

Family Membership Plan Is Started To Aid Town Ambulance

Issues Appeal For Community Support Of Mercy Service

The town ambulance, which for the past 25 years has been ready 24 hours to answer an emergency call to any local household, this week is appealing for help of its own.

In an effort to put the ambulance on a sound financial footing, the Aetna Company, which operates the ambulance, is asking every local family to join a family membership plan. The fee is three dollars and entitles every member of the family to ambulance service for a year.

Families which do not hold a membership card will be charged a service fee for each ambulance call. However, the ambulance will be available in accidents and other emergencies to families which cannot afford to pay the fee.

A letter announcing the new plan will be sent this week by the Aetna Company to every family in Newark and vicinity. Urging support for the ambulance, the letter said in part: "Those families which join this Ambulance Association help themselves provide the financial stability of the service and enable those less fortunate to share its facilities."

Heretofore, the ambulance service has been financed through public contributions and appropriations from the town council. The latter cover maintenance only. Funds for the purchase of new ambulances have been raised through an annual drive. The firemen volunteer their services as drivers.

Concert By Delaware Philharmonic Will Feature Music Fete

Member Group To Join Public Program At U. of D. Saturday

The Delaware Philharmonic Orchestra, whose second successive concert at the University of Delaware will be the public without charge, will be played on Saturday afternoon, planning three or four evening concerts for Wilmington later this season, according to an announcement today by Lt. Gov. Alexis I. duPont Bayard, the Philharmonic Society's president.

The program will be a highlight of the university's Contemporary Music Festival. The Philharmonic, now in its fifth year, comprises 50 professional musicians, some 31 of whom are Delaware residents. Its prime purpose, Mr. Bayard pointed out today, is to enrich the cultural heritage of the state. From an orchestra's inception, Jay Blackstone of New York City has been the conductor, and again will direct the Philharmonic when it plays for the Contemporary Music Festival at Mitchell Hall, Newark. The concert will begin at 3 p.m. and will include works by Howard Hanson, director of the Eastern School of Music, and fourth other outstanding contemporary American composers. Dr. Hanson will be the guest commentator.

The program for the concert includes compositions, one of which—"Symphony No. 2"—will be that of Dr. Hanson. The other four are by Eastman school, as follows: Louis Mennin, "Jazz for Strings"; Wayne Barlow, "Rhapsody for Oboe and Strings"; "The Master's Passed"; Peter Mennin, "A New Overture"; and William Bergsma, "The Bunyan Suite."

Mr. Shaeffer was a charter member of the Newark Lions Club of the Aetna Club, Book and Ladder Company, the Newark Methodist Church, and the Newark Chamber of Commerce.

Funeral services were held in the T. James Funeral Parlor here yesterday afternoon. The Rev. J. J. Yentgen officiated and interment was in Newark Methodist Cemetery.

C. of C. Appoints Executive Secretary To Head Special Events And Town-Wide Sales

Mrs. George Axinn

The Newark Chamber of Commerce, long in a semi-dormant state here, is expected to take on new life with the appointment this week of an executive secretary, who will direct special events such as the annual merchandise show, town-wide sales, and other community projects.

The new secretary is Mrs. George Axinn, 94 East Main Street, a 1947 graduate of Cornell University with experience in radio and newspaper publicity.

Mrs. Axinn's first task will be to direct the preparations for Santa Claus' visit here during the Christmas season.

The past week she was in Washington, D.C., gathering data from the National Chamber of Commerce on how local chambers can best stimulate town interest. She is expected to study what business groups in other small communities are doing to better public relations.

The announcement of Mrs. Axinn's appointment was made by W. S. Hamilton, secretary of the local chamber.

Referendum on Rent Control Is Dropped

Question Likely To Be Settled Dec. 5

Following a survey of local voting lists, town authorities have decided that a referendum on the question of rent control would be impractical, and the plan will probably be dropped, Mayor Wallace Johnson said yesterday.

The rent control issue will very likely come up for a vote at the Dec. 5 meeting of the Town Council at 8 p.m. in the Council Offices, 24 Academy Street. If no action is taken by Council by Dec. 31, the controls will automatically expire.

Meantime, authorities are making an effort to determine exactly how many dwelling units there are still under ceilings. This data will guide them in making a decision at the December meeting.

The referendum plan was dropped chiefly because it was felt the vote would be split along property lines and it was found that, while the ratio of non-property owners to property owners is about even, registered citizens who rent property are outnumbered.

Rites For Paul F. Pie Tomorrow At St. John's

Services will be held tomorrow for Paul F. Pie, 313 West Main Street, who died Tuesday in the Memorial Hospital after an illness of about six years. The funeral will be held at 8:30 a.m. from his home with requiem mass at 9:30 a.m. in St. John's Church, Newark. Interment will be in St. John's Cemetery. There will be no viewing.

Mr. Pie, who was 68, was a retired project engineer of the Atlas Powder Company.

Born at Lockhaven, Pa., Mr. Pie came to Delaware when he was three years old. He had been associated with the Atlas Company for 24 years when he retired four years ago. He was graduated from the University of Delaware in 1906 as a civil engineer.

Mr. Pie is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret Blandy Pie; eight children: Mrs. Jerome J. Connell of Wilmington; Sister Mary Kathleen, OSU, New Rochelle, N. Y.; Charles St. C. Pie, Victoria, Tex.; John A. Pie, Cleveland, O.; Paul F. Pie, Jr., Marshall, Tex.; Mrs. Clyde M. Cox, Miss Anne Pie and William B. Pie, all of Newark; two sisters, Mrs. Walter A. Steel and Mrs. Herman Tyson, both of Delaware City, and 14 grandchildren.

