Calls Were Handled By Town Officer Sam Tibbitt

Newark experienced its first test air raid of the 1944 season on Sunday afternoon.

The first call was received by town officer Samuel H. Tibbitt at 3:20 o'clock and instead of being a Yellow or warning signal, the first call received was known as the first Blue signal.

The Red signal was received ten minutes later at 3:30 o'clock and remained on for fifteen minutes with the second Blue signal coming through at 3:45 o'clock. The All-Clear was given at 4 o'clock.

Immediately upon receiving the first call Officer Tibbitt notified Harry L. Bonham, general chairman of the Newark Council for Civilian Defense and Arthur E. Tomhave, supervisor of the Warning Center who with his wife, Mrs. Tomhave, went to the Center at once and sent out the calls to the various heads of the civilian defense groups who immediately went into action.

Besides Mr. Bonham, reporting at the control room were: T. Russell Silk, chief air raid warden, Newman E. Rose, assistant chief air raid warden and Dr. Glenn S. Skinner, head of the gas and decontamination groups.

Doctors, nurses, and first-aiders, reported at the casualty centers and Lucille Moore and Audrey Rumer were on duty at the control room receiving and sending out messages.

Despite the fact that the test raid came as a complete surprise to everyone, it was reported that a large percent of the volunteer workers were at their posts and Mr. Bonham stated that he was well pleased with the showing made by the local groups.

Members In Meeting With Dr. Hullihen

Major problems of rehabilitation and planning face the University of Delaware, it was agreed at the first of a series of meetings of deans and department heads to decide the best means of meeting post-war difficulties.

Meeting with Dr. Walter Hullihen, president, at his office last week the 15 faculty members appointed and organized committees for the departments of engineering and agriculture, arts and sciences, education, home economics, and commerce and business, each committee to study the specific post-war needs in its individual department in relation to the five major problems. ENLIST IN A PROUD PROFESSION

Train as a Nurse

Nursing will play a tremendous role in the rehabilitation of the world of tomorrow. There has never been enough nurses to meet the demands and this especially true in the field of veterans' care, public health and industrial care, a marked expansion of which are anticipated following the war, according to Delaware's own Lucile Petry, director of the Division of Nurse Education of the United States Public Health Service, who is urging Delaware girls to enter the U. S. Cadet Nurse Corps.

This Corps was created by an Act of Congress "to provide for the training of nurses for the armed forces, government and civilian hospitals, health agencies and war industries. . . .

To furnish to students . . . without charge for tuition, fees or other expenses . . . courses of study and training, uniform, insignia, room and board in accordance with the regulations of the Surgeon General."

Under this new plan, student nurses, in addition, are paid a monthly allowance of $15 for the first 9 months as Pre-Cadets and $20 a month for the following 15 to 21 months of combined study and practice as Junior Cadets.

Who Is Eligible

Entrance requirements include good health and graduation with satisfactory grades from an accredited high school. College education is an additional advantage. Age is from 17 or 18 to 35 years of age.

Need Is Great

The area in which the war is being fought is vast. Thousands of graduate nurses must leave civilian posts to take on the enormous task of providing the RIGHT kind of care for service men. The ranks they leave must be filled. The people at home — mothers and their babies — war workers who are ill or injured, men and women to whom an operation may mean the difference between life and death — need nurses to help them carry on their own jobs in this war.

The only answer is more and MORE student nurses to step in where ever the need is greatest, to respond to a world-wide call for skilled and patient hands. Never before in America's history have her young women had the opportunity to be of such great service to so many. For the armed forces alone, almost a hundred thousand nurses are being called. This means an equal number of student nurses will be urgently needed to train to take their places, to serve not only in a world at war today but in a reconstructed world of tomorrow.

"From the day you enter nursing school you will be performing an important war service. Student nurses assume certain duties almost immediately in addition to their class work and studies. In this way you help release a graduate nurse," says Miss Alberta Wilson, director of the Division of Public Health Nursing of the State Board of Health, and chairman of the Delaware Nursing Council for War Service.

All hospitals in Delaware which have schools for nursing are offering the free training to girls who wish to become Cadet Nurses. Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Mildred Marshall, secretary of the State Nursing Council for War Service, 914 Jefferson Street, Wilmington, Delaware.

DELAWARE PARK

The general public, we believe, will welcome the news that the Board of Directors of Delaware Race and Steeplechase Association made application with the State Racing Commission for dates to hold a 1944 meeting.

