Plan For Tying-In Town Sewer With County System Approved

Project Would Eliminate Need For Costly Expansion Of Municipal Disposal System; Council Delays
Passage Of Parking Curbs Near Danita

County expansion of the municipal sewer system to serve the proposed Chrysler plant here and new developments south of town may not be necessary, it was decided at the semi-monthly meeting of the Town Council on Tuesday night.

A plan for tying-in the town system with the county interceptor line, which now ends at Stanton, was approved by the lawmakers and will be carried out if county authorities agree.

The project, as outlined by Councilman Carl S. Rankin, calls for extending the county line from Stanton to the site of the proposed Chrysler plant, where the town would connect its long-planned sewer main.

Mr. Rankin said that the plan would eliminate the need for any expansion of the present municipal disposal plant. Eventually, he said, the county line may serve new sections north and east of town and, in the future, may eliminate the need for a municipal disposal system altogether.

Previously, the Council had believed that the promised town growth would require an expansion of the disposal system costing upwards of $1,500,000.

Councilman Rankin explained that the cost of extending the county line from Stanton to Chrysler would be borne chiefly by the county and a portion by the Chrysler Corporation. The town, he said, would pay only for lines laid within the boundaries, he added.

Once connected with the county system, the town would pay a fee for its sewage disposal on a per thousand gallon rate. Mr. Rankin indicated the county already has tentatively approved the plan.

Mayor Wallace Johnson hailed the project as a "break" for the town, pointing out that it would give the town what he termed "sewer security" for many years to come. He also indicated that the over-all cost to the town would be much less than that of expanding the present town disposal system.

The lawmakers also gave initial readings to an ordinance limiting the use of parking automobile trailers in the town limits and postponed final passage of an ordinance that would limit parking in the area adjacent to the Danita Hosiery plant.

The latter action was taken at the request of workers at the plant. A spokesman for the Danita union pointed out that the proposed law would mean a severe hardship on the firm's employees. The Council agreed to hold action for six weeks, during which time the town and union would again discuss the Danita management to fulfill its promise, made last November, to construct a company parking lot. The proposed ordinance was drawn up in response to numerous complaints from residents in the area against all-day parking.

The trailer ordinance, slated for passage at the first April meeting, would, in effect, limit the parking of trailers to six weeks within the town limits, and require that they meet sanitary standards, including proper sewage disposal. It would also prevent the growth of trailer camps in town by limiting the number of such dwellings to one per residential lot.

Special provisions in the ordinance ensure that no hardships would be placed on the occupants of existing trailers. The latter would be permitted to remain in their present locations provided the owners secure a permit, renewable every 12 months. Special provisions would not come into effect until the first regular meeting after the town election, April 10.

Councilman Rankin pointed out that the intersection was but one of many traffic friction points in town, and he requested an overall study. Mayor Johnson said he may appoint a traffic committee to make recommendations to the Council.

The lawmakers also voted a $250 contribution to defray costs of the annual Memorial Day parade being held by a committee under Conrad Davis Jr., commander of the J. A. McDaniel Post.

A request by Mrs. William Hayes for the installation of a traffic light at the dangerous South College Avenue-East Park Place intersection was postponed until the first regular meeting after the town election, April 10.

Ask Regular Dental, Medical Check-Ups At Newark Schools

PTA Group Urges Expanded
Health Program; New Officers Elected

A recommendation that the pupils of the Newark schools be given medical and dental examinations every two years was made at the March meeting of the Newark Parent Teachers Association last Thursday in the high school auditorium.

The proposal was offered by the PTA health committee on the basis of a survey in which the members of the committee sent questionnaires and visited schools in New Jersey and Pennsylvania to get a well-rounded picture of the latest developments in school health programs.

The committee's recommendation urged that the medical exams be given by an accredited physician spending at least 12 minutes on each child. It asked further that records be kept by the school nurse and that the parents be informed by cards of any medical or dental treatment needed by their children. It was suggested that homeroom teachers help in the follow-up work by seeing that the cards are returned when the pupils' defects have been corrected.

