Aetna Vols Receive $9,640.19 In House-to-House Collection

Additional $5,495 Mailed In This Week After Sunday Canvass of Residences In Newark Fire District; Goal Of $31,250 Sought From Public Toward $68,250 Budget

On A-Day—last Sunday—volunteer firemen of the Aetna Hose, Hook & Ladder Co. collected $9,640.19 in donations from residents of the Newark fire district toward a goal of $31,350 sought with public contributions to the annual fund drive for maintenance of fire protection service in the area. Uniformed Aetnamen received the $9,640.19 in donations from appreciative residents with house-to-house calls last Sunday, a week after campaign brochures had been distributed throughout the district by bulk mail for the first time in the history of the annual fund drive.

An additional $5,495 has been received by the Aetna Hose, Hook & Ladder Co. through the mail this week, with return of envelopes sent out in the original bulk mailing to all homes in the district.

The Aetnamen maintain two fire stations in Newark, and a fleet of 11 fire-fighting vehicles, with volunteer firemen serving without pay, on call 24 hours each day.

Campaign Chairman Olan R. Thomas, a former president of the Aetna Hose, Hook & Ladder Co., and councilman for the 6th district in the City of Newark, said that some areas were not completely canvassed last Sunday; "that the Brookside area was barely tapped, and urges all residents of the fire district to mail their contributions if they have not made their donations with house calls from local firemen."

Junior High Aides Invited To Annual Guidance Session

Nov. 22 Conference Slated At UD; Early Emphasis For College-Bound Students

Guidance counselors at junior high schools in Delaware have been invited for the first time to the University of Delaware's annual guidance conference program.

Dr. Edward R. Ott, director of admissions at the university, said junior high schools were included in recognition of the importance of early counseling of college-bound students.

"The time to think about college preparation is not when a student is completing his secondary education, but much earlier—preferably in junior high school," Ott said.

The annual conference is scheduled for Tuesday, Nov. 22, in the Student Center, and more than 100 guidance counselors throughout the state are expected.

University personnel will describe the institution's efforts to admit all qualified students, and various means they use to insure that each student works at maximum capacity.

A special workshop committee met yesterday to ascertain meaningful areas of discussion at the Nov. 22 meeting, and ways to coordinate school-university admissions procedures.

University representatives for the workshop included Ott, John H. Jones and William R. Baldt, admissions counselors; Dr. Victor Mankin, assistant professor of education; Dr. Wilfred A. Pemberton, acting director, office of counseling and testing.

At the Nov. 22 conference, Dr. Pemberton will describe methods by which secondary school counselors can predict how their students will fare at the university—in their freshman years and throughout the college careers.

David M. Nelson, director of athletics, will discuss "The Student-Athlete at Delaware" following a luncheon.

On the afternoon agenda are brief presentations by heads of three university programs, each designed to help university students reach their full potentials.

Student Visitors To France Last Summer Report Experience For Twin Town Group

The Newark Twin Towns Association met last Thursday evening at the New Century Club to hear reports from Newark students who spent part of their summer visiting families in La Garde-Freinet, Newark's twin town in the south of France.

The meeting was conducted by Chairman Jerome C. Weinberg; and his wife and co-chairman, Mrs. Frieda Weinberg, gave a resume of the 10th annual town affiliation conference held in Washington, D.C. last September.

It was noted at the conference that the Newark-La Garde-Freinet affiliation is a particularly successful one.

Ag College Cited For Air Pollution Control Project

The college of agricultural sciences at the University of Delaware has been cited for its contribution to a national project in air pollution control.

A certificate presented by the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare, credits the college for its assistance in gathering basic information on air pollution through participation in the National Air Sampling Network. The Delaware station is one of 250 throughout the nation.

According to Dean S. Mathews, regional program director of air pollution for HEW, the air sampling network is a vital element in the nation's effort to control air pollution.

In the past three years, monitoring equipment has been operated on the university farm in Newark. At designated times, Farm Manager Charles Passmore activates the equipment and sends contaminated air filters to a collection point in Cincinnati. Scientists then examine these filters to determine the nature and extent of air pollution in various parts of the country.

The college air pollution program is under the direction of Dr. Donald Merton, associate professor of plant pathology.

"I had to teach them Gujarati, five hours a day, six days a week. They could not speak any word of English in class—everything in Gujarati. It was tough but challenging, and slowly they started talking, and particularly the State of Gujarat."

Saturday Twin-Bill Scheduled By UDG In Ticket Demand

2 Saturday Performances For "Absence Of A Cello" Planned At Mitchell Hall

Unprecedented demands for tickets during last year's season have necessitated two Saturday performances of the University Drama Group opening production "Absence of a Cello" which will be presented at Mitchell Hall on the university campus next Thursday, Nov. 17, through Saturday, Nov. 19, President Richard Kudukis reports.

The curtain rises at 8:15 p.m. Thursday and Friday, and twice on Saturday—at 6 and 9 p.m.

This hilarious spoof written by Ira Wallach and directed by the UDG's own Howard Kucher lampoons the organization man.

