Former Director
Of CORE To Speak
On Civil Rights

James Farmer To Address Tuesday Public Meeting At Presbyterian Church

James Farmer, former national director of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), will speak in Newark next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the First Presbyterian Church, with the meeting sponsored by the following local church and student groups:

Social responsibility committee of the Unitarian Fellowship of Newark; social education and action committee of the First Presbyterian Church; commission on Christian social concern, Newark and Kingswood-of-Brookside Methodist Churches; Newark monthly meeting of the Society of Friends; Wesley foundation, Canterbury Club, Student Religious Liberals; Westminster Foundation, and Newman Club.

Farmer has been one of the pioneers in developing non-violent direct action methods for resolution of race relation problems.

He was one of the founders of CORE in 1942 and served as its first national chairman.

In May, 1961, he led the Freedom Ride through Mississippi, and he has spent 40 days in various Mississippi jails and penitentiaries as a result of his CORE activities.

Farmer received a bachelor of science degree from Wiley College, a bachelor of divinity degree from Howard University, and a doctor of humanities degree from Morgan State College.

Early this year, his book "Freedom—When" was published by Random House.

Last March he resigned his position as director of CORE in order to head the Center for Community Action Education, a national literacy program. He will speak Tuesday evening on his experiences in the civil rights movement, and the public is invited.

Norman Freeman
Blinded, Robbed
As Store Manager

Norman Freeman, manager of the Kiddie World on Kirkwood Highway, and former manager of the Newark Firestone store on East Main Street, was blinded and robbed of $7,000 by an unidentified man last Saturday night.

Freeman, 42, of 406 Ise Drive, Newark, had placed two bags of cash on the front seat of his car in the store's parking lot at 11 p.m. Saturday, when the man appeared on the driver's side and temporarily blinded Freeman by rubbing some substance in the store manager's eyes.

The robber took both bags of money and fled on foot, while Freeman was forced to abandon pursuit because of the burning sensation in his eyes which induced temporary blindness.

His condition is reported much improved after medical attention. State police investigating the robbery report the thief of medium build and height, and wearing wool gloves and dark clothing.

Newark High Grad
Wounded 2nd Time
In Vietnam Action

A graduate in the Newark High School Class of 1963, Cpl. Robert E. Thomas, was wounded for the second time in battle in Vietnam.

The 21-year-old Marine, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Thomas of 5 West Main Street, Christiana, has been elected New Castle County vice-president, and W. H. Mitchell and J. Oliver Koelig of Newark were elected secretary and treasurer.

William Alfred of Middletown was elected DCIA president for the coming year; George Baker of Middletown was elected New Castle County vice-president, and W. H. Mitchell and J. Oliver Koelig of Newark were elected secretary and treasurer.

The young Marine was wounded when a sniper shot him in the right arm and leg last May 27, while he was on patrol near the Cambodian border with other members of the 5th Regiment, 1st Marine Division.

Thomas, who joined the Marine Corps in October, 1963, did not state where he earned his second Purple Heart, but said he was serving with the 7th Regiment of the 1st Division after returning from a hospital in Okinawa.

Saturday Session
On United Nations
Slated On Campus

A supporter of the United Nations, and a political scientist with views on charter revision will share the podium during a conference on the world organization at the University of Delaware this Saturday.

Topic for the conference is "United Nations: Hope for a Divided Globe." The morning meeting is scheduled in the Rodney Room of the Student Center.

Oscar A. de Lima, chairman of the executive committee of the United Nations Association of the U. S., will discuss "The Purpose of the United Nations."

John Logue, assistant professor of political science at Villanova University, will present "An Original Proposal for Charter Revision."

Also speaking will be Dr. Margaret S. Eberle, director of field service for the U. S. Committee for UNICEF, in a discussion of the work of the group which aids children of the world.

Dr. Frederick B. Kutz, principal of Newark High School, called NCTE award-winner David Foster from a football field band practice to tell him the good news of being honored by the National Council of Teachers of English.

David Foster, 17, has baked at least 640-ounce rolls in his eight years of 4-H club work. That's just one of the reasons the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin P. Pierson, 1215 Milltown Road, won top honors in the national and state 4-H breads program.

She received a $500 educational scholarship as one of six bread winners at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 27-Dec. 1.

As state winner she received an expense-paid trip to the national event, according to James O. Baker, state 4-H leader. The 4-H breads program is sponsored by Standard Breads Incorporated.

Sally likes to bake fancy breads—"anything that looks as though it would taste good." She has a collection of favorite recipes mostly cut from magazines. "Because the pictures look so appetizing."

She likes to make recipes—dress them up or down to fit the occasion. A favorite, Christmas Tree Bread, turns up again at Easter-time as small egg-shaped frosted sweet rolls.