3 Fires, All Minor, Reported Past Week

Three fire alarms, all for minor blazes, were sounded here last week. The first came around 5:30 p.m. last Wednesday, when an oil heater became flooded at the home of Earl Henderson, 264 West Cleveland Avenue. Some smoke damage was reported.

Friday at about 11:30 a.m., a chimney caught fire at Welsh Tract Church. Firemen quickly brought the blaze under control.

Another chimney fire occurred Monday, this time at the home of Mrs. Margaret Cann, South College Avenue. The blaze was promptly extinguished.

Little Damage Here Following Wind And Rain Last Weekend

Big Storm Leaves Town Comparatively Unscathed; Big Tree Falls On Garage

Newark emerged comparatively unscathed from the gale which ravaged the state and the eastern seaboard over the weekend, causing several floods and widespread property destruction.

According to town authorities, the community was very fortunate. Although there were numerous instances of fallen limbs, injured television aerials and fallen phone wires, police say no important damage was reported here.

Most serious property destruction occurred at the home of David Lincum, 53 Kells Avenue, where powerful wind toppled a large willow tree, which fell on a two-car garage and smashed in the roof. Fortunately, the building's concrete walls stood up under the weight of the tree, preventing damage to two cars housed in the garage.

Town Supervisor Neide said town installations suffered little from the high winds and record rain fall. The southern end of Tyre Avenue was washed out and had to be barricaded. In addition, trouble developed in the electric power lines and current was cut off to a few homes, but the service was quickly restored.

Major trouble developed in the town's telephone lines. Falling limbs and aerials tore down wires, and water seeped into some of the cables. At one time, only a single trunkline to Wilmington was in operation, but service was never completely cut off. Telephone company crews worked overtime to restore order.

Local police got a strenuous workout Saturday morning when traffic from nearby highways, flooded by Friday night's downpour, was rerouted through Newark. For a time, cars were lined up bumper to bumper along South College Avenue and Main Street. Auxiliary fire volunteers had to be called out to help direct the influx.

Cub Pack Presents Badges And Awards

YMCA Aide Gives Talk On Handicraft

Newark Cub Scout Pack 55 held its monthly pack meeting on Friday, with opening ceremonies conducted by Den 2, under Mrs. C. M. Olson. Two new members, Richard A. Binder and Alan Reinhardt, were inducted.

Awards were presented as follows: Lion badges—Daniel Boines, Bruce Cutler, and Stephen Stanley; bear badges—Billy Colburn, Larry Walbridge, and John Wimmer; wolf badge—Eddie Springer.

Gold arrows were presented to Daniel Boines, Billy Colburn, Bruce Cutler, Stephen Stanley, Larry Walbridge, and Bobby Wiley. Three silver arrows were presented to Daniel Boines; two silver arrows to Harry Reed and Bruce Cutler; and one silver arrow to Stephen Stanley, Larry Walbridge, and Bobby Wiley.

Den 1, under Mrs. Gaylord, presented a skit. The feature of the evening was a talk and exhibition on handicrafts by Norman Ford of the YMCA assisted by Bob Hill, Paul Wellbourne, Hugh Dickinson, and Bill Sharpe.

Cubmaster C. S. Maddock announced that the Christmas party would take place in December and that small gifts would be exchanged. The date has not yet been set because of a possible conflict with the elementary school play.

Den 5, under Mrs. Reinhardt, presented the closing ceremony.

Drabness Of Army Life Drives Battery 'C' Soldier To Poetry

Despite all the talk you hear about the "new army," life with Uncle Sam hasn't changed much since the doughboy days, according to a member of Newark's Battery 'C' now stationed at Camp Stewart, Ga.

At least the brass still carefully select the most unlivable holes they can find to build army camps. Life at Camp Stewart is so drab that it has driven Pvt. John D. Brisack to poetry.

His rhymed lament "Thoughts of a Lonely Soldier," so moved his buddy, Clarence Lemmon, of Newark, that the latter sent it to his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. MacKinley Lemmon, Cleveland Avenue. Mrs. Lemmon passed it along to the Post.

Private Brisack hails from Oxford, Pa. Just above the Florida border, Camp Stewart is the spot where we are doomed to serve our time in a land that God forgot.

Town To Remember Its Soldiers With Gifts At Christmas

War-time Mayor's Committee Reorganized To Direct Yule Project

Newark will remember its servicemen with individual gifts on Christmas.

Reorganization of the Mayor's Committee, which sent yule packages and greetings to Newark servicemen during World War II, was announced this week by Dr. John R. Downes, who directed the wartime work.

Members of Newark's Battery 'C,' former national guard outfit now on Army duty in Georgia, will receive Christmas remembrances from the town as will other Newark servicemen whose names and addresses are brought to the attention of the committee. Such information should be forwarded to the Town Council offices, 24 Academy Street.

During the last war, the committee sent packages of toilet articles, candy, homemade foodstuffs and other hard-to-get items to the soldiers. Similar packages will be sent this time, Dr. Downes promises. If the committee's finances permit, several barrels of oysters will also be sent to the battery.

The members, Dr. Downes says, have put in a special request for delicacies.

A meeting to draft plans for the project will be held tonight in the County Health Offices, East Main Street.

Cash donations are sought to aid the work. The committee prefers money rather than gift items since it plans to send identical gifts to every local serviceman.

Organizational Meet, Dec. 6, At St. Thomas

The group, which will be an offshoot of the Newark adult chapter, will include in its membership seniors in high school and youth of post-high school age.

Provisional chairman of the group is Miss Helen Handy. Committees organized include: Sue Bishop Sumner Stern and Charlotte Bishop, membership; and Roy Holland, Vincent Stallone and Cora Watson, publicity.

