Eighty-two animals were entered in the fifteen classes. The first class entered the ring at 10:30 in the morning and the judging continued until after 4 in the afternoon. The ring was under a tent, pitched in the pasture back of the Delaware Farm horse stable. Dean G. C. White, of the Connecticut Agricultural College, was the judge. He is one of the outstanding Jersey experts in the United States. Robert W. Eno, field man for the American Jersey Cattle Club, was in charge of the ring.

MOTION PICTURE WILL SHOW BATTLES IN AIR

"Wings," the very latest success in the big picture entertainment, comes to the Shubert Playhouse, Wilmington, for one week on Monday afternoon, September 3, Labor Day, with all the stage settings, accessories and special musical score of the New York presentation. It has been said that no motion picture of the past decade has created such a universal sensation as this latest historic work of our air fighting forces of the World War, made under the special direction of the Paramount Corporation.

There is a romance, adventure and love interest unfolded in the story of "Wings" of delicate heart appeal rarely attained in the tales of notable import pertaining to great subjects and incidents culminating from the World War.

The engagement will begin with a matinee performance at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon, continuing at 8:30 and 2:30 daily thereafter. The presentation will be identical with that now showing at the Criterion Theatre, New York, in its second year of success.

One Smut Treatment

the rate of 2-3 ounces per bushel is very inexpensive, and does the trick properly. A farmer can purchase the dust and treat his seed at home or with two or three grain dealers in the county equipped to clean and treat the seed, he can have it done at a low cost.

An inexpensive yet satisfactory treating machine can be made from any barrel which will hold both wheat and the dust compound used on it.

Mr. Willm furnishes the following directions on how to make a treating outfit.

Use a tight 30-gallon or 40-gallon barrel made to hold liquids. Mark out a door about 8 inches wide by 14 inches long across two wide staves. Fasten hinge and straps to staves before sawing out the door. Saw the staves on a slope toward the middle of the barrel to get bevel edges on the door. Line bevel edges with rubber from an old inner tube to make the door dust tight.

Insert board 1 inch thick and 9 inches wide along the full inside length of the barrel. Nail it to ends of the barrel so that it lies edgewise against the inside of the barrel wall opposite the door.

On each end of the barrel, screw or bolt a floor or railing flange threaded to hold 1-inch pipe. Insert a piece of 1-inch pipe 6 inches long in each flange to serve as an axle. Use 1-inch or 1 1/2-inch pipe for handles. Mount barrel on boxlike stand or on saw-horses.

Four in one barrel of seed at a time for best results and then add the dust. Turn barrel at moderate speed for two minutes at least.

Two stations for cleaning and treating wheat for smut will be available to the New Castle county wheat men this fall. Julius N. Kirk, Middletown, and Crothers Brothers, of Mount Pleasant, will treat the wheat for a nominal price per bushel at their warehouses. The latter concern have also purchased a treating outfit capable of treating about 50 bushels per hour which they have mounted on a truck to go to the larger farms as an aid to the farmers in getting their seed treated without having to haul it off the farm and back to the place again.

Probably J. Irvin Dayett, of Cooch's Bridge, who treated and cleaned over 5,000 bushels last year, will again operate his outfit for the convenience of the northern New Castle county grain growers.

Patience is a necessary ingredient of genius.—Disraeli.

PRESTO'S GOOD APPLE PIE

CHANDLER'S NEW "65" AND "75" SERIES SEDANS

PASTRY HAS MADE FAMOUS WILMINGTON RESTAURANT

Good apple pie is making the Presto Restaurant at 817 Market street, Wilmington, famous. So important is it that every detail in restaurant management be carefully attended to.

The apple pie is so good that people in Wilmington phone to the Presto "Please send us an apple pie." If at all convenient, it is sent and makes friends for the restaurant.

The Presto is not in the bakery business, but it is in the eating house business and sends whole meals to families living near the restaurant. It is an accommodation, but it pays in the long run. At least it adds to reputation.