Since Sally is a diabetic, she tries to adapt her bread recipes so she can safely include the bread in her diet. She uses an artificial sweetener for icings, and she reports after trying it in the recipe for "That didn't turn out too well!"

Two Youths Killed
In Auto Accident
As Car Overtakes

Two Newark area youths—Robert D. McGrady, 19, and 708 Chestnut Hill Road, and James J. Curry, 17, of 10 Kullen Drive, Brookside—were killed, and two others were critically injured early last Saturday morning when the car in which they were riding hit an abutment on West Chestnut Hill Road, overturned, and trapped the occupants.

Wayne Abbott, 19, of 82 Kenmar Drive, Brookside, had emergency surgery last Sunday night in Wilmington General Division, and Robert Kelsall, the fourth occupant of the 1963 car, owned by Kelsall's parents, was reported in fair condition at the same hospital.

Police said the eastbound car hit a bridge abutment, leaped across a small creek which feeds into the Christina River and landed on its roof near the road on the other side of the creek.

Requiem mass was offered Tuesday morning for James Curry at Holy Angels Catholic Church, with interment in All Saints Cemetery. Friends called Monday night at the William J. Warwick Funeral Home.

In addition to his parents, he is survived by a maternal grandfather, George L. Felker of Pottstown, Pa., where the youth was born.

Also surviving are seven sisters, Mrs. Helen Krammas of Newark; Mrs. Karen J. Mallis, St. Clair, Pa.; Mrs. Janet E. Slamara, Schuylkill Haven, Pa.; Mrs. Linda L. Hadley, Wilmington, and the Misses Carol A. Susan M., and Joann V., all at home.

The McGrady family moved a week ago to the Chestnut Hill address from Oxford, Pa. Before that, they lived in Brookside.

His father in a construction worker.

Surviving, in addition to his parents, are four sisters, Mrs. William Savage, Mrs. Alvin Cline and Mrs. Stanley Budyniewicz, all of Wilmington, and Carol McGrady, at home, and four brothers, James, 17, Michael, six, Ronald, two, and Steven, five months old, also at home.

Services were conducted Tuesday morning at the Robert T. Jones & Son Funeral Home, with interment in Newark Cemetery.

The same day at Central Junior High School, Allen Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Thomas Howell of 308 Apple Road, received her husband, Army Lt. Douglas D. Alley, killed in Vietnam last Feb. 26.

Mrs. Patricia Symanski Alley accepted the posthumous citation, the nation's fourth highest military medal, given for valor in ground operations against the Viet Cong.

Le April, Mrs. Alley, received the Purple Heart awarded posthumously to her husband.

They were married Nov. 13, 1965, while the 20-year-old soldier was on leave.

He was in Vietnam only 16 days when he was killed.

Local Marine Ralph Hicks Breaks Neck In Accident

Ralph Hicks, a Newark High School athlete and graduate in the Class of 1965, and now a U.S. Marine stationed in Memphis, Tenn., was seriously injured in an automobile accident near Knoxville, Tenn., while riding from Newark where he had spent the Thanksgiving holiday weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Hicks of 402 Country Club Drive.

Ralph suffered a broken neck in the accident, and is under intensive care at St. Mary's Hospital, Knoxville, where his parents are permitted to visit him briefly at intervals.

He will welcome cards and letters from his classmates and other friends in Newark. Mrs. Douglas McMinn, a friend of the Hicks family, advises—needs notes of cheer with some six weeks of hospitalization ahead.

Christmas Greetings, Topic For Y Luncheon Program

Christmas greetings will feature next Thursday's luncheon at the Newark YWCA, with Mrs. Lewis P. Kelsey explaining imaginative ways to make personal Christmas cards.

Mrs. Kelsey has taught YWCA courses in craftwork, and teaches crafts at the West End Neighborhood House, Wilmington.

These weekly luncheon programs are open to all interested persons, both men and women, without charge. Buy or bring your sandwich, and beverage is available.

The time is from 11:45 to 1 p.m., and baby-sitting is available with reservation by Monday prior to the luncheon.

Five New Laws, 99-Yr. Lease
For Senior Citizens Approved

Council Unanimously Passes Five Ordinances At Second Readings; Endorses Lease For Senior Center; Former Solicitor To Aid England; Shopping Center Site Debated

Five ordinances were enacted unanimously; a 99-year lease of city property to Newark Senior Center, Inc., was approved; the employment of former City Solicitor Januar D. Bove to assist City Solicitor Clyde M. England, Jr., in litigation with Delmarva Power & Light Co. concerning local sale of electricity was authorized; and city concern for traffic problems with a proposed shopping center on the Dameron property just east of the city line off Oglethorpe Road was expressed at the regular meeting of Newark City Council last Monday night.

