Native Of Newark, Leader In Masons C. R. Jones Dies

A native of Newark and a Newark High School graduate, Chester R. Jones, 73, died Jan. 13, in Wilford Memorial Hospital after a long illness.

Mr. Jones was perhaps the best-known Mason in Delaware and the best known Delaware Mason outside the state.

His tenure as secretary of the Grand Lodge was the longest of any secretary in the history of the lodge.

He was immediate past-president of the Conference of Grand Secretaries, comprising secretaries of all grand lodges in the United States.

Mr. Jones was born in Newark on Aug. 21, 1891. He became a member of Oriental Lodge 27, Wilmington, in 1915 and served as master of the lodge in 1923.

In the Grand Lodge of Delaware he served as senior grand warden in 1933 and was elected grand secretary in 1939. He was secretary and treasurer of the Masonic home board, a former high priest of Delta Chapter 6, Royal Arch Masons, and was secretary of the chapter since 1944.

A 3rd degree Mason, Mr. Jones served in nearly all branches of Masonry and was an honorary member of the Supreme Council of Scottish Rite Masons, Northern Jurisdiction.

Mr. Jones was active in Republican politics and served on the Republican First District committee.

He served from 1946 to 1951 as a member of the Wilmington street and sewer department, and was president of the board at the close of his term.

Mr. Jones' first wife, Mrs. S. Beatrice King Jones, died in 1947. In 1949 he married Miss Helen Edson Pierce of Milford, who survives.

He is also survived by a son, Chester R. Jr. of Wilmington; a daughter, Mrs. Mildred E. Thompson of Glasgow, two grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Oscar F. Munda of Wilmington.

Services were conducted last Friday afternoon at the Rogers Funeral Home in Milford with interment in Odd Fellows Cemetery.

Feathered Friends Add Winter Cheer With Yard Visits

Presence of birds brings life and interest to the garden during dreary winter days. Encourage visits of these small feathered neighbors by regularly feeding them, advises Dave Tattall, assistant agent in ornamental horticulture.

A wide selection of bird feeding stations is offered by manufacturers. But the types that can be built at home from a few simple materials are limited only by one's imagination.

Perhaps the most commonly used is a tray with a hopper from which the seed is dispensed automatically. All feeders, however, should look natural and be of simple design.

Rough, rustic, untreated surfaces are best and they should be safe from mauling and gnawing.

A plentiful and well-balanced supply of food is important. Seed and peanut butter are favorite items with chickadees, woodpeckers and other insect eating birds.

Seed-eaters, like sparrows and juncos, enjoy various seeds, including sunflower, hemp and millet. Seed may be obtained as specially prepared commercial mixtures or gathered from garden or roadside plants.

Drinking water and grit also should be provided.

Trees and shrubs, too, can serve as an excellent natural food source during the winter. Cotonestars, crabapples, viburnums, hollies, hawthorns, and other plants with persistent fruits are welcomed by the birds. Large conifers, such as spruce and hemlock, offer both food and shelter.

Chrysler Production Tops Since Record Year 1955
Chrysler Corporation produced 1,242,162 U. S. passenger cars during the 1964 calendar year to post its highest output since the all-time high of 1,361,634 cars in 1955.

The 1964 car total is the third highest in Chrysler's history, exceeded only by the 1955 figure, and the 1,246,601 U. S. cars assembled in 1953.

WHOOPIING COUGH
Whooping cough is a serious infectious disease that can be guarded against effectively by immunization. Vaccine is usually combined with diphtheria and tetanus toxoids and is given to infants at two, three, and four months of age, followed later on by booster shots.

Whooping cough in its early stages can resemble the common cold with symptoms of a runny nose and a slight hacking cough which can interrupt the child's sleep. These cold symptoms increase and the cough becomes more severe and frequent until it is paroxysmal; that is, a number of coughs occur without an interruption even after taking a breath. A paroxysm is followed immediately by the whooping sound as the patient tries to breathe in. Choking spells can occur in the very young instead of the characteristic whoop. The violence of the paroxysm is necessary in order to expel the sticky mucus from the air passages and throat. Because of this violence, pressure is built up and can cause complications. Most of the complications from whooping cough involve the respiratory tract. Bronchitis is very common, as is emphysema.

