Conservation Plan for Rural Delaware

Details Discussed at Meeting
Yesterday

A systematic "drive" to capture Rural Delaware for the Food Administration was begun in Wilmington yesterday afternoon, when prominent citizens selected to act as district food administrators met in conference with Edmund Mitchell, Federal Food Administrator for Delaware, in the latter's office in the Equitable Building. Plans of the Food Administration were discussed and explained and an organized line of effort determined upon.

In organizing the rural sections Administrator Mitchell decided that the better plan would be to select men from each Senatorial district, and this plan was put into effect. Those who attended the conference were:

Rural New Castle

Third Senatorial District, Newton L. Grubb; Sixth district, Geo. W. Pevely, Middletown; Seventh district, Richard Hodson, Townsend; two other district administrators to be selected.

Kent County

First district, S. J. Reynolds, Smyrna; Second district, J. Freeman Clark, Kenton; Third district, Eugene Raughley, Dover; Fifth district, Wallace S. Handy, Milford; one administrator to be selected.

Sussex County

First district, William B. Truitt, Bridgeville; Second district, Arthur S. Hearn, Laurel; Third district, Charles M. Hollis, Seaford; Fifth district, Dr. W. R. Messick, Lewes; one administrator to be selected.

These men will handle all the business of the food administration in their respective districts, they, in turn making reports of the progress of the work to Mr. Mitchell in this city. All complaints, and all persons seeking information in their districts are to transact all business through them.

Sales to Farmers

One of the chief items of interest discussed was the matter of wheat flour conservation. It was decided to provide certificates for millers and storekeepers selling to farmers.

No sales to farmers of wheat flour will be permitted without substitutes unless the latter produces a certificate showing that he has had cornmeal ground and will agree to use it with the wheat flour.

No miller will be permitted to deliver wheat flour to a farmer unless he produces a certificate to show that the wheat was grown on his farm. This is to prevent resales and numerous other ways in which the food regulations could be evaded.

There were some cases reported where farmers and millers were accused of failing to live up to the food regulations regarding the conservation of wheat. In all of these instances, an investigation has proven that the violation was due to ignorance of the rules and food regulations.

New Home Cards

Beginning this week, 20,000 Home cards will be distributed through the school children, to as many homes throughout the State. By the end of the week it is hoped that every home in rural Delaware will possess a new Food card.

Addresses Students At Chapel

Don P. Dyer, new chemist at the Delaware College Experiment Station, addressed the students of Delaware College at chapel on Tuesday, presenting the Business View of a College Education. Mr. Dyer emphasized the fact that along with the sentiment, the refinement and cultural influences of college life, there is also a practical outcome, which makes of the student a trained man capable of reaching results.

Because of this, Mr. Dyer declared, the value of a College course, even though pure science, may be reckoned in dollars and cents.

ENGINEER UPHAM GETS GOVERNMENT VIEW

Relative To Road Building
Project In Delaware

Charles M. Upham, chief engineer of the State Highway Commission, has recently announced the result of an investigation of the government's view of the road-building project, announced in his report early in January. From the communications received, Mr. Upham declares, he is convinced that the different departments of the government believe in encouraging such projects when they are likely to be used as military roads.

The War Department and the Council of National Defense are said to be in favor of the construction of main arteries and roads north and south. Secretary of Agriculture Houston is said to favor those essential, while Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo has expressed his willingness to afford transportation for materials for such projects if it is possible to provide it.

There seems little doubt that the government will be interested in the project in Delaware at least so far as the upper end of the state is concerned, this project being a part of the main trunk line highway through Delaware.

There is every reason to believe that a great amount of government traffic is to pass over this trunk line in the future, and it is also believed that the project for the road down the state may appeal to the government as well especially in view of the new fortification being built on the Delaware bay and the fact that somewhere along the coast near Lewes is a naval base.

Mr. Upham sees no great hindrance in the war to road building, for there promises to be an abundance of material and plenty of bidders eager to submit estimates.

The decision of the State Highway Commission which meets at the call of the Governor, is awaited with interest.

The Farmers' Trust Company of Newark has consented to buy the cattle and put them out to the farmers at cost. Any farmer of the county who is interested in these cattle should be present at this meeting.

