A Ray of Hope

This week's developments on the "grade crossing front" reveal a possibility on the horizon that becomes a ray of hope for those vitally interested in this problem.

As you will no doubt have gleaned from the news columns, W. W. Mack, Chief Engineer of the State Highway Department, has already given the Federal Government information concerning some sixteen grade crossings which might be eliminated for the safety of those using the highways.

Not only would this program be beneficial from this point of view, but it is also estimated that it would furnish 2,669,499 man hours for the unemployed, or, in other words, employ some 1330 men for a full year with a forty-hour week. At any rate it would mean the removal of a great body of able-bodied men and their families from the relief rolls, whose funds are so precariously low.

It is interesting to note that Newark's two most serious grade crossing menaces have been listed as two of the four most dangerous in the entire state. This rating was determined both by Chief Engineer Mack and the Delaware Safety Council.

And so we have a ray of hope. However, should this fine plan fall through, we'll be right back where we started from, with the added advantage that the time when the roaring streamlined trains will thunder down tracks through the heart of our town will be so much closer.

Surely some action can be taken to assure the State and Federal governments that the need for alleviation of the grade crossing danger is greater than just the need for another work-relief project. It is something far more vital than that.

Preparations should be made for carrying through this idea even should the possibility of Federal aid be not realized. It is up to the citizenry of Newark through the Town Council and their various service and social organizations to crystallize public opinion on this point and go on record as definitely demanding action.

Thus, if the government should decide not to go ahead with the plan as now proposed, we shall be prepared to forge forward and make a definite demand of the railroads—a demand that they remove this menace to our lives and welfare—a demand that will brook no compromise—a demand to Eliminate Grade Crossings in Newark.

Grantland Resigns As Secretary Of State

Secretary of State Charles H. Grantland has resigned his office, according to an announcement by Governor C. Douglass Buck. The Secretary gave ill-health as his reason for leaving office, and the resignation is to be effective at the pleasure of the Governor.

Mr. Grantland was appointed as Secretary of State by Governor Buck upon the latter's inauguration in January, 1929. He had previously served in the same office under Governor Robinson from March, 1927, and as assistant secretary from January of that year. He was very seriously ill a few years ago.

Mr. Grantland could not be found at his office today for any further comment.

Plan Elimination of Grade Crossing Menace

ENROLLMENT AT UNIVERSITY IS 749 THIS YEAR

Other Important Announcements Made By Hullihen To Board of Trustees

Dr. Walter L. Hullihen, president of the University of Delaware, reported to the Board of Trustees at their regular semi-annual meeting last Saturday that the total enrollment is now 749, of which number 468 are enrolled in Delaware College, and 281 in the Women's College which includes 19 special and graduate students. Of the total only 112 in the two colleges are from outside the State. This leaves 637 Delaware students in the university and of that number 357 registered from Wilmington. Commenting on the enrollment Dr. Hullihen says:

"Delaware College shows a gain of 12; five in arts and science; one in engineering, though there is an increase of fourteen in the freshman class in engineering as compared with the freshman class of last year; and six in agriculture, which is proportionately a much larger gain than in any other department, being a gain of 23 per cent.

"In the Women's College the loss is one less than the increase in Delaware College leaving a net gain of one in the university as a whole.

Dr. Gould Promoted

Dr. J. S. Gould, associate professor and acting head of the Department of Economics was promoted to the rank of full professor on recommendation of the committee on instruction. Dr. Gould most of last year was in Washington on special work in connection with the NRA having been loaned to the government by the university.

Dr. W. O. Sypher head of the Department of English was granted a leave of absence for the second semester for special study work.

HEIM HONORED BY COLLEAGUES AT PITTSBURGH

State Vocational Education Director Chosen Vice- President Of Group

At the Annual Convention of the National Association of State Directors of Vocational Education held in Pittsburgh last Monday and Tuesday, R. W. Heim, State Director for Vocational Education, was elected vice-president. Mr. S. E. Patrick, State Director of Vocational Education in Augusta, Me., who served as vice-president of the association during the past year was elected president for the year 1935-1936, and Mr. William Kerr, State director for Boise, Ida., was elected secretary-treasurer. The meeting next year will be held in Chicago, prior to the annual convention of the American Vocational Association.

Professor Heim has in the past been a member of the board of directors of the organization. This is the first Vocational Convention which the director has been able to attend for several years, because of the complicated work connected with the various positions he holds in the State.

This year he was able to attend the convention only because Carlton Garrison, a Senior in the School of Agricultural Education, took over his classes in his absence.

Other Delawareans at the American Association of Vocational Education, also held in Pittsburgh were: A. B. Anderson, of Wilmington, director of the Trades and Industries division; Lyle W. Mowlds, of Dover; superintendent of the agricultural education division; and Miss Marion Breck, of Dover, superintendent of the home economics division.

"IDEAL NEWARK A POSSIBILITY"— WOMEN'S CLUB

Christmas Party And First Anniversary Celebration Pleases Guests

Stating the object of their civic activity as helping to make Newark the ideal town to live in, members of the Newark Business Women's Club celebrated the first anniversary of the club on Tuesday evening at the Delaware Tea House. For this occasion the regular supper meeting was made festive by the presence of invited guests, by Christmas decorations, by the singing of carols and by a special item on the menu, the latter being individual birthday cakes, each bearing one diminutive candle. When these were about to be served with the dessert, electric lights, except those on the Christmas tree, were turned off for a few moments while members and guests enjoyed the fairyland effect of the many tiny candles. Though the room was well filled with members and guests, the president, Mrs. Anna D. Justis, said in her opening greeting that being born in December made it difficult to get attention on one's birthday, and that a number of those invited and of the members, also, had not been able to come because of other responsibilities pertaining to the holiday season. Letters of regret with greetings to the club from Mrs. Macdonough Cloward and Miss (Continued on Page 3.)

Santa Claus Here Again This Saturday

Santa Claus will again greet the kiddies of Newark Saturday. He will make his headquarters at Rhodes Drug Store from 2 to 5 o'clock.

SATURDAY, 22 NEW DATE FOR LION'S DINNER

Warden W. N. Foust Speaker At Weekly Meeting, Also Addresses Legion

The Lions Club Annual Christmas dinner to a group of Newark boys has had its date changed from Christmas Eve to Saturday, December 22. It will be given at five o'clock in the Deer Park Hotel. A limit of 50 has been set on the number to be invited, and these boys will be selected by the teachers of the Newark school from the various grades. The dinner will be arranged by the Den and Dinner and Welfare Committees of the club, headed by Wayne Brewer and D. A. McClintock, respectively.

