MUSIC SOCIETY PRESENTS PROGRAM

Miniature Opera Is Presented To Newark Public

On Tuesday evening at Mitchell Hall was given the program entitled Opera in Miniature under the auspices of the Newark Music Society. The singers were Joan Ruth, Soprano; Virginia Kendrick, Contralto; James Montgomery, Tenor; Charles Yearsley, Baritone, with Fern Sherman at the piano.

The program consisted of 2 parts.—Part 1 comprising two scenes from Faust, by Gounod, and Part 2, two scenes from Martha, by von Flotow. It is pleasant in these days to have some of the scenes from these great works recalled for us even though orchestra and stage settings could not be reproduced. On the other hand, if the singers had confined their efforts more closely to the lighter music of the Martha type, the voices were inadequate for the powerfully dramatic Gounod setting of Faust, which was shown particularly in the Grand Redemption song in the closing scene.

Martha was much more tastefully chosen. The lighter music with so many well known, captivating airs quite appealed to the audience.

Mr. Montgomery's voice carried best, and he sang with considerable artistry. Had Mr. Yearsley been less restrained in volume the lovely quality of his baritone voice would have been more appreciated. It was unfortunate that Miss Kendrick, the contralto, had so little opportunity to show her ability, and Miss Ruth, with Mr. Montgomery, bore the brunt of the evening's performance.

NEWARK FIRE LOSS $35,205 FOR 1943

Newark Firemen Answer 145 Calls

The fire loss in Newark for the year 1943 far exceeded the loss of the previous year according to the annual report of Fire Recorder Charles Moore. In 1943 there were 56 fires within the corporate limits of the town with a loss of $35,205 as compared with 34 fires with a loss of $5,260 for 1942. This great increase in loss was caused by the disastrous fire at the A. & P. Store and the fire that destroyed the warehouse of the I. N. Sheaffer Paint Store. During 1943 the fire apparatus traveled 187 miles to fires in town as against 65 miles for the year 1942.

Fires out of town and in the district for 1943 numbered 81 with a loss of $32,020 as compared with 52 fires with a loss of $15,160 for 1942. The fire apparatus traveled 975 miles to these fires in 1943 and 351 miles in 1942. Eight calls were answered for out of district fires where the fire loss was $100,740 for 1943 as against four calls with a loss of $400 for the year 1942.

During 1943 the firemen answered 75 calls for field and woods fires with $10 loss. There were eight chimney fires with no loss; 10 automobile fires resulted in a loss of $14,600 and there were eleven dwelling fires with a loss of $3,470; three industrial plant fires with a loss of $2,000; two garages with a loss of $1,810; four barns with $9,240 loss and 29 miscellaneous fires with $131,735 loss. Three false alarms were answered.

During the past year approximately 14 men responded to each alarm or a total of 2,167 men responded to the total number of fires with a total of 1,957 man-hours put in by the firemen during the year. The fire company was in service for 112 hours and 27 minutes during the year, and a considerable number of additional hours was spent at the firehouse after each fire getting the apparatus in shape for the next run.

Seventeen of the year's fire calls were received between midnight and 8 a. m.; 78 were between 8 a. m. and 4 p. m. and 50 fires between 4 p. m. and midnight.

Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair McVicker, West Park Place, are receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Marianne, on January 9, in the Memorial Hospital, Wilmington.

SUBSTITUTE MASH LACKS VITAMIN A FOR CHICKS

Experiment
Most Serious
To Eight Week
Old Chicks

In reporting results of an experiment run at the University of Delaware Substation in which oats and barley completely substituted corn as feed for a broiler flock, Karl Seeger, assistant research poultryman for the Delaware Agricultural Experiment Station, pointed out that this feed substitution was far more serious to chicks under eight weeks old than to older chicks.

At the fourth week losses suddenly increased with dead chicks showing deficiency of Vitamin A. When fish oil of high Vitamin A content was given for a week, losses from this cause almost stopped.