Adult advisors of the chapter are Miss Gloria Howard and Mrs. Naomi Greenberg. Young people interested in joining the organization are invited to the Wednesday meeting.

The adult chapter will hold its December session on Friday evening, Dec. 8, at the Cleveland Avenue Community Center. The meeting will be a Christmas party, and on the agenda will be the annual election of officers.

24-Year-Old Newarker Is Admitted To Bar

A 24-year-old Newark youth, Oliver Suddard, was one of three men admitted to the practice of law in Delaware at a session of the state's Supreme Court on Monday in Dover.

A graduate of the Newark High School, Mr. Suddard performed his undergraduate work at Ursinus College and Yale University and received his Doctor of Law degree from Duke University.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Suddard, Newark RD, Mr. Suddard is now employed by a Wilmington law firm.

Fluorine Experiment Launched With Little Fanfare Tuesday

Long Awaited Experiment, Aimed At Curbing Tooth Decay In Children, Starts Almost Two Years After First Proposed By Musselman

Although the average citizen never suspected, this community began drinking fluoridated water on Tuesday, when Town Supervisor Francis Neide turned on automatic machinery feeding an odorless, tasteless solution of sodium fluoride into the town system.

Thus began with little or no fanfare the long delayed experiment aimed at curbing tooth decay in young children here.

The start of the mass dental treatment climaxed two years of study and debate. First proposed by Dr. P. K. Musselman, local dentist, in January, 1949, the project was formally approved by the Town Council the following September. The experiment then marked time while final plans were made and the machinery designed. Months of delay resulted from a change in engineering plans for the pumping installation and more months were consumed in waiting for delivery of new equipment and supplies of the chemical.

The specially designed machinery, which was turned on Tuesday at the water pumping station, injects one part of sodium fluoride per million parts of water into the town system. The theory is that fluoride taken into a child's system during his formative years enters into the composition of the teeth and hardens them against the attacks of mouth acids.

Last January free tooth examinations were given to 500 Newark children between the ages of three and ten and also youngsters in the same age bracket in Dover, Del., which will serve as the comparison test town for the experiment. Once the project is underway, comparative statistics will be kept on the two towns to determine whether the fluoridated water here is reducing the rate of tooth decay in relation to Dover. Detectable results are not expected for several years.

Dr. Musselman said this week that the examination given children here last January are no longer of any statistical value. He said he is already making arrangements with state health authorities to give new examinations. The fact that fluoride is already going into the water will make little difference in the long range experiment.

Full precautions will be taken to see that the proper fluoride solution is maintained, and a day-by-day chart will be kept on the water's fluoride content. In addition, statistics and charts will gauge the effect of the fluoridated water on the rate of tooth decay over the years.

Shortly after Dr. Musselman first proposed the experiment, a town fluorine committee was formed. This group gathered a wealth of facts on the results of mass fluorine experiments in other communities such as Newburgh. (Continued on Page 6)

A complete cast for "Juno and the Paycock" the Sean O'Casey comedy which the University of Delaware's E52 Players will present on Dec. 7-8, and 9, has been listed by the director, Dr. C. Robert Kase.

The leading parts will be taken by Robert J. McFarlin, as Captain Boyle, the paycock; Mae Jane Singer, as Juno Boyle; and Thomas J. Waters, as Joxer Doyle. Other top roles will be taken by John Sedwick, Jeannette Taylor, and Don Swan.

In addition, the cast includes Gunvor Thurston, Elbert Chance, Joy Murray, William Harkins, Norma Levine, Frances Evans, and Robert Lee Carey.

Assisting Dr. Kase is a staff including Nancy Schnabel, assistant director; Herman Middleton, technical director; Turner W. Edge, production manager; and Robert Waples, stage manager.

Certain time for each of the three Mitchell Hall performances will be 8:15 p.m. The Mitchell Hall box office now is open for sale of reserved-seat tickets from 3:30 to 5 p.m. and 7 to 8:30 p.m. weekdays. Tickets also may be purchased at the Newark Department Store and the Greenwood Book Shop, Wilmington, or by mail, for which orders should include a stamped, addressed return envelope. Reservations may be made by telephone, to be held for not more than 48 hours.

O'Casey's comedy was first done in 1924 by the Abbey Theatre in Dublin, with Sara Allgood as Juno and Barry Fitzgerald as the Paycock. Later, "Juno and the Paycock" was produced four times on Broadway in 13 years, the most recent revival being in 1940, when Miss Allgood and Fitzgerald returned to the cast.

Newark Soldier Makes Weekend Tour Of London

A Newark soldier, Sgt. Ronald H. Ewing, now serving with the 36th Bomber Group in Furstenfeldbruck, Germany, recently made a weekend air trip to London, England.

In a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Ewing, 83 1/2 South Chapel Street, Sgt. Ewing said he took off from the Group base and landed at Manchester, England, then went by train from Margate to London.

During his stay there, he visited Buckingham Palace and saw the "change of guards." He also visited the Parliament House.

He stayed at the National Hotel, Bedford Way, Russell Square. Sgt. Ewing graduated from the Newark High School in 1948.

District Revamping Will Affect Newark

Local District May Be Joined With Others

Under the proposed plan for reorganizing the school districts of New Castle County, the Newark district would be joined with schools at Christiansburg, Eden, Glasgow and portions of the Middletown district on the northern side of the Chesapeake-Delaware canal.

This enlarged district, which would also include the Negro schools at Iron Hill and Christiansburg, would be known as Administrative District No. 5.

This was disclosed at a meeting of county school members and educators last week at the Town Hill School, when plans for the redistricting were outlined and discussed. The proposed county reorganization, a phase of a state-wide plan, was drawn up by a state appointed committee.