It is about a physicist, played by "Curly" Mahanna, and his loving wife portrayed by Emily Sanders, who have gotten themselves into a financial bind by spending two years on experiments triumphantly proving that his pet thesis is wrong.

Now he seeks an executive position with a large appliance company and finds his competence is not the only qualification needed.

A man with high values and a gigantic imagination, he finds he must conform to the mundane life of the stereotype business executive. This he does by hiding from the company's personnel investigator the fact that he plays a cello in a local quartet, as well as other nonconformist traits.

The set is designed by L. Parker Thomas, who not only has the distinction of having designed more sets in this theatre area, but has designed some of the best and most imaginative sets in UDG history.

Tickets may be obtained at the Mitchell Hall box office between 3:30 and 5, and 7-8 p.m. any day except Saturday and Sunday up to and including days of performances.

Mail orders for reservations and theatre parties may be secured through Col. Donald Dutton, business manager, at 430 Townsend Road, Newark.

The trophies were awarded by the Allied Trades, N. J. Division 9. All four of the Bing trophy-winning exhibits look better than good enough to eat, and Bernd Sachler's elaborate woodland scene includes the only wild mushrooms or toadstools that may be eaten with impunity.

An owl and an ax are on a sawn stump, while two brown sugar fawns; a pair of green frogs; a squirrel, a rabbit, multi-colored leaves, and grass are included with three animated mushrooms—or edible toadstools.

Truck Driver, Son Escape From Fire On JFK Turnpike

A trucker and his seven-year-old son escaped from their burning truck early Saturday after the rig crashed into a guard rail and bridge abutment on the John F. Kennedy Turnpike near Newark.

Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Co. firemen of Newark, and Singely Fire Co., Elkton, provided manpower and equipment at the scene after the accident at 4:06 a.m.

Trooper John Tormellen of the Maryland State Police turnpike detail said Billy Green Phipps, 35, and his son, William of Durham, N.C. were unhurt although gasoline from a refrigerator unit spilled flaming fuel over the truck and cab.

Tormellen said Phipps carried his sleeping son out the right cab door to safety through a sheet of flame. The rig was damaged by the crash and fire.

The truck was owned by the Central Carolina Farmers Exchange, Durham, N.C. police said. It carried 350 crates of frozen chickens en route to a Philadelphia terminal.

Police said the truck veered off the highway to a shoulder and brushed a guard rail before jacking when it hit the support for the Md. 279 overpass. The road connects Newark and Elkton.

Local Pastor

Church Of Christ Plans Emigration From Southwest

The Church of Christ in Newark plans to move 50 families from southwestern states into the Newark area within the next year in a large-scale missionary effort.

Plans were announced this week in Newark and in Abilene, Tex., to relocate 50 families from the Southwest to Newark by September, 1967.

Charles Moore, minister at the Newark church on Salem Church Road near Ogetown, said in Abilene that the Newark Church of Christ and the College Church of Christ in Abilene will cooperate in recruiting the 50 families, all members of the Church of Christ, to move to this area to strengthen the 75-member Newark congregation.

Recruited families will voluntarily leave their homes and jobs to resettle in an effort to spread "the Word."

Similar efforts by the Church of Christ have been completed or are underway in Long Island, N.Y.; Somerville, N.J.; Stamford, Conn.; Rochester, N.Y.; Erie, Pa., and Burlington, Mass.

The Newark Church of Christ held a prayer service for the project, and Loren Thompson, a teacher at Christiana High School, is leading the Newark congregation during the pastor's absence.

The Rev. Moore, who has been supported by the College Church of Christ since 1963 in Newark, spoke to the Abilene congregation in two services describing the City of Newark and its relationship to "megalopolis," the key location of Newark in the Washington-to-Boston complex.

Mr. Moore will see people this week in a recruiting office on the campus at Abilene Christian College, returning to Newark on Friday.

School, Union Hall Service Station Hit In Vandalism

Delaware State Police are trying to connect an alleged rumble between Brookside and Robscott Manor gangs with vandalism at a school, a service station and union hall.

Early last Thursday, vandals caused more than $4,000 damage after breaking into the Brookside Elementary School, according to state police.

Similar vandalism was reported at a nearby service station and at the United Auto Workers hall in Brookside.

After breaking into the school, according to Principal Robert E. Snyder, intruders took hammers from a classroom work area to smash a television set, a toilet bowl and all other fixtures in a boys' rest room, windows and laboratory equipment.

The vandals also broke three projectors, damaged some musical instruments owned by the school and stole two instruments.

The principal's office was left in turmoil with all the furniture damaged. Ditto fluid was poured over the furniture and the walls were splattered with ink and paint.

Police said they had reports of a fight between rival youth gangs in the two neighborhoods but could find no evidence that the incidents occurred.

A Robscott Manor youth was beaten on Wednesday night near his home, but police said they could not connect the incident with a rumble. Officials at the Brookside School, however, believe the rumble was a gang fight and that winners went on the vandalism rampage to celebrate.

One of the goals of poultry producers is higher quality chickens at lower costs. They're not doing this out of the goodness of their hearts — they're trying to make money. They'd like to have consumers eat more chicken. But before Mrs. Housewife is going to change her family's eating habits, she has to be convinced that chicken is a better deal either through price, or quality, or both.