However, the birds were already weak, and caecal and intestinal coccidiosis began to take their toll. Records are not yet completed, says Mr. Seeger, but losses of 25 to 30 per cent of broiler crosses are indicated.

This flock also showed extremely slow growth, finishing at 17 weeks compared to a usual 13 to 14 weeks for finishing.

If ingredients necessary to broilers are not available, producers must continue to bury three to four pounds of feed with every pound of dead chick to the extent of 25 per cent or more of each flock started. To produce broilers at maximum feed conservation, higher quality feed for broilers up to eight weeks must be made available. During this period feed consumption is low and vitamin requirements high. If the broilers get this good start, losses would be greatly reduced, and then a poorer quality feed could be used with fair results and little danger of deficiency problems. The result would be a contribution to the food production program and a conservation of chicks, feed, and fuel.

Lt. Robert M. Hanson, Marine Corps aviator of Newtonville, Mass., and a former Hamlin University football, track and tennis star, recently engaged a Jap Zero in a dogfight. "Lt. Hanson," reports Sgt. Pen T. Johnson, a Marine Corps combat correspondent in the South Pacific, "got his man."

Suggestions for Saving Fuel...

Thorough insulation, storm sash, weather stripping and caulking cut air leakage in your home.

Turn thermostat down and close doors in rooms with open windows. Turn off heat before opening the windows.

Keep your thermostat at not over 65°—keep it even lower as many hours of the day as possible.

Your fireplace opening to the chimney is a great heat waster as it draws hot air out of the room. Check this by closing damper when not in use, making certain damper fits tight.

Close all parts of your house which are not in use. Heat only required living space.

Check your heating system, or have it checked to see that it is in first class operating condition. Check the air valves on all radiators, replace or clean those which do not operate. Check these valves regularly throughout the heating season. In hot water heating systems, open valves once a month to release accumulated air. Don't cover or improperly enclose radiators in actual use.

Keep garage doors closed at all times. Shut off heat supply to your garage.

AN OPEN LETTER TO WOMEN OF NEWARK

(Reprinted by request)

Women of Newark are direly needed at the local Red Cross work room, in the basement of the Newark New Century Club, to help make bandages and surgical dressings for our men on the battle fronts.

A number of local ladies already are giving their time weekly to this humanitarian work. Others are appealed to in this time of need when more workers are essential if the Newark Branch is to maintain its monthly quota of work completed.

The following hypothetical letter is reproduced in the hope that it will lend incentive to Newark women to come to Red Cross work rooms on Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:00 until 9:30 o'clock where they may engage in worthwhile, essential and soul-satisfying work which may lessen the pain of someone's loved one injured on the field of battle.

Dear Son:

This letter you will never see, but I must pretend to myself that I can talk with you tonight, on Bataan or wherever you are.

Things are about the same here at home. The war comes closer to the people every day. Many are helping all they can; some seem to go along untouched. Sometimes someone says something that is hard to bear, but I know it is just that they have not understood, that they would feel differently if they had had a wire from the War Department beginning, "We regret to inform you..."

It is a long time since April... and in these long five months we have hoped and feared to know what "missing in action" really means. They say that when you are not on any known list of killed and wounded, we may hope.

Tonight I went down to the Red Cross Headquarters and made dressings for two hours. Somehow, I was happier there. We cut and folded the gauze dressings, and as the neat white pile mounted I was remembering the little wounds you and the others used to have—the barked shin, the cut finger—you and the boys... I cannot bind those any more. The wounds are bigger now, and I am far away. But I can make dressings, and pack each one away with a prayer that when they have gone their long journey, they will help nurses and doctors I have never seen to bind up the wounds this dreadful war has brought.

Under the bright Red Cross banner of mercy through the hot days of summer, and even at night, women are working to make these dressings. Some of them have sons and husbands in the Service, and some are just beautifully kind women who want to be of help. Some of them are giving up a bridge game, and gladly lend their soft white hands to the work. Some of them have hands that show they always had to work hard and are probably giving hours from the very few leisure ones life gives them. But they are all working together for the same purpose, getting to know and understand and like each other, just as you boys do when you work and fight together.