Here is the story of a Presto apple pie as told in a barber shop in the presence of the writer last Monday morning.

"We were motoring yesterday and had lunch about 4 o'clock. We thought we couldn't eat any more but at about 10 o'clock we felt hungry so I phoned to the Presto for some cheese sandwiches on rye bread and an apple pie. And say, that apple pie was great. The fellow who cooked that pie should be given a Congressional medal."

It must have been a great pie that this man could have lived to tell the story after eating cheese sandwiches and that apple pie at 10 o'clock in the evening.

100% INCREASE IN OLDSMOBILE SALES

In 1927 the Oldsmobile factories were producing 6,000 cars each month. During the present year the output is 12,000 cars per month and even at that rate they cannot keep up with the demand.

"The public is quick to realize true value," says Mr. Dinsmore, sales manager of the Hammond Motors Company, of 37th and Market streets, Wilmington. "The Oldsmobile is being sold at practically the same prices as obtained last year, yet they have been given a most decided increase in mechanical perfection as well as in appearance."

"Automobile manufacturers are quick to point out an increase in sales as proving public acknowledgment of value, but so far Oldsmobile has not advertised along these lines. Demand is too great for such stimulation."

AUGUST 29, 1928

Caveat Emptor

The old Latin warning, "Let the Buyer Beware," may be well taken into account at this particular time by the buyer of securities, both speculative and investment. Stock salesmen have been operating in Newark with fancifully engraved certificates to offer. It is understood that a number of people have parted with good, hard dollars in return for these examples of the engraver's art. In at least one case an investigation has revealed that the company behind the engraving, while legally legitimate, has anything but a promising financial record, and that the probity of various individuals connected with it has already been questioned by grand juries. In short, the stock, under the best auspices, is not even a good speculation; it is nothing but a rank gamble with short odds in favor of the purchaser.

If you are approached by a salesman, selling any stock, ask your banker about it before you put your money down. He will give you an unbiased classification of the security, and whether or not you buy it, you will know what degree of investment or speculation you are making. The local banks have facilities to investigate any security that comes to their attention, and this service is available to their clients.

Another thing to consider when you are offered an unlisted security, that the salesman will paint such a glowing, rosy picture around it, why, if this company is such a sure-fire money-maker, does it have to go out in the highways and byways and hawk its securities in odd lots. The bankers have plenty of money to place in propositions that are sure-fire, and if a proposition is really worthwhile, its backers won't come to Newark to finance it. Consult your banker before you throw your money away.

"Men of Purpose"

"Men of Purpose" probably the greatest collection of authentic and official motion pictures of combat scenes of the World War, will be shown at the Opera House, Newark, tomorrow and Friday. This production is made up from official films of all the allied armies, and from films confiscated from the German, Austrian and Bulgarian forces. It took the Veterans Film Bureau, of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, four years to collect and arrange the pictures that went into the making of the production. The result is a complete record of the style of fighting of each branch of service of each participant in the great struggle. Included are thrilling scenes of the United States Forces at close grips and in hand to hand fighting with the Germans.

The picture is being shown here under the auspices and for the benefit of the J. Allison O'Daniel Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars. The Veterans are an organization of men who have seen service with the armed forces of the United States, outside the territorial limits of the country. In peace times they serve a public patriotic function. In this case, they are bringing to the community something particularly worthwhile and of important historical significance. Every man who took part in the actual conflict will naturally want to review his experiences through this picture, and everyone else should see it so that they may realize just what the War meant to those who did the fighting.

Safe For Burglars

We are not punning. We are just calling resigned attention to the wide-open invitation that the Town of Newark extends to burglars to come and safely crack safes within the town limits. Last week the invitation was accepted and yeggs entered a building that stands flush with the sidewalk on the main street of the town, and hammered and banged at a safe until they gave up exhausted. They worked without the slightest danger of official detection, and left empty-handed only because they were tyros in their profession. They shared the knowledge with practically every man, woman and child in the town of just when our one-man police force goes on and off duty.

