RED CROSS TO HELP SERVICEMEN DEPENDENTS

More Afghans Are Made For Soldiers In Hospitals

Interesting reports are coming in of the delight of the wounded soldiers in the brightness and beauty of the afghans being knitted and crocheted in Newark as well as the message they bring of thoughtfulness on the part of those at home.

Mrs. Sylvester, chairman of production at the headquarters of Delaware Chapter says that it is impossible to estimate the value of these contributions in the hospitals at Valley Forge, Atlantic City, Halloran General Hospital on Long Island and at the New Castle Army Air Base.

Contributions for wool are constantly being received and a total of $34.42 was turned in this week from the glass jars and from many personal contributions from the Glasgow area and all other parts of the area.

Mrs. J. E. Rothrock volunteered for the tremendous work of putting the squares together and several afghans have been placed on display in various store windows throughout the town. Additional contributors are: Mrs. Carl B. Spencer, Miss Barbara Rothrock, John J. Rothrock, Jr., and Miss M. Elsie Wright.

Attention is called to the fact that Mrs. J. Fenton Daugherty, chairman of the home service department of the Red Cross is prepared to give assistance to servicemen and their dependents in arranging emergency furloughs, adjusting allotments, securing information on prisoners of war, missing and wounded and arranging for infant and maternity care.

By phoning her at Newark 4551 or calling her at her residence, 42 East Delaware Avenue, this assistance may be procured without making a trip to Wilmington as cases in this area are as a rule referred to the local home service chairman and Mrs. Daugherty is happy at all times to be of service to those who may not realize just how many ways the Red Cross is able to help.

Nonagenarian Dies

Alfred A. Curtis

NEWARK'S OLDEST RESIDENT SUCCUMBS

Alfred A. Curtis Celebrated His 96th Birthday On October 20

Alfred A. Curtis, who for many years was president of the Curtis Paper Company, died at his home, Graystone, on West Main Street, Monday night. He celebrated his ninety-sixth birthday anniversary on October 20.

Mr. Curtis, who was known as the grand old man of Newark, was born in Newlon Lower Falls, Mass., but had lived in Newark since his boyhood. His father, the late Frederick A. Curtis, was one of the founders of the paper company, one of the oldest paper manufacturing companies in the country.

Surviving are four grandchildren, Alfred A. Curtis of Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Dorothy Curtis Storrs of Hartford, Conn., Mrs. Sally Curtis McCoy of Wilmington, and Staff Sgt. Frederick Lindsey Curtis, with the ordnance department of the Army Air Force, overseas; a sister, Mrs. Delaware Clark of Wilmington, and a brother, former Chancellor Charles M. Curtis who now makes his home with a son, Frederick Curtis in Holyoke, Mass.

Five great grandchildren also survive. Mr. Curtis had been in failing health for some years. His death was due to his advanced age.

The Curtis Paper Company still is one of the leading industries of the state. The old original mill on White Clay Creek was built by the Mater Clay brothers in 1810. In 1848, two brothers, S. M. and Frederick A. Curtis, came from Massachusetts to Newark, then a tiny village, and purchased the plant and operated it until 1873, when Alfred Curtis took over.

SO. STATES CONFERENCE HELD HERE

Prospects For Farm Supplies Outlined

"We and Our Cooperative" was the subject of an address which T. Roy Brookes, Bel Air, Md., a member of the board of directors of Southern States Cooperative, gave at the Southern States Regional Board conference held at the College Inn, Newark, Wednesday evening, January 17, at 7:30. Mr. Brookes also presided.

The prospects farmers have for obtaining the production supplies they will need next spring were outlined by District Manager M. A. Tomlinson of Frederick, Md. The invocation was given by Rev. Andrew W. Mayer, and group singing led by Anthony J. Loudis.

Board members invited to this conference include the following heads of local boards: C. Albert George, Chesapeake City, Md.; N. E. Ford, Bear, Murray Cameron, North East, Md.; Frank Quay, R. F. D. 4, Elkton, Md.; Charles Rausch, Townsend; Harry Rhodes, Oxford, Pa.; Glenn McGrady, Rising Sun, Md., and Irvin G. Klair, Marshallton.

FARMERS WEEK AT DELAWARE COLLEGE

7 Farm Enterprises Studied At Session

Delaware farmers last week showed once more their solid interest in improving their knowledge and methods of agricultural production, says G. L. Schuster, Dean of the School of Agriculture of the University of Delaware. In spite of busy times, transportation, shortages, and bad weather, they turned out in good number for the Farmers' Week program.