I hope that some way the boys who need these dressings—the sponges, the 4 x 4's, the rolled bandages, the abdominals—sense just a little the love that goes into their making, the yearning to be of service to you men that the people felt... It is just another way of saying we love you... Goodnight, my darling, wherever you are... my love to you.

Mom

Housewives or employed women of Newark will find the two to four hours spent in the Red Cross work rooms pleasant, congenial and recreational. We hope the above message may awaken them to the need for more and greater production and that they will manifest their aroused interest by promptly enlisting in the volunteer group now meeting every Tuesday and Thursday evening.

RUINOUS MONOPOLY

The leaders of the nation's largest labor union, the United Automobile and Aircraft Workers, CIO, have asked the government to take over and run basic private industries after the war, on the grounds that such industries are "monopolistic" and strategically necessary to the national safety.

It is a strange thing for leaders in any branch of public or private life to advocate further government domination over the individual in a nation that is spending three and four hundred billion dollars to crush government control over individuals in other nations. They either do not know what they are asking, or they are deliberately advocating state socialism—precisely the same kind of liberty-destroying socialism Americans despise.

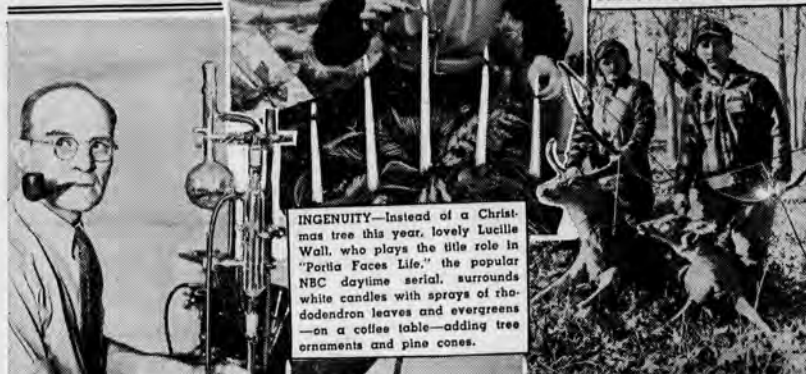

It is also strange to see those leaders demanding socialization of industry on the plea of strategic necessity. This war is being won because private industry, the plane and tank factories, the shipyards, the coal and metal mines, the oil, electric power and other natural resource industries turned to the task of building a war machine from scratch with a do-or-die determination. Success has been achieved to an undreamed of degree—success that has been marred by but one serious incident over which management had no control: The coal strike. After industry has proved its ability to meet a war emergency efficiently and quickly, it is pure hypocrisy to demand that it be taken over by government in the interests of national safety.

It is even stranger for leaders of organized labor to advocate government ownership of industry on the ground of monopoly. Any industry that is a monopoly can be regulated or otherwise controlled by law. On the other hand, unions have demonstrated their ability to wreck private industry, just as they have demonstrated their power to say when, where and how millions of private citizens may make a living. They exercise unregulated, monopolistic power over the most valuable asset the nation possesses—the skills of American workmen.

Weekly Sermon

Christ and the Multitude

By Max I. Reich, D.D., Director, Jewish Missions Course Moody Bible Institute, Chicago.

The secret of the triumph of Christianity is that the historic Christ is the living Christ, and that the living Christ is the historic Christ. What He was, He is, and what He is, is illustrated by what He was.

As He entered Capernaum and Bethsaida and Bethany, so He comes today into our towns and villages, hamlets and homes. And what He did there once, He still does today.

Now what do the Gospels say of Him?

1. He attracted the crowds. They came to Him from every quarter. The common people heard him gladly. They even followed Him into desert places. Jerusalem might spurn Him. The official leaders of Judaism might oppose Him. But the hearts of the many hungry for bread from heaven turned to Him eagerly.

2. The crowd attracted Him. If their need drew them to Jesus, His grace drew Him to them. How did He see them? As sheep without a shepherd. He said, "They need not depart: give ye them to eat."