The club, followed its usual custom, will also send a holiday treat to the colored school, to be distributed before the Christmas vacation begins.

Warden At Two Meetings

A. E. Tomhave was in charge of this week's meeting and he introduced Warden W. N. Foust, of the Lancaster county prison, Lancaster, Pa. The Warden spoke on the difficulties encountered. He brought along a case of exhibits which he called "headaches." They included hooks and rope ladders for scaling walls, and similar home-made devices for escaping from jail. He also exhibited belts and other equipment used by prisoners in suicide attempts. After his talk before the Lions, he also spoke before the American Legion.

MOTHERS GIVE FOOTBALL TEAM TURKEY DINNER

Members of Newark High Feted In Honor of Splendid Season

Forty-two members of the football squad were feted by the committee of mothers Monday evening in the high school cafeteria.

Toastmaster honors were shared by Mr. Douglass and Mr. Gillespie.

Short talks were given by Dr. Downes, Mr. E. L. Richards of the school board, Neil Stahley coach at Delaware, Jack Daly, captain; Ray Smith, captain elect, and G. P. Doherty graduate manager of athletics at Delaware who awarded the letters to letter winners. Sixteen boys including the Manager George Zebly received awards at this time.

The dinner was wonderfully prepared and the boys and guests finally had to admit that they had enough.

Freshmen and Sophomores Battle Before Yearlings Get To Enjoy Their Banquet

Despite efforts to kidnap Frederick Kane, president of the freshman class of the University of Delaware, and the treasurer, Nathan Goberman, and a series of free-for-all fights, the freshmen succeeded in eluding their traditional foes, the sophomores, and holding their annual banquet in Philadelphia, last night, without being interrupted.

The first attempt to kidnap Kane was made yesterday morning but he eluded them and went to Wilmington where he took refuge in the home of a classmate, Martin Howard, at 22nd and Jefferson streets. He was located there by the sophs, 16 strong, who congregated outside. Three were invited in to dinner and a policeman was called who held off the sophs while Howard and Kane fled through a rear door and returned to Newark, where they hid in the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity house.

Plans were then made for Howard to drive his car to a window of the frat house. While the sophs were engaged in overpowering Howard and disconnecting the engine of his car, Kane leaped from another window, ran down the street and leaped on the running board of a car driven by a young woman. Explaining his plight she allowed him to get inside as a soph also leaped aboard. At Chapel street both were ordered from the machine and the pursuing sophs and frosh again lined up for a fight.

Have Battle Royal

During the melee, Howard, having fixed his car, again found Kane, and drove to Philadelphia while the sophs and frosh engaged in another pitched battle in the rear of the administration building where they were rapidly stripping the clothing from each other when Dean George E. Dutton broke up the fight.

Escorted from Newark to the state line by a state policeman, the freshmen reached the banquet hall without being discovered and the banquet was finished by the time the sophomores learned the place it was served. They arrived as the freshmen were about to leave.

Police Eject Foes

Balked at this point the sophomores hurried to the theatre at Tenth and Arch streets, where they passed themselves off as freshmen and took the seats reserved for their foes. When the latter, traveling via subway where they preempted two cars and refused to allow other passengers to enter or leave, reached the theatre, they found their seats occupied. A policeman was called and the sophs were ousted and were forced to purchase tickets to re-enter. Before being admitted they were searched and ripe eggs, over-ripe oranges and bags of flour were confiscated.

J. NIVIN ELECTED NEW TREASURER POMONA GRANGE

Resolutions Passed Against Child Labor Amendment and Sales Tax

John Nivin, of Newark, was elected treasurer of Pomona Grange at the quarterly meeting held in the Methodist Church last Thursday afternoon. Other officers elected were: Frank Megginson, Rose Hill, master; Paul Mitchell, Harmony, overseer; Miss Agnes Megginson, Rose Hill, lecturer; Harvey E. Gregg, Newport, steward; Horace Woodward, Centerville, assistant steward; Miss Ethel Brackin, Harmony, chaplain; Mrs. Agnes Way, Centerville, secretary; Claude C. Brooks, Glasgow, gatekeeper; Miss Carrie Clark, West Brandywine, Ceres; Mrs. Orlean Gladish, Stanton, Pomona; Mrs. J. Stanley Correll, Glasgow, Flora; Miss Grace Yearsley, Hockessin, lady assistant steward.

Members of the executive committee elected are: Mrs. Mary B. Eastburn, Avondale; Neal Gladish, Stanton; Frank Yearsley, Hockessin; Walter B. Carpenter, Centerville; Benjamin W. P. Hicks, Harmony; Pusey Passmore, Talleyville; Edward Megginson, Rose Hill; Edward T. Weir, Newport; John Nivin, Newark; Claude C. Brooks, Glasgow.

Oppose Child Labor Amendment

The Grange adopted resolutions opposing the proposed child labor amendment to the constitution, opposing any sales tax, opposing any plan to provide cash payments to those on relief and favoring a resident's fishing and gunning license.

The resolution on the relief question advocates that Delaware unemployed continue to be provided with the present form of relief rather than any cash payments. Copies of the resolution will be sent to Governor Buck and the present relief administration. The resolution was at first (Continued on Page 3.)

FEDERAL GRANT MAY SOON END THESE HAZARDS

Government Seeks Information On 16 Grade Crossings; Newark's Among First

Newark's two most dangerous grade crossings are included in a group of four named by Chief Engineer Mack and President W. D. Smith of the Safety Council as the worst in the State. The other two are the one on the causeway south of Wilmington and the Elsmere Junction Crossing. They are being discussed as a result of a statement by Mr. Mack in which he indicates the possibility of a two and a half million dollar program for eliminating grade crossings in Delaware.

Mr. Mack, chief engineer of the Highway Department, said Sunday his department had already furnished to Federal authorities a list of 16 grade crossings in which bids could be advertised for within 30 days.

The estimated cost of these projects would be $2,651,000 and would furnish 2,669,499 man hours of work for the unemployed.

Will Make Re-Survey

At the same time, Walter Dent Smith, president of the Delaware Safety Council, disclosed that the Council is preparing to re-survey the state's grade crossing situation to bring up to date the information gathered during a survey by the Council a few years ago. This work will be done by a committee under Dr. C. M. A. Stine and the information doubtless will be available for the Federal program.

The information supplied by the Highway Department to the Federal government was sent in reply to a lengthy telegram received two months ago, Mr. Mack said.

Must Be Financed By Govt.

