Funds For Christiana Stadium Sought By Board of Education

Because of inadequate funds, the Christiana High School football field has not been completed, and the two local high school teams must share facilities at Newark High School, Albert H. Jones, president of the Newark Board of Education, explained this week.

Jones said that it is board policy to provide the two high schools with individual facilities for their athletic programs, and that preliminary work on the Christiana field was authorized early last summer.

"Since construction funds were not adequate to complete the new high school's facilities," Jones said, "the board of education is still actively seeking the best possible financial approach to completing Christiana's athletic facilities."

Relief Sought
The school board intends to seek legislative relief through consultation with the State Department of Public Instruction, or failing in this, to have a local referendum next spring in an effort to obtain necessary funds, Jones declared.

"In the meantime," he said, "the present stadium adjacent to the Newark Senior High School will have to provide for the needs of both schools, with appropriate changes in high school colors for the respective games."

"We appreciate the interest shown by the Newark and Christiana Senior High School Booster clubs and hope for their continuing cooperation until this matter is satisfactorily resolved, hopefully by next spring," Jones concluded.

Three-Yr. Old Boy Killed In Accident By Container Fall

Andrew Lewandowski, 3½-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Lewandowski of Robbott Manor, was crushed to death Saturday under a quarter-ton metal rubbish container.

The child and his family were visiting the United Electric Supply Co. at 2110 Duncan Road, Marshallton, which his father manages.

Scotty wandered behind the store and apparently tried to climb the empty metal container, causing it to topple and fall on him, according to police.

His parents heard the crash of the 300-pound container as it overturned and ran from the store to find their son under it, his head crushed.

The child was pronounced dead at Wilmington General Hospital.

The Lewandowskis live at 17 Cordway Road, near Newark. They have two other children, David and Jennifer.

Also surviving are maternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jackson of Wilmington.

Andrew, nicknamed Scotty, was offered four in February.

Mrs. Judith Phell, extension nutrition specialist at the University of Maryland, will accompany Delaware and Maryland winners to Chicago.

The Delaware Poultry Improvement Association sponsored state competition, and the poultry and egg national board is responsible for the national contest.

10th All-Star Game In August Sets Record At Local Stadium

Earnings From 1965 Classic At Delaware Stadium Top $50,000 To Aid Retarded Children; Seven Local High School Players, NHS Coach Bob Hoffman Participate

The 1965 Delaware All-Star Football Game played at Delaware Stadium in Newark broke all records for the August classic by earning over $50,000 for the cause of mental retardation in Delaware.

Anti-TB Champion Dies

From Christiana High, James "Bub" Hackney played as a guard for the southern Gold All-Stars; while Newark High School was represented by six Yellowjackets from the 1964 squad—Guard Jack Hassman; Halfback Charlie Hayman; Tackle Ricky Hicks; End Steve Mitchell; Quarterback Norris Saurer; and Fullback Reggie Watson.

The Blue All-Stars defeated the Golds 12-7.

Program Support
Receipts from this year's contest have been allocated to a number of programs which the game helps support.

Major projects receiving assistance this year are the Child Diagnostic and Development Center, a teaching scholarship fund, a national research fund, and the Seaford Day Camp.

Other beneficiaries include the Golden Opportunity Center at Dover and the Hospital for the Mentally Retarded.

Described as the "first truly all-state event in Delaware," R. R. M. Carpenter, Jr., chairman of the Delaware Foundation for Retarded Children which sponsors the game, said: "In a sports sense the game has been one of the proud highlights in the life of players, coaches, band musicians, and others from all over the state. But more than that, starting almost from zero, it has created awareness and some understanding of mental retardation in our communities."

Since 1956
Since the game's inception in 1956, All-Star funds have been responsible for starting and supporting programs of assistance for Delaware's mentally retarded.

The 1964 All-Star Game contributed $65,000 to launch the All-Star Rehabilitation Center at the Hospital for the Mentally Retarded near Stockley, Del.

In addition, All-Star money has assisted three opportunity centers for job training for the retarded, four summer day camps; four Delaware Association for Retarded Children chapters; several day care centers and provided funds for 280 scholarships for teachers of the retarded, and for national medical research on retardation.