COMMUNITY "SING" A SUCCESS

Choruses Show Splendid Progress

The Community "Sing" held in the New Century Club building last Monday evening was well attended. Professor Hayward, dean of the Agricultural department, Delaware College, led the chorus singing, the audience responding in a way that promises marked success for the movement. The special numbers were enjoyed by everyone.

Dancing, free to everyone, followed the "Sing" of the early evening.

The next "Sing" will be held on March 25th. It is the ambition of the committee in charge that the building be crowded to its capacity.

Pastor And Wife Kindly Remembered

Rev. and Mrs. E. P. Roberts of the M. E. Church, Newark, have been most kindly remembered this week by the presentation of three purses: one from the Epworth League to Mrs. Roberts, for her faithful and zealous labors there; one to the pastor from the Bible class, as an expression of their great esteem for him as a teacher; another to the pastor and his wife, from members and friends of the church; making a sum total of $201.00.

A pleasing feature of the remembrance was the typewritten list of contributions, which was tucked, by the committee, into the beautiful wallet, with the crisp new notes, before presentation.

Big Draft In June

The second big draft will be made in June, according to present plans, it was learned from authoritative sources at the Provost Marshall General's office Saturday. The number to be included in the call and mobilization planned is to be determined by the War Council of the War Department, it was stated.

Unless some great emergency arises, no nation-wide calls of men will be made under the second draft. The present plan provides for a continual stream of men moving from civilian life to army camps, and from the camps to France. Comparatively small numbers of men will be ordered from certain districts to camps just as rapidly as men there leave.

The formal call authorizing some definite number will be made merely for the purpose of allocating the district quotas.

D. A. R. CONFERENCE ON TUESDAY

Local Chapter Represented

Mrs. Harry Hayward and Mrs. Ernest Frazer representing the local chapter, D. A. R., attended the State Conference of the Delaware Daughters held at the Hotel duPont on Tuesday of this week. The five state chapters, Caesar Rodney, Wilmington; Cooch's Bridge, Newark; Elizabeth Cook, Smyrna; Colonel Hazlett, Dover; and John Pettigrew, Milford; were represented.

The meeting, owing to war conditions this year, was largely occupied by business no guests of honor were present.

Mrs. George Hall, the state regent of the D. A. R. and Mrs. Edmund Moody have been attending a national executive board meeting of the D. A. R. at Washington and they gave an interesting report of the meeting at the conference on Tuesday.

The Delaware D. A. R. has upheld the State's reputation for patriotism by its enthusiastic war work. They have done Red Cross work, adopted French orphans, and donated an ambulance to Delaware College. They will now help in the restoration of the French village of Tilloy, an undertaking of the National D. A. R. through its state societies. The town is one of the many destroyed by Germans and its restoration will cost about $50,000.

Republicans Elect Chairman

All Factions Urged to Unite for Victory

At a meeting of the Republican County Committee on Saturday afternoon, Dr. L. Heisler Ball was re-elected county chairman. Dr. Ball was empowered to appoint an advisory committee to co-operate in conducting the campaign in the interests of party success.

Nearly everyone of the 170 members of the committee was present, in addition to many other Republicans. Dr. Ball presided at the meeting and delivered a stirring address in which he advocated that the County Committee work with the National Committee's harmony program for the purpose of bringing all "isms" of the party together, that personal or individual gain be forgotten and the welfare of the party be the paramount motive.

Dr. Ball said he wanted the affairs of the committee and party so conducted that every voter who believed in the principles of the Republican party would join in assisting the committee to send a Republican United States Senator and Congressman to Washington as well as electing the entire State and county Republican ticket next fall. He pointed out the necessity of having Congress in the hands of the Republican party after the war.

Meanwhile, Dr. Ball, said, he hoped the Republican party would stand by the administration at this time and do its full part in helping to win the war. He suggested the appointment of an advisory committee, the object of which would be to unite all the party factions so that all would have some say in the conduct of the campaign. He said this committee need not necessarily consist only of county committee members. If harmony could not be obtained Dr. Ball said he was willing to resign as county chairman and let some one else take the reins.

Dr. Ball had only to finish to find out that his views had the approval of all present. With Vice-Chairman Isaac W. Bowers in the chair, a vote was taken, and the result was unanimous in favor of the chairman's plan.

Several committeemen expressed their feeling on the matter and all urged that harmony be the foremost thought during the campaign. Among those who spoke were James H. Morris, John Titus, Charles H. Grantland, Benjamin A. Groves and William B. Smith.

