Council Approves Annexation Of 7.277 Acres South of City

Plat For 33 Town Houses Approved With RA, Business B Zoning In Annexation Of Hearn Tract; $5,000 Requested For Senior Citizens; Municipal Golf Study Authorized

The size of the City of Newark was increased by 7.277 acres last Monday night with council passage of an ordinance annexing the tract owned by Hearn Bros., Inc., between East Chestnut Hill Road and the Joseph M. McVey Elementary School, east of South College Avenue.

A portion of the property was zoned RA for construction of 33 dwelling units, and the remainder zoned Business B.

In unanimous 5-0 vote for annexation and zoning with Councilmen David H. Doehbert and Alan R. Thomas absent—Thomas later appeared after the fire siren had all but drowned out City Secretary Charles D. Long's reading of the ordinance—council passed a resolution approving a plat of 33 town houses to be constructed with additional provision of four additional parking spaces.

Councilman Fred Wakefield urged that the city appropriate $5,000 to renovate the municipal property on East Main Street provided for the absent citizens group sponsored by the Newark Soroptimist Club.

Veteran Residents
Wakefield said that some 100 senior citizens who had resided in the city for "30 years or more had never asked for anything before. I think the time has come to think of our senior citizens," he continued, appealing for an appropriation for this group.

"My understanding when we discussed this thing," Councilman Albert P. Chittenden said concerning city asset to the Soroptimist Club request for use of the old water works property as a meeting place for senior citizens, "is that they made a very firm statement that they did not want any money from the city."

And Wakefield replied that funds were needed to provide for utilities and other renovations.

Francis E. B. Moran in the audience said that Architect Donald Nahrgang had "drawn up a plan" for the building, and that plumbing, electrical wiring, and other improvements would cost between $3,500 and $5,000. "Out of the $5,000, there will be money to turn back," McCann said.

With Thomas joining the council assembly, a proposal to include $5,000 in the 1966 budget for building renovations for the senior citizen center was recommended to the finance committee headed by Councilman Henry R. Folsom, Jr., in a 6-0 vote of approval.

City Golf Course
Council approved the expenditure of $100 for study of a local municipal golf course in a 4-2 vote, with Councilmen Folsom and Thomas opposing the measure proposed by City Planning Director John J. Griesbaum.

"I am not opposed to a golf course as such," Folsom said, but objected to it as another addition in the multi-phase parks and recreation program.

"Until we have this meeting," Folsom said of proposed discussion of a general recreation program between members of the municipal parks and recreation committee, the planning commission, and council, "we are guilty of going off in another direction," he concluded concerning the golf course proposal.

"I don't think we are going off in a different direction," Griesbaum countered. "We will study feasibility of this golf course to see if it fits into this plan," he said concerning the recreation program.

"I think it fits in with the overall program," Chittenden concurred, and City Manager J. Francis Neide added that "a properly operated municipal golf course makes money. If it can't be financed by revenue bonds, stay clear of it," Neide advised, but added "I know of a municipal course not too far from here that made $80,000 per year net."

"Does the fire department want one, too?" Mayor Joseph A. Shields asked Thomas as the councilman joined Folsom in opposing the proposal. And Thomas cited precedence of a municipal swimming pool along with other needed recreational facilities for his objection to the golf course study at this time.

Election Board
"Do you want to headache of finding polling places?" Election Board President Harold M. Grant asked council, citing charter stipulation to this effect. And Mayor Shields with council approval of the Newark Department Store polls for the special election to be conducted Jan. 11 to select a councilman for the first district, requested the election board to make all recommendations concerning polling places, in consultation with the committee studying referendum.

Council accepted an offer of a 9-ft. strip of the James A. Kirk property in Lumbrook for a utility right-of-way in exchange for deferred payment of all city assessments pending development of the Kirk property up to 10 years, with such deferred non-transferable to any subsequent owner. The property to be given the city for a utility right-of-way is valued at $1,000, Neide said.

Air Pollution Study In Plant Research Offered In State

Dr. John W. Heuberger Explains Farm Problem With Polluted Crop Loss

Air pollution may become an increasingly serious problem for Delaware farmers, according to Dr. John W. Heuberger, chairman of the department of plant pathology at the University of Delaware.

The continually growing number of automobiles and trucks as the nation becomes more urbanized, has increased the severity of the air pollution problem for farmers as well as city dwellers, Heuberger pointed out.

Crop losses because of air pollution along the eastern seaboard have been estimated at more than $18-million each year, and in Delaware some of the damage occasionally has been so severe that entire fields of spinach and other crops have had to be discarded.

