World Court Conf. At Johns Hopkins

Colleges Everywhere Prepare For Great Student Poll

The University of Delaware was represented by eight delegates at the district World Court Conference held at Johns Hopkins University last Saturday and Sunday. This conference was composed of delegates from the most of the colleges in Delaware, Maryland, and the District of Columbia. The purpose of the conference was to present the World Court issue to the students assembled there, so that they, returning to their colleges, might prepare their fellow students for the great student poll to be taken on the question in December.

The first speaker was Mr. James C. MacDonald, Executive Secretary of the Foreign Policy Association. Although a comparatively young man, Mr. MacDonald is a trained student of international law. He has traveled widely, and he has been present at several sessions of the League of Nations and the World Court.

He said that Presidents Roosevelt, Harding, and Coolidge have endorsed the idea of a permanent court of international justice; Secretary of State Hughes endorsed it; and most of the large organizations of women, college men, laboring men, and business men have urged prompt adherence. Finally, the House of Representatives has gone on record, by a vote of 300 to 30, in favor of the court. Senator

Rival Classes Stage A Scoreless Game

The annual Soph-Frosh "pigskin" tilt happened last Monday, November 16. It was a thrilling battle from start to finish. Twice the Sophomores pushed their way to the fifteen yard line; but they could not penetrate the Freshman defense and were forced to kick. The Freshmen, also, had a chance to score in the first quarter. They reached the five yard line, but were held for downs; and the game ended nothing to nothing. Freshman Roser ran back several punts for considerable yardage; and Merrick caught one of the Soph's forwards and ran about 30 yards for a touchdown, but as one of the Freshmen was caught tripping (Continued on Page 4.)

Everybody Out For the Dickinson Mass Meeting ! !

A big mass meeting which will send off Delaware's team to meet its ancient foe, Dickinson, will be held in front of Harter Hall Wednesday morning at eleven-thirty. The entire student bodies of both Delaware and the Women's College, and the townspeople of Newark, and the alumni of the University will be out in full force to attend the biggest mass meeting ever held in Newark.

There will be several speakers who will attempt to instill the winning spirit in the team. Everyone realizes that the game with Dickinson will be a real battle and that only a united student body can make the team feel that it is being supported.

Everybody out for the mass meeting tomorrow to give the team a ripping good send-off.

Sigma Tau Phi's Will Hold Formal Dance

First Affair of the Kind Since Chapter Was Installed

The Delta chapter of the Sigma Tau Phi Fraternity will hold its first formal dance in the Commons tonight. Dancing will be enjoyed from nine to one to the tune of the orchestra of George Madden's orchestra.

The Commons, Lounge, and the Dining Hall have been tastefully decorated for the event, with the fraternity colors, blue and gold, predominating. The dance marks the first formal of the Sigma Tau Phi since its inception on the campus two years ago, and many of the brothers from the chapters at Pennsylvania, Penn State, and Dickinson have already signified their intentions of attending.

The list of patronesses is as follows: Mrs. Walter Hulihan, Mrs. G. E. Dutton, Mrs. Nathan Miller, Mrs. Albert Robin, Mrs. Rachel Taylor, Mrs. F. K. Whittemore, and Mrs. R. W. Thoroughgood. Among those present will also be Dr. W. O. Syphard, Professor Carl J. Rees, Captain F. K. Whittemore, Dr. Albert Robin, Mr. Nathan Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bruer, and Mr. John G. Leach.

The committee in charge is as follows: Charles Rosenberg, '27, chairman; Albert L. Simon, '26; Hyman A. Yanowitz, '26; and Max Markowitz, '28.

Next Year's Football Schedule Completed

With this year's football season drawing to a close, prospects for next year's team are very bright, with only four men lost to the team through graduation. Manager Donohue has arranged a strong, attractive schedule for the 1926 eleven. Two new teams will make their appearance here next year: namely, Gallaudet and Drexel. The schedule:

Oct. 2—Drexel—home.
9—Ursinus—away.
16—Alfred College—(pending).
23—Johns Hopkins—away.
30—Gallaudet—home.
Nov. 6—Swarthmore—away.
13—Dickinson—home.
19—Haverford—home.

