Record Enrollment Confronts State Schools on Opening Day

Newark Special School District Not Alone With Classroom Growing Pains; State Dept. of Public Instruction Faces 53,000 Pupils

The Newark Special School District, beset with the problem of providing adequate school facilities for a greatly increased student enrollment in September, is in no way alone in confronting such a situation.

The State Department of Public Instruction has announced the generally state-wide problem that exists in providing classroom space for an unprecedented enrollment of first-graders.

The Newark district, with its elementary school enrollment expected to reach 10,000 in 1954, is estimated to have 4,000 more pupils than the district had in 1952.

ROTC Plan Change To Include General Military Training

Delaware Unit to Abandon Specialized Army Courses With New, September Term

Col. E. W. Hiddleston, professor of military science and tactics at the University of Delaware, has announced that the local ROTC program will be changed from specialized instruction in artillery and chemical warfare to general military science training.

This change in program will not affect present members of the second year advanced ROTC course in the artillery or chemical warfare phases of the program. All other students at the University, who are to be enrolled in ROTC, will be trained in general military science.

This readjustment of the Army Reserve Officer Training Corps program is intended to effect significant savings in personnel, equipment, and money, while increasing program efficiency, effectiveness, and achieving a better balanced academic base.

Readjustment of the Army ROTC program is the result of an extensive study made by the Department of the Army. Many prominent educators, directly associated with the ROTC, have long advocated adoption of a general curriculum that would de-emphasize specialized training and concentrate on producing junior officers, who would be well grounded in the fundamentals of their profession.

In designing the new training curriculum, known as general military science, every effort was made to produce a college level course which would command the respect of civilian educators, challenge the students' intellect, and satisfy optimum training requirements.

The general military science program is planned to produce young officers who will be qualified to serve as combat leaders, administrative officers, or as officers of the technical services, after they have received appropriate specialized training at a service school of the branch to which assigned.

Greater flexibility in assignment of ROTC graduates to meet the fluctuating requirements of the various arms and services is expected under the new system.

Edward B. Cooper, of Newark, has been promoted to general laboratory director in the research division of the duPont Company's Polychemicals Department, Wilmington. In his new position, Mr. Cooper directs the activities of the department's research laboratories at the Experimental Station.

Local Pilot of Sabrejet Awarded Air Medal

Fifth Air Force, Korea — Second Lt. Robert W. Boyden, Newark, is congratulated by Col. Robert P. Baldwin, commander of the 51st Fighter Interceptor Group, upon receiving the Air Medal at a Fifth Air Force base in Korea.

New Credit System Adopted Locally By City Merchants

Credak Plan Provides Simplified Accounting With One, Blanket Bill

Several Newark merchants are among the more than 100 in the State who have joined Credak, the new national credit system, since it began operations in Delaware a month ago.

James of local merchants already listed on the plan were revealed this week by Roy Chase, Wilmington businessman and Delaware franchise holder for Credak.

They are: Mervin S. Dale, Jewelers, 59 E. Main St.; Jackson's Hardware, 90 E. Main St.; and Sheffer's, Wall and Floor Coverings, 73 E. Main St.

The new credit system, Mr. Chase said, is designed to provide thousands of consumers with a simple method of charging purchases in a wide variety of stores by presenting a single credit card.

Simplicity is the keynote of the plan, he explained. Persons meeting standard credit requirements receive a single credit card from Credak which enables them to make charge purchases in any store bearing the Credak emblem. At the end of the month, the card holder receives an itemized bill from Credak. He has only one check to sign or one bill to settle by cash.

The final piece of structural steel in the new $3,100,000 Chrysler Delaware Tank Depot under construction here was erected on Tuesday of this week. Brief ceremonies attended by Chrysler and Army officials marked the occasion.

Erection of structural steel in the government-owned facility was begun July 23 after a delay of approximately two months by the strike of construction workers in this area.

Measuring 400 feet by 380 feet and located on an 87-acre tract adjacent to the present tank plant, the new depot is designed to function as an integral part of that facility.