He pointed out that the program would have to be financed entirely by the Federal government. The State, he said, is in no position to lay out large sums for such work just at present. He said he does not believe the Federal funds for grade crossing elimination would be deducted from the fund granted annually to the State for road construction.

Delaware is comparatively in good condition as far as this question is concerned, Mr. Mack said, explaining that most of the main highways are parallel to the principal railroad lines passing through Delaware. However, he said, it is recognized there is a need for eliminating the crossings that remain and the Highway Department no doubt would be in full accord with such a program, which would give the State a clean bill of health in the matter.

INTERVIEW 200 PROSPECTS IN TOWN CANVASS

No Definite Information Until Return Trip; Very Great Interest Shown

The Newark Better Housing Program is off to a good start according to Col. Donald M. Ashbridge, chairman of the committee in charge of the house to house canvass. Col. Ashbridge stated that nearly 200 Newark home owners had been interviewed. Although no definite information will be obtained until the canvassers make their return visit the indications are that the proposed renovations will total to sizable proportions. The canvass is not progressing as fast as was anticipated because many of those interviewed are asking many questions which increase the time of the interview. This, of course, added Col. Ashbridge, is a wholesome situation.

The recent cold weather is adding much to the interest of the people of Newark in the plan. The people have become more mindful of the importance of keeping the warm air in and the cold air out. Many houses are about effective in this respect as a sieve.

One home owner interviewed told the canvasser that he could be quoted in saying that insulating and equipping his house with storm windows and storm doors has been a wonderful thing in reducing his fuel bill and adding to the comfort of his house.

defeated but was then reconsidered and adopted by a close vote.

Against Sales Tax
After the resolution opposing a sales tax was adopted some of the members expressed the view that it had not been given sufficient consideration and it was understood that the question will again be brought up when the county grange meets at Hockessin in March. The resolution acted on yesterday will probably also be considered by the State Grange at a meeting next week in Dover.

The resolution advocating that the Legislature pass a law providing for a resident's license fee is understood to be advocated by the members of the State Fish and Game Commission. There was such a law a few years ago but it became unpopular and was repealed. Since then a similar bill has been introduced in the Legislature on several occasions but was always defeated.

Another resolution adopted suggests a law making compulsory regular tests for Bang's disease in cattle. The recommendation that all agricultural organizations in the State be asked to send delegates to a meeting at which a satisfactory State agricultural program would be outlined, was made by the legal committee.

Tarumianz Is Speaker

Dr. M. A. Tarumianz, superintendent of the Delaware State Hospital at Farnhurst was the guest speaker. His topic was the importance of mental health. He said the maintenance of a normal life is an utmost necessity, and pointed out that one in every 26 persons suffers from a mental disease.

CLASSES DROP ENMITY TO AID HURT STUDENT

Freshman-Sophomores Unite To Pay Hospital Bill Of Robert Jamison

A petition was signed by members of the Freshman and Sophomore classes at the U. of D. and sent to Mr. A. G. Wilkinson, business administrator, asking that all expenses resulting from the injury of Robert Jamison, Jr., of Wilmington, who received a broken leg while playing in the football game between the sophomore and freshman classes several weeks ago, be charged to the contingent deposits of the members of the two classes. Each class is expected to contribute $125.

At the time this paper went to press, no action had as yet been taken on the matter by Mr. Wilkinson.

Jamison was taken to the Wilmington General Hospital, where it was found that he had a spiral fracture of the leg. His leg was set but due to the fact that it healed wrong the doctor found it necessary to rebreak and reset it. This will probably necessitate his remaining in the hospital for at least two more weeks. As soon as his condition permits, Jamison is to be brought to the Power Hospital in Newark.

May Close Commons

Reports submitted to the board show that students are not patronizing the Commons in sufficient numbers to warrant keeping them open much longer unless more take their meals there. The Commons were closed a couple of years ago and then reopened again on request of students. The board cannot afford to operate the Commons at a loss and it is possible they will again be closed.

Foreign Study

Dr. Hultihen in his semi-annual report also discusses the matter of closing the department of foreign study in Germany under the University of Delaware plan. In this connection he said:

"The department in Munich, Germany, has been discontinued. Decision to this effect was reached of the unsettled and unsatisfactory conditions in Germany and Central Europe following the so-called 'purge' in Germany and the later upheaval in Austria that resulted in the assassination of Dollfuss; also because of the murder of the director of the 'Studentenhaus,' in which our headquarters were located, and the resulting flight to this country of his nephew, who was our assistant director, made continuance of the work undesirable in spite of assurances of every kind of assistance given us by the government when it was learned that the department was likely to be discontinued.

"The work in France is continuing though on a severely reduced scale. The economic situation in this country and the adverse exchange rate, which has increased the cost to the student by more than half of what it was formerly, have combined to reduce the number in the group in France this year to thirty-four, the smallest number in many years. It has also necessitated giving up the building at 14 rue de la Glaciere, which we have rented for the past six years, and moving to a suite of rooms in Reid Hall, the American University Women's Club, which also is suffering from so great a reduction in numbers as to make it possible and desirable to rent five rooms to us for use as our headquarters for business office, conference rooms, and library.

"Professor and Mrs. Joseph Barker of Sweet Briar College, Virginia, have taken the places of Professor Brinton and Miss Littlefield as Director and Assistant Director for the current session. Professor Brinton has resumed his work on the staff here and Miss Littlefield is studying for her doctorate in Paris.

"The financing of this work, for which no University funds may be used, is becoming extremely difficult and reductions that will injure the efficiency of the work will be necessary unless friends of the plan will come to its assistance and help to tide it over till better times make such assistance unnecessary."

Teacher Training

Dr. Hultihen, in carrying out a recommendation of the board, announced the appointment of a special committee on teacher training with the idea of conferring with officials of the public schools for the advancement of the teacher training course. It was brought out that two conferences have already been held on the subject.

Dr. Hultihen's report relative to naming the special committee on teacher training follows:

"In accordance with the recommendation of the special committee on teacher training in the university, the board authorized the appointment of a State-wide advisory committee on teacher training. Such a committee has been organized. It includes in its membership the president of the State Board of Education, the State superintendent of schools, Dr. Hollaway, State superintendent of high schools, John Schilling, State superintendent of elementary schools, Dr. King, the superintendent of the Wilmington schools, Mr. Stouffer, superintendent of high schools, Mr. Wagner, and superintendent of primary schools, Miss Devine, of Wilmington, superintendent of schools at Georgetown, Mr. Kennon, at Milford, Robert Schilling, and at Newark, C. E. Douglas, as well as the director of the school of education, Professor W. A. Wilkinson, the dean of the Women's College, the dean of Delaware College and the president of the university.