Tennis Prospects For Next Year Are Bright

The tennis schedule for 1926 is very nearly completed by Manager Garbutt. There seems to be a wealth of material for the tennis team this year so that Delaware should be well represented in this sport. The schedule is:

April 17—Haverford; home.
May 8—St. Joseph's; home.
May 15—Western Maryland; home.
May 21—Franklin and Marshall; home.
Tentative—Rutgers, Rutgers.
Two more matches will in all probability be added to the schedule later.

"DO YOU FAVOR STUDENT CRITICISM?" LATEST QUESTION

Professors Express Ideas On the Topic

In the last issue of THE REVIEW Delaware College professors discussed the question of whether Delaware Seniors should have unlimited cuts and it was seen that the trend of opinion was for allowing this freedom of action. This week this question, "Do you favor student criticism?" was put before different professors. They were asked to express their opinions concerning the subject and the following is what they have to say upon the matter.

Professor George H. Ryden—"An uncritical glorification of everything on the University campus and a condemnation of all criticism as disloyalty to the institution really makes for self deception and in the end cruel disillusionment. There is, of course, a wide gap between mere fault finding and constructive criticism. The person who indulges in the former practice usually has nothing to offer for the improvement of conditions. On the other hand a constructive critic is loyal to his college, and any springs out of his love for it and redown to his credit. A growing and virile institution could not very well carry on without such critics."

Professor Matthews' words follow: "I have never seen any advantage yet of limiting any group in its expression of its opinion of public policies of any sort. Certainly a student body, if it is to feel itself at all a part of its college society, must have a voice in the conduct of affairs. Within the limits of the students' intelligence and experience, they should feel free to use their criticism of university policies as both an encouragement to worthwhile changes and experiments and as a check on faculty tyranny or business office false economy. Personally I think that there are several existing conditions at present at the University of Delaware that reserve to be the target of vigorous student criticism."

Professor Van Keuren—"Yes, so long as it is within bounds and governed by a spirit of responsibility. I think, too, that it should be constructive. If a

Debating Society To Hold Three Debates

The Debating Society has planned three debates for next term. Chairman Craven and Coach Matthews feel that three will be enough since the mid-years are not so very far off. The society is planning to hold joint debates with both St. Joseph and Temple. They are also planning to hold a debate with Ursinus at Collegeville. The subject about which they will debate with both Temple and Ursinus, "Resolved: that the United States should enter the League of Nations." They will debate with St. Joseph's on either a modification of the eighteenth amendment or the Child Labor Law. The members of the team have not been chosen yet, since the try-outs are not to be held until December the second or third.

Mr. Cobb To Address Ag Club Monday

The Ag Club will hold its next meeting Monday, November 25, at 6.45 p. m., in the Lounge of Old College. One meeting has been moved up one day due to the fact that the annual Thanksgiving Dinner will be given on Tuesday evening at the time at which the Ags had planned to hold their meeting.

Mr. Cobb, leader of the boys' and girls' club work in the state, will be the principal speaker. His talk will deal with a history of club work in Delaware during the past ten years, and an outline telling how the various agents of the state and government cooperate in conducting club work.

BLUE AND GOLD LOSES TO HAVERFORD ELEVEN

Visitors Roll Up An 18-0 Score Against Local Team

The University of Delaware suffered its third defeat of the season last Saturday at the hands of Haverford College, 18-0. Three touchdowns formed the margin of victory for the Main Liners, each of them being scored in a different period.

At the start of the game Delaware seemed to have everything her own way, keeping the ball in her opponents territory and threatening the Haverford goal, time after time.

Captain Kramer kicked off for Delaware and on the next play, Penwick, of Haverford, returned the ball with a long punt, which Loveland caught on Delaware's 40-yard line. He successfully eluded two Haverford tacklers near the sideline and ran the ball back for a 35-yard gain through half the visiting team.

On the next play Loveland again carried the ball through right tackle and was downed after making a gain of 8 yards. Everything looked favorable for a touchdown, but the Haverford defense tightened and Cherpak was forced to dropkick. The kick was blocked and recovered by Haverford, stopping Delaware's march down the field and placing them on the offensive.

