MEMORIAL LIBRARY AT DELAWARE

UNIVERSITY TRUSTEES APPROVE THE PROPOSED CAMPAIGN

VAN GEISEN SMITH ELECTED DEAN OF ENGINEERING

Trustees of the University of Delaware at a meeting yesterday authorized the Grounds and Buildings Committee to formulate plans for raising funds with which to erect a new library building for the University and purchase the most needed books. Plans as to the financial details, when made, are to be submitted to the finance committee for approval and also to the board at the February meeting for final action. Actual campaign for the funds therefore will hardly get started until late in the winter or early spring.

Resolved, That the committee on instruction is impressed with the fact that the present library of the University has a totally insufficient supply of books in many departments and lacks quarters for housing even those books it does possess; that the committee considers it of the highest importance that the University should have an adequate library building and adequate equipment in the books necessary to scholarship, research, and the maintenance of a high standard of instruction, and, therefore, recommends that the executive committee authorize the grounds and buildings committee to go forward with the formulation of plans for raising funds with which to erect a new library building and to purchase the most needed books; such plans as to financial details to be submitted to the committee on finance for approval and to be presented in full to the board of trustees at its February meeting for final action."

President's Report

President Hullen in his report to the board has the following to say as to the enrollment at the two colleges of the University:

"There have been registered up to this time, November 19, 282 men and 186 women, a total of 468, a loss of 9, as compared with the registration at this time last year. The number of men shows a loss of 17, the number of women a gain of 8.

"The loss in the number of men is accounted for by the facts apparently: The unusual size of the graduating class of last June, and the economic depression throughout the State. That the latter has been a significant factor is indicated by the number of applications received, before the session opened, for 'work' or other form of financial assistance. These applications were nearly twice as many in number as in previous years.

"The gain of 8 at the Women's College was small as compared with the gain of 45 last year over the previous year, but was sufficient to fill the quarters at present available for women approximately to their capacity. The gain in women as compared with the loss in men is probably to be explained upon economic grounds. Those most immediately available as bread winners had to stay at home."

Dr. Hullen refers in his report to the death of Professor C. F. Miller, a member of the faculty, and E. D. Hearne, formerly a trustee.

University Accepted Nationally

"The University of Delaware has been notified that it has been placed on the list of accredited standard colleges. This action has been taken by the Commission on Higher Institutions of the Association of Colleges and Universities of the Middle States. To this commission belong representatives of Columbia, Johns Hopkins, Pennsylvania, Cornell, New York University, Princeton and other colleges.

"It is a pleasure to announce to the Board the offer of Mr. J. Ernest Smith of Wilmington to make a gift of $500 to the University as a fund for investment, the interest on which shall be used for a prize of some sort for the encouragement of excellence in the department of Military Science and Tactics. It is cordially recommended that the Board accept Mr. Smith's generous offer and that the prize be called 'The J. Ernest Smith Prize' and be listed in forthcoming

Col. George W. Sparks Claimed by Death

Well Known Wilmington Politician Who Held Many Offices Died Sunday

Courtesy of Every Evening
COLONEL SPARKS

The sudden and unexpected death of Colonel George W. Sparks, at his home in Wilmington, on Sunday evening, came as a shock to the whole State. The deceased was 57 years of age and devoted the greater part of his life to State and city work. Although Colonel Sparks was a native of Wilmington he had many friends here and in all other parts of Delaware, as his name has been prominently connected with the industrial, political and official life.

In public service Colonel Sparks was the most conspicuous, serving two terms in the State Senate. For twelve years he was a member of the Directors of the Street and Sewer Department in Wilmington and at the time of his death he was filling the office of State Tax Commissioner, to which he was appointed September 28, by Governor Denney. He was a member on the staffs of many Governors, starting at the time of his uncle, Governor Preston Lea, and serving under Governors S. S. Pennington, Charles R. Miller, John G. Townsend, Jr., and lastly Governor William D. Denney. He belonged to many fraternal organizations and had a large following.

He is survived by his widow who was Georgette Hamlin of Asbury Park, and his mother, Mrs. Mary E. Sparks, a brother, Lee Sparks of Odessa, and three sisters, Mrs. Edwin B. Sadtler of New York, Mrs. Charles E. Buck of Detroit, and Mrs. Edward T. Betts.

Funeral services were held this afternoon at St. Andrew's P. E. Church in Wilmington. The offices of the Tax Commissioners in Wilmington, Dover and Georgetown were closed on Monday and remained closed until after the funeral.

HOWARD ROBINSON IN ACCIDENT

Local Man's Car Crashes Into Machine at Marshallton

Howard Robinson, 42 Prospect Avenue, had a narrow escape from serious injury, on Sunday evening while on his way home from Wilmington. The accident occurred in Marshallton and was a result of the heavy fog. Robinson was driving a heavy Buick car and was unaware that he was following a smaller car. Suddenly there was a crash and upon investigation the local man found that he had run into the smaller car which belonged in Singersville, Md. The occupants of both cars escaped injuries but Robinson's was badly damaged.

The driver of the Maryland car explained that he had stopped as the result of hitting a child who had darted in front of his machine and who was thrown up on the mud guard. Neither the child's name nor the extent of its injuries could be learned, as a woman grabbed the child and disappeared in the fog.

Several other minor automobile accidents were reported on nearby roads during the past few days, most of them resulting from the heavy fog which has prevailed.

Postmaster Bowen Appeals to Public

With Christmas Fast Approaching People are Asked to Co-operate With Postoffice

"The postoffice is coming to its busiest season and needs the help of everyone," so spoke Postmaster Bowen, this morning, when spoken to regarding local Christmas mail which is already beginning to show up.

Acting as Santa Claus to 100,000,000 people is the job of Uncle Sam every holiday season and although the country is passing through a crisis the mail seems to be heavier this year than ever. Postmaster Bowen has noticed already that many of the local people are using the mails for Christmas purposes and he is in hopes that everyone will see fit to mail all articles as soon as possible, and help to keep the rush, as the days draw nearer to December 25, down to a minimum.

Postmaster General William H. Hays has already sent a notice to Mr. Bowen requesting him to get the people of this vicinity interested in the matter of getting parcels in the mail at an early date. Mr. Hays has requested the local postmaster to try and enlist the aid of the school children and have the week of December 5, as "Parcel Mailing Week."

The matter of writing the names and addresses on envelopes plainly is another matter which the postal authorities at Washington have pointed out to Postmaster Bowen as important. Every year many hours, and also many packages and letters, are lost or delayed due to the carelessness of persons in their writing.

Postmaster Bowen states that he will greatly appreciate the co-operation of everyone in Newark and vicinity toward making this a perfect Christmas as far as the local postoffice is concerned.

MASONS HEAR GRAND MASTER

Monday Night's Meeting Well Attended

The bad weather of Monday night could not keep the members of Hiram Lodge, No. 25, A. F. & A. M. from attending the meeting which was attended by several officers from the Wilmington lodge. Grand Master Williams was in attendance and delivered an interesting address. Other addresses were delivered by Deputy Grand Master Charles A. Bamberger, Grand Marshall Edward W. Cook, and Past Masters C. A. McCue and Clarence A. Short. Rev. Allison, of the Second Baptist Church, of Wilmington, and the local pastors, Revs. Hallman and Jones, also spoke at the meeting.