More than 200 participants in a recent broiler housing seminar at the University of Delaware's Georgetown Substation talked about changes in a chicken's environment that will make it healthier, and the grower wealthier.

Speakers on the day-long program agreed that the kind of chicken houses that were built 20 or even 10 years ago no longer provide the kind of "atmosphere" necessary for profitable poultry production.

Experts talked about windowless houses, all-electric environment control, central heating, pre-fab construction, timed temperature control and how these developments are changing the poultry business.

W. T. McAllister, agricultural economist at the University of Delaware, outlined the problems of poultry houses. He said that as agricultural enterprises go, dairying or vegetable farming have good income possibilities, but over the years it has been broilers that have put the profit on most of the farm homes; kept a good car in the driveway; and enabled rural children to have a good education.

Tom Williams, rural civil defense specialist at the University of Delaware, outlined emergency power requirements of a broiler house. For less than $1,000, he said, a complete emergency power unit can be installed. Over a 10-year period, he pointed out, it would cost about one-tenth of a cent per bird to provide the emergency power.

The program was sponsored jointly by the agricultural extension services of Maryland, Virginia and Delaware, and Delmarva Poultry Industry, Inc.

The Truth About Arthritis

Second of four articles
Rheumatoid arthritis, the most troublesome of the arthritic diseases, most often affects the connective tissues in joints and is extremely painful. It usually begins with general fatigue, soreness and aching followed by appearance of pain, swelling, warmth and tenderness in joints. In most cases several joints become involved, particularly those of hands and feet. Usually there is weakness and fatigue, loss of appetite and weight; frequently patients have cold, sweaty hands and feet. Gradually, joint motion can be lost and in time deformities of the joints may occur.

In addition to joint symptoms, patients may have other changes, such as lumps or nodules under the skin, inflammation of the eyes, pleurisy and anemia.

When setting a routine of treatment, the doctor may want to know many things seemingly unrelated to the disease: how the patient lives, how he relaxes, how much does he worry — factors that have a bearing on the total treatment prescribed.

Chances are that treatment will involve a number of things: exercise or physical therapy, heat, rest and diet, and one or more drugs, among other things. Drug therapy can include phenylbutazone, cortisone or other corticosteroids, an anti-inflammatory drug, or gold salts. But whatever else the doctor prescribes, he is likely to include pure aspirin. Says The Arthritis Foundation: "Aspirin is the single drug most widely used in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis." The fact is that aspirin is one of the most useful drugs ever devised, and that it has a very special and helpful effect in rheumatoid arthritis. Next: Women and children.

Russell Bradlee Dies After Fall In College Work

The death of a University of Delaware maintenance man on Tuesday last week was attributed to a fall while he was at work Monday night, Newark police report.

Russell Bradlee, 55, of 197 Mitchell Street, Elkton, died at Wilmington General Division after being taken on Agricultural Hill.

Bradlee, according to the state medical examiner's office, died as a result of hemorrhaging due to head cuts and bruises. Newark police said Bradlee, employed at the hall, was found in a chair in the basement of the building about 7 p.m. by a co-worker.

Police said there was blood on the victim's head and abrasions on the arms. The co-worker attempted to question Bradlee about his injuries but the victim collapsed and fell from the chair, police said.

Police said they found blood on an upper floor in the building. Bradlee's glasses on the floor nearby, plus a medical history indicating that he could have suffered a dizzy spell, led them to the conclusion that he fell and struck his head on the wall or floor.

Mr. Bradlee is survived by his widow, Mrs. Helen B. Bradlee, two sons, James E. and Thomas F., both at home with his stepmother, Mrs. Helen Bradlee, of North Towanda, N.Y., and three sisters, Mrs. Veronica Kelley, Tonawanda, N.Y., Mrs. Virginia Miller and Mrs. Vivian Bartolomei, both of N. Tonawanda.

Requiem mass was offered Friday morning in Immaculate Conception Catholic Church, Elkton, with interment in the church cemetery at Cherry Hill.

Friends called at the Pippin Funeral Home, Elkton, last Thursday night where the rosary was recited.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary A. Perry; four daughters, Dolores, Jean, Joan and Betty Ann, and three sons, Gerald Jr., Walker and Roger, all at home; two brothers, Ralph of Philadelphia and James of Collingswood, N.J., and a sister, Mrs. Marie McElroy of San Francisco, Calif.

Requiem mass was offered Saturday morning in Holy Angels Catholic Church, Newark, with interment in All Saints Cemetery.

Friends called Friday night at the Warwick Funeral Home.

In lieu of flowers the family suggests contributions to a charity of the donor's choice.

CONFIRMATION FOR J. CALEB BOGGS

Re-elected to a second term as U.S. Senator for Delaware, J. Caleb Boggs was well lauded for his performance with a 29,818 plurality over James J. Tunnell, Jr. Almost a Newark native son—Young Cale Boggs broke his neck on Frazer Field while playing football for the University of Delaware—the Senator lived here as a student on the university campus. And had it not been for the intervention of Dr. Wallace M. Johnson in his capacity as local physician, J. Caleb Boggs' career would have been terminated with the gridiron accident and Delaware would have been deprived of an able Congressman, Governor, and now U.S. Senator.