Before any portion of the plan is put into effect, the question will go before the voting public. Purpose of the broad scale reorganization is to increase administrative efficiency, consolidate the use of equipment and supplies, and, in general, streamline the operations of the public school system.

Attending last week's county meeting were Supt. Wilmer E. Shue and two members of the Newark Board of Education, Joseph McVey, president, and C. M. Olson.

Clarence Webb Dies After Lengthy Illness

Services were held Tuesday afternoon for Clarence Webb, Sr., 69, farmer, who died Saturday at his home near here after an illness of several months. Interment was at Still Pond, Md.

Local Rotary Club Fetes Soroptimists

Activities of Local Girl Scouts Outlined

At its weekly meeting on Monday, the Newark Rotary Club entertained the members of the Soroptimist Club of Newark. Joseph A. Shields, Rotary president, welcomed the guests, and Miss Edna A. Campbell, president of the Soroptimists, responded to the greeting.

Dr. William O. Penrose, Dean of the School of Education of the University of Delaware, was introduced as the newest member of the Rotary Club.

The program was presented by Mrs. Allan P. Colburn, chairman of the camporee committee of the Soroptimists and member of the district committee of the Girl Scouts. She spoke on "Girl Scouting in Newark." She stated that at present there are twelve troops in the Newark area, with a membership of almost 300. In addition a waiting list needs to be taken care of as soon as more leaders and more meeting space are available.

Mrs. Colburn pointed out that the girls from seven to nine years of age are enrolled in the Brownies, and those who are ten and over are girl scouts. She thanked the Rotary Club for cooperating with the Soroptimist send deserving children to camp last summer. Three girls were sent to the girl scout camp at Grove Point for two weeks and one Brownie was sent to day camp for one week.

The speaker introduced two girl scouts who were also guests at the meeting. One was Irene Klahr, a Mariner Scout, who is a member of the senior planning board of scouts at Wilmington. The second was Mary Ann Boyle, an intermediate scout. Both told about their experiences at the camp last summer.

Warren Buckingham, a member of the Middletown Rotary Club, was a guest.

Delaware TB Death Rate Ranks Seventh

Approximately 80,000 direct mail appeals were delivered last Monday throughout the state, opening the Forty-fourth Annual Tuberculosis Christmas Seal Sale of The Delaware Anti-Tuberculosis Society according to Dr. William Marshall, Jr., president.

The Christmas Seal appeal was signed by Dr. Marshall and reads as follows:

"Dear Friend of the Christmas Seal: Tuberculosis is still front page news in Delaware. Are you aware today—
"That Delaware has the seventh highest TB death rate in the United States? That Delaware had 113 tuberculosis deaths last year? That in Delaware last year 313 new cases of tuberculosis were discovered? That Delaware is the birthplace of the Christmas Seal? That although Christmas Seals have helped cut the death rate seventy-five percent in the last forty years, tuberculosis is still the most death-dealing of all infectious diseases?"

Chalmers Hailed

Playing his last scholastic football game, George V. ("Shorty") Chalmers thrilled 2000 fans from all parts of the state at Milford on Thanksgiving Day, when Coach Nunn's Newark High team tucked away its sixth consecutive D.E.A.A. championship, 35-0.

Why they call this 165-pound youth "Shorty" is a mystery. He stands five feet, eight inches high.

"Shorty" is one of those rare person known as "born athletes." He is probably the best all-round athlete Newark High has ever produced. He is a star at football, basketball and baseball.

Teammates and opponents alike find in "Shorty" a champion of clean sport, a good fellow on and off the field and modest to a fault.

Capitol Trail News

Mrs. James H. Bishop, Correspondent

Kirkwood Highway

Capitol Trail residents are getting back to normal again after the big blow and storm of last Saturday. Many did not realize at the time that the abnormal flow of traffic over the highway that day was caused by high water blocking off a number of other roads. Electric and telephone lines were still functioning normally and after we had surveyed the isolated cases of minor damage such as a television aerial toppled over here and there, a garage door blown off and cellars being baled out, we felt grateful that our community had been spared the damage and suffering such as was inflicted upon other parts of the east.

Many family reunions were held for Thanksgiving Day—too numerous to try to mention.

Bailey Wheeler, just returned from naval duty in Japan, was the guest of Miss Marion Gallaher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gallaher, Capitol Trail, for the Thanksgiving holiday.

White Clay Creek Presbyterian Church

At a meeting of the Youth Fellowship last Sunday evening, it was voted to sponsor a Christmas box to be sent to a mission station in South Carolina. Gifts for all ages will be included, to help brighten Christmas for the many needy families served by the Missionary, Rev. E. L. McAdams. It was also voted to hold a Christmas party at the church on Tuesday, Dec. 10.

Members and friends of the Improvement Society enjoyed the Delaware State Police film, "Accepting the Challenge," shown on Wednesday night at the church. The film was very educational, depicting the effect of alcohol on physical and mental responses and proving the dangerous consequences for driving.

Mrs. Alice Hammell, president of the Improvement Society, announces that plans are being made for a covered dish supper to be held in December. Mrs. Howard Bradley, chairman of the ways and means committee, wishes to thank all who contributed to the success of the food and bake sale.

Rev. Bishop states that pledges for the 1951 church budget will be received and dedicated in the church service next Sunday morning, since many of the members did not receive their material through the mail last week.

Next Sunday will be observed as the first Sunday in Advent with a pastoral message on "Known by Hearsay" or "We Would See Jesus."

The Senior Choir will rehearse on Monday at 7:30 p.m.

On Tuesday, Dec. 5, at 6:30 p.m. the Young Adult Fellowship will hold its annual turkey dinner at the church. Each member brings a covered dish and butter for the family. A nominal fee will be charged to cover expenses. The committee arranging the dinner consists of John Murray, Mrs. James H. Bishop, Mrs. Margaret Johnson, Margaret Lamborn and Elizabeth Brown. Devotions will be led by Mrs. Louise Pench. Eleanor Murray was in charge of the program, announcing that there will be an exchange of gifts costing not more than 25 cents.

