Dances Depict American Development In May Day Celebration On Saturday

Processional Followed By Crowning Of Queen

The theme of May Day this year is the development of America from the time of the supremacy of the Indian to the present day. There will be dances to depict the mood of the various sections of the country at the different stages in our history. Following the procession and the crowning of the May Queen, Frances Cox, there will be several Indian dances. In order to make these dances more authentic, the only music will be the beating of drums.

Also on the program are dances of the New England Settlers, Southern Planters, a Gay Nineties Easter Parade and, to represent the modern America, a Jitterbug contest. Of course there will be the traditional May Pole dance, done by the Senior girls.

A large turnout is expected as the May Day Festival is one of the most important events of the year. It will be held Saturday, May 11, outside of the girls' gym and will start at 2:30 p.m.

Engraved Portraits Of English Authors Shown In Library

An exhibition of engraved portraits of well known English authors between the 16th and the 19th centuries is being presented in the West Wing of the University Library between May 1 and May 14. Many of them were published contemporary with the writers whom they represent. Some of the more interesting pictures include a sensitive portrait of John Keats and one of John Donne as a young man. There are also two amusing caricatures of Anthony Trollope and Thomas Carlyle. In connection with the exhibition of portraits some of the principal works of the writers are displayed on an open shelf near the pictures.

These portraits come from the collection of Dr. Alexander Sackton of the English Department.

Tom Scott, Guest Soloist At U. of D. Concert On May 9

Reception To Follow; Sponsored By Chorus

Through the co-operative efforts of Mr. Loudis and Mr. Gildersleeve, State School Director of Music, Mr. Tom Scott, will appear as guest soloist at the first public concert of the University Chorus Thursday night in Mitchell Hall. Mr. Scott, a graduate of the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, is well known throughout the country as an authority on American Folk Music. His successful Town Hall recitals, as well as his recent national broadcasts and frequent public appearances, have been favorably commented upon by New York critics.

TOM SCOTT

Mr. Scott will appear at A. I. duPont High School, and Friends School on Wednesday and will present a concert in Dover, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, Wednesday night. Thursday he will be at the Newark High School and the same evening will appear at the formal concert in Mitchell Hall.

The concert program is one of American Folk Songs by the chorus and Mr. Scott. Among them will be Tom Scott's own composition, "Lowlands," the rendition of which Mr. Loudis HOPES the composer will conduct. The chorus and Mr. Scott will sing his own arrangement of "Eric Can't." Some of his solo numbers, typically American in title include HAUL AWAY, JOE, RAILROAD CHANTS, WHAT SHALL WE DO WITH A DRUNKEN SAILOR, OLD STORMY, and others.

A reception is being given by members of the chorus for Tom Scott and invited guests, directly after the concert, in the Hilarium of Warner Hall. Mr. Loudis and the chorus wish to thank Bill Mitten for his untiring efforts as accompanist during rehearsal and the presentation of the concert.

Language Exams Given Here May 30

On May 30, at 11:10 A.M., in Room 220, University Hall, the Reading Knowledge test in Modern Languages will be given.

Students admitted to this test are those who are now enrolled in intermediate courses (104), to students who have completed an intermediate or higher course, to students presenting three or four units of a modern language at entrance, and students judged competent for special reasons.

English Contest Winners Will Be Given Books

Dr. W. Owen Sypherd, President of the University of Delaware, will present the prizes to the five student winners of the Creative Writing Contest, at the special Assembly program tomorrow morning in Mitchell Hall, honoring the observance of the National Festival of the Arts.

The five prize winners, whose names will not be released until that time, are receiving their awards on the basis of the quality of the work contributed. No particular type of writing or subject matter was required by the Department as represented by the variety of material receiving prizes—a long prose work, an essay, and three poems.

Philosophy Dept. Presents Dr. Beck

The Department of Philosophy of the University of Delaware is pleased to present in an open lecture on Wednesday, May 8, at 7:30 P. M., in Room 220, University Hall, Dr. Lewis W. Beck, formerly of this department. His topic will be: PHILOSOPHY'S VALUE FOR EDUCATION.

All interested persons are invited to attend.

Plastics Shown At A.I.Ch.E. Meeting

The A.I.Ch.E. held a meeting on May 2 when Mr. Johns of the Continental Diamond Fibre Co. gave a very enlightening speech on Thermosetting Plastics. He also showed a few samples of the plastics produced at the company's plant in Newark. The attendance fell rather short of expectation. It is hoped that more spirit and enthusiasm be put into the organization.

Gala Dance Will Be Held In Fieldhouse From 9-1

The Junior Class of the University wishes to extend an invitation to all to attend the second formal dance of the spring season—The Junior Prom, which will be held Friday night, May 10, 1946, in the Field House. The dance will last from 9 till 1 A. M. with music provided by Lee Castle and his orchestra. Tickets may be purchased any time this week at University Hall. The admission price is $3.60 per couple.

This year marks the first time that a Junior Prom has been held since 1943 and plans are progressing to make it the largest and best dance this campus has ever had. Led by Co-chairmen Elinor Fall and Jack Povey, the prom committee has developed some wonderful ideas for decorating the large Field House. The decoration committee is ably handled by Layton Maybrey. The prom committee has decided that there will be no corsages at the dance.

Others who have contributed largely to the success and the guarantee of a good time for all are Bill Monaghan and Barbara McKinstry, who headed the orchestra committee, and we feel sure that their selection of Lee Castle will prove to be another milestone in superior entertainment at the University. In charge of the program are Elizabeth Trainer, Carolyn Buell; Tickets, Irene Short; Patrons, Helena Clark.

The patrons and patronesses for the Prom will be Dean Gwendolyn Crawford, Dean and Mrs. J. Fenton Dougherty, Dr. and Mrs. R. C. Kase, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Murray, and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jones.

