Brownie Day Camp To Accommodate 40 Girls A Week

Silverbrook Site Donated By Hugh Gallagher Will Be Ready This July

The Newark Girl Scout District committee announces the establishment of a Brownie Day camp to be located at Silverbrook Recreational area on land given to the town by Hugh Gallagher.

This camp will be open for two consecutive weeks in July and will accommodate 40 girls each week.

In the past, Newark Brownies attended Country Center at Hockessin, but the number of girls attending was limited. Now it is hoped the new site will be ready for all Brownies who wish to attend camp.

The Day Camp Development committee, composed of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Darsie, Chairman; Mrs. Merle Roemer, Mrs. Herbert Smith, and Mr. Gustave Steinel, has been working for some time on the site and plans for the camp.

The camp is to be a permanent shelter on the site, to be built during camp season and the construction will be supervised by Mr. Smith and Mr. Steinel.

Fathers of Newark Brownies will be asked to assist in the construction of the camp, and mothers to help in troop raising projects to purchase equipment necessary for the camp's development.

The Day Camp Operating committee in charge of camp policies, organization program and purchases consists of Mrs. C. B. Brown, Chairman; Mrs. Vernon Lewis, Mrs. J. Cairns, Mrs. Hugh Gallagher, Mrs. John Elliott, and Mrs. C. R. Hobbs.

The camp is to be named through contest among the Brownies. The winner will be awarded a "camper" of one free week.

Dr. Lebach, who had helped Dr. L. H. Beckland develop the bakelite process in 1933, accepted a position as special consultant for Haveg at Marshalltown in 1940, and has since resided in Newark.

The Haveg Corporation, a subsidiary of Continental-Diamond Fibers, Newark, honored at the anniversary banquet, four employees who have been with the concern since its beginning. Local men receiving these 20-year pins were Wm. U. Reybold, Jr., Delaware City, and Orville Brown, Marshalltown.

Local Dentists Aid In National Health Day Drive

Fluorine Considered
Super-Weapon In War
On Tooth Decay

Monday has been proclaimed as National Children's Dental Health Day, and in line with the national program, the Delaware State Dental Society is endeavoring to acquaint the public with the importance of caring for teeth in the child.

Dr. Clyde M. Cox heads the Newark campaign, and with the help of local Scouts has distributed dental health posters in the Newark schools and stores.

On the subject of water fluoridation as a tooth decay preventive measure the Dental Society reports that children's teeth can be partially "armour-plated" against decay with fluorine.

Fluorine is a chemical related to chlorine, universally used in purification of water. It is the new super-weapon in the war on decay.

Just how fluorine makes the teeth more resistant is not fully understood but it is known to have a strong affinity for calcium. The chemical reaction is believed to convert enamel into calcified tissue which is less soluble when exposed to the corrosive acids that cause tooth decay.

Studies on fluorine's effectiveness have been made in communities where the drinking supply has accidentally contained fluoride and in communities where it has been purposely added as a salt in the amount of one part to one million parts of water, less than the proverbial drop in the bucket.

These studies show that children drinking this water from birth to early teens are experiencing from one-third to two-thirds less decay, lower dental bills and a better chance of keeping teeth to old age.

In areas where water is not yet fluoridated, dentists are applying fluorides directly to the teeth of children. A series of four applications are given: two to seven days apart usually at ages 3, 7, 10 and 13 so that all teeth are treated soon after they come in. As much as a 40 per cent reduction in dental decay has been noted.

Overweight Topic To Be Discussed During F & H Week

Being overweight is a good way to shorten your life, according to life insurance statistics and the word from the medical profession. A doctor, a nutritionist, a housemaker, and a dietitian will present their ideas on the dangers of overweight at the University of Delaware Farm and Home week.

On Tuesday, February 10, the afternoon home economics program is devoted to overweight. First, a special film, "Weight Reduction Through Diet?" will be shown, with comments by Miss Mary Jo Hiltcock, dietitian and instructor at the University of Delaware. The film documents diet tests made at the Michigan State college, where research on weight reduction has been underway for several years.

These particular tests are important because they show how to reduce and still eat foods such as whole milk, and fats. The diet satisfies more than most reducing diets because it provides more fat than is usual. For instance, breakfast could be citrus juice, scrambled eggs, toast, butter, and whole milk. Even with foods such as this, the people lost an average of 1 1/2 to 2 pounds a week.

The panel on the danger of overweight will follow the film.

Nine Register at City Hall For April Municipal Election

Newcomer interest in the forthcoming municipal elections has been conspicuous to judge from the registrants who turned out to register at the Town Hall last Saturday.

Exactly nine registered, and the majority of these were old-time registrants who had changed addresses.

