury this term.

CAR ABANDONED HERE BY "JOY RIDERS," CLAIM

Pleasant Hill, Md., Man Recovers Auto, Stolen In Elkton

An automobile belonging to Wallace Hutchinson, a farmer living near Pleasant Hill, Md., was taken from its parking space on Main street, Elkton, Saturday afternoon last, and after a hunt of several hours was found abandoned and out of gasoline on a Newark street.

Mr. Hutchinson was shopping in Elkton at the time of the theft. When, upon his return to the street, he found his car gone, he notified the Elkton police, who in turn, sent word to the officers in nearby towns to be on the lookout for the machine.

After a hunt of several hours, the car was recovered in Newark and restored to its owner. It was slightly damaged by hard usage and out of gasoline.

It is assumed by the police that the auto was used for a joy ride by the thieves, and abandoned here.

TWO CARS COLLIDE; DRIVERS MISS SIGNALS

Occupants Fortunate To Avoid Injury In Crash Saturday Afternoon

During the height of the snow flurry Saturday afternoon, two cars crashed together at Elkton road and Main street.

Spectators assert that the drivers misunderstood the signals of each other. The machines met in the center of Main street and one was overturned near the Deer Park Hotel porch.

The occupants were only slightly shaken up, although both cars were damaged considerably by the collision.

One of the cars figuring in the accident belonged to Harry Joyce of Newark. Mr. Joyce and the driver of the other car agreed to settle the damages.

MASON IN GRAND OPERA

Newark Boy Winning Honors at Metropolitan

Friends of Helffenstein Mason, formerly of Newark and well known personally and for his success will be glad to hear of a recent recognition. Mr. Mason sang in Rigoletto at the Philadelphia Metropolitan Opera House last week. The opera was given by the Philadelphia Civic Opera Company. Associated artists Inia Paggi, Nina Morgana, Augusta Leuska, Marie Stone-Langston, Paul Althouse, Henri Scotti are on the program of repertoire.

Mr. Mason will appear again on March 26th, in "Samson and Delilah." His increasing success is received with unusual interest back in the old Home Town.

GOING TO FLORIDA

John Tarr, a recent graduate of the Rehabilitation School here, plans to leave tomorrow for Florida, where he will spend the winter months.

Property Transfers To Be Discussed At Meeting Of Trustees

University Board May Decide on Matter of Land for New M. E. Church on Tuesday

The regular fall meeting of the Board of Trustees of the University of Delaware will be held on Tuesday morning next.

At that time, President Walter Hulihan will submit his review of the past year, in the nature of the President's report, and the general routine of business to come before the meeting will occupy the session.

From a local viewpoint, the possibility of the University taking action on the matter of the sale of land to the Methodist Church of Newark for their proposed new building, is of considerable interest.

The lot in question lies along the south side of Delaware Avenue, east of Wolf Hall.

It is understood today that there is a strong possibility of this matter holding the attention of the trustees, and that a sealed offer recently made by the Church organization will be read and some decision arrived at.

Proposals by both parties involved will likely be discussed at the meeting Tuesday. They refer to the tract of land lying behind the Lewis property which is a part of the du Pont Gift, adjacent to the College campus between Wolf Hall and the new Library. Part of this land adjoins the site proposed by the college for a new Engineering building, and has been known as a tract which might at some time be considered by the University as a possible Campus addition.

There is, of course, no definitely planned scheme of action available at this time, as the Board is reluctant to discuss either matter until after the meeting. The decisions made then, however, are awaited with interest by the community at large.

ROBBINS, '27, HURT IN FRESH-SOPHOMORE TILT

First Year Men Lose Annual Football Game 6-3 On Tuesday

With student enthusiasm at a high pitch the Freshmen and Sophomore teams at the college staged their annual football game Tuesday afternoon following classes.

After a hard fought battle, the Sophs emerged victors, 6-3. The Freshmen presented a strong team and had their older rivals on the run several times, but were unable to push over the winning touchdown.

John Robbins, quarterback on the Soph team, suffered a broken collar bone during the game, when he was tackled after catching a punt by two heavy Freshmen players. The injured boy was rushed to a Wilmington hospital and the fracture reduced.

SLIGHT FIRE YESTERDAY

The Aetna firemen were called to the dwelling on the Rounds farm adjoining old Welsh Tract Baptist Church, yesterday afternoon in response to an alarm.

It is reported that a fire board, a part of an old-fashioned fireplace, caught fire, but was extinguished before the firemen arrived. The dwelling is occupied by a Mr. Davis and family.

Vote in Delaware During Recent Election Falls Short of 1920 Campaign Figures

Early indications based upon unofficial statistics show that of the eligible voters in Delaware, 69.4 per cent went to the polls and cast their ballots on November 4th last.

This is a six per cent decrease over the 1920 figures, when 75.4 per cent of the voters went to the polls. In many sections of the state it is believed that a record vote was polled, but the above figures would show the "let out the vote" campaign, heavily waged, was of little avail.

In 1920, there were 126,233 eligible voters in Delaware. Of this number 95,229 voted. On November 4 of this year, there were 130,716 eligible voters and only 90,809 voters exercised their right of franchise.

But while Delaware did not have an increase in the percentage of votes cast, it did rank higher than many of the larger states with a larger voting population. In Georgia, only 10.1 per cent voted; in Mississippi, 10.8 per cent; South Carolina, 8 per cent; Pennsylvania, 54.6 per cent; New York, 60 per cent. West Virginia was exceptionally high with 76.3 per cent voting. Indiana lead the list, its percentage being 83.2 per cent.

These figures were compiled last week by the National M. E. Association from unofficial sources attending the convention.

Presbyterian Choir In Sacred Recital

22 Voices in Local Church— Cantata Sunday Evening Next

Of interest to all music lovers of Newark and vicinity is the announcement of the sacred cantata "Hymns of Praise" to be given by the choir of the First Presbyterian Church on Sunday evening, November 23, at 7:30 o'clock. The music, written by Frederick Wick, and the words which are selected from the Holy Scriptures, are both symbolic of the spirit of Thanksgiving so that the rendering of the cantata really marks the introduction of the Thanksgiving season.

This evening of sacred music should be of unusual interest because it marks the first public effort of the Presbyterian choir since its reorganization under the direction of Alex D. Cobb last spring. The organization now consists of twenty-two voices. Most of the members are young people and because of their interest and loyalty Mr. Cobb predicts that this concert will be but the first of several to be given during the winter and spring.

The choir has as a motto "Music for church first, and then help with every good community enterprise."