The matter of appointing the committee was left to Dr. Ball. The next meeting will be held on March 30th.

OBITUARY

Stephen R. Choate, Jr.

Stephen R. Choate, Jr., son of Stephen R. and Sarah J. Choate, died suddenly at the home of his sister, Mrs. Lorena Cochran, Philadelphia, on February 24th. Death was due to heart trouble. The body will be brought to Newark, for many years the home of the family, for interment.

Mr. Choate was for many years a prominent figure in the social life of this community, and many friends were shocked on Monday to hear of his sudden death. Possessed of a sunny, genial personality he made friends everywhere. Few, indeed, have enjoyed such a wide personal acquaintance, which extended to all parts of the Peninsula.

Relatives and friends of the family, members of Aberdeen Lodge, No. 137, A. F. and A. M., Oriental Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Newark, and any other society of which the deceased was a member, are invited to attend the funeral services, to be held at the parlors of R. T. Jones, on Thursday, February 28th, at 12.30. Interment in M. E. Cemetery.

Martha T. Chamberlain

Martha T. Chamberlain, daughter of Dr. Palmer and Grace R. Chamberlain, aged 80 years, died in Wilmington on Tuesday, February 26th, after a brief illness. The body was brought today to the home of her sister, Mrs. George G. Kerr, Elkton Avenue, Newark. Funeral services will be held from the Kerr home on Thursday afternoon at two o'clock. Interment at the Head of Christiana Cemetery.

Miss Chamberlain, a life long resident of this community, had endeared herself to a host of friends. For many years she was associated with the Young Ladies' Seminary, conducted by her sister, Miss Hannah Chamberlain, for a time in the Delaware College building, later in the J. P. Wilson residence, and again in the Academy. Miss Martha was teacher of music and painting, and as such took a leading part in the social and intellectual life of the community. She was a member of the Presbyterian church of Newark and ever active and faithful in the performance of her duties.

Miss Chamberlain possessed a sunny, cheery disposition which made her beloved by everyone; she carried the years with a lightness and grace which was the marvel and inspiration of all who knew her.

One sister, Mrs. George G. Kerr, of Newark, survives.

Calvin S. Worrall

Calvin S. Worrall, aged 74 years, died suddenly at the home of his son, Norris S. Worrall, on Choate Street, last Friday. Although Mr. Worrall has suffered from some heart trouble, he was apparently in a normal condition during the day. About eleven o'clock he became ill. A doctor was hastily summoned, the patient dying within three quarters of an hour.

Funeral services were held from the residence of Norris S. Worrall, on Tuesday. Interment in the M. E. Cemetery.

Two sons, Norris S. and Calvin Worrall, of Newark, and one daughter, Mrs. Harlan Gray, of Wilmington, survive.

Amelia Anderson

Amelia Anderson, aged 23 years, wife of Thomas Anderson, died at her home on South Chapel Street on Wednesday, February 20th, from erysipelas. The body was taken to the home of her parents, at Darlington, Md., on Saturday, for interment.

A husband, a daughter two years old, and an infant, aged two weeks, survive.

Alice L. Hendrickson

Alice L., infant daughter of Chester and Laura McCarns Hendrickson, aged four days, was buried in the Ebenezer M. E. Cemetery today.

WELFARE OF FEDERAL EMPLOYEES

Government Provides Pleasant Quarters

The Federal Government is not only giving close attention to the matter of the proper housing of its new appointees in Washington, but the general welfare of the employees is now considered in greater measure than ever before. Many of the young people who have come to Washington for war work are hundreds, even thousands, of miles from home for the first time in their lives. They are strangers in a strange land, and it is not to be wondered at that they become homesick and magnify the troubles that they are bound to meet during the period of adjustment to new conditions. The department heads realize that a good clerk must be a contented one, and many offices have appointed welfare workers whose business it is to take an unobtrusive interest in the affairs of the employees and to try to help them with their difficulties. Experiments along this line have had such good results that the number of offices which employ welfare workers is increasing.

Since the war began about 25,000 employees have been added to the civil service in Washington, D. C. The United States Civil Service Commission, whose duty it is to recruit this branch of the service, estimates that this calendar year will add another 20,000. Stenographers are being appointed in great numbers. There is also need for clerks, both men and women, who are trained in certain special or technical lines, ship-building. The representatives of the civil service commission at the post offices in all cities are prepared to furnish definite information and application blanks.