Adopted unanimously at second readings were ordinances providing stop signs on Mundy Avenue at Elkton Road and on Peach Street at West Park Place; for appeals from street and storm sewer, sanitary sewer, and from water main assessments within 30 days by abutting property owners; and requiring payment of interest on sidewalk construction liens.

Interest Rates
Water main assessments and liens for city construction of sidewalks, are to bear 6 per cent annual interest rates after 60 days following the mailing of assessment notices.

City Solicitor Charles D. Long reported 25 water main liens totaling $5,481.78 as of last Sept. 30.

David Gallo in the audience said that if interest is charged after 60 days, the petitioner against water main and sidewalk assessments should be given a hearing within 60 days—otherwise the interest goes on and on.

Solicitor England pointed out that if the appeal is successful, there is no interest charge—and that if the assessment is upheld, the money has had use of the money during the period of litigation.

"Can the money be put in escrow?" Gallo asked, and England agreed that it could.

Senior Center Lease
Concerning the 99-year lease of the city's former waterworks building on East Main Street to Newark Senior Center, Inc., for $1 per year, Councilman Henry R. Folsom, Jr., said "99 years is an inordinately long time. Fred, you may be here."

Folsom added to Councilman Wakefield, a member of the Senior Center board of directors, and Wakefield replied that the 99 year period was "normal . . . that a lot of money has been sunk in this."

Councilman C. Vernon Steele urged that "there should be some term by which the lease may be broken by mutual agreement," and Solicitor England replied that the city has the right to expand its facilities on the property, and the Senior Center may abandon the property which will revert to the city.

Concerning insurance of the newly remodeled building—to insure that the city and Senior Citizens are aware of their respective responsibilities—Mayor Norma Handoff explained, "We insure the building, they, the contents."

The 99-year lease at a cost of $1 per year was approved unanimously.

Former Solicitor Retained
At Folsom's suggestion, Januar D. Bove, Jr., former Newark city solicitor, to be employed as legal counsel, England with legal action against DP&L for municipal rights to sell electricity to commercial and residential customers now served by the power company in the city, and to represent the city in any future city service for industrial consumers.

Councilman David H. Doehliet stressed that this litigation is between the "power company and city—not customers."

Concerning proposed construction of a shopping center on the Dameron property on Oglethorpe Road "opposite the A&P and fire house . . . between Delaware Avenue and Marrows Road," Councilman Folsom cited his major objections as traffic; such a facility is not needed; wrong location; and as a violation of the comprehensive plans of the city and county.

Regarding traffic, he said that the area includes "one of the most dangerous intersections" at East Main Street, with 20 accidents recorded in nine months of this year. The Day & Zimmermann traffic survey reported some 19,000 vehicles using this intersection daily, Folsom added.

Such a shopping center would be regional rather than local, he said, with present centers more conveniently located for area residents. Regionally centers attract transit traffic, and "you don't put regional centers where there are inadequate road systems," Folsom continued.

Councilman Arthur P. Mayer urged that council take a stand on the proposed shopping center within 30 days to the city limits—"oppose or accept"—and said that he hoped "to induce property owners to come into the city by annexation . . . to provide tax dollars to offset the slow death of Main Street and land-grabbing by the university."

Karen Williams, 16 Wins State Honor In Wool Contest

A University of Delaware freshman and a high school junior, Karen Williams, 16, of Newark, earned the opportunity to enter regional competition as winners in the Delaware Make-It-Yourself-With-Wool contest, on Nov. 19 at the University of Delaware.

State winners in the junior and senior divisions will compete in the regional contest in Philadelphia. Regional winners will enter the national contest in Las Vegas, Nev., in January.

Roseann Slonsky, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Slonsky, Garfield, N. J., and Karen Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ferd D. Williams, Newark, were selected to represent Delaware in regional competition.

Miss Slonsky, a freshman majoring in textiles and clothing in the college of home economics, won in her division with a double-breasted coat with a low bias belt in the back, made in a textured black plaid wool.

Miss Williams earned her award with a two-piece suit with a scarf detail at the neckline, made in a red wool.

Mrs. Leslie H. Coody, Jr., Dover, was the winner in the adult division.

COUCH'S BRIDGE DAR TO MEET ON SATURDAY

Couch's Bridge chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet this Saturday with a smorgasbord luncheon at Horne's Restaurant, Newark, at 12:30 p.m., and Mrs. Samuel Fader, sponsor of the Newark chapter CAR, and a group of her young ladies, will present a program of slides concerning Bacon College, Okla. This is an Indian college, supported by the DAR.