Racing has proved popular with Delawareans and answers a need for an outstanding track between Baltimore and Camden as the Stanton oval usually draws considerable support from Washington, Baltimore, Pennsylvania and New Jersey improvers of the breed.

We see no plausible reason why Delaware should not hold a race meeting this year. With nearby Camden and Pimlico able to operate despite the pleasure ban, Delaware certainly should be able to sponsor a successful meeting now that the ban has been lifted. True, it may be a little hard on "A" gasoline coupons, but lovers of the sport will find a way to get there—even if they have to walk.

Inaugurated at Stanton in 1936, Delaware Park has held successive thirty-day meetings each year with the exception of 1943. Resumption of the sport here will also enhance state coffers as their percentage of the receipts has run about a half-million in recent years—which isn't hay.

Regret is expressed at the resignation of General Manager Edward Burke who has conducted Delaware Park business affairs since its inception but members of the Board may be relied upon to name an experienced and fully capable man as his successor.

MARCHING FATHERS ON TO WAR

Washington is being told that the Selective Service System is being operated in a way that is unsatisfactory to the American people and a blind man can see that there is general disapproval of Manpower orders to continue serious inroads on the family life of this country.

In the first place the great war production centers do not agree that there is any serious slump in manpower. As a matter of fact most of the recent troubles about production have been due to lack of raw products and materials. If anybody is to blame for that, some of the officials in Washington may be able to explain.

News from the interior of the country seems to indicate that the people have told their Senators and Congressmen who went home for "instructions" that there should be more concern given to "family responsibility." Public opinion is about "fed up" with shifting suggestions from the War Manpower Commission.

How About That!

Radios mushroomed in many an office at Triumph Explosives Tuesday at 3:30 P. M. to catch the voices of Triumph representatives and the bouquets cast. The program was sponsored by the Navy Incentive Division and it was intended to spotlight the achievements of an outstanding war plant.

When the first familiar voice sounded over the air, the immediate reaction of the food-and-critical audience was to try to guess if he had stage fright. That figured out, everyone relaxed to listen to the familiar but interesting story of Triumph's expansion.

Samuel L. H. Burk, Director of Industrial Relations, recalled how the plant, 10 years ago, was devoted entirely to making fireworks and railroad fuses with about 60 people. Today, it is making "fireworks of a more important kind," and with about 10,000 employees. The pre-war role of the plant was reviewed—its early contracts for war material—for this country and its Allies, and the fact that Triumph's superiority in turning out this material was recognized before Pearl Harbor when in November, 1941, the Navy U. S. was granted.

Two employees of the plant—selected because of their long and worthy service—were then heard on the air: Mrs. Beatrice White, a Forelady in the Tracer Area with the plant since 1933 when the depression caused her to seek work, and Archie Van Den Heuvel, the youthful machine shop superintendent who has also been engaged at Triumph for 10 years. He described his work, training problems and draft headaches and revealed that he had not a single accident in all his years of working with machines at an explosive plant.

This has been the second national pat-on-the-back administered to Triumph in as many weeks.

Last week Louis Prima's Coca-Cola Spotlight Band doffed their collective hats to the boys and girls turning out the anti-aircraft ammunition and then supplied them some music to dance to. The best kind of praise came from the two Navy heroes, a Commander and a gunner, who had worked with the Triumph "red ammunition" in some tough battles and said it was tops.

The crowd who gathered at Singler Village to hear the program and then dance to Prima's orchestra for two hours afterward had liberal adjectives to apply to the music—smooth, sweet, on the beam, solid, etc. . . . They liked it.

More Dance Talk

The Newark USO Council puts it up to the girls—war workers, college girls, and "town" girls to support the Bi-weekly dances at the Armory regularly or watch them fold up.

Here is how they put it in a mimeographed appeal: "As you know, it is our hope to have a dance at the Newark Armory every other Saturday night. College girls, war workers and all Newark girls are welcome provided that you register at the dance and receive your USO identification card.

"Yes, it is up to you whether we are going to be able to continue these dances through the year. It is up to you because we hope these dances will be self-supporting. If you girls will attend the dances regularly, and if all the forty cents we collect add up to the right amount to pay the orchestra, and the rent, then we can continue.

"Let's make these dances the best we can, so tell your girl friend and your friend's girl friend about it, tell your roommate and the girl who lives across the hall, tell your next door neighbor and all the girls you know who would be interested. Let's really make the dances a success because the SOLDIERS are anxious to have the dances too."