E-52 Players Give Show In Coatesville

On May 10 the E52 Players are taking a show to the Coatesville High School to present in an assembly program. The play is "Sparkin'" by E. P. Conkle, who was the predecessor of Dr. Kase as the director of dramatics at this University. Mr. Conkle also wrote "The Prologue to Glory," the life of young Lincoln, which was recently given as a radio program on the "Cavalcade of America," and he is now professor of playwriting at the University of Texas.

The cast of "Sparkin'" are all members of Dr. Kase's class in acting and include June Anderson, Adele Flanzer, Marilyn Greenberg, and Basil Macknik. Ann Scannell will direct the play which will also be presented in a special assembly on May 16, at Mitchell Hall.

ARMY PLAY CONTEST

Dr. Kase, director of dramatics at the University of Delaware, was one of two men to judge the thirteen plays which made the semi-finals of the National Theatre Conference World Wide Army Play Contest. His recommendations will go on to the finalists judges, Brock Pemberton, the Broadway producer, and Robert Sherwood, the playwright.

KAMPUS KARTAVNS

I.S.A.—Men Of Their Word?

This election was to be open and above board with the two parties in complete cooperation with each other. This was to be the first time that the elections were to be run on a democratic basis, with no dirty, underhanded deals pulled by either party.

A few weeks ago the I.S.A., that splendid, democratic, and completely above board organization, called the Interfraternity Council into a confab. They presented a plan whereby each one of the parties would share the offices by running only persons from their respective groups. Thus, for example, only Frat men were to run for the presidency and only I.S.A. candidates were to run for the next highest office. The Inter-frat council thought over this plan and came to the conclusion that it in itself was more undemocratic than the previous set-up. The Council compromised and agreed to put men up for office and let them run on their MERIT alone, with no organized block behind them. That the Council lived up to its word could be easily seen in Mitchell Hall last Thursday when they put up no candidates for the women's offices at all, leaving this part of the election entirely up to the women. It will also be noted in the forthcoming elections when the ill-famed "block" will be conspicuous by its absence.

The I.S.A. was well aware of the fact that the frat men were going to run a separate ticket and they knew the candidates for each of the offices. They were also happy to know that the election was to be the first honest one in many a year and were absolutely willing to cooperate in this behalf. They did this realizing that it would give them a better chance for office than they had ever had before.

BUT—there chanced to be a slight slip-up in the nominations at Mitchell Hall and one of the frat men was put up for an office which, under the present constitutional set-up, it would be impossible for him to hold. The Frat men, realizing this mistake, saw Dean Daugherty after the meeting and had this name shifted from the office of Secretary to the office of Treasurer, where it rightfully and constitutionally belonged. "Doc" thought that under the new system of cooperation between the two groups, it would be perfectly all right for him to make this change. He didn't realize that the I.S.A. was only preaching fair play because they weren't in the position to do anything else but play fair. As soon as the I.S.A. found out that this change had been made they got themselves together and came to the conclusion that they were in a pretty good position to pull some fast politics—the same thing that they had been preaching against since their reorganization.

For, what did the I.S.A. do but go to "Doc" AND WHIMPER AND COMPLAIN that the change was entirely unconstitutional and that they wanted the ticket back the way it was before. The I.S.A. was right in the respect that, theoretically, the change was unconstitutional—but they had forgotten that this was to be a GENTLE-MEN'S election; that this election was to rid the campus of all the bitterness and ill feeling which had been present in the past.

In his column this week, Harold Wilson, mouthpiece for the I.S.A., says—and I quote, "AFTER ALL, THE I.S.A. IS A SOCIAL ORGANIZATION—IT SAYS SO IN THE CONSTITUTION". Just who do you think you are kidding, Wilson?

By contesting this change on the ballot, the I.S.A.—WITHOUT ANY ELECTION AT ALL—has sewed up three of the major offices in the S.G.A.—but considering the renewed bitterness, hard feeling, and return of politics, they may find out in the future that it wasn't worth the effort. I.S.A.—WAS THIS NOT TO BE AN ELECTION TO MOLD THE CAMPUS INTO ONE UNIT? Guess what will happen now?

Enroll In Advanced ROTC

Recently there appeared in the columns of the Review an article announcing the reactivation of the Advanced Course ROTC next fall. This offers an opportunity to enlisted veterans to secure a commission in the Officers' Reserve Corps, which will ready them for service in any future emergency and which will enable them as college men to take their rightful places as leaders. In addition, the payment of commutation allowances by the Government will assist students in completing their education. It is realized that many veterans have had their fill of military life, but the satisfaction of service for one's country will, we are sure, impel many to take advantage of this opportunity to enroll in the Advanced ROTC.

The University of Delaware has a military history of which it is justly proud. The Cadet Corps was organized here in 1870 under the provisions of the Morrill Act, when the University was granted public lands by the Federal Government in return for the placing of Military Science and Agriculture in its curriculum. Many graduates of the ROTC have had distinguished military careers as is well known. Let us continue this notable tradition.

Nomination Nonsense

Last Thursday, May 2nd, nominations for the new S.G.A. officers were held in Mitchell Hall. Considering the fervor and excitement which had been whipped up on the campus by certain parties and factions, this meeting was, without a doubt, one of the most poorly attended and disinterested exhibitions of campus activity ever to be held in the University.

In an institution with an enrollment of approximately 900 students, this important meeting was able to draw the half-hearted interest of a meagre 75. Then, with a wealth of campus material to draw from, the best this group was able to do was to put up a ticket with only one candidate for two of the top and most important offices, those of Vice-President and Treasurer.

This meeting was indeed a disgraceful exhibition of college spirit. The S.G.A. is an organization set up for the welfare and benefit of the students and as such should require a more wholehearted support than was shown at Mitchell Hall last Thursday.