After the business had been disposed of refreshments were served.

University Men at Horticultural Meeting

Dr. T. F. Manns, of the University of Delaware Experimental Station, attended the Peninsular Horticultural Society, at Berlin, Md., today and presented an interesting paper on fruit diseases of the year.

Another member of the station, Dr. J. F. Adams, made an address at the same meeting on "Dieback" of apple trees.

"The Future of the Fruit Industry on the Peninsula" was the subject of the address delivered by Director McCue.

Educational Meeting

The State Board of Education will meet tomorrow morning at 10.30 in the Public Buildings, Wilmington. The Wilmington Board has been invited to this meeting.

Unclaimed Letters

Postmaster Bowen has posted the following list of unclaimed letters at the postoffice: H. L. Cavandar, Miss Madeline Ash, Mrs. Lara Derriekson, Isaac Handy and Mrs. Catherine Brooks.

Christmas Cards to Benefit Library

Christmas cards and booklets will be sold in the Town Library for the benefit of that organization.

NEW MOTION PICTURE HOUSE FOR NEWARK

LOUIS HANDLOFF, LOCAL BUSINESS MAN, TO HAVE THEATRE ON MAIN STREET TO SEAT 500 PERSONS

A new moving picture palace will soon grace Main Street. Louis Handloff, proprietor of the local department store, is to be the proprietor and is working with the idea to erect one of the best and most up-to-date motion picture houses in the State. With this view in mind he has advertised for bids for plans and in a few days will probably announce the name of the architects who will layout the design for the theatre.

The theatre will be on the site of Mr. Handloff's former place of business, from which he recently moved to take up more spacious and up-to-date quarters next to the Farmers' Trust Company. The old building will be entirely renovated and brought up to the latest improvements for the presentation of motion pictures. The auditorium will be on the main floor and in this manner the fire hazards will be greatly lessened. There will be only one floor in the new theatre and the operator's room will be elevated near the rear of the building. The entire front of the place will be rebuilt and will take on the appearance of a metropolitan palace.

Mr. Handloff expects to start work on the project within two weeks and stated today that the theatre will be ready for shows in about six weeks after work has started.

The present plans call for seating capacity for 500 persons and the most comfortable seats obtainable will be installed for the comforts of the patrons. Mr. Handloff is unable to state as yet what pictures will be run first but promises the people of Newark and vicinity that only the leading stars of the cinema world will appear. Besides featuring all first class pictures, Mr. Handloff will arrange for musical setting for each attraction.

POULTRY PLANT ERECTED BY REHABS

Interesting Story of Practical Work Being Done at University

Descendants of the blunt, practical, matter-of-fact Anglo-Saxons, Delawareans are little given to the erection of costly monuments. Their service is of a more practical type—that which gives a warm, helping hand to the living rather than a cold marble shaft to the dead.

Such a type of service immeasurable in practical value, did they render when in response to a request of the Federal Government they agreed to make room in their State University for the rehabilitation of soldiers, sailors and marines disabled in the World War. The nature and scope of the work accomplished is well known to most Delawareans who are justly proud of these valiant ex-service men working quietly and diligently at the humdrum tasks of peace.

And the tasks are not easy even for those whose opportunities have been greater and who are not compelled, as these men, to see the thing they gave their lives to broken. "And stoop and build them up with worn-out tools." The "economy of mental and physical effort" that comes inevitably with the years to most of us makes doubly hard the learning of new

OFFICER STOPS OFFENDERS

Fined for Operating Car Without License

Quite a little excitement was caused by what was at first thought to be an attempt of two local boys to steal the automobile of a Mr. Kemp, of Porters. This occurred on Main Street last Friday night and Officer Tyrens seeing the attempt to take the car fired his revolver in the air and one of the men ran away while the other stopped and was arrested, while a warrant was issued for the other culprit.

When the case was called before Squire Lovett, the charge of larceny as bailie was withdrawn by Mr. Kemp and each of the offenders was fined $10 and costs for operating a motor vehicle without a license.

Annual Poultry Supper

The annual poultry supper given by the ladies of the Presbyterian Church will be held on Friday evening, December 2nd, in the basement of the Armory, between the hours of 5.30 and 8 o'clock. Ice cream, home-made cakes, candies, aprons and other fancy articles suitable for Christmas gifts will be for sale.

The coffee and sweet potatoes have been donated by C. B. Dean.

Prof. R. W. Heim of the University of Delaware Faculty, was appointed by Governor Denney as a delegate to attend the National Illiteracy Conference which was held at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York City, November 25th and 26th.

M. E. Church Moves Xmas Spirit to Front

Committees Appointed to Look After Holiday Celebrations

Worthy to Receive Gifts

The members of Newark M. E. Sunday School believe in making Christmas preparations early as well as "shopping early" and at a recent meeting several committees were appointed to make arrangements for the various affairs that will be held this year during the holiday season.

Superintendent Earl Dawson appointed the following general committee: F. A. Cooch, M. O. Pence, Miss M. Pennington, Mrs. E. C. VanKeuren and Rev. Frank Herson.

After their appointment the members of the above committee got together at once and fixed the date for exercises by Primary and Beginners' Departments and presentation of gifts for Wednesday, December 21, at 8 o'clock in the evening. The following committees were named to look after these arrangements: Entertainment, Mrs. E. C. VanKeuren and Miss M. Pennington; Cantata (date to be announced later) Mrs. E. V. Rhoades; Candy: E. F. Dawson, Mrs. E. C. VanKeuren and Miss M. Pennington; Decorations: Trees, J. F. Elliott, T. F. Manns and M. O. Pence; Trimming: Misses Marion Gallaher, Olive Porter and Edna Campbell.

Each class is to make its own selection of a place for its gifts and the general committee takes care of the distribution of the same and suggested places for donations as follows: Some needy Newark family; Retired Ministers Fund, Wilmington Conference; Methodist Hospital; Near East (Armenian) Relief and Children's Home at Riverview.

It is the hope of the committees that the pupils and teachers will get together and make this Christmas celebration a banner event in the school's annals.

Held Under Bail for Larceny

Charged with the larceny of several items of clothing from the home of Mrs. Kane, Max Harry VanGilder, was arraigned before Squire Lovett and held under $1,000 bail for the next term of the Court of General Sessions. The man was arrested by Officer Tryens at the Baltimore and Ohio depot.

I. O. R. M. Smoker and Meeting

A smoker and open social meeting was held last night by Minnehaha Tribe, No. 23, Imp. O. R. M., at which there was a large turnout. Prominent members of the order were in evidence, as were many who do not belong to the order.

The feature of the evening was the history given of the origin of the order and the benefits derived from it. All those present voted the affair a success and with the winter season coming on the members are looking forward to some very interesting events that will be staged.

Red Cross Campaign Still Underway

Mayor Frazer and His Workers "Pep" Up Efforts to Obtain Members

Officially the fifth annual roll call of the Red Cross came to a close last Thursday, but Mayor Frazer, chairman of the Red Cross Membership Roll Call for White Clay Creek and Pender Hundred, is continuing his work for several more days and is urging the workers to do their best and try to get more persons in the fold.

The general depression which is gripping the country at the present time has caused itself to be felt in the drive for members this year but the local and nearby workers have worked harder than ever and although not rewarded as in the past they have not become discouraged.