Mrs. Fader has requested that members of the Couch's Bridge chapter bring wearable, used clothing to be sent to students at the college.

The second phase of the program will be a report by Mrs. I. S. Lank on "Drive for World Government." Parts of the text are to be taken from an article that appeared in the October, 1966, DAR Magazine.

Mrs. Lank's parallel theme, the DAR motto for the year, "Be ye doers of the word and not hearers only," reminds us that protecting our national heritage and preserving the blessing of liberty are a daily part of life, Jane A. Harrison reports.

Anna Gallaher and Mrs. Norman Slack are accepting reservations.

Omicrons Assist Local Day Nursery By Gift Of $150

Omicron chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority donated a check for $50 to the Newark Day Nursery last Monday, with Mrs. William McDaniel, Omicron service chairman presenting the check to Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson, nursery president.

Members of Omicron chose the Newark Day Nursery as their major service project and elected to give them $150. Last July, the nursery was presented a check for $100.

Members earned the money by selling tickets to the play "Light Up The Sky" in which one of the sorority, Mrs. Miles Bart, played the leading role through a bowling party, and thrift and bake sales.

Mrs. Charles Kerr is chairman of the ways and means committee which makes decisions on money-making projects.

Recently, each member of Omicron contributed two new articles of clothing or linen to the Needlework Guild.

The Newark Day Nursery is operated for children of working mothers. Day care is provided for 24 children at a minimum fee.

It is conducted in the basement of the First Presbyterian Church, and is operated by a board of directors, a trained staff, and volunteers who provide hours of time each week.

The nursery will become a Red Feather agency next January.

FLOWERS ARE ALWAYS A WELCOME GIFT and are proper for every occasion. The trouble is their beauty lasts for only a few days at the most and then they wilt and are thrown away. During the holiday season flowers enhance any room and are such a delight to receive or to give. Why not give a floral arrangement that will last and can be enjoyed in the same brilliant shades as freshly picked flowers.

RELAX—AND ENJOY THEM!

HOW LONG IS A MINUTE?

Yes, how long is a minute—when you are waiting for the school bus to load its passengers—or to discharge them.

How long is a minute—when you are asked to stop by a youngster on school traffic control to let pupils cross at the cross-walk.

How long is a minute—when you need it to stop when youngsters are chasing each other from sidewalk to street and back again in the distance?

How long is a minute when you have the urge to drive faster to make up for those minutes you lost?

Yes, how long is a minute when you cut out of line into the path of another car.

The minute can be just as long as you make it. It can assure you, and the youngsters traveling to and from school on time—safe time.

Or the minute you lose—can be multiplied hundred times over—waiting in the Emergency ward—for the results of the accident resulting from being a minute too late.

How long is your minute?

Police Arrest Two Youths In Country Club Burglary

Two youths were arrested early Tuesday inside the Newark Country Club by Newark police on five charges.

Police said William Hodgson, 19, of Newport, was charged with burglary, conspiracy to commit burglary and carrying concealed a deadly weapon, a 22-cal. blank cartridge pistol.

Donald Kendzierski, 19, of Richardson Park, was charged with burglary and conspiracy.

Police said the two were found hiding behind the bar on the ground floor of the building shortly after 2 a.m.

A North American Life Assurance Co. life insurance program providing payment of one-third of a doubled annual salary for 12 municipal employees with less than one-year's service, was approved at an annual premium of $254.04.

A list of polling places for next April's municipal election is to be presented, with retention of present polling places where possible.

Council adopted a resolution amending subdivision regulations for resubdivision of industrial parks. The Bellevue Holding Co. position was clarified to permit sale of a Diamond State Industrial Park tract to a non-conforming but desirable industry. The city solicitor is to prepare an ordinance embodying concept of the industrial park with zoning.

The city manager is to present recommendation for employing a firm to revise the municipal zoning and subdivision regulations ordinances.

Mayor Handloff announced that she would be away on vacation from Dec. 1 to 15, and the meeting was adjourned at 10:30 p.m.

City Council

Mayor said that he wanted recorded council opinion on the shopping center proposal, and urged annexation of the area. "If not, we are dead on that end of town," he said.

Thomas pointed out that the State Highway Department would have charge of roads in the area, and concerning the traffic problem said "I feel the state will cope with it."

"I would like to address council on the lack of help we are getting from the State Highway Department," Folsom replied.

He said that there was little likelihood of further annexation out of Oglethorpe Road—"that industry wants nothing from the city. If we annex this property, we will get more trouble than taxes," Folsom added.

"This proposal violates two comprehensive plans," Doehliert observed. "They don't agree," he said of county and city plans in their entirety, but they do agree it should not be commercial," he said of the Dameron property.