The patient should be kept away from other children and should be kept in bed during the whooping stage of the disease. His room should be well ventilated, free from drafts, and kept at an even temperature. His head should be elevated to make breathing easier.

Whooping cough still causes more deaths during the first year of life than the combined deaths from measles, scarlet fever, diphtheria and polio. To safeguard your child, make sure he is inoculated against this disease.

This column is a weekly service of your doctor through the Medical Society of Delaware.

Leroy D. Crowder, manager of Southern States Newark Co-Op on Elkton Road, represented the local agency at the recent Southern States regional conference at the Lord Baltimore Hotel in Baltimore, Md.

YWCA Fund Drive For Center Pool To Begin Feb. 1

The Newark YWCA drive to raise $100,000 for an indoor swimming pool, locker rooms and additional parking facilities at the Alice P. Smyth Center, will begin Feb. 1.

The capital campaign of 1962-63 fell some $100,000 short, and consequently the Newark pool wasn't built. Rising costs, plus the need for more parking facilities, have increased the amount of money needed to carry out this expansion program.

Swimming has become one of the most popular forms of recreation, with water sports such as skiing, skin-diving, and boating depending upon swimming ability.

This pool is to be designed primarily for teaching all levels of swimming skills, in accordance with the YWCA's national policy of emphasis on physical fitness and preparedness.

"It is hoped that the greater Newark community will support this drive to enable all girls and women in our area to have this beneficial pool facility," Center Director Mary Dabolin said yesterday.

January Sales Provide Opportunity For Savings

January sales mean opportunities to save money if you buy wisely, according to Mrs. Suzanne Tattall, New Castle County home economics agent.

Sheets, pillowcases and blankets—even furs and sports equipment—are often found at special savings.

One of the first rules of taking advantage of a sale instead of being taken, is to know what you want and need, Mrs. Tattall notes.

Ample bargain hunting may mean you'll go home with useful buys.

And know the original price of the merchandise to be sure you're getting a bargain.

Poinsettia Plants

Can Be Perennials

With Proper Care

If a potted poinsettia plant adorned your home this Christmas it will need special care after the holiday season so that it will bloom again next year.

Not all poinsettia plants can be made to flower again another year, but with the right care it is sometimes possible, notes Mrs. Suzanne Tattall, New Castle County home economics agent.

After the poinsettia flowers and colored bracts—modified leaves—drop, stop watering the plant and allow the soil to become dry. When the remaining leaves and bracts fall off, place the plant in a cool and dark place, such as a cellar, where it will not freeze.

Don't water the plant while it is dormant.

In late April or May report the poinsettia and prune it to 6-in. above the pot's rim. Use fertile garden soil—preferably an acid soil. Be sure there is drainage in the bottom of the pot. Don't add lime. But you may add one-fourth to one-third peat to the remaining soil.

Water the plant and place it outdoors. You may plunge the pot in the soil. Horticulturists do not recommend planting poinsettias directly into the ground in the spring, because they may lose their leaves when lifted out of the soil in the fall and returned indoors.

Watch for new growth in two or three weeks. Water regularly to keep the soil moist.

The tip of the growth can be cut once or twice during the summer—but no later than Sept. 1—to prevent the plant from becoming too large. This "topping" will encourage branching.

Test the poinsettia outdoors until mid-September. Then place the plant inside at a window where it will receive as much sunlight as possible. Be sure the temperature doesn't fall below 60 degrees. Cool nighttime temperatures or drafts may cause yellowing of the leaves and drooping.

Poinsettia flowers begin to develop when days are short and nights are long—about the middle of October. Therefore, you should keep the plant from receiving light at night; the poinsettia is not likely to form flower buds.

Once the flower has started to grow and show color, light at night will retard its development.

NATIONAL YMCA WEEK

The Newark YMCA will join more than 1800 YMCA's across the United States in celebrating National YMCA Week, Jan. 23-31.

You've probably noticed the red triangle of the YMCA. You may have seen it on summer day camp T-shirts, passed one of the five branch areas; seen it at Camp Toekwogh; or noticed it on one of the buses that transport youngsters to their weekly fitness classes. Have you ever wondered what it means?