3. Christ knows the crowd. He could distinguish between the crush of curiosity and the touch of faith. He knows the secret longings and yearnings of the human heart. The individual is not lost in the crowd.

4. The crowd knows Christ. The crowd knows the real Christ when He is presented. The crowd wants bread and not a stone.

Christ is spiritually present where there is misery because of bondage to hateful habits, impossible for unaided human nature to drop; where there is a hunger after bread which none of the world's values can supply; where there is a craving for friendship, fellowship, understanding, and sympathetic companionship; where men fear to go down into the dark valley of death that opens to the eternal world.

The cry of His disciples in the storm-tossed boat awoke Him once to still the waves and to still their fears. The cry of penitence and of broken heart still brings Him to our side in saving grace and power.

The poultry cost of production and egg record, kept by a number of poultry producers to determine factors that influence profit or loss in the business, will be carried on for the year, beginning October 1st, under the direction of Ralph L. Watson, Acting County Agricultural Agent, in cooperation with Garry A. Miles, Extension Poultryman of the University of Delaware.

The records consist of calendars which are distributed free of charge to co-operators. On the calendars, space is provided for recording the number of layers, eggs produced, receipts and expenses for each month. One copy of each monthly report is sent to the County Office, which sends them to the University of Delaware where

NEWS IN THE WORLD OF RELIGION BY W.W. REID

Eighteen mattresses on the floor of the Episcopal parish house at Abilene, Texas, are occupied every Saturday night by soldiers on leave, who are given hospitality in parish homes on Sunday. As they turn in Saturday night, someone always thinks of the fact that the parish is named "The Church of the Heavenly Rest."

"If more American homes were significant of the leading role which Sunday Schools, young people's meetings, and similar groups have to our youth, we would not now be confronted with the rising tide of juvenile delinquency," says Director J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI. "Homes where the parents are working in partnership with God and where the children are given the benefit of proper religious education can do much to combat this trend before it becomes an insurmountable obstacle."

Eleven native chiefs in the Belgian Congo have professed conversion to Christianity recently, according to the Rev. Edward I. Everett, Methodist missionary superintendent in Jadotville, B. C. "For a chief to become a Christian is a great sacrifice," says Dr. Everett. "A chief has more than one wife. If he becomes a Christian he must give up his plural wives. When other chiefs come to visit him he is expected to serve them with a native beer or wine. This custom the church repudiates. He must take down the little spirit huts which he controls in his village. The ancestral spirits may get angry at this and wreak vengeance on the whole village because of it. If a larger chieftainship is offered him, he will not be able to inherit the wives of the dead chief. He must repudiate the witch-doctor, who is the most powerful man in the community. A witch-doctor can call the chief a witch and compel him to drink poison or make the scalding water test to show guilt or innocence."

Despite the war conditions, the churches of Sweden, Denmark, and the Swedish-speaking sections of Finland observed in November the 31st anniversary of the death on the battle field of Leutenen of Sweden's great king, Gustavus Adolphus. It was Gustavus Adolphus who led the Scandinavian armies in the Thirty Years' War and established Lutheranism in the north, while helping to save the Protestant movement in Germany. At the anniversary, religious and political speakers emphasized that "the great king's ideals of justice and liberty are still cherished."

How About That!

By Ruth Safran

When the night is beginning to lower And your typewriter's out of its case And the thought of the morrow's deadline

Starts you square in the face And your throat feels as rough as a pretzel And you're sorry for self as can be Then I ask not for whom the bell tolls I know—Brother, it tolls for me.

Meanwhile the radio is trying to convince me that it's "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning" and the thought provides no iota of comfort.

But typewriter-wielders ought not spread gloom. Usually by the time you get sympathy the mood has passed. (Anyone who has ever written a gothic-feel-miserable letter has experienced getting a lushly sympathetic response just about the time the mood has passed and you feel as gleeful as a budding carpenter who has just sawed off the dining room table leg). So I was convinced when Alice Ennis asked if I were feeling very miserable when I wrote a pre-Christmas column wondering about the fate of a very dear friend last heard from in Baguio, Philippine Islands in November, 1941.