"It is a county problem—we have no right to tell them we don't want it," Wakefield said of the proposed shopping center.

And Mayor Handloff said "as an adjacent municipality, we should express ourselves on the traffic problem."

Doehliert decried any semblance of "a deal" with the property—annexing the tract in return for free land. "We'll get the reputation of doing anything for money," he warned.

Concerning criticism of council representatives discussing the shopping center with those concerned in its development, Folsom said "I have not—but there is nothing wrong with talking with owners or developers. If we don't, we will be talking to ourselves and never get the facts."

Thomas' proposal "to take no stand on the property, but express our interest in the traffic problem," was approved 7-0.

Reviewing planning commission recommendations made in its Nov. 11 meeting, council decided that flood levels be studied further before approving the Commonwealth Realty Corp. petition for high-rise apartment house construction on a 7.2-acre tract on the east side of the Christina between Welsh Tract and West Chestnut Hill roads; and a salary scale is to be presented at the Dec. 12 meeting of council, for employment of a planning director.

A proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance, limiting density to 18 dwelling units per acre, was approved at a first reading, and City Manager Edward Stiff is to confer with university officials concerning availability and acquisition of land for fraternities.

To obtain some $16,800 from the state under HB-586 as a supplement to the local police pension fund, council approved the plan submitted by the municipal pension committee with retirement at age 60 at

Dale Bray Warns Of Black Widow Spider In Cleanup

Fall cleanup time is the time of year to be on the lookout for black widow spiders. Although not as dangerous as many people believe, black widows can give a painful bite.

Fortunately, these spiders are not aggressive, according to Dr. Dale Bray, chairman of the department of entomology and applied ecology at the University of Delaware. Scientists think black widows only bite moving objects in search for food.

Not that it matters to anyone who's bitten whether the attack was by chance or design—it hurts. If it's any comfort, the bites are rarely fatal even though the black widow is the most poisonous spider in this country.

Around homes, black widow spiders are most often found in sheds, garages, basements, window wells and piles of lumber—any dark, secluded place. Fall cleanup may uncover its hiding place, so watch out.

The female black widow is more dangerous than the male which is far less poisonous and rarely bites, according to Bray. The female is shiny jet black with a red mark under the abdomen. The webs are loosely woven, irregular and made of coarse strands.

You can guard against black widow bites by wearing gloves when working around those dark hiding places. Keeping the yard and basement neat and clean also reduces spider problems.

Sprays containing lindane, chlordane or DDT are the best control method if the spiders become troublesome outside the house, Bray points out.

Radio Records Given To Schools

Radio Station WNRK Program Director Don F. Dunwell (left) presents a set of records on the aerospace age entitled "H We Want To" to the Newark special school district.

Receiving the records are Mrs. Catherine Y. Bonney, science coordinator for Newark schools, and Donald F. Schneck, director of audiovisual instruction.

The recordings originally formed part of a 13-week radio series broadcast, and because of their value to the science program in the school district, were donated for use by the students.

"No, sir," was the reply, "he didn't say a word before the ambulance took him."

The Truth About Arthritis

Last of four articles

What are the chances medical science will develop a cure or preventive for arthritis? As we learn more about the disease there is growing optimism.

Even though the cause of rheumatoid arthritis is not known, isn't it possible a cure or preventive might be found before the cause is proved? Yes. The smallpox vaccine was developed long before scientists had a clear understanding of what caused smallpox. But the chances are that a cure or preventive for arthritis will be developed only after researchers learn what causes the disease and how it develops.

A vast amount of research is going on in this direction, supported in great part by The Arthritis Foundation.

Recently Surgeon General William H. Stewart called for "a major effort to combat the crippling and disability caused by arthritis." In government, university and research centers, our total knowledge and understanding of arthritis is increasing at a rapid rate. New orthopedic operations on joints can help prevent some deformities; paraffin wax is now used for heat application; special braces may be used in some cases to prevent joint damage.

And as valuable as pure aspirin is in the treatment of arthritis—it's still prescribed by almost all physicians—the search for more specific agents goes on. Scientists are seeking a "total answer" to the arthritis problem—both a preventive and a cure.

"A smash hit!" a conciliated actor boasted at a dinner. "Yesterday, during the last act, I had the audience glued to their seats."

Crosswhite Cites Success On Farm Due Management

Revolution In Marketing, Labor Shortages, Result In Changing Farm Scene

Farm managing becomes more complex each year as farmers adapt to a shrinking labor supply and the revolution in marketing, according to Dr. William Crosswhite, associate professor in the department of agricultural and food economics at the University of Delaware.