This triangle is the symbol of a movement which has guided millions of boys and girls toward good citizenship. Over 4,000 youth in the greater Wilmington area are actively participating in club programs, classes and activities that provide leadership training, spiritual growth and wholesome physical development.

The three sides of the triangle stand for the three ways the "Y" serves you and your family—in spirit—mind—and in body.

There's fun and fitness for your whole family at your YMCA. Spiritual fitness? The YMCA endows its members with faith in God and humanity—helps build brotherly love.

And mental fitness? The YMCA through its varied programs provides young and old with new friends—new interests—helps you become more mentally alert.

And physical fitness is certainly provided by your YMCA. The "Y" programs give youngsters healthy bodies . . . help improve the physical fitness of adults.

For over 120 years, the YMCA has been providing fun and fitness for the whole family.

We salute the YMCA and join with them in celebrating YMCA Week.

New Year, Federal Policies Could Start Boom In Agriculture Economists Predict

The start of a new year and the beginning of new governmental policies may be the signal for the agricultural boom that economists have been predicting. This boom could be the salvation for those farmers set up for it, but at the same time, it may contribute to the undoing of those who are not prepared to do a top job of farming in the second half of the '60's, says Jerry L. Webb, asst. extension editor at the University of Delaware.

Benefactors of an agricultural boom will be those million or so farmers who have solid financing; are not afraid of innovations; and who have management know-how to remain competitive.

Under-Secretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy has said that these million farmers who sell more than $10,000 worth of farm products each year have the capacity to produce all of the nation's food needs in the foreseeable future. They make up 27 per cent of the total number of farms, but already they sell four-fifths of the total output.

Murphy says there is every reason to be optimistic about the future for these efficient commercial family farms.

Economists see signs of an agricultural boom in several areas, first, in a blossoming export market. We exported a record amount of farm products last year, and world demand for agricultural goods is soaring as world population expands. Nations are becoming more prosperous, and some of this new wealth is being spent for better diets.

The world already is looking to the United States to provide more and more of its food, and this present market for American farm products could double by 1970.

We're in the midst of a general business boom that is bound to benefit some parts of agriculture, Webb reports. The general economy grew at a rapid pace through 1961, and gross national products rose to an

Heist Fund Chairman

Frederick J. Sampson

General manager of the News-Journal Company, Frederick J. Sampson has been named state chairman of the 1963 Heist Fund, directing efforts of more than 6,500 volunteers to raise funds to continue the program of the Delaware Heist Association for the year ahead.

Dr. Richard N. Taylor, president of the Delaware Heist Association, announces that a goal of $150,000 has been established, the minimum needed to continue the Delaware Heist Association's current program of research, service and education.

annual rate of $627.5 billion dollars during the last quarter—well above the 1963 total.

The President's war on poverty, if it's carried out the way it was presented to Congress, will have a substantial effect on rural America. Welfare and educational programs, work projects, and other phases of this "war" will raise income and prosperity throughout America.

Add to all of this our own rising population, and it's not too difficult to predict an unprecedented era of prosperity during the next five years, Webb adds.

Farm Management Specialist W. T. McAllister at the University of Delaware, says that as some farmers reap the benefits of advanced technology and increased demand for farm goods, others will not fare so well. Small farmers who had difficult times during the first half of the '60's will continue to be in trouble.

Advanced technology, federal aid and hard work have kept the wolf away from the door for these farmers, but returns for labor and capital invested are shrinking. In spite of stepped-up action on the part of the federal government, this trend will continue.

As farmers face another production year, most of them are looking for ways to increase incomes.

To some this means more acres, more machines, and more labor. For others it's new enterprises, off-farm jobs or improved management techniques. But the end product may not be more profit.

McAllister believes that a farmer who is unskilled will not fare as well. He says the key to this transition is management.

On a note of optimism, he believes there are many farmers who could join the ranks of the million efficient farms. He says the key to this transition is management.

Many farmers already have land, machines, and capital to be competitive, but simply lack management know-how to put all factors of production together effectively.