JUNIOR MEMBERSHIP TO MAKE FURNITURE

Plan To Use Manual Training Equipment

A telegram has been received from National Headquarters, American Red Cross, announcing that the Red Cross is planning to build a convalescent home, to be called the Red Cross House, in connection with the base hospital of every cantonment in the country. These houses must be attractively furnished for the convalescent soldiers.

Here is another fine opportunity for helpful war service awaiting Junior Members of the American Red Cross. To them is now offered the patriotic and pleasant task of making and in some measure of designing the furniture which will be placed in the Red Cross House of the nearest cantonment for Delaware, Camp Dix.

The schools are now asked to submit to the Chapter School Committee designs made by scholars for the following typical pieces of furniture:

1. Demountable reading table, 6 ft. x 2 ft. 6 in., able to be knocked down for easy storage.
2. A bench of similar design, to slip under table, 4 ft. x 6 ft.
3. Stools for table ends of similar design.

Designs should be submitted by the schools to Mrs. R. L. Holliday, Dover, Delaware, by March 1st.

Designs accepted will be appropriately acknowledged in the official Red Cross Bulletin or Magazine, and prizes awarded to winning students.

Notice of this opportunity for Red Cross service is being sent to all Delaware schools where there are classes in Manual Training.

Mrs. R. L. Holliday, Chairman Junior Membership, Dover, Delaware.

February 20th, 1918.

Red Star Asks Relief

Persons who do not fully understand the importance of "The Red Star Animal Relief" do not realize that in helping the Army horse, mule and dog, they are doing a work of the utmost importance for the soldiers. Without the animal transport system, the soldiers can not always be fed, or supplied with munitions with which to defend themselves, or defeat the enemy. Cavalry scouting, light artillery, advance supplies and even ambulance service without horses are largely crippled, especially in rough country. Motor service is not sufficient or the belligerents in Europe would not have gathered 4,500,000 horses for field service. The dogs trained for war service have saved many lives, and given alarm when the enemy approached when man could not detect his presence.

The work of "The Red Star Relief" is to conserve and save army animals by improved hospital service. In relief work the "Red Cross" and the "Red Star" will march side by side, relieving suffering and saving lives. A fund of $250,000 is needed. Will you help even a little? Contributions can be sent to Miss Pauline Rogers, No. 9 Strand, New Castle, Delaware, or to her in care of The Delaware Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, Public Building, Wilmington, Delaware.

Train Troops In Colleges

It is estimated that within the next six months 75,000 to 100,000 men will be given intensive military training in schools and colleges. They will be drawn from the armed forces of the Nation, men now in training camps or about to be called, and registrants under the selective service law.

With a view to mobilizing the educational institutions of the country for this special training there has been created in the War Department a "committee on education and special training." It will encourage and arrange for the technical education of men needed by the several branches of the Army.

Cartoonist's Work

On Liberty Loan

The work of the foremost cartoonists of the country will be used during the sale of Third Liberty loan bonds. Drawings will be used in a wordless booklet and a daily cartoon service.

The booklet, containing all of the cartoons, will be distributed by millions. It will consist only of drawings. The cartoons will also be divided evenly between afternoon and morning papers.

Sunday Meeting At W. C. D.

Sunday evening the Senior Class had charge of the Young Women's Christian Association and Miss Frazer prayed for victorious peace, for workers and sufferers everywhere, and for all who especially needed prayers at present, after which invocation there was a space of silent prayer. Special features of the meeting were solos by Misses Catherine Schunder and Alice Evans and a reading "Let Me Live in a House by the Side of the Road," by Miss Paulina Smith.

Announcement was made of work done since September 20, by the students. For the Red Cross they have knitted 138 sweaters, 4 helmets, 1 pair wristlets and 3 scarfs; for personal distribution 40 sleeveless sweaters, 10 sweaters with sleeves, 16 helmets, 4 scarfs, one pair mittens, 4 pairs socks. The Chapter voted to buy a knitting machine, that many pairs of socks may be turned out.

Interesting Chapel Talks At Women's College

On Monday Professor Saleski of Delaware College, gave a scholarly talk on "Words." He contrasted the peculiarities of one language with the German and French, and in closing made an appeal to the students to read and study the poetry for the inspiration to be gained.

