

Two Men Arrested Friday Nite After Hold-Up At Local Bank

Newark Detective John Rawls, State Trooper George Patterson Arrest Pair At Oglethorpe Shopping Center As 100 Police Take Part In Manhunt After Robbery

Two men captured at gunpoint at the Oglethorpe shopping center last Friday night, are being held in a total of $130,000 bail on armed robbery and kidnap charges.

The suspects — one awaiting court action for a Wilmington holdup last August — were the object of a six-hour manhunt by some 100 heavily-armed police just east of Newark on Friday.

The two were identified as Irving Bishop, 23, and Clarence A. Moten, 25, both of the 100 block Rose Lane, Rosedale. Both are charged with armed robbery and kidnapping by Newark police.

Newark police have charged both men with waylaying a Chrysler employee at 11:30 a.m. Friday after he had just cashed more than $4,000 worth of paychecks at the local Delaware Trust Co. branch on South College Avenue.

The two suspects then allegedly forced the victim, Benjamin Williams, to drive one of them a quarter-mile away before he was released.

The two suspects were flushed out of the heavily-wooded area near Oglethorpe about 5:30 Friday afternoon and then taken into custody outside the Shop Rite in the shopping center parking lot.

Police identified the first two officers involved in the arrest as State Trooper George Patterson and Newark Detective John Rawls.

Police officials said the break came when Patterson and Rawls saw the two suspects emerge from the woods, and followed them to the parking lot.

Capt. Thomas F. Buckmaster, chief criminal investigator for the state police, said Bishop was also charged with carrying concealed a deadly weapon.

About $3,000 of the $4,213 stolen was recovered, Buckmaster said.

Bill Brierley's Report
According to Newark Det. Lt. William Brierley, the manhunt started at 11:30 a.m. when a call came from Newark police from Raymond B. (Scotty) Duncan, University of Delaware assistant athletic director.

Two men were in the parking lot of the Delaware Trust Co. branch across from Delaware stadium, Duncan said. To him, they were acting suspiciously.

He described them as two Negro males in a white car. While police were checking it out, Williams, 28, of Wilmington called to say that he had been robbed of $4,213 in cash.

Williams had been in the bank on a regular errand. On paydays he regularly went to the bank to cash checks for himself and a flock of other employees.

At Gunpoint
Brierley said when Williams came out of the bank with the cash on him and got into his car, a man entered the car from the other side, pointing a gun at him.

Following the gunman's directions, Williams drove toward the Penn-Central Railroad, then turned off on a dirt road paralleling the tracks less than a half mile from the bank.

Williams became conscious that a car was following him. As he drove along the road the gunman, who had relieved him of all the money, suddenly opened the door and jumped out.

With his report the manhunt was on.

Manhunt
Brierley called in his men; Buckmaster and about 50 state troopers — many of them off duty — and William J. Brophy, county police director, showed up with about 30 men.

A member of the state police intelligence unit familiar with the territory, rode above them in a Delaware Army National Guard helicopter.

At some time during the day police found a white 1964 convertible which Williams said looked like the car which had been following him. A check of the records placed Bishop as the owner.

Agricultural Dean Wm. E. McDaniel Cites Careers Day

Annual Orientation Event For High School Students Scheduled Oct. 19 At UD

The University of Delaware college of agriculture in sciences will host its annual Careers Day on Saturday, Oct. 19 at Agricultural Hall, Newark, according to Dr. William E. McDaniel, dean.

The program which begins at 9:15 a.m., is to familiarize high school students with the wide range of career opportunities in agriculture. Theme of the program "Solving Problems Through Science," will be promoted through a variety of departmental demonstrations and exhibits.

"Agricultural production and agricultural oriented businesses form the largest single industrial complex in America today," says Dean McDaniel.

"You don't have to live on a farm, or even near one, to have a rewarding career in agriculture. But you need training — training in engineering, plant and animal science, entomology, ecology, soils, economics and related fields."

"Courses offered in the college of agricultural sciences are designed to provide this training — to give students a broad understanding in the many areas of agriculture and to provide in-depth training in their selected field," McDaniel said.

Careers Day is aimed especially at high school juniors and seniors, he adds. But all high school students are welcome to attend. High school administrators, counselors, science teachers and parents are also urged to attend.

Visitors will have opportunity to tour college facilities and to discuss admission, curriculum, financial aid and career and employment opportunities with university staff members during an informal luncheon.

Deadline for Careers Day registration is Oct. 14. All inquiries should be sent to Dr. William E. McDaniel, University of Delaware, Newark.

Safety Council Vice-President Worriow Warns Of Hazards In Man's 'Castle' Home

A man's home may be his castle, but whether it's an apartment in the city or a farm house it's not necessarily the safest place in the world.

The Delaware Safety Council points out that more than twice as many disabling injuries occur in the home than on the nation's highways, and more persons suffer disabling injuries in farm residences than anywhere else on the farm.