There is hope for these farmers,

Fred J. Sampson Killed In Virginia In Auto Accident

Frederick J. Sampson, 38, of 827 Kenyon Lane, Newark, was killed Monday near Culpeper, Va., when his automobile was in a one-vehicle accident.

Police said there were no witnesses and the accident is unexplained. Mr. Sampson was on his way to Exeter, Va., to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Sampson.

Retired last August after 20 years in the Navy, he went to work Oct. 1 as a custodian at Christiana High School. He served in World War II and retired as a boatswain's mate second class.

Mr. Sampson, who was last stationed at Charleston, S. C., has lived in Newark since 1963. In addition to his parents, he is survived by his widow, Mrs. Myrtle E. Sampson; three children, Peggy Ann, 15, Frederick J., Jr., 11, and Myrtle, 9; four sisters, Mrs. Mosee Napier, Richmond; Mrs. Thelma Cooper, Bassett, Va.; Mrs. Evelyn Bishop, Orlando, Fla.; and Mrs. Francis Christian, in California, and four brothers, Earl and Garvey, Orlando; William, Emmett, W. Va.; and James, Jr., Bassett.

Services will be held this Friday afternoon at 2 in the Robert T. Jones & Son Funeral Home, Newark, where friends may call tonight. Interment will be in Newark Cemetery.

C. Phillip Selway Author Of Article In Sports Journal

C. Phillip Selway, athletic equipment manager at the University of Delaware, is the author of an article in the January issue of Scholastic Coach, a publication for coaches in secondary schools.

The article, "Efficiency in the Equipment and Laundry Rooms," details methods of improving operation of athletic equipment and laundry areas while maintaining superior service.

"It is important to modernize our methods to cope with the expanding physical education and athletic programs and to produce an efficient, smooth-running and economical service," Selway says.

He offers saving suggestions on improving the operation without sacrificing safety or quality for economy. As athletic equipment manager at the university, Selway is in charge of an area that serves 22 freshmen and varsity teams, as well as 800 physical education students who require daily laundry and equipment services.

"Among responsibilities are identification, issuing, laundering, repairing and storing of equipment," Selway says. "My intention is to help others reconstruct any weak areas in their programs."

Selway has been the athletic equipment manager at the university for four years, taking over duties previously handled by members of the athletic coaching staff.

Selway is married to the former Ethel Bell and they have two children—Steve, 11, and Doug, eight. Mrs. Selway is secretary to James P. Hartnett, chairman of mechanical engineering at the university. The Selways live at 15 Martindale Drive in Brookside.

but they need to realize their position and take steps to increase their management capacities before they can reap the benefits of agricultural prosperity, McAllister concludes.

Poultry Lab Sponsor

Harris B. McDowell, Jr.

Congressman Harris B. McDowell, Jr. (D-Del.) said he is encouraged from recent meetings with U. S. Department of Agriculture officials, that his long-standing proposal to establish a federal poultry physiology research laboratory in Delaware was being seriously considered in budget preparations for fiscal year 1968. President Johnson is expected to submit the 1968 federal budget to the Congress on Jan. 25.

McDowell proposed that a poultry research laboratory be located in Georgetown, or on near the site of the ag experimental station operated by the University of Delaware.

Off-Campus Housing Need Cited By John M. Hale

The University of Delaware needs additional off-campus housing for graduate and undergraduate students.

John M. Hale, director of residence, has announced that his office is seeking listings of furnished and unfurnished apartments for graduate students, and individual rooms for undergraduates.

Details of accommodations, should be called in or mailed to Hale at Room 100, Brown Residence Hall. Apartments must be within commuting distance, and rooms within walking distance of the campus.

Radiation Course Offered By UD Extension Division

A course on radiation, designed for persons working in biology, medicine, public health, or science teaching, is being offered by the University of Delaware extension division.

Instructors for the course which opens Feb. 10 in Sharp Laboratory on the Newark campus, will be from the university departments of biology, chemistry, physics, and engineering, along with speakers invited from industry.

Course coordinator is Dr. Arnold Clark, professor of biological sciences.

Boggs Plans Legislation To Aid Volunteer Firemen

U. S. Sen. J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware this week introduced legislation to save postage expenses for volunteer fire companies.