And they get what they went for — a concentrated capsule of the best and most recent information on scientific but practical production of Delaware's seven most important agricultural enterprises — eggs, broilers, dairy, turkey, peach, apple and vegetable. A full day's program was devoted to each so that farmers were able to get the entire program on any particular crop in one day.

Total attendance for the week was between 300 and 350.

The dairying program drew the largest crowds — about 75. In addition to the fact that concentrated areas of this enterprise are nearer Newark than most of the others, dairy products are still the most important war food on which the demand is still much greater than the supply — and dairymen wanted to know how to meet the need.

However, in spite of extremely unfavorable weather, there was a good crowd on Monday to hear the egg production program and one Tuesday, still in bad weather, attendance increased.

The Farmers' Week program was presented cooperatively by the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service, Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station, and the School of Agriculture at the University of Delaware.

Inaugural Saturday Briefest In History

Simplicity and brevity that will mark President Roosevelt's fourth inauguration Saturday was exemplified today in a White House announcement that his inaugural address will last only five minutes or less.

The entire ceremony, according to the announcement, will last only 20 minutes, making the inauguration one of the briefest and simplest of presidential inaugurations in the history of the United States.

Stephen T. Early, presidential secretary, said that the President has expressed a wish that the inaugural be as brief as possible because of the war.

"THE TIME FOR DECISION"

Former Under Secretary of State Sumner Welles' new book, "The Time for Decision," has just appeared. It rationalizes past actions of the State Department, including relations with various French leaders, and gives an authentic review of inception and carrying out of the Good Neighbor policy in Latin America.

Mr. Welles does not approve of a four-power pact in connection with international security and peace plans, feeling it would be dictatorial in the view of smaller countries.

EASING UP ON RATIONING

There is every reason to believe that the Government will ease up on its food rationing very shortly after the collapse of Germany. Authentic information indicates that there are large food surpluses, and Washington reports indicate that the War Food Administration stocks now total approximately 2 million tons, that reserves for the armed forces are several times that figure, and that Lend-Lease food stocks abroad total 4 to 6 million tons. Eighty-five per cent of the meats previously rationed have been taken off, because there is plenty of meat.

Besides, there will be a full harvest of food crops in the United States, while the countries in Europe that are being freed are reported to be in position to provide astonishing volumes of food for themselves. The end of food rationing will save a lot of profanity at the grocery and meat counters and in housewives' kitchens.

At the same time there is every reason to expect that there will be more gas and rubber as soon as the war is over.

All of these questions that have been handled exclusively by the Executive branch of the Government are gradually coming under the direction of Congress. That is a healthy condition, which is apt to lead to better results.

Wallace is out of the picture. Byrnes is still sore because he didn't get the Vice Presidential nomination; the "palace guards" have had their day.

TOMORROW'S FARMERS

As farming becomes daily more intricate from the standpoint of production and marketing, which includes the knowledge of what to plant, how to plant, when to plant and where and how to sell the crop, it is important that young people who will be our future food producers, have a wider knowledge of these subjects than ever before.

With these thoughts in mind, the "Young Cooperators" of the Dairymen's League Co-operative Association, was started in 1940 in Cattaraugus County, New York. Part of their pledge is to help preserve the freedom of agriculture, to help produce clean, wholesome milk with greater efficiency, to take pride in their occupation, and to be ever conscious of its importance to our nation's cause.

In training these young people in the fundamentals of their future business, the Dairymen's League has set an example which more industries might follow with profit.

WILL IT RUN?

Every automobile owner in the country has had impressed upon him the importance of caring for his car as a valued asset. The cars keep the country going.

There are all kinds of cars in the nation's automobile population. One of the most important is the fire engine. Fire department officials should be mindful of the added responsibility placed upon them to do everything possible toward maintaining equipment in A-1 shape. This is especially true of pumpers. There are few things more important than the maintenance of pumping equipment. The first consideration of every fire department should be a periodic checking up of every part of a pumper. In normal times this might be a once or twice a year job, depending upon the amount of service, but today, with the delays in obtaining even small repair parts, it should be carried out more frequently. At least every three months connection should be made to a hydrant, and city water pressure applied to the pump and connections. Leaks should be repaired immediately.

Fire fighting equipment is like a life boat on a ship. If it is not ready for instant service, it is worse than useless. A burning building or a drowning man need help but once. If it is not at hand they'll never need it again.

The fire engine is the lifeboat of the community. It must be ready.

