Newark School District Financial Report Lists 94.7% State Aid Funds

A study of the recently completed financial report of the Newark school district indicates that 94.7 percent of expenses for the 1953-54 school year were met from state funds and 5.3 percent of these expenses were covered by local funds.

A total of $568,424.10 was expended on current operating costs. Of this total, $538,127.81 was state money and $30,296.29 was local money. A breakdown of these expenditures shows that $501,541.96 was spent for salaries; contract repairs required $1,678.92; capital outlay required $8,400; all other costs totaled $3,803.20.

In addition to the $30,296.29 of local monies included in the current operating expenses, an additional sum of $84,333.81 was expended. The major item under this expenditure was bonded indebtedness, including bond payments and interest for which $62,282.50 was paid out.

In the case of bonded indebtedness local monies are in turn matched with state funds in the ratio of about two dollars of local money for each dollar of state money. Additional expenditures of local money were for the city's share in the sum of $2,000 which is in turn matched with state funds, dollar for dollar. Miscellaneous expenditures amounted to $7,098.62 and maintenance costs, including use of the temporary Brookside school building totaled $12,872.69.

7-Yr. Old Girl Wins Bike In Nation-Wide Contest

Seven-year-old Andrea Louise Cole, 111 Tyre Avenue, is sporting a brand new bicycle these days. It was she who won in a nation-wide contest.

It seems that "Pete Popsicle" of the Joe Lowe Corporation, New York, N.Y., offered 100 bicycles as prizes to the young popsicle consumers who could best color a picture puzzle. All the youngsters had to do was invest 35 cents in seven popsicles, cut printed circles from the wrappers, paste these on the puzzle picture, then color it.

Andrea, who is an expert with a crayon, was one of the 100 winners. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David B. Cole, 111 Tyre Avenue.

Chrysler Appoints Minett as Manager For Newark Plant

Robt. T. Keller To Return To Detroit; Administrative Assistant Gets Promotion

Irving J. Minett has been named operating manager of the Newark Chrysler Delaware Tank Plant. It was announced in Detroit today by Thomas F. Morrow, newly appointed general manager of defense operations for Chrysler Corporation.

Robert T. Keller, who has served as general manager of the Newark plant since it was established in December, 1950, will return to Detroit in the near future where he will devote his full time to duties as a Chrysler vice president and president of the corporation's Marine and Industrial Engine Division.

Mr. Minett first became associated with Chrysler in 1934 following his graduation from Purdue University. He served in the corporation's Export Division from 1934 to 1940, fulfilling various engineering, sales and administrative responsibilities.

From 1940 to 1945 he was assigned to the Chrysler Tank Arsenal in Detroit, initially as a plant layout engineer and later as assistant plant engineer. Mr. Minett then returned to the Export Division where for the next five years he served as sales distribution manager.

In December, 1950, Mr. Minett joined the Newark staff as plant engineer in which capacity he was responsible for the layout and construction of the tank plant. He served in this position until February, 1953, when he was named general plant superintendent of the Chrysler Delaware Tank Depot located adjacent to the tank plant.

In January, 1953, he was named administrative assistant to Mr. Keller, a position he held until his present appointment.

Mr. Minett, his wife and daughter, reside at 305 Harker Avenue, Lifford.

Unknown Driver Of Stolen Car Flees Accident Scene

Less than one hour after Newark Police had received word concerning the theft of a 1954 automobile from C. W. Hazel, Jr., of Wilmington, the stolen automobile plowed into the side of an inoffensive, locally owned machine, proceeding north on Elkton Road within the city limits last Thursday night at 9:30 o'clock.

James V. Kelley, of 45 Thompson Circle, had the left side of his car badly damaged when the unidentified driver of the stolen vehicle, headed south on Elkton Road, made a left turn into the side of Kelley's machine.

East Delaware Avenue Extension Route Plotted By City Engineer

The overall route for the extension of East Delaware Avenue to Capitol Trail has been laid out but detailed drawings still must be completed and rights of way secured, Francis Neide, city engineer, said this week.

The State Highway Department, which will carry out the construction, has not yet indicated exactly when it will advertise for bids, Mr. Neide added. The city is responsible for securing the rights of way.

The proposed route is as follows: Beginning at the South Chapel Street intersection, the extension will dip slightly south to avoid structures opposite the present depot. The route will then turn north at right angles and cross the Christiana-Ogletown Road to connect with Capitol Trail.

Once completed, the extension will make another east-west through thoroughfare for the city, relieving congestion on Main Street.

The cost, except for money involved in acquiring rights of way, will be borne by the state, which also is responsible for maintaining all the city's through streets.

About a month ago, state highway officials said they hoped to advertise for bids on the project early in August.

Aetna Substitutes As Elkton Firemen Assist Chestertown

Last Friday, the Aetna firemen were called to stand-by for the Elkton firemen who attended the Chestertown tragedy. One Newark truck with 14 men substituted for the Elkton volunteers and extinguished one grass fire in the Elkton neighborhood while on stand-by duty.

A grass fire off the Pleasant Valley Road was extinguished without damage by the Aetna hose, Hook and Ladder Company volunteer firemen on Tuesday at 4 p.m., when one truck responded to the alarm, while on Sunday, two fires were reported.