His bill would permit volunteer fire companies to be classified in the non-profit category of the postal laws. If the legislation is enacted, mailing which would ordinarily cost a Delaware volunteer fire company $1,000 at first class rates, could be made for $250.

UD Placement Director Geraldine Wyatt Reports On Salary Offers For Graduates

Backlash of cutbacks in the aircraft and aerospace industry is still being felt on college campuses this year, according to Mrs. Geraldine Wyatt, director of placement for the University of Delaware, one of the universities participating in the College Placement Council's 1962-63 survey of beginning salary offers to college seniors.

The first report of the season shows that offers by aircraft firms to college seniors are continuing to decline sharply, maintaining a trend noted last year.

In the council's first report of 1962-63, this employer group accounted for 920 offers—45 per cent of the total. Last year the figure was 734—36 per cent of the total—and this season it has dropped to 447, or 29 per cent.

The survey, based on data from placement officers at 108 colleges from coast to coast, is being conducted for the sixth year by the College Placement Council, national headquarters of the eight regional placement associations of the United States and Canada.

Statistics include ranges in dollar value of more than 2,200 offers made to male, first-degree candidates in 12 key curricula by 16 of the most active employer groups in the recruiting field.

The current report covers offers from the beginning of the fall recruiting season to Dec. 15.

The most notable increase since last year has been in the demand for marketing students. A year ago they received 38 offers in the first reporting period; this year they attracted 116.

Chemical engineers in terms of percentage gains in beginning salary offers, are in top position on all three degree levels. In the bachelor's plus, average offers to chemical engineers have gone up 3.9 per cent since 1963-64. Actual offers have varied from a low of $601 a month to a high of $677 within the 80 per cent range of offers used in computing the data.

Master's candidates in chemical engineering experienced an increase of 2.5 per cent, with a low of $716 and a high of $772; while doctoral candidates gained 2.9 per cent, with low-high figures of $691 and $1,073.

Current ranges for other leading bachelor's level groups are electrical engineering, $586 to $688, and aeronautical engineering, $581 to $685.

Construction and building materials employers are notably higher than any other employer group in rate of increase in average monthly offers—up 7.2 per cent since the close of last year's recruiting season. Offers this year have ranged from $521 to $693.

The Tiger of the year was just named Car of the Year by Motor Trend.

If that isn't enough of a hint, try Quick Wide-Track. (This is their year.) Or Turbo Hydra-Matic, the new transmission you can order that does away with roaring between shifts. Coupled with the quicker engines for the '66 Pontiac, it saves the roaring for whenever you need it. When you don't, the extra-potent engines let you just loaf along. And this loafing gives you the kind of economy you wouldn't expect from a looker like the '66 Pontiac. See your Pontiac dealer. He'll show you all 32 Pontiacs that are the "Car of the Year." They're the buy of the year, too.

First Period Pins In Final Two Matches Upset Klimek Vikings After 23-13 Lead

Leading 23-13 after winning seven of 10 matches, Coach Ken Klimek's Christiana Viking varsity wrestlers suddenly suffered first period pins in the final two matches at P. S. du Pont High School last Saturday to wind up on the short end of a 23-23 count. It was the second loss of the season for the Vikings, who were stopped 25-15 by Conrad in the Blue Hen Conference opener—a debut that was closer than the score indicates as Christiana almost tied things up with a near pin in the heavyweight division.

Jim Hackney in the 180-lb. match was leading 4-0 after a takedown and having his man flat on his back when the two were called to the center of the mat after wrestling out of bounds. And Coach Klimek was talking to his heavyweights in preparation for the next and final match.

"I don't know what happened," Klimek said ruefully. "All of a sudden, Hackney was in a pinning combination and we had lost a quick six points."

Still leading in the 23-19 count but with one match remaining, Christiana lost the day when Heavyweight Curt Jones was pinned by Bryant in the first period for six points and a Dynah victory.

Monte Baldwin won a 6-1 decision for Christiana in the 95-lb. opener by defeating Dix 6-1, and Ken Reed lost a 5-1 decision to Del Campo of P. S. to tie the score at 3-3.

Christiana Coach Eddie Lee at 112 won a 9-1 decision over Shapiro, and Viking George Moore was pinned in the first period by Donovan at 120 to give the Dynahs 9-6 edge.