DOCTOR SHORTAGE PAYS OFF

In the past, when great battles were fought, loss of life was multiplied tenfold because lack of prompt and adequate medical care for the wounded. But in the present war the story has been different. Even yet the full account of the achievements of medicine on "D-Day" has not been impressed upon the country.

One correspondent reports that within forty-five minutes after the first troops landed on the shores of France, a medical unit was on the beachhead picking up casualties, while in the background a landing craft was being converted into an operating theatre.

During the first day, twenty-two major operations were performed by this single unit. From dawn on "D-Day" until four o'clock in the afternoon, the unit remained on the beach. Blood plasma had been landed and transfusions made from mobile equipment.

Fifty thousand American doctors are in the armed forces. Everyone of them is a trained expert at the business of saving lives. At last those civilians who have had to linger in crowded waiting rooms to secure the attention of the overworked doctors on the home front, can see the reason for the inconvenience thrust upon them.

DELAWARE FARM FRONT THIS WEEK

Egg Production Goal Revised To 4350 Million Doz.

In view of additional needs that have developed for eggs and State recommendations, the national egg production goal has been revised to 4,350 million dozen from the preliminary goal of 3,290 million dozen. Normal production from estimated on 475 million hens on farms on January 1 would equal this revised 1945 goal.

This goal of 4,350 million dozen eggs—while slightly less than 1944 record production—should provide 347 eggs for each civilian in 1945, which is equal to record consumption in 1944 and an increase of 49 eggs over pre-war 1935-36 average consumption. It also would provide for all military requirements for shell eggs and for military and lend-lease needs for dried eggs from 1945 production. About 125 million pounds of dried eggs carried over from surplus 1944 egg production are available to meet the balance of the lend-lease program.

On the basis of prospective needs for eggs in 1945, as nearly as they can now be determined, number of chicks raised for flock replacement purposes in 1945 should be about the same as in 1944. Attention has been directed to importance of early hatched chicks which give better returns to poultrymen, furnish more eggs in fall and early winter when egg production is seasonally low, and help minimize surpluses during the normal flush production period of spring. The number of early hatched chicks should, therefore, be maintained at a level at least as high as last year.

County war food goals meetings have been scheduled jointly by the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service and the State AAA to discuss county goals and the various problems and aids for farmers in meeting these goals. These meetings, in which county representatives of all agricultural agencies will be asked to participate, will be held January 23 in New Castle County, January 24 in Kent County, and January 25 in Sussex County.

The recent order to re-examine men of the 18 to 25 age group now deferred for farm work is based on the greater need of the Armed Forces over agriculture for men in this age group. In this recheck, however, local board will still follow the Tydings Amendment to the Selective Service Act which provides for deferment of men found by the boards to be (1) necessary to an agricultural occupation or endeavor; (2) regularly engaged in that agricultural activity; (3) engaged in agricultural occupation or endeavor essential to the war effort; (4) irreplaceable.

Induction of any substantial number of deferred farm men is bound to make the agricultural manpower situation in 1945 more serious than it was last year. From a level of 30,260,000 in January, 1940 farm population has decreased in the last four years by 4,748,000 persons, or 15.7 per cent. Agriculture, if you include people who were living on but not working on farms, already has an estimated 1,650,000 in armed forces, and has supplied 2,500,000 men and women workers in industry. In the 1940 census, average age of farm operators in U. S. was found to be 48, and it undoubtedly is higher today. With fewer young men in the labor force than ever, with operators and retired workers who had come back to farms to help out during war growing older, with supply of experienced workers further reduced, and with farm machinery one year older and still hard to replace, agriculture will have a real struggle meeting production goals this year.

Tire ration certificates dated March 31, 1944, and earlier have been invalidated by OPA. Any person whose certificate is invalidated by this action can reapply to his local War Price and Rationing Board. It is also no longer necessary for an applicant to present a certificate of War Necessity when applying for tires for commercial vehicle.

Less than one-fourth of the motor trucks estimated as needed to meet essential war and civilian transportation requirements during 1945 will be produced and distributed to commercial operators, ODT estimates. Users of light trucks are warned by the ODT that the small number of vehicles that will be available and growing age of vehicles now in service will make conservation and preventive maintenance measures more necessary than ever.

More than 5,200 people were killed during the first three years of the war in skidding accidents, says the National Safety Council.