Shortly after noon, an alarm was received of a grass fire at Dayett's Mill, and that evening, at 8:25, another single truck responded to an alarm turned in for a burning motorcycle on New London Avenue. Considerable damage to the machine, owned by Lester Watson, was reported.

Thursday, a week ago, three engines were dispatched to quell a fire which broke out in a closet of an unoccupied house in the Binns Homes development. The fire started in a closet—founder paint thinner fumes—and the closet and a portion of one wall were damaged.

Industrial Firms Plan To Organize CD Rescue Squads

12-Man Volunteer Teams Planned; State Training In Rescue Work Scheduled

Three large Newark industrial firms are considering plans for organizing three Civil Defense rescue squads from volunteers among their personnel to serve in natural or wartime disasters.

The tentative plan was announced yesterday by Wallace G. Johnson, Newark's CD director.

The three firms are: The National Vulcanized Fibre Company, the Continental Diamond Fibre Company and the Curtis Paper Company.

One squad of 12 volunteers would be formed at each company. The men would be trained locally and by county CD officials in the intricate technique of modern rescue work, Mr. Johnson said.

Newark's Civil Defense forces also were active on other fronts.

Five more volunteers have joined Rescue Squad No. 1, bringing that outfit up to full quota of 12 men. Mr. Johnson said. The volunteers are being organized by Oren Smith, chief of Newark's rescue service.

All rescue workers, including those that may be organized in the industrial firms, will undergo the same training course and will be assigned to various areas of Newark's Civil Defense organization.

The recruiting drive for wardens also picked up four men this week, according to Joseph Saborn, warden chief, who said he had a number of other prospects. The two men, who will serve as zone wardens, are: William Clancy, Jr., Coe's Bridge Road; Charles Long, Jr., Capitol Trail; Harry Jones, Tyre Avenue; and James Malin, Marrows Road.

The warden drive is still far short of its goal. Under present plans, a minimum of 36 men would be needed, including nine zone wardens and three block wardens for each zone, plus an undetermined number of street wardens.

To complete details for the warden organization, Mr. Saborn is meeting this week with Martin Kelly, the county warden chief.

Newark rescue and warden personnel, plus CD auxiliary police, also have been meeting with county CD officials.

First Republican Candidate Files For Sheriff Post

GOP Filing Deadline Set At July 29; Convention In Dover Planned Aug. 18

Isadore Berger, 49, of Wilmington is the first candidate to file for New Castle County sheriff on the Republican ticket.

The office of sheriff is held by Elmer C. Taylor of Hockessin who, under the law, cannot serve two consecutive terms.

Meanwhile, a four-cornered race for the Republican nomination for coroner of New Castle County took shape at GOP headquarters in the Hotel Rodney, Wilmington.

Other offices to be filled in the county are, recorder of deeds, and two members of Levy Court. Four state Senate seats and all state representative posts also are up for election this year in New Castle County.

The nominations, along with those for other county and legislative offices where contests exist, will be decided at the Republican primary on Saturday, Aug. 14.

Delegates to the Republican State Convention, to be held in Dover, Aug. 18, also will be selected in the New Castle County primaries.

Council Approves 10% Salary Raise For Local Police Dept.

Increase Granted Newark Salaried Police For Extra Hours Worked; Durnall, Long, Rankin Named Pension Plan Committee; W. Park Place Bids to be Advertised

In a briskly paced session Tuesday night, City Council voted a 10 percent pay increase for salaried policemen, appointed a trustee committee for the city pension plan, and authorized advertising for bids on the rebuilding of West Park Place.

The police pay increase, which will amount to 10 percent of an individual's monthly pay, was granted "to compensate for the additional four hours" in the police work week "over and above that of any other city department." The increase would not apply to police officers on hourly pay, it was said.

Appointed to the pension committee were: Ex-Councilman Frank Durnall and Carl Rankin, along with City Secretary Charles D. Long. Durnall was appointed for two years; Rankin for four. Subsequent appointments will be for four years. Mr. Long will serve indefinitely, the law requiring that either the city manager or the secretary be on the committee.

City Engineer Francis Neide was authorized to advertise for bids on the West Park Place rebuilding. Plans are for a street 36 feet wide with a 50-foot right of way to cover curbs and sidewalks. The recently approved city budget estimates that the project will cost $30,000.

Mayor Wallace Johnson took under advisement two suggestions: (1) By Councilman Samuel Diehl that the mayor appointed a group of five citizens to work with the town committee on a survey of the city's financial problems with a view to recommending projects that should be covered in a municipal bond issue; (2) By Councilman Frank Scott that the mayor appointed a committee of citizens and councilmen to study the feasibility of establishing a mercantile tax system here to bolster city income.

In connection with the bond issue projects, City Engineer Neide was asked to request the Newark Board of Education to resubmit its proposals for the extension of municipal utilities to the proposed new senior high school south of Read Village. Council indicated that it wants the school board to share the high cost of this project.

A previously elected Council had discussed this question with the school board, but the feeling was that the subject should be reopened with the present Council.

Nine-Yr. Old Girl Suffers Campfire Explosion Burns

Judy Anne Lynam, 9, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard A. Lynam, of Route 1, Newark, is recuperating from first and second degree burns suffered when paraffin, used to light a fire at the Girl Scout day camp in Rittenhouse Park, exploded last Wednesday.

Both of the child's legs and the top of both feet were burned by the hot wax.