The Blue and Gold warriors were far superior to Haverford men in the first quarter and part of the second, but from then on the proteges of Bill Harmon assumed the offensive.

In the second period, Scoop Hubert, on a fake kick, ran 35

Footlights Chatter

The three carloads of scenery for the 1926 production of "Smax and Crax" were lost when the Clyde Liner Lenape sunk last week but at a meeting in the perfumed rooms of the Footlights Club last week while nipping pate-au-gras sandwiches and imbibing absinthe and cognac, President Yanowitz announced that the much-heralded "Sister Pim Passes By" is to be sent to Cohn's theatrical warehouse for the season. It was also decided that the Club could not finance the production which Professor Van Keuren is going to stage. The actors (?), however, are going to do their bit just like half-baked Rotarians to help the Brander Matthews of Delaware to put his play across.

After "Jimmy" Grant had passed around the imported African-Vienna cigars and Givan had sung one of his rotten songs amidst the tenor voice of Leahy, Yanowitz let it be known that in exactly three weeks rehearsals will start for a Paris and Persian edition of "Smax and Crax." Then the Club became real generous and voted Lulu Hesselberg, a Freshman, into the organization together with Eddie Cantor Meredith. Hesselberg is the first first-year man ever to make the Club without appearing in a genuine production. Meredith, we think, had something resembling an act last year that made Dave Belasco hide his neck in shame. But this year Meredith submitted a ten thousand dollar goofsobstratum ticket-taking machine; so the Club voted him in.

Then after all the dirty work was done Tremaine washed the dishes and stuffed dates à la Newburg were passed around. Yanowitz, now half hit by too many sugared raisins, announced that the music for the show this year will come from the composers, Hesselberg and Givan; the books and lyrics will come from Grant, Leahy, Yanowitz, Meredith, Ellis, Maxwell, Givan, Hesselberg, Sagnella, Charlie Green, Joe Cheeseman, Howard Burton, and the World Court Conference. Then the meeting closed when fried ice sandwiches were thrown to each other.

$5000 for Best Adverse Criticism of "Profits"

Professor Benner announces that he has been advised that a prize of five thousand dollars is offered for the best adverse criticism of "Profits," a book written by William Trufant Foster and Waddil Catchings. The argument of the book is that inadequacy of consumer income is the main reason why we do not long continue to produce the wealth which natural resources, capital facilities, improvements in the arts, and self-interest of employers and employees would otherwise enable us to produce. The judges of the contest are Owen D. Young, Chairman of the Board of directors of the General Electric Company; Allyn A. Young, of Harvard University; and Wesley C. Mitchell, of Columbia University. The contest is open to every one.

Dickinson Will Be A Hard Nut To Crack

Team Is One of the Finest In Many Years

Words are not needed to show the Delaware College men that Dickinson has a powerful team—or must we say "teams?" From "The Dickinsonian" we clipped the following ere the football season had commenced. Surely Dickinson has lived up to the wise words of the prophetic worthy Carlisle scribe:

The game with Bucknell last Thanksgiving closed one of Dickinson's most successful football seasons, the team playing through one of the heaviest schedules in the history of College football, with a record of seven wins out of eleven starts. This year the same two men, who coached the Red and White then, are again guiding her destiny, and players and students alike look for another successful season. With "Joe" Lightner, the former Penn State backfield star as head coach, and one of his playmates on that same Penn State team, "Haps" Frank, coaching the line, Dickinson has a pair of coaches rivaling any in the East.

Paul Rupp, quarterback for three years on the Red and White eleven; Peck, the tackle who fought so valiantly against the Marines last year; and Beynon, bulky guard and kick-off man, are the only three regulars of last year who will be missing from the team. While their losses are serious, Lightner has four or five letter men who can fill their places without appreciably weakening either the defense or the offense.

Prof. Fenwick At College Hour

Professor Fenwick, Professor of Political Science at Bryn Mawr, addressed the students at College Hour November 18. Prof. Fenwick is the author of several works on political science and has done considerable work on French and German translations in this particular field of science.

The subject of the address concerned the Lacarno Conference. Prof. Fenwick gave a summary of the political background of mankind up to the present day. The context of the international attitude toward the Lacarno Conference is that of hopeful expectation. It appears that at last European politics have arranged themselves in favor of peace and good will toward all nations.