On Tuesday Mrs. Henry B. Thompson talked to the girls about the Women's Land Army. She explained how in England women have taken men's places in the fields and have harvested the crops. Last year the plan was tried in America. Units of working women or college girls were sent out to live in groups under a leader and chaperon. They were hired out by the farmers in the neighborhood, and worked by the day doing practical farm work. The farmers testify to the excellent service rendered by the healthy young women who will obey orders and are not afraid of work. Mrs. Thompson said that the plan is to be carried out in Delaware this summer, and that the girls of the Women's College should partake in the patriotic service of producing food.

Wednesday Miss Marie LeCates gave a resume of an article from the Atlantic Monthly on the schools of Belgium which are "under fire"; and she described in a telling way the thrilling experiences of teachers and pupils.

Thursday, Dr. Sypherd gave a short on Robert Herrick, the English poet, and read half a dozen of his poems.

Friday's Chapel hour was a patriotic one. After the religious exercises the students, under the direction of Miss Bachrach, leader of the Glee Club, learned the first stanzas of the National Anthems of England and France, that they may be able to sing the hymns of our allies as well as our own.

Washington's Birthday Observed

Friday evening the dining room at the Women's College was decorated with blue and white stars, red lighted candles, American flags, and the lights covered with red, white, and blue crepe paper. Card board flags and red, white, and blue hatchets served as place cards. After dinner the girls made their patriotism touch at home, when they presented a hand knitted sweater to Mr. Harrington, the faithful night watchman, who has guarded the college since its beginning, and who has done many little kindnesses for the students.

The Real Opportunity

A successful farmer once said that he made the most money in years when conditions were unfavorable for crops. "For," he said, "any man can grow a good crop during a favorable year, and the price is always low. On the other hand it takes careful fertilizing, cultivating, and harvesting to make a good crop in a poor year. But for that very reason, because supply is low, any farmer who can make a good crop in a poor year is assured of good profits."

This truism will be borne out next year as never before. Fertilizers, machinery, seeds, and labor will be harder to get next year than ever before. Even if the season is good there will be small chance for ordinary methods to bring through a fair crop. To begin with, ordinary crop growing methods presuppose a plentiful supply of cheap labor.

Of one thing we may be sure. Labor will not be plentiful in 1918. Nor will it be cheap. On the other hand crop prices are bound to be high next year because there will be an active demand for everything we can possibly produce.

There is a real opportunity next year for the forehanded man; the man who gets in the game early. The man who gets his supplies of fertilizers and seeds while the getting is good, the man who is prepared for every eventuality, the man who uses what labor he has

A CREED FOR AMERICANS

We acknowledge the One Divine Power that has made and holds secure this free nation in ever expanding light and hope for all mankind;

We believe that human governments exist in order that each member of the race may attain to a full realization of justice, freedom, and brotherhood; that the right to serve implies also the right to equal enjoyment of every privilege of citizenship; that each child shall be well born, shall breathe and pray freely, shall receive careful training in tasks for which it shows fitness, and have opportunity to give this trained skill to some community service; that men and women, with equality of law and privilege, should co-operate in the upbuilding of the true commonwealth, be free to contract, direct their individual powers, and possess the results of their own work, in subjection to and limited by the universal well-being;

We believe each upward step in race progress has been won through the clear vision and earnest striving of those whose hearts are pure and whose lives make good their words; and in loving allegiance to the one flag we pledge our faith and honor to maintain undimmed its three-fold unity of peace, truth and loyal service for the perfect freedom of all men.

FARMERS INSTITUTE AT NEWPORT

Local Men Among The Speakers

The State Board of Agriculture will hold a Farmer's Institute at the Public School Building in Newport next Tuesday afternoon and evening, when prominent farmers of this and other states will deliver lectures on matters pertaining to farming. Among the speakers will be Frank Blackford, a successful farmer of Ohio, who will speak on hog raising improving the soil and farm work in general. The question of hog cholera will also be discussed by Dr. Zerkow and Dr. H. P. Eves. Professor Fred E. Clark of Delaware College will talk on market problems and in the afternoon T. F. Manns of Delaware College will lecture on "Seed Potato, Its Vitality and Disease." In the evening Professor A. E. Grantham, of Delaware College, will give an illustrated lecture on wheat.

For the convenience of those who desire to attend both sessions, the women of Delaware Grange will serve dinner at the intermission between the two sessions.