Dr. George M. Worriow, vice-president of farm safety, says carelessness and negligence are, by far, the principal reasons for most of these accidents.

Worriow says the largest category of farm home accidents are falls, and that they can be prevented by correcting dangerous conditions such as loose throw rugs at the top and bottom of stairways, slippery shower stall floors and make-shift ladders.

Tacking down stairway carpeting and repairing shaky stair rails, he adds, also will help reduce the accident toll.

Many falls, Worriow says, are caused by cluttered stairways. Such clutter should be cleared away and children instructed in the importance of keeping toys in areas where they will not be stepped on or tripped over.

The majority of burns and fires, the farm safety expert claims, can be prevented through a program of caution and care.

Worriow advises that you turn handles of cooking utensils to the back of the range out of reach of children, and keep matches and cigarette lighters where they can't get at them.

Children aren't the only ones who get burned.

"Careless storage and handling of flammable fluids cause thousands of injuries and deaths each year," Worriow says.

Three Die In Fog In Chain Reaction Turnpike Mishaps

The turnpike crash on Wednesday day last, which took the lives of a Baltimore woman and two Florida truckmen, began when a truck rammed a car slowed by dense fog.

Maryland State Police assigned to the John F. Kennedy Memorial Highway said the initial crash set off a series of five additional accidents resulting in multiple deaths and injuries to eight others.

Victims of the accident were Mrs. Irene Mary Jacobson, 59, of Baltimore, a passenger in one car; and Wilbur L. Balwin, 32, and Leon Rumph, 40, both of Miami Beach. The two men riding in the same truck, and Mrs. Jacobson were pronounced dead on arrival at Union Hospital, Elkton, where the injured were treated and released.

Among the injured was Edwin Bufkin of Newark.

Police said visibility at the time of the accidents was only 10 to 12 feet, and the fog "so thick we had to probe for the victims."

They said the trouble began when a tractor-trailer hit a car that had stopped because of the fog in the northbound lane on a bridge over Little Elk Creek. A chain-reaction involving seven vehicles followed.

Council Tackles Zoning Revisions In 38-Page Report

Special Monday Meeting Involved Study, Debate Of 26 Pages In Proposal

At a special meeting of Newark City Council last Monday night, Mayor Norma B. Handloff and her colleagues waded through 26 of the 38 pages in a proposed, revised zoning ordinance to replace an ordinance adopted in 1949. The revision was submitted to council two weeks ago by the Newark Planning Commission after more than a year of study.

Major changes in zoning districts are proposed, with curtailment of allowable uses in some and expansion in others. One thing which would not be allowed in any district is a drive-in theater — though one recently was allowed under the old ordinance.

At Monday's hearing, definitions of residential and university sections were covered. Much of the time was devoted to explanation, with questions from the table and audience dealing with wording and other technicalities.

One definition which stirred some debate was home occupation. It is defined as a customary dwelling use subordinate to residential use and excludes such teacher and beauty shops or schools and tourist homes.

In other action, council approved a first reading of an ordinance to change zoning classifications along South College Avenue between Marvin and Park Drives to set up a strip of business zoning along the street with multi-family residential area to the rear.

Pre-Fab Housing For Low Income Families Planned

Directors of the Newark Civic Association plan to meet with a Federal Housing Authority official to discuss the possibility of building $5,000 prefabricated houses in Newark.

The association decided to look into such housing at its September meeting. David H. Doehrlert, the group's secretary, said he had read about the houses in a national trade magazine.

Last Thursday night, association chairman Fred Massado said he had discussed the plan with area bankers and had been directed to the FHA.

The Newark Housing Authority which offers low cost housing on a rental basis, reports a waiting list greater than the number of units available.

Massado said he had been given the impression that if the FHA approved the plan, bankers would finance it.

Last week, Doehrlert said he was checking a report that there were many low-skill jobs available in the Newark area but that persons who could qualify were unable to take them because of lack of transportation.

Doehrlert said that if he confirmed the report, the association would try to provide bus service to take persons to and from work for a nominal fee.

In other action last week, the association lodged a protest against the sterilization plan recently recommended by a State Senate investigating committee.

Under the plan, women on welfare who have two or more illegitimate children would be sterilized.

Study Hush Slated By Wall-To-Wall College Carpeting

Students in the University of Delaware's new Caesar Rodney Hall soon will be able to better concentrate on their studies as a result of new wall-to-wall carpeting.

Some 20 hallways and the floor lounges will be covered with new carpeting this month.

On student complaints that there was too much noise echoing through the halls as a result of normal activity, the university planning office conducted a study that included use of both acoustical ceiling tiles and carpeting. The study was made in a special test area of the residence complex.

The study proved the effectiveness of carpeting as a sound dampener.