Citing the change many Delaware farmers have made from growing a diversity of crops to specializing in one or two crops, Heuberger points out that damage from air pollution could be devastating to the individual farmer. Some crops are more susceptible than others to air pollution damage, and certain varieties of these plants have been found to be more resistant than others to various chemicals found in the air.

Plant pathologists at the university are conducting an exploratory air pollution study through a research grant from the U. S. Public Health Service and a project at the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station.

Because plant damage is one of the first signs of air pollution, plants can be used to determine the presence of pollutants in the air, as well as the kind of chemicals causing air pollution, Heuberger explained.

Part of the study includes test plots of pollution-sensitive plants in various locations throughout the state. Since different plants are particularly sensitive to certain pollutants, Heuberger said it will be possible to determine the kind of chemicals in the air, as well as the sources of this pollution.

Jerzy L. Nowinski Wins Brown Chair As U. D. Professor

Native Of Poland Honored For Contribution In Fields Of Science, Engineering

Dr. Jerzy L. Nowinski has been named H. Fletcher Brown professor of mechanical engineering by University of Delaware President John A. Perkins.

With the university since 1961, Nowinski was named to the endowed chair in recognition of contributions to the fields of applied science as well as mechanical and civil engineering.

Coming to this country in 1957 from Poland, he served as lecturer at Johns Hopkins University and as professor at the universities of Wisconsin and Texas before joining the Delaware faculty.

In his native Poland he was assistant to professor of theoretical and applied mechanics at the University of Warsaw from 1932 to 1937, and later was extraordinary professor of applied mechanics at Warsaw. He received his doctorate from Warsaw.

Author of more than 100 research papers and articles, Nowinski has received several grants from the National Science Foundation for his research.

Dr. Jack R. Vinson, chairman of the mechanical engineering department, said, "Dr. Nowinski has contributed to the growth in mechanical engineering in many ways. Three of the seven Ph.D. degrees granted through the department have been awarded to his students, and his teaching philosophy and dedication toward continuously presenting the newest in course in mechanics, philosophy and engineering techniques, is an inspiration to both his students and faculty colleagues."

Novinski is chairman of the recently-formed applied mechanics committee which made recommendations involving the department in the college of engineering.

He joins four other Delaware professors who hold chairs endowed by the late H. Fletcher Brown, who served on the university board of trustees until his death in 1944.

Others are Jack A. Gerster, chemical engineering; Harold Kwart, chemistry; G. Fred Somers, biological sciences; and Fred E. Williams, physics.

Investment Credit Cited For Farmer To Save In Taxes

Purchases Of Depreciable Equipment Offer Benefits In Federal Income Taxes

Investment credit is the biggest tax break that business, manufacturers, and farmers have had in recent years, according to W. T. McAllister, farm management specialist at the University of Delaware.

Investment credit is designed to encourage businesses to make larger investment in depreciable machinery and equipment and thereby to bolster the economy.

Tax benefits which investment credit provides apply just as much to farming as to any other type of business.

Since investment credit is a comparatively new provision of the tax laws, many farmers have overlooked its benefits.

McAllister explains these benefits by the illustration of one farmer who owns $650 income tax and a second farmer who owes a similar amount of tax, but who purchased a new tractor in 1965 for $5,000. He deducts the tractor's value from his income for eight years. He figures the investment credit is $350—seven per cent of the purchase price. Investment credit can be substituted for tax dollars on a dollar-for-dollar basis. Therefore, the tax due by the second farmer is only $300—the amount obtained by subtracting his investment credit from the tax he owes.

There are a number of rules that apply to investment credit, McAllister says. County agricultural agents have copies of the 1966 edition of the Farmer's Tax Guide in which all rules are explained.

There are a few general rules, McAllister says.

Credit can be taken for purchases of depreciable machinery and equipment and certain real property such as fences, storage facilities, orchards, vineyards and asparagus plantings.

Investment credit can be taken on the purchase of new or used equipment. It must have a life of at least four years—and a life of at least eight years to get the full seven per cent credit.

Investment credit can be taken only once and in the year the item purchased was available for use.

Some Delaware farmers may find it advantageous to make a last minute purchase in 1965 of machinery or equipment. Investment credit can be taken on the purchase of new or used equipment. It must have a life of at least four years—and a life of at least eight years to get the full seven per cent credit.

The farmer waits and makes the purchase in 1966. McAllister says the same benefits to apply against 1966 income tax.

Father, Baby Son Injured On Friday In 2-Car Collision

A Newark man and his three-year-old son were among six persons injured last Friday in a two-car collision on New Churchman's Road.