A vote on the proposal by the PTA at large may be taken at the April meeting. If approved by the PTA, the recommendation probably will be passed along to the Board of Education.

Another highlight of the session was the election of William DeLong, 56 Sunset Road, as president of the PTA, succeeding Charles Cooper, H. L. Miller, high school science instructor, was named second vice-president and the remainder of the slate was chosen as follows: Mrs. Samuel Handloff, secretary; and Mrs. Steven Barczewski, treasurer.

The health committee proposal was made following a talk by Thomas Mulrooney, director of child development and guidance in the Wilmington public schools, who, with the help of slides, described the health program being carried out in the city schools.

Town Parking Lot May Be Turned Into School Playground Next Fall

Newark may lose its free town-operated parking lot behind the old Main Street school building next fall. The area, which is leased by the Town Council from the Newark School District, may be turned into a school playground next September.

Plans are underway to renovate the old school this summer to provide elementary classrooms for the increased school enrollment expected here next term.

School authorities have informed the Council they will be unable to renew the lease on the property. However, Supt. Wilmer E. Shue said this week arrangements may be worked out to permit the continued use of the area for parking on Friday nights and weekends.

Two Contests Develop In Town Election Race; Three More File

George Jackson, Veteran Business Man, Opposes Samuel
Diehl In Middle District; Harry Dawson,
Donald Hill File In Eastern

The town election campaign moved into high gear this week as contests developed in the middle and eastern districts.

George Jackson, owner of Jackson's Hardware Store, filed Tuesday opposite Samuel Diehl in the middle district. The same day Harry Dawson, real estate agent, and Donald P. Hill, 312 East Park Place, entered the race in the eastern district. Norman Battersby, the incumbent there, is not bidding for reelection to date.

The political scene still is unfrustrated in the Western District, where Councilman John R. Dawnes, whose term is expiring, has not tipped his hand as yet and no new contenders have appeared.

Hours for the vote, slated for April 10, were fixed by the Town Council at a special meeting last week. The polls in the firehouse will open between 7 and 7:30 a.m. and close at 7 p.m.

Election officers were named as follows: Mrs. John McLean, Miss Ella Mae Maclary, eastern district; William Sullivan, Gladys Carr, middle district; Albert Clark, Pearl Williams, western district.

Both Mr. Jackson and Mr. Dawson are seeking their first term on Council. Mr. Jackson, a native of Newark and a veteran businessman, is well-known for his civic activities. A past president of the Chamber of Commerce and a director for 18 years, he led the business group in many community-wide projects. He entered the hardware business here in 1916 as an employee of the H. B. Wright company and started his own store in 1929.

In a statement this week, he said he is not critical of the present Council nor its policies but feels the town government should include a representative of local business interests. He claims there has been "no representative of the Chamber on Council in the past 20 years." In view of the promised town expansion as a result of defense plants opening here, Mr. Jackson said he feels local businessmen should take a greater interest in municipal affairs.

He stated that the Council needs more men who live and work in Newark. Such individuals, he said, would be able to offer the town better service than those who are employed elsewhere during the day.

In addition to his Chamber activities, Mr. Jackson is a member of the Kiwanis Club, the Red Men, the American Legion, the Elks, the O.K.A., and a director of the Delaware Retail Council.

Mr. Dawson, a native of Wilmington and a resident here for over 30 years, has been in the real estate business here since 1934. Also active in civic affairs, he currently is president of the Kiwanis Club.

He said this week his sentiments are much the same as those of Mr. Jackson. He also feels the Council needs more business representation, especially in view of the expected community expansion.

Mr. Hill, a native of Newark, is manager of the floor covering department for the Sears Roebuck and Company.

He says he became interested in town affairs recently, and, after attending several Town Council meetings, decided to file.

A resident here all his life, he says he is interested in seeing the town get intelligent and honest government.