Each year farmers find it harder to get the labor they need. In Delaware particularly, industry offers higher wages within easy commuting distance. The manpower shortage shows no sign of getting any better, Crosswhite states.

As a result, Delaware farmers are turning to crops that need less hand labor—crops that can be grown and harvested mechanically.

Farm machines to sow, cultivate and spread fertilizer and pesticides have been around for a long time. Mechanical harvesting of grain crops is standard; now machines for harvesting some truck crops are being developed.

Many Delaware farmers are switching to those crops, such as peas and sweet corn, that are mechanically harvested.

The acreage of hand-harvested vegetables such as tomatoes and asparagus is decreasing, Crosswhite points out.

Development of mass food distribution has led to many changes in the way farmers sell their products. Large food chains specify quantity and quality of produce and where and when they want it. Farmers may have to sort their produce and standardize it, usually according to U.S. Dept. of Agriculture standards.

The demands of today's marketing systems increases the farmer's use of cooperatives. Working together, farmers can more easily supply quality and quantity demanded by today's market. Often farmers through cooperatives, hire a marketing agent to do their selling.

Except for the broiler industry, Delaware agriculture in the past has not been organized for large scale buying and selling. Each farmer produced and sold his own relatively small crop at a local market. To stay competitive, farmers must adapt their selling practices to fit the mass market, Crosswhite points out.

Integrated methods that worked so well in the broiler industry may spread to other agricultural areas, such as swine industry, Crosswhite predicts.

The type of operation that provides young pigs and the feed, picks up the hogs for slaughter, and sells the pork, might result in the big-business efficiency that has brought prices down and profits up in the broiler industry.

Delaware farmers can count on more changes in the future—changes in technology, consumer demand, and production and labor costs. The successful farmer will be the businessman farmer, and the key to success is good management, Crosswhite concludes.

Swine Producers In State Rank With Best In Nation

Delaware's swine producers compare favorably with those in states that produce the largest numbers of swine, according to H. Don Tilmon, graduate assistant in the department of agricultural and food economics at the University of Delaware.

Delaware's producers sent 60,000 pigs to market in 1965—a drop in the bucket compared to a state like Indiana. But, over half Delaware's swine producers earned more than 50 per cent of their income from swine.

Lou Strengari Runs, Passes For Six TDs As NHS Beats Vikings For Perfect Season

Quarterback Lou Strengari, co-captain for the Newark High School champions, ran for three touchdowns, and threw three touchdown passes in accounting for a total six TDs as the Yellowjackets defeated Coach Bill Horney's Christiana Vikings 38-19 last Thursday morning at Newark High School Stadium. And Strengari kicked both extra points with a good two boots—to boot.

Defending champions of the Blue Hen Conference after one setback—lost at the hands of William Penn of New Castle—last season, the Newark Yellowjackets won the title for an unprecedented second successive season this year, with an unblemished record—the first undefeated campaign for Coach Bob Hoffman in eight years.

And Christiana, scoreless in three previous poundings by the older Newark High School, achieved some solace in scoring three touchdowns against the Yellowjackets last Thanksgiving Day, ending up a 4-4-4 season after three prior winless football seasons.

Strengari dove for one-yard and a touchdown, and passed to End Orville Wright for a 46-yard score to provide Newark with a 12-0 advantage in the first quarter.

And in the second period, Strengari passed to Larry Tucker at the other end for a 40-yard touchdown and the 16-0 halftime count.

Horney's Vikings got back in the ball game after the half with Quarterback Dave Claus passing to Halfback Joe Thomas for a 40-yard touchdown and an 18-6 standing on the scoreboard, but Newark moved out again with Wright taking Strengari's aerial for a 40-yard touchdown play, and Captain Lou kicked the first extra point of the morning.

Early in the final quarter, Christiana drove deep into Newark territory, and Halfback Glen Thompson dashed six yards for a touchdown and the 25-12 count.

Newark Notes

by GIBBY YOUNG

GRAND FINALE!

Coach Bob Hoffman attained his perfect season with a 9-0 record for a second successive Blue Hen Conference championship, and Coach Bill Horney's Vikings had the satisfaction of sampling the Newark end zone on three occasions after three scoreless setbacks in previous years, with last Thursday's Thanksgiving Day football classic between Christiana and Newark High Schools. It was a grand day for the players, coaches, and some 7,500 fans under a golden November sun.

Our congratulations to Hoffman's champions, and to Horney's valiant Vikings for making a real game out of what could have been a fourth annual disaster for the new school south of the railroad.

All America-Pro Bullet Bill Dudley TD Club Speaker

Dudley, who is enshrined in the college and professional football halls of fame, is a member of the Virginia State House of Representatives, and is an insurance business executive in his native state.