The girl was taken immediately to a nearby physician's office and transferred for emergency treatment to the Delaware Hospital.

She was permitted to go home after treatment, and her mother reported that she was able to walk around the house the following day.

Local Ambulance Drivers Lose Close Race To Stork

Howard Cage, Aetna volunteer fireman and ambulance driver became an official member of the stork club on Saturday morning while racing the old family bird to the Memorial hospital in the Aetna Hose, Hook and Ladder Company ambulance.

"Doctor" Cage, with driving companion Bert Grove, lost the race—at 8 a.m. on the dot.

The new mother and a fine baby boy are reported to be doing very nicely, thanks.

Civil Defense To Offer Course In Home First Aid

A course in "home first aid," invaluable training for family members in this atomic age, will be given here by the Red Cross in mid-September, Wallace G. Johnson, Newark Civil Defense director, announced yesterday.

The 16-hour course will be open to everyone. The time and place will be announced later.

Mr. Johnson said: "Our object is to train at least one person in every home in the rudiments of first aid."

City Line Deer Wrecks Plans, Auto, Of Vacation-Bound Trio

The absence of deer has spoiled more than one vacation for more than one sportsman, but the presence of a deer—and in the Newark city limits at that—is an unusual holiday upset.

However, at 10:30 o'clock on Monday morning, a 200-lb. white-tail doe bounded out of the woods onto Nottingham Road, within the city limits, and stopped vacation-bound Wilbur C. Spicer with his wife and young daughter, of York, Pa.

The deer was killed by the impact and so was the automobile engine—although none of the car's occupants were injured. The left front fender of the automobile was crushed and the radiator was jammed back against the fan and engine block.

Spicer, who is employed with a gasoline service station in York, city limits at that, said, "The motor of an air conditioner slows down to a point where it and the wiring get hot. For a while it seems to work all right, but sometimes it sets something afire, he explained.

CIO Appoints 2 Trustees To New Hospital Board

Earl H. Henderson, president of the Delaware State Industrial Union Council, CIO, has announced the appointment of Andrew Brothers and David Fooks as CIO representatives on the board of trustees for the proposed New Castle County hospital.

The appointments were approved by the Union Council at Monday night's meeting at the Union's 608 French Street, Wilmington headquarters.

City-County Unity In Bd. Of Health Program Advocated

Dr. Victor D. Washburn
Urges Combined Operation
Of Health Board Units

New Castle County and the City of Wilmington should have a unified Board of Health for a more efficient and economic program, Dr. Victor D. Washburn, president of the city board, said last week. The State Board of Health now regulates that part of the county outside Wilmington.

His opinion, in which he said the state board's executive secretary, Dr. Floyd L. Hudson, concurred, was contained in a report on a recent conference between members of both agencies concerning dairy farm inspections of out-of-state milk dealers.

Dr. Washburn said he has felt for some time that the "overlapping" and "sometimes confused" side-by-side operations of the state and city health units in New Castle County "should be under one administration."

"Certainly," he declared, "an area with a population of approximately 230,000 people could bring in adequately trained, well qualified public health administrators and a sufficient staff to handle the many problems which now aren't being cared for."

"It would be much more efficient than the way things are being run today. It has happened over and over throughout the country in such population areas and has been proven both practical and satisfactory."

Dr. Washburn's suggestion stemmed from the problem of how to apply an inspection regulation to dairy farmers from outside Delaware who sell milk within the state, most of it in New Castle County.

The State Board of Health was asked some months ago to approve a city board plan which would make one annual inspection the rule.

The present law makes such inspections permissible but not mandatory, Dr. Washburn explained. Certain dairy suppliers in Delaware have insisted that there be four on-the-farm inspections each year for their out-of-state competitors in addition to regular city milk inspections at the time of delivery.

County Ag Official Offers Advice To Poultry Raisers

Take a few simple steps in raising your poultry flocks this summer, and you will put down the chances of their picking up blackhead, says Asst. County Agent Ralph Barwick.

But disease-free brooder-hatched birds, and put them to a clean, disinfected brooder house for the first six to ten weeks. Use a range that poultry have not been on for a year or more. Separate your chickens and turkeys at all times.

Birds under 12 weeks of age are the heaviest hit, although they can pick up the disease at any age. See your veterinarian or poultry pathologist if any of your chickens become weak or droopy, have drooping heads, tails or wings.

Pushmobile Derby Final Entries Due Saturday, July 24

DAP Youth Event Draws 65
Entries for Aug. 28 Race
At Milford Crossroads Site

Entries for the annual Delaware Association of Police Pushmobile Derby must be in by this Saturday if the boys want to be among first participants to use what has been called "the finest and most beautiful Pushmobile Track in America."

Already 65 boys have qualified, according to Edward D. Gebhart, DAP president and a trustee of the track.

And, less than three months after ground was broken on land given by S. Hallock duPont, at Milford Crossroads, the track is 90 per cent complete.

Officials of Pushmobile Track, Inc., and guests, inspected the site recently.

They reported the track will be in almost perfect shape for the Aug. 28 running of the 1954 derby.

The creation of protective fencing around the end of the track, the pits where the boys work on their cars, and along the side of the track itself must be finished, and rest rooms have to be built, some electrical work has to be completed, and finishing must be applied here and there.