Proposed High School Annex Now Planned As Separate Unit

The proposed shop and agriculture laboratories for the Newark High School, originally planned as an annex to the main building, will be erected as a separate unit in order to cut down expenses, Supt. Wilmer E. Shue said this week.

The new structure, slated for construction this summer, will be a one-story, painted concrete block unit erected along Lovett Avenue on the school grounds. Mr. Shue explained that as a separate unit it will be unnecessary for the building to conform in architectural style to the brick colonial design of the main building, thus cutting the cost considerably.

E. William Martin, Wilmington architect, has been ordered to draw up working plans for the structure, expected to cost around $60,000. State and local funds, originally earmarked for the proposed extension to the high school gymnasium, are already on hand for the project, making a state appropriation unnecessary.

State funds are being sought, however, to carry out renovation of the old Main Street building and the Delaware Avenue building for use as elementary classrooms to relieve the overcrowding expected next fall.

Opposition has developed from a group of parents, Mr. Shue disclosed, to the projected renovating of the Delaware Avenue building, which was condemned once for school use and has been vacant since the new elementary building was opened here last year.

Mr. Shue said, however, that a firm of consulting engineers, Tarrus, Baum and Bolles, of Wilmington, called in by the local board of education, has pronounced the building "structurally sound" provided steps are taken to reinforce the basement ceiling. This would include installing a new center beam and supports, preferably steel, over the basement windows.

In addition, the board plans, if state funds are secured, to repaint the building, repair the floors, install new stairs, windows and window shades,

A visitor trips over a rake and is injured; an employee gets caught in a mower; your horses or cows damage a car; a product of your farm causes illness — any one could cost you plenty in a damage suit. Why run this risk when Farmer's Comprehensive Personal Liability Insurance costs as little as $10 yearly for 5 acres to $67 for 10,000 acres? Ask us about the broad coverage of this new policy — no obligation to you.

Edgar Kimble visited his brother, Baker Kimble, in Philadelphia, Mar. 11. Albert Moore returned from the Osteopathic Hospital in Wilmington Mar. 10. Mr. Moore is feeling a bit better following his bout with surgery, and is up and around now.

We are very happy for Jean and Andy Hayden in the nice new home they have bought in Pleasant Valley, where they plan to move in the near future, but might be sorry to lose them from the community. Pleasant Valley is about four miles from Newark, to the right off the road to Glasgow, and is a rather small town. The new home has four rooms down and two rooms up. More room for the kiddies. Happy landings, Haydens!

Mrs. Lathie Lester attended the Philadelphia Flower Show and reported a wonderful time. It was better than ever, she says. We know several people who planned to go and had their plans changed for them. Better luck for us all next year.

The Jim Sanfords, the Bill Nicholls, the Arthur Nesses, and possibly more from this community are going to be attending the Social Dance Course being given at the YWCA in Wilmington. No more will those Latin-American rhythms leave us so many frustrated. (We hope!) Si, si!

The Franklin-Kemblesville PTA which met last Thursday was a lot of fun for all concerned, we hear. The big crowd enjoyed songs, recitations, dances and plays by the school children, and a comedy skit was put on by five parents.

The crowd which packed the Kemblesville Church for the Organ Recital March 11 was well rewarded by the program. Mrs. Skillen, organist at the Avondale Methodist Church, Mrs. Mable organist and soloist at the Avondale Methodist Church, and Kennedy, soloist, greatly pleased the appreciative audience. A total of $100.26 was collected at this recital toward the fine new Hammond Spinnet Organ.

The 4-H girls who met at Philip's the other night to organize their new club elected Mildred Gouge, president; Nancy Sharpless, vice-president; Elise Philip, secretary-treasurer; Beverly Reid, game leader, and Janet Nichol, song leader.

Laura Conner is news chairwoman. The next meeting is on Mar. 23 at the Harold Field home near Landenberg. This will be a social, or "get-acquainted" meeting.