The parts are well balanced and while several well known soloists are included in the membership it is interesting to note that several new voices will have solo parts on Sunday night.

The membership of the choir is as follows:

Sopranos—Miss Stella Yearsley, Miss Katherine Steele, Mrs. John R. Fader, Mrs. T. F. Griffen, Mrs. J. M. Barnes, Mrs. T. A. Baker, Miss Anne Ritz, Miss Mary Houston.

Altos—Mrs. L. L. Lewis, Mrs. Robert Seasholtz, Mrs. G. S. Wood, Miss Dickinson.

Tenors—R. R. Schaefer, Eugene Kennedy, Fred Strickland, Joseph McVey, George E. Michael, P. B. Myers.

Bass—J. M. Barnes, Albert Strahorn, Robert Seasholtz, Alex D. Cobb.

Organist—Miss Nellie B. Wilson.

The program for the cantata Sunday evening is announced as follows:

Introduction and Chorus—"O Come Let Us Sing Unto the Lord," Choir.

Soprano Solo—"O Come Let Us

Worship God," Mrs. Barnes.

Chorus Prayer—"God Be Merciful Unto Us," Choir.

Baritone Solo—"The Mighty God, Even the Lord Hath Spoken," Mr. Cobb.

Tenor Solo and Chorus—"Behold, What Manner of Man," Mr. Kennedy and Choir.

Bass Solo—"For We Shall See Him," Mr. Seasholtz.

Chorus—"Let the People Praise Thee O God," Choir.

Intermission.

Soprano Solo—"Gather My Saints Together," Miss Ritz.

Pyre Organ—"Cavatina," Miss Wilson.

Delaware City Parent-Teacher Association held their second regular monthly meeting of the fall on Monday evening, November 10th, in the Assembly Room of the school. There was a talk on "Safety," given by Grace Lander, after which a letter from the pupils of the eighth grade was read, appealing to the association to do something to make the school street more safe. It was decided to have signs made to insure greater safety for the pupils. A large collection of mounted birds was presented through the P.T. A. to the school, the gift of the late Dr. Dunlap.

In order to increase the membership, each member of the Parent-Teacher Association is urged to bring two new people to join the association at the time of the next meeting.

Iron Hill Colored P.T. A. held their meeting on Tuesday evening, November 11, enjoying the program given by the school children, and hearing a discussion of "Safety" by their President, William Holmes.

Breaking his leg by a fall, Charles Dubois of Des Moines crowded to his automobile and drove several miles to a hospital.

In addition to the playlet, several solos, both instrumental and vocal, duets, readings and recitations and a paper by Mrs. Lillian Springer, made up the entertainment for the evening.

Following the amusing entertainment, light refreshments were served.

Paul Widdoes and Father Hurt When Their Car Is Overturned

While driving on the Lincoln Highway west of Wilmington on Saturday afternoon, Paul Widdoes, accompanied by his father, both of Elk Mills, Md., were severely hurt when their Ford car overturned, after an alleged collision with a big touring car.

The cars were passing at the time, when the Ford was struck a glancing blow by the other car which had gone into a skid on the slippery road.

Mr. Widdoes was badly shaken up, while his father is reported to have suffered two broken ribs in the crash. The Widdoes car turned over twice and landed in the ditch.

It is understood from friends of Widdoes that the driver of the larger car, a Packard, attempted to throw on the brakes too sharply, and a bad skid resulted.

The Beginning — not the End

	Coolidge	Davis	La Follette
Popular vote	17,754,340	7,540,181	4,269,092
Per cent.	55.54	28.38	16.07
Electoral vote	382	136	13

Thus President Coolidge received a majority of nearly 3,000,000 over the Democratic and radical vote combined. His lead over Senator La Follette was nearly 10,500,000. The Republican and Democratic totals together exceeded the La Follette vote by more than 18,000,000.

The above represents the facts of the recent election. The reaction to them all over the country reflects a mood of relief, a confidence in the stability of our institutions, and a belief that the radical wave in America has reached its crest and that the tide of isms is going out. It is a fact that many serious students of affairs truly believe that the end of serious radicalism is in view. In our judgment the recent election marked the beginning rather than the end of a movement which threatens the existing order of institutions as found in our documents of government.

We agree, and with appreciation, that among a few civic-minded men and organizations a sense of duty has been called seriously to their attention. We should like to agree with the optimism expressed by this sinking back into self-satisfaction that is becoming perceptibly present with every passing article and comment. But an analysis of the facts would cause us to still have a care. The Socialist contributed perhaps one million votes, organized labor one and one-half million. The labor vote was made up of men and women voting a sincere protest rather than a radical view. The rest of the four million votes received by La Follette is where the danger lies and causes us to draw the conclusion that the movement is beginning and not ending.

It must be remembered that six hundred thousand Red Revolutionaries set up the Government in Russia, and the organized force of the Red vote which joined for very practical purposes with the protest and La Follette admirer groups is where the great danger lies. The Philadelphia "North American" says "that the radical movement, as expressed in the figures printed above, marks the beginning of a national political movement and that it is a manifestation of simply a part of a world wide movement inspired by a definite political philosophy and working toward definite ends—the overthrow of the existing social order of constitutional government and representative institutions, and the creation of a socialist institution through class cleavage and class war." This is all too true, and with the interpretation and general satisfaction expressed by the two leading parties over the election, leads us to believe that in the success of the Republican party we may become too self-satisfied and too secure in our present victory. This campaign is certainly not the end. La Follette with his personality was certainly not the issue—it is far deeper and far more serious than the personality of any one man. At the next national election will come the supreme test of American institutions, and with the decrease of balloting by illegible voters the leaders of those who follow Jefferson, Jackson and Cleveland and the leaders of those who follow Hamilton, Lincoln and Roosevelt, both believing in our Constitution and disagreeing only in its interpretation, can well serve by starting right now in a campaign of education to the voter, the American home-owning and home-seeking voter, and see to it that their attention is called to their responsibility in saving the Constitution which is now their protection.

Organized radicalism is just beginning, not ending, and while La Follette received only thirteen electoral votes, we must remember that he received four million votes, half of which represented a theory of government and philosophy of life that desires sincerely to overthrow the present form of government.

Tolerance and Intolerance in Politics

A periodical of the self-styled "liberal" type, in commenting upon the savage attacks made upon the sophistries of La Follette in the recent campaign, denounces political intolerance. Like most self-labeled "liberal" journals, this periodical is habitually more intolerant than any so-called "partisan" paper published.

Tolerance toward all sincere political leaders and toward opinions honestly held in politics, is a virtue. But tolerance toward demagogues and demagogism, especially when these threaten the foundations of government, while it may be the result of timidity or lack of conviction, lacks much of being admirable.

