City Officials Defendants In Court Action Over Permit

William C. Booser Requests Court To Require City To Issue Him Occupancy Permit For Liquor Store To Be Located At Former Rustic Inn In Lumbrook

William C. Booser, Capitol Trail property owner, has filed a complaint in the Court of Chancery in which he questioned the legality of city officials in not issuing him an occupancy permit for a package liquor store to be located on Capitol Trail.

In addition to Mr. Booser, his wife and A. Allen Hein, executive tenant for the store, are the plaintiffs in the case.

Named as defendants are Mayor M. Johnson, all of the members of the City Council, the Board of Public Works, and Charles D. Booser, city secretary.

Booser's property was included in the city's zoning plan which was adopted by the City Council in 1946. The plan provided that the property be used as a restaurant.

Booser contends that the city's zoning plan is unconstitutional and that the city is not allowed to remain in the zoning plan. He also contends that the city is not allowed to remain in the zoning plan.

Booser is reported to have refused a liquor license by the City Council due to the city's zoning plan. He also contends that the city is not allowed to remain in the zoning plan.

City Water Rates Increased 50% By New Ordinance

Minimum Charge Will Now Be $5.25 Per Quarter For Average City Consumer

City Council last week passed a city ordinance increasing the city water rates by about 50% beginning January 1. This means that the minimum quarterly rate of the average consumer will be $5.25 per quarter instead of the present charge of $3.50.

The regulation was passed at a meeting on Wednesday night of last week. The regular meeting on Tuesday evening had been postponed due to the lack of a quorum. Only four members of Council were on hand Wednesday. Councilman Donald Hill, William Coverdale, and Samuel Diehl were absent and did not vote on the measure.

This increased water rate plus the levying of a sewer charge of $1 per month has been planned by city officials to increase city revenue in an amount necessary to liquidate the recent $500,000 bond issue for the purpose of extending and improving the city water and sewer facilities.

Councilman Carl S. Rankin has pointed out that the new rate is 30 cents per 100 cu. ft. for the first 2000 cu. ft. used by 3/8 meters (the standard residential meter). This means that for $5.25 the user would get 1700 cu. ft. of water, while previously the rate was such that the user received 1800 cu. ft. for $3.50.

The new rates have been set up using the rates of other communities and water companies in the area as a guide.

Program To Feature Music Of Dr. Wayne Barlow Member Of Eastman Staff

Professor Anthony J. Louis of the Music Department of the University of Delaware announces the fourth annual Contemporary Music Festival Concert will be held in Mitchell Hall Tuesday evening, November 18, at 8:30 p.m. The Festival Concert will feature the works of the American composer, Wayne Barlow.

Dr. Barlow is professor of composition and theory at the Eastman School of Music of the University of Rochester. He has been the recipient of several important music commissions. His orchestral works have been performed and recorded by the major symphony orchestras of the country.

He will be on campus for a two-day period under the visiting scholar program, during which time he will meet with the students in the Music Literature courses and assist in the final rehearsals for the evening program. At the conclusion of the evening concert, members of the audience and the performing groups will have the opportunity to ask Dr. Barlow questions concerning contemporary music in general and the works heard that evening.

A performance of his solo, choral and orchestral works will be presented during the evening concert in Mitchell Hall. Staff members will perform the solo works, the A Cappella Choir will be heard in his choruses, and the Delaware Symphony will interpret the orchestral compositions.

Lutheran Church Founded Here; First Service on Dec. 7

The Lutheran Church will begin work in Newark immediately. This announcement came from official church sources less than a week after the preliminary discussion meeting held at the home of Professor and Mrs. Russell C. Stauffer.

More than 40 confirmed adult Lutherans attended the exploratory meeting. It was learned that 130 adult Lutherans are now residing in the Newark area. This fact, plus the anticipated expansion through the various housing projects, prompted church officials to authorize immediate work.

F. W. Johns, Jr., 364 S. College Ave., was elected chairman of the steering committee. Professor Russell C. Stauffer, 107 E. Park Place, was elected treasurer. Other members of the steering committee include Elwood Bitterbender and Charles Dickson.

The first Lutheran service in Newark will be held on December 7 at 11 a.m. The Rev. J. Elmer Leas of St. Stephen's Lutheran Church, Wilmington, will be guest pastor. Until a permanent church site is found services will be held in the chapel of the Newark Funeral Home, 121 W. Park Place.