Peter Peterson of Arden, Del., has been a house guest at the Ness home for the past week while his parents took a trip out west.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Dyer and children, of Swedesboro, N.J., dropped in to see their old friends, the Vernon Schradler family, the other Saturday, and the visit was most enjoyable, since four years have gone by since the two families got together.

Clifford and Jeffrey Soliday were invited to their homes with a "more of the same" last week. Cliff had a touch of pneumonia—his third such spell this winter.

Cynthia and David Ness are recovering from the grippe. The Winston Waynes of Wilmington called on the George Kalbs Sunday. Mrs. Edna Coleman tells us that Lt. Col. Norman Coleman, CIC, has been transferred from Munich to Orleans, near Paris, where he is in charge of the CIC program being set up in France. Aren't we proud of our "native son," and the good work he must be doing to get this important assignment.

Mrs. Tyler Combs, Carol and Buzzy, will be coming back to the U.S. from Japan sometime in the near future. Mrs. Combs completed her two year "tour of duty" on March 5, and the Combs have decided that Carol and Buzzy should now have a taste of the United States.

Dairy research men say that careful planning and management can sometimes reduce by two-thirds, the amount of work cows normally require—from 141 man hours over cow annually to only 47. They add that labor ranks second only to feed cost as an expense item in dairy farming.

Mrs. Marian Condit of Philadelphia has returned to her home after a two week stay with her sister, Mrs. Coleman. Mrs. John McCoy is at the Delaware Hospital in Wilmington with her fine new son, John Joseph McCoy, who was born March 14. Congratulations!

Mrs. Sam Siple presented a fine little daughter, Betty Adair Siple, to this old world, March 12, and arrived home March 16 from the West Grove Hospital.

The Home and School League bake sale netted $44.00, we understand. All thanks to those people who donated baked goods and time.

50 Per. Of Defense Workers Found To Have Faulty Vision

Glasses Not Suited To Job Requirements

More than half of all defense industry employees have insufficient vision that may handicap them in their jobs and make them subject to accidents, Dr. S. W. Smith, president of the Delaware Optometric Association declared today in a statement issued in connection with the twenty-fifth annual Save Your Vision Week, Mar. 4-10.

"The worker who sees well produces more, does a better job and is less prone to accidents than one who neglects his vision," Dr. Smith said.

"About two out of three adults wear glasses, but in millions of cases they have not been prescribed on the basis of the specific requirements for the job done by the wearer. The lenses that are obtained to make reading easy may not be the ones best suited to an industrial job. There are vast differences, for instance, between the visual requirements to operate a crane or a lathe. The distance of one's work from his eyes is of critical importance."

Dr. Smith said the eye accidents occur at the rate of two a minute throughout the working day, and all but 2 percent of them could be prevented by proper precautions.

Many visual problems can be prevented by proper attention to the working environment and by early care, he said, and most visual shortcomings can be corrected by the aid of modern optometric science.

Safety Hints

"The true mark of courtesy is the respect of the strong for the weak. In connection with automobiles, the pedestrian cannot hold his own."

Robert Kennedy, vice-president for Public Safety of the Delaware Safety Council, made that comment recently in a plea for greater regard for the rights of pedestrians by motorists of Delaware. He asked that motorists show a sense of fair play in any traffic situation involving a pedestrian, no matter how legally wrong or unsafe the walker's actions may be.

Mr. Kennedy pointed out that one-fifth of the pedestrians killed in accidents last year were within their legal rights. They met their death while crossing with the signal, standing in safety zones, or while using crosswalks at intersections where no signal existed. But they were killed because motorists were careless or took the right-of-way when they were not entitled to it.

"Even though half of the pedestrians killed are using the highways or streets unwise," he said, "they do not deserve to have a death penalty inflicted on them. The motorist should do all in his power through courtesy and caution to protect persons about from their own folly."