DELAWARE 4-H CLUBS REPORT FOR 1944

Delaware 4-H clubs have lost—or loaned, rather, because their letters show they are still club members at heart—hundreds of members to the Armed Forces and wartime industries, but it has not dampened the spirit of the remaining younger boys and girls in doing their work. As a matter of fact, the present enrollment of 1615 active members are working harder than ever to get the war over and bring back the rest of their members, as evidenced by a recent report of C. E. McCauley, county club agent supervisor for the Delaware Agricultural Extension Service.

Through their regular club projects, these youth are not only learning how to use scientific methods in farming and home making—they are doing an all-out job of wartime agricultural production as well. In 1944 alone they produced $11,657.33 in crops—including corn, potatoes, and truck crops. Their projects in poultry and poultry products topped all the others with returns of $21,312.14, with garden products (many of them provide the vegetables for the entire family) following closely with a value of $21,436.90. They canned almost $7000 worth of food.

Their dairy and dairy products—most essential of all war foods—amounted to $8,396.04. Swine and swine products were worth $9,540.65. And they constructed or re-made clothing valued at $3,023.26.

They did not stop at their regular project work, through but not several direct war jobs. During 4th and 5th war loan drives they bought or sold to other people $112,021.75 worth of bonds and stamps. And in their spare time—that is, besides school work, helping out in their labor-saving farm homes, and carrying on their project work—they collected 236 pounds of paper, 800 pounds of tin, 8000 tin cans, and 200 pounds of scrap drives.

And one of their goals for 1945 is "promoting activities of value in winning the war." One 4-H club and girls know the war is over—they are strictly against student

Anything appearing in this column is purely the opinion of the writer and does not express the views or policy of the paper. Any exceptions should be taken up with the writer.

The old home town had the heaviest snow fall of the year Tuesday and the trees and bushes took on a picture-book aspect. Well, that kind of stuff would have been front page news 25 years ago but after looking at recent issues of the paper, I guess it is out at news in these modern days and times.

It would be much better to devote several columns to just what the motorists said when their cars got stuck and they had to get out and dig in the snow to get them started.

We read in the Wilmington papers all about those poor people who are being subjected to the annoyance of being presented with some kind of tickets for acting as free American citizens and crossing the streets just any old place they choose. After a while the old-time question of Liberty will only be a memory.

What right has one person to say just where another can cross the street? That kind of a law might be all right in Wilmington but we farmers way out here in the sticks can't be bothered with fantastic things as that I guess we hayseeds will continue crossing the streets just any old place we can.

Those fellows at the meat counter at the American Stores are really fine chaps. A certain newspaper reporter was helping himself to sliced cheese the other day and Earl Cunningham who always takes pity on those who are hungrier than he is opened a box of crackers and told the fellow that he could have another piece of cheese and some crackers to make a sandwich.

Sureshot received an illustrated folder from Town Supervisor George E. Ramsey this week describing Hot Springs National Park, Arkansas. The pictures in the folder are very beautiful and we certainly envy Mr. Ramsey being in such a nice warm place, while we folks back here in Newark are wading through the deepest snow of the winter.

The pictures show the streets lined with Magnolia trees and there is one picture showing a swimming pool lined with bathing beauties.

The local Legion Post is reported to have put on a fine show for the veterans at the Perry Point Hospital last Sunday. The Newark artists who were featured on the program was headed by the "Moonlight Serenaders." Having to listen to that group of musicians would make anyone feel better or worse. Then there was Janet Godwin who is quite a TAP DANCER. She is very good. The next on the program were vocal solos by Joan Ross and Rae McMullen. Two finer vocalists than those two ladies could not be found off the legitimate stage. Joan Ross was accompanied in her solos by Lynette Steinouer and Rae McMullen was accompanied on the piano by her mother, Mrs. Lettie McMullen. (If it had been an eating contest Rae would have been accompanied by T. Raymond. Then that cute Viola Pollari girl played several accordion numbers.

The next on the program was Newark's famous TRUMPET TRIO composed of Jay Steinouer, Harlan Tweed and Burton Schaeen. When this TRIO gets started the girls would not even take the time to listen to Frank Sinatra. With all the local talent available I can't see for the life of me why some people go so crazy about some of the would-be artists that are brought to Newark. AND — there are some people in Newark who will spend a lot of money to go hear some of those European artists. If some of the movie scouts ever hear about the highly talented youngsters we have right here in Newark some of these kids will soon be famous.

Anyone of those boys in the trumpet trio is much better than Harry James, the fellow who married Betty Grable. When the Moonlight Serenaders are as good as some of those BIG NAME bands. All they need is a good publicity man. A writeup in the Newark Post would have their name in BRIGHT LIGHTS.