At the last meeting of the Council of Newark the matter of additions to the police force was discussed, and vetoed on the grounds of economy. County Constable Wideman was sworn in as a special town officer, without salary, but as Wideman works on a contingency basis, it is doubtful if he will make any more arrests now than before. His chief value as a police officer lies in traffic work. He does no regular patrol duty.

A town the size and importance of Newark should have a police officer available and ready for duty at all hours. It should maintain a regular and complete patrol of the town. A police force of three officers could render efficient 24-hour service, including a patrol that could be arranged to upset the plans of even a clever crook. With the exception of police protection, Newark leads all rural communities of the State from a standpoint of municipal improvements. It hardly seems logical that the finances of the Town of Newark are in such wretched shape that it can't afford to give its citizens even reasonable protection.

WHEN THE "GLASSY" IS PUT ON THE SHELF

There will be some brisk clearing out of nursery cupboards, schoolroom drawers, and old coat pockets if even half the tale be true that is reported to come from a London collector of antiques. For according to him, the glass marble that was the commonplace of schoolboy games so late as a decade ago is rapidly acquiring a scarcity value. The day, we gather, lies ahead when the "glassy" or "alley" at which yesterday boys chipped so heedlessly, squatting on any convenient pavement, with small regard to the wear-and-tear of their pants, will take proud place with the cameos, and the Dresden statuettes that adorn the shelves of the knowing. So will an article once of high practical value degenerate into a mere decoration. For the alley, though undeniably a thing of beauty before ever the connoisseur cast covetous eyes upon it, was in its prime important chiefly as sovereign coin of the marbles realm. Happy the lad who boasted one of that memorable sort that had the dimensions of a tangerine with brave shades of color twisted cunningly through its axis; and grave indeed his grief when, having paid with all the mere earth-ware at his command for his custodianship of this beauty of glass, he had at last to part with the lovely globe itself. Apparently the boy of today does not play marbles. He is, no doubt, tinkering with a crystal set or making for the movies in his spare time. Or if the game survives at all in stricken Europe the hard pressure of economic circumstances insists that it shall be played with dull pottery only. In the United States, no doubt, youth is more fortunate. There is, or lately was, a "marbles championship" in the middle West, and it seems hardly possible that the monarch of the pastime can have disappeared from the American scene. In Britain, alas! we must be content to watch this item of a glamorous pre-war youth pass from the common possession to the cabinet of the collector.—Manchester Guardian.

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY

John A. Kauffman, who is discontinuing housekeeping, is offering his property at Kells and Manual avenues, at a very low price, provided it is sold within a short time. Several inquiries have been received as to renting the place, and if rented, it will not be on the market again for a year or more, and will, of course, be advanced in price.—Adv.

AWAY WITH REGRETS

Mistakes we make have a habit of trying to collect damages twice—first in the loss or inconvenience caused by their having been made; and, second, by filling our thoughts with regrets.

It is sufficient that we pay for our mistakes once; we are not bound to pay for them through regrets unless we foolishly let them dominate us. A mind filled with regrets is a mind keyed to the repetition of old mistakes and the commission of new ones—burdened with dead timber, it cannot tackle new timber with a well-edged ax.

No profit can be found in regrets—there is no "saving grace" in them. The regrets of today pave the way for new regrets tomorrow, until we are so busy regretting that we have neither the time nor the inclination to progress.

Regrets are a sign that we take ourselves too seriously; the truth is that, even in spite of the mistakes we regret, the sun still rises and the stars come out. Life continues; it is only ourselves, weighed down by regrets, that lag behind.—Pure from Era.

The Most Reasonable Credit Jewelry Store.

Norman I. Harris & Bros.
Inc.