Speaking of money . . .

"The case of the disappearing dollars"

"Almost all of us have been guilty at one time or another of letting hard earned dollars slip through our fingers—needlessly. Those dollars that didn't have to be spent, ones that should have been saved instead. May I suggest you come in to see us at the Savings Fund and open an account. It's never too late—and never too early—to learn the habit of thrift. Regular savers see their savings grow with the dollars they deposit each week and with the bigger 4% interest they earn from the very day of deposit. Join the Savings Fund's family of over 70,000 depositors. Many of them are your own friends and neighbors who know the rewards, personal and financial, of life-long saving.

FOLLOW THE BIGGER 4% INTEREST

Dr. Chas. P. White Memorial Grant Established At UD

A bequest has been made to the University of Delaware by the late Mrs. Virginia White in memory of her husband, Dr. Charles P. White, "for establishment, improvement or enrichment of programs of study in the field of medicine; preparation for medical education or medical research to such extent and in such manner and under such conditions as the governing authority of the University of Delaware may deem appropriate."

President John A. Perkins said preliminary estimates indicate that the fund will provide somewhat more than $30,000 a year. While this amount is modest when compared with the funds needed to operate even a two-year medical program, it may enable the university to establish a professorship and instructorships for teaching and research, helpful to interns and physicians in Delaware.

At the same time, preparation of undergraduates planning to enter medical schools elsewhere will be enriched, as will university graduate offerings in biological sciences, Perkins said.

Perkins explained that such instruction and research could eventually become a part of a medical college at the university.

"This staffing made possible by the generosity of the White family will represent continuation of university involvement in the health sciences. The training of medical technologists began here in 1948, and the department of nursing created in 1952 is a growing enterprise with 145 students."

Last June, the university awarded four Ph.D.'s in biological science, and recipients will teach in medical and dental schools, colleges of pharmacy, and be engaged in research in chemical and pharmaceutical companies, hospitals and medical centers.

Their work will contribute substantially to the health of people in Delaware and elsewhere, Perkins said.

Dr. White, an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, was a native of Wilmington and a graduate of Wilmington High School and the University of Pennsylvania. He was chief in eye, ear, nose and throat work at the Delaware, Wilmington General and St. Francis Hospitals, and served as eye surgeon for the Pennsylvania Railroad. He died on April 13, 1938.

Mrs. White, the former Elizabeth Virginia Lobb, was superintendent of the Medico-Chirurgical Hospital, now a part of the University of Pennsylvania school of medicine, when she retired in 1917. She married Dr. White and moved to Wilmington that same year, and died last June 10, at the age of 90.

Newark, Delaware, Thursday, October 7, 1965

NATIONAL SCHOOL LUNCH WEEK OCTOBER 10-16. In the current school year about 18 million children will be served nutritious noonday meals under the National School Lunch Program. It is administered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service, which provides about a fifth of the total cost in cash and food. This program makes it possible for children to enjoy a complete lunch for an average payment of only 27 cents. A tenth of the nearly 3 billion lunches consumed last year were served free or at reduced prices to youngsters who could not afford the full price. About 71,000 public and non-profit private schools are expected to take part in the program this year.

NATIONAL SCHOOL LUNCH PROGRAM

During the period Oct. 10-16, National School Lunch Week will be celebrated in 150 schools in Delaware, with the theme "School Lunch Serves Child Health."

Last year, Delaware schools served 7,110,193 Type-A lunches, including a half-pint of milk, and other foods which furnish one-third daily nutritive requirements for a child 9-12.

The State of Delaware participated in these lunches by paying managers' salaries, and the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture furnished three cents for every meal served, and donated foods which averaged seven cents per meal.

Parents who can, pay from 25 to 30 cents, but the National School Lunch Program makes it possible to serve children unable to pay.

The program has two main purposes—it contributes to the health of the nation's children, and creates a market for the farmers' abundant foods.