"More than 3,000 pounds of high-powered steel is a murderous match for a pedestrian. The motorist can afford to lose a little patience, but on one can afford to lose his life or take one's own."

"Let the violating motorist have the right-of-way—he won't keep it forever. But his death could be on your mind always if you don't mind your motor manners."

Q. My father served 45 days during the Spanish-American War. Would he be entitled to V-A outpatient medical care, or is there some minimum period of service he must have had in order to be eligible?

A. If your father served any time between April 21, 1898, and July 4, 1902 (or July 15, 1903, if service was in the Moro Province), and was discharged under other than dishonorable conditions, he may be entitled to V-A's outpatient medical care—regardless of his length of service. But he must get V-A's prior approval for such care.

Q. In 1944, I was discharged as an enlisted man in order to accept a commission in the Army, and I still am on active duty as an officer. Would I be entitled to GI Bill schooling on the strength of my discharge as an enlisted man?

A. No. A discharge from one active status for the purpose of immediately assuming another active duty status—without a definite break in between—does not constitute a discharge within the meaning of the law. Therefore, you would not be eligible for GI Bill educational benefits.

Q. I am attending school under the GI Bill. Would I be entitled to additional subsistence for my five-year-old daughter, even though she is being raised by my parents and is not dependent on me for support?

A. Yes, so long as you submit necessary evidence of her birth to V-A.

NEWARK TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

From issue of Mar. 24, 1926

Jacob Tasker 93 Newark's oldest resident, and Mrs. Rebecca Gregg, the town's oldest woman, were both called by death during the past week.

Mr. Tasker, an iron worker and Confederate veteran, succumbed to an attack of pneumonia Monday night. Mrs. Gregg, a great favorite with friends and neighbors in the community, passed away Saturday. Their combined ages totaled 166 years.

Srenuous Vacation
R. O. Bauman, county agent with the Experimental Station at the University of Delaware, recently had a thrilling experience and made an extraordinary escape when the Meadowside Hotel—about two miles from Mt. Pocono, Pa.—at which he was staying, caught fire and burned to the ground.

Mr. Bauman, who has been suffering with ill-health, went to the hotel Monday Mar. 15, for a rest. The night of his arrival he was awakened about 2:30 a.m. with a ruddy glare and the odor of smoke.

Unable to escape down the corridor, he secured his possessions, climbed through a window and down a rain-spout. He was the only one of several guests who escaped without an injury and with his personal belongings.

He has returned to Newark in an effort to recuperate from his vacation.

Auto Accident
While going west on Main Street, an auto operated by Paul Colmery collided with another machine operated by Mark Allister. Both men are residents of Newark. Neither was injured seriously.

two other counties in the state on Saturday night, Miss Pauline Robinson and George Chalmers, Newark High School stars, were awarded the championship four goal shooting in a statewide contest held in Dover prior to the DIAA title battle between Dover and Frankford.

The redoubtable "Shorty" proved a sensation. Stepping to the mark, he dropped in ten straight tosses before missing. He finished out his string with 21 out of 25. His nearest rival managed to get 16 baskets.

Miss Robinson and Miss Roe, of Caesar Rodney, fought it out for a tie in the regular quota of tries. In the shoot-off, the Newark girl netted six out of 10, while her competitor was getting three.

Jottings
News: Our nylon blouses at $6 by Glenwear with shirred shirt front, round collar and set-in sleeves are in! Quantity limited—so rush.

This excerpt from a letter from the Wilmington City Panhellenic Association pleased us so much—"So many of our members came to me afterward (the Fashion Show on March 10th) to say they thought it was so beautifully managed. Perhaps the most pleasing thought was that most of us could afford to buy some of the outfits. The down-to-earth prices were encouraging, and several of the members plan a visit to your shop soon."

Thanks, so much. We're doing our best to meet today's challenge.

Don't forget your Easter posies! Ours are as natural as natural—and as fragrant as Spring's first blossoms. Needless to say, you can wear them all summer! Priced from 65c to $1.