Trophies will be presented to outstanding senior players on the Christiana and Newark High School football teams, and the public is invited to attend. Tickets may be purchased from any club member.

Earl Lynch is president of the Newark Touchdown Club; Bob Piliuk is vice-president; Marty Van Hook is secretary; and Roy Walton is treasurer.

Dick Kelley Wins Conference Title As Scoring Champ

Halfback Dick Kelley and Quarterback Lou Strengari, co-captains for Coach Bob Hoffman's Yellowjacket champions, took first and third places in the Blue Hen Conference scoring race.

Kelley, runner-up scorer for the conference scoring crown last year, won the title this season with 11 touchdowns for 66 points.

Strengari placed third behind Wilmington's Halfback Bill Hayman's 10 touchdowns for 60 points, with seven TDs and 15 extra points for a total 57.

Strengari's 15 conversions led the conference.

Bob Larason Gains MAC All-Star Soccer 1st Team

For the second time, Delaware's Bob Larason won all-star soccer player honors in the Mid-Atlantic Conference southern division.

Larason, a senior and the Blue Hens' leading scorer with nine goals, was selected for the outside-left position.

He also was chosen as a soph. Larason is from New Hope, Pa. Dave Meadows, Delaware's outside right from Kennett Square, Pa., was picked on the second team.

have to be much of a hunter to obtain a guide's license. The principal qualification appears to be the ability to guide the hunter back to camp—and, of course, that's a qualification of prime importance in the cold and near trackless north country.

However, these Canadian guides provided little information as to where deer might be found; were disinterested in the hunting phase of each morning's safari; and were required to walk or stand in close company with their hunter-employers at all times when afield—or in this case, awood.

Carrio, Jackson and Parks went their diverse ways in each day's hunting—and each was accompanied by a personal guide. At least no one got lost.

"Two men make twice as much noise as one," John Jackson said reasonably. "And more noise than one man, when one of them has no gun (the guides are not permitted to carry firearms when accompanying the hunters) and is scuffling his feet through the leaves, coughing, and smoking."

The week before we got to camp, 22 hunters with 22 guides hunted four deer during the week," John continued. "The week we were there, the same number of men hung up nine deer—and six of them were ours."

And when he finally realized that the hunter-guide twosome arrangement was a decided handicap for the huntsman, Mr. Jackson promptly replied "That first Monday, an hour after we were out."

But it wasn't until Wednesday that they came up with a plan to improve their hunting. They left their guides in the woods while positioning themselves besides trails with likely looking deer stands.

Without a guide but with his Winchester 30.06 automatic—and John Jackson has wasted his money on an automatic rifle—he dropped a big buck feeding on beechnuts, with one shot in the shoulder. And he collected his second deer with a second shot—this time in the head, because there was no antlered crown to spoil. Two shots—two deer.

"I was just lucky," Mr. Jackson mused modestly. But we know better than that. If he had been lucky, John Jackson wouldn't have encountered four straight days of rain.

It was good shooting by a good woodsman who has been getting deer regularly over the years—in Northern Maine. This was the first trip to Canada, and it took some doing to get deer in unfamiliar territory.

"Last Friday evening when I drove home," John said of his residence near Frenchtown Landing in Maryland.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day "Pots and Pans"

In addition to more than $125,000,000 in coin of the realm put up by the race tracks each year, some 40,000 Thoroughbred owners would prefer to deposit a non-utilitarian piece of silver on a shelf in their trophy room than a fat check in the bank. Of one, the government frequently takes a big bite, while the other remains intact to be admired.

Back in the days of James I of England, the custom was established of awarding a silver bell to the horse winning certain important races. Legend has it that on one occasion the silversmith failed to produce a flawless bell until his third attempt, and thus was born the practice of an award for the horse finishing second and third.

Yellowjackets Kelley, Strengari, Tucker, Vikings Hunt, Peoples Win All-BHC Honor

Three of Coach Bob Hoffman's Newark High School Yellowjacket champions, and two of Coach Bill Horney's Christiana Vikings have been selected for the All-Blue Hen Conference A-Flight first team.

Quarterback Lou Strengari; Halfback Dick Kelley; and End Larry Tucker won first team berths for Newark, while Al Peoples, center, and Roger Hunt, guard, are Christiana's first team representatives.

Quarterback Dave Claus of Christiana was named to the second team, and Greg Kracher, Christiana end, won honorable mention.

William Penn and Conrad each won two All-Blue Hen Conference team posts, while Wilmington High and P. S. D. Pont each placed one man on the squad.