"The purpose of the organization of such a committee is to give an opportunity to the officers of the public school system, who have on their teaching staffs many of the students trained at the university, for conferences in regard to the teacher training program here, its merits and demerits, its purposes and methods, with a view to securing helpful and constructive suggestions from those who are best able to criticize the product of this department, since they have them under their constant supervision and attention.

"Two conferences have been held at which an effort was made to determine, from the point of view of the schools and university, what should be the objectives of the training of students for the teaching profession and what methods can best be followed to secure those objectives.

"Ideal Newark A Possibility" —Women's Club

Elizabeth Burlingame, former member, were read.

Miss Helen Clark, secretary of the club, gave a brief witty review of the activities, interests, and education of the organization during its first year. The list of speakers and their subjects enjoyed during the short time of the organization's existence, as given by Miss Clark, showed a wide range of interests and a distinguished personnel among the speakers.

Mrs. Justis described briefly the work now under way and planned for the club's second year. First, she said, came the hoped-for opening of a town library for the use of Newark and vicinity. The cooperative effort among local organizations started by the business women is already underway and meanwhile the club is using every opportunity to make money for the library fund. The second project is a recreation school next summer for Newark children, to be conducted like a summer camp with directed play and teaching of crafts. The Newark Board of Education and the University are cooperating in planning for this constructive recreation project, Mrs. Justis said. She expressed her appreciation of the fine work and spirit of the members and her gratification that the club was not afraid to undertake big things. The club was depending, she said, upon the cooperation of the individual citizens and the organizations of the town because all this civic work is directed toward "making Newark a better town to live in."

Mrs. Justis proposed a new community project—a suitable town hall. She made a vivid and humorous comparison between the "mansion" that housed the town's fine equipment and the insignificant structure that housed the town's mayor and public officers engaged in the town's government. This comparison has been hard on the town's dignity, she said, and worried her until she saw a solution without great expense. She proposed that the old school house on Main street be remodeled for a town hall of which Newark could be proud as it is of the fire house and other buildings. With its grounds properly planted and comparatively little alteration to the building by a capable architect the school, she believes, could be given charm and dignity of appearance, besides becoming a community and town building of great practical use.

Miss Marjorie Rose sang, beautifully, "Cantique de Noel," accompanied by Miss Nell Wilson, and gifts were presented to the two members of the club married during the year, Mrs. W. H. Adams and Mrs. Ernest Cornog. Mrs. Cornog, who was not present, will have her gift delivered to her.

Among the guests were Miss Camilla Downing, Mr. W. H. Adams, Miss Frieda Ritz, Rev. and Mrs. Andrew W. Mayer, Father Eugene J. Kraemer, Dr. and Mrs. Walter E. Gunby, Dean Winifred J. Robinson. Mrs. Justis had three guests from the Wilmington Quota Club of which she is a member, Miss Sarah Truax, Miss Elizabeth Bullock and Miss Idarene Black.

Miss Edwina Long, chairman of the club's program committee was in charge of the meeting, assisted by Miss Lavinia Bye, who presented the gifts.

Federal Grant May Soon End Railroad Hazards

Mr. Smith said the Council's survey showed some 400 grade crossings of all classes in the entire State.

The national program is designed to put 750,000 men to work in 10,000 centers of population. There is a total of 12,951 projects at a total estimated cost of $863,614,067 which would supply 783,489,706 man hours of work.

We Regret

We regret the resignation from the State office of Secretary Charles H. Grantland, who fulfilled the duties of that office very efficiently. It will be very hard to find another man with the same record of public service and experience in the complicated tasks the office imposes.

Congratulations, Business Women

We offer the Newark Business Women's Club our most sincere congratulations on the first anniversary of their organization. Their ideals are purely unselfish and their attainment in ever-so-small a measure will be of very concrete benefit to the town of Newark. In its one year of existence it has already come to play a large part in the affairs of Newark and in the rendering of service. We cannot have too much of this type of spirit if Newark is to continue its development as the type of town we admire so much.

We certainly should develop a library that will be worthy of the progress we have made in other directions—paved streets, a fine school system, an efficient police force. All these evidences of progress are material—now we need something more that may not appear on the surface to be as vital, but in truth is. And it is this type of need that the Newark Women's Business Club is battling valiantly and successfully to fill.

Ladies, we stand uncovered before you!

Housing Shortage

It is interesting to note that the Robert Stewarts, who recently sold their home to Superintendent of Schools Douglass, were forced to move from Newark to await the construction of a house for them by a local contractor. It means that there are virtually no good first-class houses available in the Town of Newark, and it is certainly a happy thought when we see row after row of vacant houses of all types in various sections of Wilmington and other places. Obviously, then it will pay those persons contemplating repairs on their properties to go ahead with them, since, with homes at a premium, they are increasing both the salability and rentability of the house, as well as its liveability for the present inhabitants.

This fact also goes to prove that the family is Newark's greatest institution. In this day of hustle and bustle and apartment dwelling, it is pleasant to know that here in Newark we have something more than casual family meeting places—we have homes. And where there are homes, there are neighbors. They are not just neighbors, the people who happen to live nearby—they are neighbors, real friends to share our daily doings, our joys and our sorrows. And it is this type of relationship that brings about a real community—the type we believe Newark is and the type we want it to remain, progressing all the while.

Peace or Postponement

Intervention by the League of Nations and general pressure of public opinion have averted the most recent threat to the peace of Europe. Yugoslavia and Hungary have patched up, at least temporarily, their quarrel, and will not be at each other's throats in the near future—we hope. All of which goes to prove that Europe is once more a seething cauldron and will boil over upon the slightest provocation. From the Asiatic end of the Balkans to the western shore of Ireland, unrest prevails.

Another in a series of attempts on the life of Boris of Bulgaria was recently foiled. Other terrorist measures, such as that which took the life of Alexander of Yugoslavia, are constantly being executed or just failing of execution. Another of these may yet plunge the whole of Europe into a war.

The only hopeful aspect is that in the case of most of the great Powers, entry into a war might prove suicidal to the existing governments, and this fact leads them to tread warily. The Communists' hold on the whole of the Russian nation is still far too uncertain for Stalin to risk moving troops away from the interior or placing guns in the hands of the doubtful. Also, Russia badly needs peace to concentrate on her complicated economic development and will therefore not be actively chauvinistic in the near future.