"As governor, I am happy to pay tribute to this magnificent project and I call upon the people of Delaware to observe the week of Oct. 10, as National School Lunch Week," Gov. Charles L. Terry, Jr., said yesterday.

TRIUMPH OVER TUBERCULOSIS

The living—those legions of people who would have succumbed to tuberculosis that has plagued mankind down through the centuries—provide a magnificent memorial for G. Taggart Evans, one of the foremost leaders in the victorious battle over disease.

When Taggart Evans began his life's work for the curb, control and cure of tuberculosis, the deadly disease presented a near insoluble problem, and the initial long years of heart-breaking, discouraging effort met with little success. But this gentle, kindly, determined man carried on the good fight without despair, until faith and hope were attended by real promise—and the successful treatment, cure and prevention of tuberculosis became reality.

An associate of Emily P. Bissell of Wilmington—originator of the famous Christmas Seal—Taggart Evans led in publicizing Miss Bissell's inauguration of the little Yuletide stamps with their message of hope and their return of charity to finance the campaign for tuberculosis control.

Retired as a professional executive with the Delaware Tuberculosis and Health Society, he continued to serve the cause of health for others, while taking an enthusiastic, active part in the life of this community where he made his home.

We are privileged to have known Taggart Evans—his visits to the Newark Post as a champion in the fight against TB, and later as publicist for the University Drama Group, were always pleasant features of a working day.

Well done, and may God bless and keep you, Taggart Evans!

Contract Awarded For Construction At Two Schools

The Newark school building commission awarded a contract for additions and alterations at two schools to Ernest Di Sabatino & Sons, Inc., last week.

The contract, for work at Christiana-Salem and Edin School, to bring both to the district's standard school size of 24-classrooms.

Both schools were acquired by the district several years ago through consolidations.

Because of the population increase, it is necessary to bring them up to standard size, a school spokesman said.

The contract award is subject to approval of Architect Pope, Knauss & McCune, Inc., the Delaware School Auxiliary and the State Department of Public Instruction.

Hoffman's Yellowjackets Wallop Conrad By 36-0; Fulton Scores 16 NHS Points

Coach Bob Hoffman's undefeated Newark High School Yellowjackets romped to their second win of the season at Conrad last Saturday afternoon, walloping the Redskins 36-0, with Newark Co-Capt. Dick Fulton scoring a pair of touchdowns and kicking four extra points as a leader for state scoring honors.

Quarterback Lou Strenzi ran up the first touchdown for Hoffman's championship contenders with a six-yard drive in the opening period. With Fulton kicking the point, Newark led 7-0 at the end of the quarter.

Fulton ran 16 yards for the Yellowjackets' second touchdown, and

The nicest trout we have seen taken from the surf—or from anywhere, for that matter—in too many years was in poor company last Saturday afternoon. A beautiful 2½-lb. gray trout or common weakfish smashed a strip of mullet trailing from the bottom hook of a tandem rig on a long line taut from a Calcutta pole in a sandspike on the beach some quarter-mile north of the Indian River inlet, while a big blowfish hit the baited balsa bob above. And a surfman had a satisfying, surging session with a good fish for a change, culminating in the safe landing of a double-header—a prime and a Calcutta.

With Coast Guardmen Jodey Moody and Airman Jimbo Pate—a pair of Florida friends from their not too distant boyhood—we began fishing at about 1 p.m. as foaming sheets of water were flung high on the beach from heavy surf breakers at the top of the tide—and it was quite a trick to keep a line taut in that crashing cauldron of roaring seas, with a northwest wind whipping spinifit rainbows back over the ocean.

Jodey and Jimbo with light spinning rods, fought a frustrating, fishless struggle with the heavy seas—their plugs arcing over the water for but brief retrieving action before a receding wave left the lures digging in the foaming sands.

The Florida friends stayed manfully with it, however, until the older companion had a severe stroke and reeled in an impressive-from-a-distance fish of some 2½ lbs. It was a sea robin, but the two Florida fishermen had never seen one—did not know it was a Middle-Atlantic coast trash fish and both boys had impressed after close-up inspection.

"I'm going to try some of that cut mullet," Jimbo Pate said immediately. And Jodey joined him.