Barring these lamentable features of the meeting, it was a proper one for the students. All candidates for the S.G.A. seem to be well qualified to hold office, with a possible few exceptions.

The REVIEW, as an independent organ viewing the campus impartially, expresses the sincere desire that the students will display a greater interest in the forthcoming elections than was shown at the time of nominations.

Through the Smoke

Ann Furth

The automobile, however difficult it may be to obtain now, is without a doubt one of the most useful machines modern design and Mr. Ford have given us. All last winter the girls living down at Harter dreamt of being allowed to keep cars here on campus, so that they could avoid being either soaked by the rain or frozen by the cold every time they wanted to eat a meal down at Kent. More than one allowance was spent up-town on a sandwich and coke for dinner. And then there's the little matter of transportation. The B. & O. schedule seems to have been planned so that the train pulls out just ten minutes or so before your last class is over. And the busses, those contrivances of the devil, always get you to Wilmington just on time to wait fifty minutes for the next train. One solution to this discouraging problem would be to let the girls who want to, keep cars on the campus at their own discretion. Jack Saddler believes this. "It's a convenience and I can't see any objection as long as the girls still have to be in at the same time. Sally Wooleyhan backs him up by saying, "I don't see any objection. If we're old enough to have licenses, why aren't we old enough to keep cars down here?" Jim Malcolm, with true southern gallantry, drawled, "Yes, let them keep cows, pigs, dogs, sheep, anything they like," while his fellow rebel, Bob Jones, said, "If they want to keep them, let them keep them."

Al Wolfe's was another affirmative answer. "Especially if they're 1941 green Buick convertibles," he added. "I don't see any reason why they shouldn't be allowed to keep them," claims Pat Vaux, "however, I don't see any advantage to it." Well, Pat, we're not all the athletic type, and while "with the wind and the rain in your hair" may sound romantic, it usually isn't. For some strange reason the drowned-rat appearance seems to have gone out of style. The same answer goes to Sam Garfinkel who said, "if they have a reason, yes, but I don't see any reason."

Henry Taylor tersely comments, "Yes, it's her privilege." Marilyn Greenberg would personally like to keep a car down here, and outside of the consideration "that facilities for keeping it might be limited" she sees no objection. Jean Tullar, thinking of this problem, said "It would be nice. That is unless they got so they cluttered the place up. I don't see any reason why the college should object. It's really an individual matter." "To use the privilege with discrimination" is the idea of Debby Wolson, who would like to see "restrictions placed upon the use, such as limiting it to upper-classmen."

"If the girls are allowed to keep them here during the day," Claire Johnson sees no reason why "they can't keep them here all the time. The boys are allowed to." Granted that such a thing as a double standard exists, it does seem rather ridiculous to suppose that it is less dangerous for a girl to ride in a boy's car than in one of her own.

(If anyone is interested in having a specific question asked, won't he please let me know. If it's at all possible, I would like to get questions representative of every group on campus. So if you're curious about anything just let us know.)

Honor System To Be Placed Before Student Body in Friday's S.G.A. Election

At the college hour last Thursday, Dean G. Fenton Daugherty reminded the student body of a vital question, namely the problem of having or not having an honor system at the University. It was decided that on the ballot at the coming election on Friday there would be this question: Do you think that the Honor System should be established here?

The system, as students used to call it, was abolished several years ago in the Delaware College, but the Women's College has kept it for a long time. Since the University was reorganized last year, a solution must be found which could be applied to men and women alike.

The reason why many students do not like the idea is because it is inefficient and unfair, and, because the system seems to be a police system under which one is watched all the time by fellow students. The idea of being "ratted on" by fellow students is rather repulsive to this group. A committee of the S.G.A. some months ago voted against the system, but no action was taken because the faculty has the final say in abolishing or adopting an honor system.

What is an Honor System? Some fellows might be interested in knowing. According to Dean Daugherty, it is nothing but a code where honor is placed before everything else. It is, according to him, a system where "a man's word is as good as his bond."

During an exam the teacher would stay out of the classroom and let the entire class take care of themselves. Students are supposed to be honest on their own behalf. It has been rather successful in the Women's College and there is no reason why it shouldn't work with the men also.

Of course, the honor code is to be distinguished from regulations of the University. It forbids cheating, stealing, etc., but it would have nothing to do with the usual behaviors of the students. If a fellow is found drunk, he may be called in and asked about the incident. As long as he tells the truth, he has not violated the code.

The Honor System is, of course, executed by the students, but the dismissal of the students on other actions still has to go through the faculty.

Is the system good or bad? Idealism is always good. But whether it will be successful or not is quite another question. Dean Daugherty thinks: "It all depends on the students."

Peg Reynolds, Bobby Mitchell, B. Loose, Ginny Smith Vie For Women's Affairs

The nominations for new officers of the Student Government Association, held in Mitchell Hall at College Hour last Thursday, resulted in naming Peg Reynolds, Betty Loose, Ginny Smith, and Barbara Mitchell as candidates for Chairman of the Women's Discipline Committee. Since many will probably, at one time or another, become well acquainted with the winner of this coveted office, here is an introduction to the nominees.

Peg Reynolds, a sophomore in the school of Home Economics, comes from Wyoming, Delaware, where she graduated from Caesar Rodney High School. Her chief interests there were the band, the glee club, and the school magazine, with dramatics as her favorite indoor sport. If she's elected to this office, Peg promises "just consideration before issuing any punishment."

From Millsboro, comes Barbara Mitchell whose alma mater was Linden Hall. Glee club, student council, and all sports—particularly basketball and hockey, took up most of her spare time at L. H. A. Freshman, Bobbie is continuing her high school activities here at U. of D. and during basketball season proved valuable as a member of the freshman team that was victorious over Wesley Junior College.