Hitler would have to face a Communist revolt the moment a war was declared, and it is probably this knowledge that led him to come to terms with France on the Saar question. On the other hand, France, too, is full of internal turbulence—Fascists and Royalists to Communists and no cabinet is sure of its tenure from day to day.

Spain has been in turmoil since the inception of the Republic and its future is very uncertain. Great Britain, of all the great Powers, probably the least in danger of revolution, is none the less almost certain of a drastic change in policy, since the Labor Party will practically assuredly carry the next general election by a great majority.

And so we come to the conclusion that the greatest guarantee of peace among Europe's nations is the lack of it within them. Well, we can only hope for the best.

Shop Early

Shop early and save yourself fatigue and the risk of being injured on congested streets in the store district, is the advice of the Delaware Safety Council to Christmas purchasers.

The shopper who makes the rounds of the stores early, has a wider range of merchandise from which to choose. He can do it in a more leisurely fashion too. Not only that, but he avoids the heavy traffic whether he goes shopping on foot, by street car or automobile.

And while you're visiting Santa on behalf of your children, the Council urges, be sure to select gifts that are safe. Don't buy anything with sharp points or blades for young children. Avoid such presents as scissors, tin horns and other toys with ragged edges, darts, arrows and knives. Don't get a .22 calibre rifle, air gun, shotgun or other weapon, unless you are sure the child is sufficiently old and sensible to use it safely.

CHURCH NOTES

NEWARK METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. Walter E. Gunby
The snow and cold on Sunday morning reduced our attendance at the Church School to 336.

The Christmas Playlet, "There's a Song in the Air," presented by the Young Woman's Missionary Society was a beautiful presentation of a helpful theme. The Men's Chorus supported the Playlet, singing the incidental music.

Next Sunday should be a great day in the life of this Church. There will be the regular Church School Session at 9:50 a. m., and at 11:00 the Public Worship, with music and sermon, "Spiritual Repose." At 7:30 p. m. there will be a sacred recital of Christmas Music by "The Contempo Orchestra" under the direction of Prof. Edwards, lasting for thirty minutes. This will introduce the Presentation of our Christmas Pageant, "The Light of Men," by Virginia Collins. This is an unusual pageant with brilliant musical portrayal, and carrying in a wonderful way the Christmas Theme. It has never been published, and never been presented east of Pittsburgh. It will be produced by some thirty five participants supported by two choirs. It will be presented in the Social Hall. Doors will be open early, all seats are free, and the public is invited to worship with us in this pictorial presentation of the historical fact of the coming of the "Manger Babe," the central truth of our Christian Faith.

Out of courtesy to this special Service the Epworth League Service will be omitted this Sunday.

In conjunction with the Young People of the Epworth League a Christmas Morning Service at 6:00 is being prepared. The entire Church is invited, and the Young People will provide and serve "doughnuts and coffee" free at the close of the service.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Newark Pastor's Book Given Lavish Praise By Wilmington Paper

The following article was published in W. P. Frank's column "Delawareana," in last Saturday's Evening Journal.

"Church histories are always welcome and when written authoritatively, they become precious valuable records. Unqualifiedly, we thus place in the latter category 'A History of Head of Christiana Church,' written and published by the Rev. Henry G. Welbon, of Newark, pastor of the church.

Mr. Welbon modestly takes little glory for himself for his excellent piece of work. In his foreword, he notes:

"Inasmuch as fifty-seven years have elapsed since the publishing of the history of Head of Christiana Church by Dr. James L. Vallandigham, it is my purpose to bring this history up to date, and to present the facts and records brought to light since that time."

Mr. Welbon pays due tribute to Dr. Vallandigham's book, now a scarce item, and to the Rev. Joseph Brown Turner, of Newark.

The date of the founding of Head of Christiana Church has been placed at 1708 by conservative historians. In the minutes of the Presbytery of Philadelphia for May 18, 1708 one reads:

"This day was read before the Presbytery a letter sent by the people of and about White Clay Creek in New Castle County, importing their desire and petition to the Presbytery, to have the ordinances of the gospel administered with more convenience and nearness to the place of their abode, for the greater advantage and ease to their several families. . . ."

This may be considered the first official record of this congregation. Mr. Welbon writes, although it is reasonable to suppose that meetings were held prior to that year.

The first church was built in Delaware about 200 yards east of the Maryland line, and Mr. Welbon believes that perhaps the early members felt it would be safer to place themselves under the protection of the peaceful Penn than to risk the possibility of the persecution at the hands of Lord Baltimore.

Mr. Welbon after reviewing the history of the development of the church, gives the names of the pastors, with a brief sketch of their lives, the names of the early members of the church, and trustees.

In the composition of local history that is being stressed so heartily these days by all historians, a book like that of Mr. Welbon must earn its reward and valuable place in any one's collection. What we need is more history-writing pastors."

"Ah, th' big chunk av a Bull's goin' to get thut bath he needs!" Bird-Eye shrilled into the roar.

But this was only one man's enthusiasm, his animosity for Duval finding voice. The outcome was far from a certainty. Tincup knew that; and Ben Elliott knew it as well. He—like the town—was waiting for the king of the Mad Woman to draw more items from his bag of tricks before he should assume the offensive.

Without a flicker of warning Duval dropped the pick of his peavey, twisting the shaft in his hands, flipping the hook open. The point plunked into the water, the hook bit into the log simultaneously and as the handle swung upward in a swift arc the man drove his weight on it. His body twisted, he grunted and his face wrenched into a lightning expression of great strain as the cedar, in a quarter turn, stopped dead. . . . And Ben Elliott, back bowed acutely, peavey high above his head, teetering back to balance on one foot, laughed aloud!

"Quick work, big boy!" he cried. "Al-most got me!"

But Duval had nowhere near gotten him; he knew it, and Elliott's manner was infuriating to him. He cursed sharply and spat and jerked at the brim of his slouch hat as he shook loose the peavey and commenced again to birl.

They ran a moment easily, each waiting for the other to try some fresh trick. The Bull leaped and came down running; he leaped four times in the space of as many quick breaths. And then, as though ready to leap again, dropped the hook of his peavey into the cedar. He wavered when the handle, swept upward by the rush and weight of the spinning log, bore against his great palm. His body swung sharply to the left. He cursed as the smooth handle slipped from his clutch and Bird-Eye Blaine danced in a frenzy of delight as the peavey, handle smacking the water, disappeared in the pond and the Bull, waving his arms for balance, ran the log desperately to hold his place. A great shout went up from the crowd.