Mayor Frazer announced on Monday that last year there were nearly 700 members in the local district but that so far this year the number had hardly reached the 500 mark but, with reports that are yet expected, the hopes of the local workers are reaching above this number.

Mrs. J. Monteith Jackson, state chairman, reported last week that some of the workers in the lower part of the State have been pitifully pathetic and unresponsive. Mrs. Jackson made a trip to Sussex and Kent counties and urged the workers to "pep" up the campaign and continue the drive for several more days. With the campaign still underway it is the hope of Mayor Frazer and his workers that all those who have not yet joined for the year will come across with their dollar and get under the "big top."

Improve Avenue

Contractor McConnell is expected start work in the next few days on New London Avenue, which is to be resurfaced.

NATIONAL EVENTS

Observations and Comments written for The Post

World Conferences and World Peace

It is difficult to believe that only a few months ago we regarded the value of international conferences as debatable even upon a few great specific questions, and saw not at all the thousand and one minor problems, prejudices, misconceptions and injustices which could be eliminated by the mere meeting about a common table for a common purpose, of the distinguished representatives of the conferring nations.

It is quite generally agreed that even if today the conference should break up in hopeless disagreement, over the carrying out of its conclusions up to this date, that the conference, far from having been in vain, would have immeasurably advanced the cause of world peace, because each nation would carry away from the conference the conviction that ideals can be translated into practical operation, and would carry away also a new understanding of world problems today which would enable and inspire each nation, in time, to make vital contributions to world peace.

But there is no sign of serious disagreement. All the countries agree that the Hughes program of naval disarmament will prevail in all its essentials. The attitude of France and her safety are not considered incompatible with an appreciable degree of land disarmament, now, and gradual and continuing reduction as various problems of international concern are adjusted.

And now, when the great benefits of the present Conference are apparent to us, and the success of the American program for limitation of naval armament, as well as the solution of many of the Pacific problems seems assured, there comes an ever greater promise of future world development for peace and opportunity through a permanent association of nations, meeting annually to discuss problems of international concern, bound by their word to fulfill agreements, acting in mutual faith and understanding. This proposal made by President Harding last fall, and again informally suggested last week meets with the hearty approval of all the delegates to the conference. Last summer it sounded like an unattainable Utopia. Now with the experience of the past few weeks, it presents a wonderful possibility for the future of international relations.

Today, as the most significant result of the conference for the limitation of arms, we have a practical proposal for all nations to join in a world association through which their difficulties and interests may be settled without resort to war.

WE SYMPATHIZE WITH CHINA

Americans Now Have Facts to Judge By

Along with our general lack of information on all international questions, the problems of China have been very vague in our minds. We know that the present generation of Chinese has had a struggle to establish and maintain a republican form of government among millions of backward Orientals; that life and labor in China are very cheap; that the United States is in favor of the "open door" in China which means that all nations shall have equal rights of trade in China and that no country shall openly or secretly enter into agreements with the Chinese to the prejudice of these equal rights. We know that China through her weakness in self government and as a sovereign power, has been made to suffer financial and territorial loss, both legally through disadvantageous treaties, and illegally through the aggressive exploitation of stronger nations. We have regarded Japan as the chief sinner in both these classes of conquest, and have had no clear conception of the responsibility of the rest of the world for the peace-disturbing possibilities which lurk in the so-called "Far-East questions."

When the delegates from all the nations represented at the Washington Conference resolved themselves into a conference on the problems of the Far East and listened to China's demand that she be allowed to work out her integrity as a nation, freely and without interference from other nations, we sympathized with an inspiration so like the principle upon which our own forefathers had acted to insure the development of a free and great America. We were somewhat surprised, however, that all the other nations, including Japan, should so spontaneously and with such apparent sincerity, express a like sympathy, and also a willingness to accept the Chinese demand as the quite possible goal which they should help her attain. Our conception of the practical changes necessitated by agreeing in "spirit" and "principle" to Chinese administrative integrity was still vague.

Japan Has 124 Post Offices in China

Discussion of the Chinese question by the sub-committees of the Washington Conference during the past week has brought clearly to our comprehension at least two of the difficulties with which China has been struggling in her efforts at effective home government. The mere statement of fact that Japan maintains 124 post offices in China, France maintains 13, Great Britain 12 and the United States one, enables us to imagine the mass of complications reaching into all fields of Chinese civic life which would arise from such a postal system. We can appreciate the situation by trying to figure out our own difficulties if Russia, Germany and all the foreign countries having large groups of residents in the United States, had established post office systems here. China has for years been trying to bring her own postal system to an efficiency that would warrant her demand that the foreign offices be abolished. The conference sub-committee has agreed that China should be freed from foreign postal systems just as soon as she can handle their work.

As Many Courts as Nationalities in Chinese Cities

The second difficulty with which China has been struggling, and which Americans can appreciate, now that it has been clearly put before them, is the existence in her cities of foreign courts conducted by all the nations having citizens in China. Rights of the nations to conduct these courts have been laid down in treaties. The Chinese therefore ask that a commission be appointed by the nations "for the progressive and ultimate abolition of the system." In presenting the arguments for this, Dr. Wang, of the Chinese delegation, points out that there are between 50 and 100 ports and centers in China where foreigners may reside and trade, and in all of these a growing population over which China has no control, because all legal cases relating to them must be tried in the courts of their own nationalities. The interrelation of the multiplicity of courts in the same locality gives rise continually to perplexities which neither the laymen nor the trained lawyer can untangle. The Chinese have had a commission at work for seventeen years codifying and developing their laws for the purpose of making them adequate to the needs of all foreigners.

From the attitude of the sub-committee considering this problem it is likely that China's request for a joint commission of the nations to undertake the elimination of this difficulty, will be granted. The solution of these two problems alone, the post offices and the courts, will go far toward strengthening Chinese local government, and the discussion of these problems by the nations concerned, including Japan, which country is in accord with the views of the conference, has given us a new outlook upon the responsibility of the world for the far eastern problems, and a better opinion of Japan as a future neighbor and friend both of China and the United States.

U. S. Soldier Carries a Heavy Load

Since the number of men in our army and navy has been decreased, army administrators are giving thorough study to all the details which make the individual soldier and sailor efficient. The weight of equipment required to be carried by the infantry soldier is now under consideration. The equipment has grown with the development of modern warfare until the soldier on the march carries almost his own weight. The total load of an automatic rifleman is 128 lbs., and that of a soldier in the machine gun crew 91 pounds.

These weights are regarded as serious drain upon the soldier, and for this reason every necessary item of his equipment is being studied from the point of view of weight. Modern scientific inventiveness will be called into play to equip the soldier efficiently within the number of pounds which he can carry comfortably.

A Happy Hunting Ground for Wild Game Shooters

Records of Japanese imports for the year 1920 show that 77,000,000 feet of American lumber were sold to Japanese merchants. An even greater demand has been noted this year, which increase is expected to continue because of the recent great fires in Japan, and also because the reduction in lumber prices and freight rates will enable the Japanese to satisfy their need. The lumber sent to Japan is used for manufacture in that country. The Chinese trade in American lumber is very large, but is chiefly in the manufactured form instead of the raw lumber from the forests which constitutes the bulk of the Japanese demand.