Not much has been accomplished in behalf of humankind by non-partisans—by those who philosophically sit on the fence while the real contenders in the battles that are always going on, fight it out. No man who does not believe sufficiently in a cause to be belligerent in its behalf is worth much to that cause. The Declaration of Independence did not contain the arguments for as well as against the British crown, and if it had been written by men as judicially minded as all that, there never would have been an American Revolution.

There is no room in the mind of any worth-while man for tolerance of politicians and political proposals he believes to be inimical to the welfare of his country. If tolerance of that sort were to prevail generally, the end of this republic would not be far off.

The most popular political leader of this generation was Theodore Roosevelt. His remarkable following proved that people generally like a leader who has clear cut views on public issues, and who is not afraid to speak them out. They can forgive a leader who reacts to every issue and who strikes sturdy blows at his adversaries without waiting to see whether that will get him anything or not, even when he occasionally makes a mistake. The biggest of all errors is to be so timid as never to make one. Militant leadership commands more than cold intellectual approval, it evokes that devoted fealty which is a far higher compliment.

No man need be ashamed of getting "warmed up" at a baseball game, or a football match, or in politics. If there is red blood in one's veins, it will surge up at times, and it is a pretty poor specimen of humanity whose pulse never jumps and who never yields to the impulse to put up a real fight, regardless of consequences, for the things in which he believes.—National Republican.

"Good Roads, Flowers, Parks, Better Schools, Trees, Pure Water, Fresh Air, Sunshine and Work for Everybody"—OUR MOTTO

Labor was prior to capital, but property is the fruit of labor. Let no man, therefore, who is houseless, pull down the house of another, but let him labor diligently to build one for himself, thus assuring that his own shall be safe from violence when built.—Abraham Lincoln.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Through circumstances which one and all are familiar with, I was defeated for Governor at the recent Republican "primaries" on Nov. 4th. I think the majority was something like 17,000, maybe less, maybe more. To those who didn't hang around the polls that day and hear the scandal, I dedicate the following:

My campaign was a hum-dinger, and I say it who shouldn't. That is, except for one detail. I had it all figured up so's I could win in a shuffle, when I found out that my campaign manager had clean forgot to put my name on the ballot. That durned old Tom Green told him it weren't necessary since I was so well known. Now what do you think of that?

I am forced to take up my journalism again, into which I will include from time to time several perfectly original wise crackers and I don't mean squads right!

BIG LEAP YEAR DANCE SCHEDULED IN ELKTON

Girls Auxiliary Are Planning For Record Crowd Thanksgiving Eve

As a last fling before 1925 places the men back on the pedestal for another four year term. Elkton girls are planning a big Leap Year Dance to be held in the Elkton Armory on next Wednesday evening, November 26th.

Music for the dance will be furnished by George Madden and His Orchestra.

In addition to its Leap Year significance, the affair shapes up as a Thanksgiving party, according to announcements made this week. Decorations will be in the Turkey Day manner, and the returning contingents from various schools and colleges are expected to swell the total present.

The dance is in charge of the Girls' Auxiliary of Company E of Elkton. This organization is assisting the boys of the town in their affairs of the current season, and recently have organized their own basketball team.

The Thanksgiving dance is one of a series of such affairs being given on successive Wednesday nights by the Boost Club of the town. The girls have entire charge of the party and it is expected that the success of former famous Elkton dances will be repeated next week.

The girls in charge of the dance are Catherine Bolton, Katherine Minster, Helen Buckworth and Natalie Ayerst.

Good Eyesight Is An Asset

To hold "a man's job" these days requires every faculty in its most efficient state. Poor eyesight is a distinct handicap. It is not just a matter of seeing plainly, but of seeing without unnecessary strain.

A thorough examination of the eyes made in this office, is a wise preventive measure, the value of which can hardly be measured in dollars and cents.

STATE CLUBWOMEN ISSUE NEW BOOKLET

The official organ of the Delaware State Federation of Women's Clubs, "The Federation Bulletin," has been issued and distributed to the subscribers in the ranks of the various clubs in Delaware.

The first issue comprises a booklet of eight pages, and includes messages from the State President, Mrs. Clarence Fraim; from Mrs. T. F. Manns of Newark, chairman of the educational committee; from Mrs. H. D. Boyer, chairman of county institutes, and news notes from the many club centers. It is a well gotten up little magazine, placed in the world, as Miss Talley, the editor says, "as a test."

The "Bulletin" will be published four times each club season by the Federation, and it is hoped to make the paper self-sustaining.

It is a very promising piece of work, and fills a long felt need in the ranks of Delaware clubwomen. This state now takes rank with practically all the larger commonwealths in that it has an official Club organ.

COLLEGES TO ATTEND THANKSGIVING DINNERS

Annual Fall Events Next Monday and Tuesday Nights Here

The sixth annual Thanksgiving Dinner for the student body of Delaware College will be held in the Commons on Tuesday evening next. It will be a big affair, as usual, and an after dinner program is being arranged.

Among the guests who are expected at the dinner are: Governor and Mrs. William D. Denney, Senator-elect and Mrs. T. Coleman du Pont, Governor-elect and Mrs. Robert P. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Pierre S. du Pont, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Sharp, former Secretary of State and Mrs. E. C. Johnson, and Dr. and Mrs. Walter Hüllihen.

On the evening previous, the girls at the Women's College will hold their dinner.

These dinners prove very popular with the students. Several invited guests are present each year and a lively time is enjoyed. Miss Kathryn Ladd will preside at the Women's College Dinner while John G. Leach will be toastmaster at the Men's College function. A. G. Wilkinson, under whose management the dinners became regular features will again have general charge.

Mr. and Mrs. William P. Peach attended the National Grange sessions in Atlantic City most of last week. Mrs. Peach returned Monday of this week. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Kelley while at the shore. Miss Carolyn Peach and Bancroft Peach motored down for the past week-end.

The young people of the neighborhood gave a large shower for Miss Dorothy Poultny at her home near Stanton last evening. Many useful and pretty presents were received. Miss Poultny will be married in the near future.

The Misses Derickson have installed a radio in their home near here.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Walls are receiving congratulations upon the arrival of a young son.

The barn belonging to John Wibel, a farmer near here, was totally destroyed by fire Saturday.

A play, entitled "Farm Folks," will be presented by the Lebanon and Red Lion M. E. Churches on November 22, in Odd Fellows' Hall, for the benefit of Hockessin M. E. Church.