The April election, for which the "current" registration is being held, will be to elect one councilman from each of the three districts. And unless the registration business picks up, a great many people in the Newark area won't be eligible to vote come April.

Returning councilmen are Donald Hill, of the Eastern District; Samuel L. Diehl, Middle District; and Dr. John R. Downes, Western District.

C. of C. Urged To Accept Challenge of City Growth

Speaker at Annual Banquet Warns Members
Of Danger in Neglecting Parking, Traffic,
Housing Problems with "Good Old Days" View

Charles H. Rutledge, former editor of the Newark Post, and now public relations executive for the duPont Company, exhorted the merchants and city officials to act at once in expanding their policies to meet the demands of the rapidly increasing local population.

As the principal speaker last Thursday night at the annual Newark Chamber of Commerce banquet, held at the Newark County Club, Rutledge cited other cities as examples of failure to keep up with current trends.

Because of inadequate parking facilities, conservative zoning ordinances, and traffic congestion, much of the shopping pressure has shifted from in-town to the outlying districts.

In many instances, he pointed out, opinion of the established old-time residents of a community has been that the industrial newcomer was unwanted and unnecessary, that the "we like things just the way they are" attitude was adopted as a short-sighted defense mechanism.

"But the newcomers' payrolls are important," he said, "and don't forget that the local merchants get the first chance at those pay checks."

If Newark makes no provision to attract the prospective shopper by providing parking facilities and convenient access to the shopping areas — if sound zoning policies are not undertaken — this potential trade will go elsewhere, he emphasized.

Chamber of Commerce president Ford H. McBearty introduced George H. Worrlow as toastmaster, and Mr. Worrlow presided each of those present to urge for individual introduction.

Four directors were elected for terms of three years. They are Hugh Gallagher, Thomas A. Foster, Alvin Handloff, and George F. Jackson.

Purpose of Local League of Women Voters Clarified

Mrs. Harry E. Kaley
Describes Voter Service,
National and City Plans

To clarify the position of the Newark League of Women Voters, Mrs. Harry E. Kaley restates the purposes of this organization.

The League of Women Voters, a non-partisan organization, is dedicated to the principles of self-government established in the Constitution of the United States. The League works through its Voter Service and its program to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government.

Voters' Service is a year-round activity to help the individual citizen to be politically effective. It develops understanding of the essentials of individual liberty and representative government. It provides non-partisan information on registration, voting, candidates, public officials and issues.

The League aims toward more and better informed voters participating in every election, more individuals working for the candidate of their choice, and more citizens learning the technique of political effectiveness in order to make their views known to their elected and appointed officials.

The Voters Service authorizes the League to provide information and build public opinion but does not authorize legislative action.

Off-Side Driving Third Leading Accident Factor

Drivers who travel on the wrong side of the road once too often cause more than 5,000 deaths and over 100,000 injuries every year, and frequently lose their own lives or are seriously hurt themselves in accidents which occur because they ignore the painted "life lines of the highways," the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies states.

Listing driving on the wrong side of the road as one of the leading causes of highway deaths and injuries, probably ranking third after speeding and drinking-and-driving, the Association's accident prevention department said this dangerous practice apparently is on the increase and urged drivers to make it a rule never to cross solid traffic lines.

About one of every six traffic deaths and more than one of every seven injuries suffered in highway accidents last year were caused by drivers who veered onto the wrong side of the road, according to Thomas N. Boate, the Association's director of public safety and acting manager of its accident prevention department.

Three years ago, he pointed out, deaths from this cause totaled about 3,400, or 1,600 fewer than an estimated toll of more than 5,000 fatalities last year. Injuries resulting from drivers going on the wrong side of painted "life lines" jumped about 15,000 annually in the same three-year period, with nearly 94,000 persons injured in 1949 compared with approximately 110,000 last year. This year the toll may be even greater, he said, unless drivers generally learn to curb their impatience and remain on the safe side of solid lines on the highways.

A former captain of the Pennsylvania State Police, Mr. Boate has seen scores of tragedies that resulted from the failure of drivers to respect what he terms "the first line of defense" of the motorist and public. Drivers who habitually neglect the serious errors of invading the rights of others driving oncoming cars frequently are killed in head-on collisions, which also cost the lives of members of their families and other innocent persons, he pointed out.

As a step towards reducing the increasing toll, he advised family groups to insist firmly that solid traffic lines be held inviolate at all times. Any driver in a family who ignores safety lines and attempts to travel on the wrong side of the road should be rebuked by others in the car for endangering their lives. Mr. Boate suggested, before a fatal mistake is made that can bring tragedy to one or more members of the family. State and local police also were urged to step up enforcement against drivers who illegally cross solid lines.