700 1/2 MARKET STREET

WILMINGTON, DELAWARE

To Old Customers and New:

If you are an old customer you know our reputation in the credit jewelry business. If you never dealt with us we want you to know a few facts. We are the oldest credit jewelers in the State of Delaware. Our policy has always been to sell the best jewelry and diamonds the world produces at the lowest possible prices.

"The Most Reasonable Credit Jewelry Store" is a slogan our customers gave us—Time and again they would say our prices are as low as any cash store and in some cases even lower—especially diamonds.

The reason we can sell our merchandise at so reasonable a price is because we buy in such large quantities. We get larger discounts, and the customer gets the benefit of it.

When a diamond is purchased from us we allow full purchase price plus six per cent in trade for a larger one when paid for. We give a written guarantee with every one.

Any watch purchased from us is kept in repair for one year free of charge. Engraving is free.

Our terms are the most reasonable. You make a small first down payment then pay as follows:

$1.00 per week on $50.00 Purchase
1.50 " " " 75.00 "
2.00 " " " 100.00 "

You take the jewelry with the first down payment. Our Representatives are of the highest character and integrity. Mr. Otis Gregg, a clean, upright American boy represents us in Newark and surrounding territory.

Newark Ball Team Takes Two Games

Wins From Kentmere, Colored A.C.; "Tonies" Fail To Show Up

The Newark baseball team won two games during the past week, and waited until dark on one afternoon for opponents who did not appear. Thursday evening, on Frazer Field, Seth let down the Kentmere Red Sox of the Wilmington Twilight League with one hit and beat them 6 to 0. On Friday, the Newark team had a game scheduled with St. Anthony's of Wilmington, but the "Tonies" didn't show up. Last night Newark won the third straight game of the series with the Newark (colored) A. C., 9 to 2.

In the Kentmere game, Seth's faultless pitching was backed by heavy and timely hitting and Newark won all the way. However, three errors were chalked against Newark. This was a six inning game.

Last night, Newark got only 3 hits against 6 for the Colored A. C., but through sloppy fielding the three hits counted for 9 tallies. Badson made one of the tallies for the colored nine with a circuit clout. This was a four inning game. Scores:

BREAKS JUNIOR RECORD FOR MILK PRODUCTION

Report of Champion Jersey Milker of State of Delaware

Mrs. Mary C. Folwell, of Newark, Del., is the owner of Dairylike War Bread's Dolly, a purebred Jersey cow which has just qualified as the junior two-year-old 305-day champion for State of Delaware. Dolly was started on this official production test when she was 2 years and 2 months of age and in the ensuing 305 days she produced 451.11 lbs. of butterfat and 7,496 lbs. of milk. Her milk averaged 6.02 per cent butterfat for the ten months.

The sire of this new State Champion is Dairylike War Bread, and her dam is La Prime's Fontaine.

The following report, just compiled by the American Jersey Cattle Club, shows the Delaware State Champion Jersey Cows from a standpoint of milk and butterfat production. It is interesting to note that of the eight champions, five are in Mrs. M. C. Folwell's herd at Chambers' Rock Farm, Newark, one from the University of Delaware herd, and the other two are the property of Senator du Pont. The following data gives the name of the cow, the owner, the age of the animal in years and months, the pounds of milk produced, and the pounds of butterfat produced.

A WORTHY DEFENSE

The nation which for a century has been condemned as the people of the dollar clings more lightly to money than any in Europe. Americans hold that money is to be spent not hoarded. It is not a bad but a good thing that wealth should be laid out for the establishment of a high minimum of the communal life. It cannot be a bad thing, it must be a good thing that a whole people aim at being well dressed, well fed, and able to keep clean without a struggle. It is not "materialism" to bring light and power into the house, and so release civilized womanhood from a deadly service to stoves and dust holes. And if the ideal of cities without slums is to materialize, the best of England would not have been devoted to that very ideal as we know it to have been ever since the arousal of the modern conscience.—S. K. Ratcliffe, in "The Contemporary Review."

Jerky minds says bright things on all possible subjects, but their zig-zags rock you to death.—Holmes.