Calling all wise shoppers—our Spring Suits of fine all wool are the talk of this area—navy, che's, combinations and plenty of grey! And remember, our suits are perfect—not just with imperfections in the fabric or fit.

We've so many intriguing new things to see... may we suggest you put a nickel instead of a penny in the meter when you come a-shopping. You'll enjoy shopping leisurely!

Our Versatiles are here—with new tucked back and convenient pockets. Made of Burlington's teazel linen spun, in favorite town colors and patterns. Sizes 10 to 20. Only $12.

Spread the news, please—our prints and sheers in size 12 to 20, and half-sizes at $9 to $15 are making lots of new customers for us. They're just right for business, neighborly visits and club work!

For Easter gifts, we suggest scarfs, nylon or batiste blouses, lingerie or some of our new scatter pins and chalk white jewelry. And always our flowers!

Open Wednesday and Friday evenings 7:00 to 9:00

Materials Assured

For School Building

U. S. Rep. J. Caleb Boggs has been assured by the National Production Authority that Delaware's schools will get maximum consideration in their efforts to obtain materials for necessary expansion programs.

Nelson A. Miller, acting director of the NPA's Office of Civilian Requirements, wrote Congressman Boggs that the Federal Security Agency has been designated as a claimant agency for educational requirements.

Mr. Miller told the Delaware representative that the FSA will receive "at all times" needs presented to it by educational systems in regard to facilities and materials for building purposes.

Mr. Miller wrote, "is fully mindful of the seriousness of the problem, and wishes to be of all possible assistance consistent with the national defense program."

He added, "Within our organization, we have given extensive study to the question," and the civilian requirements chief pointed out that after consultation with the U. S. Office of Education, it was decided to appoint the FSA the claimant agency.

Congressman Boggs has been active in his attempts to assure an even flow of materials to schools planning construction to accommodate steadily increasing school populations.

Many Delaware educators, including Wilmer E. Shue, superintendent of the Newark School District, have advised Mr. Boggs of their concern for the need of high priorities in school construction, and the representative has taken these views to the nation's key mobilization directors.

Nelson Introduces Orthodox-T At Hen's Spring Grid Sessions

University of Delaware football forces will be featuring something new in the way of offensive tactics next fall, if the present spring training grind is any indication.

Dave Nelson, newly appointed head coach at the university, is installing an orthodox T formation at present, and if the material on hand reacts the way Nelson hopes it will, the Blue Hens will be operating in that direction when they open their eight game schedule against Lehigh on September 9th.

Nelson sent his forty-odd candidates through their first heavy scrimmage on Frazer Field on Monday, and his backs were operating almost exclusively out of the T. He himself admitted, however, that he's far from settled on any particular formation at this time. "We might use a straight T, or combine some simple wing tactics with a T, or even operate exclusively out of a single wing formation," Nelson, an old Michigan halfback, is a single wing man at heart, but stressed that that attack demanded a special brand of football player, one that could go hard on the ground. Whether or not the material on hand will meet that demand will be discovered before the five week spring grind is finished. After that Nelson expects to confer with his aides and then decide what type formation to use at Delaware.

Graduation, injuries, and the uncertainty of the military situation leave the manpower question somewhat fluid at present, and Nelson is counting on Blue Hens until he sees them hatched again on campus next fall. Back from last year's starters are twelve men, many of whom are service bound.

Low Bid Of $11,665 On Grading For Gridiron

A contract for the grading and draining of the playing field area of the University of Delaware's proposed stadium has been awarded to Pleasanton & Edgell of Dover. The contractor's bid of $11,665 was low among five when bids were opened on March 8.

Work is expected to start as soon as weather permits. Pleasanton & Edgell estimated 30 days for completion of the work.

The grading work will place pipes for surface drainage, will shape the field, and provide topsoil. The university is going ahead with work on the playing field area itself, although prevented by a federal regulation from building a grandstand for the proposed stadium on the university farm just south of Newark.