Betty Loose made her mark at P. S. DuPont High in Wilmington where, among other activities, she was outstanding in all swimming meets, and also as editor of the school paper. She worked on the student council, and served as Captain of the Leader Corps for a semester. Her platform in the campaign for the coming election is under cover of the deepest, darkest silence.

Just "fairness" is to be the motto of Ginny Smith if she should be elected. If you frequent Kent Hall, you all certainly know Ginny, the assistant head of the Dining Hall. Hailing from Northfield School in Massachusetts, Ginny is a freshman who has already distinguished herself as an excellent swimmer, which was her main interest in high school. When she and Betty Loose clashed in the Freshman - Sophomore Swimming Meet, it proved to be a hard-fought race.

Well, there are the vital statistics and figures; the choice is up to you.

in the years '39-'41 he was president of both his Freshman and Sophomore classes. At that time he was a Business Administration major, but he is now starting all over as a Freshman in the School of Engineering. Luke, whose tall frame is a familiar figure on the baseball diamond, says, "I intend to do all I can to see to it that the Student Government Association is the main organization on campus for the student body, and that they are properly represented so that they can obtain everything they'd like in conjunction with the policies of the University."

Acquainted with the work of the disciplinary committee of the Men's College, he would like to see a similar type of setup. As a former student and especially as a veteran, Luke Selby is against all factions and he hopes "the people who are elected will serve as representatives of the whole school," and that they "will throw all partisan feeling out."

COFER UNOPPOSED CANDIDATE FOR TREASURE'S POST

Bob Cofer is a candidate for treasurer of the S.G.A. Of medium height, with blond curly hair, and blue eyes, Bob is from Delaware City and is a Social Junior at the University. During the war he was with the 84th Division in Europe. Now a Chemical Engineering major, Bob is a letter man on the track team, and has two letters for swimming. He is also a member of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers.

He feels that he would be well-qualified for the office of treasurer, because, in his own words, "I know my figures!" Bob was active in his high school student government, and is confident that our organization can be made to work efficiently. When asked to make a statement concerning his policy if elected, Bob said very simply, "I believe strongly in student government, and would do my best to make our S.G.A. work for the good of the entire student body."

Caroline Storms Unopposed for V.P.

Caroline Storms, better known as Stormie, is a Jerseyite from Roselle. She is one of our leaders in extra-curricular activities. She served ably in the capacity of vice-president of her Freshman class and was also treasurer of Women's Student Council. This year she is on the social committee and was elected to serve as Secretary of State of Girls' State at Dover. Being the only nominee for the vice presidency of the S.G.A., Stormie is automatically elected. This procedure amazes her but that's because she loves competition. We're sure she'll do a bang-up job and give good ole Delaware some vitamins.

KUMLER, LEAMAN VIE FOR SECRETARY

Mary Kumler, candidate for secretary of the S.G.A., is extremely active in extra-curricular activities on campus. She is acting chairman of the Publicity Committee for the E52, a proof-reader and newsreporter on the Review, a member of W.A.A. and the Augustan Society, and was freshman representative on the Social Committee. An Arts and Science student, Mary is from Pelham, N. Y., and plans to major in social psychology.

"I believe that we need more social functions on campus, and more representative student government. I also think that the S.G.A. should grant the Physical Ed. Dept an athletic fund to make possible intercollegiate sports for women."

Candidate for Secretary, Earl Leaman is a graduate of P. S. DuPont High School where he was active in the student government. He was a tank gunner with the 12th Armored Division during the war, and was a prisoner of war for three months.

Earl is now a sophomore majoring in mechanical engineering. His extra-curricular activities include being President of Theta Chi and a member of the A.S.M.E.

Earl believes that there should be a financial situation worked out whereby name bands could be secured for the college dances. He also thinks that if the Music Dept. does not take some action regarding a University band and orchestra, the S.G.A. should sponsor such organizations. "I also want to see the S.G.A. funds managed properly," he said.

Booth, Dougherty To Run For President

LEN BOOTH

"The most important thing is to abide by S.G.A. constitution which is in effect at present. I'm in favor of promoting a program that will be beneficial to all of the students," stated Leonard Booth, candidate for president of the student government.

Continuing, Mr. Booth forwarded a project which he refers to as "Open House for S.G.A." Under this plan it will be publicized that student government council meetings are open to anyone who wishes to attend. In addition everything that takes place at these meetings will be published in The Review. This he cites as a measure in keeping the student body informed and interested in the S.G.A.

He furthered this plan by explaining that all by-laws or proposals brought up at S.G.A. meetings to be voted on at the following meeting will also be printed in The Review as a schedule of S.G.A. activities. This will enable the students to know the material that the council will take up at the following meeting. Len Booth feels that "once the student government is effectively functioning the students will be able to work together as a unit in order to obtain successfully more of the many things they desire."

Len Booth was a student of the University of Delaware in 1939 and 1940, after which he served four and one-half years in the Navy Air Corps.

LEN DOUGHERTY

Leonard Dougherty, presidential nominee, asserted his principal aim is "to preside over students without prejudice."

He stated that since "next year is the first term of real peacetime college life" many things that were eliminated during wartime will have to be reinstituted. Among these he gives examples as to the reorganization of the University band, publication of a freshman manual and pledge handbook. He expressed the desire to do everything possible to promote the welfare of the students.

"If the Student Union comes to anything, the students should be allowed to handle their own money and affairs concerning it. This is something they have never been allowed to do." He continued by saying that people of college age are old enough to take care of money and management of their interests. Since the Student Union was organized by the students, he feels that they should be given full right to administer its affairs.

