'It's about disposables'

By MARY E. PETZAK

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

An ordinance which has been through hours of scrutiny and discussion at city council meetings received a shaky vote of approval by 4-3 last Monday.

"We first became aware of this problem after Saladworks came in to apply for a special use permit as a "fast food restaurant" on Main Street," said city manager Carl Luft.

Saladworks was denied the permit and therefore had to conform to requirements in the code for a "restaurant" which would not allow the business to use disposable plates and bowls.

The amendment to the ordinance creates a new category of restaurant called "cafeteria-style" which seats more than 25 but less than 100 people, serves primarily fresh food prepared to order, including but not limited to sandwiches, pizza, salads and soups, and has the food picked up at a counter by patrons.

"This change will allow Saladworks to use disposable servingware for diners in the restaurant," said Maureen Roser, assistant Saladworks manager, Peter J. Weisbord, was a happy man on Tuesday following a vote at Monday's city council meeting which allows the store to use disposable servingware for its sit-down customers.

Bear homicide investigation continues

POLICE HAVE BEEN working around the clock to investigate a weekend shooting in Bear which left a 37-year-old man dead.

According to Officer Patrick Crowell of the New Castle County Police, tests for physical evidence were still in process on Wednesday. "We're going over the entire house inch by inch," said Crowell. "In a case like this we'd rather be too thorough than risk missing something."

After the tests are complete, police will be able to enter and conduct a search with the aid of the victim's relatives to determine whether anything was taken during the incident.

Crowell said two gunmen were able to sneak into the Newton Green townhouse of John P. Cook, 37, on the evening of Sept. 21, surprising Cook, his 32-year-old girlfriend, and three children.

Cook, a physical therapist at a local sports medicine clinic, was fatally shot in the chest by the intruders. He was airlifted to Christiana Hospital where he was pronounced dead.

During the confrontation on the first floor of the home, an 11-year-old child was pushed by one of the

Noise violation not obvious to students

By MARY E. PETZAK

DESPITE EFFORTS by both the city of Newark and the University of Delaware to inform students living off-campus of local rules, regulations, and laws, one city councilmember feels they need more help.

"The community has to inform them," said Nancy Turner of city council district 5. "They don't know to even look for certain things like noise ordinances that start at 9 p.m."

Each year the university holds orientation sessions and provides housing information to off-campus students which includes responsibilities of all city residents. This year information also has been put in the university's website.

Following discussions begun during Town and Gown meetings in 1995, Newark city officials instituted workshops for students planning to move off-campus. During the workshops, first held in April, 1996, city officials and department heads were on hand to explain trash schedules, city codes — including those relating to noise and disorderly behavior, utility bills and other housing information.

According to city manager Carl Luft, although the city intends to have the workshops again, the first-year sessions were not well-attended. "This fall when students come into the city offices to set up utilities and other arrangements, we've been giving out the workshop packets of information then as well."

Turner felt the students who did attend the city workshops were given too much information. "Have you seen the packet they hand out?" said Turner.

"It's six inches thick. The students don't read all that."

Turner and a few of her neighbors are preparing a brochure of their own on city services which will be distributed door-to-door in her district only.

After the students have had time to read the brochure, Turner said residents will institute a "9:01 Watch." The name refers to the time stipulated in the city code after which citations for noise or disorderly conduct may be issued without warning.

According to Turner, the group will walk the

NEWARK POST ♦ POLICE BLOTTER

■ Police Blotter is compiled each week from the files of the Newark Police Department, The New Castle County Police Department and the Delaware State Police by staff writer Mary E. Petzak.

Alcohol involved in fatal accident

County police believe that alcohol was involved in a one-vehicle accident near Bar Drive on Old Baltimore Pike in Glasgow on Sept. 22 around 7:40 p.m. which left the driver and a passenger dead.

Kevin W. Blackman, 31, of New Castle, and William A. Sheppard, 28, of Elkton, were both killed when the 1991 Ford Mustang driven by Blackman skidded out of control and struck a utility pole before rolling over and coming to a stop on its roof. Two other passengers, Andrea L. Towey, 22, of New Castle, and Kelly P. Johnson, 27, of Newark, were taken to Christiana Hospital with numerous fractures and lacerations where they were listed in serious condition. Police are still investigating.

Car backs into liquor store

State police report that on Sept. 19 around 3:30 p.m. a 65-year-old Newark man reversed his Olds Cutlass for unknown reasons and backed into White Clay Liquors on Harmony Road. Neither the man nor two others in the store at time were injured but there was extensive damage to the store. Police charged the man with driving under the influence and not having a driver's license.

Drug house searched

County police report that on Sept. 24 around 11:45 a.m. undercover detectives executed a search warrant at a suspected drug house in Kimberton off Marrows Road. The search came after neighbors complained that the residents might be selling drugs. Two residents of the house, Mary L. Hall, 33, and Roderick Cherry, 34, were charged with delivering cocaine, possession with intent to deliver cocaine, maintaining a dwelling for delivery of cocaine and possession of drug paraphernalia. The police recovered a quantity of cocaine, drug paraphernalia and an undisclosed amount of cash during the search.

Home alone at loud party

On Sept. 21 around 9:45 p.m. police responded to a complaint of a loud party at East Mill Station in Newark. A 14-year-old was at the home which police said was "filled with alcohol." No adults were there at the time and police said numerous juveniles ran from the residence when they arrived. The youth was turned over to grandparents after police found the parents were at the beach.

Fight in cafe

On Sept. 23 around 1:45 a.m. employees of the East End Cafe reported to police that a 24-year-old Newark man instigated a fight and allegedly stuck three other Newark men injuring them slightly. The man was arrested and charged with assault.

Property damaged after party

A resident of North Chapel Street told Newark police that on Sept. 21 around 11 p.m. students leaving a party cut across the backyard of their home and crashed down a wire fence. A rose bush was also damaged. Police have no leads.

Wilbur St. vandalism

Newark police reported that sometime between 1 and 8 a.m. on Sept. 20 unknown persons uprooted flowers and painted a picture of a marijuana pipe on the sidewalk in front of a home on Wilbur Street. Police are investigating.

Greenway plan includes Newark

A study aimed at forming a greenway link spanning three states is underway. The proposed 7,800-acre tract of preserved public parkland would include the Fair Hill Natural Resource Area in Maryland and extend further north into Delaware and Pennsylvania along the area of the White Clay Creek.

Linda Bystrak, chair of the Mason-Dixon Greenway Committee, said the project will be historic when it is finally completed.

"We are making history. There are existing bi-state greenways, but there are no tri-state greenways. This would be the first. One thing the project will do is that it will help ensure that 100 years from now the area will still be green. It also provides a level of protection and provides a corridor for animals to migrate," Bystrak said.

A 90-day feasibility study was started earlier this month. When completed the consulting company RMC Environmental will present the overseeing committee with two potential options to create a wildlife corridor.

The project is likely to connect the 100 acres of Fair Hill natural resource land with White Clay Creek State Park in Newark.

Tunnels will be built under roadways to provide a natural pathway for animals to cross safely.

"What happens in there are areas of forestation which are not connected. For the animals in those habitats it's almost like they are on an island out in the middle of the sea. We want to create a natural corridor along the creek where they can move freely. We wanted to build tunnels instead of bridges because the animals are more likely to use a tunnel than a bridge," Bystrak said.

The project was begun in 1991 by the preservation group known as the White Clay Watershed Association (WCWA).

Bystrak explained the need for a connecting greenway began at the Fair Hill Nature Center.

FESTIVE OKTOBER!