Troopers identified the drivers as Bernard L. Dworsky, 25, of 27 Lovett Avenue, Newark, and Lamotte R. Williams, 34, of 626 S. Heald Street, Wilmington.

Dworsky was admitted to Wilmington General Division, suffering fractures of the right ankle and breastbone and lacerations of the face.

His three-year-old son David, received abrasions of the right leg and back, and was released.

Paula Carter, 21, a passenger in the Williams car, was admitted with fractures of both knees.

Williams was released after treatment for lacerations of the lips as were two other passengers in his car—James Dixon, 33, treated for lacerations of the mouth and chest, and Dean Jenkins, 36, abrasions of the legs.

The accident occurred at 1:45 p.m. between Old Churchman and Airport Roads.

William Williams reached into his pocket to get matches and his car started to drift over the center line.

Dworsky, driving in the opposite direction, saw the drifting car and took evasive action but the vehicles collided head-on, police reported.

Magistrate John Matuschek of Wilmington Manor fined Williams $10 and costs on charges of driving on the wrong side of the road.

Terry Announces Merger Plan For University, State College

Consolidation Of University At Newark, Dover College Considered By Governor To Save Administrative Costs; No Official Consideration By School Trustees Reported

According to Governor Charles L. Terry, Jr. in a statement last week, a merger of the University of Delaware with Delaware State College in Dover is being considered to save administration costs, and a junior college may be established at the Delaware State College site.

Dr. John A. Perkins, president of the University of Delaware, said that merger of the University and Delaware State College is "Gov. Terry's proposal. It has never been presented to university trustees in any official way for their consideration."

Perkins said the proposal was not something for him to react to, but is "something for the trustee, the governor and the legislature."

Terry had mentioned the proposal to him earlier, Perkins said, "but I didn't know how serious he was about it and we haven't given any great thought to it."

John N. McDowell of Newark, president of the Delaware State College board of trustees and former Delaware secretary of state, said he "was not aware of (the proposal) at all. The only thing I know about it I read in the Morning News."

Junior College?
In response to questions by two newsmen and a representative of the Committee of 39, Terry also disclosed that he has no objections to a state junior college in Wilmington or statewide kindergartens if someone will tell him where to obtain the money.

Terry recalled that several years ago University of Delaware President Perkins had said a junior college in Wilmington was not needed but now the university administration has decided otherwise.

The university announced it was abandoning leases on two buildings in Wilmington to house the junior college because no money had been made available by the General Assembly.

No Objection
Terry said he has no objection to a two-year college in Wilmington for training technicians and other highly skilled personnel.

"If you people in Wilmington and New Castle County want this," he said, "it is all right with me but I've got to know where the money is coming from. I'm going to protect all the citizens in the fiscal operations of this state."

He reported that the University of Delaware is seeking an increase of $600,000 in next year's budget and an extra $800,000 for the junior college.

William F. Ames To Head Seminar During Holidays

Mathematicians and engineers from all parts of the nation will assemble at the University of Delaware during the Christmas holidays for an advanced science seminar.

About 250 participants are expected for the seminar on Non-linear Partial Differential Equations, on December 27-29.

Professor William F. Ames, author of a recent book on non-linear partial differential equations, is director of the program. Ames was coordinator-director of a similar conference on non-linear problems in engineering at the university in 1963.

This year's program has been designed with dual goals of exposition and presentation of research results during which the depth of current knowledge and research in the field will be explored.

Four areas to be considered are analytic methods, asymptotic methods, numerical methods and applications.

Featured speaker at a Monday evening dinner meeting will be Gordon Fisher of Cornell. Dr. John Mauchly of Mauchly Associates, King of Prussia, Pa., will speak Tuesday evening on the topic "History of Computers and Future Applications."

Guest lecturers have been chosen because of their contributions to the field; their competence in presenting their topics; and geographical distribution. Graduate students, representatives of industry, and college faculty members from the Middle Atlantic area will comprise the audience.

President John A. Perkins will welcome delegates when the symposium convenes in the Student Center at 8:30 a.m. Monday.

The conference is jointly supported by the National Science Foundation and the University of Delaware.

Full-time graduate students and university faculty members may attend without paying the registration fee.

Registrations will be accepted through Dec. 24.

Gunner's Mate Ronald Huff Aids Vietnam Combat

Gunner's Mate Seaman Ronald G. Huff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Huff of 497 South Chapel Street, Newark, will remember last Dec. 2 as the day nuclear-powered warships were first used in armed combat against an enemy. He is serving aboard the nuclear-powered attack aircraft carrier USS Enterprise.