How could I feel any reminiscent gloom when just about the time Alice asked me I had gotten word of the Winnifred Watson Smith family.

It was the first news that any of Winnie's friends had had. And it came on the Gripsholm. A business man, interned on the same island, had a recent picture of Winnie and her son, Freddie and they both looked well.

He reported that the Smiths were interned on December 27, 1941, but after several months were permitted to leave camp and live in the city. Freddie and 16 babies born in the camp have goat's milk supplied by the camp herd.

On A Bus

There is something strangely friendly about riding a bus in wartime—probably more riders and drivers alike are learning to shrug off laughingly the sight and sound of wedged-in humanity. A bus driver in New York, for instance, adds to his "Move to the back, please" plea the whimsical note that "the back of the bus is going in the same direction as the front."

Or you can overhear an interesting conversation such as the one overheard by a friend of ours on the Wilmington-Newark bus.

"Ah bet and make a better soldier in you", said one passenger to the other.

"The heck you would", countered the second.

"Why ah bet you wouldn't even know how to address an officuh", retorted the first. "Suppose you wuh on sentree duty", he continued, "and an officuh came up. You know what ah'd do?" And he stiffened up assuming a military bearing.

"Ah'd say: Halt, who goes there? And ah'd say, 'The officuh of the day, and ah'd say, 'officuh of the day, huh! What right has the officuh of the day traipsing around at night?"

J. H. (Sureshot) Rumer

The most important sports shot of the week is the fact that the Red Men's bowling team won four games last Friday night when they were scheduled to meet the Red-Hot Rotary Club team. How did that ever happen. Well, folks, no one showed up to bowl for the Rotary Club so the Red Men's team won the four games on forfeit.

Sureshot wishes to apologize to Bob Eissner about those three points he made in the game against P. J. J. V's. In my story I stated that Bob McNeal and Harvey Gregg divided honors for scoring with 3 points each. I should have included Bob Eissner who made 3 points. Sorry Bob, they put rubbers on lead pencils because people make mistakes.

It is reported that Bob Eissner's father is calling him 3 point Bob because in the game against Claymont J.V.'s, he again made 3 points. In the Jay Vee game last Friday Bill Hamilton was high individual scorer with two shots from the floor and one from the foul stripe for 5 points.

If I failed to mention Leon Ryan's exceptional fine playing it would not be safe for Sureshot to go to another game. Leon was second high scorer for the team with 4 points.

In the varsity game Buddy Cataldi and Brandon Davis divided scoring honors with seven points each while Len George tallied two action shots for four points but the Jackets could not stop the Claymont team as they out scored the local boys by 10 points in the third period.

The Newark boys played a bangup game the first two periods but were swamped in the third period. In the final period the local boys held the visitors even but could not overcome the third period rout.

St. Clair McKivier, the Linotype operator at the Newark Post is the proud father of a bouncing daughter born on Sunday morning at a Wilmington hospital. We have been wondering why Mac has been going around with that happy look on his face.

According to the fire report for 1943 as compiled by Fire Recorder Charles Moore, the local fire fighters have taken a terrible beating with field and woods fires. The report shows that the firemen responded to 75 unnecessary fires. Fires that could, in most cases, have been prevented if the persons on whose properties they were had taken the right precautions.

Field and woods fires for 1943 nearly doubled the 1942 figure.

Private Jack Powell who is stationed at Cornell University in Ithaca, N. Y., with an A.S.T. Unit has written to the editor of the Newark Post thanking him for sending him the Post. Jack says it makes home seem a lot closer when he reads all about the local news and just think—He says that the first thing he looks at in this column by Sureshot. Gee—this is going to my head? Jack expects to be made a general real soon but there was one thing about his letter that was comical. When he addressed the envelope he underscored the word DELAWARE. Possibly he thought that the postal authorities did not know where Delaware was located. Lets hear from some more of the boys.