Boggs won handily over a capable, tough opponent in Jim Tunnell, and is batting a big 1,000 in remaining undefeated in political rivalry ranging from the Student Government Association at the University of Delaware, to the big time in Washington. Congratulations to both winners and losers in Tuesday's election. It takes a lot of doing to run for political office, and win or lose, commendation is in order for a big try at a thankless job.

To our Newark area neighbors Ev Hale, Bill Hart, and Joe Murphy for winning seats in the State House of Representatives, and to John Rash, Ralph Edmondson, and Bill Alsip for their effort in seeking these public offices—congratulations!

And to Newark's Henry Folsom and Bill Warwick as new county councilman and county coroner—big winners—congratulations, too, on your effort and successful campaigns.

Former Resident Lillian Allen Dies

Mrs. Allen is survived by a daughter, Mrs. G. M. Hauslein of Ardmore, Pa., and four grandchildren.

Newark Science Teachers Travel For Techniques

Science teachers in the Newark school district traveled last month to learn more about the teaching of science and to share with others, techniques developed in Newark.

Mrs. Catherine Y. Bonney, science coordinator, lectured in Pittsburgh at the National Science Teachers meeting, on the use of the Planetarium.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Derickson, biology teacher and outdoor laboratory naturalist; and Paul D. Harding and Ora Ann Shultz, biology teachers—all of Christiana High School—attended the same meeting.

Mrs. S. Frances Staveland of West Park Place Elementary School attended the outdoor education project meeting in Washington.

One of life's briefest moments is the time between reading the sign on the freeway and realizing you just missed the off-ramp.

Charlie Rutledge

As chairman of the education committee of the Man-Made Fiber Producers' Association, Rutledge extended his service to the entire man-made fibers industry. His work in this field was recognized by the late Matthew H. O'Brien, president of the association, who described him as "the finest salesman the industry ever had."

Perhaps his greatest impact on individual consumers came through presentation of his "Mama" show, contrasting the modern housewife's lot with that of her ancestors before the days of synthetic fibers, wash 'n' wear and durable press.

His colorful personality and dramatic showmanship made the "Mama" show a favorite of hundreds of live audiences, and other millions of people who saw and heard him on local and network television programs.

He is the author of papers on textile fibers, and has contributed to textbooks, dictionaries and encyclopedias. One of his recent works is "The History of Threads—Man-Made Filaments and Chemistry"—a section of the book edited by Louisa Bellinger of New York's Metropolitan Museum of Art. This material forms the narrative for the "Threads of History" exhibit now touring the United States under sponsorship of the American Federation of Arts.

His most recent publication is "Milestones in the DuPont Company's Textile Fibers History."

Born in Columbia, Pa., Rutledge studied at Johns Hopkins University and Carnegie Institute of Technology. His first newspaper job was with the Baltimore Sun while a Hopkins student.

He later was editor of the Cecil Whig and the Newark Post before joining DuPont.

Mr. and Mrs. Rutledge, the former Ella Emery of Plainfield, N.J., live at 203 Jackson Boulevard, Wilmington.

In the near future, they plan to travel extensively. On their return, Rutledge plans to complete the manuscript for his history of the man-made fibers industry, basing his new work on research which led to his "Milestones" booklet.

Twin City Group

Dana Frazier saw people more of the local countryside than the others because he stayed with a family whose eldest son was a florist traveling three times a week to the market in Nice. Dan usually went along, and his French "brother" varied the route on every trip.

Claudia Reese stayed with the family of a grape-grower, where she enjoyed not only the company of her French "sisters and brother," but also the pleasures of fresh vegetables and chickens to eat. Claudia reported that her "family" was rightfully worried when she went to bed with her hair in rollers, fearing she would suffer dreadful headaches. They also advised against showering after meals as a precaution against indigestion.

Jim Cox stayed in a home half a mile outside La Garde-Freinet with a family only recently moved South from Paris. This gave Jim a slight advantage in the language department — Parisian French is taught in the high school here, and he did not have to cope with the added complication of the southern accent of the Gardeois.

His "family" included four children, and the youngest — Charles, age nine — fell in love with Jim's University of Delaware sweat-shirt. Jim's first act on returning was to send Charles such a shirt.

Donna McGinnis had four French "sisters," and one had won two beauty contests. Her "father" a businessman, rose from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. every weekday. On weekends, he made wine for the family, and Donna helped by scrubbing out the casks.

Donna said she enjoyed the evenings when she could sit around with the whole family, discussing a wide range of topics.

This family watched a lot of television—and French TV is not always sympathetic to the United States. Donna felt that, if not by her arguments—at least by her presence and her manner—she helped create a better impression.

Tom Rannels, a freshman at the University of Delaware this year, stayed with a large family in a spacious house where he had a third floor apartment all to himself. One of his French "sisters" hopes to come to Newark next summer.

Tom had the misfortune to fall off a motor-bike and break a tooth which caused him to miss a trip the rest of the group took into the Alps. He did have a unique experience of a visit to a French traveling dentist, a man who brought his professional services to La Garde-Freinet for one hour every week.