Jacket Nine Will Open 14-Game Card Here April 17 With Conrad

Coach Frank Mercer expects 50 candidates to answer first practice call; including 6 vets from last year's fast-stepping team

The Newark High School baseball team will open a 14-game schedule on April 17, when the Conrad Redskins will invade the local athletic field.

Coach Frank Mercer, who last year piloted the Jackets to an outstanding record of 10 victories in 12 games, was set to launch practice sessions earlier this week but the sudden change in the weather blocked his plans. He hopes to get the boys started sometime this week.

About fifty candidates, including six regulars from last year's varsity, are expected to answer the open practice call. Among the returning veterans will be pitcher Tom Baker and catcher Ronald Bramble, who also can do duty as an outfielder. Bernard "Bunny" Blaney, third baseman with possibilities as a hurler, will be back, as will William Knotts, infielder; Albie Sparks, outfielder, and Joe Gregg, outfielder.

Home games are scheduled with Salesianum, Elkton, Brown Vocational, P. S. DuPont, and A. L. DuPont.

Two open dates are listed on the card, which may be expanded to 16 games.

The complete schedule follows:
April 17—Conrad, home.
April 20—Claymont, away.
April 21—A. L. DuPont, away.
April 24—Salesianum, home.
April 30—Elkton, home.
May 8—Brown Vocational, home.
May 11—P. S. DuPont, home.
May 14—P. S. DuPont, away.
May 16—Open.
May 18—A. L. DuPont, home.
May 22—Conrad, away.
May 25—Salesianum, away.
May 28—Brown Vocational, away.
May 31—Archmere, away.
June 1—Mt. Pleasant, home.
June 5—Open.

If each family in the nation would use one extra pint of milk; an extra quarter pound of butter; an additional quarter pound of cheese; an extra one-half can of evaporated milk and one extra pint of ice cream per month, the entire surplus of dairy products and milk would disappear, according to U. S. Department of Agriculture economists.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture would like to see 40 percent more sweet corn and 35 percent more tomatoes grown in Delaware in 1951. W. T. McAllister, extension economist at the University of Delaware, said that an overall national increase of 22 percent in acreage of vegetables for processing, and four percent for fresh market vegetables has been suggested.

The program is designed for expert, amateur and novice riders, and among the participants in the expert division will be national titlists Billy Huber, of Reading; Joe Weatherly, Norfolk, Va.; Bill Miller, Mountville, Pa., and Bill Tuman, Rockford, Ill.

The 1951 speed inaugural will consist of 10 events and will include time trials, and two three-mile qualifying heats and a five-mile final in each of the three rider classifications. Time trials begin at 1:30 p.m., and the first racing event will get under way at 2:30 p.m.

Families Eat Better Now, Farm Aide Says

Eating habits of families in the United States have changed considerably in the past 40 years. These changes are good ones, according to Miss M. Gertrude Holloway, nutrition specialist for the Delaware Extension Service. More milk, green vegetables, fruits, eggs, and fats and oils are being used. There has also been some increase in the use of meat and poultry. There is a trend toward using less potatoes, grains and sugar and sirups. The foods for which the increase has been the greatest—milk, eggs, vegetables and fruits—are sources of valuable food nutrients which contribute to good health. Protein, calcium, other minerals, and vitamins are important nutrients found in the foods which are now being used more.

HOW TO "LEAD THE PARADE!"
In Party-Line Courtesy

When you take the lead in courtesy on party-line telephones, your party-line neighbors follow your cue. That means good service for everyone concerned! Here are two courtesy suggestions... easy to follow, sure to win favor.

1. When you start to make a call and find the line in use, hang up gently and give the waiting person a few minutes to finish his call.
2. When, while talking, you realize that someone else is waiting to make a call, hang up reasonably soon and free the line.