Let's stop kidding ourselves!

The crime rate in Delaware has grown 15% in the past year. In Wilmington alone, crimes of violence have more than doubled in the first six months of 1968. The situation is getting worse, not better. Let's not kid ourselves.

We've heard a lot of talk about law and order but what we're really getting is more crime. More delay. More handwringing. More hesitation. More reluctance to do something. More politics.

The governor's first responsibility to the people of his state is to provide protection . . . real protection, permanent protection. It's his job to try to prevent crime and disorder. It's his job to deal with it when it happens. It's his job to make sure it doesn't get worse.

Russ Peterson says we must wage all-out war on crime. He says we need action, not talk. He says we can make our streets and homes and lives safe again by refusing to tolerate present conditions.

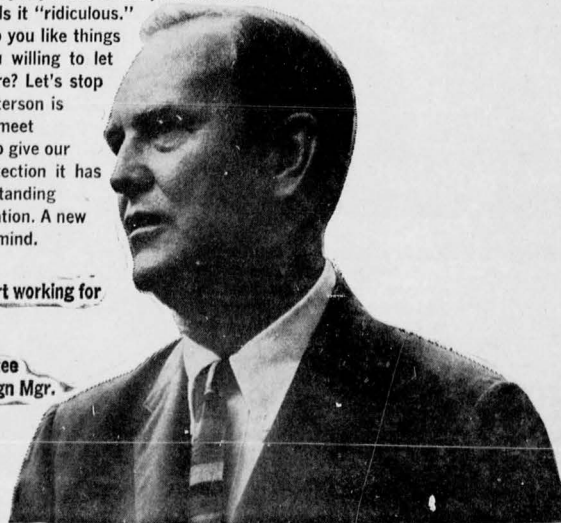

He says what we need is more police.

More police, better trained police, better paid police, on the beat and on the spot, where we live and where we work, is the answer. We need 20 neighborhood police stations, 12 of them in Wilmington. Russ shows how they can be financed, how they will work, how the idea has been endorsed by the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice, and by leading experts on crime throughout the country. He says it's time we take the job of crime prevention and control away from the professional politicians and give it back to the police.

The crime experts like it. They say it will do the job. Governor Terry doesn't like it. He calls it "ridiculous." Do you call it ridiculous? Do you like things the way they are? Are you willing to let things stay the way they are? Let's stop kidding ourselves. Russ Peterson is the only man with a plan to meet crime head on. He's going to give our state the finest police protection it has ever had. And with it understanding between people. Communication. A new climate and a new peace of mind.

Let's stop dreaming and start working for Russ.

Hot Coffee, Beef Sandwiches, Cheer Touchdown Crowd

When the crowd makes an unexpected "touchdown" at your house after the football game, don't panic! Calmly brew a team-sized pot of coffee and put together a batch of hot, open Beef Sandwiches Continental from left-over or delicatessen roast beef. Rare, juicy roast beef sandwiches are an all-American favorite, but this variety has a delicious European touch. The beef gravy is blended with sour cream for richness, basil for seasoning, and a little strong coffee for a color-flavor accent. This smooth, tasty sauce is reminiscent of the famous stroganoff and is marvelous combined with an accompaniment of mashed potatoes— instant or regular.

If it's a chilly autumn day, everyone may want to start warming up with cups of steaming coffee right away and keep on sipping through the meal. For excellent brewing results, use one Approved Coffee Measure (equal to two level measuring tablespoons) of coffee to each six ounces of water per serving.

Beef Sandwiches Continental
1 tablespoon minced onion 2 tablespoons strong coffee
1 tablespoon butter or 1/2 cup sour cream
1/2 cup beef gravy* 1/2 teaspoon basil
1/2 cup sliced roast beef
Toast
Cook minced onion gently in butter or margarine about 5 minutes (do not brown). Add beef gravy, sour cream, coffee and basil. Simmer and stir 5 minutes. Arrange roast beef on toast. Top with sauce and additional sour cream, if desired. Makes about 2 cups sauce.
*A 10 1/2-ounce can of beef gravy may be substituted with an additional 1 1/2 ounces strong coffee beverage.

Meet the Quick and Easy Way to Delicious Casseroles

Crisp fall weather signals an end to the helter skelter habits of casual summer dining. Back in your kitchen, on an orderly schedule, you're probably dreaming up all sorts of ways to put excitement and imagination into fall meals.

While you're collecting ideas, clip this recipe for Autumn Sausage Casserole, an easy-to-dinner-in-a-dish, crisply browned sausage balls, cut green beans, and chopped onion blend flavors in a caraway spiced base of canned condensed golden mushroom soup. Chock full of tender mushroom slices, and laced with the robustness of fine Burgundy wine, this expertly seasoned, double rich soup has a very special way with casseroles. It's great, too, as a sauce for skillet beef or pork dishes.