One-ounce sinkers suitable for their light rods, failed to hold in the surging surf and both boys had to resort to 3-oz. pyramids. Casting a 3-oz. chunk of lead from a wand of a rod requires some wondrous wizardry, but they managed to cast well out beyond the break, and the big sinkers dug in Jodey and Jimbo must have run a good mile during the afternoon, chasing a receding wave back into the sea to make a cast, and then running back up the beach ahead of the next bursting breaker.

Jimbo caught a slim, toothless shark, and a fat toothless blowfish, and after missing a good strike, he hooked and beached a tiny blue and another small shark.

Two great flocks of Canada geese flew in from the ocean and etched their silhouettes against the red-gold sunset, and Jodey stood open-mouthed in awe at the close-up sight of these mighty migrants.

"We don't see many geese in Florida," he said, "and when we do, they're a mile high. I could have reached one of these."

The wind dropped off with the tide, and as high and dry, we shivered a bit in the chill of evening with the sun sinking over the distant dunes, the two Floridians were still running in and out of the surf. A long hour had passed without a strike and we had our gear stowed away long before the boys were ready to call it a day.

SATURDAY'S FOOTBALL

Coach Dave Nelson's Fighting Blue Hens play away at Lafayette this Saturday after last week's homecoming win over the MAC defense champions from Gettysburg. And we're picking Delaware to rack up win No. 2 of the current campaign after their opening set back at Hofstra.

Bob Hoffman's unbeaten Yellowjackets entertain P. S. duPont on the Newark High School field this Saturday morning at 10:30, although "entertain" is hardly the word for it. The Dynahs are in for a tough session with the conference championship-bound Newark gridders. And on the Newark field at 1:30 Saturday afternoon, Christiana seeks its first win against powerful Wm. Penn.

Veteran & Williams Realtors—Insurance PHONE 368-8538 95 East Main Street

End Bobby Hubbard took Strenzi's pass for a 21-yard scoring play in the second period. Capt. Fulton converted, and Newark led 20-0 at halftime.

In the third quarter, Halfback Dick Kelley passed to Fulton for a 10-yard scoring maneuver, and Fulton kicked the point.

Kelley plunged for one-yard and a touchdown in the fourth quarter—and again Fulton place-kicked the extra point.

Fullback Bob Vance tackled Conrad's Wiggins in the Redskin end zone for a two-point safety to wind up the Yellowjacket scoring.

Playing for Newark against Conrad last Saturday were Quarterbacks Strenzi, Hubbard, who also toiled as an end; and Wayne Masado.

The halfbacks were Fulton, Kelley, Jim McDonough, David Ward, Fred Conkey and Bradley Lane, and Don Walp, Vance, and Tyrone Wood. Saturday were Quarterbacks Strenzi, Hubbard, who also toiled as an end; and Wayne Masado.

Newark entertains P. S. duPont on the local field this Saturday morning at 10:30.

Christiana Jayvees Win 12-0 Over P. S. du Pont

Driving down to Scott's Marina on the south side of the inlet, we mixed sea robin and blowfish with trout fillets, and had a fine fish fry about the Young Lady that night with Marlin King Gus Tagnon and Gibby Young.

A quarter-moon was bright in a sky full of stars, and with the water lapping against the hull of the boat while the Atlantic surf rumbled on the beach to eastward, we listened to the thrilling voices of Canada geese driving by overhead in the night.

The next morning, Bob Hooper and 17-year-old Billy from Newark, with Philadelphia Dick Turner and his young son Chris, a second grader, joined us aboard the boat for breakfast, bacon, eggs, and coffee, and under a golden sun we headed eastward over a sparkling Atlantic Ocean for some blue water trolling.

The westerly wind gained in strength as the morning wore on, and young Chris had come down from the flying bridge with a pained expression on a whitened little face, for a vagrant point near the stern cockpit gunsway when a mast went, and a timely diversion occurred.