Newark Farm Coop Backs 4-H Contest

Last Year's Winners To Make Trip

The Southern States Cooperative Store in Newark, Mr. Albert R. Ridgeley, manager, is again inviting all members in its territory to enter a Hybrid Corn Demonstration Contest. This is the third year in which the Newark store has sponsored this program.

Maurice B. Field, County 4-H Agent, will supply any member upon request a letter which will authorize him to receive four pounds of a Southern States variety of hybrid seed corn, enough to plant about 1/4 acre. The club member is then expected to keep a 4-H Crops Record Book, be able to identify this plot in the field and arrange to measure the yield. The four members judged by the County Extension Staff as winners will be invited to go on an educational trip to visit fertilizer manufacturing, seed processing and feed mixing plants of the cooperative in Baltimore next spring. The boys who have been invited to go on this year's trip to be held next Tuesday, March 27, are listed below with their variety of hybrid corn grown last year and the yields they produced:

Raymond Lamborn—S.S.#362, 81.9 bu. per acre.
Joseph Mitchell—S.S.-U.S.#13, 117.8 bu. per acre.

James L. Derickson, Jr.—S.S.-U.S.#13, 80.9 bu. per acre.
Ivvin G. Klair II—S.S.-U.S.#13, 69.1 bu. per acre.

Twenty-two club members took part in this program last year, and both the cooperative and the County Extension Service are anxious to increase this year's participation.

Demuth Paintings On View At U. of D.

Exhibitions To Continue Thru Mar. 30

An exhibition of 56 paintings and drawings by the American artist Charles Demuth will be on view at the Art Gallery of the University of Delaware's Memorial Library through March 30. Selected for a tour of United States museums from the large retrospective exhibition shown at the Museum of Modern Art in New York last spring, these works range in date from 1906 through 1929, presenting Demuth's flower and still-life studies, his post-cubist architectural paintings, his vaudeville and night club scenes, and his remarkable sensitive illustrations of books by Henry James and Zola.

Born into a wealthy Lancaster, Pa., tobacco family in 1883, Charles Demuth was sent to art schools in Philadelphia and Paris, and became a member of the circle around Alfred Stieglitz. Demuth had become one of the masters of American watercolor painting when he died in 1935. He produced over 900 paintings and achieved an extraordinary sensitive and personal expression.

The Demuth exhibition will be open during library hours, which are 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. on weekdays, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays, and 1 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 10 p.m. on Sundays.

1951 Junior Tomato Club Rules Listed

Rules and regulations for the 1951 Delaware Junior Tomato Club Project were announced recently by C. Fred Fifer, Wyoming, chairman of the Junior Tomato Club Committee.

The project is sponsored by the Ten-Ton Tomato Club. It is open to all farm boys and girls between the ages of 10 and 21. Interested boys and girls can get entry blanks from their county 4-H agents, the FFA leaders, vo-ag teachers, tomato canners and buyers, or from R. F. Stevens, Box 150, Newark, secretary of the Ten-Ton Club. All entry blanks must be mailed to Stevens by April 15, 1951, said Fifer.

Each member must grow at least one-half acre of tomatoes and keep records of his plot. They must get their own plants, but the committee will help in obtaining good, certified plants. All completed projects will be judged in the fall, and awards made according to completeness of records, total yield, good growing practices, and quality.

Other members of the Junior Tomato Club Committee are: J. Walter Ake, Camden, treasurer; Clifton Hastings, Bridgeville; M. M. Price, Jr., Laurel; Margaret Webb, Dover; George Vapaa, Harrington; Gilbert Perry, Middletown; Fred Haas, Middletown; and Sam Gwinn, Georgetown.

board is considering introducing a work-study plan at the Newark High School under which students volunteering for the course would spend half a day in class and the remainder employed in an approved trade or job. A program, covering a wide range of job fields, has been submitted for the board's study by A. B. Anderson, state director of trades and industries for the public schools.

The program would be designed to provide non-college bound students with practical training for their post-graduate careers. The board is expected to make a decision on the proposal in the near future.