To anyone who has not driven a

Chrysler

or Plymouth

THE best-satisfied car owners in the country today are the owners of these Chrysler-built cars.

No matter what kind of car you now drive, you owe it to yourself to know why this is so, and to compare these cars with what you now have . . . or with any other car you may think of buying.

In at least four ways, their owners will tell you, these cars excel all others.

Owners will tell you, for instance, these cars have the best powerplants on the road, and they are right. For performance, economy, and dependability, this is America's first family of motor car engines!

Owners will also tell you these are the best-driving cars on the road, and they are right again. The feel of the wheel, the sure satisfaction of the big hydraulic brakes, the marvelously smooth transmission of power to the wheels . . . all are things you simply have to experience to understand.

These owners will tell you, too, that these are the best-constructed cars in the industry, and they are right about this, too. The craftsmen in our plants have the best and most advanced car-building facilities in the world. The cars they turn out are properly put together, and they stay put together.

And these owners will tell you, finally, that you get more human comfort in these cars. And here, once more, their opinion is based on solid facts. Doors are wider than in other cars. Seats are chair-height and body-fitting. Interiors are very roomy, and these cars give a beautifully balanced ride on any sort of road.

After all, it would take you only a few minutes to check for yourself what these cars are giving their owners today. And in times like these, if here is extra value by your standards, too . . . wouldn't that be good to know about before you choose your next car?

Special Care Needed In Washing Blankets

Save time, energy and your blankets by washing them properly, suggests M. Katharine Jones, Home Demonstration Agent. Gentleness is the watchword for good results, she believes.

Rinse blankets thoroughly, using lukewarm rinse water—never hot or cold. A sudden change in water temperature will cause woollens to shrink and become hard.

Farm & Home Week Scheduled By U. of D.

Annual Event Set For
Jan. 30 To Feb. 2

The 1951 Farm and Home Week at the University of Delaware will be held from Jan. 30 to Feb. 2. Announcement of the dates for this event, which is attended annually by hundreds of farm families from Delaware and adjoining states, was made by George M. Worrlow, Director of the Agricultural Experiment Station and Extension Service and George L. Schuster, dean of the School of Agriculture.

As in previous years, there will be sessions of interest to dairymen, poultrymen, general farmers, and their wives. And, there will be exhibits on all phases of Delaware's agriculture. Headquarters for the week's activities will be Wolf Hall, the agricultural building.

Although the complete program is still being planned, there will be talks and demonstrations on dairying, broiler production, egg production, turkeys, fruits, vegetables, and grain and forage crops. For homemakers, programs will feature foods, clothing, household management, and home furnishings.

Special programs will highlight discussions of current agricultural problems by leading speakers.

Army Commissions Available To Women

The Department of Military Science and Tactics has recently received information relative to commissions for women in the regular army.

To be eligible under this program an applicant must be a college graduate or prospective graduate in her senior year, who will have attained her 21st birthday but will not have passed her 27th birthday on September 1, 1951. Prior military service is not required.

For further information it is requested interested applicants contact Warrent Officer Charles Elliott in the Military Department, Old College, either in person or by telephone (Ext. 313) or Colonel Donald M. Ashbridge, Director of Placement Bureau, Purnell Hall.

Farmers should learn to "plant" a new kind of seed—that of security in the form of investment in U. S. Savings Bonds. The returns will be much more than the cost of production.

Legion Women Will Aid "Tide Of Toys"

Millions of toys will go from American children to the children of war-ravaged countries of western Europe again this Christmas, Mrs. J. Harvey Diekey, Child Welfare Chairman of the J. A. O'Daniel Unit No. 10, American Legion Auxiliary, has announced.

The American Legion has decided to conduct its "Tide of Toys" program for a second year and will be assisted in the work by the Auxiliary, she stated.

Bing Crosby, radio and motion picture star, has accepted appointment as honorary chairman of the Tide of Toys campaign, with Irving Geist and Drew Pearson as honorary co-chairmen. Thomas E. Paradine, of New York City, will be the Legion's national chairman of this year's campaign.

Last year's Tide of Toys resulted in three million toys being donated by The American Legion to Europe, where American children and shipped by the distribution was handled by the CARE organization. Many of the children receiving them had never owned a real toy and their gratitude was touching. This year the program is getting a much earlier start and a much larger shipment of toys is anticipated.

For Power with Economy...it's High Compression!
FOR HIGH COMPRESSION... IT'S THE "ROCKET"!

Ever since Oldsmobile introduced the "Rocket" Engine two years ago, seems like everybody claims "high-compression"—but nobody explains it. The phrase simply means squeezing the gasoline into a smaller space before exploding it. This gets more power out of the same amount of fuel. But the engine must be designed for high-compression all the way through to assure smooth, quiet, gas-saving performance. The "Rocket" is 100% high-compression—from the crankshaft out. And the lowest-priced "Rocket" Engine car is Oldsmobile's "88." Makes good sense to try it soon—doesn't it?

The Town Council's proposal to turn a portion of the 80-year-old Academy Building into a town hall has stirred the fires of local patriotism to a point where talk is even heard of renovating the entire building and restoring it to its original condition as the place where (all together now!) three signers of the Declaration of Independence went to school.

You can imagine then our dismay when, shortly on the heels of Council's announcement, a local scholar called us to say the Academy building has "no historical significance" and what was all the fuss about.