Does the Army and Navy get along together? Well, if you had seen the Little Admiral Joe Moore and General Angelo Cataldi on Saturday night you would have thought so. They had a car loaded with (Joe said they were peaches). To me it looked like a harem. Those two representing the Army and the Navy get along all right.

The Newark High School students enjoyed a might nice dance in the school Gym last Friday night following the basketball game. They should have more of those dances. The public pays the bills for these school buildings and they should be used more often by the public or the public children.

The management of the school might say that it takes too much oil or coal to heat the building. Well—if you could have seen Sunny Roy Mumford and Albert Miller give a demonstration of the Jitter-bug you would have thought that they turned on the heat. Those two youngsters were real good. Those youngsters were real good.

One young lady who saw Sureshot looking longingly at the dancers and wishing that he was sixty years younger, took pity on him and asked him to dance with her, (you know it is Leap Year) Sureshot declined with thanks. It was nice of her to ask me, but why disillusion the young lady? Those modern dances would have an old fellow like me puffing like a B. & O. freight engine before I really got started.

Charles C. Hubert, who has served the town of Newark as a town councilman for the past eighteen years has filed as a candidate for the office of Mayor. This column is backing the candidate. Anyone who has served the town so faithfully as Mr. Hubert should have the office of Mayor presented to him with no strings attached.

The members of the Newark High School football team can eat just as well as they can play football. That was well demonstrated at the annual football dinner held last night. Who ate the most? Well, that is hard to say. I was too busy trying to keep up with Professor Kutz and Dr. Stanley Gibbs to pay much attention. I did notice that Albert Vogel and that McCormick fellow both had a second helping of ice cream.

For the benefit of those who were not at the dinner we might say that the boys at the other table could not eat much for admiring that flashy tie that Bud Cataldi had on. It was a Lu-Lu. I might say that Tommy Silk was

HEN COURTMEN OPEN 1944 BASKETBALL SEASON WITH JOHNS HOPKINS TONIGHT

Blue and Gold Combine Coached By Ed Prince Will Play Two Games This Week; Will Play First Home Game Saturday Night In Field House

The University of Delaware basketball team will open their 1944 season this evening when they will meet the strong Johns Hopkins team at Baltimore, Maryland.

The Blue and Gold squad will play their first home game in the field house on the University of Delaware campus this Saturday evening at eight o'clock when they will play host to Gallaudet University.

The Hens are again being coached by Ed Prince and while the university is limited to freshmen this year Coach Prince expects to have a team which will make a very creditable showing.

Unlike previous years there was a very small number of students turned out for practice. Coach Prince is being assisted by Max Kurman who was a former Kansas State College basketball and baseball star. Mr. Kurman has assumed charge of the Jay Vee squad and comes to Delaware well recommended, having been coach of the Portis, Kansas High School for three years before being inducted into the Armed Forces where he served as a sergeant in the Signal Corps until he was recently discharged on account of injuries.

Starting this evening at Baltimore for the Blue Hens will be Jerry Bowles, a former Salesianum student and Newell Duncan, from William Penn High School at the forward positions. At center will be Bud O'Neal from Smyrna High School and the guards will be Ted Zinc from P. S. duPont and Bob Finnigan from Dover High.

Subs who will make the trip this evening and who will see action are Larry Plucino, Norman Burman and Sowinski.

Pete Currier and Spiras Haldas who had shown a lot of promise as athletes at the university have been lost to the team as they have been inducted into the Army. At the home game on Saturday night Coach Prince will also use Sol Spiller, Ted Grabowski, and Allen Sapowith, all three Wilmington boys.

While there will be no preliminary game on Saturday it is expected that the Jay Vees will schedule games with nearby high schools for the coming Saturday night games. Games are being scheduled with Newark, Claymont, Conrad and other teams.

ELKTON HONORED BY BROADCAST

Program Heard Over Blue Network

Elkton was honored last night by being the scene of a national broadcast over the Blue network to more than 175 radio stations throughout the country by the famous Coca Cola Spot-light band radio show, the first time that any national broadcast had emanated from Elkton.