Sig Andersen also had an accident and dislocated his shoulder. He spent his summer in a cast, but his activities were not curtailed.

Geoffery Moore Admitted To Ahilene College Club

Geoffery Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore, Newark, has been named a member of Kiyodal club at Ahilene Christian College, Ahilene, Tex.

Moore, a 1965 graduate of Newark High School, is a sophomore mathematics major. He was elected to obtain membership in a social club at ACC, a student must have a grade average of 2.5; be a sophomore, and have attended ACC for at least one semester.

At the conclusion of the evening, the young people voiced their gratitude and appreciation to the people of Newark who had worked on their behalf and thanked the committee for sending them to La Garde-Freinet.

Mrs. Andrews expressed the opinion of all when she replied "We're awfully glad we did."

Free China Calling

CHINESE INDEPENDENCE DAY
On October 10, 1911, Chinese revolutionaries attacked the members of the corrupt Manchu dynasty. Inspired by the teachings of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, these revolutionaries then set up the first republic in the eastern hemisphere.
A man of letters as well as action, Dr. Sun wrote a number of works in which he outlined his plans for a free and democratic China. Communist rebellion prevented his blueprint from being carried out and in 1949, the free Chinese government moved to Taiwan to continue combating the Chinese Communists.
Today, the free Chinese, under the leadership of President Chiang Kai-shek, celebrate their independence and honor Dr. Sun on October 10 of each year with parades and exhibitions. They look forward to the day when they will fulfill Dr. Sun's revolutionary goals by restoring peace and prosperity to all Chinese.

Do-It-Yourself Darling from Texas Is National March of Dimes Child

Donna Dill, a 5-year-old Texan who is most at home on her pony, has been named the March of Dimes National Poster Child for 1967.

Branded by friends as a do-it-yourself darling, pert and pretty Donna likes to be active and independent despite a severe birth defect.

Donna, who was born with an open spine (spina bifida), symbolizes the 250,000 American babies born with birth defects each year. The March of Dimes has helped her as part of its continuing fight against birth defects.

There was a time when the independent little miss wanted to sleep in her braces so she could get up by herself in the morning. She helps around the house by picking up her toys, helping mother with the dishes and cookie-baking.

Donna frequently visits her grandparents' ranch near Corsicana, 40 miles from her home in Hillsboro, Tex., to ride her pet pony Popsy.

When she's on Popsy, Donna's blue eyes sparkle and her blonde pony tail bounces up and down. Riding gives her a feeling of freedom—Donna needs no crutches when she rides.

But she can't walk without crutches, and her partially paralyzed legs are supported by braces every waking hour.

Donna's open spine was treated when she was 18 months old, and she has had four operations since. Her general health is good, and her doctor thinks she may be able to discard her right leg brace someday.

Popsy is not Donna's only pet. In fact she is surrounded by animals. Her 3-year-old poodle, Fluffy, is a favorite, and she keeps goldfish in a bowl in her room. Donna also finds time to play with a neighbor's kitten.

"I just like all animals,"

THE EYES OF TEXAS and the nation will focus on Donna Dill, 5-year-old miss from the Lone Star State, who is the 1967 National March of Dimes Poster Child. She symbolizes 250,000 American children born each year with birth defects.

she told her mother recently, "even snakes."

Donna now attends Sunday school and plans to begin public school next fall. This young lady will enter the first grade an accomplished and experienced traveler.

As the National Poster Child, Donna may very well meet President Johnson during the January March of Dimes campaign tour, this 5-year-old charmer will make public appearances in about 20 cities from coast to coast.

There will be guest spots with the stars of television, motion pictures, and radio.

Along with Donna on this nationwide tour will be her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David J. Dill, both native Texans.

Donna's father is quite at home on the range. As a student in high school and college he roped calves in rodeos. He is employed today by the U.S. Department of Agriculture as the Assistant County Supervisor for the Farmers' Home Administration.

The National Poster Child's mother, Jo Ford Dill, is secretary of the Hill County (Tex.) Chapter of the National Foundation-March of Dimes.

A former majorette in college, she is teaching Donna to use a baton, but Donna's ambition is elsewhere. A true Texan, she wants to be a cowgirl when she grows up. She privately confesses, however, that she would settle for being a mother or a nurse.

leaves, wild flowers and birds. Many people are not aware of this center.

Aerospace Society Has Dean Comings As Guest Speaker

Technology advances will include lunar landing and return; establishment of a scientific orbital station; nuclear ionic propulsion; manned landings on Mars and Venus; development of equipment for simulating earth atmosphere, and advances in propellants and raw materials according to Edward W. Comings, dean of the University of Delaware engineering school.

Speaking at the monthly dinner meeting of the Delaware Section of American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics last Thursday, Comings said "These advances will be accompanied by increased use of computers which will replace over 25 percent of today's office worker functions."

"Our children are generally being educated for the past and not for the future," Dean Comings concluded.

"The problem arises due to difficulty in predicting how rapidly technology will advance. Today's scientific achievements were beyond comparison 20 years ago. The problem must be recognized and action taken to improve today's educational standards," he said.