The date set for the next dance is Saturday, January 29.

Filing of Tax Reports Speeded By New Plan

Satisfactory results are being obtained already by federal income tax deputies who are helping manufacturing plant employees file returns on 1943 income at the plants. Collector Norman Collison of the Delaware District, U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue, said yesterday. He said nearly 500 employees in the 20 plants in which deputies are or will be stationed have filed returns. This method is a new feature begun this year by Collector Collison. Mr. Collison asked that deputies planning to file returns with employees at the plants be sure to have with them form W-2 and Form 1125.

Deputy collectors will be stationed at the National Vulcanized Fibre Co., Wilmington plant on January 26 and 27 and on February 6; at the Yorklyn plant on January 26 and 27 and at the Newark plant on January 29.

Auto Owners Are Lax In Renewing Licenses

Less than 100 of the 36,176 owners of automobiles in Delaware, who reregister their cars by March 31, have secured renewals, according to State Motor Vehicle Department officials. In New Castle County, only about 50 of 17,137 car owners have had their cars reregistered and less than 10 of this number have secured renewals through mail, a method urged by officials to save time, gasoline and rubber.

Those persons who apply for operators licenses in March are urged to see that the present placard bears the operator's name in two places. One name only makes the license void if stressed.

The big news this week is that the Fourth War Loan Drive got off to a good start Tuesday with Wayne C. Brewer at the sales manager post. Mr. Brewer reported that one Team Captain called him up on Tuesday night and stated that he had sold $5,000 worth of bonds the first few hours that he was on the job.

If Wayne can sell bonds the way he sells insurance the Newark drive will be over in no time at all. Mr. Brewer expects to clean up the entire job in two weeks even though the drive will run to February 15.

Bad news for the girls—Albert Vogel is going to be in the Navy. The other evening he was standing along side an auto with his feet in the gutter which was filled with water. When asked why he did not get out of the water, he said he was just practicing as he had that day taken his Physical for the Navy and had passed.

Sports—Well, the Newark High School basketball team has won a game. Gee, that is swell. That Bud Cataldi fellow must have been the whole show. He chalked up 12 points. Yes, there were a few other fellows on the team but they were not as hot as Buddy. That Cataldi fellow is some stuff. It must be that flashy necktie he wears.

The University of Delaware basketball team have done real well. That Coach Ed Prince has whipped together a right good team and has won their first two games. This column will be off before the game Wednesday night with Loyola is over but a lot of credit should go to Coach Prince.

The girls at the Newark High School are working hard under the direction of Miss Linda Vogel to get a Girls Basketball team in shape to play a few away games. Some of the girls are showing up mighty fine.

Last Friday when Miss Vogel was absent she turned the Gym activities over to Lois Guhl and Barbara Hutchison. Folks, they carried off the program just fine.

The boys and girls of Newark had some fun sledding during the week-end. Then there was some sleighing parties. Leon Ryan was sporting around town with a load of boys and girls in that sleigh. Roger Fouracre was also spotted by the Newark Post reporter.

There was a test air raid held on Sunday afternoon but it got off to a bad start. There was no Yellow or warning signal. The first signal that came through was the first blue signal and it is reported that someone got all balled up and blew the whistles wrong. The air raid warden and auxiliary police did not know if they were on the Red or the Blue signal and did not know if they should stop the traffic or let it go. Well, if there had been any Buns, excuse me, I mean Bombs dropping, it would have been a different story. When that time comes, you may not even have to worry with the Civilian Defense workers. They might also be hard to find.

The messenger boys that usually show up when there is a chance to get out of class at school were reported to be on the hills of Newark with their sleds having a good time. They failed to show up when the whistles blew. Two of the girl messengers did show up but not the boys.

Everyone enjoyed the assembly program at the Newark High School yesterday. Neal Suddard, Newark's ace magician, was in charge of the program and put on the show. Buck Suddard was supposed to have a part in the act but one girl said, he did not do much, he just walked across the stage. Naturally, the girls got a kick out of that. But to come back to Neal who is one of the greatest magicians in the country (around Newark). Neal averaged a trick a minute for 45 whole minutes. The audience reacted to him the same as some audiences react to Frank Sinatra.

Bill Anderson who is just an amateur when compared to the Great Neal put on several tricks and Souly Lebegern was more or less—mostly less, an assistant. He also acted as record changer and beat the drums. That was nice of him.