FARM BUREAU HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Bureau Co-operation to be Discussed

Howard W. Selby, Manager of the Eastern States Farmers' Exchange, will be the principal speaker at the annual meeting of the New Castle Farm Bureau to be held Thursday, December 8, in the Red Men's Hall at Newport.

Mr. Selby, who was appointed Manager of the Eastern States Farmers' Exchange at its inception four years ago, has had a wide experience in the co-operative movement and he will review its success and accomplishments in a general way.

Mr. Selby recently returned from Europe where he spent two months in making a study of the principal co-operative movements of England, Scotland, Germany, France, Italy and Denmark.

In his address Mr. Selby will point out the main features of the method of co-operation which have made European co-operative organizations so successful. In an interesting article printed in a recent issue of the Eastern States Magazine, Mr. Selby gives a brief summary of conditions among European co-operative organizations as follows:

In Denmark you will find eighty per cent of the farmers active in co-operative organizations, while many of the persons in the city make their purchases through the Co-operative Wholesale Society of Denmark, a selling organization.

In Switzerland there are over 400 local purchasing societies affiliated with the union of Swiss distributing societies, and they have an annual business exceeding 100,000,000 francs, or at present rate of exchange, $16,000,000. Syndicates are controlled by the distributing societies which import eggs, export cheese, manufacture boots and shoes, and control some banking and insurance business. Agricultural co-operation has been responsible for a big improvement in the grade of dairy products and herds.

In Italy there are three national organizations which handle the wholesale business for the local agricultural purchasing organizations of Italy. These are divided according to political parties, the one at Piacenza directed by Liberals, being the most successful. The business in this organization is largely in farm supplies, including fertilizers, implements, seeds and some feeding stuffs.

It is interesting to note that all of these organizations, both purchasing and marketing had a very small beginning and today show as a record of achievement a substantial working capital as well as new commodious office buildings. Their progress has been in the form of a gradual evolution. The basis of practically all of these organizations is in the peasant or poorer element. A respect for meagre savings is an item which has been a great aid in the promotion of the European co-operative associations. The main point in which they differ from the American organization is in the fact that their members are under contract, to purchase their requirements from the organization and that they have some capital invested. The theory which they follow is to place their capital and their business in the hands of the association and appoint their most responsible local man to guide the business, demanding him to deliver the results.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bradley are receiving congratulations upon the birth of twins, a boy and a girl, born on Tuesday, November 22nd.

Miss Edna Chambers spent Thanksgiving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Dickey.

Miss Edna Chambers and Earl Dickey spent Friday in Philadelphia. Lynam Satterthwaite who is attending Cornell, spent the holidays with his parents.

Mrs. J. W. Robertson and daughter, Jane, of Wilmington, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hitchens.

Mrs. Anna Harris, of Rising Sun, Md., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Chambers.

Interesting Lecture on Florida

Last Tuesday evening, November 22nd over one hundred people of Stanton and vicinity were present at an illustrated lecture on Florida held in the Friends Meeting House.

Messrs. F. L. Middleton, J. A. MacElwee and W. M. Reek were the speakers. These men spoke especially about Hillcrest, Florida as a wonderful orange and grapefruit development in which they are interested.

On Thursday evening, December 1st, at 7.30, Messrs MacElwee and Reek will give another interesting talk about Florida. All those who did not hear them on Tuesday evening should make an appointment to be present tomorrow evening. The meeting is open to all, no admission is charged and it is hoped many will be present.

FRIENDSHIP LODGE

GIVES SOCIAL

The Friendship Lodge, No. 4, held a social in its hall last evening, Tuesday, November 28th, to entertain their friends. This is one of a number of socials held by this lodge and they are always well attended and greatly enjoyed. Mr. Robert Hackett entertained by a piano solo. Singing and playing games made the affair a pleasant one. A number of the members of their sister lodge of Wilmington were present. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

Parent-Teacher Association Organized at McClellandville

Last Wednesday evening the pupils of the McClellandville School under the direction of their teacher, Miss Eleanor Davis of this town, gave an interesting Thanksgiving program. Recitations and songs suggestive of the season were the main features. Miss Helen Davis sang a solo at the close of the school exercises.

Dean Winifred J. Robinson of the Women's College of the University of Delaware was introduced by the teacher and gave an interesting and enthusiastic talk concerning the Parent-Teacher Associations. Following the Dean's talk an association was organized. Mrs. Gustav Smith was appointed temporary president.

The constitution was then read and adopted. The election of officers was held with the following results: Mrs. G. Smith, President; Mrs. G. Hobson, Vice-President; Miss Eleanor Davis, Secretary, and Mrs. A. Seydell, Treasurer. The president then appointed the following on the Membership Committee, after which the meeting adjourned: Mrs. Allen, Mrs. Crow, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Lovett and Mr. Hobson.

Parent-Teacher Association Organized at Milford X Roads

Miss Agnes P. Medill assisted Miss Della Wooters, teacher of Milford X

Roads School in the organization of a Parent-Teacher Association on Monday evening, November 21st. Mr. John Nivin was appointed temporary chairman and the following officers were elected: President, Edwin Guthrie; Vice-President, Mrs. Mollie Mote; Secretary and Treasurer, Ida Jones. Thirty-two members were enrolled.

At the conclusion of the meeting the girls of the sewing club had a parcel post sale and sold ice cream, cake and candy. The sum of twenty-three dollars was cleared. The money is to be used in the purchase of materials for the sewing club and a volley ball for the school.

MEMORIAL LIBRARY AT DELAWARE

Mention should be made of a subsidy of $250 allowed by the Service Citizens of Delaware to make possible an arrangement of time and salary which would permit Miss Rohr, of the School of Education of the Women's College, to carry out an investigation in the project method of teaching begun in the Summer School. The work is being done in co-operation with a number of teachers throughout the State, members of Miss Rohr's Summer School classes, and will, it is believed when completed and put in book form, constitute an important addition to modern pedagogical literature.

Reports were submitted to the board by a number of other officers and committees. The grounds and buildings committee, H. F. du Pont, chairman, reported that the dormitory and board account for this year's Summer School showed a surplus of $1,976.20, which amount was distributed among the teachers who attended the session. An expression of appreciation to those who so successfully managed this department was recommended.

The committee also made this report as to the Commons: "We are pleased to report that the Commons is being managed very efficiently by Miss Natalie Betts, who has just completed her first year; one pleasing feature being the unsolicited expressions of satisfaction by the student body."

Dean Robinson Reports

Dean Winifred J. Robinson of the Women's College reported the enrollment in that college as follows: Wilmington, 36; Rural New Castle, 34; Kent county, 23; Sussex county, 43; Outside State, 59; Total, 186.

Of the students 101 are taking the Arts and Science course; 42 Home Economics; 8 the four-year education course and 35 the two-year course in education.

In concluding her report, Dean Robinson said: "The great need of the college is class-room and laboratory space. The committee on program of classes has extreme difficulty in arranging the schedule largely on account of this lack of space. In the chemistry laboratory 70 students are being taught in space designed for 50. Bacteriology and art classes are constantly encroaching upon each other. The biology laboratory lacks space for care of living material between laboratory periods. The Home Economics laboratories are full."

Dean McCue Speaks for Agriculture

Dean Charles A. McCue, head of the agricultural department of the University and director of the Experiment Station, in his report said in part: "The entering class in September registered 9 first-year students in agriculture. There are now registered a total of 31 students in the four-year course in agriculture. In addition to these there are seven students of the Rehabilitation Division who are taking a few courses in the regular four-year course in agriculture.