Top this hearty, family-pleasing casserole with a border of fluffy mashed potatoes. To go along, pass crusty French or sourdough bread, a crisp green salad, and poached pears topped with whipped cream for dessert.

AUTUMN SAUSAGE CASSEROLE
1 pound bulk sausage
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed golden mushroom soup
1 1/2 cups water
1 package (5 ounces) frozen green beans, cooked and drained
1/2 teaspoon caraway seeds
2 cups prepared mashed potatoes
Form sausage into 16 meatballs. In skillet, brown meatballs and onion until tender; pour off fat. Stir in soup, water, beans, and caraway seeds. Pour into 1 1/2-quart casserole. Bake at 350°F. for 25 minutes. Stir casserole; spoon potatoes around edge. Bake 5 minutes more. Makes 4 servings.

ABILITY, NOT DISABILITY, COUNTS

OPPORTUNITY FOR INDEPENDENCE

American industry, in cooperation with the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped, is providing opportunity for many thousands of handicapped individuals to gain independence as they prove themselves on the job.

To give even greater impetus to this worthy project the week Oct. 6-12 has been set aside as "National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week." However, this activity should not be limited to one week in the year. It should be a continuing program — one which progresses well when we remember it's ability, not disability, that counts.

BIG BILL WIDEMAN

Delaware wildlife and its devotees have real reason to be grateful for the dedicated, tireless effort of William F. Wideman — conservation champion; a rugged outdoorsman; and a fearless law enforcement officer.

There have been many in their overly enthusiastic pursuit of Delaware's fish and game, who took a dim view of Warden Wideman's zeal in making arrests for infractions of the law. But they, too, after initial irritation at being caught in the act of violating the game laws, must agree that he was doing a job to protect their stake in the Diamond State's wonderful wildlife.

We first met Bill Wideman some quarter-century ago under anything but auspicious circumstances — at sunset beside the Newport marsh just before the opening of the duck season, and with a loaded double barreled 12-gauge shotgun.

Several weeks before this meeting, a Delaware newcomer too long denied any outdoor gunning opportunity, had obtained somewhat tenuous approval from Bill Wideman's warden colleague Bob Custin, to shoot at crows in the area — and when confronted by Big Bill on the evening before opening day, we weakly offered this explanation for a situation ripe for arrest. We didn't know any better then, but now, as a veteran wildflower, would advocate throwing the keys away after locking a man up for shooting anywhere near a duck marsh on the eve of the season opener.

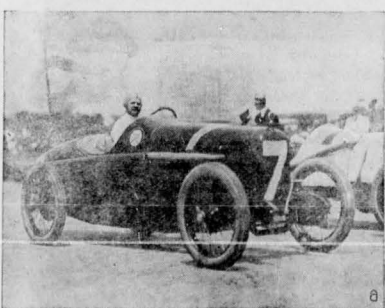

"Custin will be here in a few minutes," Bill said to the complete dismay of the crow hunter who had no reason to believe Bob Custin would recognize him in the dusk, nor remember any part of the conversation at a brief, first, and only meeting.

"Did you get any crows?" Bob Custin grinned in walking up to us out of the marsh in what was now near total darkness.

In waiving a pending trip to the magistrate, Warden Wideman bade us farewell with "We're not the worst guys in the world — but we're two of the worst."

The world will miss William F. Wideman. We need such men.

Sixty 4-H, FFA and Boy Scouts took part in a county-wide land-judging contest. In this event participants received training and instruction from Prof. Collier from the plant sciences department of the University of Delaware, and Wilmer Aist, New Castle County soil conservationist.

The youths were asked to classify land, determine soil depths, drainage and identify types of soil. 4-H'er Robert Bets from Middletown was the high individual with a score of 213.5. Boy Scout Jeff Stewart from Grayslyn Crest was second high with a score of 208.

The top 10 Scouts and 4-H'ers will go to the state contest on Nov. 9th.

The 4-H'ers include George Pierson, Debbie Fieldhouse, and Brook Smith of Newark.

The various 4-H clubs competed with the following results. In first place was the Ever Reddy Club from the Middletown area; second, were the Castlettes, New Castle; and the New Larks Club from Newark placed third.

Kirkwood Society CAR Plans Patriotic Display

The period Oct. 12-19 has been proclaimed Patriotic Education Week by the Children of The American Revolution, and the Robert Kirkwood Society of Newark will have a window display at the office of A. S. Madlary on East Main Street in Newark.

The theme for the week is "Positive, Productive Patriotism" urging people to vote an election day. "The Robert Kirkwood Society wants everyone to be aware of their place in the United States with the Bible, patriotism and our Constitution. Let us remember our national motto 'For God and Country'—fly the U.S. flag and vote on Nov. 7." Mrs. Ann Fader, senior society president said yesterday.

WALK AND BE HEALTHY.