NEWARK HIGH TEAM DROPS HARD FOUGHT GAME TO P. S. DUPONT ON HOME COURT

Bad First Period Responsible For Yellowjacket Defeat; Brandon Davis Score Four Action Shots And One From Foul Stripe In Final Quarter

A bad first quarter was responsible for the defeat of the Newark High School basketball team last Friday night on the local court as the strong P. S. duPont combine tallied 29 points to the Black and Gold score of 21 points.

In Merchant Marine

Robert William Bland

Robert William Bland, son of Mrs. Lucy Bland of 48 Thompson Circle, George Read Village is now stationed at Sheepshead Bay, Long Island, in the Merchant Marine Service.

He enlisted in the Maritime Service last November and about two weeks ago was transferred to the Merchant Marine Service and has been assigned for instruction in the school for cooks and bakers.

Robert was born at Rencoeville, West Virginia and attended the public schools at that place until moving to Newark with his mother and sister, Elaine, about 18 months ago. He was employed at the Pussey & Jones Shipbuilding Company in Wilmington before enlisting in the service.

DOG TAGS NOW ON SALE

Dog taxes for the year 1945 are now due and may be secured at the office of J. H. Rumer, magistrate, located in the town council building. Dog taxes are due the first of the year and must be paid before the first day of March to save a penalty.

The Dynamiters chalked up 13 points against three for the Newark team in the first period. Bob McKenry was the lone scorer in this frame, scoring once from action and again from the foul stripe.

The second period found both teams playing cautiously with the result that only two points were scored. Each team notched one point from the foul line. The score at the end of the half was 14 to 4 in favor of the Dynahs.

Newark did little to better its position in the third stanza, collecting but two points while the P. S. duPont aggregation added five, bringing the score to 19 to 6.

Facing a rout, the local five went to town in the last quarter. Bracing, as Brandon Davis scored 10 points from his guard post, the Newark youths snared 15 markers for the hottest scoring of the evening. Against this, P. S. duPont rang up 10, enough to hold and cement the early lead.

In the preliminary the P. S. duPont Jay Vees also were victorious, downing Newark's Jay Vees, 26 to 18, in game sparked by the hard work of the opposing guards. Although defeated, the Newark Jay Vees presented the contest's high scorers in Robert Gregg and Don Griffin who picked up nine points each.

Gallaudet of Washington handed the University of Delaware basketball team a 47 to 36 defeat in Blue Hens' court opener in the Field House on Saturday night. While this was the first game for the home team it was the tenth game for the Washington team and made five wins and five losses for the visitors.

The Blue and Gold combine tipped the visitors by two points in the third period but were outscored 19 to 7 in the final frame.

Newell Duncan was the scoring ace for the Delaware combine accounting for four action shots and seven from the foul stripe for a total of 15 points. Roy Holcomb, a boy from Austin, Texas, was the high scorer for Gallaudet and won game honors with seven field goals and two free tosses for 19 points.

SOLID FUEL SITUATION EXTREMELY SERIOUS

Consumers Urged To Keep Thermostats
At 68 Degrees

Delaware's solid fuel supply situation is as serious as the national picture outlined by War Mobilizer James F. Byrnes, it was pointed out yesterday by Leon Walker, solid fuels administrator for Delaware, who said coal dealers in this state are virtually without stocks and are relying on day to day shipments.

Byrnes appealed to all consumers to turn their thermostats down to 68 degrees, and also ordered a black-out of all outdoor advertising lights.

As the cold wave continued, coal and fuel oil firms were flooded with orders. The fuel oil dealers are anticipating a rush of orders when the new rationing coupon period begins on Monday.

Mr. Walker cautioned all to take every means to conserve their present supply and also to be willing to accept whatever useable coal, coke, briquettes, or other alternative fuels is available to meet their emergency needs.

Mr. Walker further stated that due to the lack of production, dealers have practically exhausted their stocks and must take whatever sizes are shipped to them on account of their quota and consumers must in turn accept such sizes of anthracite or other alternative fuels which may reasonably be used in their heating equipment.

At the present time, there is no possible chance of householders receiving more than the 87 1-2 per cent of normal annual requirements which was determined last spring by the solid fuels administrator for war as the maximum amount they could expect to receive during the current coal year.