DELAWARE DOWN HOMERS TO DANCE AT DOVER

The Down Home Club, a spasmodic organization composed of Down-Staters of the University of Delaware, has again sprung into active being. During the past several years this somewhat phantom club has been responsible for many holiday reunions for students and alumni from the lower part of the State. This year at Dover it is giving a dance from nine till one in the Dover Armory on the night following Thanksgiving, when "The Original Six" returns to lower Delaware after an absence of over a year in Atlantic City, Pittsburgh, and other cities under the name of "Kelley's Delawareans."

The club has decided to make this year's dance an open affair, and it is expected that a large number of people other than alumni and students will attend this typical Delaware dance.

Tickets may be secured from a University student in each town.

MRS. BLAKE LEAVES

Her many friends in Newark and community will regret the departure of Mrs. Charles H. Blake for Baltimore this week.

Accompanied by her mother and aunt, Mrs. Blake left yesterday. They will occupy an apartment in St. Paul Court, at St. Paul and 32nd streets, Baltimore.

Last of Lincoln's Line Will Soon Go

The immortal need no issue to perpetuate their names. Grateful nations look to that.

Abraham and Mary Todd Lincoln were blessed with four sons—Robert Todd, Thomas (Tad), William Wallace and Edward Baker. Of these only Robert Todd, former ambassador to the Court of St. James, secretary of war in Garfield's cabinet, and former president of the Pullman Palace Car Company, is alive.

Robert T. Lincoln is the only son of the President who lived to an age sufficiently advanced for marriage and of his alliance only one son was born. This boy was named Abraham, but he, too, passed away in his youth and the hope of perpetuating the line of the great President passed with him.

His children were the delight of Lincoln's life and the loss of them by death his greatest trial. Many new sidelights upon the character of Lincoln have been disclosed through research into the records of his life and times by the Rockett Lincoln Film Company, producers of "Abraham Lincoln," to play at The New Theatre, Elkton, November 20th and 21st, and his relations with children, both his own and others, form one of the most delightful commentaries of his life.

NEW HOPKINS PLAY AT THE PLAYHOUSE

On Friday and Saturday, November 21 and 22, with a matinee performance on the latter day, the Playhouse, Wilmington, will have as its tenant Arthur Hopkins' production of a new comedy entitled "Close Harmony," written by Dorothy Parker and Elmer Rice. This attraction promises to be one of the most noteworthy offerings of the current season in that city.

"Close Harmony" will be Mr. Hopkins' third of his present producing program, his two previous contributions to the theatre of the current theatrical years having been, first, "What Price Glory," now the outstanding dramatic sensation of New York, where at the Plymouth Theatre it is playing to absolutely capacity audiences at every performance and so tremendous is its vogue that every seat in the theatre has been sold for weeks ahead. Next in order under the Hopkins banner, came Miss Ethel Barrymore in a revival of "The Second Mrs. Tanqueray," which is now at the Cort Theatre, New York, where this notable star is appearing to crowded houses at each of her performances.

"Close Harmony" is said to be a play that treats simply but effectively of every-day life, presenting a minute and subtle study of character and in many of its values justly comparable to "What Price Glory." The plot of the comedy has to do with the intimate life of two ordinary, matter-of-fact families, residents of two adjoining cottages in a suburb of New York City.

"Close Harmony" is said to be a comedy which he is to present at the Playhouse, Wilmington, Wednesday, November 26th and Thursday, November 27th. Thanksgiving Day, with a special matinee that day at 3 o'clock is a play of modern American home life, somewhat in the view of Mr. Barry's very successful first play, "You and I," and in the same class as Frank Craven's "The First Year." The prosperous American middle-class family offers an alluring field to the new school of writers. The humor, aims and trials of wholesome people who live at home, have real neighbors, and experience real emotions offer opportunities for the dramatist to draw characterizations that have sincerity and reality and are not really talking puppets on a stage. Mr. Barry has taken such a family and its friends for his medium, and written a story strong with whimsical humor, and not without its moments of pathos.

A NEW COMEDY

"CLOSE HARMONY"

BY DOROTHY PARKER AND ELMER RICE

(By arrangement with Philip Goodman)

NOTE—This attraction does not play elsewhere previous to its New York engagement

To the Playgoers of Wilmington:

Why wait for the approval of Broadway?

The greatest dramatic successes of our time almost invariably have been launched outside of New York to empty seats.

The playgoer who has ignored a new offering in his own city has later paid exorbitant speculators' prices for the same play in New York.

I am opening a new play at the Playhouse, Friday night.

In my opinion it is an important and significant comedy.

In my opinion the play, upon its arrival in New York, will be met by the kind of approval that means a speculators' holiday.

Why wait for New York?

Why not see it in Wilmington?

I urge you to do so feeling that you will be glad of the experience. I would scarcely risk the chance of having you bank too largely upon my advice unless I had every confidence in the outcome.

I believe you will be grateful for this suggestion.

I may be wrong. If I am I will hesitate ever to sanction this kind of recommendation again.

Voters League Head To Address Delaware Branch Tomorrow

Miss Belle Sherwin to Speak in Hotel Du Pont at Luncheon-Meeting

The Delaware League of Women Voters is signally honored by having as a guest at its fifth annual meeting to be held Thursday and Friday, Miss Belle Sherwin, president of the National League of Women Voters. The Delaware League has done a splendid work in interesting the women of the State in civic problems and in frolicfully impressing them with the need of exercising their duty and privilege as citizens. The highway tour conducted by the League to get out the vote in Delaware during the past election is but one of efforts of this organization to remind Delaware women of their part in both State and National affairs.

Both women and men are invited to attend the sessions of the convention.

Speakers of note will address the luncheon-meeting at 12.15 o'clock, on Thursday, November 20, in the du Barry room at the Hotel du Pont. Mrs. Carlton T. Bridgman is chairman of the committee for the luncheon and for the sale of tickets. Assisting her are Mrs. J. K. Stack, Mrs. T. C. Munn, Mrs. Ethel Ball Stannair, and Mrs. Jane W. Pennowill.

HAROLD GRIER INJURED IN FALL HERE, NOV. 15

Former Student At University Breaks Elbow, According To Reports

The Milford Chronicle in a current issue says:

Harold C. Grier, son of Dr. and Mrs. Frank L. Grier, of Lake avenue, broke a bone in his elbow last Saturday afternoon when he fell from a moving automobile. Mr. Grier had accompanied G. Marshall Townsend and a party of friends to Newark where they witnessed the Delaware-Haverford football game, November 15th. Following the game he was invited to attend a fraternity dance that evening and decided to remain in Newark. He left his party and got on the rear of a Ford coupe, owned by a friend. In making a turn near the football field Mr. Grier lost his balance and was thrown heavily against a curb. An X-ray examination disclosed a fracture of one of the elbow bones.