The program was held in the recreation room in Singery Village with an audience of more than 1200 persons, mostly employees of the Triumph Explosives Company and their guests. Opening speeches arranged by the Navy Incentive Division and included talks by Benjamin F. Pepper, president of the Triumph Company, Commander Edward N. Parker, U. S. Navy, Gunners Mate Armand Johnson and Lt. Com. Benjamin Lubetsky.

Mayor Mitchell of Elkton was present and took a bow. Following the broadcast which was from 9:30 to 10 o'clock there was dancing with music furnished by Lou Primo's Orchestra which was the Spotlight Band for the evening with Michael Ray as master of ceremonies and Lilly Ann Carroll as the vocalist. Arrangements for the affair were made by Charles Hoban, public relations director of Triumph Explosives.

served first. Possibly the women took pity on him with his broken shoulder. But that guy can really put away that grub with just one hand.

They had the nerve to ask the reporter to make a speech. Now they should know that I went there to write up what the other fellows said. There was no one there to write up what I said.

Dr. Leon Buehler was much put out because he could not get sides put on his plate so that it would hold more turkey and trimmings. Two of the boys, Buddy Cataldi and Roddy Holton, tried to bribe the reporter with ice cream to get their names in the paper. The waiters gave them more ice cream.

Girl's Basketball At High School

Miss Vogel is planning an extensive intra-mural program for the girls at the school and is trying to schedule a play day with girls from the Conrad school.

VOCATIONAL DEFEATS NEWARK HI 52 TO 14

Bill Pie Sets Scoring Pace For Jackets

The Newark High School basketball team suffered their third straight defeat of the season Tuesday night when the strong Vocational team ran up a 52 to 14 score. Captain George Ballis was high scorer for the Brown team with 13 points.

Never in trouble, the Vocational squad used 11 players as it scored its third victory in three starts. Stanley Zulkowski, one of four forwards that Bradshaw employed, sank five field goals and a free throw to score 11 points.

Brown had the edge in speed and accuracy to take an early lead and end the first half far in front.

For the visitors Bill Pie with seven points and Joe Cataldi with six kept the Yellowjackets from a complete rout.

In the Jay Vee game, Brown also came out victorious. The score was 22 to 16. Stan Stachioti and Ed Stoneberger shared the point-getting honors, the former throwing three from the field for six and the latter netting two from outside and tossing one foul for five.

YELLOWJACKETS DEFEATED BY CLAYMONT 28 TO 18 IN HARD FOUGHT COURT GAME

Third Period Rally By Claymont Gives Visitors Lead That Wins Game; Jackets Hold Claymont Even In First, Second And Final Periods; J. V.'s Defeated

The Newark High School Basketball team lost their second game of the season on the home court last Friday evening when they played host to the Claymont High Combine in a hard fought contest.

FOOTBALL LETTERS PRESENTED AT BANQUET

Trophy Is Presented In Honor Of Joe Talucci

The record of the 1943 Newark High School football team will go down in the school history it was stated by William D. Murray, director of athletics at the University of Delaware, at the annual football banquet held last night in the school cafeteria.

When any coach who has never coached football before can do what Roland (Boney) Jackson did with practically no experienced players, he has proved that both he and the boys who went to make up the team, must have the real school spirit.

The banquet held last night was one of the best football dinners in the history of the school and the record of the team with five victories and only three losses was an enviable record for any school.

Roland Jackson, physical education director and coach of the team presided at the dinner and expressed his appreciation to the fine support and help furnished him by both Coach Murray and Shack Martin of the University who had assisted him many times during the season with advice and support. He also expressed his thanks to the members of the team who made the season's record possible.

Coach Jackson said that a large share of the tribute was due the captain of the team, Joe Talucci, who was a great help in welding together such a fine team.

Robert S. Gallaher, president of the school board of education also paid tribute to the memory of Captain Joe Talucci and commended Coach Jackson on his fine record. Joseph McVey, Sr., another member of the school board, was high in his praise for the coach and all members of the team.