A tour of university engineering laboratories was conducted by Dr. J. Moszynski and Dr. B. Seidel following the meeting.

Dick Kelley's Four Touchdown Runs Pace Hoffman's Yellowjackets For 52-26 Win

Dick "Kelso" Kelley, halfback and co-captain for Coach Bob Hoffman's unbeaten conference champion Yellowjackets, ran for four touchdowns and Co-Capt. Lou Stengari at quarterback scored a touchdown and kicked four extra points as Newark ran roughshod over Dickinson by a 52-26 score on the Dickinson High School field last Saturday morning.

Leading 26-6 at the half, Hoffman used his entire squad in routing the host team, now 1-5 in conference A-Flight standing.

The Yellowjackets entertain the co-champions from Wilmington High School this Saturday at 1:30 p.m. in the local stadium, and the Red Devils are 4-1 for the season.

Halfback Pedro Swann opened the scoring for Newark last Saturday, running eight yards for a touchdown in the first quarter, and Kelley added another with a plunge from one-yard out. Stengari kicked both extra points for the Yellowjackets' 14-0 lead at the end of the first period.

Kelley drove two-yards to score in the second quarter, and Stengari added Newark's fourth touchdown with a one-yard sneak for a 26-0 lead.

Krzwicki passed to Stephenson for a 45-yard scoring play and six tie-in points for a 26-6 half-time count.

In the third quarter, Kelley ran one and four-yards for his third and fourth touchdowns of the morning, and Stengari kicked both conversions to provide Newark with a 40-6 advantage.

And then Dickinson scored on a 50-yard pass play from Wockenfuss to Messick.

Fullback Jim McDonough drove one-yard for a Newark touchdown in the fourth frame, and Halfback Dan Winteringer ran six yards for another to end the Yellowjacket scoring.

Dickinson scored again with Falkowski taking a Wockenfuss pass in a 25-yard touchdown play, and Wockenfuss kicked the extra point for the final 52-26 score.

Playing for the Yellowjacket champions against Dickinson were Lou Stengari, Bob Tucker, Mike Stengari, and Larry Temple, quarterbacks; Kelley, Swann, Winteringer, Bradley Lane, Steve and Gil Jones, John Thompson, Greg Spencer, Gary Connell, and Tom Mavey, halfbacks; and McDonough, Ty Wood, Bill Fletcher, Dave Ward, John Frame and Brian Ginty, fullbacks.

Up front were Larry Tucker, Orville Wright, Sam Jackson, George Toulson, Don Stietnicki, Bill Cain, and Ken Robinson, ends; Conway Hayman, Gerry McCormick, Larry

Smith, Keith Walker, Ken Ferro, Barry and Leigh Hesselstine, Walt Williams, Jack Pyle, and Wayne Lynch, tackles; Bob Russell, Tom McDonald, Dave Graybeal, Kevin Kennard, Ed Davis, Bob Lambert, Joe Smith, Dale Mayer and Chuck Barba, guards; and Centers Ken Woodward, Tom Bratton, John Turner, Grier Murray, Steve Stengari, and Rick Walker.

"I bought the Newark Post for nine weeks, looking for that story about the kids catching those fish last summer." Big Buck Buckingham frowned last Tuesday.

Buck's grandchildren—Penelope, Chuck and Butch—caught their very first fish in some piscatorial schooling with Grandpop from the banks of the North East River in nearby Maryland last summer—and now the three youngsters are looking forward to next year.

With good, common sense, plain cane pole, hook, line and sinker, Buck Buckingham's grandchildren caught perch and sunfish in the traditional, classic start for all young anglers—with Grandfather's guidance.

"I ain't caught a fish all year," the veteran Delaware Bay saltwater sportsman said ruefully.

Point Pot John Jackson with a couple of deer-hunting companions, left Newark last Saturday for a change of scenery from Maine to Canada, and from his Hampshire net shop wildlife of alligators, hamsters, guinea pigs, tropical fish, and an electric eel, to the whitetail deer, black bear, moose, grouse and lynx of the Canadian bush.

"We ran into cold rain in New York City, snow in the Hamphires, and clear weather in Canada," John reported to Mrs. Jackson last Sunday as the Canadian voyageurs began their reconnaissance for game in the area.

They expect to return to Newark this Saturday or Sunday, depending on the availability of venison. Last Sunday, Mrs. Arthur W. Price proved to be one of the most stalwart seagoing members of the distaff side since Lady Pirates Anne Bonny and Mary Read sailed the sea off Ocracoke on the Outer Banks of North Carolina in the days of Blackbeard and Calico Jack.

Jessie, with her husband Art Price aboard the Young Lady in a very, very rough cruise from Cape May in New Jersey to the South Shore Marina at Delaware's Indian River Inlet, was undaunted and perfectly at ease amid the white-toothed mountains of roaring green ocean water towering over the 42-ft. cruiser in the troughs, while a north-west wind whipped spindrift from the foaming, backwash in the wake, and solid sheets of salt water were flung back over the flying bridge and aft into the cockpit.