When you "release" the ball on the lane you should keep your bowling arm coming straight upward. Your arm should come up at least to shoulder level, but if you wish to go higher, it is permissible. Remember to keep your arm in the same arc throughout the swing. I caution you not to pull your arm across your body to the left as you release the ball. In addition, you should not stop your hand action or "jerk" your hand back as you release the ball.

If you stop your hand action at the point of release, the ball will lose its striking power when it hits the pins because it is no longer rotating but is skidding. Star bowlers call this a "flat" ball. Therefore, remember to keep your arm coming straight up after you have released the ball. Once this smooth follows through has been perfected, you will find that the directional line and the hitting of the target will be more consistent, which means better scoring.

I would like to stress that when your bowling ball is released, it is rolled down the lane and NOT "thrown." The ball must be "lifted" over the foul line (not on or before). To aid in lifting your ball over the foul line, I recommend that you reach out for your spot or target on the lane, keeping in mind that during the entire pendulum swing, your arm is held close to your body. At the point of release, the thumb always comes out of the ball first—the fingers remaining momentarily to impart the lift to give your ball an effective roll.

Don Miller Wins Head Coaching Job At Trinity College

DON MILLER

Former Little All-America quarterback for the University of Delaware, Don Miller, 33, has been appointed new head football coach at Trinity College, Hartford, Conn.

Miller, an assistant at Trinity the last two seasons was named Monday night to succeed Dan Jesse, who retired in November after 25 years as head coach.

The appointment of Miller was not unexpected. It was believed he was in line for the job since March, 1965, when he resigned as assistant coach at Amherst to join Jesse's staff.

Miller spent six years as Amherst assistant to Jim Ostendorf. During that time, the Lord Jeffs won five Little Three championships in the annual round-robin with Williams and Wesleyan.

Miller joined Amherst as offensive coach and installed Delaware's winged-T offense.

Miller was one of the brightest stars in Delaware football history. He was first-string quarterback for four years—freshmen were eligible for varsity competition in 1951.

He started every game and steered the Blue Hens to a post-season Refrigerator Bowl championship.

Don was chosen Little All-America in 1954, his senior year.

Miller's first coaching job was with Newark High and he compiled a phenomenal 31-2 record in four years as the Yellowjackets' boss.

Under his direction, the Yellowjackets also won their first Blue Hen Conference championship.

At one point during his stay at Amherst, Miller received an offer from Oklahoma to join the Sooners as backfield coach. However, he elected to remain at Amherst.

Delaware Cage Coach Dan Peterson, 5-5 "Looking Up" With Hens' Debut Tonight

Dapper Dan Peterson makes his debut as Delaware basketball coach tonight and the Blue Hens' new mentor is looking up.

Peterson, plebe coach at the Naval Academy last year, and the Hens' host Glassboro (N.J.) State in Carpenter Sports Building at 8:15 p.m., with an encounter between the Delaware freshmen and the Glassboro junior varsity slated for 6:30.

Peterson may well be the smallest basketball coach in the country at 5-5—but that's not the only reason he is looking up this season.

The Blue Hens have only four lettermen returning from last year's 9-15 team, but several talented newcomers offer promise of a better record this year.

"We hope to improve on last season's finish," Peterson said, "but we really don't have any indication of how well we can expect to do against this schedule. I know that some of our opponents have the best teams they have ever had."

Peterson plans to start the season with a lineup of three starters from last year and two transfer students.

The three returnees are Capt. Bill Morley and Guards Ricky Wright and Vic Orth—will be joined by 6-8 Forward Kenn Barnett and ball-hawking guard Charley Parnell in Peterson's no-center offense.

Morley, a 6-4 senior from Toms River, N.J., was the Hens' second best scorer last year with an 11.3 average.

Orth, a junior from Wilmington, was the Hens' playmaker last year and set Delaware game records with 15 assists against Franklin and Marshall.

Peterson is looking for big things from Barnett, a junior from Braidwood, Ill., and Parnell, a junior from Cleveland. Both have looked strong in pre-season practice sessions.

"I think we are ready," Peterson said. "We have some tough games early in our schedule, but the boys have worked hard to get ready for them."

Glassboro, an 86-78 victim of the Hens last year, expects to be much improved this season.

"We have better balance than we had last year and the best rebounding strength since I've been head coach here," Glassboro Coach Dick Lauffer said.

The Profs have six returning lettermen, including Co-Captains Mike Burke and Paul Kumlins. Bob Newman and John Webb, a pair of 6-5 forwards, provide most of the rebounding power.

Peterson can call on 6-7 Mark Wagaman of Lititz, Pa., and 6-6 Bill Beatty of Wilmington if he needs more rebounding against Glassboro.

Guard Walt Cloud, a junior from Wilmington, will also see plenty of action against the Profs.