Delaware Farmers Share OPS Profit

The American farmer shares heavily in the savings made possible through price controls, according to the Office of Price Stabilization in Delaware.

OPS reminded farmers that OPS price ceilings continue in effect on many items used on the farm and necessary to its operation. Among the most important of these are protein feeds, extensively used in cattle feeding. Removal of price controls on these would result in almost immediate price increases and higher farm costs, OPS said.

Most of these feeds are now selling at OPS ceiling price levels or are rapidly approaching these levels.

Farmers benefit also from OPS price controls on automobiles and trucks. Here again price pressures are heavy, with the motor industry and motor parts manufacturers urging OPS to decontrol their products in order that prices may be increased.

On the basis of its earning standard formula, which requires that an industry's profits must drop below 85 percent of pre-Korean levels, OPS has consistently refused to adjust existing price ceilings upward except for the adjustments demanded under the so-called Capchart amendment.

Farmers share also in the benefits derived from OPS action in turning down price increases asked by many other industries, notably building materials, machinery, forgings and castings, and copper.

During the past three months, OPS said it has denied 1669 applications for individual ceiling price increases.

Now that the excitement of the inauguration has died away, perhaps we can all settle down to a more normal existence. We trust that everyone will decide to pull together for the best interests of our country, knowing that there is a strong hand at the helm.

Mrs. Mary Smalley, of Harmony Road, is rightly proud and happy over the visit last week of her nephew, Lt. Col. Craig Cannon, together with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Cannon, of Wilmington.

Lt. Col. Cannon served with General Eisenhower at Fort Meyer, Va., and went to Europe as Eisenhower's aide at SHAPE Headquarters. Mr. and Mrs. Eisenhower are godfather and godmother respectively for the two Cannon children.

On his return trips from Europe, Lt. Col. Cannon rarely omits a call on his aunt, Mrs. Smalley.

We are glad to report that Rev. Bishop, who has been confined at home with a virus infection, is slowly regaining his strength.

Seems that few families have escaped an onslaught of illness this winter. It would be impossible to list all of the children and adults in this area who have been afflicted recently.

Mr. Talbert Chalmers, of Possum Park Road, is entering the Wilmington Memorial Hospital on Sunday, Feb. 1 for medical and surgical attention.

Mrs. Manlove McMullan, Kirkwood Highway, recently had her

The Rev. C. S. Hoffman, Gwynn'shurst, Del., visited the Rev. James H. Bishop, Friday of last week. We are pleased to note that Miss Ellen Gallaher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gallaher, Kirkwood Highway, has been appointed office clerk for the new Francis Medill School, beginning in July.

Seems that one of the brick pillars marking the entrance to Roseville Park was overturned by a car early last Saturday evening. Fortunately, no one was seriously injured.

Roseville Park Branch Library The Roseville Park Branch Library is located at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raymond, Laurel Ave. Books may be secured on Saturdays from 10:00 A.M. to Noon.

Mr. Willard Johnston, Church School Superintendent, reports that all of the classes enjoyed and benefited greatly by being privileged to see the colored slides of India which were shown last Sunday by the Rev. Gordon Ruff, Missionary from India.

They especially enjoyed the demonstration of how to don an Indian sari, as shown by Rev. Ruff's small daughter.

The slide-projector was loaned operated by Mr. Paul Peisch.

Special guests for the program were Mrs. L. W. Waldrige and her third-grade class of girls from the Newark Methodist church. Mrs. William D. Stonecipher also accompanied the class.

In the 11:00 A.M. service, Rev. Ruff gave a vivid, somewhat varied experience in India in charge of a boy's high school, where 400 were enrolled in church. Rev. and Mrs. Ruff in their work in India to the Youth Club of Youth the morning service. Scripture Reading was by Miss Virginia Womack. Morning Prayer was given by Grace Miller. ## EDITORIAL

Perhaps "March of Dimes" is a slogan that is losing its significance through familiarity. Certainly, it is very human and commonplace to shrug off the thought of anything that has no direct concern with us. But to those directly or indirectly affected by infantile paralysis — to the physical sufferers from polio and to their families and friends — the phrase "March of Dimes" is most significant. To them, the "March of Dimes" means that their more fortunate fellow Americans are making a concerted effort to bring relief to those afflicted, and contributing their pooled resources to banish polio forever.

In Delaware the number of polio cases increased from a total of 14 reported in 1951 to a second, all-time high of 117 cases last year. And Newark has not been spared. But as of a few days ago, Chairman Larry Timmons of the local campaign committee assisting in this 1953 "March of Dimes" reported a little less than $500 received from this area.