"The number of students in agriculture is far too small for a State with the large agricultural interests that Delaware possesses. The enrollment in agriculture should total at least 50, if the attendance in agriculture is to keep pace with the development of the University.

Rehabilitation Division

"At the present time there are 91 men registered in the Rehabilitation Division. The work of this division is progressing smoothly and satisfactorily. The general morale, intelligence and industry of Rehabilitation students is far above the level of a year ago. The new buildings erected on the campus back of Wolf Hall are practically completed and will be occupied by the Rehabilitation Division. Considerable additions have been made to the Poultry plant out of Rehabilitation funds.

"The work of the Experiment Station has been progressing quietly and effectively. We feel the need of more help in some of the departments, but realize that present funds will not permit of additions to the staff. There are many lines of work that need investigation, but we are unable to touch them. For example there is great need of investigational work in poultry husbandry and along entomological lines. The Chemistry department is over-burdened and another assistant chemist is badly needed.

Dean McCue announced that the National Soil Improvement Committee of the National Fertilizer Association will hold a two-day soil fertility conference at the University next June. Such a meeting was approved by the trustees.

The finance committee, former Governor Charles R. Miller, chairman, presented a budget report that had been prepared by Business Administrator Wilkinson, giving the total amounts budgeted under each heading, amount expended to date, and balance available. He stated that the Business Administrator will send a copy of this budget report, of both Delaware College and the Women's College, to each member of the committee on finance at the beginning of each month, in order to keep the committee constantly posted on the financial standing of the University.

Heat Your Home with Circulating Warmth

CALORIC PIPELESS FURNACE

The Caloric offers these fundamental advantages:

A more uniformly heated home. The Caloric establishes a natural circulation of air in the building—and the heat flows uniformly to every part of the house without resistance. No cold floors, cold corners, nor frosty windows.

More pleasing and more healthful heat. Caloric heat is simple as sunshine and constantly circulating like outdoor air in summer. Balmly warmth and never a suggestion of that "stuffy feeling" in Caloric-heated homes.

More economical heat. The Caloric delivers practically all the heat from the fuel directly into the rooms and at the same time removes the cool air from the house, thereby effecting efficiency and fuel economy impossible with other methods of heating. Records in over 125,000 homes show that the Caloric cuts fuel costs one-third to one-half.

Colonel Sparks

George Sparks was a character. He was different from most men. He was an individual. Interested and active in public affairs, and for years a party leader in the State Senate, he stood aloof from the crowd. He was the gentleman in politics—looked it, acted it, played up to it and lived it. In power, he ruled with a strong hand and won support by a dominating force rather than by fawning. He was a fighter and in the fray his words were curt and short. He gave no quarter of the enemy. But he fought always facing the issue. He never evaded, never deceived. His friends, his enemies and the public knew where he stood. A Delaware reporter, acquainted with public men in Delaware said yesterday, "Colonel Sparks might, and often did, refuse an interview with a sentence that stung if you did not know him but he never led you astray. He told you the truth or nothing, according to his judgment. So reporters learned always to admire and respect him."

That to us is the man as we knew him in public life. He was the gentleman of the old school in politics, with blunt truth, as he understood it, as a policy. And truth in politics is still worthy of emulation in these days.

He was an authority on form and precedent. Any City, State or Military function with the Colonel as Master of Ceremonies was correct. He knew rank and position for formal occasions and insisted that they be recognized. Personalities were not in his official makeup. And the success of State functions in Delaware for twenty years or more can be in great part attributed to him.

In private life and socially, he was the most genial of hosts. Aloof from the crowd and at first acquaintance perhaps, seemingly severe, he was a hail-fellow-well-met. At the banquet table among his friends (and he had hosts of them) he was a delight and a leader in fun making recreation.

In business he was painstaking and efficient.

While not of his day in politics and disagreeing with him frequently, we admired his straightforwardness in affairs, respected his point of view and outspoken attitude. Personally we found back of a serious mien—a gentleman, a man with kindness and a friend.

OBITUARY

C. Henry Ellison

The funeral of one of Newark's well known and respected citizens took place Monday afternoon when C. Henry Ellison was buried at Christiana. The deceased had lived here many years and had a large circle of friends, by all of whom he was respected. Rev. H. Everett Hallman, of the Presbyterian Church, officiated at the services, which were largely attended.

Mr. Ellison's death, which occurred on November 25, came as a shock to his many friends and was the result of a stroke of apoplexy. The deceased was working in his yard when fatally stricken. He is survived by three sons and two daughters.

Charles S. Shivelier

Charles S. Shivelier, well known to many residents of Newark, died at his home at 412 Bainbridge Street, Brooklyn, New York, on Sunday, November 28th. The funeral services were held at his late residence on Tuesday evening, November 29th. Interment was made in the Cypress Hill Cemetery today, Wednesday.

Mr. Shivelier was a son of the late John C. Shivelier for many years agent at the Pennsylvania Station here. His wife, who was the daughter of the late Benjamin Wilson, has been dead for a number of years.

LOCAL GIRL LEAVES HOME SUDDENLY

Elsie Jester Left on Saturday and Has Not Been Heard From

Local authorities and those of other cities and towns in this vicinity have been working since Sunday to try and learn the whereabouts of Elsie Jester, the 14 year old girl who disappeared from the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Jester, 125 Cleveland Avenue, on Saturday morning.

Mr. Jester in speaking of the case today stated that he had taken Elsie to live with his family when she was about four years of age and that she was looked upon as a daughter. The girl was known here as Elsie Jester. The girl's mother lives at Denton, Md., but inquiry there showed that she had not joined her kin. Mrs. Jester has been ill since the disappearance of the girl.

According to the Jesters, Elsie got up between 6 and 7 o'clock on Saturday morning and instead of going to breakfast as a rule, she put on her hat and coat and went out. It is the opinion of the local family that the girl was induced to leave her home as there had been no quarrel.

The home of the Jesters was formerly at Denton, but they moved here three years ago. When the girl disappeared she wore a light plaid gingham dress, dark brown coat, red and black knit cap and white slippers. She has dark brown hair and brown eyes. Although the Wilmington police were on the lookout for the girl up until today they had not come up with her.

Paid Fire Department Reality

Headed by William J. Lutz, as chief engineer, the new paid fire department of Wilmington will go into service at 6 o'clock today. The trouble the installation of this service has brought about is well known but the department becomes a reality today.

New Century Club Notes

At the meeting of the Newark New Century Club held yesterday afternoon, Mrs. R. B. Harris gave a reading, "The Witching Hour" by Augustus Thomas. After the usual business a social hour followed.

On Tuesday afternoon, December 13th, at 2.30 o'clock, Rev. Edgar Jones, Rector of the St. Thomas Episcopal Church, will give a talk on "Laborer" and the wonderful work Dr. Grenfell has done there. The public is cordially invited to attend this meeting and it is hoped many will take this advantage to hear Rev. Jones speak on this interesting subject of the cold north country.

Community Xmas Spirit

"Fill every home with Christmas spirit," is the slogan to be carried out by the neighborhood associations of the Community Service, of Wilmington. Friday night, December 23, will be a big night for the "kiddies" for at a meeting of the community clubs at the Hotel duPont, last night, this was the date set for the children's frolic.