As the carrier Enterprise went into combat, launching air strikes against the Communist Viet Cong in South Vietnam, the nuclear-powered guided missile frigate Bainbridge again was at the Big E's side, providing anti-air and anti-submarine defense for the world's largest aircraft carrier.

These two ships recently completed a 30-day, 16,000-mile transit from Norfolk, Va., to the Western Pacific to become the first nuclear-powered vessels to operate with the Seventh Fleet.

The movement of Enterprise and Bainbridge to the Seventh Fleet was the first step in transferring the Navy's four atomic-powered surface warships to the Pacific Fleet.

The nuclear-powered cruiser Long Beach and guided missile frigate Truxton will be transferred in early 1966.

The nuclear reactors in these ships provide almost unlimited range and the ability to stay at sea for extended periods without refueling.

RAISING YOUR CHILD

Have you as a parent ever asked yourself whether you are coddling your child and being over-protective? The apron strings are tied more tightly when parents are fearful of letting their children make their way alone; where the car pool is a necessity; and when the gregarious independence of most children is being smothered by our efforts to give all, do all, and be all to them.

The total after-school schedule for the child of today is often one of pushing and prodding them into a mold of the parents' design. The world of today is so competitive that too many parents feel it is their duty to shape them to hold their own socially, physically, and economically.

What parents often do not realize is that children—even if they can adapt easily to the present world—will not necessarily be helping themselves to adjust to theirs in the 21st Century. Making them dependent on you may destroy the independent qualities they may need tomorrow.

Childhood in the past was in ways a better preparation for adapting to the changing patterns of life. Children played the games they liked and were not told whether it was to be

Increased Disability Pay Slated For Vets In State
More than 4,400 Delaware veterans with service-connected disabilities will receive higher compensation payments beginning January, 1966, according to William M. Eaton, acting manager of the VA regional office at Wilmington.

The bill increasing compensation payments was signed last Oct. 31, by President Johnson, who said "the nation has no greater obligation than its debt to those nearly two million Americans who have been maimed in mind or body while in the service of their country."

The increase in payments will go into effect Dec. 1, 1965, and will appear first in compensation checks to be mailed at the close of this month.

Limestone Presbyterian Church
Children of this church school brought an unwrapped gift for children of all ages, to their annual Christmas party last Saturday. Gifts will be given to the Salvation Army for distribution.

Last Sunday and this Sunday special Christmas offerings will be given by the church school for the Side Parish in Wilmington and the church's ministry to children overseas and in this country.

Herbert Young will be the leader for the adult discussion class this Sunday.

The Youth Fellowship went caroling to Emily P. Bissell Hospital last Sunday eve and the senior high group sang carols for ill members.

There will be a candlelight service of worship on Christmas Eve at 7 p.m.

Next Wednesday from 2 to 4 p.m. an informal reception will be held at the church manse in Limestone Gardens for college and senior high students. Mrs. Albert Conley and Mrs. Warren Hoffman will assist the Rev. and Mrs. Willett Smith for this affair.

The trustees of Hockessin Friends Monthly Meeting reorganized last Tuesday night and elected the following officers: Lewis Palmer, president; Kenneth Berry, secretary; and Harold Thompson, treasurer.

Leroy Stephenson was chosen a new trustee.

Annual Christmas vespers were held Sunday evening at the meeting house, directed by Mrs. Ernest Lomax.

Richard Swayne was the announcer. The Junior Chorus sang, as did a group of 15 children dressed as angels.

A nativity pageant was given by Lyndon Palmer, Joseph; Ruth Buckingham, Mary; Mylene Buckingham, the angel; Richard Leedom, Sumner Passmore, and Kenneth Swayne, Wise Men; and Mark Ganitt, Richard Buckingham IV, and Scott Gantt, shepherds.

Christmas carols were sung by the congregation.

hop scotch or touch football. There was time to wiggle toes in the grass and indulge in a few daydreams.

You can't and don't want to turn the clock back, but in this fleeting, temporary age of youth it should be their design—not ours—that must be savored.

Freedom to improvise should be encouraged. Let them learn from their own mistakes as well as their accomplishments. Independence in thought and action can be cultivated. Their independence will thrive if we stay out of the way—guide only when necessary—provide encouragement always.

As parents, we frequently talk too much, decide too much. It makes us feel strong and necessary to our youngsters. The biggest job we have in life—much as we hate to accept it—is to cut them loose and set them adrift with rules they have evolved for their own direction.