Department of Army officials have stated that the new depot will be operated by Chrysler for the modification of military tanks for Army Ordnance. In addition, tanks from the assembly line will be processed for direct shipment to field forces, ready for immediate service.

Chrysler Corporation officials have pointed out that operation of the new depot in conjunction with the tank plant will result in important economies for the American taxpayer. When completed, the new depot will eliminate the considerable expense now necessary in the shipping of completed tanks to other installations for processing before delivery to field troops.

It was previously announced that about 400 persons are expected to be employed by the new facility when in full operation. About 3000 persons are now employed at the tank plant.

Contributions are coming in for the Park-Pool-Program fund, and Volunteer workers have opened a road to the park area and cleared underbrush from the banks of the Christina Creek through the 45-acre tract located off Chestnut Hill Road behind Silverbrook Homes.

Art work, directed by Eugene Kelechava during this summer's program will be shown and reports will be given on the past program and future plans including playgrounds, softball, Friday night games, Saturday night dances for teenagers, and the Youth Center.

Any group wishing to have slides on Park and Pool plans shown at their meetings may phone Mrs. William O. Skold at Newark 576 for arrangements.

Effort is being made to obtain a permanent location for the Youth Center for year-round activity.

Women Volunteer to Aid City In Notifying Ousted Voters

Re-registration Required of Voters Absent At Past Two Elections; Water Site Sought At W. Park Place Corner; Zoning Plan Urged

Registered, resident voters of Newark who have been absent from the polls at the past two elections will be personally notified of their ineligibility and the City of Newark will save the cost of registered mail through the courtesy of the local League of Women Voters. The proposal of the league women to serve as personal couriers, was presented and approved at the regular meeting of the Newark City Council.

On Tuesday night as an economic alternative to registered mail notification as required by ordinance. Councilman Carl S. Hankin recommended that an up-to-date zoning plan for the City be prepared by the Mayor in conjunction with the Planning Commission—a plan covering many of the troublesome technicalities that arise with many rezoning requests presented for consideration.

City Engineer J. Francis Neide reported that the summer street program was progressing satisfactorily but recommended that requests for the re-surfacing of West Park Place, and for curbing on Ritten Lane be deferred until sewer line construction is completed in the areas. Completion is expected within the next two months.

Objectionable Odor
Numerous complaints from residents of the East Main St. area were reported, concerning objectionable odor from the sewage disposal plant. The City Engineer stated that corrective measures had been taken and it was believed that the nuisance had been abated.

Councilman Wm. Coverdale again raised the question of obtaining new sources of city water, and the matter of obtaining a corner plot at the intersection of West Park Place and College Avenue as a site for a well and pumping station was again discussed.

The City Engineer was instructed to consult the property owner in an effort to obtain this corner for well-drilling operations and at the same time, to eliminate a traffic hazard. It is planned to extend West Park Place diagonally across College Avenue, with the pumping station site to be an island between the existing and proposed street extensions.

The need for an electric rate schedule change was indicated, and a study is to be made in an effort to establish more equitable charges. Complaints received of dogs running at large led to Councilman Coverdale's reference to an ancient ordinance empowering any citizen to impound a licensed dog and to share in the fine levied as a reward. The desirability and legality of this ordinance was considered debatable, and the matter will be referred to the City Solicitor.

Bills for the sewer service charge established April 1, 1953, are being prepared, and City Secretary Charles Long reported that the first billings will cover two quarterly periods.

The matter of sewage disposal on the south side of the city was discussed and the City Engineer estimated that sewer facilities in the area will be completed by February or March of the coming year.

Councilman John R. Downes reported on his conference with Chrysler management in an effort to obtain some assistance with the traffic problem created by the traffic entering and leaving the Tank Plant at South College Avenue.

Dr. Downes said that Chrysler representatives agreed to install a traffic light and to provide an operator at the entrance to the plant parking lot, if the City of Newark will install the electrical connections and supply the current.