Len Dougherty previously attended Delaware in 1941 and 1942. A senior now, he was formerly a member of the Student Council and president of his junior class. Len Dougherty is a member of Kappa Alpha Fraternity.

Miller, Clark, Short For Women's Social

"Henri" Miller, a Home Economics major, came to Delaware after graduating from Friends School, Wilmington, in 1944. When asked what she had done on social committees and in student government she laughed and said, "Not a thing." A few minutes later, while making her bed from a kneeling position on the floor, she told us that she had been treasurer of her freshman class and was now in charge of the workers in the Student Union. Henri thinks this year's social program was a big improvement over last year's but next year she would like to cut out the curriculum. When asked to give a serious statement about her policy in regards to social affairs she replied, "To make everybody happy." That's Henri.

Helena "Cookie" Clark, a nominee for the Women's Social Committee, came to Delaware after graduating from Holy Child Academy, Pa. At Holy Child she was chairman of the charity committee and member of the glee club. At Delaware she has worked with the E-52, chorus, and has been secretary of the social committee for three terms. Cookie thinks that one of the biggest things needed for our social program is more publicity, sooner.

Peppy little Irene Short, better known just as "Shortie," hails from Wilmington. She attended Wilmington High School where she was in the Honor Society leaders corps, and band. Shortie went to Washington College for a year before transferring to Delaware this fall. A member of the E-52 business staff, she can be seen before the big performance trying hard to find good seats for late ticket buyers. Shortie, as a nominee for women's social chairman, states that her chief aim would be to represent the interest of the students to the best of her abilities.

Bill Piper

As Chairman of the Student Union Committee of the S.G.A., Bill Piper has been responsible for the S. U., and since then he has had to see to it that the work of the various committees has been co-ordinated in order to keep everything running as smooth as possible.

Bill, a member of Sigma Nu and a reporter on the Review staff, prefers to remain non-committal. He says he is not the type to promise revolutionary changes in a campaign speech, but that if elected he will do the job to the very best of his ability.

Luke Selby

No new-comer to the realm of public office here at Delaware is Luke Selby, one of the candidates for the office of Chairman of Men's Disciplinary Affairs. Here

Steers Thinclads Win Triangular Meet Over Franklin & Marshall, Haverford

The U. of D. track and field team won its second triangular meet of the season Saturday, defeating Franklin and Marshall College, 49½ to 38½, at Frazer Field. Haverford was third with 38 points.

High scorer for the Blue Hens was Jack Simons who collected a total of 8½ points with a first place in the hundred yard dash, a second in the 220 and a three-way tie for third in the high jump.

Other winners for Delaware were Jim Riley in 220 low hurdles, Jim Holden in the pole vault, and Jim Otten in the shot put.

Shapiro and Vaklyes For Publications

"I intend to uphold the principles of the free press and to see to it that The Review and all other publications on the campus print true unbiased news beneficial to the school and its students." This, Dick Shapiro, candidate for chairman of student publications, presented as his platform.

In addition he said that he hoped to do all in his power to make sure that the yearbook was successfully resumed and that both paper and yearbook receive proper finances.

Dick Shapiro of Wilmington attended Delaware in 1942 and 1943. He is now business manager of The Review. Dick Shapiro is a member of Sigma Tau Phi Fraternity.

Sig Eps Still Lead Intramural League

Shut-out Pitching By Colona Highlights Play

Intramural League Standings

Sigma Phi Epsilon	5	1	.833
Annex	4	1	.800
Theta Chi	3	1	.750
Brown Hall	3	3	.500
Sigma Nu	3	3	.500
Sigma Tau Phi	2	3	.400
Kappa Alpha	1	3	.250
Old College	0	6	.000

The above standings include all games up to and including Friday, May 3rd.

This week proved to be the best so far this season for the intramural softballers, since they are now playing on daylight saving time.

This highlight of this week's play was the pitching of Jerry Colona of the Theta Chi team who pitched two shut-out victories over the Sig Eps and the Annex who were both previously undefeated.

There will be no meeting this week. Anyone with any problem concerning the league please present this to Max Kurman as soon as possible. If a meeting is necessary, it will be announced at the earliest possible moment.

There has been some difficulty with the turning in of score sheets. Please see that these are turned in promptly. If a game is won on protest or is forfeited please hand in a score sheet stating the outcome of the game so that a record of each game may be kept.

Swarthmore Downs Delaware Golfers

In a match played under very adverse weather conditions at the Newark Country Club Saturday, the Delaware golf team lost to Swarthmore by a score of 6 to 3. Delaware's number one and two men, Ed Wilson and Bob Steward, defeated Risko and Bredin. Swarthmore's one and two men, Wilson had the low score of 78 for the 18 holes. Aside from this the scores sky-rocketed due to the bad weather conditions. At the end of the first nine holes all six Delaware golfers had the lead, but failed to keep it with Wilson and Steward.

Nominee for chairman of student publication, Ed Vaklyes explained, "In view of the fact that the duties of this office have never been clearly defined, it is difficult to propose a platform. However, I intend to help eliminate some of the confusion which has existed in the past concerning the Student Government through student publications."

"I feel that all student publications should be kept free from the influence of the S.G.A. or any organized pressure groups," Ed Vaklyes added. He strongly stated, "Nobody is going to tell me what to say."

Edmond Vaklyes of Wilmington now holds the position of co-editor-in-chief of The Review.

Del. High Schools To Vie For Honors In Track And Field

Coach Steers To Be In Charge Of Gala Event

The first post-war University of Delaware Interscholastic Track and Field Meet will be held here on Saturday, May 25, it has been announced by W. D. Murray, head of the Department of Health, Physical Education, and Athletics. Following a policy established in 1942, Mr. Murray added, the meet is being held exclusively for Delaware schools.