The new rates will apply to earnings for years after 1965. The rate for the existing old-age, survivors, and disability insurance program will be adjusted to 3.85 per cent beginning in 1966. This rate is less than the rate set in previous law for 1966—4.125 per cent, which was found to be more than required at that time.

In 1967 the contribution rate for this program will go to 3.9 per cent, and the law provides for two additional raises—to 4.4 per cent beginning in 1969, and to 4.85 per cent in 1973.

Self-employed persons will contribute based on a rate of 5.8 per cent starting in 1966 for the old-age, survivors, and disability insurance program. The rate will go to 5.9 per cent in 1967; to 6.6 per cent in 1969; and to 7 per cent in 1973.

Financing of the hospital insurance program has been kept separate from that of the already existing Social Security program. This was done by establishing a separate contribution schedule with funds raised going into a separate trust fund.

Employees, employers, and self-employed people will all pay the same rate for the hospital insurance program. Initially, starting in 1966,

Social Security Changes

By Myron Milbouer, Manager
Wilmington Social Security Office

Improvements in the existing Social Security program will raise its costs. Congress provided in these amendments for financing the additional costs. They did this by adjusting contribution rate for the existing program by establishing a new contribution to finance the hospital insurance program, and by raising the maximum amount of earnings on which these contributions are paid from $4,800 to $6,600.

The rate will be 3.5 per cent for all three groups. Increases in this rate are scheduled to insure continued proper financing. The rate goes to 5 per cent in 1967.

IT'S CHRISTMAS!

"Christmas is for children," I heard a wise man say,
And how I yearned to be a child again on Christmas Day!

A child with laughter in his heart and wonder in his eyes,
And faith that sees a radiant Star in cold December skies;

Who listens for enchanted sleigh bells in the frosty night,
And sets a candle on the sill, the Christ Child's way to light!

Yes, Christmas is for children! May this one special be,
And bring its joy and magic to the child in you and me!

HUNGARIAN CHRISTMAS FEATURED BY SORORITY

Xi Eta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority met recently at the home of President Ethel Beecher, and with Slavonic countries at the next year of call for the sorority "grand tour."

Mrs. Beecher opened the program by dancing the Hungarian Czardas, with her daughter Debbie—dressed in the peasant costumes of Hungary and Austria.

Telling of Christmas among the Hungarians, Mrs. Beecher said that Christmas in Hungary lasts two days, each a legal holiday, and church bells ring almost continuously.

Christmas Eve is a festive occasion, and when the first star appears, the evening meal is served with traditional dishes of cabbage soup, fish, and horseshoe-shaped cakes filled with nuts.

Before the meal, the family assembles around a Christmas tree and after a short prayer, gifts are distributed in the peasant costumes of Hungary and Austria.

When midnight comes, villagers in colorful costumes flock to the church, which in a Hungarian village is usually on a hilltop. There is always an elaborate Christmas crib, with the Holy Family, Three Kings, shepherds, and angels.

During the Christmas season, groups of gaily dressed children go about the village streets singing carols and carrying a miniature manger, sometimes with marionettes reenacting the Christmas story.

In many villages there are outdoor performances of simple nativity plays. On Jan. 6, the Three Kings follow the star through the Hungarian countryside.

The star carried before them on a long pole, is made of transparent paper, illuminated.

To touch a pig on St. Sylvester's Eve (Dec. 31) brings good luck according to Hungarian superstition. In the principal restaurants and cafes of Budapest a live pig is turned loose at midnight and much confusion and merriment ensues as the guests scramble after the animal.

Mrs. Beecher displayed artifacts brought by her grandfather to this country as a child. These included hand-crafted dolls, sheet music of the last century, and family photographs.

The sorority evening ended with plans completed for the annual Christmas party at the home of Charlotte Biliski.

Husbands were invited to the party with the theme "Christmas in Mexico." Betty J. Linehan reports.

St. Paul's Church Pastors Announce Christmas Events

Pastors Richard Wolf and Louis Rogers announce the Christmas season at St. Paul's Lutheran Church will start with a Christmas Eve children's service at 7 p.m., with the Junior Choir singing a German Christmas carol, and all children to bring gifts to be placed before the tree.

The second service of the Nativity will be held at 10:30 p.m. Friday with a Christmas cantata, by the Senior Choir.

Soloists will include Mrs. Frances Higgins, alto; Dr. Harold Arnold, bass; and James Harrington, tenor. The organ will be played by Mrs. Harold Arnold. The service with sermon and Holy Communion will follow.

The third service of the Nativity will be on Christmas Day at 10 a.m. At the service on Sunday the Youth Choir will sing the French carol, "Il Est Ne Le Divin Enfant" as the Anthem.