We told the guy we didn't want to talk to radicals and hung up. He called us back to say we were closing our ears to 'Truth. We pointed out that loyal Newarkers always speak of the Academy in hushed and reverent tones and that he must be a wild-eyed revolutionary if he didn't respect Revolutionary relics. He said the Academy was neither old nor Revolutionary.

We told him hotly it looked pretty old to us and clinched this by pointing out that we had visited the place once and found it littered with such picturesque relics as empty sterno cans and old bicycle parts. The place is obviously a hallowed slum, we snapped. He said he didn't care how many sterno cans the Academy boasted, the building was still unRevolutionary and he'd die for his right to say so.

Go ahead, we countered, and asked him what about the metal sign on the Academy lawn which says the school was organized in 1767 and gives the impression the building is fit to rank with Independence Hall or Mount Vernon as a national shrine.

An irrational sign doesn't make a national shrine, the fellow grated and referred us to page 229 of the June issue of the Delaware Guide to the first state, published by the Federal Writers Project of the Works Progress Administration. There, he purred, you will find that the east and west wings of the present Academy were built in 1840 and that the center portion was erected much later in 1873. It is true, according to the Guide, that the Academy was first opened in Revolutionary times and that, thank goodness, the three signers were educated there, but the original stone building which served as the first school and which was used during the Revolution as a shoe factory, was torn down. The present building was used as a private school through most of the last century and as a public school well into this. But as far as the old, pre-Revolutionary Academy is concerned, Newark has left only memories and an unhistorical, box-like brick building that wouldn't make a respectable low rent housing project for chippunks.

Our caller pointed out that even as buildings go, the Academy isn't very old. The best that can be said for it is that it is pre-Civil War, which means it is scarcely older than the holes in Main Street.

According to our informant, there are several buildings in town which are older than the present Academy—Old College, for instance, and the private home just east of the Community Store on East Main Street.

We kept silent throughout this expose and muttered a meek "that's very interesting" at the end. We haven't checked the Guide, but if our informant is correct we hope this revelation doesn't dampen enthusiasm for Council's plan to move into the Academy. The Council needs more space whether it is of historical significance or not. At least now the lawmakers won't feel compelled to don knee breeches and powdered wigs every time they hold a meeting there.

Conrad Victory Gives Jackets First Unbeaten Year Since '25

12 Of Coach Fred Sposato's Boys Play Final Game; Redskins Show Surprising Power In Holding Favored Jackets To 14-6 Score

Newark High's jubilant gridders tucked away the school's first unbeaten season in a quarter of a century on Thanksgiving Day here, when they defeated a hard-fighting Conrad Redskin eleven, 14-6.

The tension and spirit generated in the underdog Redskins by the traditional rivalry almost upset Newark's apocryphal. The Jackets pushed across two touchdowns in the second period, then fought off desperate Conrad drives in the second half, one of which paid off for a six pointer.

Twelve Jackets, six of them first stringers, played their last game for Newark, according to Coach Fred Sposato. Those who bowed out were:

Capt. Henry Correll, halfback; Earl Schaefer, fullback; Jim Bueche, end; Jim Wollaston, end; Bill Hawthorne, end; Howard Keeley, end; Rodney Smith, tackle; Leonard Nelson, tackle; Joe Gregg, guard; Martin Murphy, center; Andy Murphy, quarterback; Mitchell Crothers.

Coach Fred Sposato, who in his second year at the Jacket grid helm produced the unofficial state champions, still has a solid corps of veterans to build around next season. Returning will be: Bunny Blaney, top scoring halfback; Roland Bramble, tackle; Alvin Sparks, guard; Don Sharpe, guard; and Dave George, quarterback.

Only blemish on the Jackets' 1950 record was a 6-6 tie with Brown Vocational. The Conrad victory appeared to give Newark the mythical state crown, their only challenger being Bridgeville which also came through unbeaten. On the basis of comparative schedules, though, Newark gets top ranking. A play-off is out of the question under rules of the state's scholastic grid league.

Two Newark players were injured in the Conrad game. Jerry Leache, tackle, tore a leg ligament, and Roland Bramble injured his nose.

Following is a full account of the game by Jim Seybell, member of the journalism class at the Newark High School.

"Newark High's Yellowjackets defeated the stubborn Conrad Redskins last Thursday at Newark by a score of 14 to 6. The Turkey Day classic drew over 2,500 fans.

"Bunny Blaney, the ace halfback of the college town boys, scored all of his team's points in the second quarter. His conversions were perfectly placed.

"In the first period Blaney got rolling when he went off tackle for 25 yards where he was forced out of bounds on the Redskins' 35-yard trip. Conrad's only threat in the first period came when the Skins' right guard, Bob Boyce, recovered a Newark fumble on the Jackets' 36.

"In the second period Fred Sposato's boys clicked for two touchdowns and both extra points were good. Newark drove 52 yards with Blaney bulging his way over from the three. The second came when Earl Schaefer recovered a Conrad fumble. This was followed by a pass from Capt. Hank Correll to Left End Jim Bueche which covered 40 yards. Blaney swept end for 25 yards. Two plays later Blaney was standing in the end zone for TD number two. Again Blaney's try for point after touchdown was good.

"The Redskins threatened many times in the second half. Blaney halted one drive by intercepting a Maynard Dill pass. Earl Schaefer stopped another by recovering a Conrad fumble.

"In the final period Andy Murphy punted out of danger. The ball was hauled by the Redskins safety man, Harvey Halfen, who returned it to his foes' 26 yard line to set up Conrad's only score. Dill, the Redskins' ace quarterback, hit Fullback Don Byerly with a pass on the Jackets' 2-yard line. In three plays Byerly went over for a TD. Bob Seeds, the Redskins' right guard, was wide on the extra point. Newark ran the time out as Dave George stayed on the ground with quarterback sneaks."