Directing this year's interscholastic meet will be D. Kenneth Steers, a member of the Physical Education Department staff and head basketball and track coach at the University.

Mr. Steers stated that 12 schools from all parts of the state already have indicated that they will be represented by track and field squads this year and that several others are also expected to submit entries before the deadline on May 17.

A silver cup will be awarded to the school represented by the winning high school team. Steers stated, and gold, silver, and bronze medals will be awarded to the first three place winners in each event. In addition, he said, gold medals will be awarded to each of the four members of the winning high school one-mile relay team.

A separate division has been established for junior high schools. Although no cup is offered in this classification, ribbons will be awarded to individuals winning any one of the first three places in individual events, as well as to all members of the junior high school team which wins the 880-yard relay.

The schools which already have indicated their intention to participate are: Caesar Rodney H. S., Camden; Georgetown H. S.; Milford H. S.; Newark H. S.; Wilmington H. S.; Claymont H. S.; P. S. DuPont H. S., Wilmington; Salesianum School, Wilmington; Dover H. S.; Middletown H. S.; Richardson Park Junior H. S.; and the Junior High School division of Friends School, Wilmington.

Otten and Seligman For Social Chairman

Bill Otten would like to have more social affairs over weekends. His aim is to make them fun so that the general mass exodus which starts from Newark after the last Saturday class would decrease. He plans to effect greater co-operation with the Women's Social Chairman.

Hailing from Stone Harbor, N. J., Bill, a member of Sig Ep interested in basketball, football, and a member of the track team, says that since he is a person who likes a good time, he would like to see everyone having a good time.

Kurt Seligman, who at present is Managing Editor of the Review and also in charge of procurements for the Student Union, is basing his campaign for election on three points. These are to coordinate activities on campus; to present the campus with varied social activities; and to try to have at least one big name band on campus for one dance.

Kurt, a chemistry major, was a student here in '42 and '43. His main criticism of the social activities this term and a fault which he hopes to remedy is that the large formal dances have been scheduled so that they followed one another too closely.

Blue Hens Down Haverford 5-3, For Third Straight Win

Jots By Jarvis

The golfers got under way Saturday. The team lost a close one to Swarthmore on the local links.

Pre-match activity was sponsored by Chick Butler. After searching all over the town, the posse got a lead and there he was. But who would ever think of finding Chick in the D.P.?

The rain still didn't stop the track meet. Carrying on amidst threatening skies, the Blue Hens defeated their Pennsylvania visitors, Franklin and Marshall and Haverford.

Delaware's numbers again proved to be the deciding factors. Franklin and Marshall provided the star of the day—capturing the mile, half mile, and the two mile all in relatively fine time, considering the condition of the track and the bad wind.

The baseball team had a rest this weekend. After their poor but victorious showing we still wonder whether all the pep shown is due to the needle or the lack of it.

Luke Selby on first base looks like he's trying to take over Morpheus' job in the Kingdom of Slumber.

I believe everybody will agree that the team certainly needs some fight or pep or vitamins or a shot or something. But somebody please do something before they decay out there.

Swarthmore Sets Dela. 9-0 In Tennis

Swarthmore College's Tennis Team defeated the University of Delaware 9-0 in a match played on the Swarthmore courts last Saturday. The match originally was scheduled for outdoors, but was shifted to the field house because of adverse weather conditions. "Chip" Cabbage was the only net man who won a set for Delaware. Individual matches were as follows:

Singles

Botenger (SW) defeated Kirkland (DEL) 6-2, 6-0.

Ernst (SW) defeated Ryan (DEL) 6-1, 6-1.

Frankel (SW) defeated Hoffecker (DEL) 6-2, 6-0.

Ramsey (SW) defeated Cabbage (DEL) 5-7, 6-3, 6-0.

Orton (SW) defeated Edwards (DEL) 6-0, 6-0.

Kirn (SW) defeated Lieb (DEL) 6-1, 6-0.

Doubles

Botenger-Frankel (SW) defeated Kirkland-Ryan (DEL) 6-1, 6-0.

Ramsey-Ernst (SW) defeated Cabbage-Lieb (DEL) 6-3, 6-2.

Orton-Quint (SW) defeated Hoffecker-Edwards (DEL) 6-3, 6-0.

Neff Pitches Fine Ball But Errors Ruin Game

The U. of D. Delaware baseball team returned to Frazer Field after several away games, and proceeded to annex its third game in a row with a 5-3 win over Haverford College on Wednesday. Although the Hens did not show the power at the plate which they had exhibited on the road, the masterful pitching of Phil Neff made victory possible. Errors on both sides made the game much looser than it should have been. However, a snappy double play, and several other excellent plays by the Hen infield kept Neff out of trouble most of the time. The Hens scored first in the second inning with two runs on a walk, an error, and a hit, and again tallied two more in the third with several walks, an error, and a hit batsman. Haverford came back with a run in the fourth, and that was all the scoring until the sixth, when both teams tallied once.

The box scores:

Sigma Nu News

George Smith Grier, IV, erst-while lieutenant commander of Sigma Nu, was elected commander of the fraternity and formally installed in this capacity last Wednesday night. He succeeded Dick McHugh, capable commander during the difficult re-organization days of last fall.

Bill Piper, track star, attained the second highest office in the house, succeeding George as lieutenant commander. Other officers installed were Al duBell, recorder; Charley Mitchell, treasurer, and the rotund reverend, Bob Lower, chaplain.

Ken Shiels became historian, Dick Wolf reporter, Big Al Northwood, marshal, and the Mizzable Hound, Tom Parvis was elected sentinel by unanimous vote. The Election of the "Miz" marked the first time that the Sigma Nu Fraternity has had an actual hound dog as sentinel.