"Gemütlichkeit," German for spirit of good fellowship, was how Cliff Weber, spokesperson for Delaware Saengerbund, described this past weekend's Oktoberfest. "The atmosphere brings out the best in people," said Weber. "It was infectious, everyone was smiling and having a good time." With both Friday and Saturday night's perfect Oktoberfest weather, about 20,000 people flocked to the three-day festival, compared to the 17,000 of last year. From the macarena to the chicken dance, people filled the dance floor all night long. And according to Weber, Majestic Amusements was spectacular. "They were wonderful with the children, there was a feeling of family on the midway," said Weber.

It's that time of year again!

Leaf collection in Newark begins on Monday, Oct. 14 and continues through Friday, Dec. 20.

Public works crews will attempt to adhere to the schedule listed below, but as the volume of leaves increase, it will take longer to complete each neighborhood. Equipment failures and inclement weather may cause further delays.

When the crews are unable to complete collection in a particular neighborhood on the scheduled day, they will return to that neighborhood the following week and begin at the point where they stopped.

Residents should expect to have leaves picked up at their homes at least four times, i.e., every two to three weeks during the 10-week collection period. Please note that the 1996 schedule has been changed from last year's schedule to allow communities to share the convenience of having leaf collection early in the week.

Avoid mixing rocks and sticks with leaves which may damage machinery in trucks.

Do not place brush in leaf pile, as it may clog machinery.

Rake and pile leaves in the grass-plot area between the curb and sidewalk. Do not rake leaves onto the street or curbs. Avoid mixing rocks and sticks or brush with leaves which may clog or damage machinery in trucks.

The schedule is:

■ MONDAY

Area west of Bent Lane and Radcliffe Drive including Nottingham Green, Pheasant Run, Cherry Hill, Elan, Cherry Hill Manor, Barksdale Estates, Country Hills, Country Place and Abbotsford.

■ TUESDAY

Oaklands, Nottingham Manor, College Park, Westfield, West Branch, Christianstead, Timber Creek, Woodmere, Valley Stream and Stone Spring.

■ WEDNESDAY

Southern area of the city including Devon, Binns, Arbour Park, Silverbrook, Yorkshire, Yorkshire Woods, Cobblefield and Cannons Gate.

■ THURSDAY

Center of Newark from Elkton Road to Marrows Road from Main Street to northern boundary of Tuesday's route.

■ FRIDAY

Northern portion of the city, north of Main Street and east of West Main Street/Nottingham Road excluding West Branch and Christianstead. Includes Fairfield, Fairfield Crest, Cleveland Avenue, Lumbrook, Creek Bend, Ridgewood Glen, Paper Mill Farms, Evergreen, Northgate Commons, Stafford, Parkview, the Hunt at Louviers, Middle Run Meadow and Jenny's Run.

Grass clippings will continue to be collected city-wide each Saturday through Oct. 12. If you have grass clippings after this date, please include them with your leaves for collection beginning the week of Oct. 14.

A community-based task force to evaluate strategic planning in the New Castle County Vo-Tech School District will convene in October, according to superintendent Dennis Loftus.

"We think involving the community in analysis and planning is an effective way to achieve results, build partnerships, and increase confidence in the programs we offer," Loftus said.

The Vo-Tech district has recently been the target of publicity relating to district expenditures at conferences. In addition to other considerations, the independent group will determine whether the district utilizes resources in a cost-effective manner to achieve its educational goals.

Loftus said the task force is expected to present a report to the board of education in January 1997.

Alcohol abuse grant awarded to Newark

A $700,000 grant to study the problem of student alcohol abuse in Newark has been awarded to the city of Newark and the University of Delaware.

In discussing the grant from the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation prior to the announcement, Mayor Ronald Gardner said Newark and the university were among the four U.S. colleges likely to be selected for a grant.

"We (felt) certain that we would be selected," said Gardner. "We have a real problem here."

Gardner said among the areas to be studied under the grant are the affects of alcohol on student health and effective ways to change the student behavior.

"The reports on student drinking at universities are pretty discouraging," said Gardner. "It appears that as much as 44 percent of students are considered heavy drinkers and only 1/2 of 1 percent acknowledge they are heavy drinkers — the others see themselves as the norm."

Gardner added, "That just shows what you're up against."

The first year of the grant is devoted to preparing a plan followed by four years of implementation.

Transit riders' input sought

TWO MEETINGS to address transit needs in the Newark area are scheduled for this week at offices of the Wilmington Area Planning Council (WILMAPCO) in Newark.

A rescheduled public hearing to obtain comments on proposed changes to the DART First State Route 16-Newark Express is planned for Thursday, Oct. 3.

According to state senator Steven Amick, the previous meeting held in August was poorly attended due to a lack of sufficient notice.

"My only concern is that we get better notice and more input this time," said Amick.

The proposal would allow the bus to continue on Casho Mill Road to Barksdale Road instead of turning into Nottingham Green, Nottingham Manor and Oaklands. Also proposed is a time change to replace the 2:35 p.m. trip from Rodney Square to 3:40 p.m. in order to accommodate more riders.

The night before, on Wednesday, Oct. 2, WILMAPCO will hold a meeting to address user preferences in transit throughout the county. Current and potential riders are urged to attend and express their needs regarding bus stops locations, bus shelters, routes and connections, and other related issues.

Both meetings will be held in suite 100 of WILMAPCO, Library Avenue Professional Building, 850 Library Avenue, Newark.

Home delivery for Abbottsford

ONE OF THE FEW single-family developments in Delaware with clusterboxes for mail delivery took on the U.S. postal service to change that and came up victorious.

"When Abbottsford was built, the law mandated that we had to have the clusterboxes," said civic association president Scott Bowling. "Later the law was changed but the postal service told us we had to keep the clusterboxes at the entrance to the community instead of mailboxes on posts at our homes."

Bowling said many townhouse communities in Delaware have clusterboxes for mail, but most single-family communities like Abbottsford are too spread out to make the arrangement acceptable.

For two years, the residents of the development off Barksdale Road called and wrote to the postal authorities at the regional office in New Jersey, demanding that the clusterboxes be removed. Finally they were told it could be done if 100 percent of the residents signed a petition.

"We got 105 of the 109 residents to sign," said Bowling. "so the postal service agreed to deliver mail to our homes if we installed the mailboxes between each two houses so they only had to stop half as much."

Bowling said a major concern is the fact that the clusterbox structure was located at the entrance of the development in a dangerous place on a hill.

"There's nowhere to pull off, so you have to stop in the road," resident Lori Marinucci explained. "Traffic coming over the hill almost runs into cars stopped at the clusterboxes."

Slippery conditions on the slope by the boxes caused liability concerns as well for the community, said Bowling, and residents complained that the boxes would freeze shut in winter and let the rain in to damage mail.

Other residents complained that stopping at the unsafe location was even worse in the evenings. "I don't always stop when I'm coming home from work," said Milly Yoder, "especially if it's late or dark."

The smallness of the boxes also caused problems. Yoder said too much mail jammed in the box when she didn't stop to collect it every day.

Abbottsford residents Joe Haley and Scott Bowling, who also serve as officers of the civic association, helped negotiate the compromise with the U.S. postal service which led to adjacent mailboxes between every two homes in the development.

"My husband gets business mail at our home and the boxes are so small you can't get all the mail in," added Marinucci. "There are larger boxes and a system where they put a key with a note in your box to tell you to look there for the oversized item."

However, Marinucci said the keys get broken, rusted, and just don't work. "When we moved here three years ago, the builder told us we would get mailboxes when all the homes were finished but it didn't happen," said Marinucci. "We would have gotten a post office box if we knew this would take so long."