"As a matter of fact, serious consideration is now being given to the necessity of a further substantial reduction in this percentage," he warned. "This can only mean that if consumers do not sparingly use what coal they now have, they will have difficulty in getting additional supplies during the remainder of the winter. Furthermore, consumers must not wait until they are practically out of coal and then expect immediate delivery. They should at least give 10 days or two weeks notice to their dealers of their needs."

Gallup Poll Cleared Of Politics Charge

The Gallup poll was cleared recently of charges that political motives influenced its 1944 Presidential election forecasts but the scientific validity of its methods was questioned.

A four-man panel of government statisticians found that political considerations had nothing to do with Dr. George Gallup's under-estimate of President Roosevelt's polling strength. The panel was asked to look into the matter by the House campaign investigating committee.

Gallup, head of the American Institute of Public Opinion, predicted a smaller popular edge for the President than samples indicated. He explained to the committee that an adjustment was made because he anticipated a light vote which usually is favorable to Republican candidates.

The panel reported that the institute "sincerely tried to use scientific methods in its 1944 election polls, and, to achieve greater accuracy, introduced other non-polling indications of party preference which involved use of judgment and interpretation."

6,500 Make Estimated Income Tax Payments

Approximately 6,500 of the 20,000 federal taxpayers in Delaware have made federal estimated income tax payments for the last three months of 1944. Collector Norman Collison of the District of Delaware, U. S. Bureau of Internal Revenue, said this week. About $2,000,000 of such payments have been made at the district offices since Jan. 1, he said. A rush is expected today, Saturday, and Monday, the final day, filing returns and amending their 1944 estimated returns.

Of the 6,500 persons who have paid fourth quarterly installments, 2,000 have filed their final 1944 income tax return instead of filing an amended 1944 estimated return. It was announced. Those filing final 1944 income tax returns are also filing their estimated 1945 income tax return simultaneously, thus saving another visit to the office.

LESSON-SERMON

"Life" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon of First Church of Christ, Scientist, at 1201 Van Buren Street, Wilmington, Delaware on Sunday, Jan. 21, 1945.

A. A. Curtis

Curtis, son of Frederick and then a young civil engineer in the Middle West, joined them here and was soon made superintendent of the plant.

Mr. Curtis received his education at Newark Academy and at the Polytechnic College in Philadelphia, from which he was graduated as a civil engineer. He was employed as an engineer in the construction of the Pittsburgh-Conellville Railroad and on an extension of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad in Chicago.

He took his place in the paper mill three years after his graduation from college.

Mr. Curtis became president of the company in 1911 when the company was reorganized and incorporated under the title of Curtis and Brother, Inc., with his son, F. Lindsey Curtis as secretary-treasurer. The son died in 1922.

In addition to his activities with the paper company, Mr. Curtis had been officially identified with the Farmers Trust Company, having served as its president and in other official capacities. He always retained his interest in Newark affairs. He was formerly a senior warden of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church, Newark.

He was a member of the Sons of the American Revolution through his grandfather, Zebulon Hooker, who served under General Washington.

His wife was the former Sarah Lindsey of Newark, daughter of Samuel Lindsey, a former of near Newark. They had only one child, Frederick Lindsey Curtis, who was associated with his father until his death in 1922. Mrs. Curtis, who died some years ago, was active in civic and social affairs in Newark and was one of the founders of the Newark Century Club.

Mr. Curtis had the distinction of being the "one man in a million" who outlived an ordinary life insurance policy. Last May 8 he was paid in full the face value of his policy which had been in effect 68 years. As far as insurance is concerned, 96 years is the limit of a lifetime. Mr. Curtis was 96 years old in October.

Funeral services will be held at 1 o'clock Friday at his late residence on West Main Street, followed by additional services at 2 o'clock at St. Thomas' Episcopal Church where he once served as senior warden.

Interment will be in Wilmington and Brandywine Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral parlors of R. T. Jones, Newark, from 7 to 9 o'clock Thursday night and at his home in West Main Street after 9 o'clock Friday morning.

3-In-1 Farm Machine To Be Manufactured

Joseph W. Frazer, chairman of Graham-Paige Motors Corp., has announced that his company has acquired manufacturing rights to rototiller, a farm implement that does the work of plowing, disking and harrowing in one operation. Graham-Paige will produce it as the first of a line of special farm equipment as soon as materials are available, Frazer said.

The implement, he explained, "employs the first new principle developed for seed-bed preparation in many years. It thoroughly crumbles the ground to a depth of 12 inches or less by means of rotating tines, or edge tools, which help propel the machine by their clawing action. This procedure is the opposite of the anchor effect produced by a plow, disk or harrow."
