

Mr. Holt studied conditions not only in France but in England and Italy during the war as well as since the signing of the armistice. He is among the first of leading journalists to return from the Peace Conference. Having travelled throughout the European battlefields during the war and being thoroughly familiar with European conditions Mr. Holt is in position to deliver some first hand information on who's who at the Peace Conference.

AN EXCEPTIONAL OPPORTUNITY

TONIGHT, at Wolf Hall, we shall see whether Delaware College deserves to be taken seriously as a college. The meeting to hear Hamilton Holt presents a supreme opportunity; it will also be a supreme and final test of the question whether or not a majority of the students of Delaware College are dead above the ears.

Hamilton Holt, editor of the Independent, comes to Delaware fresh from Paris. As a trained journalist, as a listening publicist, his ear has caught every whisper. But his opportunities to hear and to understand were exceptional. He was official representative of the League to Enforce Peace at the Conference; and the confidence he enjoyed is indicated by the fact that he was selected by Colonel House to maintain liaison between the conference of the League and the Commission of the Peace Conference that framed the Covenant which is now at the focus of the world's attention. This eye-witness will bring us tidings for which we should have had to wait until the President returned. He is coming to us unexpectedly, through a special favor. He might have come later, but it was desirable that we should have this news while it is hot.

The Greek runner, bathed in sweat, faints in the Athenian market-place, with the news of Marathon upon his lips. What man could dare to call himself Athenian who was not straining to catch that word? Tonight we are to hear a runner who brings tidings from a field on which the greatest battle in that warfare of humanity for which we profess to be training as officers has been won or lost, we are not certain which. What a pitiful disgrace if a man in the college is to be found so indifferent to his business in life as not to be among those who crowd to hear this word!

Engineers Get Together

The need for organization found expression among the engineering students when they got together on Friday evening, May 9, to re-organize the college Engineering Society. Although it was impossible to show motion pictures as had been planned, the meeting proved interesting and valuable. Professor Cummings told of the place the society should fill in the college life and several students spoke of the need for a good organization.

As a result of the meeting a committee of which Millard Lang was chosen chairman and Charles Carswell secretary was selected to carry on the society this year and to get it well organized for work next year. A paper has been prepared to be signed by the Engineers who wish to join the society and Carswell is anxious to secure as many names as possible. The expenses this year will amount to only about fifty cents per man.

TRUE TALE FROM ELL
Dr. Foster—"Carter, tell us the story of Materlinek's Blue Bird."
Carter (with that worried look, also absent-mindedly—"The Blue Hen is an awful job, etc.")

The class adjourned for refreshment.

Carswell—"Doctor, I hear that a poison more deadly than any toxin has been discovered."

Doc. Palmer—"Oh, no. Toxins are the most deadly. What is it?"

Carswell—"Spirits of aviation. One drop proves fatal."

fect, so essential in the presentation of the classic. Not the least of the scenic effects, however, will be the electric lighting and stage arrangements, which will transform the new campus into a theatre of the ancient Greek type. To this end, members of the Footlights Club of Delaware College have labored hard for the past few weeks. The music, too, is the product of the students themselves and is near the original as is possible for modern imagination to compose it.

DEFEATS VILLANOVA

for a single. By some clever base running he moved all the way around to third on G. Carter's neat bunt along third. With Capt. McCardell at the plate, Coach Shipley decided that a squeeze play was in order, but things didn't materialize and there were two down when Gudgie missed the ball on his third strike and Horsey was caught at the plate on the same play. But this sudden turn in events didn't damper our ardor a bit, and Delaware profited by Murray's wildness, both Rothrock and Pierson being franked to first. With the sacks jammed and two gone, "Ted" Dantz was inserted into the line up to hit for Donoho and he made good by "nosing" one to center for a double. Both G. Carter and Rothrock scored on the hit and a third run was added to the total when Murray uncorked a wild one allowing Pierson to score from third. Before the last man was out for Villanova, the Blue and Gold crew had gathered four more counters as the result of some heavy stickwork and clever baseball, and Villanova by virtue of two or three hits in a row had increased her total to 4, making the final score 9 to 4.

For the visitors, McAndrews looked best, covering the hot corner in great style and also swelling his batting average by getting three safe blows. The Delaware team showed up well in every department and exhibited a classy article of ball from beginning to end. "Don" Horsey carried away the batting honors with four clean safeties totaling eight bases. All were timely hits and contributed greatly to the scoring strength of the team. He was closely pushed by Gray Crater who tucked away three safe drives, one a triple. Gray also held up Rothrock in great style behind the bat. "Ted" Dantz was also in a batting mood and contributed two wallops to the hit column. The fielding feature easily belongs to "Dorse" Donoho. In the third inning he raced back into left center field, across the track, and grabbed a slashing drive which was labelled for a homer. It was a difficult effort and "Dorse" certainly captured it in great style. The score:

LET us give you an earful. There is a certain type of Snappy Young Men who'd rather be dead than look like "dead ones." They want suits and overcoats with lots of snap in 'em. Style stunts and patterns that look more like Broadway on New Year's Eve at 12, than at 5 o'clock church tea in Sussex. You might laugh all over your face at them---but they want 'em. D'ye get us?

For that young man you must sell clothes that wouldn't be fit exactly for an undertaker. You got to give them value also, 'cause most of 'em haft'a dress on less than a thousand a week.