Death of Aged Janitor

George Watson, colored, janitor of Mechanical Hall and the Gymnasium, passed away recently. "Little George," as he was known, was a most faithful worker and had been in the employ of the University for over twenty years. Until his recent illness, he was seen on the job around six o'clock every morning, an hour earlier than required, and was always one of the last to leave in the evening. He was respected by all who knew him.

Delaware Will Meet Dickinson Thursday

Big Game of Season To Be Played at Carlisle

The loss of Fritz Creamer sent the big Blue team down to defeat before the plucky Haverford eleven, but next Thursday the diminutive quarterback will be sent against the heavy highly-rated Dickinson eleven.

Dickinson this year has played such strong teams and have won nearly all of them. Lebanon Valley was tied 6-6, but should have been a crushing defeat for hte little team. Muhlenburg was tied 0-0 by Dickinson. Albright was sent home on a 13-0 score. Gettysburg beat Dickinson by six points less than they themselves were beaten by the University of Pittsburgh, conquerors of Penn. Villanova was crushed by Dickinson just after the Main Liners had trimmed Rutgers neatly. P. M. C. was undefeated until Dickinson tore through them for a 34-0 victory. Dickinson tripped Franklin and Marshall, conqueror of both Swarthmore and Haverford by a 7-0 advantage. So after the fracas with the wonder Bucknell team Dickinson expects to wallop the Newark lads.

Tomorrow Captain Kramer, Torbert, Weggemann, Davis, Owens and other Seniors will play their last game for the Delaware eleven and it is a sure fact that these boys will play the game of their lives.

The line-up for the Delaware-Dickinson fracas:

ATHLETIC NEWS

Thanksgiving Marks the Close of the Hockey Season

The Sophomores are the unvanquished Heroes of the Hockey Field for the year 1925. They won their laurels in the game with the Freshmen 2-0, and the one with the Seniors 2-0. The Juniors were defeated by the Seniors 2-0, but were victorious over the Freshmen 4-2. Thursday afternoon the final game will be played between the Seniors and the Faculty. The Juniors have charge of the Red Cross Tent, and the Freshmen are enacting the role of Gunga Din.

The only volleyball game was played off Wednesday afternoon between the Sophomores and the Freshmen. The latter won with a score 16-14, 14-13.

Much enthusiasm has been evident at the games this year. Both on the field and in the dining room celebrations after the games. We hope that in the future athletics will continue to occupy their rightful place in our college life.

Meeting of the French Club

On Wednesday evening the French Club held its first meeting in the Common Room of Sussex. Misses Simon and Levi were hostesses, assisted by the French instructor, Miss Richardson. An interesting letter from Miss Kitty Krauss, who is attending the University of Sorbonne this year was read by Miss Devona Keitly. Miss Simon, a former student at the Sorbonne, gave a short talk on her experiences while in France. At the next meeting a bridge party is planned, at which all the conversation will be carried on in French.

Tea Dance at Women's College for Benefit of Review

Since THE REVIEW demands financial support, the staff of the Women's College is giving a tea dance Saturday in the Hilarium from four to six for its benefit. A dance served the most plausible method of raising money. Consequently, the committees in charge are arranging the above mentioned affair.

The girls of the College are privileged to invite an escort, and will be admitted for the reasonable price of one dollar per couple. If any of the representatives of Delaware College desire to attend "Stag," they may do so for fifty cents. "Cut-in" dances will be in order.

Patronesses for the occasion will be Dean Robinson, Miss Drake, Miss Parker, and Miss Kelly. Miss Grace Ellison, assistant editor of THE REVIEW, will head the receiving line. Miss Merrel Pyle and Miss Kitty Ady will pour. Other members of the staff will serve.

Committees in charge are: Music, Miss Linda Bassett; refreshments, Miss Elizabeth Brady and Miss Hattie McCabe; general arrangements, Misses Kitty Ady, Merrel Pyle, Louise Turner, and Christine Baker.

fence or offence. Rupp is without a doubt leaving the biggest gap, for he showed rare skill as a field general last year.