Virtually all of the grading work on the sides of the gently sloping track is finished and grass, despite

Delaware Civil Defense Facts

First in a Civil Defense Series by D. Preston Lee
State Director of Civil Defense

Among veteran Civil Defense workers, there is an old adage: An enemy attack will leave two kinds of people alive: those who need help and those who can help.

Like it or not, we all are in Civil Defense. The only question is do we know or are we trying to learn our job?

In Delaware, individual responsibility is the heart of the CD organization. The state CD office was created by the legislature in 1951. The state director, whose powers stem directly from the governor, is charged with carrying out the state's CD program.

But—and this is little understood—the state director cannot set about naming county and city directors to work under him. He has no authority to do that. Similarly, he and his staff have no authority to organize local CD wardens, firefighting or emergency rescue crews.

This is up to each of the state's political subdivisions—town, city or county—and its governing body. Under Delaware's CD law, each town, city or county is legally required to set up its own CD organization.

But the effectiveness of that local defense depends in large part on the attitude of the officials and their citizens. The law says only that each community may appropriate and expend funds, may appoint a director, may appoint without compensation block wardens, rescue teams, auxiliary fire and police personnel and other civil defense workers.

Thus, the issue of whether Delaware is to defend itself in an enemy attack is, to a great extent, left up to the community and its citizens. This localization of CD authority is in the American tradition. It means that the individual citizen must encourage and help his local government to prepare. Once local officials realize that their citizens want and are ready to support CD, financially and with volunteer workers, they will know what steps to take.

And once county and local CD groups organize effectively, the state CD office is ready with plans, advice and equipment. The state office, which can draw considerably on federal assistance, is prepared to knit county CD organizations into a state-wide operational unit that can work with other states and the federal Civil Defense.

At the state level, CD is organized, in large part, around existing agencies—the highway, welfare, school, police and health departments—all of which are ready plans for defense in an emergency.

But, to be effective, CD must reach down to the neighborhood and the individual—your home.

One thing is certain. Bombs can—and will—fall on Delaware. When that happens, everyone of

An interesting glimpse into Christiana's historic past was furnished recently when the old Shannon Hotel at "the corner" was a feature of the "Historic Landmarks" series of Wilmington's Journal-Every Evening. The erstwhile hotel, now the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Burge and at the northern end, the site of the Revolutionary War at the busy crossroads of this thriving Colonial grain-shipping point. George Washington is said to have been a guest at Shannon's and this is only one of several pre-Revolutionary buildings in the Christiana area serving as reminders of the village's active role in early American history.

To make a swift jump from Colonial history to the makings of 20th century history, 279 voters in this district registered at the fire hall on July 13. Local workers at the registration desk included Mrs. Mary Thorp, Ralph Cleaver, James Moore, and Howard Burris.

About 40 picknickers gathered at Holloway Beach on Saturday to enjoy the family picnic sponsored by Christiana Boy Scout Troop 75, Donald McLaughlin, scoutmaster. The weather was ideal for an outing, and water sports were top fave, and the youngsters. As proof of the success of the day, a number of families remained for supper in the open.

Peggy Schulz and Linda Backel were the Christiana Brownies number among day campers at Minquill last week. The girls report an unexpected paraffin fire and some tense moments with angry yellow-jackets as exciting interludes in a worthwhile week of hiking, crafts, store hours, and all-round companionship.

Frear Offers Plea For Extended Work At Chrysler Plant

Senator Urges Secretary Of Defense To Maintain Newark Plant Operation

A plea for continued operation at the Chrysler Delaware Tank Plant in Newark was made last week to Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson by U.S. Senator J. Allen Frear, Delaware Democrat.

The senator, prompted by a visit to the plant last week, said in a wired message that the plant should be kept in operation as a "second source of supply."

The big plant, which turned out its first Patton 48 tank just two years ago, lost a government tank contract to General Motors last year, and is now finishing out existing contracts. There have been statements that the plant will continue to do modification work on tanks, but no indication of how long this will keep the plant open.

Senator Frear's action was based on reports that a new contract for additional units of the Patton tank, for which the Newark plant was built, may be forthcoming shortly.

His message to Secretary Wilson follows: "You are aware of my earlier appeals for all possible assistance in maintaining the Chrysler Tank Plant at Newark, Del. in active operation as a second source of supply for production of M-48 tanks, or related models."

"I have just visited Newark and find the economy there in a depressive state because of inability to keep the plant in active operation. Reports are circulating to the effect that a new contract may be let for additional tank units shortly. I will appreciate your most sympathetic consideration in behalf of the management and the employees of the Newark Tank Plant to keep this excellent facility in an active state."

"The wisdom of a second source of supply, plus the recognized policy of our government to dispense defense contracts in distressed areas where qualified companies exist is clearly borne out in this instance. I will appreciate any information which you or the chief of ordnance can provide."

Senator Frear, who questioned the advisability of "mothballing" the Newark plant about two months ago, was informed at that time by the Department of Defense that the "number of M-48 tanks to be produced under present plans is insufficient to keep two production lines running economically."

Boggs Proclaims State Fair Week Honoring Farmers

Pointing out that farming is still one of the major income sources in the State of Delaware, and praising the farmers for their continued interest "in a much needed profession," Governor J. Caleb Boggs has set aside the week of July 26 through 31 as Fair Week in Delaware.