My daughter took down some notes about Neal's act in short hand and now she wants to take lessons from the magician so that she can tell what she wrote. But to come back to Neal again. Everyone thought he was fine, even his mother. The audience was kept in an uproar as he produced silks from nowhere. He even caused pigeons to appear and disappear. (Wish he could help me to get rid of about eight pairs that are in my garage). He said that he is not that kind of a magician. He also laid down a handkerchief and pulled out an umbrella from underneath. We bet he couldn't do that if it had been raining. In one act he put Bill Anderson's head in a machine and everyone thought that the boy's head would be chopped off but I guess he did not stick his neck out far enough. Anyway he survived.

Airplane Spotters On Duty Yesterday

Yesterday was Practice day for the airplane spotters at Newark's two air-spotters posts.

Dr. Carl J. Rees was in charge of the spotters at the Possum Park Post and Mrs. T. H. Little and Mrs. G. F. Bennett were on duty for the first shift from 1 to 3 o'clock. The second shift from 3 to 5 o'clock was handled by Phil Harrison and Donny Rumer.

At the Chestnut Hill Post Dr. T. A. Baker was captain and Dr. Paul Rice was with him for the entire four hour period.

LOYOLA DEFEATS DELAWARE 61 TO 28

Newell Duncan Sets Pace For Blue Hens With Twelve Points

The University of Delaware's two-game winning streak was broken last night when the Loyola Greyhounds handed them a 61 to 28 defeat in the University of Delaware football game.

The swift-passing, sharp-shooting Greyhounds, who are rated one of the top teams in the Mason and Dixon Conference had too much class for Delaware's inexperienced five and they piled up a 21-1 lead in the first period with Jim Lacy leading the scoring maneuvers while the Blue Hens were being held to a single foul, by Teddy Zink.

Bill Schanberger, Ed McGarry and Gene O'Connor took a big hand in the scoring through the next three periods as the Greyhounds piled up a lead that Delaware was never able to threaten. The Blue Hens played their best ball in the final period when they trailed by 11-9 for the session.

Lacy was the game's high scorer with 19 points while O'Connor tallied 12, and McGarry and Schanberger 10 each as the Greyhounds collected 27 goals from the field to Delaware's 10. Newell Duncan was the Hens' top scorer with 12 while Jerry Bowlsby collected eight.

DELAWARE COURTMEN DEFEAT GALLAUDET

Newell Duncan Sets Scoring Pace For Blue Hens

Coach Ed Prince's University of Delaware basketball team gained its second straight victory of the season when they defeated Gallaudet 46 to 39 in the first home game of the season in the Field House Saturday evening.

Newell Duncan, scoring leader in the game against Johns Hopkins came through to again lead the Hens scoring and racked up six action shots and three from the foul stripe for 15 points. Jerry Bowls and Bud O'Neal divided second place honors with six action shots and two foul goals for 14 points each. The game's high individual scorer was Gallaudet's Roy Holcomb who netted 10 field goals and one foul for 21 points.

The first period was nip and tuck with both sides tying the score until near the end when the Hens forged to the front with Ted Zink tying the score and Bud O'Neal's score putting the Hens in the lead to end the period 16 to 13.

Gallaudet came back in the second and tied the score. Toward the close of this frame, though, Delaware went into the lead, which they kept the remainder of the game and at half-time the score was Delaware 30 and Gallaudet trailing with 23 points.

Although Gallaudet outscored the Hens 9 to 6 in the third quarter, Delaware made it up in the closing frame to clinch the contest.

YELLOWJACKETS DEFEAT ELKTON HIGH SCHOOL TUESDAY NIGHT 29 TO 22

High School Basketball Team Breaks Into Win Column After Three Defeats; Buddy Cataldi Is Scoring Ace With 6 Action Shots For 12 Points

Coach Roland Jackson's Yellowjacket basketball team broke into the win column on Tuesday night when they handed the Elkton High School team a 29 to 22 defeat on the Elkton court.

The Jackets trailed at the end of the first frame 3 to 2 but came back in the second period to out-score the Elkton team 10 to 6 and hold a 3 point lead at the end of the half.

The Black and Gold team repeated their same score in the third quarter when they increased their lead to seven points. The final period found both teams scraping for a 7 to 7 score but the Elkton boys were unable to overcome the seven point lead that the Jackets had piled up in the middle two frames.