The promising candidates for line positions are nearly all veterans of one or more seasons. Roth, last year's captain, and Baiz, his running mate, are showing up better than ever before on the wings, and any new men who displace them have a tough assignment for both are big, fast, and shifty, bulwarks on the defence, and "Holy Terrors" on the offence. Lashley is passing the pigskin with his customary skill, and will no doubt be back at his old position at center. Crook will be available to take Lashley's place at any time, but "Cris" has been showing up so well elsewhere on the line, that he will see action there. Snell and Keller, guard and tackle respectively, are slated to start in their old stamping grounds, for both are playing consistent, though not spectacular football. Bittle, tackle and letter man, will also see plenty of service during the season.

In addition to these veterans, tried and true, the coach has unearthed several likely looking new men, chief among them being Watson and Voss. Watson is a guard, tipping the scales at 195, and hails from Steelton High School. He is showing up well in scrimmage, and has already demonstrated to "Haps" that he feels at home in a football uniform. Voss, the other newcomer, is a tackle, and has played football at Pennington Seminary and at Swarthmore. He stands six feet four inches tall, weighs in at about 220, and knows how to use his weight. With the addition of these two men, Lightner can place a line on the field which averages over 185 pounds.

Backfield candidates are as plentiful as the sands of the sea, but the varsity backfield of last year has been showing so much driving power and all around ability, that nothing short of a miracle will displace any of the men from their positions. With four men to be picked from a squad of players consisting of Harter, Carpenter, Sweeley, Rupp, White, Books, Bowes, and Berger, a new man from Shennendoah, Lightner will have a difficult task in selecting his backfield. Harter has been calling signals in scrimmage practices, and will no doubt start the season at quarterback, with Carpenter and Bowes available if "Ebbie" should be shifted to his old position at halfback. Carpenter, Books, Rupp, and Berger are fighting for half back positions, while White and Sweeley are both clever full backs, with Sweeley the probable choice because of his ability, to punt, and pass. Baiz and Rupp are also punters of no mean ability, and both may get their chance to dust the pigskin down the field. White will no doubt be saved for use on the defensive, for he has again displayed his old time cunning in backing up the line. In addition to these men, there are a number of men from other Colleges who are ineligible to play this year, because of the one year residence rule passed by the Athletic Association. These men will be permitted to practice with the squad, but will not play until next year.

yards around left end, putting the ball on Haverford's 15-yard line, but on the next play Delaware fumbled and lost their chance for a touchdown. The Main Liners then started a March down the field with Middleton doing most of the work. He made a long run of 28 yards through center and completed a forward with Fox which netted 15 yards.

On the last down, with one foot to go, Middleton broke through the line for the first score of the game. The try for extra point failed as did each subsequent attempt.

Between the halves a dozen Delaware seniors (they were there even though Givens, obstructed the view) marched up and down the field to the accompaniment of a two-piece band.

When the second half started, hope still gleamed brightly for Delaware, but a deathblow was dealt when Hubert's punt from the 35 yard line was blocked and Busselle recovered the ball and raced for a touchdown.

Haverford scored its last touchdown in the final quarter, when Mitchell intercepted Rose's pass and carried the ball back for 30 yards, placing the ball on Delaware's 5-yard line. Middleton carried the ball over in the following two plays.

Loveland deserves much credit for his fine handling of the ball receiving punts, and also for several long runs he made.

Going Up

R. W. Owens

EVERY time you go up in a modern building having high-speed elevators (the Chicago Athletic Club, for instance) you are lifted by the ingenuity of at least one Westinghouse engineer who is barely ten years off the campus.

Until three years ago, high-speed elevators invariably required direct electric current. There was no practical method of using alternating current, and since many districts are supplied only with alternating current, a serious handicap existed.

It was possible to employ a motor generator to convert alternating current into direct current, but when that was done no practical system of control was available if the elevators were to be operated at high speed. The suggestion was made that the control be accomplished by varying the

The question is sometimes asked: "Where do young men get when they enter a large industrial organization? Have they opportunity to exercise creative talents? Or are they forced into narrow grooves?"