Safety Tips Listed For Electric Cords

There are two kinds of wiring in every home—permanent and portable—according to Miss Louise R. Whitcomb, Home Management Specialist for the Agricultural Extension Service, University of Delaware. The permanent wiring, Miss Whitcomb states, is behind the walls, and leads to outlets in the walls, floor or ceiling. This permanent wiring has been installed by qualified electricians in accordance with the National Electrical Code for safety.

"The portable wiring," says Miss Whitcomb, "consist of flexible cords which take the current from the outlets into the lights and appliances in the room. It is not necessary to use inspected and approved portable wiring as it is with the permanent wiring. Remember, however, that these flexible cords carry the same voltage as permanent wiring, and with less protection. The cords are bent, kinked, pulled, stepped on and kicked around. So, it is up to you to make certain that the appliance and separate flexible cords you buy are of good quality. If they carry the label of the Underwriters Laboratories, they've been inspected for safety."

Here are some safety rules for wiring:

1. Never run cords under rugs. They become worn from walking on them.
2. Do not carry cords through door jams. Constant squeezing breaks the protective covering on the cord.
3. Never run cords over radiators or steam pipes.
4. Always disconnect heating appliances when not in use.
5. Do not disconnect appliances by pulling on the cord.
6. Cords should be examined regularly and replaced when worn.

Council Gives Trophy To NHS Grid Team On Behalf Of Community

Newark honored its winning football team at a special assembly yesterday morning in the high school auditorium. A gold plate regulation size football mounted on a pedestal was presented to the team on behalf of the citizens of the town by Councilman Samuel Diehl.

The trophy was accepted by Capt. Henry Correll, who turned it over to Principal Frederick B. Kutz for permanent keeping at the school.

In making the award, Mr. Diehl praised the team for its winning spirit and sportsmanship. He also lauded Coach Fred Sposato for his work in welding together a championship aggregation.

Permission to make the award was secured from the Delaware Athletic Commission.

Unbeaten NHS Grid Team Entertained By Mothers At Banquet

"Shorty" Chalmers, Star of 1925 Championship Club, is Guest Of Honor

Members of Newark High School's undefeated football squad were guests at a banquet and dance given by their mothers last Saturday night at the school.

Among the guests was George "Shorty" Chalmers, star of Newark High's unbeaten team, which earned the state championship in 1925.

Other guests were Dr. John R. Downes, former county health officer and one of the team's most faithful fans; Eugene Stiltz and wife; Ernest Wilder, high school music director and band leader, and his wife; and Roland Anderson, assistant coach at Newark.

Coach Fred Sposato, who in his second year at Newark's grid helm piloted the team to its first unbeaten season in a quarter of a century, came in for special honors. He was presented with the football used in the Conrad-Newark game on Thanksgiving. The ball was autographed by the members of the team and was presented by Capt. Henry Correll.

The guests were introduced by Mrs. Henry Correll and Frank Smith, who were chiefly responsible for organizing the banquet. Turkey and all the fixins' were served.

The players were accompanied by their "dates," and, following the dinner, a dance was held in the gym with Johnny Wooleyhan's orchestra providing the music.

Blue Hen Cagers Scheduled To Face Temple U. Five, Dec.

Fred Emerson's U. of D. Five Loses To Lawrence Tech. Opener Of 21-Game Schedule; Three From Last Year's Starting Five Are Back

Fred Emerson's University of Delaware basketball team lost in 1949-50 season with Lawrence Tech. 62-58, on Tuesday night in Detroit. The twenty-one game schedule facing the Blue Hens is the most extensive in Delaware history and will see them meeting some of the top teams of the East in addition to the conference foes from the Southern Division of the Middle Atlantic loop.

The Hens are scheduled to invade Temple University on Dec. 2. Emerson has been drilling his cagers for several weeks, and expects his ten man squad to be considerably augmented this week with the addition of several cagers from the football team. Three of the cagers from 1949-50 starting five are back in business again, and it appears that Delaware will pack some height this year for the first time since the war.

Captain Frank Albers is expected open at one of the forward spots. He will probably have as his running mate, Dick Evans. Both of these boys will top the six foot mark. Evans, a transfer student from Harvard, makes his home in Seaford, Del. He was ineligible last year. Big Jim Kuzinski will be back at the pivot position after a good season last year as sophomore, and Emerson will be banking on him for much of the heavy work under the boards. Jack Bueche, another starter last winter, is back. His old stand at guard and will be joined by either Dick Goldberg or Johnny DeGasperis.

The schedule: Nov. 25, Lawrence Tech., away; Dec. 2, Temple, away; Dec. 6, St. Joseph's, home; Dec. 12, Johns Hopkins, away; Dec. 12, Michigan, away; Dec. 13, Buffalo, away; Jan. 3, Lafayette, away; Jan. 6, Swarthmore, away; Jan. 13, Drexel, home; Jan. 17, P.M.C., home; Jan. 20, Harvard, away; Jan. 27, West Chester, away; Feb. 3, King's College, home; Feb. 10, Washington College, away; Feb. 11, Ursinus, away; Feb. 14, Swarthmore, home; Feb. 17, Lehigh, home; Feb. 20, P.M.C., away; Feb. 24, Haverford, home; Feb. 28, Drexel, away; Mar. 1, Ursinus, home.

A billion pounds of meat could be stored in deep-freezer and lockers if average Mr. Freezer Owner uses space what more than half his freezer space for meat, says U. S. Department of Agriculture economists. A billion pounds of meat is 50 percent more than all the meat and meat products in commercial cold-storage in July this year.

If consumers buy meat for storage when supplies are large and prices down, they can help keep meat supplies and prices steady—and benefit their family budget. But if they buy when supplies are short they can cause sharp rises in price.