Throughout the months of December and January prominent Lutheran pastors from Philadelphia will preach here. Among those to appear will be the Rev. Dr. G. Elson Ruff, editor of the denomination's national magazine which has a circulation of 120,000.

The Rev. Robert E. Neumeier, pastor of Zion Church, Wilmington, conferred with the Rev. Dr. Roy A. Wickers, secretary of the Synodical Mission work, and the Rev. Dr. Karl S. Henry, director of Lutheran mission work throughout the United States and Canada. It is expected that a full time pastor will be sent to Newark within the near future.

Elizabeth Dyer Cited By College For Contribution

One Of 28 Nominated By Mount Holyoke College For Possible National Honors

Miss Elizabeth Dyer, chemistry professor at the University of Delaware, has been nominated for possible honors in a newly inaugurated project to honor women for outstanding work in their communities.

Miss Dyer, who has combined research and teaching ever since her graduation from college in 1927, was named by her Alma Mater, Mount Holyoke College, at South Hadley, Massachusetts, for honors in the Mary Margaret McBride Project. The nominating letter which also suggested 28 other career women in various parts of the country, was one of many which are received daily by the committee.

The aim of the project is to get women to realize that they can contribute to our democratic way of life by working on the local level, by striving to improve community conditions, better educational facilities, reduce race tensions, and in general create better understanding.

Four winners—one from each area of the country—will be selected by a committee of representatives of the United Church Women, National Council of Catholic Women, and National Council of Jewish Women, who are cooperating with Mary Margaret McBride in this project. Next spring these winners will be brought to New York for a gala celebration and will appear on her radio program.

Gala Ceremonies Will Mark Opening of Delaware Stadium

Lafayette Will Furnish Opposition As Blue Hens Play First Game On Campus Since 1946; Parade, Crowning Of Homecoming Queen Also Scheduled

On Saturday the University of Delaware will meet Lafayette College in the first Homecoming Day football game to be played here in Newark since 1946. Appropriate ceremonies to mark the opening of the newly-completed Delaware Stadium have been arranged by student and alumni groups.

Included on the agenda is a pre-game parade through the streets of the city and the half-time crowning of the annual Homecoming Queen. After the game a golf party for alumni, alumni and their friends will be held at the Newark Country Club.

Some fifteen decorated floats sponsored by the various campus organizations, and the 17 candidates for the title of Homecoming Queen will head the colorful parade through the streets of the city. At the same time stadium fans will be treated to a special musical program by six state high school bands.

Advance ticket sales indicate that close to a capacity crowd will be on hand to witness this significant date in the history of Delaware football.

In a letter to the residents of Newark and vicinity, Dr. John A. Perkins pointed out the close relationship between the people of the city and the university and commended the hope that these living in the city would take advantage of this opportunity to "come together again and enjoy good football and the friendly atmosphere which such games create only in college towns like ours."

Dr. Perkins recalled that in 1942 it was necessary to shift Delaware's home games to Wilmington Park because of the inadequacy of Francis Field facilities and how it was soon apparent that something significant had been lost. "It has been clear that football on campus had been a part of an overall program of continuing neighborliness which included such other events as lectures, concerts, and plays in Mitchell Hall," said the president, "and for that reason we are very happy to have been able to return football to the campus."

In a letter to alumni-alumni groups by the respective presidents the hope was expressed that Homecoming Day will again become a day when the two groups, their families and friends return to campus to renew old friendships, to make new friends, and to bond even closer the bond between our university and its former students.

Less Couples 'Doubled Up' Than In 1947

Thanks to the housing boom and the high level of economic activity since the end of the World War II, the number of married couples who are living "doubled up" with relatives or others has shown a big decline in the last five years.

The total number of such couples was 1,342,000 in April this year, or somewhat over 4 per cent of all American households, according to the U. S. Bureau of the Census. This compares with a peak of 2,067,000 couples living "doubled up" in April, 1947, or nearly 9 per cent of all households at that time. The number in 1949 was substantially greater than at present, amounting to 1,516,000 couples, or nearly 7 per cent of all households in that year.

Vets May Enter Delaware In Feb.