During that week the thirty-fifth annual Kent-Sussex County Fair—the only county fair in the state—will be held at the Harrington Fairgrounds, with activities beginning Sunday and continuing through Saturday.

Governor Boggs declared that "it is fitting that our citizens should be interested in and have an opportunity to witness just what foodstuffs are raised in the First State, which helps to feed great metropolitan areas on the Atlantic seaboard and elsewhere."

The chief executive pointed out that the work of the state's farmers represents one of its richest resources and "we should give thanks for these men and women and their young folk whose love of the soil and things which it grows keeps them engaged on this much-needed work."

Methodist Pastor To Offer Sermons On World Council

The Assembly of the World Council of Churches to be held at Evanston, Ill., in August will be the subject of sermons presented by the Rev. John J. Bunting, Jr., at the Newark Methodist Church on Sundays, July 25 and Aug. 1. This Sunday, the background for the conference will be presented, including a brief history of the movement.

Reference will be made to interviews conducted by Dr. Bunting in England a few years ago with leaders in the ecumenical movement, including Dr. Leonard Hodgson, of Christ Church, Oxford university; Dr. Nathaniel Micklem of Mansfield college, Oxford, and Dr. Sydney Cave of New College, London university. Research concerning the life and work of Dr. Alfred E. Garvie of England, one of the foremost leaders in the early history of the movement, including the use of unpublished manuscripts by Dr. Garvie and interviews with his family in London, will be discussed.

On Sunday, August 1, the theme of the assembly, "Christ, the Hope of the World," will be presented, based upon reports and discussion on this theme which have preceded the Evanston meeting.

Wheat Referendum
Polling Locations
Listed For County

Farmers In Communities
1, 1a, 2, 2a Will Vote
At Newark ASC Office

On July 23, at three different polling places, wheat growers of New Castle county will vote for or against marketing quotas for the 1955 crop.

The referendum, according to John A. Redding, Sr., chairman of the New Castle county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, will determine whether or not the quota program now in effect will continue for next year's crop.

Two-thirds of those who vote must approve quotas before they can be put into operation. The current program, which was voted on a year ago, was approved by 67 percent of the voters—390 to 37,336.

An election notice, as well as an explanatory leaflet giving the essential facts of the 1953 program, will be sent to New Castle county wheat growers of record.

The following voting places in the county will be open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., on Friday, July 23:

Communities 1, 1a, 2, and 2a — New Castle County ASC Office, Courthouse and Academy Streets, Newark.

Community 3 — Middletown Fire Hall, Middletown.

Communities 4 and 4a — Townsend Fire Hall, Townsend.

Mr. Redding urges every eligible wheat grower in New Castle county to vote. A grower is eligible to vote if he will have more than 13 acres of wheat on his farm for harvest in 1955. In other words, he can vote if he would be affected directly by quotas, which apply only to farms with more than 13 acres of wheat.

If quotas are approved, there will be marketing penalties on any "excess" wheat — produced outside the acreage allotment — and the full level of prices authorized for 1955 will be available for those who comply with their allotments. If quotas are not approved, there will be no quotas or marketing penalties, and price support for those who stay within their allotments will be at 50 percent of parity.

New Amstel Group
In "Candlelight"
Comedy Offering

"Keep 'em laughing," seems to be the theme of the New Amstel Players as they prepare to open with "Candlelight," Monday night, July 26, at the New Castle Opera House.

This play, adapted by noted humorist P. G. Wodehouse from the book by Siegfried Geyer, originally starred Leslie Howard and Gertrude Lawrence.

It is the tale of a valet, Josef, played by Bill Berger, who falls in love with a feminine voice over the telephone. He invites the "voice" to the apartment of his master, Prince Rudolph.

Josef then dons the clothes of the Prince and masquerades as his master during the love affair.

The real Prince interrupts, but goes along by putting on the valet's clothes and assuming that role.

Mel Berger is Prince Rudolph; Helaine Kopp, Marie, the voice on the telephone; Roy Starr, the Baron; Lynn Fitzmaurice, the Baroness; Nina Stroup, Lisel; and Bob Arkless, the chauffeur.

THE DISHARMONY BOYS

THE NEWS IS GOOD!

The news from Washington is that an upturn in economic recovery is definitely indicated.

Dr. Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, predicts that employment will rise, and that business spending for plant and equipment this year will be as high as it was in 1953. He expects military spending to "remain at very high levels."

The Commerce and Labor Departments report that the construction industry during May reached its highest levels with outlays of $3,100,000,000 for new buildings.

Private spending for residential building in May exceeded $1,000,000,000; commercial building reversed a downward trend and rose to a record for the month.

No wonder John Q. Public is giving a resounding razzberry to the dismal song and dance of the Disharmy Boys— "Gloom and Doom!"

At Tuesday night's meeting, City Council approved plans submitted by Merle H. Sigmund, city engineer, for street paving and curbing.

Plans provide for paving sections of South Chapel and Center streets, and for gutters and curbing on South Chapel, Center, Academy and Manual streets, Park Place, and Kells avenue.

To Restore "Commons"

A letter to University of Delaware students announces that both the "commons" and the cafeteria in Old College will be open at the beginning of the fall term on a three month trial basis.

Two years ago the "commons" was closed after petition by the student body which was dissatisfied with the meals provided. The cafeteria was opened as a substitute. This spring the university was again petitioned by the students—this time to restore the "commons," and the board of trustees has agreed.