Jack Hopper won a 7-1 decision over Budin in the 127-lb. event to tie the score again, and Christiana's Glen Hall scored a first period pin over Buiano at 133 to put the Vikings ahead 15-9.

Bob Hall, 138, was pinned by Musimer of the Dynahs in the third period, and then Christiana won three straight decisions.

Pete Buzzell beat Pumphrey 2-0 at 145; Dick Baechtel defeated Friedman 7-2 at 154-lbs., and Harold Boyer, 167, won 8-7 over Johnson.

And then in the final two events, Hackney was pinned by Farrace in 1:10, and Jones was pinned by Bryant in 1:20.

Klimek's Viking matmen met Dickinson at the Christiana gym this Saturday at 1 p.m. when the jayvees square off in preliminaries to the varsity bouts.

Capt. Ed Johnson Sets 4th Straight Taylor Pool Mark

Delaware Co-Capt. Ed Johnson set pool record for the fourth straight time, but the Blue Hens bowed to Temple 50-45 last Saturday in a Middle Atlantic Conference swimming meet held at Taylor Pool.

Temple's victory was paced by Gibby Honeysett's record-shattering performance in the 100-yard freestyle. He won the event in 55.4, setting the pool standard of 54.4, set by Burt Lecher of the Bucknell frosh in December.

Johnson's record was made in the 200 butterfly when he swam to victory in 2:14.8.

Johnson won the event in 2:16.4 against Gettysburg.

He also took the 200 individual medley.

Coach Harry Ravstrom's mermen coach for the season—return to action on Feb. 6, at Johns Hopkins.

"Dipped his hand and arm up to the elbow in that ice water, scooping the fish out of the hole and onto the ice," Kinsey concluded.

Jim Kelley caught 10 yellow neds but no bass in a first-of-the-season ice fishing exposure last Monday.

"And there was only one other fellow on the ice," Mr. Kelley said with a shiver of reminiscence.

The ice was relatively clear of snow, and some were thick.

"And it ought to be thicker by now," Big Jim said Tuesday night with an invitation to accompany him on the morrow "when the tide is right—coming in and high."

Meters, Gainer and Reynolds may have fared better than their 40 perch and two bass indicated.

"They were still there when I left," Jim Kelley said.

The North East Special—a home-made, minnow-shaped spoon of copper with a single hook and a twist of red wool, tied to the line of a jigger stick—was the productive bait.

Dropped through the hole in the ice, this lure is fished just off the bottom with a jiggling motion—raising the short rod or stick with a sudden jerk of the forearm, and then allowing the lure to settle flashing downward. Oftentimes the fish hits when the Special is motionless after its flashing descent.

There may be more productive lures than the North East Special, but we haven't discovered one. A bit dull and on the crude side, it is far more attractive to the river's marine residents than to the topside ice fishermen. Novice ice fishermen, that is.

Michigan Ed Dowling convinced us last winter, as he caught bass and perch in front of Tom Kay's home on the North East River with the Special, and we caught nothing with a variety of bright, sparkling, nationally manufactured fishing lures—spoons, spinners and bucktail jigs.

But we learn slowly. Some four years ago, Harold Stanley and I, G. Young in his first outing as an ice fisherman, we tried jiggling without the Special on the North East River off the Bayview marina. And we caught yellow perch until it became monotonous—almost.

Stopping back again, with H. G. Young in his first outing as an ice fisherman, we tried jiggling without the Special on the North East River off the Bayview marina. And we caught yellow perch until it became monotonous—almost.

Bonny Johnny At Bowie Faces $16,500 Chertwell

If Bonny Johnny is a "horse for course" he'll have another chance to prove it this weekend when Bowie sets the stage for the $16,500 Chertwell Purse at seven furlongs.

The Richard S. Reynolds, Jr. color-bearer was a beaten favorite on Wednesday last week in a thrilling stretch duel with James J. Schwabell's Small World, a 23-1 shot, who had a nose advantage over odds-on Bonny Johnny in the six-furlong Elkrigde.

Bonny Johnny has more than a particular fondness for the Bowie racing strip. Last year, the Sea Charger, gelding won four races—three here.