Don't Forget—Your Feet Last A Lifetime

In the vacation rush, the shopping spree, the sightseeing tour, your feet are often overlooked—or at least aren't getting the attention they deserve.

The average person, in a day's time, supports a combined load of several tons on the feet. During a lifetime, on the average, people walk a distance equal to 2½ times around the earth.

This is a big job for your feet, which are complex systems of 26 bones held together by muscles and ligaments.

Few people recognize the close relationship between foot health and general health. Foot disorders can not only be painful in the foot, but can also contribute to backaches, headaches, and even facial wrinkles.

Women, in particular, are prone to foot disorders. In fact studies show that 80 percent of all women have had or will have some kind of foot trouble.

The family podiatrist, as a specially-trained member of the medical team, is responsible for the care of the feet. He helps prevent and treat foot disorders. He is often the first one to discover chronic diseases, since many of these are frequently observable in the feet before symptoms appear elsewhere.

The American Podiatry Association, representing the nation's 6,500 foot doctors, suggests the following hints for foot health:

- Cleanliness is essential. The feet should be washed daily. Special attention should be given to the toes and the heels.
- Overexposure to sunlight or extra walking may cause your feet to swell. Relieve swelling and improve circulation in the feet and legs by taking a 10-minute rest with your feet elevated higher than your hips.

• When traveling long distances by car, take a short walk occasionally to reduce swelling caused by poor circulation or inactivity.

• Anyone with corns, calluses or other painful problems should, of course, obtain prompt medical care from your family podiatrist.

For additional information, write The American Podiatry Association, 3307 Sixteenth Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20010.

Hoeing Champions Presented Awards In Field Day Test

Dust, dirt and weeds flew at the University of Delaware Georgetown Agricultural Substation as entrants in the Farm and Home Field Day hoeing contest fought, laughed and hoed across the finish line in record time.

Competition was fast and furious in the women's division, but Mrs. Mildred Williams of Seaford, who had been running a close second, put on a burst of blinding speed and pulled out a narrow, hard won victory.

Bob Smith, a Lewes 4-H'er, 16, opened an early lead in the men's division but was forced to ward off a last minute surge of competitors. But Smith's opening lead held and the youngster hoed across the finish line ahead of all comers.

Young Eddie Wisk, a Georgetown 4-H'er finished first in the youngsters division.

In the open division, Lewis Swartzentruber, Greenwood, won a narrow victory.

Golden hoers were presented to winners by contest chairman Frank E. Boys, extension entomologist at the University of Delaware.

Well Informed Public Best Cure For Quackery

A well informed public is the best cure for quackery, according to Wiley T. Williamson of the Food and Drug Administration.

Williamson was featured speaker at the University of Delaware's Farm and Home Field Day's home-makers program on health quackery.

A bracelet to scare away cancer, pills to melt away fat and a magnetic belt to shake away aches and pains were some of the quack gadgets displayed at the Georgetown Substation. These worthless products not only cost money, but rob people of precious time to get legitimate treatment, said Williamson.

Summit Aviation Doubles Office-Service Facility

Construction at Summit Aviation, Inc., that doubled the size of its office-service hangar complex has been completed and the entire facility is now in use.

Richard C. DuPont, company president, said today that the expansion program begun late last year was necessitated "by increased local demand for more personal and corporate airplane facilities and services."

Aspirin Poisoning Cited By McDaniel In Warning

Too much of a good thing can be deadly, says John S. McDaniel, agricultural chemicals specialist at the University of Delaware.

Aspirin has cured a good many aches and pains, but it's also responsible for the greatest number of accidental poisonings. In fact, aspirin has caused more poisoning accidents than soaps, detergents, cleaners, bleaches, vitamins and minerals, pesticides, poisonous plants, poisons and waxes, hormones or tranquilizers.

Over 600,000 poison accidents involving pre-school children occur in the United States each year, says McDaniel.

Should you even suspect poisoning, call a doctor at once.

"If there's one God, why are there so many religions?"

That's a question that has plagued thoughtful people for centuries. Religions often have seemed to divide men rather than join them—which could hardly be God's will. In our time, so full of wonders, we're witnessing what may be the greatest wonder of all: the growing force of inter-faith understanding. It seems to promise a fuller flowering of God's hopes for man. You and me. Great new things are happening in churches and synagogues these days. But find out for yourself. This week. Then take your strengthened faith out into the world—and put it to work!

Glen Thompson Scores 2 TDs As Vikings Rally From 13-0 Deficit For First Win

Halfback Glen Thompson scored two touchdowns in the second half after running mate Randy Glines caught Quarterback Dan Dolphin's pass for a 14-yard TD in the second quarter, to provide Coach Sam Dixon's Christiana Vikings a 21-13 victory over the Red Devils at Wilmington High School last Saturday, the first win of the season for Christiana.