It had been planned to hold the institute in the rooms of Delaware Grange but owing to the limited heating facilities there, it was decided to hold the affair in the school room.

CHILD WELFARE WORK IN DELAWARE

Co-ordination Of Forces Urged By Expert

A meeting in the interest of Child Welfare Work in Delaware, held in the St. Andrew's Parish House last Thursday afternoon, was attended by one hundred twenty-five, prominent educational and welfare workers, from all parts of Delaware. Features of the meeting were the addresses by C. Spencer Richardson, of the Russell Sage Foundation, on a study of Child Welfare Work in Delaware, and Miss Emma Lundburg, of the Federal Children's Bureau. Following the addresses the questions raised were discussed, and Mrs. F. M. Jones, the chairman, was authorized to appoint a committee to secure the appointment of a committee to draft a code of laws for the welfare of the child.

Among those who took part in the discussion which followed the address were: Mrs. Charles K. Miller, who spoke of the children

Henry Jackson, superintendent of the Delaware Industrial School for Girls; Mr. Scott, Mr. Miller, Judge Prickett, and others.

Mr. Richardson said in part: "Co-operation is just as essential in the social-work world as it is in the business world. There is little co-operation among the children's organizations in Delaware, but there is every real appreciation on the part of the many organizations of its need."

"There appears to be no need of additional organizations in Delaware to care for the dependent, delinquent and defective children. The fifteen existing organizations represent the different kinds required. The present needs is to strengthen, extend and unite the existing agencies."

He recommended "That the Juvenile Court system be extended throughout Delaware; that it be under one Judge, who shall be paid a suitable salary, and that it be given jurisdiction over adults in non-support and contributory delinquency cases."

The consolidation of all placing-out work in Delaware and to effect it a merger of the House for Friendless and Destitute Children and the Delaware Children's Home Society."

"That the Children's Bureau of Delaware enlarge its work so as to perform for the organizations for dependent, delinquent and defective children throughout the state preliminary case study of children, including investigation of family homes and medical and psychological examinations; supervision of children who have left institutions; preparation of uniform records; conducting of conferences for the institutions, and the use of a confidential exchange giving for common benefit helpful information regarding families."

That a law be passed calling for the appointment by the Governor of a state board of charities, or similar organization. Suggestions regarding the personnel of the board and its powers will be found in my report."

Relative to the feeble-minded Mr. Richardson said:

"The need for proper care of the feeble-minded has been increasingly recognized in Delaware during recent years. The grave menace of the problem has been brought home by the thorough studies made in this field by the Federal Children's Bureau. The studies show that many feeble-minded are now in Delaware institutions which are not at all adapted for their care and that many more are at large in private homes throughout the state."

"A start was made toward meeting the situation by the passage last year of a bill providing for a commission for the feeble-minded and for an appropriation of $10,000 toward the starting of an institution. It is hoped that an institution will soon be erected sufficiently large to meet the needs, and be constructed and administered along approved lines."

"Delaware now permits the presence of children in her three almshouses. During the year ending June 30, 1916, 22 children between the ages of 5 months and 17 years were in the New Castle county almshouse alone, for a shorter or longer period. It is generally agreed that children ought not to live in an almshouse. The population of an almshouse is made up for the most part of hopeless, broken-down persons, many of whom have diseased bodies and corrupted minds. Their standards of living, speech, manners and dress are not those with which it is desirable that imitative children should come in contact, for even in a short time the children must receive through such association impressions which will leave a taint, or they may form injurious habits that will harm them through life. Moreover, an almshouse pro-vocational training, no special provision for play and recreation. They usually eat, sit, talk and sleep in the same quarters with the unfortunate adults. Many states have passed laws forbidding the presence of children in these institutions. We recommend that Delaware pass a similar law."

ACTRESS WRITES TO SOLDIER BOYS

Miss Goodrich At Opera House This Week

Miss Edna Goodrich, one of the most charming of the younger theatrical stars whose fame centers in Broadway, is an assiduous patriot and a consistent one, too.

Miss Goodrich, who is starred in a new Mutual production, "American Maid," has thirty personal friends in the American army in France—friends who were formerly actors or connected in some way with the dramatic profession.

The "Little Sisters Club" originated in the green room of the Gaiety theater in New York and it now has more than a thousand members. Miss Goodrich was one of the originators and a first signer of the articles, which provide that every woman on the lists must keep in touch with one or more American soldiers in France.