Real Estate Affairs

The Farmers' Trust Co. has about closed a deal between Harry Thompson and George W. Russell. The deal involves a trade between the two men in which Mr. Thompson is to exchange his house on Delaware Avenue for a 45 acre farm owned by Mr. Russell in Pencader Hundred. The latter is caretaker of the Red Men's Home.

Wise and Otherwise

"A man with a noisy hat usually talks through it."

"Many a neighbor's dog is a howling success."

"Two things are sure to make a girl laugh—dimples and good teeth."

"Now is the time for all good ships to sink for the aid of their country."

"The Affairs of Anatol,"

the big picture with nine stars, will be at the Opera House Monday and Tuesday, Dec. 5th and 6th—One show each evening, starting promptly at 7.30. Admission 22c.

UNIVERSITY ALUMNI TO BANQUET AT DuPONT

Date Fixed For Annual Event

In hopes of having the largest turnout ever, the Ways and Means Committee of the University of Delaware Alumni has named the Hotel duPont, Wilmington, as the scene of the next annual banquet, February 25, 1922.

These affairs are generally held in Newark, but in the past few years the attendance has fallen off considerably and the committee is of the opinion that Wilmington will be more accessible to the members. With this in view arrangements are now being made to entertain the largest turnout that has ever attended the annual banquet of the Alumni. It is understood that some surprises are in store in the way of entertainment.

Corn Show at Newport

The annual corn show of the Delaware Grange, at Newport, was held on Monday evening. M. O. Pence, of the University of Delaware, was judge and made the following awards:

Single ear exhibit—First prize, Walter Rothwell; second, C. W. Maclary; third, F. C. Snyder; fourth, H. E. Gregg.

Ten-ear exhibit—First prize, C. W. Maclary; second, Walter Rothwell; third, F. C. Snyder; fourth, H. E. Gregg.

White cap corn—First prize, Alvin Satterthwaite.

Five ears shelled corn weighing most—First prize, F. C. Snyder, weighing 6 lbs.; second, Walter Rothwell, weighing 5 1/2 lbs.

Exhibits of vegetables, judged by R. O. Bausman, County Agent, were awarded prizes as follows:

First prize on celery, onions, pie pumpkin, and largest pumpkin, H. E. Gregg; second prize on pie pumpkin, H. E. Gregg.

First prize on exhibits of Rural Russet, Green Mountain, State of Maine, Irish cobbler potatoes won by F. C. Snyder. Also prize on five largest potatoes, weighing 5 1/2 lbs.

First prize on turnips and beets, won by F. C. Snyder; first and second prizes on sweet potatoes awarded to C. W. Maclary.

Announcements were made regarding the State Corn Show which will be held at Seaford, and the district shows which will be held at Hockessin on December 14 and 15, and at Middletown on December 16 and 17, and the list of prizes to be awarded.

Exhibits made by women were judged by Miss Alice Johnson, Supervisor of Domestic Science in the Philadelphia public schools, and prizes were awarded as follows:

Best collection of vegetables, Newport Canning Club; best collection of fruits, Newport Canning Club; mixed collection of vegetables, fruits, soups, meats, etc., Newport Canning Club.

First prize was awarded Mrs. C. W. Maclary on exhibits of bread, layer cake, rolls and pumpkin pie.

The achievement exercises of the Newport Canning Club were held in conjunction with the corn show, and M. O. Pence presented members of the club who had completed the year's work, with achievement pins, as follows: Misses Gertrude Payne, Mabel Steinbaker, Esther Hargan, Margaret Steinbaker, Dorothy Selby, Clara Pauerski, Gladys Evans and the Rev. W. Vaughn Moore.

It was announced that the Newport Canning Club was awarded a gold medal at the Delaware State Fair for demonstration work in canning, and a silver medal for judging.

The degree team of the Grange, under the auspices of New Castle County Pomona Grange, will this evening give the fifth degree of the order to a large class of candidates, in Masonic Hall.

Next Monday night the annual election of officers will be held.

Methodist Church Notes

The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church will be held at the home of Mrs. Wesley Ewing on Thursday, December 1st, at 2.30 o'clock.

On Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, a meeting will be held of all the men over sixteen years of age for the purpose of organizing an Ushers' Union. The Ushers' Union will be the basis of church assistance and social life and also of athletics in the church.

On Friday evening at 8 o'clock a measuring social will be held in the church.

Rev. Frank Herson announces the following sermons for next Sunday: Morning, 11 o'clock, "Making Crooked Paths Straight"; Evening, 7.30, "The Elder Brother," the last of the series of sermons on the Prodigal Son.

J. Stewart Pryor, well known here, will take up his duties as organist beginning this Sunday.

NEWARK TO FIGHT FOR CHAMPIONSHIP AT DOVER

Local High School Football Team to Clash With Bridgeville

After much squabble in Sussex county as to whether it should be Bridgeville, Georgetown, or Seaford that was to meet Newark High School for the High School football championship outside of Wilmington, the first named has finally been chosen. Coach McDonald of the local gridironers received word to this effect yesterday and at once started arrangements for the game which will probably be staged on Friday in Dover.

The record of the local team stands second to none in the State and the players are looking forward to the championship battle with keen interest. Coach McDonald has been drilling the boys hard every day and although expecting to bring home the bacon he is impressing on the minds of his cohorts the fact that overconfidence is the root of defeat.

Bridgeville was picked as the local's opponent due to its scores, which stood out above those of the other two clubs.

The trip to Dover will be made by truck and automobiles and many local fans will go to the Capital to cheer their favorites to victory.

The greatest honor the nation could bestow upon the "unknown hero" would be to live for the things for which he died.—Sylvia, N. C., Jackson County Journal.

Unemployment Bureau for University Men

At the meeting of the Wilmington Chapter of the University of Delaware Alumni, held in Wilmington last week, the matter of unemployment was thoroughly discussed and it was pointed by the members that many graduates from the institution were without work at the present time.

George Francis, William P. Homewood and E. G. Smyth were appointed as a committee to provide ways and means of relieving the now existing conditions and any member of the Alumni who is out of employment should communicate with one of the members of this committee.

The next luncheon of the Wilmington Chapter will be held at the Hotel duPont on Thursday, December 15.

Honor Roll for Service

Loda Brittingham, of Elkton, after serving 41 years and 8 months as a carpenter helper on Maryland Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, has been placed on the honor roll, comprising those who have been retired and pensioned by the company. Another nearby resident who has likewise been honored is Adolphus A. Way, of Marshallton.

Republican Women Active

The Wilmington Committee of the Delaware Women's Republican Committee, will hold a bazaar and rummage sale at the headquarters, 823 Shipley Street, Wilmington, beginning next Monday. The women of Newark and vicinity are asked to help with this affair all that is possible inasmuch as the proceeds are to be used for the headquarters where Republican women from all over the State are welcomed.

Tomorrow evening in the headquarters the first meeting of the winter season for the Wilmington Committee will be held. The ladies of the Fifth Ward have charge of the program and it is expected that Mrs. Lena Jones, of Milford, leader of the Delaware Women's Republican Committee, will be on hand and deliver an address.