Trailing 13-0 after Stevens' eight and nine-yard touchdown runs in the opening period, Christiana rallied with single TDs and extra points in each of the last three quarters to upset the winless Wilmingtons.

Quarterback Dave Webster, who kicked all three Christiana conversions, passed to Thompson for a 14-yard score in the third quarter, and Thompson broke away for an 18-yard touchdown sprint in the final frame.

Dolphin completed eight out of 13 passes; Fullback Harold Resinger and Dan Shanor recovered fumbles for the Vikings; and Bruce Ryser, end, caught five passes, in starring roles for Dixon's Vikings.

Others in action for Christiana last Saturday were Halfbacks John Flickinger and Mel Brooks; Quarterback Max Mathes in holding the ball for the extra point kicks; Fullbacks Clyde Webster and Neal Fairchild; Ends Fred Neel, Curt Payne, Freeman Williams, Kevin Montgomery and Mike Gratton; Tackles George Rawson, John White, Mike McNulty, Malcolm Vendrick, Jesse Moore and Dan Haddaway; Guards Eric Siena, Earl Rosado, Vince Cordivano, Jerry Thorpe, Andy Hash, Mike Burke and Bob Jester; and Centers Bill Sutton, Chuck Gruber, Mike Burke and Ricky Rettig.

Dixon's Vikings entertain Dickinson this Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

Newark Notes
by GIBBY YOUNG
THREE WINNERS!
Congratulations to Tubby Raymond, his coaching staff, and their Fighting Blue Hens for a come-from-behind win over big-time Massachusetts in Delaware's happy Homecoming game last Saturday.
And more of the same to Coach Bob Hoffman and his Yellowjackets in routing Mt. Pleasant 52-13 for the state champions' 26th straight victory, and to Christiana Coach Sam Dixon, a fellow Virginian, who, whose Vikings upset Wilmington High School 21-13 after trailing 13-0. Fine football at both college and high school levels here in Newark — a nice place to live.

Coach Paul Billy's Blue Chicks Face Bullis For Opener

Delaware's freshman football team opens its five-game schedule by hosting Bullis Prep on the field next to Delaware Stadium tomorrow at 3 o'clock.

"We feel we are ready to play," Coach Paul Billy says. "We have a small team, but I think this is an aggressive group."

Armstrong and Kahoe are former All-Interac players from Germantown Academy in Philadelphia. Another former All-Interac player, Pete Johnson of Penn Charter, will start at tight end.

The spread end will be Paul Frantz of Audubon, N.J. The complete schedule: Oct. 11, Bullis Prep; 18, at Villanova; 25, at Temple. Nov. 1, at Lafayette; 8, Lehigh.

With Jim's flyrod and a tiny popping bug, he quickly caught a warmouth perch and a pair of great, blue-black, golden chested broom from beneath the willows along the creek within two paces of the Etheridge house. In a fast, favorable fresh water start of a trip that was to include amberjack, dolphin, king mackerel, bluefish, and Spanish mackerel in the green, blue and white water off Carolina's classic Cape Lookout.

Whitecaps whipped by a nippy northeaster were rolling on all quarters of North Carolina's coastal cape the next morning, and there was no ice in or outside the sandy shoals where the great green combers crashed in white foam on the bars extending from Cape Lookout beyond the lovely lighthouse with its black and white painted domes.

After several futile trolling passes for bluefish and Spanish mackerel just off the shoals, we headed out to sea where the Atlantic Ocean changed from light green to deep blue, trailing big feathered hooks and with muller and strips of monofilament in the Young Lady's milky way.

And then Commodore Bob Squier was fighting a bucking rod as a big king mackerel rolled a bronzed back above a white foam splash in the blue water in striking a trolling bait.

Raging racing just beneath the surface, the kingfish waged a swift, stirring struggle against a straining rod and commodore before Jim Etheridge was able to strike with the big gaff and sweep a near 4-ft. shimmering gold, blue and mother-of-pearl length of fabulous fish into the box astern.

After missing a strike, we hooked a tuna-like albacore — inappropriately but nevertheless labeled "false albacore" by Andy Blasotto and other experts — a solid torpedo of a fish that fought fast, hard, and deep before its near 10-lbs. were swung into the fish box.

With Gibby Young over the helm of his Young Lady beneath the Bimini top on the flying bridge, we trolled beside a tideline of golden sargassum weed in the blue ocean, and picked up another king mackerel — a yard-long beauty that lacked both the length and circumference of Bob Squier's splendid specimen.

The wind dropped off along with any further fishing action offshore, and we headed back for Cape Lookout where trolling with lighter tackle just off the boiling shoals, we began boating bluefish and Spanish mackerel up to 2-lbs.

Dick Pleasanton broke out his son David's very light spinning rod, and promptly hooked a Spauldard that refused to come in.