A special feature in Christmas decorations is being carried out as a project by the Junior League. On Dec. 24, they will erect a Christmas tree on the church lawn lighted with various symbols of the Christian church. Christmas is a contraction of "Christ's Monograms," Mrs. Alfred Gruber explains.

Auxiliary Officers At Christiana Led By Charlotte Bush

Meeting at the Elkton Inn last Friday, the Ladies Auxiliary of the Christiana Fire Co. installed officers for the year headed by Mrs. Charlotte Bush, president. Mrs. Dorothy Morris, county president, installed the slate of officers.

Needlecraft News

by Nancy Baxter

THE FIRST FROSTY FALL EVENING you'll be glad to have this decorative afghan, and as proud to display this design as you are your own furniture. The afghan, as great an American institution as the family, fits the very modern decor as comfortably as the traditional with just a change of color to suit your own scheme.

AUTUMN TO SPRING

This design, appropriately called "Patchwork" can be made to look like a birds-eye view of Fall's countryside in wood brown, tangerine, pearl grey, light yellow and surf green. If Spring is your favorite time of year, change the season and the colors to dark turquoise, paddy green, robin blue, bisque and coral. There are as many color possibilities as there are patches, so turn your imagination loose on this one.

"TEARS TO SANTA'S EYES" by Dick Mansfield

THE CHRISTMAS STORY

Another Christmas and a new year are just ahead of us, with many changes for many of us. But the greatest story ever told remains unchanged—and we at the Newark Post are privileged to reprint it with reverence and with thanksgiving.

AND it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

(And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.)

And all went to be taxed, everyone into his own city.

And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto the city of David, which is called Bethlehem; (because he was of the house and lineage of David;)

To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

And so it was, that while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

And she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped Him in swaddling clothes, and laid Him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone around about them; and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the Babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying,

Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

And they came with haste, and found Mary, and Joseph, and the Babe lying in a manger.

And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this Child.

And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

Letters To The Editor

Your paper has distinguished itself in reporting news of athletics in the Newark area.

How many bowlers read your paper? Two Saturdays ago I attended a bowling session that has been continuing for the past four years.

The Newark chapter of the Delaware Association for Retarded Children has been assisting with bowling for retarded persons for four years, and they need the help of some of your ambient and interested readers.

Mrs. Vannoy almost unassisted (except for a five week period when she was "spelled" by a Boy Scout) has been running the bowling session.

Saturday, the 11th, Pearl, Eleanor, Joanne, and Lannie competed with several others for a three-game match.

If your readers would like to know the way of our pleasures, they ought to attend No. 30 and 31 at the Blue Hen Lanes—who give ARC (Association for Retarded Children) a break in terms of bowling fees. What is the joy of a strike? Or even a spare?

I told that the American Indians as well as the Chimer essentially "worshipped" people who were "inhibited." I learned ARC's needs? Drivers for those who couldn't make it, because they live too far away—substitutes to take over from 1 to 3 on Saturday. (When Mrs. Vannoy is sick she has to decide whether to call it off or go sick.)

People who know bowling and are willing to take a few minutes of their time to help to show these bowlers better stance, delivery, control, etc.—anyone who's willing to help, can phone me at work or at home.

Millard Zeisberg

Delaware Defeats St. Joe Mermen For 1965 Finale

Coach Harry Rawstrom's Delaware swimming team won all 11 events in crushing St. Joseph's 81-14 in a dual meet last Thursday in Taylor Pool.

Aubrey Clemons tied the 50-yard freestyle record by winning in 23.8 seconds and anchored the Blue Hens' record-breaking 400-yard freestyle relay team.

The team, of Bob Locke, Stephen Stockwell, Edgar Johnson and Clemons, won in 3:31.5, breaking the sold mark of 3:33.4 set in 1964.

The 3-1 Hens are out of action until next year when the varsity and frosh swim at Lehigh on Jan. 8.

Delaware's duck hunting season closes at sunset this evening, and our Delaware Game and Fish Commission has done a splendid job in providing an ever-growing sporting public, places to hunt waterfowl—free. State-built blinds with occupancy allocated on a first-come, first-served basis, have been offered at Woodland Beach, Bombay Hook, Prime Hook, Little Creek, and Gordon's Pond, and hunters could build their own blinds in the Assawoman Bay area—all free.

Unlike upland game hunting where the beagle boys, pheasant and quail hunters tramp the fields and brush freely with the property owner's consent, duck and goose shooting—and there was little of the latter in Delaware until recently—has long been attended by a price tag for rental of marsh, waterfowl or pit privileges. Many waterfowl enthusiasts can't afford the price, and for them, it's a matter of public or no hunting.