Curbside mail delivery started in Abbottsford on Sept. 16. Contractor Gary Ellis, who is also an Abbottsford resident, helped the civic association install posts and mailboxes paid for by the residents throughout the development in one long weekend.

"We're very happy it's finally being done," said Ellis. "I especially thought it was good the way everyone cooperated. In fact, I delivered a box to one of the people who was against it and he seemed friendly enough."

Change is constant

THE ONLY CONSTANT is change. This adage applies to the city of Newark and its council as it meets the challenges of today and tomorrow.

Certainly, it's important to have laws, regulations and policies in place, against which officials can measure the validity of requests for official action.

But to hesitate to consider changes in the city's structure simply because one does not want to foster "exceptions to the rules" is wrong. Government — and the city council in particular — must take the lead in adapting to current trends and the climate of the marketplace.

This happened Monday night. Though only by a narrow vote, Monday night the city council approved a change in the definition of "fast food." The action and accompanying fireworks came at the request of a tenant in the new Galleria and at the urging of the Newark Business Association.

While we are sympathetic to dissenting councilmembers' concerns about the environment and how Saladworks' styrofoam plates may cause ecological damage, Mayor Gardner was correct in his assessment of the decision: it all boiled down to an economic issue, not an environmental one.

With the virtual explosion of development in the downtown area and the potential for more, the city of Newark must present itself as adaptable to the needs of businesses in the late 1990s.

The mayor said it best Monday night when he indicated that failure to allow disposable plateware at restaurants like Saladworks would have the effect of "disposing" of even more economic development in the Main Street area.

To do so would foster Councilman Tony Felicia's stated fear that Newark is portrayed throughout the New Castle County business community as anti-business. This charge is vehemently denied by city officials and rightfully so. Newark is a good place to live and do business because of its cautious approach to change.

But the decision before the council Monday night was, simply, a clear case of making a business-friendly decision. We applaud councilmembers Godwin, Zuck, Felicia and the mayor for their vote. Dissenting councilmembers Timmer, Grant and Wampler — whose council districts are closest to the downtown area — must be receptive to change when it benefits the economic vitality of Newark.

Where does a mom go to resign? - part III

The kid is now 10 years old going on 20. One of my favorite TV show's was the original "StarTrek". I've changed the opening spot to: Parenting, the final frontier. These are the trials and tribulations of every parent that ever was. As of late, the "monster" that surfaced last year continues to rear its ugly head every now and then. At times she acts responsibly and mature and I'll smile and whisper "this child of mine is such a good kid". I begin to treat her more like an adult person and then I pause and take a deep breath and exhale. My euphoria, though is short-lived. A few days later, the whiny, "mommy I'm bored and I don't have anything to do" child returns. All summer has been a see-saw between act-

"Booers" need to grow up

"BOOING" is for ghosts. The other kind of "booing" by so-called sports fans is despicable. It is definitely a contradiction in terms when a so-called "fan" (an ardent admirer) utters low-voiced sounds of contempt, scorn and disapproval at a sports event. The athletes and the teams do not need such "fans."

The recent UD-Villanova football game on Sept. 14 was a classic example of Delaware "fans" response to the failure of the Blue Hens to live up to the expectations of a certain number of spectators in the stands.

This week's picture shows how the Aetna firehouse on Academy Street looked in 1928. Lined up in front are the active firemen of the time and Police Chief William Cunningham, also an active engine driver. Along with the men are a 1921 Stutz pumper, a 1926 Seagraves pumper and a 1926 Studebaker ambulance. "Out of the Attic" features photographs from Newark's history, recent and long ago. #### Daring hold-up near Newark Held up by two men he had given a ride along the road shortly after midnight Saturday, near Newark, Robert W. Webb of 1224 Vandever Ave., Wilmington, was compelled to surrender his wallet containing $40 in cash, a gold watch and his automobile, a Stearns, valued at $2,000. As Webb got out of the machine one of the men kept a revolver leveled at his head and threatened to shoot if he attempted to interfere with them.

Sunday morning, State Detective Baldwin and City Detective Mahoney came upon the frame of a burned automobile. Examination of the license tags showed that it was the automobile stolen from Webb earlier in the morning. The machine was burned beyond all recognition.

Off-street parking project gets council green light

By unanimous vote of the Newark City Council Monday in support of the Newark Parking Authority, a long-dreamed about plan for off-street parking in traffic-congested downtown Newark is close to reality.

The vote by City Council was to instruct the City

Solicitor to direct a letter to Wilmington Trust Company guaranteeing a $75,000 loan by the bank to the Parking Authority.

The money will be used to develop and construct a 200-car parking lot in the interior of the block bounded by Main Street, Delaware Avenue, University of Delaware, and the Methodist Church.

Plight of environment leads to survey course

A new survey course called simply "An Introduction to Environmental Engineering" is being offered for the first time this semester at the University of Delaware partly to foster a greater interest in ecology and the environment among members of the student body, and partly to alleviate a shortage of specialists in the field.

"An Introduction to Environmental Engineering" marks the beginning of a new emphasis on courses in the field for those studying for their bachelors and masters degrees.

On tap: good drinking water

Murky water problems which have been plaguing

Newarkers since 1989 will be met with a barrage of solutions proposed by the Newark Water System Advisory Committee.

Dr. Robert D. Varin, director of the Delaware Water Resources Center and committee chairman, said the city could spend more than $2 million during the next year in Newark City Council chooses to implement the ideas.

Residents: heavy trucks are taking their toll

Residents in West Newark claim heavy truck traffic through their streets is causing broken windows, cracks in plaster and foundations, damaged sidewalks and disturbed sleep.

They feel the problem has been getting worse.

This week, residents living near the Del. 896 and 273 intersection decided to conduct a community truck watch. On an undisclosed date during the next couple of weeks, they will count the number of trucks and identify the companies utilizing the streets in front of their homes.

Brennan Estates open for business in Glasgow

By MARY E. PETZAK

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

FOLLOWING ALMOST FOUR years of meetings and proposals, Blenheim Homes is finally open for business in Brennan Estates at routes 896 and 71.

According to spokesperson Jack Hillerman, the 508-acre development across from Lums Pond will resemble a village with individual neighborhoods for single-family homes, semi-detached houses and townhouses.

"The first section, called The Meadows, will offer 237 single-family homes with five models and a variety of floor plans," said Hillerman.

Included in the designs are nine-foot ceilings on the first floors, two-car garages, basements for storage or a game room, and a rear deck. Preconstruction prices range from $137,900 to the $160s, said Hillerman.

The initial proposal for the development in 1992 called for 1,400 homes, commercial space and apartments. However, after dozens of public meetings and review by county officials, the developers agreed to limit the community to approximately 700 homes.

Hillerman said more than 100 acres of land has been set aside for woods and other open space and the community will have playgrounds, basketball and tennis courts, and a large, multi-purpose playing field suitable for baseball, softball or soccer.

Fifteen acres of land have also been offered to the Appoquinimink School District as a site for a new elementary school. "We do not know yet if they will use that," Hillerman.

In the event the school district does not want to build in that location, Blenheim has agreed to help them locate one more suitable.

Big changes occur when school starts

ing grown up one minute and reverting back to baby till I feel like a ping-pong ball.

Big changes occur when school starts and after the first few days she comes home with a brand new language and a list of "do not's" that include: "do not kiss me in front of anyone anymore; please don't walk me or meet me at the bus stop". My favorite is: "I'm not a baby anymore" and then turns around and starts to act like one. Some new ones are: "Do we have to go to K-Mart" - "if anyone sees me in there I'll be so embarrassed". Then there is "how rude" and "that blows" and one that I can relate to and said myself in the 60's is "cool".