"Want me to slow down?" Gibby called from the bridge. And Cap'n Dick replied "you'd better — if you want this fish!"

All-Staters Hayman, Tucker, Swann Star As Hoffman's Champs Win 26th Straight

Newark's All-State trio of Quarterback Bob Tucker, Halfback Pedro Swann, and End Gary Hayman played stellar roles last Saturday for Coach Bob Hoffman's state champions as the Newark High School Yellowjackets romped over the Green Knights by 52-13 at Mt. Pleasant, for their 26th consecutive victory.

Tucker threw three touchdown passes, and scored one himself by returning a kickoff for 80 yards. Swann caught a pair of Tucker passes for touchdowns, and fired a shot to Hayman for a 75-yard score. Hayman kicked all four extra points for the Yellowjackets.

In the first quarter, Swann hit Hayman for the 75-yard touchdown to put Newark in front to stay, and in the second period the Yellowjackets scored three more for a 26-6 halftime lead.

Fullback Paul Watson plunged four yards for Newark's second TD. Swann grabbed Tucker's pass for a six-yard score; and Tucker raced 80 yards for a touchdown in fielding a Mt. Pleasant kickoff.

Delaware, Springfield In Tie For Lambert Cup
Delaware and former Newark Mayor Joe Shields' Springfield are tied for the No. 1 spot in balloting for the 12th annual Lambert Cup. Shields is one of Springfield's all-time football stars.

The Lambert Cup is awarded to the outstanding Division II college football team in the East. The blues took to the air when hooked, fighting in and out of the water with all their surprising savagery, while the Spanish made lines whistle with swift surges just below the surface, coming to the top only when the drag of boat and rod brought them planing with yawning, needle-toothed mouths across the green and white wake astern.

With some 25 mixed bluefish and Spanish mackerel, we came in to Marshallberg for a super supper of king mackerel steaks fried aboard ship at her mooring in the red sun.

Capt. Archie Jones, a genial giant of a man most reminiscent of Hoss Cartwright, and who built and skippered his Downester from his Marshallberg marina, came aboard for a short happy hour — and with a poor memory and no tape recorder, we lost classic conversation to deprive mankind of a great legacy.

Out on the blue water with the lookout lighthouse white on the distant horizon behind us the next morning, Gus Tannon, a green-gold dolphin of some 20-lbs.; Charlie Carey, a 10-lb. albacore; and Reg Rockwell latched onto a yard-long king mackerel that sounded deep into a school of amberjack that followed the king to the surface where they lay like great brown torpedoes just off the stern.

"Keep that kingfish in the water!" Dick Pleasanton pleaded while eager hands worked the other three rods in effort to coax the curious jacks into striking.

And then something like a runaway freight train hit Gibby Young's line to drive down toward China. For a hard half-hour at least, Gibby pumped and reeled while watching hard-won yardage go whistling off the spool as the fish surged anew.

Estimates ranged from tuna to hammerhead shark, but at long last a great mass of silver flashed mirror-like in the blue water deep off the starboard stern and Jim Etheridge gaffed and dragged a golden bronze slab-sided, white barrel-bellied amberjack over the transom to nearly fill the fish box.

He's a big one! Cap'n Pleasanton admitted, estimating the amberjack's solid 4-ft. length at some 55-lbs. in weight — knocking off some 20 additional pounds estimated by several enthusiastic members of the crew. And although that amberjack was the most difficult 55-lbs. we ever lifted, Dick Pleasanton probably was right. We long ago ceased to question his judgment about fish and fishing.

Inshore again over the white water shoals, all hands pulled Spanish and blues until we got tired. And that evening, just before supper of Spanish mackerel, even master boat-builder Ray Davis was impressed with Gibby's big amberjack. Ray created the Young Lady at his Marshallberg boatyard in 1963.

Sunday, our last full day in North Carolina before heading home, we spent trolling beside — and at one

Defensive Backs Hailed As Hens Prep For Buffalo

Capt. Bob Novotny will lead Coach Tubby Raymond's Fighting Blue Hens against Buffalo in New York this Saturday, and if one thing is apparent after the first three games of Delaware's football season, it is improvement in the Blue Hens' defensive backfield.

The Hens, who died by the bomb several times last year, have allowed only two touchdowns passes while intercepting seven enemy aeriels en route to their 2-1 record. Much of the improvement can be traced to three new-comers in the secondary — sophomores Sonny Merkel and Ron Klein and Junior Bob Masin. But it is the fourth member of the backfield that has earned the plaudits of the coaches for his play so far this season.

"Dick Keller has been the backbone of our secondary," says defensive backfield coach Mickey Heinecker. "He is the best tackler in the secondary and he is the binding force that holds our deep defense together."

Keller, a 185-pound junior from Ohio, is the only member of the Hen secondary who started last year.