A tiny, greenish yellow warbler—some 20 miles from the nearest dry land—flickered in over the stern, almost alighting on the young man's head. And Chris threw up a protective hand to instinctively ward off what appeared to be imminent attack from a big bee. But the tiny, jewel-eyed puff of feathers sailed over the young seaman to perch on the cabin floor where it began to feed hungrily on the flies that had come to sea with us.

The little bird diverted Chris from a pending bout with sea sickness, and when the warbler flew off again, the little boy dropped down on a nearby bunk in the on-deck cabin, and fell happily fast asleep.

Dr. Bob Hooper, Newark dentist and former front-line quarterback for Delaware's Fighting Blue Hens with a backfield full of Jim Zaiser, Bob Moneymaker, Andy Wagner, and Johnny O'Berg, was making his first start on the ocean, and Dr. Hooper experienced no difficulty whatever with his debut on a very rough sea. And his companion Dick Thayer—a veteran of Nova Scotian fishing for giant bluefin tuna—was in his element, waterwise.

As far as the fishing was concerned, the day proved to be a total loss. After trolling for strikeless miles in the blue water far offshore, Cap'n Young headed in for the Fenwick Shoals and the herds of bluefish there the week before—and we found the shoals deserted of all but a boatload of skin-divers.

"I guess I'm the jinx," Bobby Hooper said, "but I've been out on the water before—without Dr. Hooper—and failed to catch fish. Last Sunday was one of the tough ones."

We happened upon Tombo Sherwood, a surf fishing companion of a generation ago, doing a bit of bird watching with binoculars at Scott's Marina when we came ashore.

"Is that Billy?" Tom Sherwood asked concerning the young man he had last seen as a five-year-old shipmate aboard the Sherwood cruiser on a successful trout fishing trip out of Lewes some dozen years ago. And it was.

"Let's try the surf with Mr. Sherwood before we go home," the father suggested, and Billy was willing, but conscious of duty, too.

Hoffman Presents 1965 Yellowjacket Football Movies

"Pictures are essential for visual teaching techniques used in football today," Newark High School Coach Bob Hoffman last Monday afternoon, addressing an audience of 27 at the first luncheon meeting of the season for the Newark Touchdown Club at the Horseless Carriage restaurant.

Hoffman presented movies of the Newark vs. Mt. Pleasant and Conrad games of the current season—Blue Hen Conference clashes which the undefeated Yellowjackets won 41-7 and 36-0. Movies of the games will have to be discontinued unless subsidized.

"We have a good bunch of boys," Hoffman said, "who have been working hard since the 25th of August." He cited the need for additional financial subsidy to maintain the athletic program at Newark High School, pointing out that 45 boys are members of the current football squad; that the cost of equipment has increased; game admission prices are standardized; and but one bus is available for team transport.

"The younger boys scrimmage every Wednesday against the biggest and toughest on the squad," Coach Hoffman said. "And I'm going to see that they go to the football games on Saturday with the team, by bus."

He expressed appreciation to the club for its past support of the football program at Newark High, and urged additional effort to provide funds for local high school football. Hoffman said the club had issued a public invitation for all interested persons to join the touchdown club, and urged current members to bring guests to the luncheon meeting next Monday.

J. Earl Lynch is vice-president; Bob Plinick is treasurer; Dick Pettitman, secretary; and Bill Murray is program chairman.

Wright, VanGrofski Lead Hen Gridders After Two Games

Sophomore Halfback Brian Wright and Senior Quarterback Tom VanGrofski are Delaware statistical leaders after two games.

Wright, a 162-pound speedster from Rockville, Md., gained 96 yards in the Blue Hen 15-0 victory over Gettysburg to boost his two-game total to 195 yards. He is averaging 61 yards per carry on 32 attempts.

Van, who established Delaware season records for completions (85) and total offense (1,043 yards) last year, is one of the country's top small college punters with an average of 43.3 yards for nine kicks.

The Yellowjacket junior varsity of Coach Bill Santo dropped a 6-0 decision to the Conrad Jayvee visitors last Monday on the Newark High School gridiron.

"What time will we get home?" he asked.

"Around 9 o'clock—or 10," was the response.