The University of Delaware will accept applications for the admission of veterans at the beginning of the second semester in February, 1953. This is a departure from the usual practice of admitting students only in September at the beginning of the academic year. The purpose of this plan is to give veterans the opportunity to start work towards a degree or to further their educational work without delay after discharge from military service.

The University wishes to make clear that it cannot promise to offer the usual first semester work to such February entrants but it believes that a satisfactory schedule can be arranged for each student even though it does not carry the usual freshman courses.

All applications and inquiries should be addressed to the Director of Admissions, University of Delaware, in Newark.

GOOD HEALTH

1. IS STOMACH CANCER CURABLE?

2. WHAT IS GOUT?

3. IS SKIMMED MILK A VALUABLE FOOD?

Answer to Question No. 1: Stomach cancer is curable if diagnosed and treated early. Improved surgical methods, aided by transfusion of blood, better anesthesia and antibiotics, have helped in curing the disease. These improvements have come about in the last twenty years, especially in the last ten. With recurring abdominal symptoms, see your doctor.

Answer to Question No. 2: Gout is a disease resulting from disorders in metabolism that produce swelling and pain in any joint of the body, particularly the big toe. Your doctor can give you great relief from the pain and he will be able to shorten the attack. Colchicin and proper diet lessen the likelihood of a recurrence.

Answer to Question No. 3: Skimmed milk has all the properties of regular milk except milk fat and is therefore a valuable food. It is especially useful in reducing diet. Whole milk is preferable for children and adults who are underweight, but if skimmed milk is used the milk fat can be replaced in the diet by butter, oleomargarine, or other fats if desired.

The Pastor's Corner

The Christian Symbol

by Rev. R. H. Smith

Christianity owns a distinctive symbol. Two thousand years ago the Roman government used the cross as an instrument of cruel death for slaves. Intense pain and humiliating shame attended the victim of the cross. But the instrument of salvation, a sign of victory, for they crucified the Son of God on the old, rugged cross. After the death of Jesus, the cross began to write a new history.

Multitudes today cherish a feeling of deepest reverence for the cross of Christ. The cross has revealed to them the greatest expression of love the world has ever known. It tells of the infinite love of God, the love which gave heaven's best for the worst of sinful mankind. Then, too, the cross is honored by Christians as a symbol for their sins. Foolishness you say. Yes, to those who are intellectually proud. Others, who reject Christ, call it a stumblingblock. But it is, nevertheless, "the power of God unto salvation to those who believe."

Though a host of people have experienced personally this true meaning of the cross, a vastly larger multitude have never accepted it or have accepted the cross in a blind, sentimental manner. To this group, the cross might merely mean a piece of church furniture, an ornament to be placed on top of a steeple, or a piece of jewelry to be worn in the form of a necklace or pin. They fail to realize that bearing the cross and discipleship are vitally related. In reality, these two terms can never be divorced, for a disciple of the Lord is one who denies self, takes up the cross, and devotedly follows Christ. The sentimental cross-bearer, however, actually crucifies afresh the Son of God. Entrailed by worldly pleasures and sinful habits, his life of unbelief is un-Christian rather than Christianlike.

The great Apostle Paul could have gloried in reputation, in learning, in his blue-blooded ancestry, and in his position as a religious leader. Did Paul glory in these things? No! Said he, "God forbid that I should glory save in the cross of Jesus Christ by which the world is crucified unto me and I unto the world." The cross, therefore, is Paul's glory. The cross is the only power that can save all who would be saved.

Florida Sunday was the first of the winter season. The weather was just what we needed.

A PLEDGE FOR HOME DEFENSE

Defense of the home is a basic instinct of the American people. This fundamental feeling transcends mere self-preservation. It embraces the protection of family, friends, neighbors, community, and country. It is the essence of our national unity and the foundation of our national strength and security.

Our foremost military authorities warn that an enemy today could send more than 400 airplanes carrying enough atomic and conventional bombs to blast all our major industrial target areas. They estimate that at least 70 of every 100 of these planes would be able to penetrate our defenses and drop their lethal loads where they would do the heaviest damage. They believe an enemy would try to attack without warning our principal manufacturing cities, railroad centers, seaports, and seat of government, in a frenzied effort to paralyze them with a single blow, demoralize our people, and destroy our will to fight.