The Delaware Game and Fish Commission has increased public waterfowl hunting facilities despite what appears to be a hopeless combination of opposition with the surge of suburbia, industry, and humans. In the Diamond State, a wildfowl and there was little of the latter in Delaware until recently—has long been attended by a price tag for rental of marsh, waterfowl or pit privileges. Many waterfowl enthusiasts can't afford the price, and for them, it's a matter of public or no hunting.

Sceldom does duck hunting come easy, and this public duck hunting in Delaware is hunting the hard way. Last Friday night, three young men from Newark slept—or tried to sleep in their cars at Bombay Hook in preparation for a sure shot at a public blind very early the next morning—and last Friday night was a cold one.

The trio had given Bombay Hook an exploratory first try the previous Saturday, and oriented on this second occasion, happily escaped the tension of getting lost and wandering around the maze of tidal thoroughfares in the darkness.

Arriving at their designated blind in good time to the thrilling accompaniment of ducks quacking, chuckling, rocketing amid watery explosions from the water, and whistling by on swift wings, they put out a likely looking stool of decoys—some, thing they had been without on the preceding Saturday—and experienced that soul-stirring surge of anticipation for those chances with the morning flight.

And the ducks flew—in fast flocks flaring like smoke against the splendor of the early morning sky—in small bunches—pairs, and singles. Most of them were far out of range, but a distant duck can become a close-up target in a matter of moments, and each was a thrilling potential target.

There was some pass shooting gunfire that provided sport for the boys and did no damage whatever to the waterfowl roaring down the skyways—and then at last, a bunch of green-winged teal flashed out of nowhere to buzz the decoys, flare high, wheel, and come planing down again with wings a-curve and set for a landing.

Just at this point, a boat with a pair of hunters aboard, appeared around a bend in the waterway near the blocks.

With three guns following the teal with tense trigger fingers, the

Capt. John Himes Leads Hen Cagers After 3-3 Record

Delaware Basketball Co-Capt. John Himes of Wilmington continues to pace the Blue Hens in most statistical departments through six games.

Himes, a 6-2 senior forward, leads the team in field goals, free throws, rebounds and scoring. He has connected on 39 of 75 field goal attempts and 27 of 34 free throws for an average of 17.5 points per game, and has pulled down 50 rebounds.

Sophomore Guard Ricky Wright of Collingswood, N. J., is second to Himes in scoring with an average of 14.2 points, and Bill Morley, junior forward from Toms River, N. J., is third with a 9.5-point average.

Bill Drescher, a 6-3 junior from Avon-by-the-Sea, N. J., is second to Himes in rebounding with 41, although he has yet to start a game this season.

Junior Center Harry Griesbach of Wilmington tops the team in field goal percentage (.643) and Soph Guard Vic Orth of Wilmington has the best free throw percentage among the regulars with 83.3.

The 3-3 Blue Hens have scored 458 points and given up the same number.

Coach Irv Wisniewski's Hens resume action next Monday at Toledo before participating in the Wooster (Ohio) Classic on Dec. 28-29.

Delaware meets Ashland in the opening game of the tournament and a victory would match the Hens with the winner of the Wooster-Grove City game for the title.

Mike McGlinchey Awarded Letter For Hen Soccer

Bob Fisher of Levittown, Pa., and Jim Murray of Wilmington have been elected co-captains of the 1966 Delaware soccer team.

Fisher and Murray succeeded 1965 Co-Captains Jim Wright of Wyoming, Del., and Jim Wright of Centreville, Md.

Seniors Glenden, Wright and Siegfried Fuchs of Wilmington top the list of 15 lettermen from Coach Loren Kline's 7-4-2 team of 1965. All three seniors lettered for the third time.

Other lettermen include Newark's Mike McGlinchey; Gary Adams, Roxbury, Conn.; Tom Cooper, McLean, Va.; Ed Hassenstein and Harley Kirk, Wilmington; Bob Larson, New Hope; Tom MacKnight, Drexel Hill; Tom Maxwell, Havertown; and Dave Meadows and Bill Walter, Kennett Square, Pa.

Fuchs was the team's leading scorer with seven goals, while Fisher, Larson and Meadows each contributed six to the Hens attack.

young wildfowlers could very well have lost a broadside that may have tumbled teal, and most certainly would have sprayed chilled shot on the unexpected boatmen in the potential line of fire.