One thing that seems to remain a constant is her love of school and excitement of learning. I continue to inhale, afraid that at any moment this too may change.

Clothes were not an issue last year. She wanted to pick them out herself, wearing the same favorite outfit every day if I let her. Articles of comfort were what she chose to wear. This year it's "do I look good in this?" and we're looking in the mirror more and paying more attention to her hair. I've also noticed the moodiness that is also new. One minute she's smiling, the next pouting and it makes me wonder if she is manic depressive or has a bipolar disorder. The constant use of the telephone is another thing that I really don't mind so much. I don't have to answer the phone anymore and that part is just wonderful. When she's on the phone, she's out of my hair.

The most notable difference between last year and this year is every parent's nightmare who has a daughter — boys!!! Boys are the number one topic of discussion, how cute they are and "is he looking at me". I have tried to remember if I was like this when I was her age, but it's been so long for this middle-aged mom that I can't remember.

I remain hopeful and stay in a continual state of prayer. Stay tuned, the best is yet to come!

SPECIAL TO THE NEWARK POST

PARTS ONE and two of this series, which were based on information supplied by the Agricultural Council of America, dealt with American agriculture and the economy, today's farm profile and American consumers. In this third and final part, I will focus on non-food uses of agricultural production and technology.

NON-FOOD USES

Within 25 years, non-food uses for agricultural products are expected to create 750,000 new jobs, increase farm income by $30 billion per year and contribute $100 billion annually to the economy.

A MARROWING EXPERIENCE

Christiana nurse sees need, donates life-saving bone marrow

By JULIA R. SAMPSON

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

CARLA PIAZZA has spent the last five-and-one-half years of her career as a registered nurse at the Christiana Hospital's Hematology Unit caring for cancer patients, many of whom are in the hospital for bone marrow transplants. Recently she played a different role in the transplant process — that of a donor.

"The fact that I was able to give a person a second chance at life is pretty overwhelming," said Piazza. "Carla is an energetic, enthusiastic person," said Gary Nobel RN, nurse manager of the Hematology Unit. "She's self-motivated and a team worker. Carla's very compassionate with her patients."

Before joining the staff at Christiana, Piazza began her nursing career in the rehabilitation unit called Pelleport, an old duPont estate which is no longer used for that purpose, but wanted something more fast-paced. She wanted to be in a hospital. Fascinated by how transplants can work and sometimes not work, and how the systems of the body work together, Piazza joined the Hematology Unit, which deals with diseases of the blood, in June of 1991.

About a year and a half ago the 25-year-old Newark resident participated in a blood drive sponsored by the Medical Center of Delaware's Cancer Center, in an effort to find potential bone marrow donors. "I've been donating blood at the blood bank for the past five years and the bone marrow blood drive gave me a chance to help somebody in a different way," remarked Piazza.

Piazza received a phone call in February of this year telling her that she was a close match but it took six months of testing before the actual donation date. It wasn't enough she was a close match, a series of other tests had to be performed before she was a confirmed match.

The recipient in this case was in her second remission so the tests took longer. "I had my Carla Piazza says donating her bone marrow gave her the chance to give the recipient a "second life." Piazza lives in Newark and works at Christiana Hospital.

DNA tested, chromosomes, antibodies, and I don't even remember what else," laughed Piazza.

"It's rare for two strangers to have a perfect match," explained Piazza. Siblings are the optimum choice, however if that is not an option other means, like Piazza's donation, are necessary to explore.

The recipient was a 38 year old acute Leukemia patient and mother of three boys. The donor and recipient are not able to know anything about each other except the bare essentials. "I don't even know where this person lives. And I won't know for about a year," said an exasperated Piazza.

According to Martha Lodge, spokesperson at Christiana Hospital, the "no contact" rule is that of the Bone Marrow Registry. Neither the patient nor the donor can have any contact with each other for a period of one year. After that time, if both parties consent, they may contact each other. "It's a very emotional time. All the medical risks need to be taken care of for the patient first."

As with any surgery requiring anesthesia there are always risks, however they are minimal, according to Piazza. And according to the Department of Anesthesia at the hospital, for a normal young healthy person minimal.

Prior to surgery Piazza had to donate two units (pints) of her own blood for herself and take iron pills. There is also "some discomfort," shrugged Piazza.

Six needles were inserted directly into the bone of the lower part of Piazza's back. Because Piazza is athletic her bones are

History and art collide at this exhibit

A NEW EXHIBIT which combines the art of photography, oral and written history and some excellent creative skills of design opened this month at the University of Pennsylvania Museum at 33rd and Spruce Streets in Philadelphia. I think that exhibitions which combine disciplines, in this case art and history, turn out to be more than the sum of its parts — with apologies to my math teacher.

The exhibition is called "One House, One Voice, One Heart: Native American Education at the Santa Fe Indian School." It is one of the museum's great traveling shows which will be here through the first of the year. Through the art of photography and history, "One House, One Voice, One Heart" looks at the long tradition of education at the Santa Fe institution. I think the show means even more to those of us who have been in Santa Fe and seen the uphill struggle this school has had through the last hundred years.

The treatment of the Native Americans by the newcomers to these shores is a story riddled with deep shame. For the Native Americans it is one of great degradation. To say the very least, it is not one of the proud moments — and there were many proud moments — in the history of our nation.

For more than a century the Santa Fe Indian School has been an important part in the lives of the people it serves. The Pueblo Indian community has been at the heart of the school's identity notwithstanding the capricious swings in our federal Indian policy between the elimination of tribal cultures to the tolerance of cultural diversity. It is interesting to note that the government did not even permit the parents of the children a voice in the education of their own children. But, the school survived. Then, in the 1970s, parents and the tribes finally got a voice in the educational process of their offspring.

The exhibit now visiting the U of P Museum is sponsored by the New Mexico Pueblo Indians and the Museum of New Mexico. It is based on an oral history project sponsored by the Santa Fe Indian school in 1986 and 1987. The heart of "One House, One Voice, One Heart" is a collection of great historical photography and large photo murals. They are supported by captions drawn from oral history interviews with many people, insiders who attended or worked at the school since the turn of the century.

This is not a typical alumni meeting with old photos for the graduates to look at and smile as they remember "the good old days." These photos and captions combine to tell an often harsh, sometimes bittersweet, story of life and learning at the Santa Fe Indian School. The very young in your family might not appreciate this show, but from teens on, there is much to be learned from and gained at this show.

The work for the exhibition actually began over eleven years ago when the Pueblo Governors supported an oral history project that brought together Indian educators, elders from the tribal communities, historians and students to study the role of formal education in the development of Indian communities. The National Endowment for the Humanities soon became involved and the project was launched.

This is one of many photographs in the exhibit "One House, One Voice, One Heart: Native American Education at the Santa Fe Indian School now at the University of Pennsylvania Museum.

If you really get interested in what you see at the museum, there is a tome which I would recommend to you. It is by Sally Hyer, one of the prime movers of the exhibition, and bears the same title as the exhibition. It contains over 90 duotone photographs and is available in the Museum Shop near the entrance to the institution.

January 5, 1997, the last day of this exhibit, will roll around quickly enough. Plan now to get to Philadelphia to see "One House, One Voice, One Heart." The museum is easily accessible by car, Amtrak or SEPTA. If you take the regional rail service, there is a new station right at the University of Pennsylvania so you no longer have to walk from Pennsylvania Station at 30th Street.

The University Museum is open Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and on Sunday from 1 to 5 p.m. Admission for adults is $5, $2.50 for seniors and students with valid ID. For more information, 215-898-4000.

Trash not only issue in council decision

► CAFETERIA, from 1

planner for the city. "They're already allowed to use disposables for takeout."