This series of advertisements throws light on these questions. Each advertisement takes up the record of a college man who came with the Westinghouse Company within the last ten years, immediately after graduation from his university.

voltage of the generator, and (among others) to a young man of thirty-three—R. W. Owens, Illinois '14, now head of the direct-current section of the motor engineering department—came the special problem of designing an electric generator that would perform as one had never performed before.

Many were associated in the undertaking, for it involved pioneering in control apparatus as well as in generator design, but eventually all difficulties were overcome, and there emerged the "Variable Voltage Control System for Electric Elevators", now standard throughout the building industry.

Here you have the type of problem that confronts the design engineer in an organization like Westinghouse. Not all are as large as this, or lead to such sweeping results. The design engineer works for the customer. He starts with an analysis of the customer's needs and develops apparatus to meet those needs.

His responsibilities are varied and heavy. The jobs of the direct-current section of the motor engineering department range from motors for driving ventilating fans to those for dumping whole cars of ore at the docks. A force of 1,000 men is constantly occupied building the motors designed by this section.

World Court Dr. Ryden's Theme at W. C. D. Chapel on Monday

At the Chapel service on Monday Dr. Ryden gave a most enlightening and interesting talk on the World Court. He explained in detail the aims and functions of this international court. He urged the girls to be vitally interested in this question which is paramount in the social, moral, and political field today. The fact was brought out that the college students of today are the recognized leaders in the religious, social, and moral fields of tomorrow, but they are seldom the leaders in politics. They sit back, rather, and allow others to take the lead. Dr. Ryden stressed the fact that in Europe the students are the ones most earnestly interested in reformation of government, while in America the students as a whole are only negatively interested in national and international problems.

Junior Varsity Doings

The Junior Varsity's manager tried to get a game with Williamson Trade School of Philadelphia for Saturday. But that team met George School on that date. The Varsity's schedule did not provide a game last week-end, because there would not have been enough time for the team to get rested for the Big Dickinson game.

For the Sophomores, Green, Beck, and Lichenstein must be mentioned as playing good football. Beck gained more ground than did any of the others of the Soph backfield; Lichenstein "got off" good punts; and Green proved himself to be a good defense man at the left end position.

student hasn't anything to offer by way of improvement I don't think that he should destroy what of value we now have."

Dr. Crooks' opinion upon the matter is: "I think that students have a right to express in temperate language their opinions about anything which concerns their college life. I believe in the free expression of opinion inside and outside of college. In expressing opinions outside of college one must be willing to accept responsibility for such statements. This is just as true for those who express opinions within college walls. Freedom of press should not be used to cloak personal attacks, and the serious minded person will say his words on an attempt to be fair, in writing on any subject."

Dean Dutton: "Intelligent, constructive criticism from any source is always welcomed by the administration of the University of Delaware."

BRANCHES IN PRINCIPAL CITIES

Into the making of this one cigarette goes all of the ability of the world's largest organization of expert tobacco men. Nothing is too good for Camels. The choicest Turkish and domestic tobaccos. The most skillful blenders. The most scientific package. No other cigarette made is like Camels. No finer cigarette can be made. Camels are the overwhelming choice of experienced smokers.

When it's Thanksgiving—and the teams are drawn up for battle on the gridiron—when the first touchdown goes over and the grandstands rock with frenzy—have a Camel!

WHEN the rival bands are playing to make your blood tingle. And the cheers and answering songs sweep back and forth between the opposing thousands of rooters. When, following that tense hush, a swift player darts out from the flashing formations on the gridiron and races across the goal for the first touchdown—oh, man, or superman, when the taste of joy is too keen to endure—have a Camel!

For Camel is the boon companion of your joys. Roam as far as you will from the prosaic things of every day, Camel will be the truest smoke friend you ever had. Not a tired taste, not a cigarette after-taste, not a regret in a million Camels! Just full and fragrant smoke contentment, just added zest in living.

So when your own college's team tears through for its first smashing goal this Thanksgiving Day—when life seems fullest of the frenzy of happiness—joyfully apply the fire and taste the smoke that's loved by millions.

Have a Camel!

Our highest wish, if you do not yet know Camel quality, is that you try them. We invite you to compare Camels with any cigarette made at any price. R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.