A FIVE-YEAR PROGRAM OF SOIL IMPROVEMENT

Speaking recently before the State Farmer's Institute at Blacksburg, Professor T. B. Hutcheson, who is head of the Department of Agronomy of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute, emphasized the great need for increased crop production in Virginia. As evidence of this need, he pointed to the average crop yields of the State, some of which are: corn, 28 bushels; wheat, 12.5 bushels, hay, one ton; potatoes, 100 bushels, and peanuts, 40 bushels per acre. "No system of marketing or feeding," said Professor Hutcheson, "can make such yields very profitable, and until our soils are made more productive there is little hope of farm profits. The important points for consideration in a program for soil improvement in Virginia in order of their importance are:

1. The establishment of good cropping systems.
2. The proper use of manures and fertilizers.
3. The proper use of legumes.
4. The wise use of lime."

Professor Hutcheson went on to say that he "placed the establishment of a good rotation or cropping system first, because a good rotation (1) will reduce soil erosion; (2) keep up the organic matter; (3) distribute labor properly; (4) reduce cost of plowing and cultivation; (5) supply feed for livestock; (6) allow for the production of soil improving crops; (7) allow for an economical use of manure and fertilizers."

The above program of soil improvement which Professor Hutcheson has so well outlined for Virginia might well be applied to the entire eastern one-half of the United States.

EDUCATION WEEK, NOVEMBER 17---23

Text of President's Proclamation Setting Aside This Week Throughout The Land

"Education for the children of all the people, extending from the primary grades through the university, constitutes America's noblest contribution to civilization. No child or youth in the United States need be deprived of the benefits of education suited to his age and degree of advancement.

"Nevertheless, either through negligence or because of unfortunate circumstances which might be controlled with sufficient effort, large numbers of children do not receive the full preparation for their life's work to which they are justly entitled. Many have reached maturity without even the rudiments of education.

"This condition demands the solicitude of all patriotic citizens. It involves not only the persons immediately concerned and the communities in which they live, but the nation itself, for the welfare of the country depends upon the character and the intelligence of those who cast the ballots.

"Education has come to be nearer to the hearts of the American people than any other single public interest. The plan of maintaining educational institutions from public funds did not originally prevail in most of the states, and even where it was in use it was but feebly developed in the early days of the republic. That plan did not arise spontaneously in the minds of all citizens. It was only when the suggestion came forcefully, convincingly, and repeated from a few pioneers that popular interest was fully aroused. Vigorous campaigns were required not only to establish the idea of public education, but also for its maintenance, and for its important extensions.

"Campaigns of national scope in behalf of education have been conducted annually since 1920, and they have been increasingly effective with each succeeding year. They have concentrated attention upon the needs of education and the cumulative impetus of mass action has been peculiarly beneficial. It is clearly in the interest of popular education, and consequently of the country, that these campaigns be continued with vigor.

"In the last few years we have placed much emphasis on vocational training. It is necessary for men to know the practical side of life and be able to earn a living. We want to have masters of our material resources. But it is also necessary to have a broad and liberal culture that will enable men to think and know how to live after they have earned a living. An educated fool is a sorry spectacle, but he is not nearly so dangerous to society as a rich fool. We want neither in this country. We want the educated to know how to work, and the rich to know how to think.

Hundreds of Dollars Worth of Prizes To Be Awarded Friday

Horticulturists from all sections of Delaware and the Eastern Shore of Maryland are attending the annual meeting of the Peninsula Horticultural Society at Bridgeville, today, Thursday and Friday. Some of the men scheduled to speak are: Josiah Marvel, of Wilmington; Ruby R. Vale, of Milford; G. Herbert Taylor, of New York, English exporter of fruit products; Dean C. A. McCue, of the University of Delaware; Dr. Thomas F. Manns, plant pathologist of the University of Delaware; Thomas J. Headlee, of New Brunswick, N. Name Tower For Ragan

The first signal tower on the Pennsylvania Railroad to be named in honor of a living employee, has just received its new designation at the hands of James Bucklew, Superintendent of the Maryland Division.

The tower in question controls an important system of interlocking switches and signals at the junction of the Maryland Division's main line with the Shellpot Branch, about three miles south of Wilmington. It has for years been known to present and past generations of railroaders simply by the telegraphic initials, "PJ." Hereafter it will be called "Ragan," to commemorate prominently the long, faithful and efficient services of Lewis W. Ragan, oldest passenger conductor, in point of service, on the Division.

It is staggering to the human mind to imagine 26,000 Woolworth Buildings placed one on top of the other. Consider, then, the unparalleled popularity of Beech-Nut Chewing Tobacco. For the P. Lorillard Company has estimated that the 250,000,000 packages of Beech-Nut sold every year, if stacked up in one pile, would approximate a height of 20,833,000 feet, over 26,000 times higher than the big Woolworth building.

NATIONAL POLICIES OF GRANGE OUTLINED

LOUIS J. TABER, NATIONAL MASTER, SHOWS HOW LOCAL GRANGES CAN GROW AND PROSPER—TAKES STAND ON NATIONAL ISSUES IN ATLANTIC CITY SPEECH

The following extracts from the annual address of Louis J. Taber, National Master of the Grange, delivered at the annual session of that body in Atlantic City last week, will be of interest to farmers and grangers of this vicinity.

Mr. Taber was a visitor to New Castle Grange late last summer, and spent several days in Delaware. He was greeted by scores of grangers and made a very favorable impression here.

The address in part follows:

"The prime service that the Grange has rendered through the generations has been along educational, fraternal and social avenues of work, but in this crisis, our Order must take a larger interest and wield a stronger voice in securing equality for those who till the soil. We should be reminded of that opening statement of the preamble of our Grange constitution which declares 'Individual happiness is dependent upon general prosperity.' We may strengthen the Grange ritualism until its beauty attracts the attention of all; we may brighten the social side of rural life; we may increase the education opportunities of our membership; we may valiantly fight legislative battles; yet in the final analysis, over a period of years, if farming does not pay, our work is of little avail.

Co-operative Marketing

Co-operative marketing is not a magic wand that performs miracles. Neither is it a skeleton key to unlock hidden profits, but co-operative marketing or some system of marketing that gives to the producers of the nation's food supply, a larger voice in determining the conditions under which it reaches the consumers, is essential. Co-operative marketing can only be justified when it makes for efficiency and eliminates waste. The tremendous waste of America's marketing methods is laying a heavy tribute on both producer and consumer. Co-operative marketing or any marketing method must of necessity come through slow growth, the result of training, experience, and should spring directly from the grass roots of agriculture.