Cafeteria-style restaurants will still need special use permits but will not have to meet area requirements. "By continuing to require the permits, the city will be able to scrutinize each business's operation before allowing additional ones to open," said Roser.

City councilmember Thomas Wampler said he was concerned about people shifting to disposable containers and adding to litter.

"I'm also concerned that just because an existing business is not satisfied with the code, we have to change for the convenience of the business," said Wampler.

Councilmember Nancy Turner said it appeared to her that Saladworks did not have a good reason for the change. "They want this 'just because,'" said Turner. "Because what? It costs them $140 a month to wash dishes? I think we should be more concerned about the environment."

Mayor Ronald Gardner pointed out that a very small percentage of city municipal waste traditionally went for "food-oriented" garbage. "There's also the fact that it's not always as healthy to wash dishes for reuse."

Anthony Felicia criticized council for a less than "healthy" attitude toward new business in the city. "I'm embarrassed at the way we treat business in Newark," said Felicia. "Companies like Saladworks are part of the revitalization on Main Street that's helping Newark."

He added, "If people don't think it's environmentally correct to use disposables then they can make the decision not to go there."

Edward A. Tarlov, attorney for Saladworks, told council that Saladworks "will" go out of business if forced to continue using non-disposables in their operation in Newark. "A market analysis of a Saladworks franchise shows that the use of styrofoam bowls is essential to the economics of it," said Tarlov. "There's a very tight margin for overhead."

Among the extra expenses cited by Tarlov were: buying replacements for the reusable plasticware people accidentally throw out; paying salary and benefits to waitstaff to bus tables and keep people from throwing bowls away; and $140 per month for the cost of running a dishwasher.

Before calling for the vote Mayor Gardner concluded, "This is not about the environment — this is about disposables. We live in a disposable age and if we don't allow this change in our code, we risk disposing of potential businesses on Main Street."

suspects and received a concussion when he fell. Police said his condition was not serious.

Crowell said police have reason to believe that the suspects were attempting to rob the home. The two men, who quickly left the scene, were described as African-American males in their late teens to early 20s and wearing hooded jackets or sweatshirts which partially hid their faces.

Two of the children, the 11-year-old and a 5-year-old belonged to the girlfriend. The third child was their 8-year-old cousin. All three children had attended a birthday party for Cook's 9-year-old son at the residence earlier in the day.

Although it appears that a Chevrolet car seen in the area at the time was not involved, Crowell said they were grateful to the person who reported seeing it. "We're asking anyone with any information at all to please call New Castle County Detectives at 571-7924."

lecturing to a group of people in the stands near me at a football game, but it happened at the Villanova game last Saturday. As I turned to address these aficionados of the "win-win-win-never-loose" mentality, I chastised them with the following words: "Do not boo the team! They don't need your boos! If you can't cheer them on and support them, just stay home. You're just a bunch of fair-weather fans!"

They all looked at me and there wasn't a peep out of one of them. A preteen boy sitting behind me, with whom I had been kibitzing throughout the game, congratulated me on my spiel and said he would like to have told them the same thing, except "who would listen to a kid?" After the game, a lady leaving the stands ahead of me commented, "You were absolutely right. They needed that."

So UD was shut out by Villanova, 27-0. So the Hens had three fumbles recovered by Villanova, two interceptions, one blocked field goal and one blocked punt. Do you think for one minute that all of these mishaps were in the Hens' game plan? Would they like to have performed better? Was this the first loss for the Fightin' Blue Hens or the last? The answers are obvious.

It is also obvious that "boos" need to grow up!

Church breaks new ground in Bear

By MARY E. PETZAK

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

Thrilled wasn't the word for the emotion that filled the sanctuary at St. Elizabeth Ann Seton Parish in Bear on Sept. 15. Hugs, tears, and smiles, smiles, smiles made the joy palpable as the seats overflowed and people crowded the doorways.

After 17 years of celebrating Mass in rented space at Pleasantville School and then on folding chairs in their parish hall, the parishioners are finally getting a church.

"Father Clem put up a sign by the road this week saying 'Groundbreaking Sunday - Thanks be to God,'" said parishioner Toni Hebert. "We've had people who aren't even parishioners calling to congratulate us!"

The diocese of Wilmington originally formed the parish from two others in Wilmington Manor and Newark because of increasing development in the Bear area in the late 1970s.

According to the pastor, Father Clemens Manista, a mini-recession almost immediately quashed plans for building in the area that would have justified a church at that time.

Hebert, a resident of Crofton, said, "We're all walking on cloud nine. It's going to be a beautiful building for the whole area — not just for the parish."

The groundbreaking ceremony was preceded by a Mass celebrated by Bishop Michael A. Saltarelli of the diocese of Wilmington, assisted by Father Manista and parochial vicar, Father Joseph V. Bozzelli.

Honor guards from the Knights of Columbus in plumes and capes lent pomp to the occasion, but the circumstance belonged to the hundreds of shirt-sleeved parents and fidgeting children who made it all happen.

"Most churches are built on the backs of poor and middle-class people," said Bishop Saltarelli, praising the enormous fund-raising efforts which allowed the construction to begin. "They come from the love, faith, and sacrifices of people like you who know what mortgages are. I'm privileged to be here with you today."

Paul Adams, chairman of the new church committee and one of the original parishioners who helped build the parish hall, spoke movingly of the "culmination of days and days" of work. "Somewhere Father Gardiner is looking down on us," said Adams, referring to the parish's founding pastor.

The parish currently has over a 1,000 families but a study by the University of Delaware and DelDOT indicate population growth which could mean as many as 3,000 parish families by the year 2010.

Construction of the $3.1 million church designed by architect George Yu is expected to take about 15 months. Father Manista said they were grateful that the diocese's Chancery Office was letting them proceed even though they had not yet "broken through the thermometer" on their fund-raising chart.

Although the parish successfully solicited donations from the community and local businesses, Father Manista indicated that a substantial part of the funding for the church will come from the parish itself. "We'll need to continue raising money and having carnivals for years to come," said Manista. "But today we'll just celebrate."

Pain may be eliminated for millions

(SPECIAL) A drug that is exciting researchers in the treatment of pain has been formulated into a new product known as "Arthur Itis™" and is being called a "Medical Miracle" by some, in the treatment of debilitating conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, painful muscles aches, joint aches, simple backache, bruises, and more. Although the mechanism of action is unclear, experiments indicate that Arthur Itis™ relieves pain by first selectively attracting and then destroying the messenger chemical which carries pain sensations to the brain, thus eliminating pain in the affected area. Arthur Itis™ is an odorless, greaseless, nonstaining cream, and is available immediately without a prescription and is guaranteed to work or your money back.

streets looking for noisy residences and reporting them to the police. "We have a lot of people in my district who are afraid of retaliation by neighbors if they report them to the police," explained Turner.

Cpl. David Martin, spokesperson for the Newark Police, said that people who call in complaints do not have to give their names and the police do not have access to the locations of incoming calls.

"If you want to remain anonymous, you can, and we never tell people who called in a complaint," said Martin. "We also ask people if they want an officer to contact them and they can say no."

Martin said the police are particularly sensitive to complaints about noise and other situations involving neighbors. "We always go out to check complaints about noise and loud parties," said Martin. "However, if you don't give your name, and there isn't any noise when we get there, we can't file a complaint and there's no way to get one from you."

Turner admitted that residents currently reported for noise violations do not know who called police and also said the '9:01 Watch' could not guarantee that those cited would not hold nearby neighbors responsible in any event.

Although Turner compared the group of residents to a "community watch," she said they will not be looking for any violations except those related to noise.

In addition, she said the group will probably only patrol shortly after 9 p.m. on weekends and will not patrol continuously during the night.