The odds, then, were no longer equal. Like a fencer with a broken foil, like a boxer with one eye closed, like a runner with a strained tendon, so Duval was now.

"Polish him off, now!" Bird-Eye screamed, like an audacious, saucy boy. "Polish him good, Mister Elliott! He's yawpin' for help 'nd the ain't none fer him!"

That was what Tincup believed. A quick finish seemed certain, with the Bull so handicapped, without his peavey for offensive moves or to hold for balance.

But what happened stilled the clamor quickly, as though sound were a tangible mass and a great blade had sheared it quickly and cleanly.

Ben Elliott shifted his peavey. He had held it across his body, arms wide spread. Now he swung the point upward and outward and as he ran the spinning log drew it back and tossed it toward shore. Tossed it high and far, sending with it his chance for a quick and certain victory.

The silence was that of amazement.

This was like letting a man you had knocked down get to his feet and have another chance; this was opportunity handed to truculent Bull Duval on a silver platter. This was the sportsman's one read about. . . . And then came an excited clatter of tongues, rising to an even greater roar. The outsider was through fooling, through with trickery and through with strategy. He was going to run the Bull off his feet!

Fast and faster spun the log. Spray from it drenched the men to their knees, rained behind them into the pond. Elliott still kept his face turned toward his opponent but the Bull, fists clenched, arms widely extended, only watched Elliott from the tail of his eye.

The log was hissing in the water. Rigidity ran from the Bull's shoulders down his back. He was upright, now, where Elliott was poised forward. And his scowl was gone. His brows no longer gathered but were upraised; his eyes were wide open in the distress of fatigue and he breathed through his mouth.

Thought of the rules swept the crowd, because Duval was edging to the right. He moved slowly, awkwardly, at the cost of great effort, on toward the center of the log. Was he trying one more trick? Not likely. A man under such a strain does not attempt strategy. . . . not fair strategy. As he progressed an inch at a time Elliott countered by also creeping toward the center so his end might not dip beneath the surface.

Both men had their arms extended and Elliott's grin had faded to a sort of curious smile, a speculative alertness. . . . Close and closer they came together and then, as their extended hands were all but touching, Duval suddenly flicked his right wrist in a pass at Elliott's left hand.

"Ah, th' dirty—" But Bird-Eye's high scream was cut short by an ominous roar. The Bull, facing defeat, had overstepped all rules. The slightest touch on the other's body would upset his balance, now, and after Elliott had proven himself above taking what was even recognized as a fair advantage, the last vestige of loyalty to town or whatever it was which had put men on Duval's side was whisked away.

On Duval's face was ruthlessness along with the flush of fatigue and humiliation. He would be the last man on that log, though disqualified for any prize. Any cost he would stay on that log.

But would he? Elliott, a steely quality coming into his grin, retreated until he was out of the other's reach. The log sank beneath him but he did not slow his cadence despite the fact that he ran in water. He loosed the last reservoir of his energy and by the way his feet flickered and clawed and spurred that log one might well have believed that until now he had only played with this crowned king of the river that flowed past Tincup.

Watchers felt their middles aching as they followed those straining contestants. Again the Bull sought to strike Elliott's extended hand and missed by inches. His left hand raised jerkily, up and up. His body tilted. His great torso was twisting, wrenching at the hips, and, seeing this, Elliott leaped high, came down running, sent water sloshing back and forth the length of the stick until with a throaty cry of rage and humiliation, of hatred and jealousy, the great Bull, missing a stride, went sideways and backward, disappeared beneath the surface of the pond with a mighty splash and came up blowing and shaking his black-thatched head.

Hats went into the air, then, along with yips and yells and enthusiastic oaths as Ben Elliott, panting heavily, brought the log to a stop and, hands on his knees, stood blowing and grinning and watched the man whose title he had taken swim for the boom sticks.

The Bull slunk quickly toward the boiler room of the mill, water streaming from his pants and sleeves. The pond man threw out his pike pole and brought the cedar log to shore and there Birney, the announcer and master of ceremonies, greeted Elliott with a clap on the back and, with the other hand, thrust a roll of currency at him.

"Here's your money and you sure deserve it!" he cried, close in Ben's ear to make himself heard. "You'd got it on a foul, anyhow. Better this way!" Bird-Eye grasped his hand and shook it with congratulations as profane as they were shrill. Others surged around the victor and Elliott accepted this homage modestly.

"Luck!" he said to one enthusiastic well-wisher. "I got the breaks in luck." "Luck be damned!" shrilled Bird-Eye. "I'll lick any man ave me own old or me own heavey, me says 'twas luck! You got stuff, me b'y; you got guts!"

"Thanks, chum!" Elliott laughed. "I hope you don't find me out!"

He shouldered his way slowly to his pack-sack and surrounded by his admirers, with Bird-Eye in the fore, changed to his shoes again. He had the usual ran of questions to answer that is the lot of any winner in a spectacular contest and he did it with that amiable grin, with his marked modesty and yet with a likeable frankness.

He looked about for Don Stuart, craning his neck to see over the crowd which was now moving up toward Tincup's main thoroughfare.

"Who ye mean?" Bird-Eye asked. "Owld Donny?"

"Yeah Stuart. The old duffer's broke, on top of being sick, and I want to look out for him."

A man at his elbow said cautiously: "I'm afeard old Don won't do much visitin' in Tincup." Bird-Eye turned to him inquiringly and the man nodded. "Brandon He found him here while th' birlin' was goin' on. He's likely made other arrangements."

Bird-Eye's face reflected concern; the other man's a cynical acceptance of some unpleasant fact.

"Th' dirty stinker!" Bird-Eye said beneath his breath. "So he's drivin' him out already, is he? Well, th' low down—"

"Who's driving who out?" Elliott asked. "Misther Brandon. Americky might be a free country but Tincup ain't in it. This. Owld Donny ain't welcome here 'nd 't's likely he's got his orders to move on."

Elliott hitched his pack-sack higher. "What's this? Orders? What's wrong with him? Seemed like a harmless old gaffer to me. Bent on coming to Tincup, too; wanted it like a little kid wants candy. Got my goat. . . . Who's going to run him off?"

CAPTAIN JOLLS WILL GET POST IN HAWAII

Former University Instructor Is Expected To Sail In February

Captain E. P. Jolls, C. A. C., under orders of the War Department has been assigned to the Hawaiian Department and will sail from New York about February 19. Captain Jolls has been located at Fort Dupont for more than a year but makes his home in Newark.