Miss Goodrich writes three letters a week to her friends, taking them a seriatim. Thus the thirty young Americans in the trenches receive letters in their regular turns. Miss Goodrich writes funny letters, too.

Miss Goodrich will appear at the Opera House on Thursday February 28th.

LIBERTY LUNCHEON SERVED BY SOPHOMORES

Girls Entertain Six Guests

Six guests were entertained at the Women's College on Washington's Birthday, at a Liberty Luncheon, served by Sophomores in the Home Economics Course on the Preparation and Serving of Food. The menu was both meatless and wheatless. Owing to the fact that a greater part of the food had been canned by the girls last summer, the expense of the luncheon was kept down to $22 per plate. The girls during the year study the preparation and serving of breakfasts, lunches, dinners, buffet lunches, afternoon teas, and picnic lunches. Two guest luncheons are held during the year—one on Washington's Birthday, and the

To the Housewives of America

"THE food situation of the Allies grows more critical every week. Their own short crops, coupled with the ever-increasing shortage of shipping, which limits the importations more and more to food from the nearest markets, make the responsibility of America in the provision of food for the Allies even greater.

"All our efforts must be redoubled to meet the absolute food necessities of our associates in the war during the months to pass before the next harvest.

"Unless we do meet them the war cannot go on.

"I appeal, therefore, with renewed earnestness to our people all over the land to give their support to the attempts of the food administration to solve this food problem. Every measure adopted has for its first aim the winning of the war.

"The latest measure restricting the purchases and use of wheat flour by food manufacturers, bakers, wholesalers and retailers has been adopted only after much thought and because it is the only way by which the necessary wheat saving can be affected.

"It is only by the help of all the people and their whole-hearted acceptance and support of the measures adopted by the food administration that the situation can be met. Without this help food cannot be sent. If it is not sent it means but one thing—CATASTROPHE.

"HERBERT C. HOOVER,

Red carnations and fuchsias formed an attractive center, at the luncheon of last Friday; the national flag adorned the place cards. The following menu was served: Ambulian Soup with croutons; noodles with cream cheese sauce served in green pepper shells; fried egg plants, butter beets; apple jelly, barley rolls; asparagus tip salad; strawberry sponge; coffee.

The guests were Dean Robinson, who acted as hostess. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davis, Chancellor and Mrs. Charles M. Curtis, Mrs. William Bancroft, all of Wilmington.

Emma Dunn At Playhouse

Emma Dunn, and the original New York and Boston cast in Rachel Crothers' wonderful American play of optimism and sternal youth, "Old Lady 31" will be the attraction at the Playhouse March 11, 12 and 13. Miss Dunn has registered a success in this play equalled only by her well-won popularity in Richard Mansfield's "Peer Gynt," "The Scarlet Letter" and "Beau Brummel" or her wonderful characterizations in David Belasco's "The Warrens of Virginia" and "The Governor's Lady." —Adv.

RELATION OF MUSIC AND POETRY

Discussed By Dr. Moore At W. C. D.

Dr. Moore, one of the instructors in English, gave a talk on the relations of poetry and music. He claimed that the same thought or feeling could be expressed by poetry and music composed at different times, by different people. In illustration of his point, he would recite a poem to give a certain impression, and then play a record of instrumental music or singing in a foreign language so that you could see how closely the music was connected with the poetry. The thoughts or emotions of almost universal appeal that he used for illustration were the delights of pastoral life, a vision of an ideally loved land, a dream, beauty and sadness, nightfall, universal sorrow, personal grief, love, and the composer's praise of his own art.

WEDDING

Stott-Sypherd

Miss Isabella Stott, Women's College, ex-1918, and Corporal Clarence Burton Sypherd, Delaware College, ex-1918, both of Dover, were married in their home town on Monday of this week. Corporal Sypherd is at present with the Delaware troops, stationed at Camp Dix.

Returns Must Bear Affidavit

An erroneous impression has gotten around, through a misunderstanding of newspaper articles, to the effect that affidavits are not required on State income tax returns. As a matter of fact every such return must be sworn to before a notary public. Blanks have been sent out to the State Treasurer's Department to some persons whose income is not sufficient to require them to make a return. Persons whose gross income for the year 1917 was not in excess of $1,000 are not required to make a State income tax return but all persons whose gross income was in excess of $1,000 must make a return to State Treasurer William J. Swain before March 1, and that return must be sworn to before a notary public.