Christiana rebounds; rips Dover

Vikings pound Senators for first victory

By ERIC FINE

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

CHRISTIANA — Christiana showed a rugged defense while generating four touchdowns in the final three quarters en route to 29-6 win over Dover. Last Saturday's win was the first for the Vikings after an opening-day upset to St. Mark's.

Christiana got a particularly strong effort from defensive line and its linebackers, who punished Dover's quarterback Rusty McKinney all afternoon. The offense made the most of the ground game, getting 186 yards and a touchdown from Calvin Carr Jr. and two more trips to the end zone courtesy of Aaron Reynolds.

The Vikings, who play Seaford Saturday, had a 22-0 shutout going into the fourth quarter, but the Senators finally scored after blocking a punt.

"I'm very happy the boys won, [but] I did not think we played well," said Christiana Coach Bill Muehleisen, citing his team's killer combination of fumbles and penalties. But he did give credit where credit was due.

"I thought the defense was spectacular," the veteran coach said. "We had a good pass rush, but we had a few contain problems. Hopefully, the things that we saw were correctable."

"But I thought that as a team, [the players] were where they were supposed to be most of the time."

Muehleisen offered special praise for linebackers Andrew Ransome, Chris Vento, Brian Salerni and MacDonald Roberts; and linemen Paul Oakes, Travis King, Brian Haman and Angel Morales.

The Viking players attributed a stronger work ethic for their improved play.

"We practiced harder," said Carr, a junior. "We were more prepared. We came together on offense and on defense. The offensive line was awesome."

Their 17-7 loss to the Spartans also gave them incentive. "I think we knew we were better and we wanted to show that."

Carr said little about tomorrow's matchup with Seaford. The outcome of the game will come down to Christiana's commitment to winning, rather than anything in particular Seaford tries against his team.

"If we continue to practice hard and continue to play hard," Carr said, "we'll win. We have the potential to beat any team."

Christiana defensive end Travis King also attributed his team's improved performance to its intensity level. "We turned it up [last] week," the junior said, "but [their overall game] is still not where we want it."

But King expressed confidence the Vikings are headed in the right direction. "We work hard each day and improve."

He said his line's big day probably came down to strength and technique. "I think we were a little stronger and a little bit smarter," King said.

And a lot happier now that they have a win under their belts.

St. Mark's soccer team on a roll

By MARTY VALANIA

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

The St. Mark's High soccer team, through its first seven games, has clearly established itself as one of the best teams in the state.

Never was that more clear than in last Thursday night's 4-0 victory over neighborhood rival Newark.

The Spartans, now 7-0, got two goals from Chris Ricevuto and one each from Jason Dzielak and Mike Romanczuk to top the Yellowjackets — who are perennially also one of the state's best squads.

"That was our best game," said St. Mark's Coach Tom DeMatteis. "We really played well for both halves."

St. Mark's also knocked off William Penn and Chestnut Hill Academy (Pa.) during the past week.

Big plays lift Newark over Caesar Rodney

By MARTY VALANIA

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

BIG PLAYS OFTEN ARE the difference in high school football games. The team that makes the most in a game usually wins.

Newark High has certainly proved that in its first two games — both wins. The latest evidence, a 28-11 victory over Caesar Rodney, came last Friday night when Richie Parson returned a punt 60 yards for a touchdown and Duevorn Harris returned a fumble for a TD. Another score came on a 40-yard touchdown pass from Barry Zehnder to Parson.

The victory pushed the Yellowjackets record to 2-0 on the season and ended the Riders' 23-game regular-season winning streak.

"We certainly don't apologize for having the ability to make a big play or winning on big plays," said Newark Coach Butch Simpson. "Big plays make it easy on a coaching staff. You don't have to make the next call."

"But to put together a 12-15 play, 80-yard drive is very difficult, especially in high school football. There are numerous opportunities to self-destruct — assignment problems, penalties and everyone in high school blitzes on defense now. There's just a lot possible problems when you have to rely on marching the ball that far all the time."

Newark, however, did display the ability to drive the ball against CR. The Jackets moved the ball 64 yards on eight plays on their initial possession of the game.

"We're very unhappy with the number of times we've gone three plays and out," said Simpson, whose team has run 51 fewer offensive plays than the opposition over the course of the

Caravel field hockey team gets offensive

By ERIC FINE

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

Caravel's field hockey team has a simple formula for winning — putting the ball in the cage.

The Bucs (2-2-1) have gone to town in their two wins, beating Wilmington High 8-0 and Harford (Md.) Christian 6-0. That's lots of scoring, folks. But their offense wasn't productive in a 1-1 tie against Wilmington Friends, a 5-2 loss to St. Andrews or in a 3-0 loss to Ursuline on Tuesday.

Diana North, Caravel's second-year coach, has no explanation for her team's inconsistency. "I'm not sure," said North, a wing on Concord's 1978 state championship team. "I might need to [move] a couple people around. I'm still trying to find something that works."

But the young Bucs — they start only five seniors — are vastly improved over last year's team that won only six games. The difference? Again it's in the offense. Caravel scored 19 goals in '95. The team has already scored 17 goals in a mere five games, despite being shut out in one of them.

Senior Megan Biddle, who guarded the cage last season after transferring from Middletown, is playing center forward. "She is very together," North said. "Very positive, very motivated ... [and] very aggressive. She's just hungry to score goals."

Biddle scored one goal against Wilmington and three against Harford Christian.

Biddle and senior Lisa Delcollo, who is taking Biddle's place in the cage, are serving as co-captains. The coach credits their influence for improving the team's work ethic.

"[The players] can work without me being there to push them," North said. "They're very self-motivated. And I have a deeper bench than I had last year. I love to see them work."

Another bright spot has been the play of forward Stephanie Mayhart, an eighth grader. Mayhart picked up a goal against Wilmington, two against Harford and accounted for the team's output against St. Andrews.

Though the chemistry is also much improved, the team will prosper only if shows up for each match prepared to play.

"We know we're a small school, and we have to work hard for all our wins" North said. "We can't afford to take anybody lightly."

“They're very self motivated.”

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

Mike Watkins — St. Mark's

ST. MARK'S HIGH HALFBACK Mike Watkins has feasted on Delcastle since the beginning of his career.

But the senior outdid himself last Saturday after rushing for 336 yards on 39 carries and scoring all four of the Spartans' touchdowns in their 28-8 win over the Cougars.

The 18-year-old Newark resident also rushed for 116 yards in the Spartans' 43-42 loss to Brandywine in Week 1 and 195 yards against Christiana in their 17-7 upset of the then-No. 1 Vikings. That's 647 yards in just three games — what most backs would be happy to get in a season.

Ironically, St. Mark's Coach Vinnie Scott had talked about throwing the ball more before the season started. Not that the air-game was such a bad idea. "I know we can throw the ball," Watkins said. "But the running game we have, [and] we're just sticking with it."

Watkins' secret? He wants the ball. And he's hard to bring down after he gets it.

"I usually look for the holes," he said. "If there's the littlest bit of light, I go for it. I usually can turn it into something. ... I'll carry the ball as many times as Coach Scott wants. I get tired, but I can suck it up.

"That's what I'm there for. That's what I love to do."

Against Delcastle, Watkins found lots of light courtesy of the left side of his line: guard Matt Deakins, tackle Brian Santoro and tight end Kevin Bock. Watkins scored two TDs in the second quarter to put St. Mark's up 13-0, then added one in each of the third and fourth quarters. He scored two in the Red Zone (from the two-yard line and the one-yard line) and two on Big Plays (80- and 43-yard runs are always big plays).