Captain Jolls was assigned to the Canal Zone about two years ago but because of the climate there not agreeing with him he was transferred to Fort DuPont after serving less than a year in the Canal Zone. Recently an order was issued transferring him to the Philippine Islands but that order has now been changed and his new post will be in Hawaii. Captain Jolls is a graduate of the University of Delaware and completed a four-year detail here as military instructor just before being sent to the Canal Zone.

Parent-Teachers Association Executive Committee Has Meeting

Minor revisions in the Delaware Parent-Teacher Association constitution were recommended at a meeting of the executive committee in Dover, December 5, at which Mrs. Robert P. Progress reports were submitted by the State chairmen of Program, Miss Etta J. Wilson, Publicity, Mrs. Orville R. Wright, and Library Service, Miss Nellie Morton. It was announced by Miss Morton that a collection of 50 to 200 children's books is available to the different associations for exhibit purposes.

The recent Citizens Sectional meeting of the Delaware State Education Association and the proposed Child Labor Amendment were discussed. No action was taken on the Amendment. Those present at the meeting included Mrs. Robert P. Robinson, Wilmington, Mrs. M. P. Northam, Yorklyn, Mrs. Robert E. Lewis, Dover, H. T. Ennis, Stockley, Mrs. P. C. Elliott, Seaford, Mrs. H. W. Hocker, Lewes, George S. Williams, Millsboro, Miss Nellie Morton, Wilmington, Miss Etta J. Wilson, Wilmington, and Mrs. Orville R. Wright, Farmington.

Primary Education Home-School Topic

The next meeting of the Newark Home and School Association will be held on Thursday evening, December 20, at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium. The speaker for the evening will be Miss Laura Frazer, former assistant superintendent of Baltimore Schools. The subject: Modern Kindergarten-Primary education.

Don't forget that the attendance banner will be awarded to the room having the most parents present at the meeting.

85 Students Working Under FERA Auspices

At present there are 85 students working under supervision of the Student-Aid Committee (U. of D.'s FERA). This is almost the capacity of workers allowed the University by the Federal Relief Committee. Of the 85 workers, there are 62 boys and 23 girls.

Many workers are helping in Federal campaigns such as Better Housing Campaign under the direction of Colonel Ashbridge, and Food Cost Survey under direction of Mrs. Leach.

A few of the student workers are employed in Wilmington at the Board of Education building. They are working for Adult Education under Miss Marguerite Burnett. One or two of these students are doing research work.

Made FOR MOTHERS!

A telephone means much to a mother: it means less fear of childish ailments and accidents—less worry when the children are out of sight—fewer lonely hours—fewer trips and errands.

Every woman needs a telephone in the home to get things done and to keep her in touch. To a mother this need is twice as great.

Lesson for December 16

THE CHRISTIAN AND THE LORD'S SUPPER

LESSON TEXT—1 Corinthians 11:23-24.

GOLDEN TEXT—For as often as ye eat this bread, and drink this cup, ye do show the Lord's death till he come. —1 Corinthians 11:26.

PRIMARY TOPIC—The Supper Jesus Gave His Friends.

JUNIOR TOPIC—How the Lord's Supper Began.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Why Observe the Lord's Supper?

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Realizing Christ's Presence in the Supper.

By the Lord's Supper here is meant the bread and the wine used as symbols of the broken body and shed blood of the Lord Jesus Christ. Some Christians think of the Lord's Supper as a meal of fellowship eaten before the institution of the bread and the cup. To them it means the agape or love-feast which was practiced in the early church. Such would prefer to call this the Communion instead of the Lord's Supper. With this understanding, we can enter into the real understanding and blessing of the ordinance.

1. The Institution of (v. 23).

1. The time. It was on the night of the betrayal of the Lord Jesus, after the betrayer had been announced.

2. Circumstances of (Matt. 26:26).

It was in connection with the eating of the Passover. At the command of Jesus the disciples made ready the Passover, and while they were eating Jesus took bread, blessed it, and gave it to them.

3. The elements used. Bread—doubtless common bread of the Passover feast. The Cup—the fruit of the vine.

11. The Significance of (v. 24; Cf. Matt. 26:26-28).

Jesus took natural and literal elements and made them to be symbols of his own body and blood.

1. It is a memorial of the Lord (1 Cor. 11:24-25). When Jesus Christ left the world, he left the bread and the cup for the disciples, by which to remember him.

2. To show the Lord's sacrificial death (v. 23). He did not die as a hero, or as an example of unselfish devotion, but as a substitutionary ransom on the cross he made satisfaction for our sins.

3. It is a guaranty that our sins are forgiven (1 Cor. 11:25). "It was the sign of the Son of God attached to redemption."

4. It symbolizes the believer's reception of Christ (1 Cor. 10:16). He then by participating in the body and blood of Christ, becoming a member of his body.

5. It has a forward look to a completed redemption (v. 26). When faith in Christ is exercised, redemption begins, and its completion will take place at the coming of Christ (1 Thess. 4:13-17). The bread and the cup constitute the keepsake of the Lord until he returns.

III. Qualifications for Participation in the Lord's Supper (v. 27-29).

1. A proper apprehension of its meaning (v. 27). Eating and drinking unworthily primarily refers not to the demerit of the communicant, but to his failure to grasp the meaning and importance of the ordinance. Only regenerated persons can discern the Lord's body. Faith in the integrity of Christ's person and work is essential. Anyone who does not believe in the absolute deity of Christ and his vicarious atonement is an unworthy communicant.

2. Church membership (1 Cor. 11:33-22). The Lord's body is the church, which is composed of regenerated men and women united to Jesus Christ as head, and to each other as members of that body, by the Holy Spirit.

3. An orderly walk. Conduct which disqualifies for participation in the Lord's supper:

a. Immorality (1 Cor. 5:1-13). It is most perilous for one who is guilty of immorality to approach the Lord's table (v. 30). Sickness and death are often visited upon such.

b. Heresy (Titus 3:10; 1 John 4:3). This means that one who holds false doctrine is disqualified for participation in the communion.

c. A schismatic (Rom. 16:17). The one who stirs up party strife, who causes divisions in the church, should be excluded from the Lord's table.

NEWARK HIGH AWARDS

SIXTEEN LETTERS

The varsity "N" was awarded to 16 fellows last Monday night. The letters put a climax to a turkey supper given in honor of the undefeated football team. The mothers of the players made arrangements for the meal and carried the plans through.