John N. McDowell Named as Trustee At State College

Newark Resident to Serve Six Year Term as Member of Delaware College Board

Delaware's Secretary of State John N. McDowell, Newark, has been appointed to a six-year term on the board of trustees of Delaware State College near Dover.

Gov. J. Caleb Boggs announced the appointment, effective as of last July 1.

Mr. McDowell replaces S. Gilbert Nickel, president of the trustees, who was appointed by former Gov. Albert N. Caryl in June, 1949, to a four-year term. He was a board president during several critical periods at the Negro institution, including the dismissal of Dr. Oscar C. Brown as college president in the summer of 1951.

Mr. Nickel, retired principal of the Middletown public school, also was once superintendent of Caesar Rodney School and is a past vice president of the Delaware State Education Association.

The State College recently secured a new president, Dr.

DIVIDING UP YOUR RETAIL DOLLAR

A large food retailing organization in Florida recently described what happened to each dollar its customers spent with it in a late year. And this actual story is a significant one for budget conscious consumers.

Here is how that dollar was divided up: 85.11 cents went to buy merchandise; 8.4 cents was used to meet the payroll and to support various employee benefits; taxes took 1.38 cents; miscellaneous overhead expenses totaled 1.32 cents; rent and utility services cost 1.20 cents; depreciation claimed .85 cents; advertising accounted for .72 cents.

After all these costs were paid, 1.02 cents was left. And that was the retailing organization's profit.

In every branch of retailing, the profit item is far smaller than most of us realize. In fields where problems of style and seasonal changes are involved the profit naturally must be higher than in the case of staple merchandise. Even so, the net profit of representative stores rarely runs above four or five cents and often is much less.

No other people gets so much for their retail dollar as we do.

THE RAINBOWS THAT COME IN CANS

Remember the last time you took a can of paint and stirred it up with a little imagination and some brushwork? We'll bet it gave you a different slant on life, whether it brightened a part of your house or gave a child's toy a colorful look.

To help make your life brighter—and easier—today's paints come in every tint and hue of the rainbow. Best of all, the modern miracle paints come to you ready to use.

America's paint industry and the American Can Company virtually grew up together.

The paint companies worked out formulas for ready-mixed paints that do just about any special job you have in mind. Meanwhile, Canco developed practical leak-proof containers, with their now familiar "double-clinch" covers, to keep paint fresh during shipping and storage, until you are ready to use it.

New plants and whole new industries were able to get started when Canco developed the right container for ready-mixed paints. This meant new and better jobs, and a higher level of prosperity for us all.

Yes, by making better cans—not only for paints but for just about everything you can think of—Canco has been able to help all Americans do better, live better and work better.

We can be proud of such teamwork between our people and our business enterprises. That's what makes America such a satisfying country to live and work in. And it promises a future—"bright as paint"—for us all.

Fifth Annual 4-H Club State Camp To Begin Monday

State Leader Announces 115 Weekly Enrollment For Each of Two Weeks

FIFTH ANNUAL — 18 "Know Your Neighbors" will be the theme of the fifth annual Delaware 4-H camp to be held at Camp Barnes near Frankford, August 24 to September 5. State 4-H leader Sam Gwinn announces that 115 campers and leaders are enrolled for each of the two weeks.

"Boys and girls attending camp this year can look forward to a full week of work, play, and a wonderful time," Gwinn comments.

Campers will devote mornings to classes in outdoor cooking, campcraft, leathercraft, miniature gardens, nature study, camp newspaper, home nursing, and similar projects.

Afternoon programs include Indian tribal meetings, sports contests, and swimming in the new pool. Daily assembly programs and vesper services will be held around individual themes — with each day using a new theme. Vesper services will be held on the bank overlooking Miller's Creek.

At night the campers divide into four Indian tribes — Delaware, Cherokee, Seneca, and Susquehanna. The tribes gather around a council circle for songs and contests.

Club leaders and members of the 4-H Order of Link, the honorary 4-H society, will hold a two day week-end camp August 29 and 30. The first week of camp is August 24 to 29. The second week is August 31 to September 5.