"Those who contend that the farmers cannot co-operate successfully have overlooked the fact that during 1923 the food producers of America co-operatively marketed products totaling the stupendous sum of 2,200,000,000 dollars. Organization, standardization, merchandizing and advertising will have a larger place in the marketing problems ahead. Legislation will probably be essential in charting the pathway. The National Grange at its last session appointed a special marketing committee to study the situation. A careful analysis revealed a great mass of beneficial legislation now on the statute books, which needed only amendment and correlation to make it effective. It also revealed the fact that it would be useless to recommend any legislation of a definite character in the closing days of the last session of Congress. The committee in its wisdom referred the whole matter to this session.

"It is useless to criticize any of the agencies that we have now developed or the machinery used in food transportation and distribution, until the farmer through his co-operative machinery, or by other methods, has developed more economical and more efficient agencies. The waste and lost motion in the unnecessary number of purchases, in the transportation of inferior products, in the frequent re-shipment in over-crowded markets, etc., can more largely be eliminated by sound co-operative machinery than through competitive and speculative agencies. Economics and savings, elimination of loss and waste, and better marketing methods will only be possible when our co-operative organization realize that they must have managerial ability and administrative honesty equal or superior to competing agencies.

Department of Agriculture

"The Department of Agriculture is a child of the Grange. A long legislative struggle was essential to its creation. The opposition, ridicule and doubt of a few generations ago have vanished, with the coming of a realization that this great department has become one of the most valuable agencies of the federal government. The services of this department touches the health, happiness and general welfare of every man and woman in the republic. Its research, educational, sanitation, law enforcement and conservative activities are so ramified that they cover every section of the nation, and touch the daily lives of all our citizens.

"The Grange not only championed the creation of the Department of Agriculture but has constantly advocated its protection and extension. Along with other farm organizations, it strongly opposed the proposed transfer of the Department of Forestry and the then Bureau of Markets, to any other governmental department. Time has already vindicated this position. We must continue to insist that the Bureau of Economics be retained in the Department of Agriculture and that the foreign agricultural investigation service shall not be hampered. It must be directed by those not only agriculturally trained but in sympathy with the needs of rural life.

"American Agriculture must adjust itself somewhat to changed world conditions and to the new economic standards of competing producers in other lands. The farmer must be quickly and correctly informed of prospects, crop conditions, market supplies, exportable surplus, etc., throughout the whole world. To this end the facilities of the Department of Agriculture must be increased. This department should become the world eyes of American Agriculture. With this world information collected, classified and properly interpreted, and with a knowledge of conditions at home, the farmer would have a valuable agency to give him necessary production information. The extension of the services of the Department of Agriculture, the correlation of its activities with those of our state agencies and farm organizations, is a task to which we should address ourselves, and which in the next quarter of a century can bring far-reaching results to farmers everywhere.

"The Department of Agriculture should be given authority to extend its cost of production studies to include domestic and foreign agriculture so that the interests of the farmer be protected in tariff adjustments either by Congress or through the tariff commission. There should be no tariff reduction on agricultural schedules until clearly proven that it is justified by comparison of production costs at home and abroad.

"We cannot discuss the Department of Agriculture without pausing to pay tribute to the memory of Henry C. Wallace, late Secretary of Agriculture. He was a public official of the type that the nation can ill afford to lose; of strong character, lofty purpose and unflinching devotion to duty as he saw it. He left to the nation a record of stewardship that will be a lasting monument to his memory. With the public good always in mind, he sought to protect the interests of agriculture. He will be remembered by future generations because of his determination to conserve our forests and natural resources, and to prevent the hand of the despoiler from touching this birthright of the future.

Law Enforcement

The farmer is vitally concerned in the honest enforcement of law. Adulteration and substitution of food, if unchecked, can destroy his markets and reduce his profits. Unfair combination, discrimination and control of food products can affect the farmer more seriously than almost any other class of our citizenship. Consequently, it is not strange that we find the farmers of the nation almost as one man, demanding rigid enforcement of law. Law enforcement in America is the bulwark of our liberty. Our future stability is threatened by the flagrant violation of the Eighteenth Amendment. It is time that our citizenship realized that this amendment is a part of our constitution; that it will not be changed or modified during the life of this generation. Consequently, there is no excuse, and no apology for those who wilfully defy the law.

"We demand action sufficiently drastic and comprehensive to remove this blot from our civilization. It is said to note that men of means and those in high places, who freely denounce law violators and scathingly condemn any who would weaken our constitution or our American methods, are yet willing to join in secret fellowship with the most despicable of all law violators. Public opinion must brand the patron of the boot-legger with the same stamp that brands the boot-legger himself. It is strange that intelligent Americans cannot understand that their very willingness to bribe one group of men to violate one law, is but an invitation to another group of men to imitate their crime by violating other laws.

Grange Finances

"One of the weaknesses of the Grange has been its cheapness. For more than a half century there has been but one slight change in Grange

AMONG THE SPORTS

Intercepted Pass Is Delaware's Margin Of Victory Last Saturday

Gibson Runs for Touchdown in Last Period — Washington Team Threatens But is Held on 1 yard Line

Playing in a quagmire of mud and snow, Delaware and George Washington battled through a grueling football game on Frazer Field Saturday. With victory hanging on each play as the game drew to a close, Gibson, a substitute Delaware back, intercepted a Washington pass and scampered 40 yards for the only score of the game. A few minutes later the game was called.

The big team from Washington had its golden opportunity in the third quarter when they rushed the ball down the field to the five-yard line. Three plays were shot into the sturdy Delaware line, and three times they were hurled back. The small crowd cheered lustily when the ball went to the Blue and Gold on downs.

It was the nearest either team got to a score on straight football and after that setback, George Washington relied almost entirely upon an aerial attack, hoping to get one past the Delaware defense. Considering the wet ball and slippery footing, both teams handled the ball exceptionally well.

On the basis of straight ground gaining, the visiting team held an edge over the Delaware warriors. Terrific line plunging by Loehler and Wagner ripped up the defense considerably and after the first quarter, it was anybody's game.

Hubert's punting again stood the Blue and Gold in good stead. The former Newark High star got off several splendid boots, at one time picking up the skidding ball from the ground and getting it off with two visitors upon him. On the other hand, Loehler's boots were high and short and were of little avail.

Three times it looked like a score for Washington, when their backs got away around end or through tackle, but each time the runner was nailed by Cherpak, who took Jackson's place as safety man. Cherpak actually saved the game on each occasion.