A Representative List of Practical Gift Suggestions is Ready Now at Miller's

The spirit of helpfulness, characteristic of the Miller Store, is responsible for the great Christmas Stock now conveniently displayed for the early Christmas shoppers. The advantages of Early Christmas Shopping are so evident that little need be said along this line. It is sufficient that you know that Miller's preparations this year have been more extensive than ever before and that our Christmas stocks are the largest and most complete to be found.

FURNITURE! THE BEST GIFT OF ALL

No matter what member of the family you have in mind—a gift of furniture is assuredly the best gift of all. Our ample stocks make selection easy and our liberal cash plan terms and credit policy make paying almost unnoticed. We know that conditions are not as flourishing as last year, but we also note the gradual return to normalcy, and with this in mind, we announce A NEW FEATURE TO OUR CREDIT POLICY. COME TO MILLER'S—SELECT THE GIFTS YOU ARE GOING TO GIVE AND YOUR PAYMENT NEED NOT START UNTIL JANUARY—and then they need be no more than you can conveniently afford to pay. In this manner we help you to give better gifts than you would give, and in paying for them you are not strained financially for the Christmas Season.

Attorney General Says
Dr. H. V. Holloway, State Superin-

selling abandoned and unused school houses of the State Board of Educa-

The Falling of the Leaf

Oh mortal man; the falling leaf;
In solemn silence speaks to thee,
Thy stay on earth, like ours, is brief,
And man is but a fading tree.
Thy spring of youth is quickly past,
Thy manhood's summer sheds its bloom;
Then age, like autumn's chilling blast
Brings on the winter of the tomb.
But spring returns, and trees again
Put on their foliage, fresh and green;
But naught of man shall here remain,
To mark the spot where he hath been.
Yet, in a brighter, happier state,
They that believe in Jesus rise;
A fairer spring shall them await,
And endless summer in the skies.

Express Your Own Ideas

Have you ever had an idea that you wanted built into a room or a house---something individual, a sort of a part of yourself
---and have the contractor or carpenter say,
"It can't be done," "why that's a foolish notion," "what do you want it that way for?"
or "why don't you do it this way?"

Have you ever had that experience and realized how it took the pleasure out of the whole thing?

In building a house, this is serious.
A home, at its best, is expressive of the owner, not of the contractor.

Realizing that, I have always tried to catch the idea of the man who was employing me and do the job HIS way, not MY way.

The result is a satisfied customer, and often a new idea that appeals to all who see it.

things, the task which these men attacked so valiantly.

In an effort to correlate their academic work with that of their agricultural subjects a class composed of 19 men were asked recently to tell the story of the origin and development of the Poultry Plant. This they did with the result shown below, a composite of different group activities in which the following men took part:

Richard M. Altland, Hanover, Pa., Co. A, 112th Infantry, 28th Division.
Alfred Beacher, Pittsburgh, Pa., Co. K, 140th Infantry, 35th Division.

The Story

"One of the most notable achievements of the Rehabilitation men now in training at the University of Delaware is the poultry plant, located on the Experiment Farm adjacent to the Pennsylvania Railroad.

"It occupies the site chosen several years ago by the North American for its egg laying contest, a rectangular section of land containing at present approximately six acres. The slope is gently toward the South, which is considered by poultry experts to be admirable. The water drainage is excellent and the air drainage likewise good. Not so good however, as if the farm itself were situated on a higher altitude.

Students Aid in Planning and Construction

"When the course in Poultry Husbandry was offered and the land turned over to the Rehabilitation Division by the University, there were only the few buildings abandoned by the North American. These were not suitable in size or in construction for the excellent practical course planned for the men. What was needed most of all was a laying house and this they did not have.

So through the Federal Board, Mr. Schaffle and Mr. Upton, Director of Rehabilitation, secured permission to take the prospective students on a trip through the poultry district of Vineland and New Brunswick, N. J. Here they had an opportunity to see all classes and types of laying house and chose as most suitable, one of the Multi-Unit type. The plans were secured immediately by Mr. Schaffle, the actual work begun by the men as soon as they returned from the trip, and the building completed in a remarkably short time in spite of inclement weather.

The Laying Houses

The Multi-Unit type laying house, as the name implies, can be added to as the need arises. The original plan called for a floor space of 20 ft. by 40 ft. This has since been enlarged by the erection of additional units, which makes the building 220 feet in length. The latter work was done by local contractors. In addition to this there are several colony houses of the "knock-down" type, erected by the students as part of their class work, and two others constructed by Messrs. Brennan, Konegen, Thompson and Crowther as individual practice work.

The laying houses will in the aggregate, accommodate 1000 birds.

The Interior Arrangement Modern

"Simplicity of arrangement and ease of operation characterize this ultra-modern plant. The ventilation system is of the best. Muslin screens in front and rear supply the birds with plenty of air and yet prevent drafts. The house is equipped with labor saving devices such as running water, self-feeders which hold sufficient food to last two weeks, oyster shell and grit boxes raised from the floor to utilize every inch of space, nests placed in dark space under the dropping boards to "kid" the hen into believing that she has stolen her nest, and other features that make for the best sanitary conditions.

Will Trick Poor Lady Hen

"The Multiple-Unit laying house is to be equipped with an automatic electrical apparatus which will supply light at 4 a. m. on winter mornings. This is expected to stimulate even the laziest late sleeper to maximum egg production during the winter months. This device, taken as a joke by those uninitiated in the mysteries of the hen type of mind, has brought good results in the poultry districts of Vineland, N. J., Petaluna, California, and elsewhere. The wiring and other work necessary to install this modern device will be done by the men of the Rehabilitation Unit.

The Incubator Cellar

Noteworthy among the most recent additions to the plant is the concrete incubator cellar, 20x40, which was also constructed by the students. This was begun last Spring and rushed to completion in May. It is also of the most modern type. The foundation is approximately 5 feet under ground, thus allowing a regularity of temperature and protection against drafts and storms. The cellar is equipped with double windows as a further protection from drafts. It contains one Mammoth type incubator with a capacity of 2160 eggs, and several small incubators of the oil burning type with a capacity of 240 eggs each. The work of testing, separating and crating the market eggs is also done in this building, which will also serve as laboratory, feed room, and office after the completion of a second floor now under construction. This will connect with the large laying house and the whole when completed will constitute the Combination House System which has been used and recommended by leading poultrymen of the United States.

Through the efforts of Professor Schaffle, the manager, Mr. Cahill, and the Rehabilitation students, this plant will, when completed, be one of the most modern in the State and will be one of the "show" places of the Experimental Farm.

WEDDINGS

Downing—Wilson

Rev. John B. Blake, of Red Clay Creek Church, on November 24, married Miss Ethel Downing and Philip C. Wilson, at the parsonage. The bride was attended by Miss Rebecca Wilson, while M. Yearsley was best man. After their wedding trip the couple will make their home at Hockessin.

Akins—Connell

Miss Edna Akins and Raymond Connell were married in the Hockessin parsonage, on November 24, by the Rev. Clark. Robert Connell, a brother of the groom, was best man, and the bride was attended by Miss Amelia Brown.