Nine Newark Boy Scouts, with Scoutmasters A. E. Tomhave and T. A. Baker joined scouts of the Wilmington Council in a trip to Shibe Park where they were greeted by Connie Mack, venerable leader of the Philadelphia Athletics, and introduced to many of the big league stars. More than 500 Red Men and their families from all over the state attended the annual outing and field day of the Improved Order of Red Men held Saturday afternoon at the Redmen's Home in Newark. Admiral C. E. Ewing, Maj. A. R. Underwood, C. H. Hopkins, J. M. Tervall, H. C. Souder, R. C. Van Sant, and pro Eddie Galtner participated.

F. C. Houghton won the Saturday sweepstakes with a net 72, and H. A. Turner checked in with a second place 73.

Newark's Tri-County league nine copped a pair of tests last week, defeating Liberty Grove, 11-0 and stopping Elk Mills, 2-1.

Ross started the game against Liberty Grove and gave up but one hit in five innings. The high school battery of Whitman and Cole finished up the Marylanders failed to register another hit.

Slim Chalmers hurled Newark to victory over Elk Mills, allowing seven scattered hits while striking out five.

The Newark batting order: Malone, 2b; Collins, lf; Peters, ss; Davis, c; Tonga, 1b; Knotts, 3b; P. Whitman, cf; R. Whitman, rf; Cole, lf; Chalmers, p.

Miscellaneous
Wallace Beery and Warner Oland were appearing at the movies in "Chinatown Nights"; shotgun shells were selling at 75 cents a box; and Charles B. Jacobs, Jr., editor of the POST, was no doubt happy over a full page ad from Buckingham's Store at 74 Main Street.

Pea Patch Island, Ft. Delaware Ferry Service To Start Saturday

Kent County residents should have a great interest in the opening of the Pea Patch Island Ferry Service. The ferry will start on Saturday, July 24, and will operate twice a week, the first time while teaching by the State Park Commission and school in September, 1954, when the ferry will be operated by the Fort Delaware Society on Tuesdays from June to September. During his second period of imprisonment he was elected recorder of deeds on the Democratic ticket.

James F. Cooper of Smyrna, a young law student, was arrested in April, 1963, and held in Fort Delaware from that time until November, 1963, because he had expressed sympathy for the South.

Dr. William A. McKown, also of Smyrna, was arrested in August, 1963, because he had expressed sympathy for the success of Southern arms and because he had sent food and clothing to the prisoners in the fort. He was a prisoner until December, 1963.

Boat service from Delaware City to the island will be available on Saturdays and Sundays for three weekends starting July 24. The first boat will leave at 9:00 a.m. from Delaware City and the final one from the island will be at 4:00 p.m. Service is being provided by Capt. Walter Wisowaty and Capt. William Press of Delaware City. The only charge will be for the transportation.

Questions and Answers
Q—I still am in school under the World War II GI Bill. I want to know whether I will be allowed to change my course, even though my cut-off date in my studies, but I feel I am in the wrong field.

A—Under law, it is possible to change your course if the new course would be more in keeping with your aptitudes, previous training and experience. You will need VA's approval before you make the change.

Q—I am the widow of a World War I veteran and I am supporting a child under 18 years of age. My salary has just been raised to the point where I no longer will be eligible for a VA pension. Could a pension be paid in behalf of my child?

A—Yes. So long as your child's annual income does not exceed the legal maximum, he will be eligible for pension payments in his own right. The payments will begin as of the date following the date of your last payment.

Q—Is there any time limit on filing a claim for reimbursement of burial expenses of a veteran?

A—Yes. The claim must be filed within two years after the date the veteran was buried.

By 1960, it is estimated, the U.S. will have 16 million persons over 65 drawing ten billion dollars a year in retirement funds.

We know how you feel, folks. When you bring us a prescription that your Doctor has ordered for your Baby's Health... it's a mighty precious prescription to you. The marked increase of participation in this contest (by many thousands of high school students in the 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, and the Philippines) is credited to student interest in the contest subject and to the various scholarships, medals and cash awards made by the local and state V.F.W. Ladies Auxiliaries in addition to the national awards to be given for the 1953-54 Ladies Aux. V.F.W. Nineteenth Annual National High School Essay Contest.

Make Summer Applesauce for Home Canning

Delicious applesauce for year-round use is best made when the first of the summer apples come to market. Easy to make; good with cold-cut supper, or with the breakfast toast. And try it with chilled whipped cream as a quick dessert.

The flavor of summer apples is perfect for applesauce. Wash, quarter and core apples. Add just enough water to prevent scorching; cook over low heat 15 to 20 minutes or until tender. Put through a food mill or sieve. Add sugar to taste; heat until sugar dissolves. Bring to boiling point.

Pack boiling hot applesauce in hot sterilized jars, leaving 1/2-inch head space. Partially seal; process 5 minutes in a hot-water bath. Be sure to keep water at least 1-inch above tops of jars. Cover kettle; bring to a boil. Begin counting processing time as soon as the water starts to boil. Keep water boiling constantly. When processing time is up, remove jars to a cooling rack or folded towels, out of drafts. Complete seal immediately. Self-sealing jars do not need tightening. When jars are cool, wipe off the outside and label.