The runs reflect the 5-foot-9, 180-pound back's blend of speed and power. He's been timed at 4.4 in the 40-yard dash, and he can perform sets of squats with a 420-pound barbell burning into his shoulders. He can also bench press a maximum of 300 pounds, which isn't too shabby either.

Blue Hens prep for Maine

Delaware heads north after WCU win

By MARTY VALANIA

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

The expected easy early season march toward the NCAA playoffs as turned out to be anything but easy for the University of Delaware football team.

After pulling out a thrilling 24-17 victory over Division II rival West Chester last Saturday, the Blue Hens travel to Yankee Conference foe Maine this weekend.

Delaware ripped Maine 61-0 last season. This year, however, the Black Bears are 3-1 with impressive wins over Boston University (45-8) and Rhode Island (58-19).

Add to the mix that Maine feels that Delaware ran the score up last season and, because of bleacher condemnations at the Black Bears' stadium, the game will be played in a high school atmosphere, and it's not hard to see that the Hens will not have as easy a time as last year.

"It's not a comfortable situation to be in," said Delaware Coach Tubby Raymond. "I know they believe that we ran the score up on them last year. We really didn't — we even sat on the ball at the end of the game. Obviously, we never try to embarrass anybody."

After dropping its opening game 22-21 to Northeastern, Maine has ripped off three straight wins. That equals the Black Bears' win total from last season when they compiled a 3-8 record.

"I think the kids have grown up some," said Maine Coach Jack Cosgrove. "They've shown some maturity."

On last year's game against Delaware the only thing Cosgrove would say was "it was a complete nightmare — from the trip down to the game itself."

There, obviously, is some hard feelings that remain, however. When Delaware received its tapes from the Maine staff, there was a big piece of tape with "Villanova #1" scrawled across the case.

It wouldn't be difficult to see where the bad blood comes from. Besides last year's pasting, Cosgrove is just 1-2 against Delaware as a head coach. Cosgrove, though, also played four years for the Black Bears. During that period, Delaware beat Maine four straight times by the combined score of 158-22.

Despite the feelings and Delaware's early-season struggles, Cosgrove still feels he's facing a good Blue Hen squad.

"We still have a tremendous respect for Coach Raymond and Delaware," the Maine coach said. "I think, like any football team, they just had a bad game against Villanova. All football teams play a bad game every so often."

"The best teams in our league usually have been the ones with the best quarterbacks. And Leo Hamlett is still the best quarterback in this league."

Maine has been led by its running attack. Bob Jameson and Andre Pam both have gained over 100 yards rushing in each of the last two games (wins over BU and Rhode Island). The 58 points against Rhode Island are the most points Maine has scored in nine years.

"They're playing a lot better," Raymond said of the Black Bears. "And they're playing at home. Some teams just play a lot better at home."

"Plus, there are difficulties in playing up there. There is no college football atmosphere (games are often played in front of less than 3,000 people) and there is two locker rooms for the visiting team. They're so small that the whole team can't fit in one locker room. We have the defense in one and the offense in another and it's a mess."

St. Mark's stays unbeaten on season

► SPARTANS, from 18

Senior Andrew Robert, senior Jarrod Doucette and junior Rob Ruberto each scored a goal in the team's 3-1 victory over the Colonials Tuesday.

"I was a little disappointed in the way we played," DeMatteis said of his team's win over William Penn. "I thought we came out a little flat and were really unable to have anybody pick us up for awhile."

In between those two games, St. Mark's earned its first win, 3-0, over Pennsylvania power Chestnut Hill Academy.

Ruberto, Dzielak and Doucette all scored one goal apiece to help the Spartans to the victory.

"That was a good win for us," DeMatteis said. "We've never beaten that team before. We tied them once and lost to them once. So it was a good win."

"Ricevuto really was a big difference in the second half. He got to every ball and started our attack repeatedly in the second half. Even though he didn't get a goal, he was a big key for us."

Joey Iudica has also been very strong in goal for St. Mark's.

"Joey's been playing very well this season — he's been doing the same things he's been doing for three years for us," the coach said of his goalkeeper, who has twice been a second team all-state selection. "With our schedule, he's faced a lot of tough teams already and has made some unbelievable saves."

Making the strong start even more amazing is the fact that the team has been riddled with injuries and sickness.

"We haven't had our entire team for a whole game yet," DeMatteis said. "I'd really like to see everyone get healthy. When we can get everybody healthy we can really use our depth to our advantage."

The injuries, though, have given a couple of players a chance to shine.

"Andrew Veveiros, Rob Ballas and Jason Kraiss have really played well," DeMatteis said. "We've really had some big games from these guys."

The Spartans don't play again until Tuesday when they play West Chester East.

"Hopefully, we can just keep playing well and keep improving," DeMatteis said.

Glasgow's soccer team keeps winning, but the coach still believes the defending state champion is falling well short of its potential.

Glasgow streaked to its fourth straight win Tuesday, with a 5-2 rout of Middletown at home. Second-half goals by David Hudson, Brooks Buckingham and Steve Scruggs put the Cavaliers away. The Dragons led 2-1 at halftime behind goals by Hudson and Ivan Vidanovic.

Glasgow faces Caesar Rodney at home Saturday in the second half of a double-header that matches up Newark and Dover in the 6 p.m. opener. The Dragons play against cross-town rival Newark Tuesday, then have a week off before their next game.

Despite the winning streak, Coach Bob Bussiere has criticized his team for lacking an attitude, especially in practice the players are "going through the motions."

"Last year, there always seemed to be a spark in practice," Bussiere said. "This year it just doesn't seem to be there."

At the same time, the coach doesn't want to overlook his team's performance after a 1-0 loss to Sallies in the opener. The Dragons had beaten McKean 4-0, William Penn 7-3 and Dover 5-0 before the Middletown match.

Against the Colonials, Glasgow scored three goals in the match's first five minutes, two of which were kicked in by Hudson, a junior All-State forward. Josh Katz, a senior co-captain, Scruggs, Ralph Belford and Vidanovic also scored. Katz kicked in two against Dover; Scruggs, Buckingham and Hudson each scored one.

That looks pretty good, especially on paper. But Bussiere is looking past the scores.

"Maybe I'm being too picky," he said. "[But] the standards for this team went up" after going 19-1 en route to the school's first soccer title in 1995. "Right now we're well below that line."

Glasgow edges Middletown in overtime to even record

Adams' TD and conversion boost Dragons

GLASGOW — Though it's a little early to make predictions, the Dragons demonstrated the intangibles necessary for a successful season in their 16-14 overtime win against Middletown.

Moreover, Glasgow's tenacity in its come-from-behind win last Friday spelled the difference between having to wait seven games for its only win last season versus getting it in Week 2.

"Last year we would have quit," Glasgow quarterback Ike Wilson said. "We kept fighting."

"We back, baby. We back," chanted Brian Duncan, the Dragons' mammoth 325-pound tackle who shut down Middletown's inside running game. "We got confidence. Last year we didn't trust each other."

Glasgow halfback John Adams scored all eight points in the overtime period on three running plays. Middletown answered Adams touchdown, but a sweep to the right side fell inches short.

Linebacker Jason Deal and tackle John Babb, the Dragons' other resident behemoth, collaborated on the stop. "Babb grabbed his ankle, and I hit him up top," said Deal, a senior who is one of the team's three quarterbacks. "The guard took out the score.

Duncan and Wilson both spoke of the tremendous pressure on the team to avoid a repeat of last season. After the Dragons opened the season with a loss at Caesar Rodney, fellow students had reminded the players of their dismal 1-9 record in '95.

"It's really been timing," Glasgow Coach Dave Scott said. "We would get nine yards, then get nothing. Offense takes longer than defense [to develop]."