Keller, who intercepted a pass and ran it back 31 yards in last week's win over Massachusetts, came to Delaware to follow in the footsteps of brother-in-law Jack Tietrick, former outstanding defensive back in his own right.

"Dick is entirely different from Jack although both are fine athletes," Heinecker notes. "Jack relied on agility and speed. Dick is bigger and stronger."

Keller and Masin are the Delaware safety-men while Klein and Merkel have taken over the cornerback spots.

The Hens will need all the big plays they can come up with when they take on powerful Buffalo, a team they haven't beaten since 1963.

Hen Halfback Dick Kelley Named To All-East Team

Delaware Sophomore Halfback Dick Kelley has been named to the weekly All-East football team of the Eastern College Athletic Conference Division II. Kelley, former All-State halfback for Coach Bob Hoffman's Newark High School Yellowjackets, ranked 217 yards as Delaware defeated Massachusetts 28-23 before a Blue Hen Homecoming crowd last Saturday — but three yards short of Gerald "Doc" Doherty's record.

Withelder Takes Four Passes For 2 TDs As NHS Hayman, Kelley Star In Hen Win

Almost overlooked in the happy hullabaloo over Dick Kelley's sensational running in Delaware's 28-23 football win over Massachusetts last Saturday was the outstanding performance of spread end Ron Withelder.

Withelder, a 170-pound junior from Folsom, Pa., had his best day of the young season with four receptions for 73 yards and two touchdowns. The four catches on Saturday boosted Withelder's season totals to seven receptions for 137 yards. Three of his catches have gone for touchdowns.

Physical Fitness Champions Compete for National Honors

Washington, D.C. — (U. P.) — Keeping in top physical condition yields many rewards, as 72 youngsters from all over the nation recently learned.

Their top physical fitness won them trips to Washington, D.C. and four days filled with activities which included:

- Being honored at a banquet where they met Congressman Bob Mathias, gold medal Olympic Decathlon winner, who spoke to them about the importance of dedication to meaningful and constructive goals.
- Spending a day at the U.S. Naval Academy with the plebes, who gave them a first-hand look at Annapolis.
- Touring the nation's capital and meeting several distinguished legislators as well as many famous sports figures.

The 72 youngsters, all of them regional physical fitness champions, were brought to Washington, D.C. to compete in the final meets of the 1968 Marine Corps Youth Physical Fitness Program.

At stake were the team title of National Youth Physical Fitness Champions and also the top individual prize — a $1,000 college scholarship, awarded to the meet's highest scoring high school senior by the Post division of the General Foods Corporation.

During the hard-fought competition all the youngsters turned in top performances as they ran through a series of five exercises, actually used by the Marines to test and maintain the physical fitness of their own recruits — sit-ups, push-ups, pull-ups, squat thrusts, and a 300-yard run.

THREE-TIME CHAMPIONS

When all the scores were totaled, the team winner for the third consecutive year was Carle Place, N.Y., High School. The highest scoring senior, and winner of the $1,000 college scholarship, was 18-year-old Bobby Meyer, a member of the six-man Carle Place team, who scored 471 out of a possible 500 points. For the youngsters, the Washington, D.C. trip and final meets marked the highpoint of a year filled with challenges and tough competition. It all started for them last Fall when their schools joined with others throughout the country to participate in the Marine Corps Youth Physical Fitness Program. Throughout the year, their school teams advanced through several local and district meets. Then, in the Spring, the young men were selected as regional champions to compete in the final meets from among the hundreds-of-thousands of participants in the program.

OLYMPIC CHAMP SPEAKS

From the moment they arrived, the youngsters' schedule was a busy one. In addition to visiting the Naval Academy and touring many historic Washington sites, the young fitness champions viewed the famous sunset parade at the Washington Marine Barracks and were honored at a Washington Senators baseball game in D.C. Stadium.

Following the final meets, the youngsters attended the special banquet in their honor, which was hosted by the Marine Corps and General Foods at one of the capital's leading hotels. Present for the banquet were Cong. Mathias as well as several other congressmen and more than a score of professional and collegiate athletes. Sharing the date with Cong. Mathias were Commandant Leonard F. Chapman, Jr. of the Marine Corps, a long-time supporter of youth physical fitness, and Charles Arnett, national sales manager of General Foods' Post division, who praised the youngsters for setting a hard-to-match example for all the youth of the nation.

PLANS FOR 1969

The events in the capital marked the end of the 1968 Youth Physical Fitness Program, but already plans are underway for next year. The Marine Corps, which initiated its program in 1958, conducts it in support of the President's Council on Physical Fitness. Next year, it will again provide major help and guidance in the building and maintaining of top physical condition to educators and students of the high school level. Come autumn, gymnasiums and playgrounds will be filled with youngsters doing sit-ups, push-ups and squat thrusts as they start on their way to compete for honors in the 1969 Marine Corps Youth Physical Fitness Program.