"She would have been sick before we cleared the inlet in my boat," Husband Art said in pleased amazement at the soft riding qualities of the Young Lady in which he had just installed a pair of Barr Marine V-6 diesels, in comparison with his Can Du, Too sportsfishing cruiser berthed at Uchts Marina in Cape May.

Mrs. Price had come along for big bluefishing, not a boat ride, but the roaring nor-wester precluded any chance for blues offshore in the Atlantic Ocean last Sunday, and the contemplated fishing trip degenerated—but not much—into a violent voyage.

Coach Ciesinski Announces Roster For Cross Country

Coach Ray Ciesinski has announced his varsity and javave squad members of the Newark High School cross country teams for the past season.

The 6-3 Yellowjacket harrier finished in a tie with William Penn for third place in the Blue Hen Conference A-Flight won by undefeated Wilmington.

Varsity runners for Ciesinski's cross country squad are David Townley, Wolfgang Bauer, Richard Bauer, Robbie Stearns, Bill Kremer, Bruce Jones, Jeff Purcell, John Searl, Chuck Staiger, Gary Carpenter, Andy Geyer and Ned Carter. Stearns, Kremer, Jones, Searl and Carpenter are the veteran varsity lettermen on the 1966 squad.

The Yellowjacket javavees included Chris Dunn, Dick Ketterer, Jimmy Siemen, Stevie Kutz and Danny Banks.

Hike To Hawk Mountain Planned By Trail Club

Marie Mealey will lead the Wilmington Trail Club on a trip to Hawk Mountain this Saturday, with all interested persons to meet at the Wilmington YMCA at 8:30 a.m. "With luck, we will witness the annual migration of thousands of hawks over the mountain sanctuary," Miss Mealey advises. "Bring good hiking shoes, lunch and cap." Reservations are due Friday, Nov. 18, for the beach hike on Island Beach State Park, N. J. Call Alyce C. Blackmore, 226 Bassett Avenue, New Castle.

KLINE'S KICKERS

Coach Loren Kline's Delaware soccer team faces Temple away this Saturday at 11:30 a.m., and the Blue Hen booters wind up the 1966 season at home with 2 and 3 p.m. contests against LaSalle and Bucknell on Tuesday and Friday of next week.

With the twin diesels purchased from Barr Marine Products Co. in Philadelphia, and successfully installed with the counsel of Art Price and Bob Barraclough, the Young Lady's speed had been stepped up by more than 100 per cent over headway previously provided by a single 671 diesel. And Captains Dick Pleasanton and Gibby Young beamed like a pair of seagoing Cheshires with the added power and performance.

Wright hurt his shoulder early in the second quarter and Sand reinjured his shoulder late in the game. The loss to Buffalo dropped Delaware's overall record to 5-2 with another rough road test on tap this week.

Boston U. (3-5) has been waiting for a rematch with the Hens since last year's 50-7 Delaware victory. And the Terriers boast a 26-16 win over Buffalo this year!

Raymond said he was pleased with the performance of junior fullback John Spangler in the Hens' defeat at Buffalo. Slippery footing and a determined Buffalo defense stifled most of Delaware's offensive efforts, but Spangler was able to pick up 85 yards in 17 carries.

"John did an excellent job," the Hen coach noted. "He had a very productive afternoon and played perhaps his best game."

Spangler's 85 yards rushing boosted his season total to 354 yards. And the Baltimore native is the team's second best pass receiver with 11 catches for 100 yards.

Wright, a junior from Rockville, Md., continues to lead the team in rushing with 417 yards in 94 carries.

Green, a senior, is second with 382 yards in 111 attempts. The 25-year-old Camden, N.J., native is "What was the name of that boat we beat over in Cape May?" Cap'n Young asked on the way home to Newark last Sunday evening. "The Oyster Shack?" Well, that was close.

We met Bob Rettig fishing along with Bill Barker and Dave Porter's dock at the South Shore Marina last Sunday—and failed at first to recognize Rettig without his Calcutta surf rod and classic cigar. A veteran Delaware surfer and one of the finest in the country, Bob Rettig has long menaced the Portuguese fishermen with his whistling pyramids cast from the Diamond State beaches.

But Messrs. Rettig and Barker had a dozen nice winter flounder on the dock in some light tackle fishing with bloodworms—and we enjoyed a real reunion after too many years.

"Remember that baby toddling around on the beach the last time we fished together?" Bob Rettig was asked. "He's a freshman at the University of Delaware—and a surferman, too."

And Mr. Rettig shakily reached for a cigar.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day

Reason to Smile

They said it couldn't be done, but John D. Schapiro picked up the challenge and today he wears a broad, amiable smile and with good reason.

Twice in the past there had been attempts to launch international racing, but they fizzled. When John Schapiro took over Maryland's Laurel in 1950, it was just another race track. Racing had been conducted there since 1911 and some of its Stakes had acquired a glow of tradition, but Laurel boasted nothing out of the ordinary. In 1952 Schapiro inaugurated the Washington D.C. International, and some of his friends smiled. Today they smile with him and not at him.