To get back to the letter receivers, they were: Captain Jack Daly, Capt. "Rip" Smith, "Dutch" May, Joe Maxwell, "Ernie" George, Ott Widdoes, "Harpo" Cage, Guy Wharton, Ross Hutchison, Arthur Huston, Harold Tiffany, Paul Skillman, "Bones" Egnor, "Ren" George, "Rob" Ewing, and Manager George Zebley.

Delaware Coaches Present

"Doc" Doherty, coach of basketball at Delaware, made the awards and Neil Stahley, football coach, made a short speech.

"Rip" Smith Elected Captain

Earlier in the afternoon, the lettermen had cast their votes for the 1935 captain. At the banquet it was announced that Ray Smith, right half-back, had been selected. Smith made his letter in '33 and '34 and will, no doubt, prove an able leader. He can inspire fight into the team and is quite fortunate in being able to captain a team that will have a lot of seasoned material.

BASKETBALL RAPIDLY REPLACES FOOTBALL

With the High School and the Alumni both shooting the ball around, all attention has been turned to basketball.

High School Has Full Team of Regulars

Coach Gillespie has a team composed of all veterans with the exception of Guy Wharton. His team is composed of Daly and Wharton forwards, Egnor center, Cage and Ernie George guards. Mayer is shifted to Cage's guard and Cage takes Wharton's forward. The junior team is composed of Frazer and Delaney forwards, Douglas center, Ewing and Smith guards. The team had a practice with Middletown on Wednesday. However, the time was not kept and the score was not kept, therefore we can't publish an accurate account of the game.

Alumni Getting Into Shape for High School

The Alumni team of Williamson, Whiteman, Holloway, Morris and Chalmers is getting into shape for their game the 21st with the High School. Other players who will no doubt play are Willis, Pie, Ferris, Wharton and Doyle. A Jay Vee team is being formed and so far the following have been lined up—Edman, Griffith, Roberts, Perry, Beers, White, Schwartz and Collins.

NEWARK ALLEYS DEFEAT CITY ALLEYS, 3-1

On Saturday the Newark Alleys team defeated the City Alleys team 3 points to 1. However, Agnew supplied the high score and high total pins.

NEWARK AND WILMINGTON ACES TIE, 2-2

Playing in Wilmington, a Newark team tied the Wilmington Aces 2-2. Hower had high game 210, and Crossley had high total pin fall, 564.

HAVERFORD DEFEATS DELAWARE FIVE IN ROUGH CONTEST 34-29 AS DOHERTYITES OPEN SEASON

Swimmers Oppose Osteopathy Saturday Night; 1935 Football And Fencing Schedules Approved; 17 Football Letters, 16 Soccer Letters Awarded

In one of the roughest games ever played on Haverford College's basketball court, the Scarlet and Black beat Delaware 34-29 Tuesday night in what was the opening game for both teams.

Haverford had a nice set of plays and repeatedly worked the ball near the basket but missed about twenty easy shots. Delaware played a good game but was nowhere near as smooth working as their opponents.

Open fouling was frequent with a total of twenty-five being called. Thompson and Pennyman both went out of the game via the personal foul route. Bad feeling was engendered between the teams and the two coaches due to poor officiating. Slugging and kicking were employed without being called by the referee on several occasions.

Kane, Haverford forward was the leading scorer with four field and five foul goals for thirteen points. "Irish" O'Connell, Delaware captain, looked better than he did last year and scored eleven points with four double-deckers and three free throws. He and Lacy, a freshman, teamed well at forward.

In the preliminary game the Delaware Jay Vees beat out the Haverford Jay Vees by a score of 24-20.

Enrollment for this school must be made by Friday, December 28, states Ed Willim, Jr., County Agricultural Agent of Newark, who made this announcement today. Six poultrymen in the State have already enrolled for the day of instruction.

H. L. Shrader, Senior Extension Poultry Husbandman and chick sexing expert of the U. S. Department of Agriculture of Washington, D. ### Newark New Century Club News

The annual Christmas program held at the New Century Club House on Monday afternoon was most delightful and in keeping with the Christmas season. Dr. W. O. Sypherd, Professor of English, University of Delaware, well known authority on Bible literature discussed the Book of Luke from the standpoint of English Literature and the Women's College String Quintet under the direction of Miss Helen Russell played. Tea was served by the Hospitality Committee. Mrs. W. D. Holton, chairman. A Bazaar conducted by the Ways and Means Committee was held in the Club Parlor before the club meeting.

Dr. Sypherd's discussion of the book of Luke was most interesting. In his summary he described the book of Luke as a great popular biographical narrative personalized by a conscious literary artist. To enjoy it, he said, one should read the book as it is and not try to interpret it.

The following program was presented by the String Quintet composed of Kathleen Spencer and Marion Price, violinists; Alice Brene, violinist; Marion Spencer, cellist; Marjorie Slider, pianist:
Song of India from "Sadko" by Rimsky-Korsakoff.
Minuet in D by Mozart.
Allegro in B by Mozart.

announcements were made:

Mrs. W. D. Holton announced that a dance would be held December 15 at the club house. Proceeds to go for town welfare.

Mrs. James Hastings announced that hereafter a charge of $2 in summer and $5 in winter would be charged outside organizations for janitor service in addition to the regular fee charged for use of the club house.

Miss Lillian Rhodes, Art Department, Women's College, called attention to the art exhibit now open at the college library and invited club members to attend.

Several reports were presented:

Mrs. G. R. Sinclair reported upon the State Federation meeting at Rehoboth and upon the library situation.

The most important item of business to come before the club was a motion to strike out the by-law requiring a prospective member to be a resident of the town for six months preceding the presentation of her name for membership.

Mrs. R. L. Spencer, chairman of the Welfare Committee reported upon the welfare work which her committee is undertaking. She made an appeal for clothing. It seems that the relief committee has money available to buy fuel but not money to buy clothing. The clothing collected by the Needle Work Guild this year was small in quantity and was for the most part for children. The Boy Scouts expect to call at the homes of everyone in Newark this week to solicit toys and clothing. Mr. Jack Moore, high school, will have his boys make some toys. The Girl Reserves will make dolls. Mrs. A. D. Cobb will take charge of the distribution of the toys. As regards the Thanksgiving baskets: Mrs. Spencer said that 38 baskets were prepared but only 36 were needed so the contents of these two baskets were placed in the 36. Mrs. Guy Hancock, high school, and her assistants packed the baskets. The Business Women's Club gave $5 to buy butter for all the baskets. A private donation of 85 loaves of bread and 21 lbs. of bacon was also received. A Sunday School class at the Methodist Church and a school at Christiana each sent a basket. On the bulletin board of the club will be found a list of clothing of which there is immediate need.