The players celebrated the win by dumping a vat of water on Scott, who happily shrugged it off. "I don't mind," he said. "[There have been] too few of these."

The Dragons face Dover Friday, who lost to Christiana 29-6 last week. And while the defense has already shown it's ready for prime time, Scott believes the unit will have to play an even greater role to help rejuvenate the offense.

"We'd like to come out and create a turnover right off the bat," he said. "We haven't been ahead [early] all year. Confidence comes when you're ahead, not when you're coming off a 1-9 season."

"We'd like to get a little loose. This team might get scary if it gets a 14-0 lead on somebody."

the corner, the runner cut inside. ...It was like a blur. I saw him and me and went after him."

Glasgow fell behind 8-0 about halfway into the third quarter after Middletown's Brandon Brown scored on a 38-yard run, then completed a two-point conversion. But Wilson finally hit split end Brian "Bird" Miller in the end zone with a long pass with 4:30 remaining in the game. A short pass to Lee Geissler

St. Mark's spikes Padua, Newark

By ERIC FINE

NEWARK POST STAFF WRITER

MILLTOWN — St. Mark's saved its best for last in its 15-7, 15-10 sweep of Padua in a Catholic Conference match.

The defending state champions, who improved their record to a perfect 8-0, also swept Newark 15-11, 16-14 on Saturday.

On Tuesday, the Spartans fought from behind in the second game against a scrappy Padua team. Padua "dug" its way to a 10-7 lead, doing a darn good imitation of a pinball machine with a some spectacular digs and blocks of what looked like sure points.

But St. Mark's regrouped behind defensive specialist Susan Oberlander. With the senior serving, the Spartans ran off seven straight points. Kristen Darby's sixth kill of the evening finally put the match away.

"The coach told me, 'Go in there and be aggressive,'" Oberlander said. "And to serve hard." We just needed something to push us, to get us back into it."

Said Darby, "We really dug in deep. We knew we had to work for the points, that the points weren't going to come to us."

St. Mark's Coach Dave Stover said his team lacks intensity at times. He attributed its struggles to an inconsistent passing game.

"It started with the passing," Stover said of St. Mark's second-game comeback. "And when you have two All-State players up front" — Darby and middle hitter Kate Hubbard — "it's a very potent offense."

Hubbard (7 kills, 3 blocks, 7 digs), Darby (8 digs, 2 aces), Oberlander (5 digs, 3 aces) and Lisa Darby (21 assists) contributed to St. Mark's second conference win of the season.

Slugging it out

Last Saturday's match at Newark was a hitter's paradise, for both teams. The Spartans slammed 40 kills and committed only three hitting errors over the two games.

St. Mark's battled back from 14-12 disadvantage in the second game, which Stover found encouraging. "That's a sign of a very good team, when it keeps its composure," he said. "They [now] know they have the capacity to maintain their poise."

"It all comes back to the offense — if you keep attacking, attacking, good things will happen."

Kristen Darby (15 kills, 15 digs, 18 perfect passes), Hubbard (11 kills, 7 digs, 12 perfect passes, 3 blocks) and Lisa Darby (43 assists) led the way for the Spartans. For Newark, middle hitter Andrea Clarke (10 kills, 7 blocks), Meredith McIntosh (7 kills, 12 perfect passes, 10 digs), Megan Hoosty (4 kills, 16 perfect passes, 18 digs), Paige Cunningham (6 kills, 9 perfect passes, 16 digs) and Cori James (25 assists) led the way.

POST PICKS OF THE WEEK

After just a mediocre start to the season, we came on strong last week.

That's right, we zipped through the six game schedule undefeated to improve the season's record to 9-3. The rust is totally gone now after that year lay off and we're ready to get on with the task of successfully picking games the rest of the season.

There are some big games this weekend in which local teams play each other. St. Mark's and Newark square off as do Caravel and Hodgson. Both should be good games as will Dover and Glasgow and Christiana and Seaford.

It should be an interesting weekend.

NEWARK (2-0) VS. ST. MARK'S (2-1) — Friday night at Baynard Stadium, 7:30. This is a very big game for both teams. The Spartans, not being a member of a conference, may need the game more. With one loss, St. Mark's may have to win the rest of its games to get in the state tournament. The Spartans are a playoff caliber team but really must win to realistically stay in the hunt.

Mike Watkins rolled up over 300 yards rushing last week against Delcastle and the Spartans would love to establish that kind of rushing game against the Yellowjackets.

That, however, may be more difficult to do than it was against the Cougars. Newark has played strong defense in its two wins over Salesianum and Caesar Rodney. And while the Spartans will try and grind out victories, the Jackets will strike quickly with the big play. Big plays have led directly to both Newark wins. The Pick: Newark 22, St. Mark's 21.

GLASGOW (1-1) VS. DOVER (1-1) — Friday night at Glasgow, 7. The Dragons are coming off a big overtime win over Middletown while the Senators were hammered by Christiana last week. Both teams are solid Division I teams that could use this big inter-conference win in preparation for the upcoming conference games. The game will be a good barometer of how each team will do during its respective conference season. The Glasgow defense has played well this season while the offense is still trying to break out. Maybe last week's overtime win will be a catalyst for the Dragons. The Pick: Glasgow 16, Dover 13.

CARAVEL (2-0) VS. HODGSON (3-0) — Saturday afternoon at Hodgson, 1:30. This is a big game in the Bear/Glasgow area. And this year it could be very competitive. The Bucs are off to a great start, beating McKean and Woodbridge handily. Hodgson, too, is off to a great start this season. The Silver Eagles have knocked off Archmere, Academy-New Church and North East (Md.). Hodgson has been led by a strong running game headed by Jabarr Truitt. Both teams are somewhat young but also talented. It should be a very good one. The Pick: Hodgson 20, Caravel 15.

CHRISTIANA (1-1) VS. SEAFORD (2-0) — Saturday afternoon at Christiana's Coder Field, 1. Another big matchup between a Henlopen North team and Flight A team. The Vikings and the Blue Jays always seem to be among the better teams in the state and this year is no exception. The Vikings, after dropping their opener to St. Mark's, rebounded with a big win over Dover. Seaford has won two games, but struggled some with Concord. If Christiana is as good as most people still think it is, they should find a way to win this game. The Pick: Christiana 28, Seaford 12.

Newark, St. M face off

► NEWARK, from 18

first two games. "We're not a ball control team, but we think we have the people and the potential to do some of that as the season goes on."

Simpson, in fact, has the best of all worlds for a coach. His team is unbeaten, with wins over two of the state's most respected programs, and it has room to improve.

"There are a number of things we're not pleased with," said the coach. "We try to explain some of these things to the players. Fortunately, we've been able to overcome the problems that have haunted us."

While Parsons, Harris and full-back Corey Wallace have received most of the attention this season, Simpson points out that senior captain Jeff Knight (offensive guard and defensive lineman) and senior linebacker Ivory Jones have been big keys to the team's early season success.

Newark now turns its attention to a very good St. Mark's team (2-1) that has beaten Christiana and Delcastle and lost a wild 42-41 overtime contest to Brandywine. Last week against Delcastle, Spartans' back Mike Watkins rolled up 333 yards rushing.

"St. Mark's is a solid football team," Simpson said. "I believe, without putting down Salesianum or CR, that they are the best team we've played so far."

"Mike Watkins is a special player. I wish he played for us. But he's also supported by a lot of other good football players."

The game is Friday night at 7:30 at Baynard Stadium.

"All the kids all know each other," Simpson said. "It's for bragging rights — it's a lot of what high school football is all about. It's a healthy game."