"I can't! Too much studying to do," an enthusiastic young surferman said courageously—and left ahead of us in the car with Jimbo and Jodey.

"Let's try some surf fishing before you go," we invited Messrs. Tagnon and Young late that evening with some rough and dirty rounds with a reluctant bilge pump aboard the Young Lady.

"You must be kidding!" Gibby Young said, declining with "that bilge pump took it out of me."

From a stand on the north jetty, we watched the sun set beyond the bridge and into the Indian River, while one of a dozen jetty jockeys on the rockpile caught a string of nice bluefish from a school carrying mullet in the seas foaming between the beach and the rocks.

Along with the other 10 fishermen, we failed to get a strike in some 100 casts with white buckettails—on both sides of the jetty.

The lucky one was using strips of fresh fatback—we didn't have any—and it was too late to get some.

Finally, we snagged a rock of real tonnage in the inlet torrent—a stone age rock, not the kind we were after—broke the line, and came on home.

And Billy was in bed with his homework study done when we arrived late and tired that night.

Jim Flynn Frosh To Open Campaign Friday At Lehigh

Delaware's freshman football team will be playing two-platoon football in the season opener against the Lehigh frosh in Bethlehem, Pa., this Friday at 3 p.m.

Coach Jimmy Flynn's Blue Chicks will go with separate offensive and defensive units, with the exception of a few two-way performers.

"We don't really have the personnel to go entirely with two platoons," Flynn said, "and there are some players we want to get a good look at both ways."

Flynn listed End Steve Schambach of South Orange, N.J., Tackle Henry Vollendorf of Maple Glen, Pa., and Guard Bill Laughlin of Pittsburgh as players expected to play both offense and defense.

"We have a 40-man roster," Flynn noted, "but we still don't have a great deal of depth. Of course, we want to see as many of these boys as we can."

The offense will probably line up with Schambach and Jim Crabbs of Chantler, Pa., at ends; Vollendorf and Gary Ross of Linticum, Md., at tackles; Bob Novotny of Maplewood, N.J., and Carmine DeRubeis of East Paterson, N.J., at guards; and Frank Bach of Mt. Carmel, Pa., center.

Flynn has Jim Lazarski of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., and John Baumann of Royal Oak, Mich., as his first unit offensive halfbacks, with Mike Kwiatkowski of Clifton Heights, Pa., at fullback.

"Both quarterbacks have done well in the practices," Flynn said. "Graber has been particularly impressive, but Karabinos may be the better runner."

The defensive lineup will probably have Schambach and former Archmere standout Jim Carney of Claymont at ends; Richard Dale of Dover and Bruce Hill of Pleasant Ridge, Mich., tackles; and Nick Petrin of Linden, N.J., the middle guard.

"The defensive line should be strong," Flynn noted, "and if they are going to run through our defensive tackles, they will have to go over Hill and Dale."

The Smith Brothers, Jerry and Jim, are the defensive cornerbacks from Salesianum. Former Delaware star Chuck McCallion, and Dave Dyer of Dearborn Heights, Mich., are the safeties.

"This team has impressed me with its toughness," Flynn says, "but we have a tough schedule and may be in trouble because we don't have much depth."

After Friday's opener, the Blue Chicks take on the Lafayette frosh at home on Oct. 15, Bordentown Military at home on Oct. 22, Bullis Prep away on Oct. 29, and the Temple frosh at home on Nov. 5.

Dave Nelson's Delawares Face Leopards In Third MAC Contest Of 1-1 Campaign

The Lafayette Leopards are expected to provide a stiff test for Delaware's defensive line when the two teams collide in a Middle Atlantic Conference game in Easton, Pa., this Saturday at 2 p.m.

"This will be the first real test for our rushing defense," Line Coach Ed Maley said this week. "Hofstra and Gettysburg were primarily passing teams against us—but we look for Lafayette to do more running."

The Blue Hens' defensive line of Ends Bill Drueding and Ed Sand, Tackles Jim Freebery and Dave Stewart, and Middle Guard Bill Neiger has surrendered only 78 yards in two games.