Buddy Cataldi was the scoring ace for the Jackets with six action shots for 12 points while Bill Pie was second high with three action shots and one from the foul stripe for seven points. Bob McKenry had two action shots and one foul shot for five points with Brandon Davis accounting for two action shots for four points.

The Jackets outscored the Elkton team from action 13 to 9 while Elkton led by one foul shot.

The Newark court team will play hosts to the Dover Air Base team on Friday evening and expect to bring a Jay Vee team. The first game is expected to get underway at seven o'clock.

The Delaware Steeplechase and Race Association, operators of Delaware Park, filed an application on Saturday with the Delaware Racing Commission for a 30-day race meeting to start on May 29 and to end July 4, omitting two Mondays, June 12 and 19.

The action was decided upon Friday at the special meeting of the association. It was also announced that all details of the 1944 meeting will be left in the hands of the executive committee, which will report to the directors at the annual meeting in March.

DELAWARE FARM FRONT THIS WEEK

State Quota Of Rationed Equipment Is 1,035 Machines

Delaware dairymen have an important opportunity to get the most recent information developed to help them meet the problems of wartime production through the dairy meetings being conducted this week and next by the Delaware Dairy Production and Livestock Conservation Committee. Meetings still scheduled are at Middletown High School, Thursday, January 20; at the Caesar-Rodney High School in Wyoming, Friday, January 21; at Milford High School, Tuesday, January 23; at Seaford High School Thursday, January 27; and at Milton High School, Friday, January 28. All meetings are scheduled for 8 o'clock in the evening.

Clarence E. Ocheltree, chairman of the Delaware Agricultural Adjustment Agency, has just announced Delaware's 1944 share of the nation's production of rationed farm machinery. Of the eighteen types of farm machines to be rationed in the State this year, Delaware has been allocated a total of 1,035 machines. The State's quota of these machines last year totaled 507. Additional farm machinery may be allocated to Delaware farmers later in the year. Allotments already set by counties are as follows: Power sprayers, Sussex 11; Kent, 8; corn pickers, Sussex 5, Kent 5, New Castle 6; corn planters, Sussex 32, Kent 31, New Castle 17; pick-up hay balers, Sussex 4, Kent 11, New Castle 8; stationary hay and straw balers, New Castle 1; potato sorters and graders, Sussex 1; tractors, Sussex 108, Kent 92, New Castle 44 (an additional allotment of 78 tractors has not yet been allocated by counties); combines, Sussex 31, Kent 25, New Castle 13; potato diggers, Sussex 2, Kent 1; hay loaders, Sussex 22, Kent 19, New Castle 13; manure spreaders, Sussex 60, Kent 49, New Castle 27; ensilage cutters, Sussex 4, Kent 8, New Castle 6; drills, Sussex 21, Kent 28, New Castle 11; side delivery rakes, Sussex 16, Kent 21, New Castle 9; cultivators, Sussex 19, Kent 21, New Castle 12; mowers, Sussex 50, Kent 47, New Castle 29; corn binders, Sussex 1, Kent 3, New Castle 6; potato planters, New Castle 1.

A small percentage of some allotments is held back for emergencies. Elias Tingle of Frankford was elected president of the Delaware Poultry Improvement Association for this year at the annual directors meeting held in Dover, January 6. Other officers elected were: J. Edward McIlvaine of Millsboro, vice-president; David Rambo of New Castle, treasurer; and A. E. Tomhave of Newark, secretary.

Dr. Paul L. Rice, Dr. D. O. Wolfenbarger, and Harvey L. Chada of the Department of Entomology at the University of Delaware attended a conference last week in Baltimore for unifying recommendations on control of corn borer, corn earworm, and other insects in Delaware, Maryland, and Virginia, where conditions, and therefore recommendations, are much the same.

Edmund Hoffman, assistant research poultryman for the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station, spoke on "Broiler Production Problems in 1944" before the Maryland State Poultry Council last week.

County committees set up to allocate feed ingredients being distributed through the AAA among Delaware livestock farmers are: New Castle, Barton T. Hopkins of Newark, chairman; Frank E. Hitchens, of Hockessin; Oliver Suddard of Newark; and Victor P. Gray of Kirkwood; Kent, C. A. Taylor of Harrington, chairman; P. W. Richardson of Wyoming; Elmer Pratt of Smyrna; and William Haas of Dover; Sussex, Hylon Smith of Georgetown, chairman; Clifford Donovan of Lincoln; Thurman G. Adams of Greenwood and Martin W.