Both teams devoted most of the last quarter to forwards in quick succession. A few were completed. Many were knocked down by the defense.

Fumbles, while quite the rule, were noticeably less Saturday despite the wretched condition of the footing, than at other games here this fall. Punts were handled mighty well by both quarterbacks.

After the thrilling run by Gibson in the last five minutes, Washington opened up with a spread formation across the field and tossed forward after forward in an effort to break through. But Delaware was not to be denied the victory and the game ended with the ball at midfield.

Hubert, Cherpak, Kramer and Gibson played best for Delaware, while Lamar, Loehler, D. Wagner and Kins shone for the visiting team.

NEWARK HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT BODY AGOG OVER COMING TITLE GAME WITH LAUREL

Every Day Is "Tag Day" Here Now; Quiet Confidence Pervades Members of Team; Citizens Expect Local Victory

With Newark High again entered in the "finals" of the D. I. A. A. championship in football this year, the Fall sport is once more the chief topic of conversation about the old Academy.

Teachers and students alike are all agog over the forthcoming game between Newark and Laurel, respective winners of the upper and lower half titles. The contest will be played on Thanksgiving Day in Milford, and is expected to draw the largest crowd ever to see a scholastic game down State.

"Beat Laurel" On Tags

Every day is Tag Day at the present time. Girls from the High School are busy every afternoon selling tags to local supporters of the team to finance the trip down state. With each tag goes a promise that victory will again come to Newark in the big game.

Such spirit pervades the entire school. Everyone wants a victory, and everyone thinks Coach Nunn's warriors have the punch to beat down Laurel.

The team itself is handicapped from lack of work. Two games have been cancelled by Smyrna and Delaware City, and Coach Nunn is trying to arrange scrimmages with the class teams at Delaware College so that the Highlets will keep in condition.

All the players are in good physical trim now, and, barring accidents, Newark will enter their strongest combination against the Sussex

County boys.

Already many motor parties are being planned for the trip to Milford. The game starts at 2.30 and several Thanksgiving dinners will either have to be set ahead or enjoyed later in the day, for very High School student who can get a ride to Milford that day will be on hand to root for the team.

FERTILIZERS GETTING BETTER

There is ample evidence to indicate that the quality of fertilizer which farmers are buying is getting better each year. This improvement can be traced to the work which the agricultural colleges and experiment stations have been carrying on for several years in co-operation with fertilizer manufacturers through the Soil Improvement Committee of the National Fertilizer Association. The following brief summary of the situation in a few typical States should be of interest:

In his last report, Professor E. G. Proulx, State Chemist of Indiana, says, "Indiana in four years has changed from a low-grade fertilizer State to a high-grade fertilizer State and has learned that plant food makes the fertilizer." During these four years, the total quantity of nitrogen sold in Indiana increased by 29 per cent and potash by 136 per cent, while phosphoric acid decreased by 4 per cent.

Figures for Ohio, compiled by Professor Bear, show that in one year, 1923 compared with 1922, high-analysis fertilizers increased 68 per cent and that the sale of those included in the "Ohio Standard Dozen" list increased 171 per cent.

In Maryland, those analyses of which 1000 tons of more were sold show an increase of 24 per cent for ammonia and 56 per cent for potash in 1923 as compared with 1921.

One dollar at present spent for the necessities of life will only go as far as 60 cents in 1913.

THE COMMUNITY'S NEWSPAPER

A REAL JOB

Some men like suggestions about their apparel and others don't. Some know a good deal about it, and other not so much. Some like a vivid effect in their appearance, and then there's the ultra-conservative taste. They all come here and we try to please them all. We take into account their different tastes in service and in merchandise, and we try to serve them equally well. It's a real job to be a good merchant! And that's what makes it interesting.

We have yet to find a well dressed man whose taste in clothes is not satisfied with Society Brand. That's why we have them.

SALT HAY HARVEST IS SWINGING ALONG

Marsh Lands Yielding Record Crop Because of Extreme Dry Weather

Salt hay has again been gathered in large quantities this season from the marshes along the shores of the Delaware river and bay, and farmers have taken advantage of the extreme dry weather to haul it to the uplands without the necessity of so much temporary bridge buildings as in the past.

Thousands of tons of the salt hay in the aggregate have been cut and stacked. This hay is used extensively on the farms for bedding purposes for stock and also for covering cold frames by early truck growers.

Marsh owners who can gather a crop of salt hay from their marshes in the late summer or fall and then trap muskrats from the same marshes during the winter, say they have land that is productive of profits all the year around.

STATE HIBERNIANS IN MEMORIAL DAY ON 23rd

Anniversary of Founding of First Lodge in State To Be Celebrated

Next Sunday, November 23, will be observed in this State by the Ancient Order of Hibernians as a memorial day. Every division in the State will attend church that morning and receive holy communion.

This is the golden jubilee of the A. O. H. in Delaware. It was on September 11, 1874, that the late Robert P. Cottingham and Andrew Maguire journeyed to New York and obtained the permission to form Division 1, in Wilmington.

BIGGEST ACREAGE BUT SMALLEST CORN CROP IS REPORT OF 1924

About 1,000,000 Bushels Less This Year Than Average Of Past Five

White Potatoes Strong

The smallest corn crop since 1913 was thereward of American farmers this year, who planted the fifth largest acreage to that crop in the history of farming. Not only was the harvest substantially below those of the last four years, but the merchantable quality of this year's crop is the lowest in thirty years, with the exception of 1917.

Preliminary estimates of production issued last week by the Department of Agriculture, placed the crop at 2,477,538,000 bushels, the acreage at 105,604,000, or 1.4 per cent more than last year, and the merchantable quality of the crop as 63.2 per cent. Corn production during more than 3,000,000,000 bushels.

More White Potatoes

The White potato crop, estimated at 454,119,000 bushels, is slightly larger than the big crops of 1917 and 1922, yields in northern states running far above earlier expectations because in some regions the crop escaped frost and continued growing far into October. Per capita production this year is 4.08 bushels compared with an average of 3.76 bushels per capita during the last twenty years.

FIVE POINT RESIDENTS IN HOT CONTROVERSY

Firemen and Civic Association at Odds Over Assets of Company

Dissolution of the ties between the Five Points Civic Association and the fire association, discussed at the meeting of the Civic Association in the Richardson Park Community Hall, Friday night, brings up a question which has already split the community in twain, with heat on the sides of both the pros and cons.

Meanwhile, members of the civic association are investigating the matter and will make their reports at the next meeting to be held on November 28.