Brothers Dick McHugh, Al Northwood, Jim Mays, and George Wolf announced that their pins were out. Miss Jane Wagner shares the five-armed star with Dick, May Robinson wears Al's, Anne Stonemetz shares Jim's, and Shirley Minker, already engaged to George, wears his.

Blue Hens Take On Drexel Saturday

Haverford Team Host To Del. On Saturday

This coming week the Martinmen take on the Drexel Dragons at Frazier Field on Saturday afternoon and Haverford away on Wednesday.

The week should add two more victories to the three already accumulated. Haverford, played previously, lacks everything a ball club could lack. And so, after beating them once it looks like a sure thing again.

Drexel this year hasn't shown anything at all up to this point in the season. West Chester has given them two lacings and the way the box score looked it didn't show much hitting or fielding or pitching so here, too, it looks like a sure thing.

With a win streak of three in a row now's no time to stop.

U. of D. Will Award Distinction Degrees

The University of Delaware awards degrees of distinction in special fields to students of merit upon the fulfillment of such requirements as may be stipulated by the faculty. These requirements include the submission of the candidate's approved application for permission to enroll, this to be presented by the department concerned before May 15 of the Junior year; the completion before May 1 of the Senior year of a special and independent piece of research; and the passing with distinction of a comprehensive examination given at the end of the Senior year by the department in which the special work is being done.

Theta Chi

On Saturday night the Theta Chi fraternity held their last house party of the year and a good time was had by all. Dr. and Mrs. Mosher and Mr. and Mrs. Wedbee were the chaperones for the affair.

At a recent meeting Earl Leaman was elected president of the fraternity succeeding Frank Wilkins who has held the post since the reopening of the fraternity in November. Earl was a member before going into the service, and has always been active in fraternity gatherings. He also plays with the Royalists. During this same meeting all the newly elected officers were installed. These men will hold office for one year.

It has been decided that there will be no traditional bowery ball this year because of a conflict with the dates and activities on the social calendar. It is hoped, however, that the annual affair can be held early in the fall.

At present the boys on the hill are looking forward to the Junior Prom on Friday night. A sizable group of Theta Chi hope to be on hand for the occasion.

Incidentally the Theta Chi fraternity has a piano for sale if anyone is interested. It is in rather poor condition at present but there is still hope for it.

Poor Freshmen

Poor, poor freshman girls. Elated so on Wednesday, May 1, when the REVIEW announced unlimited uptowns and dating, deflated when the new rules were clarified by Dean Crawford. Don't feel too unhappy, girls. What other incentive would there be besides more overnights for you to want to be sophomores? There has to be a period of general settling-down-to-business some time or other. And that doesn't mean next year or the year after. College life is an entirely new phase of existence for almost any new freshman. In order to become accustomed to harder lessons and more concentrated courses, there has to be a set of rules curbing the social life and extra-curricular activities so that study rules can be established and methods of study learned. If you were allowed to date every night, lessons would definitely go on the decline, and then you wouldn't survive to know Sophomore, Junior, and finally, Senior social rules.

Retraction

The Review in last week's issue published an article concerning the changing of rules for women students. This article was not, however, a statement approved by Dean Crawford. The following corrections must be made:

Only important out-of-town telephone calls may be received after 10:30 P.M. No regulations have been established as yet concerning the Student Union since it is a temporary arrangement in Robinson Hall. Freshmen will be allowed to use their own discretion in attending and won't be considered dating if seen there. Other Freshman regulations remain as previously stated.

lin's AUTOBIOGRAPHY, and Henry Thoreau's WALDEN.

All the books were selected for the quality of binding, paper, illustrations, and general makeup, as well as for the content. Each one is labeled with a newly designed bookplate bearing the seal of the University, the winner's name and the date of the contest. The labels were designed by Miss Harriet Bailey, head of the Art Department of the University.

The books were chosen by Miss Bailey and Mrs. Thomas Rogers, chairman of the contest, who were advised by Mr. William D. Lewis, Librarian of the University, and Dr. Augustus H. Able, a member of the English Department.

The prize winning selections of the contestants, whose names will not be announced before the awards are made, will be published in the Spring Issue of the CAULDRON, the undergraduate literary magazine of the University.

I. S. A. News

After a weekend packed with band festivals, ISA dances, Flat tires, and Political connotations, your reporter is scarcely in fit condition to report. Nevertheless, for God, and country, and the ISA, comes the Old College Try.

The Band Festival is a little out of the realm of this column, so I will dismiss it with the brief note that a lot of people, including you reporter, found it more interesting than conflicting Chemistry Labs.

The ISA dance requires more attention—even though it was a little less nolsy. Independents are chuckling about the decorations—Brown Hall was the only place on campus that had starlight! Saturday night, the typical BH darkness, and the chaperones turning up the lights so that they could see how to play bridge the frat boys who ducked their fraternity pins when they came in—watch out for those wolves in sheep's clothing, girls—the new record the ISA bought for Brown Hall because Bev Deitrich stepped on one of the BH collection—the ample supply of drinks and sandwiches—but no cookies. This reporter hereby advocates Equal Rights for Cookie Eaters. That is something I feel very strongly about. After five or six sandwiches a guy needs a dozen or so cookies for dessert!

About flat tires, the less said the better. That, too, is a subject I feel very strongly about, but I'm afraid my comments wouldn't get past the censor.

I think I will ignore the political connotations. After all, the ISA is a social organization—it says so in the constitution!

Remember the Slogan: "Down With Flat Tires."

Old College Speaks

Listen my friend, while my tail I unfold. I've been sitting on it all day and it's got a heck of a lot of creases in it. Creases that is.

A&P. of New Castle came through again this week with a letter. This brings my fan mail to a total of two letters. I keep them filed under my pillow. Miss A. was inspired by our poetry in last week's column and sent in one of her own that we would like to quote.