Applesauce may be spiced to taste before canning, but many cooks feel that flavor is improved if the applesauce is canned without spices, and these seasonings added when the jar is opened for serving.

Report To Parents

by Dr. Martha M. Elliot, Chief, Children's Bureau

"I think something ought to be done to make it safe for our children to go to school."

This was an angry declaration of a mother at a Parent-Teacher meeting in a small New England community. The subject was "not on the agenda." She was "out of order." But she got a reply:

"Why don't you mothers do something about it yourselves? This answer came from a town official. 'We don't have enough police to do a traffic job at the school crossings, nor money to hire more.'"

The mothers in that town took him up. In turn, as volunteers they took over the school intersections at the critical times of day.

Something like this has been happening in other towns across the country. More and more, this school patrol is becoming official.

Not very long ago a friend told me how pleasantly surprised she had been when driving through New York, Connecticut, and a distant version of a very official uniform directing traffic.

Part Time Policemen When she investigated, she found that housewives were being employed, part-time, for traffic duty only, to help out over-burdened police staffs, particularly at school hours.

During the past spring as I have driven to work here in Washington over a main thoroughfare where two such women police officers are guarding the children at crossing, I have been impressed with their effective way of handling both children and traffic.

To undertake this work seems like a good opportunity for the housewife who needs a little extra money, who wants to be sure children reach school safely, but who wants to spend most of her time at home.

It would also seem to be an expedient device for police departments. Los Angeles is one city that has recently inaugurated a similar arrangement.

And just within the last few weeks, New York City passed a bill to start a "pilot project" using 100 women "civilians," as school crossing guards, in one section of the city next fall.

Civilian Subs According to reported plans of the New York Police Department, "civilians may eventually be used on a large proportion of the city's 2,804 school crossings. And most of the 'civilians' are expected to be housewives available for duty near their homes."

Under the New York City plan the women will receive $5 a day, 5 days a week, for approximately 3 1/2 hours per day broken up into the hours when the children go to, and leave, school.

This use of housewives for such duty, it is estimated by New York's Police Commissioner, will release between 1,000 to 1,500 policemen for other duty (and save the city $2,500,000 a year).

I like to think of the darling, hurrying, impatient children that are now arriving at school each day, safe and sound, thanks to the ingenuity and responsibility of busy mothers who can crowd more job into their busy days.

Bees without stingers are being bred in England for teaching bee-keeping to youngsters.

Wooden Toys Best For Sandbox Play

Specialist Advises

Wooden toys for the sand box are better than metal or plastic ones, says Louise Whitcomb, home management specialist at the University of Delaware.

The wooden trucks, boats and engines on the market are excellent and inexpensive. The point will be scratched off bottoms, but this won't interfere with their efficiency on sand roads or tracks of waterways.

On the other hand, metal toys, rust, the wheels clog with sand so they won't function, and cranks stick so they won't turn. When children are thwarted by the mechanics of such toys, they need too much help from adults.

Plastic toys and tools are too fragile for the sand box. Broken ones have sharp jagged edges that are even more dangerous than broken glass.

Very fine equipment for digging and cake making includes butter paddles, basting spoons and sugar scoops. Jello molds, individual aluminum pie plates and toy cooking utensils are perfect accessories for sand play. A sprinkler to dampen the sand so it will cake and stay put is a good investment.

This year there'll be available a portable water-cooled air conditioner that can be used in either home or car (plug in to the dashboard lighter).

City Council

Aside from this concession, if it goes through, Council agreed not to pay for any water main extension until after the water committee comes up with a policy recommendation.

Playgrounds
 A letter from the League of Women Voters, backed up by a similar one from the Newark Rotary Club, urging that Council take action on establishing city playgrounds, was referred to the city planning commission. The league proposed that Council set aside for playgrounds, property condemned for delinquent taxes, and also asked Council to cooperate with the Newark Recreation Association in acquiring property for a playground in the East Cleveland Avenue section.

City Solicitor John P. Sinclair was asked to draw up an ordinance, draft calling for a increased fine for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. The present fine is a minimum of one dollar and a maximum of five dollars. The new law, requested by Alderman Clarence Foster, would set a five dollar minimum and a 30 dollar maximum or prison commitments of not less than 10 and not more than 90 days.

Street Lights
 City Engineer Neide was directed to write to the operators of Collins Park development that they install street lights according to their original plans. No lights have been erected as yet it was said, and Councilman Samuel Diehl recommended that 400 building permits now held by the developers not be renewed unless the lights are installed. Mr. Neide said the permits would have to be renewed before they could be used.

Council referred to its police committee a request by Postmaster F. Alvin Couch that a no-parking area be established in front of the postoffice to permit the erection and operation of a "courtesy mailbox" in which motorists could deposit mail without getting out of their cars.

Letter of Praise
 A refreshing letter to Council from Robert Wilson, of Rittenhouse Park, contained a novel suggestion. Mr. Wilson proposed that Council give new taxpayers a "tax free year" at the start so that, among other things, they might become "Newark boosters." He also asked that Council pave Rittenhouse Lane, install curbs and gutters and street lights. Mr. Wilson was high in his praise of the police department's courtesy and of the city garbage collector's efficiency.

City Engineer Neide disclosed that he had received from the state highway department, preliminary plans for the extension of East Delaware Avenue but he said the plans did not give him enough information to secure the necessary rights of way.