The hurdle-horse Court-A-Buck finished last in a race at Delaware Park and was disqualified! So were six others in the field which, led by a triple apprentice rider, cut inside one of the flags. The film reel showed that the fourth horse to finish, Evermont (once sold for $1) had stayed on the course and he was declared the winner. . . . At Bowie last March Al Abrahams of Greensburg, Pa., lost all of his money but wound up a $50 winner on the day. He lost his wallet containing $195. It was later returned intact and a $50 bonus. Donald P. Ross Announces 55-Day Meet For Delaware Park, Beginning May 29th

Donald P. Ross, president of the Delaware Racing Association, has announced that the 1965 Delaware Park meeting will begin Saturday, May 29, and run for 55 days, ending Saturday, July 31.

The 1965 dates were granted following a recent meeting of the Delaware Racing Commission, with Clifford E. Morris, chairman. Other members of the commission are R.R.M. Carpenter, Jr., secretary; Theodore W. Collins and Walter J. Lehman.

Traditional at Delaware Park, the meeting will end with the running of the $100,000-added Delaware Handicap for fillies and mares at a distance of 1-1/4 miles, this stake being a major factor in annual determination of the champion mare.

The Delaware Oaks, $50,000 added for three-year-old fillies at a distance of 2-1/8 miles, will be run on the preceding Saturday. Winning this stake will be a determining factor in naming the three-year-old filly champion of 1965.

In order to bolster Delaware Park's added money events for two-year-old fillies, the Blue Hen at a distance of 5-1/2 furlongs, and formerly carrying added money of $10,000, has been increased to $20,000. This year it will be run on Saturday, June 26.

Steeplechasing as usual will be featured in 1965, and Delaware Park's steeple-chasing season will start Monday, June 14, and end Friday, July 2.

During this period four steeplechase features will be offered, and 11 overnight races, both over the main jumping course and the hurdles course.

Racing Secretary, Allan W. "Doc" Lavin is firming up the complete roster of Delaware Park's stakes which will be announced in the near future.

Western Maryland Stops Hens 67-65 At Final Buzzer

A field goal with the final buzzer gave Western Maryland a 67-65 win over Coach Irv Wisniewski's Delaware Blue Hens last Tuesday night in Carpenter Field House—the 10th successive setback for Delaware since an opening victory over Johns Hopkins at home on Dec. 2.

Delaware's cagers face some tough opponents with mid-term exams before returning to the basketball court on Feb. 3, at Glassboro State in New Jersey.

Wisniewski's Hens were ahead 65-63 with 1:32 left when Western Maryland's Skip Shear sank a field goal to tie the score.

With three seconds left, Rich Egan missed a field goal for the visitors, but teammate Shear collected the rebound and tossed in the winning two-points.

Delaware fell behind 35-24, in the first half and trailed 37-28 at intermission.

The Hens bounced back in the second half until they took the lead 55-53 on a three-point play by Capt. John Himes. Himes followed with a jump shot to make it 57-53, Delaware's biggest lead.

Moments later, Shear put in two foul shots to give the visitors a 59-53 margin, but Himes countered with a foul shot to make it 59-53, Delaware's biggest lead.

Bill Morley led the Delaware scoring with 16 points followed by Himes with 16 and Messick with 14.

Bill Scott controlled the boards for the Hens, grabbing 16, while Himes took 12 and Morley 10.

Raymond Refuses New Hampshire's Head Coaching Job

Harold Raymond, Delaware backfield coach and baseball pilot, said this week that he had declined an offer to serve as head football coach at the University of New Hampshire.

Clarence E. (Chief) Boston, apparently will not return next fall as football coach, although no official announcement has come from the Durham (N.H.) campus. There was speculation in Durham newspapers over the weekend that Boston will resign in the near future. His team had a 1-6-1 record in 1964.

"It is an awkward position to be in," Raymond said. "I was approached during the NCAA convention in Chicago, and I said I was not interested."

"I'm not applying for any football job, but someday I'd like to be a head coach when the right opportunity presents itself."

"Over the years I've been contacted about jobs and have investigated them. I'll continue to do this," Raymond concluded.