The Hens lost their opener to Hofstra (17-6), but rebounded for a 15-0 victory over defending conference champion Gettysburg last week. The Leopards are 1-2 with a 14-10 win over Columbia sandwiched between lopsided losses to Colgate (40-0) and Hofstra (31-7).

Maley had special praise for Stewart, and End Coach Irv Wisniewski cited the play of both Drueding and Sand following the Hens' win over the Leopards.

Offensively, Maley singled out Senior Guard Ed Anderson for special mention, and Wisniewski said he was pleased with the blocking of Capt. Paul Mueller, the Hens' tight end.

The offense was sluggish against both Hofstra and Gettysburg, but Soph Halfback Brian Wright was an individual standout in both games.

"Wright has done a very consistent job," Backfield Coach Harold Raymond said. "In addition to his fine running, he has blocked well."

Wright, a 162-pound speedster from Rockville, Md., has gained 195 yards in 32 carries, an average of 6.1 yards per carry. He has also caught four passes for 41 yards.

The Hens are expected to go with nearly the same lineup they used against the Leopards.

"We may give Lee Hackney a shot at guard," Maley said, "but we aren't planning any major changes."

Hackney, former Newark High School star, has progressed rapidly after being shifted from fullback to offensive guard and linebacker several weeks ago.

Defensively, the Hens will have Drueding, Stewart, Neiger, Freebery and Sand on the forward wall, with Herb Slattery and Bill Csafari as linebacksers; and Ken Bills, Bruce Carlyle, Jack Hoopes and Don Keister in the secondary.

Perry Scores Christiana TD in 26-7 Loss To Dynahs; Vikings Face Penn Colonials

Christiana Fullback Jerry Perry broke free for a 25-yard touchdown sprint in the second quarter at P. S. du Pont High School last Saturday afternoon to keep Coach Bill Horney's Vikings very much in a 13-7 ball game at the half, with Christiana Quarterback Dave Claus kicking the extra point.

But the Dynahs wrapped up their first win of the season, scoring single touchdowns in each of the remaining two quarters for a 26-7 final count.

P. S. had too much Roger Gordon, who ran for three touchdowns—from one to 95-yards.

Viking Halfback Mike Horney suffered a broken shoulder in Christiana's second offensive play of the afternoon, and is lost to the team for the season.

End Greg Kracher had a finger broken on the fourth play of the game, but played throughout the contest without calling attention to his injury. He will not be able to play against William Penn this Saturday in a home stand on the Newark High School field at 1:30 p.m.

In action for Bill Horney's Christiana Viking gridders last Saturday were Claus at quarterback; Co-Capt. Roger Barnes, Horney, Bob Hall, and Joe Thomas, halfbacks; and Perry at fullback.

Athletic Director Carmen Leton, line coach for the Vikings, reports the Christiana defense will be directed at stopping William Penn's strong passing attack, which features a good quarterback and able receivers.

The VFW and Crusaders face Central and the Green Raiders this Sunday afternoon in Capital Trail Junior Football League play at the Kells and Stanton fields, with 1:30 game times.

The unbeaten 13-14-year-old VFW champions defeated Stanton 12-6 last Sunday, with Ricky Matthews scoring both touchdowns—on a 35-yard punt return, and a 50-yard run from scrimmage.

The 2-0 defending champion Stanton juniors beat the VFW 13-6, with Jimmy Logue and Billy Rumps scoring TD's for Stanton, and Jimmy Ford running for the Vets' touchdown.

Arnie Saunders Scores TD As Comets Lose 1st Place

Newark's Arnold Saunders—former Yellowjacket All State end—caught a 12-yard touchdown pass in the final quarter for the Wilmington Comets at Chantler, Pa., last Saturday night, as the Comets were defeated 49-21 by the Pennsylvania Mustangs in the North American Football League.

The loss knocked the Comets out of the three-team northern division lead with a 3-2-1 record.

Coach Loren Kline's Hens Face Lafayette Saturday

Coach Loren Kline's Delaware soccer varsity dropped a 2-1 season opener to the Shoreman at Washington College last Tuesday, with the Hens' Bob Larason kicking the Delaware goal.