Not content to round up the top horses of the world and pay their expenses to Laurel,

Capt. Ed Sand, Halfbacks Green, Wright Expected To Be In Shape For Boston U.

Coach Tubby Raymond has received a favorable report from Trainer Roy Rylander, as the Blue Hen medic reported that regular halfbacks Brian Wright and Stu Green and Capt. Ed Sand may be ready to play by Saturday when Delaware takes on revenge-minded Boston University in Boston.

Green, the team's leading scorer and second in rushing, suffered a shoulder injury on the first offensive play of the Hens' 36-6 loss to Buffalo last week.

Wright hurt his shoulder early in the second quarter and Sand reinjured his shoulder late in the game. The loss to Buffalo dropped Delaware's overall record to 5-2 with another rough road test on tap this week.

At that point, John Moffett Harman, Jr.—an old fishing friend from Florida some 30 years ago—walked up to cap the climax in the nostalgia department.

You will recall that at the end of the second step, your left foot was balancing the weight of your bowling ball which was passing your right knee in its movement into the backswing.

In the third step the ball reaches its height in the backswing. I recommend that the ball should not go any higher than shoulder level. Also make sure that this maximum height is attained when the right foot is on the lane. This maximum height in the backswing is obtained by allowing the ball to swing back naturally under its own acceleration. Again, I wish to stress that the arm should be kept close to the body during this entire backswing movement. Now, you are ready for the last step in the four step delivery.

Senior Crusaders Beat Raiders 28-0 For 1st Place Tie

The Crusaders defeated the Green Raiders 28-0 in the idle VFW for a 4-1 first place standing in the senior division of the Capitol Trail Junior Football League last Sunday, and Central stopped Stanton 23-6.

In the junior division, undefeated Stanton walloped Central 41-0, and the Green Raiders defeated the Crusaders 13-2.

For the senior Crusaders, Al Guizzetti and Bob Henry scored touchdowns on 30 and 20-yard pass plays; and Earl Rosado and Mike Riley ran six and 10-yards for touchdowns.

Dan Dolphin scored two, and Austin Longacre and Bob Henry scored single extra points.

Central's David Holmes returned two punts for 40 and 30-yard TD's, and ran 40-yards for another; and Kermit Smith recovered a Stanton fumble in the end zone for Central's fourth touchdown.

Donald Bennet scored the Stanton TD on a 10-yard run.

In the junior Stanton's rout of Central, James Logue scored three touchdowns—with a 40-yard punt return, and on runs of 15 and five yards; Jim Leys scored on a 10-yard pass play from Greg Dambach; Dambach ran 70-yards for another, and Mark Comey's broke away for five yards and a TD.

Dambach and James Caudill provided two extra points each, and James Logue, one, for Stanton.

Brian Eisner and Gary Stefanisko ran eight and five yards for Raider TD's, and Len Camattelli scored three extra points for the junior Raiders in defeating the Crusaders 13-2.

Crusader Jack Ferro tackled a Stanton TD in the end zone for the safety.

This Sunday, beginning at 1 p.m., the Crusaders face Stanton at the Central Jr. High field, and Central opposes VFW at Dickinson.

Coach Bill Horney's Vikings Edged 6-0 In Cliff-Hanger With DeLaWarr's Lions

Undeclared in five starts, Coach Bill Horney's Christiana High School Vikings lost a very near thing indeed last Saturday morning as DeLaWarr scored the only touchdown of the game in the fourth quarter at Newark High School Stadium for a 6-0 win and a 3-3 conference season for the visiting Lions.

After three winless seasons and an opening loss to Conrad, the Vikings tied the Wilmington High School champions, and successively defeated Dickinson, Gunning Bedford, Brandwine, and P. S. du Pont before losing last Saturday's defensive battle to DeLaWarr.

Horney's Vikings play powerful William Penn at New Castle this Saturday at 1:30 p.m., and the Colonials are 5-1 in A-Flight conference play after a loss to the Yellowjacket champions of Newark.

Christiana is 3-2-1 in the conference A-Flight.

DeLaWarr's Fred Tyson slipped through a three-yard touchdown early in the fourth period to provide the Lions with their winning six points last Saturday.

Dave Claus went all the way as the Viking quarterback; the halfbacks were Mike Horney, Joe Thomas, Shan Haddaway, and Richard Lewis; and the fullback was Jeff Heath.

Greg Kracher and John Drendall were the Christiana ends against DeLaWarr; John Bonner and Gary Lloyd were the tackles; Roger Hunt and Al Dager, the guards; and Vern Orndorf played all the way at center.

"Will the chairman of ticket sales please make his report?"

Coach Bob Hoffman's Blue Hen Conference champion Yellowjackets face the Wilmington High School co-holders of the BHC title this Saturday at 1:30 p.m. at Newark High School Stadium in what should be one of the most exciting matches of the current football campaign. Hoffman's undefeated Yellowjackets are leading the conference A-Flight with a Big Six record, and the Red Devils from Wilmington have been impressive in acquiring a 4-1-1 lead.

Should Newark defeat Wilmington this week—and we believe the Yellowjackets will, handily—they face a tough finale against Christiana on Thanksgiving Day. The Vikings tied Wilmington.