Brobst—Slack

A pretty wedding was celebrated on Thanksgiving day, at the home of Mrs. Annie E. Slack, when her daughter, Hettie Phillips, became the bride of Dr. Millard Brobst of Wilmington, Dr. Joel S. Gilfillan officiating. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Fred Strickland, as matron of honor, the best man being Fred Strickland. The bridal party entered the parlor to the strains of the wedding chorus played by little Jennie Florence Slack, niece of the bride. The bride was attired in a gown of white Baronette satin and Georgette, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Her veil was held in place by a wreath of lilies of the valley. The only ornament worn was a handsome string of pearls, the gift of the groom.

The matron of honor wore a dress of white crepe-de-chine with lavender trimmings and carried a bouquet of lavender chrysanthemums. Immediately after the ceremony a wedding luncheon was served. The guests included relatives and a few intimate friends of the young couple. After a short wedding trip, Dr. and Mrs. Brobst will reside in Wilmington.

Pierce—Lynch

Miss Mary J. Lynch and Ralph W. Pierce, of Elkton, were married in the Little Church Around the Corner, New York, on last Friday morning.

The young couple were favorites in the younger set of Elkton and a short time before the wedding Miss Lynch was tendered a variety shower at which time she received many beautiful and useful gifts.

On their return from a wedding trip they will be home in West Main Street, Elkton.

Miss Lynch until her marriage was connected with the office of the Atlas Powder Company, in Wilmington.

Autumn Brides at W. C. D.

The autumn brides, who were former students at the Women's College will be at home with Dean Robinson at the Women's College on Friday afternoon from half past three to half past five. Those to be present are Mrs. Ernest Wilson, Hollywood, (Mildred Jeffers); Mrs. Crompton Wills, Laurel, (Mary Jane Mason); Mrs. Knowles Bowen, Kennett Square (Margaret Groves); Mrs. Robert Lewis, Newark (Katherine Jackson).

Newark High School will have no representative at the Second Annual Conference of High School Girls, at Laurel, Del., December 2, 3 and 4. Efforts were made to get some of the local young ladies to attend this conference but none could avail themselves of the opportunity.

On the second day of the conference Dean Winifred Robinson, of Women's College, will deliver a talk on "Recreation in Relation to Vocations."

Heim Reports to State Board

At the meeting of the State Board of Education in Dover Tuesday, the Bureau of Vocational Education of the State Department outlined the work Delaware is doing during the fiscal year. At this meeting the State Director, Mr. R. W. Heim, Mr. L. C. Armstrong, State Supervisor for Agriculture; Mr. A. B. Anderson, State Supervisor for Trades and Industries, and Miss Jennie R. Bear, State Supervisor for Home Economics each made a report.

"Don't you think I'll make her happy?"

"Well, she'll always have something to laugh at!"—London Mail.

PRODUCERS TO SERVE THEIR OWN MILK

Prices Paid by Dairy Companies of Wilmington Too Low

Wilmington will have a sight before long, which has been missing for the past few years, when farmers of this vicinity will start serving milk themselves. For the past few years dairy companies have been distributing the majority of milk in Wilmington and according to several producers they have not been receiving a fair price for their product. Milk is retailing in Wilmington at the present time at 11 to 14 cents while the producers receive but 4½ to 6 cents a quart.

There was talk sometime ago of the milk producers in this section combining and operating a central station for the distribution of milk but it has been decided for the time being for each producer to operate himself.

Flag to Fly at U. of D.

Newark, alumni of the University and American citizens will be glad to hear that Business Administrator Wilkinson of the University was authorized yesterday to replace the flag staff on the campus grounds to replace the one struck by lightning. As soon as authority was granted Mr. Wilkinson was ready to place the order, having received the quotations some time ago.

The new staff will be ready in a short time.

According to rumors which are having their rounds on the University campus at the present time, Gamma Delta Rho is making negotiations through Charles M. Curtis, one of the University trustees, to rent the frat house of Sigma Phi Epsilon, on West Main Street. The latter is to build a new home in the near future.

UNIVERSITY ATHLETICS

Inter-Class Games Start Tomorrow; Basketball and Baseball Schedules Ready

Tomorrow will see the opening of the Inter-Class basketball series at the University of Delaware. In the opening game the Seniors will clash with the Freshmen and a fast game is looked forward to as the two classes both have a lot of promising material.

The basketball schedule of the Varsity has been completed and is now awaiting the approval of the Athletic Council. This body will also pass on the baseball schedule, which has been completed, at its next meeting.

State Fair Officers

Last Friday afternoon the Delaware State Fair Association held a meeting and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Frederick Brady, President; J. Wirt Willis, Vice-President; L. L. Mahoney, Treasurer, and Joseph H. Gould, Secretary. The following will compose the executive committee for 1922: Henry F. duPont, Josiah Marvel, S. D. Townsend and the above mentioned officers.

Men's Souls Bigger

Men's souls, says Marshal Foch, are bigger since the war. The great French soldier, with characteristic directness, has hit upon an essential truth. Men's souls are bigger, men's understanding is broader and men's sympathies are deeper than ever before in the history of the world.

It is largely because of Foch's own dignity and strength of soul that the American people love him. There is in the man's makeup nothing of the provincial. Acclaimed the world's greatest soldier, his modesty is in keeping with his strength of character. "Coming to America," he said, "has enlarged my vision."—San Francisco Chronicle.

Premium for Road Bonds

Eight bidders submitted estimates for the $100,000 State aid bond issue for highway improvements to the Levy Court yesterday.

Bidders and their estimates were as follows: Wm. R. Compton Company, New York, $105,839.43; Estabrook and Company, New York, $104,170; Vanhingham and Company, New York, $103,790; Bloodgett and Company, New York, $103,027; National City Co., New York, $103,019; Hornblower and Wicks, New York, $102,865.00; Klane Highbee Co. and Sidney Spitzer Co., New York, $102,556 and Seasongood and Moyer, Ann, Ohio, $101,960.

The issue was awarded to the Compton company.

Canadian Justice

An Ontario farmer caught a young woman doing a "September Morn" on his property and had her haled before the county magistrate.

"What's the charge?" asked his honor.

"Takin' a bath in the spring, your wussup," said the constable.

The aged dispenser of justice consulted a dog-eared copy of the statutes and buried himself in its pages for several minutes; then closing the legal tome and stroking his beard he said very solemnly, "The charge is dismissed and the miss is discharged. I find that she had just as much right to take a bath in the spring as in the fall."—Boston Transcript.

GO at your pleasure—go where you choose and when you choose, with your family or your friends. Enjoy the boundless beauties of nature, the pure air, a lunch in a shady wood, a fishing excursion, a rest by a cool lake or stream.

You can in a Ford. Millions have learned by experience that to own and operate a Ford is not an extravagance; they have learned that the many pleasures derived from a Ford takes the place of other pleasures, and the saving thus made often pays for the car and its maintenance.

Let's talk this matter over. Get the facts and figures.

The Cigarette Case

Is An Always Cherished Gift to the Man

As the snuff box of old was in many ways the one valued possession of our grandfather, so with the man of today is the cigarette case.

These cases must be in proper proportion, the right size, from metal, of correct design, so we have provided an ample line of cases in 14-kt. gold, plain polished and engine turned. For those desiring something less elegant we have the Sterling case with 14-kt. gold stripes, and for those wishing only an article of utility, we have the all sterling case, less in price, of course, but well built and of sufficient weight to be entirely serviceable.

If engraving is required on the case you intend to purchase, leave the order now so that we can give the designing of the marking more careful consideration.