She loved him once, with all her heart,
But he had his ups and downs.
She had a string attached to him,
But he issued forth no sounds.

Until one day, she saw the light,
And she knew he had to go.
For friends told her she was far too old,
To be seen with that yo-yo.

We were promised better food with the leaving of the ASTPs and this is what happens: We had sausage one day; liver the next; beef another; followed by fish for a Friday lunch. Friday supper was headed by stew which contained sausage, liver, beef and ham. We aren't sure whether this was called beef stew with sausage, or sausage stew with liver. Understand, we are not complaining. We just can't help but wonder where the ham came from and how the left-over fish missed the stew-pot.

The above concoction was served the week the ASTPs left. We nauseously ate it and wrote poetry (poetry that was) for our column. We believe two weeks is a fair trial and with complaints still being heard around commons we will once again start griping till an improvement is shown.

NOTES FROM A ROVING REPORTER—The Kappa Alpha boys up on Quality Hill are pretty sure of acquiring the Steele mansion up the street from Mitchell Hall. Ex-Kay Kyserite, Sully Mason, was the band originally scheduled for the Junior Prom, but as it turned out, his outfit couldn't make it. Lt. Art Millman gave a very exciting party at one of the town's better known niteries not long ago—celebrating his coming discharge. All hands present had a very enjoyable time, so I hear. Bob Lower and Jack Wilson, who have just recently been sams the amours of their heart inspirations, are crying in each other's beer these nites. Too bad about Tom Mulrooney's quitting school a couple of weeks ago 'cause he couldn't stand the gaff. Wonder just how serious it is between football star, Paul Hart, and his L.L. gal fran from up hometown way. Another question—Why does Dee Taylor insist on calling our ol' friend from Wilmington High, Fred Sposato, "Snuffy"? It looks like Frannie McAllister has found a romance up in Kennett Square. The comedians who second-storied Angie's Sub Shop the nite of the Inter-Frat dance should know better. Jack Hitchens, publicity agent for the Ace Bradley Contest, tells me that it has met its deadline and was won by a well known gent about campus. In case you didn't know about the contest, it's like this. Just write a letter of 100 words or less entitled "I Can't Get A Date Because". First prize was a date with Ace himself!—Poor Harry Huxford has a sad case of poison ivy! Hurry and get well, Harry. Jack Povey showed up one week with a luscious blonde eyeful from Pennsy. Hi, thar, Romeo!

Congrats to Katty Ann Ewing and Gordy Brewer on their recent announcement. Katty Ann's rock on left hand, third finger is eye-appealing. Lila Baker gets a ring from Bob Roberts, too. Their first date was for the St. Pat dance. Mighty fast work! By the way, there seems to be a lot of frat pins leaving the custody of their owners, lately.—Tish Trainer has acquired one.

Did you hear about the three Diamond State lads who ventured to New York City on Easter Sunday? They stood around uptown for awhile until finally one of them strolled up to a local gendarme and inquired when the Easter Parade would start! And here's one on a little coed from these parts. She went in to the Warner Theater in Wilmington at half price! Ha!

THE MUSIC BOX The Van Johnson picture, "No Love, No Leave" which is about to be released by MGM has a couple of good ballads in it—"All The Time" on the romantic side and "Love On A Greyhound Bus" as a novelty. "Meet Me On The Corner" played by the Air Lane Trio has a catchy tune and rhythm. About the best Dinah Shore record in quite awhile is, you guessed it, "Laughing On The Outside." "We'll Gather Lilacs" is done in fine Tommy Dorsey style with a Stuart Foster vocal. Alvino Rey's arrangement of "Cement Mixer" almost proves that the whole country is going NUTS!

The play was a distinct hit on Broadway due to its smart, lively dialogue, and the appealing theme that it's better to be a human being than a plaster or bronze saint.

The box office opens on Monday, May 13, and will be open from 3:00-5:00 and from 7:00-8:00 daily. Be sure to reserve your seats early as this is the last show of the season, and it promises to be one of the best.

Newman Club Meeting On Tuesday, May 19

A meeting for the election of officers of the Newman Club for the coming year will be held on Tuesday, May 14, at 7:15 in the recreation room of Brown Hall. The guest speaker for the meeting will be announced later.

Final plans will be drawn up for the Newman Club picnic to be held near White Clay Creek on Saturday, May 25.

High School Music Festival Is Success

Dr. Harris, Miss Thorpe Judge Bands, Choruses

Last Friday, the University High School Music Festival was held on this campus, and proved to be a great success. Twenty-one High Schools were invited to participate. During the morning, the bands performed in the Newark High School auditorium, where Dr. Ernest Harris of Columbia University was adjudicator, and Miss Leah Thorpe from the Peabody School of Music in Baltimore, Md., was adjudicator for the choruses which sang in Mitchell Hall.

Many of the bands gave exceptionally fine performances both in the morning concerts and during the colorful parade in the afternoon. The small band from Conrad H. S. played their marches very brilliantly and Caesar Rodney H. S. Band showed a fine feeling for their serious numbers. It was Wilmington High School, however, which took the honors with a sparkling rendition of "Lady of Spain" done by their fine symphonic band. Mt. Pleasant also can be proud of the remarkable playing of their band whose members range from 3rd through 9th grade.

In the afternoon, all the bands paraded through Newark, and massed in front of the Library steps. Dr. Sypherd then welcomed the musical organization to the University, and then Mr. Loudis introduced Dr. Harris to the students. Under the inspiring direction of Dr. Harris, the bands all joined in the playing of the "National Emblem March" and "Military Escort" which resounded across the campus. Finally the choruses and audience all joined in the playing and singing of "America the Beautiful" and "The Star Spangled Banner." It was a thrilling finale for an exciting day of music.