Council refused to take action on a request for rezoning from residential to business property at 13 and 15 North Chapel Street. The refusal was due to an adverse recommendation on the change from the city planning commission, which said it could not advise extending the business district further up North Chapel street.

William Swan lodged a complaint against the city engineering department for alleged incorrect recommendation on the installation of electrical lines to property under construction on Elton Road. Mr. Swan said the alleged faulty recommendation had cost him considerable money and would necessitate installing new electrical connections.

Mr. Neide said he had no recollection whatsoever of Mr. Swan's original request, and said he did not give out incorrect information.

Out of it all may grow a new policy. Mr. Neide suggested that he draw up a blank form which all builders or their electricians would be required to fill out, detailing the nature of any electrical equipment that they plan to install. With this information, Mr. Neide said, the engineering department can determine whether or not the installations can be serviced.

William Gray submitted a new request for rezoning from residential to business property on South Chapel Street between Chambers and Wyoming Road. The request will go first to the planning commission. It was indicated that this time the rezoning should be for rezoning either the entire block or perhaps two blocks on the west side of South Chapel Street, where Mr. Gray seeks to build an additional third garage.

Council voted an additional $200 appropriation to the city ambulance fund.

County ASC Head Explains Voting On Wheat Quotas

Marketing, Not Acreage To Be Decided By Vote Of County Wheat Growers

"There still seems to be a good deal of misunderstanding among farmers regarding the effect of the coming July 23 wheat quota referendum on acreage allotments, Chairman John A. Redding, Sr., of the County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said yesterday.

Whether quotas are approved or not, the wheat allotment proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture will be in effect for the 1955 crop. The controlling legislation requires the establishment of wheat acreage allotments every year, unless they are suspended because of emergency conditions.

"Allotments are the basis for quota administration when quotas are in effect, but when there are no quotas the allotments are still in operation.

"Producers must comply with acreage allotments in order to be eligible for price supports—with or without quotas. If quotas are not in operation, there is of course no marketing penalty involved in exceeding acreage allotments — the only penalty is the loss of price-support eligibility.

"The vote on the 23rd will decide about marketing quotas for next year. This is a vitally important decision for wheat farmers. It will affect their operations, the degree of production controls, and the level of price support which is available. But the vote on quotas will have no direct effect on acreage allotments."

School Costs

A further study of the financial report discloses that the cafeteria account shows a balance of $3,714.16 at the end of the 1953-54 school year as compared to a balance of $4,776.32 at the end of the previous school year.

Cafeteria expenditures for the central school cafeteria amounted to $37,776.01. Receipts of $41,877.17 include the previous year's balance, $34,011.06 in sales, $1,078.87 received from school lunch subsidy funds, and refunds totaling $1,620.72.

During the next school year two additional cafeterias will be operated in the Medall School on Capitol Trail and in the newer West Park Place School which will be ready for student occupation on the opening day of school, Sept. 9.

Democrats

The split developed Monday night when Mr. Johnson refused to accept the responsibility of delegator for Senator Frost.

State Democratic Chairman Harry B. McDevall, Jr., has announced that the Aug. 10 convention will convene at 9 a.m. in the Dover High School field house, recess for caucus until two o'clock, and the delegates will return to the floor for the convention business.

In White Clay Creek Hundred Rodney H. Doss, chairman for the hundred said the delegates will consist of himself, Ivan Parsons, Morris Ewing, Rowland Walker, Dr. Charles H. Lanier, and Ralph

Mayor, Local Ambassador Attends State Functions

On Tuesday, he took in the Governor's Civil Defense Conference at the Governor Bacon Health Center near Delaware City, where the program featured a talk by Val Peterson, Federal Civil Defense Administrator, and open-air displays showing what Civil Defense is doing in Delaware.

State and municipal officials from all over Delaware attended the dedication. Also on hand from Newark were Police Sergeant Leroy Hill, secretary of the DACP, and William Wideman, a member of the organization.

Highway Accidents Decrease In June Compared With '53

State Reports Ten Less Accidents Exceeding $100 Than Previous June Record

There was a decrease in the number of highway accidents involving damages in excess of $100 in June of this year as compared with the same month of last year according to a report of the Fiscal Responsibility Division of the State Vehicle Department.

This report shows that there were a total of 300 of these accidents in Delaware during June and this number is ten less than the number of these accidents that took place during June of last year.

The total amount of damage resulting from these accidents was $150,395 which is $45,184 less than the amount of damages incurred in June of last year and $41,297 less than the amount of damage for the month of June in 1952.

Of the accidents that took place during June of this year 334 were in New Castle County, an increase of three over June of last year; 60 were in Kent County, a decrease of 12, and 87 were in Sussex County, a decrease of one.

Of the drivers involved in these accidents, 14 were from out of the state, a decrease of 54 under June of last year, and 132 had no insurance, an increase of ten over June of last year.

During June the Department reported 92 persons had their operation and registration privileges suspended for failure to comply with the provisions of the financial responsibility law.

In June of last year there were 49 suspensions for this reason.

Q: Why are there only four members on the Newark School Board when the population of the town and the school has grown so rapidly?

A: The Delaware school law specifies a four-member board for each school district outside of the city of Wilmington. Any increase in the number on the school board would have to be effected by a change in the law.