This happened last summer, say the home economists. Families bought meat for freezing in mid-summer, the seasonal low for meats. These families will buy less meat this fall than they would have if they had waited until the autumn flush season of heavy slaughter to restock their freezers and lockers.

Farm and home agents are located in 3,000 counties throughout the U.S. They are employed cooperatively by the counties, the extension service of the state agricultural college, and the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Local Farmers Sign For '51 ACP

For Sectional Meetings Are Listed

Local farmers are signing up again in the Agricultural Conservation Program, says Mr. Price, chairman of the New Castle County PMA Committee.

New Castle County farmers who signed up in the 1951 ACP are pledging themselves to help build a stronger and more prosperous county, according to Mr. Price. He explains it, "If less than 20% of the people are to continue to produce food, the other 80% can go ahead and do other activities of civilization, and must be a continuing effort to protect and improve the nation's limited land. Efforts to prevent farm lands from dropping to ruinous conditions are an essential part of that effort."

The chairman explains that any New Castle County farmer may sign up in the 1951 ACP by calling at the New Castle County PMA office in Newark or attending the sign-up meeting as listed below for his respective community:

Community 1—Harmony Grange, 1100 Limestone Rd., Marshallton, Del., December 8th, 1950, 8:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.

Social Security Law For Domestic Help Effective On Jan. 1

Householders Advised To Get Facts On New Coverage, Write For Forms

Householders who employ domestic help should begin thinking about how they are to comply with the extended Social Security law as it applies to household workers, Roger R. Minker, manager of the Social Security Administration, has announced.

The new coverage will be subject to certain conditions, and only some such workers will be covered. Farm household workers are protected under a parallel provision of the act, Mr. Minker added.

Although the change does not go into effect until the first of the year, Mr. Minker has asked that all employers of household workers fall within the limits prescribed by the law write the Collector of Internal Revenue, Wilmington, Del., for necessary forms.

For the purpose of determining whether or not a household worker is to be covered under the new law, the Federal Security Agency has set up a dual test. To apply this test, the worker is divided into four quarters. A household worker is to be included under the new law if:

"She is paid at least $50 in cash wages for work in your home during any of the three-month periods and is in your home during that same three-month period or the period just before it."

The agency has also set up other rules for the payment of the new Social Security Tax. If more than one person works in the home, each is to be considered separately. Each person who works regularly two days a week or more will be covered by the law. Cash wages paid by each employer, including carfare, if paid in cash, are to be counted as wages.

Beginning on January 1, each employer will send, at the end of each three-month period, a report of wages paid, together with the amount (one and one-half per cent) deducted and the equal payment made by himself, to the Collector of Internal Revenue.

Income Of Delaware Farms Is Up 400 Pct.

Increase Registered Over 10 Year Period

Broadened "know-how" on Delaware's farms has contributed much of the 400 percent gain in farm income during the past decade, Dean George A. Schuster of the University of Delaware's School of Agriculture said recently.

Pointing out that cash income in the state increased from less than $25,000,000 in 1939 to more than $97,000,000 in 1949, Dean Schuster commented that improved methods must be credited with a large portion of the gain.

"Know-how, in fact, is necessary if we are to succeed in any phase of the agricultural industry, be it production, marketing, teaching, research, or instruction activities."

Dean Schuster reported that Delaware's 1949 cash farm income of $97,000,000 came from these sources: All crops, $18,968,000; all livestock, $80,000,000. In the previous decade, he said, significant gains were made in truck crops, which represent 6.6 percent of the total; and in corn and wheat, each of which represent 2 percent of the total. In the livestock area, the most significant gains were made in hogs, which now represent 62 percent of the total value, followed by cattle and calves, 2.4 percent.

The aim of the conference is to create interest in the business of writing in schools of the state, writing for school newspapers, columns in the town papers, school magazines, and yearbooks. The 1951 conference will be highlighted by an interview of a member of the Phillips organization.

Advice On Cleaning Of Linoleum Floors

Care in both laying and cleaning linoleum floors can result in a great saving to homemakers says Miss Louise R. Whitcomb, home management specialist at the University of Delaware.

Most linoleums, she says, give best service if laid over a lining of felt which in turn is cemented to the wood floor. The felt takes up any expansion and contraction of the wood and prevents the linoleum from buckling or splitting. It also makes the floor warmer and more resilient. Seams should be protected with waterproof cement. If the floor is concrete the use of a felt lining is optional. It helps, however, in taking up the irregularities that are always present in concrete and adds to the resiliency. One type of linoleum is made with a "factory-applied adhesive back" and is laid directly on the floor. Linoleum is not recommended for use on floors which are in direct contact with the ground, because of dampness.

For table tops linoleum should be cemented directly to the wood with waterproof cement.

Question:

(Most Women Are Asking These Days)

How Can I Lower The Family Food Bill?

Answer:

(More Than 5,000,000 Families Have Found Out)

Shop at A&P Where You Get Storewide Low Prices On Hundreds of Items Every Day... Instead of Just a Few One-Day or Week-End "Specials"!

What's more—A&P guarantees all advertised prices for a full week, even though market prices go up. So buy a week's supply of food and household needs at A&P. (It makes no difference what day or days you do so.) At the end of the week, compare your total food bill with what you might have spent elsewhere. We think you'll agree that you can save more... more easily... by doing all your marketing at A&P.

(Prices shown here guaranteed Thursday, Nov. 30 through Wednesday, Dec. 6)

"Super-Right" Meat Values

There's a big difference between "Super-Right" meats and ordinary meats because every "Super-Right" cut is specially selected to give you tender, juicy good eating, and carefully trimmed to give you more of it for your money. Yet A&P prices these famous meats as low as possible, fine quality considered. Try them once... you'll buy them always!