While the Civic Association is the organization which is in a large way responsible for the equipment of the fire company, worth between $7,000 and $8,000, many members have felt that the property of the fire company should go into the hands of the 52 members of the fire company, to be properly used for the protection of the residents of the community in fire emergencies.

There is the other faction of the association that proposes the two organizations work together as they have done in the past.—Sunday Star.

There will be an ample supply of good potatoes at moderate prices, Government officials declare and because of low prices in some Western states some good potatoes will be fed to live stock. There are indications that some of the crop may not be harvested. The average yield ran to 121.0 bushels per acre, as compared with 99.1 bushels, the ten-year average.

BEST RADIO ON "SHORE" IS REPORTED STOLEN

Owner Once Paid $100 by Man Who Wanted Photograph Of Set

An Easton, Md., dispatch dated last Friday states:

One of the boldest robberies that has ever taken place in Easton, happened between 9 and 10 o'clock Thursday night when thieves entered the residence of Claude D. Lee, corner of North and Aurora streets, disconnected his radio set and walked off with it.

Mr. Lee's radio was a five tube Hub-Co. Neutrodyne, manufactured in Baltimore and was considered the best in Maryland. He could easily pick up California and several times has been in communication with London, England.

The remarkable qualities of Mr. Lee's radio set became the talk of the town and in radio circles generally. One customer visited Mr. Lee's home last week and gave him $100 for the privilege of photographing his machine.

DAD has always wanted an open car. He likes freedom. He wants speed—and flexibility. He loves to open 'er up on a smooth country road and feel the wind whiz past his face.

But Mother . . . she wants comfort and protection—she's thinking of that rainy day when the youngsters have to go to school.

And here at last is a new-type car to meet this old-time family problem.

It's a glorious—joyous—free, airy open car when you want it.

Then when it storms it may be changed to a comfortable, weather-tight enclosed car with complete protection from wind and rain.

Thirty seconds is all it takes—simply lower the roller side enclosures, without even leaving your seat. You've never seen anything like it before.

The Duplex body is framed and shaped in steel. Upper and lower sections are integral. Thus its construction is substantial and its beauty lasting.

It banishes once and for all the trouble of attaching the old-type curtains—makeshift at best.

No more hurried efforts hunting for the right curtain while the storm beats in.

No more exposure, through holes torn in them, while trying to obtain, for the emergency, the protection given by a closed car.

To the man unwilling to sacrifice the thrill of open car motoring—to the woman who wants closed car protection right at her finger tips—this car offers a wonderful new adventure—it marks a new era in fine car possession.

In justice to yourself—see the new Duplex now. Only Studebaker makes it.

THIS IS A STUDEBAKER YEAR

NATIONAL GRANGE POLICIES OUTLINED

dues coming into the National Treasury. It is doubtful that there is a national organization in existence that can excel our Order in economy of operation and management. It should be noted that the range dollar, when measuring organization and extension work, literature and supplies, has only a small part of the purchasing power that it had in the days of our fathers.

"As a result of rigid economy and careful management the National Grange during the last quarter of a century has built up a creditable reserve. The cash balance for the year is most satisfactory and funds totaling $148,745.29, the largest amount that has ever been in the National Grange Treasury since the days of the very unwise distribution of funds a half century ago. The gain for the year has been something over $6,000; decidedly encouraging when we note that $2,000 was advanced to The National Grange Monthly, about $2,000 for the work of the marketing committee and $1,500 to take care of the retirement of obligations of the Grange benefit. There were some unpaid bills on October first which probably would place our net gain at about $5,000.

The Year Ahead

A survey of Grange conditions in the nation for the past half dozen years would indicate that a majority of the Grange states are in sufficiently sound condition from the standpoint of membership and finances to be removed from the need of National Grange assistance or support. We should recognize that until a State Grange has in excess of five thousand dues-paying members and a reserve in its treasury, it is a financial liability rather than an asset to the National Grange. Good business would seem to indicate that it would be wise for the National Grange to spend sufficient funds to build up and strengthen Grange states to a point where they can be financially self-sustaining. Looking forward to the coming year, we trust that some definite accomplishments along this line can be secured.

"The most fertile field for Grange activity is to be found in the Mississippi Valley. But three Grange states east of the Mississippi are in need of National Grange assistance. We should begin with these states and move westward, taking one state or a group of states at a time, building up the organization to a point of greater usefulness and service to its membership and rural life. Some of us confidently look forward to the day where there will be a Grange state for every star in the flag, and instead of hundreds of thousands, we will speak of Grange membership in terms of millions. This can only be accomplished by the rededication of our Grange activities to the faith and principles of our fathers.

"May we challenge the offices and membership of our Order to the following very attainable and definite program? That each subordinate Grange shall determine to make a net gain in membership of ten or more; improve its degree work and report to the state secretary promptly and on time. Second, each Pomona of the nation to make a net gain in membership of 100; emphasize the beauty of the Pomona degree, stimulating Pomona activity in the jurisdiction. Third, every Grange state not fully organized, to organize at least ten new Granges during the coming year; to maintain and strengthen its present organizations, and at the same time broaden Grange activity. Lastly, the National Grange in the broadest possible spirit of helpfulness, to cooperate in every legitimate way with every agency that strengthens and upbuilds our Order.

Team Work Between Country and Town

"A growing evil in America is the development of class feeling and class hatred. This is especially true in the misunderstanding that has been permitted to develop between country and town. Our interests are so closely interwoven, that we have come to a time when there must be mutual good will and understanding between rural and urban sections of the nation. This is especially true of the farmer and the manufacturer. The low price of farm products and the high price of manufactured goods, have built a chasm between the business man of the country and the business man of the city, which can only be removed by association and understanding. The farmer might be able to live without the city, but his living would be reduced to mere existence. On the other hand, the city cannot exist without the farmer. Rural prosperity has always been reflected upon the national welfare. Agricultural depression has invariably reached to the doors of our greatest cities.

"An opportunity for constructive service is that of breaking down the barriers of suspicion and misunderstanding; to realize that a prosperous, diversified and contented agriculture with a broadened purchasing power, is essential to the well being of every man and woman in the City. Conversely, that rural prosperity is dependent upon well paid labor, prosperous industry and thriving commercial centers. With this goal before us, much can be accomplished that will be of real value to all.

Conclusion

"The Grange has lived through fifty-eight years because of the continued sacrifice and desire to serve, by those who have gone before. May the youth of rural life appreciate the boundless opportunity that the Grange offers for development and training for rural leadership. In working through our Order, they will build for a better rural life; in serving agriculture, they will serve and bless themselves."