Coach Shack Martin said that any team that could come from behind like Newark did against Claymont, must have something. Dr. John D. Downes said that when the boys came to him for examinations early in the season he did not think that they would amount to much on account of being so small but Joe said they could really put out.

Letters were presented by Dr. J. Fenton Daugherty, president of the athletic council at the university to Samuel Talucci for his brother, Leonard George, John Hamilton, William Hamilton, Marvin Butler, William Crossan, Anthony Gasciewicz, Corbit Vansant, Henry Hammond, John Wells, Robert McKenry, Kenneth Beers, Graham Lomax, Brandon Davis, Leon Ryan, Buddy Cataldi, Roddy Holton, Donald Griffin, and Albert Vogel, senior manager. A letter has been sent to Walter Martin who is serving in the armed forces.

Len George on behalf of the team presented Coach Jackson with a War Bond and Leon Ryan on behalf of the team members presented a large trophy to the school in memory of Captain Joe Talucci who was killed in an auto accident at the close of the football season.

Other speakers included Coach Ed Prince of the University staff, C. E. Douglas, superintendent of the Newark School, M. James Parsons, assistant superintendent, male members of the faculty, and a representative of the press.

The meal was prepared by the ladies of the school cafeteria assisted by Mrs. Leon Ryan, Mrs. William Hamilton, Mrs. Harry McKenry, Mrs. P. F. Pie, Mrs. Rees Griffin, Mrs. Vansant, Mrs. Wells, and Mrs. C. E. Douglas.

Ice cream for the affair was furnished by Walter Powell.

BOWLER QUALIFIES

Ann Chalmers, 81 West Delaware Avenue, has qualified for a News-Journal award with games of 163, 161 and 163 bowling on the Newettes team in the Newark Women's League.

The Yellowjackets matched points with the visitors in the first and second periods with both teams scoring three points in the first quarter and each team accounted for four points in the second period with both teams tied 7 all at the end of the half.

Jug Elliott highlighted a third period rally by the visitors when he sank three shots from action and one foul goal for two action shots and one foul goal and Chuck Hudson adding two points for a total of thirteen while Newark was limited to one action shot by Len George and a foul goal by Brandon Davis.

The Jackets came back fighting in the final period and while they held the visitors even with teach team scoring eight points they could not overcome the 10 point lead that Claymont piled up in the third quarter.

Buddy Cataldi and Brandon Davis divided scoring honors for the local team with one action shot and five foul shots apiece while Len George accounted for two shots from action. Jug Elliott was high for Claymont with six action shots and three foul goals.

Real action was seen in the preliminary game when the J. V.'s battled four periods with a 14 to 14 score at the end of the regular playing time. A three minute extra period resulted with the visitors taking the game by 2 points.

Bill Hamilton was high for Newark with 5 points while Leon Ryan was second with two action shots for four points. Bob Eissner came through with three points and Bob McKenry scored one action shot.

NEW PHONE BOOK LISTS EXCHANGES

Directories To Be Distributed Here Next Week

Distribution of new telephone directories will start here next Thursday and is expected to be completed by January 22, it was announced today by Joseph M. Cherpak, manager of the Diamond State Telephone Company.

Approximately 54,000 copies of the new grey-covered books will be distributed, an increase of more than 100,000 over the previous issue. Old directories will be collected for salvage at the same time.

The new books contain 42,520 alphabetical listings, an increase of 25,000. They contain 300 pages.

Pointing out that the new books contain many new and changed listings, Mr. Cherpak requested that all phone users consult the directories to avoid wrong numbers and unnecessary calls to "information."

"Consulting the directory for phone numbers is one way that phone users can contribute to the effective use of our communication system in war-time."

The new directories list subscribers in the following exchanges: Delaware City, Hockessin, Holly Oak, Middletown, Newark, New Castle, Seaford and Wilmington, in Delaware; and Warwick, in Maryland; Cambridgeville, Kennett Square, Landover, Mendenhall in Pennsylvania.

In this free country anyone is right to be of the wrong opinion.