Rehearsing For Farce

Rehearsals have begun for a farce, "No Cure, No Pay," to be presented by members of the Young Ladies' Mission Circle of the Presbyterian Church on Thursday evening, March 21st. Mrs. Charles L. Penny is coaching those who will take part in the entertainment.

Basketball Season Closes

The Delaware College and scrub basketball teams will close their schedule this evening, when the Varsity meets Swarthmore in the college gymnasium. The game promises to be one of the fastest of the season.

The season of 1917-18, under the captancy of Don Horsey, has been one of unusual success.

NEW CATALOG TO APPEAR THIS WEEK

Only Forty-eight Pages In Economic Edition

During the present week the annual college catalog is expected to be completed and ready for distribution among the students. Owing to the war-time economy movement it has been cut down from 134 pages in the last issue to 48 pages in the present form.

Several important changes in form have taken place in order to make it as compact as possible without omitting any essentials. The table of contents is dispensed with and the faculty roll instead of including a full outline of the colleges and universities attended by each individual instructor, merely indicates his name and department. The detailed description of the college has been entirely left out. The enumerations of the various admission requirements in English, Mathematics, Physics, Latin, and Languages, have been omitted, and have been replaced by a brief text of the subjects and the corresponding units required.

In the mention of the admission requirements, however, one element is particularly worthy of attention. The four-year high school requirement, instead of being desired as heretofore, is now compulsory. While the feature probably has nothing to do with the size of the catalog, it will at least be significant in raising the standard of the college, and will insure a better trained and prepared class of men entering Delaware. Notice has been given that this requirement, of a four year high school course, or its equivalent, will be strictly adhered to.

The section of the catalog dealing with the course of study merely gives the required subjects for the Freshman year and a list of the elective students and their respective term and credit hours. The subjects of instruction by departments do not include an explanation of the field covered in the course, as previously, but only the catalog number, the name of the course and the credit hours.

Just a few pages are devoted to general information, such as expenses, scholarships, rooms, registration, degrees conferred, etc. The last six pages are devoted to the list of students now in attendance at Delaware College.

While this new war-time catalog is not as full on details as previous ones have been, nothing of real importance has been omitted. The purpose of cutting the catalog down to 48 pages was merely to adhere to the present day national policy of economy and conservation. Any other detailed information which is desired can be obtained through President Mitchell.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION LAW

Effective March Second

Secretary Charles H. Grantland of the Industrial Accident Board, stated today that the Board desires to direct the attention of employers of labor in Delaware to Section 119 and 120 of the Workmen's Compensation Law of this State, which read as follows:

"Every employer * * * shall insure his liability * * * or shall furnish to the Industrial Accident Board proof of his financial ability to pay compensation. Every employer * * * shall within sixty days * * * file evidence of his compliance. If an employer refuses to comply, he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished by a fine of ten cents per day for each employee in his service at the time when the insurance became due."

The sixty day period herein mentioned will expire on March 2nd, and after that date any employer, who has failed to comply with these provisions, will be liable to the penalties above set forth.

All employers, who have five or more employees excepting such as may be engaged in domestic service or farm labor, are subject to the law unless they file with the Board an affidavit as to the posting of notice not to be bound by it.

As numerous cases of industrial accidents have come to the notice of the Board of which no reports have as yet been received from the employers as required by the law, the Secretary further stated that all employees, who are injured at their work, should see to their employers having actual knowledge of the accident by giving written or printed notice to them within fourteen days; otherwise no compensation can be claimed until such notice has been given.

The Board desires to co-operate both with employers and employees who come under the provisions of the Delaware Workmen's Compensation Law and all inquiries regarding same may be addressed to Industrial Accident Board.

Telephone Personalities

It is only human nature that varying temperaments should reflect themselves in the telephone usages of different people.

Any operator, handling scores of subscribers' lines, can point to certain switchboard lamps whose signals announce the calls of persons for whom it is a genuine pleasure to establish connections—whose consideration of her is as gracious as though she were face to face.

Whether the service received by such subscribers is or is not measurably more effective may be left to personal judgment as to whether any of us, serving at a switchboard, would be influenced by courtesy and a recognition of our endeavor to do our best.