As a result of this indifferent response, the drive for contributions to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has been extended another week—to February 7.

Won't you help?

Letter To Editor

309 Delaware Circle
Newark, Delaware
January 26, 1953

Editor
Newark Post
Newark, Delaware

Dear Sir:

Because a statute appears to have been enacted by the City's legislative body and has been incorporated in the ordinance book, it does not follow that there is such a law as it may not have been enacted with the formalities required by the charter, in which case it would not have any legal effect. The principles of the charter must be known and applied to it to ascertain whether it is in keeping in any essential.

Applying a known principle of our charter to "An Ordinance Providing For & Regulating the Furlishing of Water," the following essential is lacking: (1) The final reading and public hearing of this ordinance was advertised for November 4, 1952. However, the final reading was on November 5, and not on November 4, 1952 as advertised, consequently eliminating the public hearing, an essential that is required.

Here is what happened in this case. At the Council's regularly stated meeting of November 4, 1952 three members were present, Mayor Johnson, Councilman Rankin and myself. A majority of the members of council is a quorum for the transaction of business. It is claimed that this meeting was "recessed" until November 5, 1952. Is it logical that a meeting can be recessed if it was never opened due to a lack of a quorum?

The following is quoted from the minutes of this meeting: "Meeting called to order by Mayor Johnson at 8:10 P.M. in the Council Chambers with the following members present: Rankin and Coverdale. Mayor Johnson stated that as there was not a sufficient number of members present that the meeting would be recessed until 8 P.M. November 5, 1952."

I did not support this ordinance. However, if the majority has ruled that this is best for Newark, then they certainly should insist that it be enacted with the required formalities.

WILLIAM M. COVERDALE
City Councilman

Newark Five Loses, 57-52 For A. I. Tigers' 1st Win

Yellowjackets Stopped By Six-Time Losers
After Victories Over Archmere, Wm. Penn.
Hurm Sets High Scoring Pace

Newark High's cagers were on the come-back path, with successive wins over Archmere and the Wm. Penn. Colonials, until the Yellowjackets were rudely upset Tuesday night in a visit to the A. I. duPont Tiger stronghold.

A. I. duPont, after losing all six previous games, came to life at the expense of the hapless visitors to win 57-52.

Newark held a two point advantage at the end of the first period, dropped one of these lead points by half-time, and both teams played an evenly matched third quarter. But in the final period the Tigers staged a 19-point offensive to improve an unimpressive season record.

Dave Hurm led the Newark point-makers with 22—nine field goals and two foul shots.

Duke Johnston provided the big Tiger teeth with nine successful foul shots and four field goals. But of the seven Tiger players in action, only one scored a low of two points; another hit for five, and the others scored from eight up.

The Friday victory over Wm. Penn. afforded some small solace for the surprising jolt the Colonials handed the Jackets on the gridiron last Fall.

Hurm led the Newark scorers with 23 points as the Yellowjackets overcame a four point, half-time deficit to build up commanding leads in the last two periods. It was Newark 39, Wm. Penn. 47.

Coach Ray Chetnick's boys entertain the Claymont Indians tomorrow night and plan an encore at home with Archmere, Tuesday.

Yearling Cagers Boost Blue Hens' Future Chances

Fresh Undeclared
In Conference Play;
Kinch Has 16.6 Avg.

Delaware's freshmen cagers, on top of a modest three-game winning streak, face a long lay-off because of mid-year examinations and lack of opposition. They do not play again until Feb. 7 when they meet the Haverford yearlings, away.

Last season, the freshman five posted an 11-5 record and finished second to Drexel in Conference play. This year they have already topped Drexel in first of two games topping Drexel in the first of two games and like the varsity, are undefeated in Conference competition.

Seldom has a Delaware freshman squad presented as many fine prospects as this one. It will be no surprise to Delaware fans to see many of this year's freshmen wearing the varsity letters next season.

Heading the prospects is Jim Kinch, the towering pivotman, who is leading the club in rebounds and scoring. He shows improvement in each successive game under the guidance of Coach Irv Wisniewski.

Vince Grande, Jack Waddington, Bob Messick, Dallas Greer, and Bob Hart have all shown class and appear in a good way to make Fred Emmerson's future bright indeed.

The freshmen scoring for the season:

	G.	F.	Pts. Avg.
Jim Kinch	38	8	10.6
Vince Grande	31	8	10.1
Bob Hart	24	17	6.5
Bob Messick	24	14	6.2

FOOD TO GO HIGHER

No relief from still higher food prices is seen by OPS. Because of action by Congress removing fruits and vegetables, rising prices of these foods continue to push overall food costs up.