That is why the United States must have a strong civil defense organization. It must be able to cope with a full-scale onslaught and enable the nation to recover from it in the shortest possible time. Such an organization will require many millions of trained volunteers.

To help meet this requirement, the great national organizations of the United States, in cooperation with the Federal Civil Defense Administration, are inviting their members to participate in a volunteer registration campaign and take a "Pledge for Home Defense" during the period beginning with Armistice Day and ending with Thanksgiving Day. The pledge is a voluntary expression by public-spirited citizens of their willingness to be included in a reserve of manpower which will be called upon for training and service as the need arises.

All patriotic men and women should respond to this call. They and their children should learn without delay how to protect themselves against atomic attack and how to help their neighbors in case of emergency. Their response will proclaim that the spirit symbolized by Armistice Day and Thanksgiving Day still lives. It will serve notice on aggressors that Americans are aware of the danger that threatens them and prepared to meet it. It will contribute immeasurably to our national security and thereby be a potent force for world peace, because the greater our ability to withstand attack, the less likelihood that an enemy will take the risk of our retaliation.

PostScript

by
J. F. M.

Recently there came across our desk a publication of the American Flag Committee which is described as a voluntary association of American patriots organized to defend and perpetuate the Flag, Constitution and Government of an independent and sovereign United States.

The newsletter, published regularly by a W. Henry MacFarlane, Jr., calls upon the American public to ban UNESCO, the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization, from further access to America's schools. Being quite as dumb about UNESCO as we are about many other things which we should know about, we made it a point to ask a couple of people at the Newark High School this week what their opinions were concerning the organization.

We found out very little. Both claimed to know very little about the actual program of the group although one did say that he was "in accord with the fundamental purpose of UNESCO." Now we don't really know what this purpose is other than having some vague idea that it is to better social conditions throughout the world through educational programs in the schools of the member nations.

We are going to make it a point to find out more about this program though. And we can't think of a better place to start than the Newark Branch, American Association of University Women. This group recently endorsed the UNESCO program.

Mr. MacFarlane says his battle against UNESCO is allied to that against Communism, Socialism, World Federalism and other ideologies aiming toward the radical modification of our national independence and constitutional republican form of government.

He points out that the Los Angeles School Board, by vote of 5 to 4, has acted to ban UNESCO from classrooms under its jurisdiction. He also states that the Veterans of Foreign Wars at a recently held convention adopted a resolution condemning UNESCO.

Mr. MacFarlane could be very wrong and so could the Los Angeles Board of Education and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. It has, however, given us reason to find out more about this program which Mr. MacFarlane claims desires the revision of school textbooks among UN-member nations.

Sam Deihl, councilman from the Middle District, has written us requesting that we emphasize that he did not vote for the ordinance recently passed by City Council increasing the water rates by approximately 50%.

Mr. Deihl pointed out that his objection to the increase in rates was the fact that George Reed village homes are not metered. He had hoped to see these homes metered before the new regulation was put into effect.

He reminded us that he voted against the ordinance at its first reading and says he would have done so again at the final reading if he had been on hand. He said he asked that the voting on the matter be postponed until he could be present but his request was not heeded. In fact two other members of Council were absent on the night that the new rate was passed. They were Councilmen Don Hill and Bill Coverdale.

No one is any happier than we are over the fact the University of Delaware has a new stadium here in Newark in which to play its home football games. As far as we are concerned football was meant to be played in the daytime. And there is no doubt that something was lacking in the Wilmington Park contests. While university officials did not take the games to Wilmington Park for commercial purposes, the large crowds did help to support the entire athletic program here at Delaware. They have been somewhat concerned that the crowds might drop off in the new stadium. All indications are, however, that in the neighborhood of 7,500 will be on hand Saturday.

We would like to see the new stadium named, however, and will even go so far as to make our suggestion. We would like to see it named after an illustrious graduate and distinguished resident, Lt. Gen. John W. (Iron Mike) O'Daniel.

Next Friday night his many friends in the vicinity will give Dave Douglas, Newark's favorite professional golfer, a "night" at the Newark Country Club.