But these boys exercised judgment and coolness that their elders may well envy. They didn't shoot, and this was their big chance. Not another duck decoyed, and they came home empty-handed—empty-handed, but stary-eyed with the memories of ducks, ducks, ducks etching their patterns across the heavens.

Man around the bend says keeping away from the mire is better than washing it off. Pat Ryan, Big Bend (Tex.) Sentinel.

RALPH NEVES

It's likely that Ralph Neves' emotions will be somewhat mixed when he returns to San Francisco on December 2, to receive the Thoroughbred Racing Association's $3,000-plus award as one of eight jockeys who have ridden more than 3,000 winners. Though born on Cape Cod, Neves grew up in San Francisco—he also "died" there!

It was in 1936, at nearby Bay Meadows (one of the three Bay City tracks that join the TRA at its forthcoming meeting) that Neves and his mount, a horse named Fannikins, went down in an awesome spill.

Rushed to the hospital, Neves came to in the emergency room with a sheet over his face, and was shocked to hear a voice say grimly, "This jockey is dead."

"I was a mixture of numb and sore but I didn't feel dead," Neves recalls. When he realized they were talking about him Neves pulled the sheet away and said, "How about a drink of water, doc?"

Neves was promptly rushed to a hospital bed, but he didn't stay there long. When he was finally left alone he sneaked out, hailed a taxi and returned to Bay Meadows where the jockeys were taking up a collection for his "widow." He was back in the saddle the next day.

Ralph Neves retired last year after 30 years in the saddle, during which he rode 25,329 races, won 3,771, was second 3,544 times and third on 3,353 occasions.

SKIING

THE ROMANCE AND ADVENTURE OF SKIING WAS INTRODUCED TO AMERICA BY SCANDINAVIAN SAILORS ATTRACTED FROM WEST COAST PORTS TO THE CALIFORNIA MOUNTAINS BY THE '49 GOLD RUSH. THE WEST SAW NORWAY'S SNOWSHOE THOMPSON MAKE THE FIRST OF HIS FAMED MAIL RUNS ON SKIS IN 1855.

A BUMPER CROP OF MORE THAN 5 MILLION SKI ENTHUSIASTS ARE EXPECTED ON THE SNOWY SLOPES THIS WINTER. THEY WILL RANGE FROM RANK AMATEURS TO SEASONED PROS. USUALLY, IT'S THE NOVICES WHO WEAR ELABORATE SKI ATTIRE SEASONED SKIERS—MANY OF THEM COLLEGE STUDENTS—FAVOR BLUE JEANS FOR THE SLOPES.

Just a little orphan of the storm, a lone deer is investigating a Christmas tree that has been decorated by a woodsman in a lumber camp along the Trans Continental line of the Canadian National Railways in northern Ontario. He is hoping to find a loaf of bread a favorite snack because of the salt in it, or some other goodie to vary his winter diet.

31 Hen Gridders Win Varsity "D" With 1965 Squad

The Delaware Athletic Council has approved the award of letters to 31 members of the 1965 Delaware football team—15 seniors, nine juniors and seven sophomores.

Captain Paul Mueller and record-setting Quarterback Tom Van Grofski head the list of seniors receiving awards.

Other senior lettermen are Ed Anderson, Bruce Carlyle, Art Christensen, Bill Csatari, Bill Drueding, Jim Freebery, Jay Gibbons, Tom Hirt, Tom Lapinski, Neil McAneny, Mike McCrann, Dave Stewart, and Denny Toddings.

Anderson, a 200-pound offensive guard, and Carlyle, 160-pound safety, were named to the All-Middle Atlantic Conference team this year.

Christensen, Drueding, Gibbons, McCrann, Mueller, Toddings and Van Grofski all lettered for the third time and are eligible for a special award.

Junior lettermen are Ken Bills, Stu Green, Jack Hoopes, Don Keister, Buddy Luby, Bill Neiger, Mike Purzycki, Ed Sand, and Herb Slattery.

Slattery, a 238-pound linebacker, and Neiger, a 190-pound middle guard, also earned first unit berths on the all-conference team.

The list of sophomore lettermen is headed by Halfback Brian Wright who rushed for 634 yards in 1965, almost 100 yards more than any sophomore running back in Delaware football history.

Joining Wright as sophomore lettermen are Jim Laser, Frank Linzenbold, Ed Mason, John Miller, Art Smith, and John Spangler.

Only five of the 16 juniors and sophomores who earned letters are linemen, and the Hens are counting on line help from the freshman team.

The Blue Hens will not elect a captain until after spring drills, following a precedent set in the election of Mueller this year.