Women Of St. Thomas' To Hear Noted Lecturer

The Women of St. Thomas' will hold a general meeting on November 18, in the Parish House, at 8 p.m. The business part of the meeting will be very short. The guest speaker will be Mrs. Harold Kellerman, director of Christian Education for the diocese of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Kellerman lectures regularly at the College of Preachers in Washington and teaches Christian education courses at Virginia Theological Seminary. She was one of four lecturers in the family forum held last year at St. Andrew's School. Her subject for this meeting will be a practical view on the problem of what parents should and should not expect of the church school and the part of parents in religious education in the home. Men and women of all denominations in Newark are cordially invited. Refreshments will be served.

Dr. James Millar Will Speak At School Assembly

Dr. James Millar, director of Good Citizenship Foundation, Portland, Oregon, will address the students of the Newark High School at an assembly at 11:15 a.m. on Tuesday, November 18.

The speaker is currently making a series of talks at schools throughout the area under the sponsorship of the Delaware State Education Association.

According to Robert Durkee, executive secretary of the DSEA, the Good Citizenship Foundation is a non-partisan, non-sectarian, and non-commercial organization with the purpose of stimulating better citizenship among young Americans.

Dr. Millar received his education at Cambridge and Oxford in England, as well as at Colorado State College, Denver University, and the University of Chicago.

Newark Will Meet A. I. DuPont High Saturday Away

Yellowjackets Favored; Can Take County Lead If Claymont Whips Wm. Penn

Newark High School, fresh from a 6-0 victory over previously unbeaten Laurel High last week will meet Alexis I. DuPont Saturday afternoon at the A. I. DuPont Field on the Kernet Pike.

At the same time the Yellowjackets will be very much concerned with the outcome of the contest at New Castle where the unbeaten Colonials, now holding first place in the mythical County race with a record of six wins and a tie, will risk their four-game winning streak against dangerous Claymont High.

Should the Claymont club upset New Castle, and Newark defeat A. I. DuPont, as is expected, then the local eleven would resume the lead in the county race.

Claymont, although defeated by the Yellowjackets earlier in the season, came on to knock off P. S. duPont 26 to 12, and gave strong Howard High a terrific battle before bowing 20 to 19 and can be counted on to extend William Penn to the limit.

A. I. DuPont has yet to win this year and unless the Newark High club has a bad day, which it has shown it is capable of, A. I. DuPont should prove much of a hurdle. Coach Spasato was well pleased with the effort of his club last week and pointed out that only a series of bad breaks kept the score from being much larger than the 6 to 0 by which they won.

Danny Palmer, who was used only on defense last week due to his weakened condition resulting from a siege of illness during the week, will be back at full strength for the Saturday game. The slender halfback, despite his inactivity last week, is still tied for second place in the county individual scoring race with 42 points. He is tied at this point with Butler of Howard and Blackwell of Sanford Prep. Dave Hurn is in twelfth place with 24 points.

Enters Goldey-Beacom

Brandy Davis

Brandy Davis, Newark's speedy outfielder who just completed his first season as a major leaguer with the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League, will enter Goldey-Beacom School of Business, Wilmington, Delaware, on November 17 for the course in Business Administration.

"I want to be prepared to make a career out of organized baseball," said Brandy, "and there is always an opportunity in front-office work when my playing days are over. A knowledge of accounting, business law, and other business administration subjects is a good investment for any man; and I expect to use my time between seasons in extending my knowledge."

Recognized by national sports writers as one of the fastest men in organized baseball, Brandy played in 60 games last year and provided himself a dangerous man on the bases.

He was disappointed but not discouraged at the Pirates' standing this year. "We'll do a lot better next year," he said. Brandy is a part of Manager Branch Rickey's "youth movement." It is agreed by critics that Rickey is building for the future and that the outlook for 1953 is very encouraging.

Brandy will pursue his studies at Goldey-Beacom until February when he will leave for the spring training trip of the Pirates at Havana, Cuba.

The Synchronette will play the "Nocturne for Chamber Orchestra," the "Sinfonietta in C," "Lyrical Piece for Clarinet and Strings"—Frank Hillman, Clarinetist; and "The Winter's Past"—a rhapsody for Oboe and Strings—Helen Ralish, Oboist.

Sixty students of the A Cappella Choir under the direction of Marvin Fennema will sing three of the important choral compositions of Dr. Barlow. Chosen from his choral works for performance by the choir are three selections representing contemporary treatments of some traditional choral forms. The "Madrigal for a Bright Morning" will reveal Dr. Barlow's treatment of the old English Madrigal.
